133. Continuing business after default.—After a default on the part of an association to pay any of its circulating notes has been ascertained by the comptroller, and notice thereof has been given by him to the association, it shall not be lawful for the association suffering the same to pay out any of its notes, discount any notes or bills, or otherwise prosecute the business of banking, except to receive and safely keep money belonging to it, and to deliver special deposits. (R. S. § 5228; Feb. 18, 1875, c. 80, § 1, 18 Stat. 320.)

134. Notice by comptroller to holders to present notes for payment; redemption; cancellation of bonds.—Immediately upon declaring the bonds of an association forfeited for nonpayment of its notes, the comptroller shall give notice, in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall, by general rules or otherwise, direct, to the holders of the circulating notes of such association, to present them for payment at the Treasury of the United States; and the same shall be paid as presented in lawful money of the United States; whereupon the comptroller may, in his discretion, cancel an amount of bonds pledged by such association equal at current market rates, not exceeding par, to the notes paid. (R. S. § 5229.)

135. Disposition of redeemed notes; perpetuation of evidence of payment.—The Secretary of the Treasury may, from time to time, make such regulations respecting the disposition to be made of circulating notes after presentation at the Treasury of the United States for payment, and respecting the perpetuation of the evidence of the payment thereof, as may seem to him proper. (R. S. § 5232.)

136. Cancellation of redeemed notes.—All notes of national banking associations presented at the Treasury of the United States for payment shall, on being paid, be canceled. (R. S. § 5233.)

137. Sale of bonds at auction; lien on assets.—Whenever the comptroller has become satisfied, by the protest or the waiver and admission specified in section 131, or by the report provided for in section 132, that any association has refused to pay its circulating notes, he may, instead of canceling its bonds, cause so much of them as may be necessary to redeem its outstanding notes to be sold at public auction in the city of New York, after giving thirty days' notice of such sale to the association. For any deficiency in the proceeds of all the bonds of an association, when thus sold, to reimburse to the United States the amount expended in paying the circulating notes of the association, the United States shall have a paramount lien upon all its assets; and such deficiency shall be made good out of such assets in preference to any and all other claims whatsoever, except the necessary costs and expenses of administering the same. (R. S. § 5230.)

138. Sale of bonds at private sale.—The comptroller may, if he deems it for the interest of the United States, sell at private sale any of the bonds of an association shown to have made default in paying its notes, and receive therefor either money or the circulating notes of the association. But no such bonds shall be sold by private sale for less than par, nor for less than the market value thereof at the time of sale; and no sales of any such bonds, either public or private, shall be complete until the transfer of the bonds shall have been made with the formalities prescribed by sections 170–172. (R. S. § 5231.)

RESERVE CITIES; LAWFUL RESERVES

141. Central reserve and reserve cities; designation.—The cities of New York and Chicago are hereby designated as central reserve cities, and the following cities are designated as reserve cities:

Boston	Louisville	St. Louis
Albany	Memphis	Lincoln
Brooklyn and Bronx	Nashville	Omaha
Buffalo	Cincinnati	Kansas City, Kans.
Philadelphia	Cleveland	Topeka
Pittsburgh	Columbus	Wichita
Baltimore	Toledo	Helena
Washington	Indianapolis	Denver
Richmond	Chicago	Pueblo
Atlanta	Peoria	Muskogee
Jacksonville	Detroit	Oklahoma City
Birmingham	Grand Rapids	Tulsa
New Orleans	Milwaukee	Seattle
Dallas	Minneapolis	Spokane
El Paso	St. Paul	Portland
Fort Worth	Cedar Rapids	Los Angeles
Galveston	Des Moines	Oakland
Houston	Dubuque	San Francisco
San Antonio	Sioux City	Ogden
Waco	Kansas City, Mo.	Salt Lake City
Little Rock	St. Joseph

The Federal Reserve Board may at any time reclassify cities so designated as reserve and central reserve cities, may add to the number so classified or terminate the designation of any cities as such. (R. S. § 5191; Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

142. Banks in reserve cities; reserves.—National banking associations located in reserve cities or central reserve cities shall maintain reserves provided for in section 462 for banks so located. (R. S. § 5191; Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, §§ 19, 27, 38 Stat. 270; Aug. 4, 1914, c. 225, 38 Stat. 225; Aug. 15, 1914, c. 252, 38 Stat. 691; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 10, 40 Stat. 239.)

143. Banks in Alaska and insular possessions; lawful money reserves.—Every national banking association located in Alaska or in a dependency or insular possession or any part of the United States outside of the continental United States, and not a member of the Federal reserve system, shall at all times have on hand in lawful money of the United States an amount equal to at least 15 per cent of the aggregate amount of its deposits in all respects. Whenever the lawful money of any such association shall fall below 15 per cent of its deposits such association shall not increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts other than by discounting or purchasing bills of exchange payable at sight nor make any dividends of its profits until the required proportion between the aggregate amount of its deposits and its lawful money of the United States has been restored. And the Comproller of the Currency shall notify any such association whose lawful money reserve shall be below the amount required to be kept on hand to make good such reserve, and if such association shall fail for thirty days thereafter so to make good its lawful money the Comptroller may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury, appoint a receiver to wind up the business of the association as provided in section 192. (R. S. § 5191.)

144. Certain balances counted toward reserves in Alaska and insular possessions.—Three-fifths of the reserve of 15 per cent which banks located in Alaska or in a dependency or insular possession or any part of the United States outside of the continental United States, and not a member of the Federal reserve system, shall be required to keep, may consist of balances due to an association from associations approved by the Comptroller of the Currency located in any one of the central reserve or reserve cities enumerated in section 141 or in any other reserve city as now or hereafter defined as provided for by section 224 of this title. (R. S. § 5192.)

145. Treasury notes.—Treasury notes issued in accordance with the provisions of the Act of July 14, 1890 (chapter 708, Twenty-sixth Statutes, page 389), when held by any national banking association, may be counted as a part of its lawful reserve. (July 14, 1890, c. 708, § 2, 26 Stat. 289.)

146. Gold and silver certificates.—Gold certificates, issued under sections 429 of Title 31, Money and Finance, as also silver certificates, when held by any national banking association, shall be counted as part of its lawful reserve; and no national banking association shall be a member of any clearing house in which such certificates shall not be receivable in the settlement of clearing-house balances. The provisions of section 582 of this title shall be applicable to such gold certificates. (July 12, 1882, c. 290, § 12, 22 Stat. 165.)

FORMATION OF ASSOCIATIONS TO ISSUE GOLD NOTES

151. Organization of associations to issue gold notes.—Associations may be organized in the manner prescribed by this chapter for the purpose of issuing notes payable in gold; and upon the deposit of any United States bonds bearing interest payable in gold with the Treasurer of the United States, in the manner prescribed for other associations, it shall be lawful for the Comptroller of the Currency to issue to the association making the deposit circulating notes of different denominations, but none of them of less than $5, and not exceeding in amount 80 per centum of the par value of the bonds deposited, which shall express the promise of the association to pay them, upon presentation at the office at which they are issued, in gold coin of the United States, and shall be so redeemable. (R. S. § 5185; Jan. 19, 1875, c. 19, 18 Stat. 302.)

152. Lawful money reserve of associations issuing gold notes; receiving notes of other associations.—Every association organized under the preceding section shall at all times keep on hand not less than 25 per centum of its outstanding circulation, in gold or silver coin of the United States; and shall receive at par in the payment of debts the gold notes of every other such association which at the time of such payment is redeeming its circulating notes in gold coin of the United States, and shall be subject to all the provisions of this title: Provided, That, in applying the same to associations organized for issuing gold notes, the terms "lawful money" and "lawful money of the United States" shall be construed to mean gold or silver coin of the United States; and the circulation of such associations shall not be within the limitation of circulation mentioned in this title. (R. S. § 5186.)

153. Conversion of gold banks into currency banks.—Any national gold bank organized under the provisions of the laws of the United States, may, in the manner and subject to the provisions prescribed by section 35, for the conversion of banks incorporated under the laws of any State, cease to be a gold bank, and become such an association as is authorized by section 21, for carrying on the business of banking, and shall have the same powers and privileges, and shall be subject to the same duties, responsibilities, and rules, in all respects, as are by law prescribed for such associations: Provided, That all certificates of organization which shall be issued under this section shall bear the date of the original organization of each bank respectively as a gold bank. (Feb. 14, 1880, c. 25, 21 Stat. 66.)

BANK EXAMINATIONS; REPORTS

161. Reports to Comptroller of the Currency; publication.—Every association shall make to the Comptroller of the Currency not less than three reports during each year, according to the form which may be prescribed by him, verified by the oath or affirmation of the president or cashier of such association, and attested by the signature of at least three of the directors. Each such report shall exhibit, in detail and under appropriate heads, the resources and liabilities of the association at the close of business on any past day by him specified, and shall be transmitted to the comptroller within five days after the receipt of a request or requisition therefor from him, and in the same form in which it is made to the comptroller shall be published in a newspaper published in the place where such association is established, or if there is no newspaper in the place, then in the one published nearest thereto in the same county, at the expense of the association; and such proof of publication shall be furnished as may be required by the comptroller. The comptroller shall also have power to call for special reports from any particular association whenever in his judgment the same are necessary in order to a full and complete knowledge of its condition. (R. S. § 5211; Feb. 27, 1877, c. 69, § 1, 19 Stat. 252; Dec. 28, 1922, c. 18, 42 Stat. 1067.)

162. Verification of reports.—The oath or affirmation required by section 161, verifying the returns made by national banks to the Comptroller of the Currency, when taken before a notary public properly authorized and commissioned by the State in which such notary resides and the bank is located, or any other officer having an official seal, authorized in such State to administer oaths, shall be a sufficient verification as contemplated by said section 161: Provided, That the officer administering the oath is not an officer of the bank. (Feb. 26, 1881, c. 82, 21 Stat. 352.)

163. Report of dividends and net earnings.—In addition to the reports required by the preceding section, each association shall report to the Comptroller of the Currency, within ten days after declaring any dividend, the amount of such dividend, and the amount of net earnings in excess of such dividend. Such reports shall be attested by the oath of the president or cashier of the association. (R. S. § 5212.)

164. Penalty for failure to make reports.—Every association which fails to make and transmit any report required under either of the two preceding sections shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each day after the periods, respectively, therein mentioned, that it delays to make and transmit its report. Whenever any association delays or refuses to pay the penalty herein imposed, after it has been assessed by the Comptroller of the Currency, the amount thereof may be retained by the Treasurer of the United States, upon the order of the Comptroller of the Currency, out of the interest, as it may become due to the association, on the bonds deposited with him to secure circulation. All sums of money collected for penalties under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States. (R. S. § 5213.)

165. Limitation of visitorial powers.—No association shall be subject to any visitorial powers other than such as are authorized by this chapter, or are vested in the courts of justice. (June 3, 1864, c. 106, § 54, 13 Stat. 116.)

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS REGARDING UNITED STATES BONDS IN RELATION TO NATIONAL BANKS

168. Taking up bonds; return of circulating notes.—Any association that may desire to reduce its capital or to close up its business and dissolve its organization, may take up its bonds upon returning to the comptroller its circulating notes in the proportion hereinafter required, or may take up any excess of bonds upon which no circulating notes have been delivered. (R. S. § 5160.)

169. Exchange of coupon for registered bonds.—To facilitate a compliance with the preceding section, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to receive from any association, and cancel, any United States coupon bonds, and to issue in lieu thereof registered bonds of like amount, bearing a like rate of interest, and having the same time to run. (R. S. § 5161.)

170. Transfers of bonds; manner of making.—All transfers of United States bonds, made by any association under the provisions of this chapter shall be made to the Treasurer of the United States in trust for the association, with a memorandum written or printed on each bond, and signed by the cashier, or some other officer of the association making the deposit. A receipt shall be given to the association, by the Comptroller of the Currency, or by a clerk appointed by him for that purpose, stating that the bond is held in trust for the association on whose behalf the transfer is made, and as security for the redemption and payment of any circulating notes that have been or may be delivered to such association. No assignment or transfer of any such bond by the Treasurer shall be deemed valid unless countersigned by the Comptroller of the Currency. (R. S. § 5162.)

171. Registry of transferred bonds.—The Comptroller of the Currency shall keep in his office a book in which he shall cause to be entered, immediately upon countersigning it, every transfer or assignment by the Treasurer, of any bonds belonging to a national banking association, presented for his signature. He shall state in such entry the name of the association from whose accounts the transfer is made, the name of the party to whom it is made, and the par value of the bonds transferred. (R. S. § 5163.)

172. Notice of transfers.—The Comptroller of the Currency shall, immediately upon countersigning and entering any transfer or assignment by the Treasurer, of any bonds belonging to a national banking association, advise by mail the association from whose accounts the transfer is made, of the kind and numerical designation of the bonds, and the amount thereof so transferred. (R. S. § 5164.)

173. Examination of registry and bonds.—The Comptroller of the Currency shall have at all times, during office hours, access to the books of the Treasurer of the United States for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any transfer or assignment of the bonds deposited by an association, presented to the comptroller to countersign; and the Treasurer shall have the like access to the book mentioned in section 171 of this title, during office hours, to ascertain the correctness of the entries in the same; and the comptroller shall also at all times have access to the bonds on deposit with the Treasurer, to ascertain their amount and condition. (R. S. § 5165.)

174. Annual examination of bonds by associations.—Every association having bonds deposited in the office of the Treasurer of the United States shall, once or oftener in each fiscal year, examine and compare the bonds pledged by the association with the books of the Comptroller of the Currency and with the accounts of the association, and, if they are found correct, to execute to the Treasurer a certificate setting forth the different kinds and the amounts thereof, and that the same are in the possession and custody of the Treasurer at the date of the certificate. Such examination shall be made at such time or times, during the ordinary business hours, as the Treasurer and the comptroller, respectively, may select, and may be made by an officer or agent of such association, duly appointed in writing for that purpose; and his certificate before mentioned shall be of like force and validity as if executed by the president or cashier. A duplicate of such certificate, signed by the Treasurer, shall be retained by the association. (R. S. § 5166.)

175. Custody of bonds and collection of interest.—The bonds transferred to and deposited with the Treasurer of the United States, by any association, for the security of its circulating notes, shall be held exclusively for that purpose, until such notes are redeemed, except as provided in this chapter. The Comptroller of the Currency shall give to any such association powers of attorney to receive and appropriate to its own use the interest on the bonds which it has so transferred to the Treasurer; but such powers shall become inoperative whenever such association fails to redeem its circulating notes. Whenever the market or cash value of any bonds thus deposited with the Treasurer is reduced below the amount of the circulation issued for the same, the comptroller may demand and receive the amount of such depreciation in other United States bonds at cash value, or in money, from the association, to be deposited with the Treasurer as long as such depreciation continues. And the comptroller, upon the terms prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, may permit an exchange to be made of any of the bonds deposited with the Treasurer by any association, for other bonds of the United States authorized to be received as security for circulating notes, if he is of opinion that such an exchange can be made without prejudice to the United States; and he may direct the return of any bonds to the association which transferred the same, in sums of not less than $1,000, upon the surrender to him and the cancellation of a proportionate amount of such circulating notes: Provided, That the remaining bonds which shall have been transferred by the association offering to surrender circulating notes are equal to the amount required for the circulating notes not surrendered by such association, and that the amount of bonds in the hands of the Treasurer is not diminished below the amount required to be kept on deposit with him, and that there has been no failure by the association to redeem its circulating notes, nor any other violation by it of the provisions of this chapter, and that the market or cash value of the remaining bonds is not below the amount required for the circulation issued for the same. (R. S. § 5167.)

176. Withdrawal of notes on deposit of money and withdrawal of bonds.—Any association organized under this chapter, desiring to withdraw its circulating notes, in whole or in part, may, upon the deposit of lawful money with the Treasurer of the United States in sums of not less than $9,000, take up the bonds which said association has on deposit with the Treasurer for the security of such circulating notes; which bonds shall be assigned to the bank in the manner specified in section 2; and the outstanding notes of said association, to an amount equal to the legal-tender notes deposited, shall be redeemed at the Treasury of the United States, and destroyed as now provided by law: Provided, That the amount of the bonds on deposit for circulation shall not be reduced below $50,000. (June 20, 1874, c. 343, § 4, 18 Stat. 124.)

177. Amount of bonds required on deposit; reduction of amount or retirement in full of circulating notes.—National banks now organized, having a capital of $150,000, or less, shall not be required to keep on deposit or deposit with the Treasurer of the United States United States bonds in excess of one-fourth of their capital stock as security for their circulating notes; but such banks shall keep on deposit or deposit with the Treasurer of the United States the amount of bonds as herein required. And such of those banks having on deposit bonds in excess of that amount are authorized to reduce their circulation by the deposit of lawful money as provided by law: Provided, That the national banks which shall hereafter make deposits of lawful money for the retirement in full of their circulation shall at the time of their deposit be assessed for the cost of transporting and redeeming their notes then outstanding, a sum equal to the average cost of the redemption of national-bank notes during the preceding year, and shall thereupon pay such assessment. And all national banks which have heretofore made or shall hereafter make deposits of lawful money for the reduction of their circulation shall be assessed and shall pay an assessment in the manner specified in section 121 of this title, for the cost of transporting and redeeming their notes redeemed from such deposits subsequently to June 30, 1881. (July 12, 1882, c. 290, § 8, 22 Stat. 164; Mar. 14, 1900, c. 41, § 12, 31 Stat. 49.)

178. Withdrawal of notes on deposit of money and withdrawal of bonds or other securities.—Any national banking association desiring to withdraw its circulating notes, secured by deposit of United States bonds in the manner provided in section 176 of this title, is hereby authorized for that purpose to deposit lawful money with the Treasurer of the United States and, with the consent of the Comptroller of the Currency and the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, to withdraw a proportionate amount of bonds held as security for its circulating notes in the order of such deposits: Provided, That not more than $9,000,000 of lawful money shall be so deposited during any calendar month for this purpose.

Any national banking association desiring to withdraw any of its circulating notes, secured by the deposit of securities other than bonds of the United States, may make such withdrawal at any time in like manner and effect by the deposit of lawful money or national-bank notes with the Treasurer of the United States, and upon such deposit a proportionate share of the securities so deposited may be withdrawn: Provided, That the deposits under this section to retire notes secured by the deposit of securities other than bonds of the United States shall not be covered into the Treasury, as required by section 122 of this title, but shall be retained in the Treasury for the purpose of redeeming the notes of the bank making such deposit. (July 12, 1882, c. 290, § 9, 22 Stat. 164; Mar. 14, 1900, c. 41, § 12, 31 Stat. 49; Mar. 4, 1907, c. 2913, § 4, 34 Stat. 1290; May 30, 1908, c. 229, § 10, 35 Stat. 551.)

VOLUNTARY DISSOLUTION

181. Voluntary dissolution.—Any association may go into liquidation and be closed by the vote of its shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock. (R. S. § 5220.)

182. Notice of intent to dissolve.—Whenever a vote is taken to go into liquidation it shall be the duty of the board of directors to cause notice of this fact to be certified, under the seal of the association, by its president or cashier, to the Comptroller of the Currency, and publication thereof to be made for a period of two months in a newspaper published in the city of New York, and also in a newspaper published in the city or town in which the association is located, or if no newspaper is there published, then in the newspaper published nearest thereto, that the association is closing up its affairs, and notifying the holders of its notes and other creditors to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment. (R. S. § 5221.)

183. Deposit of money to redeem outstanding circulation.—Within six months from the date of the vote to go into liquidation, the association shall deposit with the Treasurer of the United States, lawful money of the United States sufficient to redeem all its outstanding circulation. The Treasurer shall execute duplicate receipts for money thus deposited, and deliver one to the association and the other to the Comptroller of the Currency, stating the amount received by him, and the purpose for which it has been received; and the money shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States, and placed to the credit of such association upon redemption account. (R. S. § 5222.)

184. Exemption as to an association consolidating with another.—An association which is in good faith winding up its business for the purpose of consolidating with another association shall not be required to deposit lawful money for its outstanding circulation; but its assets and liabilities shall be reported by the association with which it is in process of consolidation. (R. S. § 5223.)

185. Reassignment of bonds and redemption of notes.—Whenever a sufficient deposit of lawful money to redeem the outstanding circulation of an association proposing to close its business has been made, the bonds deposited by the association to secure payment of its notes shall be reassigned to it, in the manner prescribed by section 170. And thereafter the association and its shareholders shall stand discharged from all liabilities upon the circulating notes, and those notes shall be redeemed at the Treasury of the United States. And if any such bank shall fail to make the deposit and take up its bonds for thirty days after the expiration of the time specified, the Comptroller of the Currency shall have power to sell the bonds pledged for the circulation of said bank, at public auction in New York City, and, after providing for the redemption and cancellation of said circulation and the necessary expenses of the sale, to pay over any balance remaining to the bank or its legal representative. (R. S. § 5224; Feb. 18, 1875, c. 80, § 1, 18 Stat. 320.)

186. Destruction of redeemed notes.—Whenever the Treasurer has redeemed any of the notes of an association which has commenced to close its affairs under the five preceding sections, he shall cause the notes to be mutilated and charged to the redemption account of the association; and all notes so redeemed by the Treasurer shall, every three months, be certified to and macerated in the manner prescribed in section 124. (R. S. § 5225; Feb. 27, 1877, c. 69, § 1, 19 Stat. 252.)

RECEIVERSHIP

191. General grounds for appointment of receiver.—Whenever any national banking association shall be dissolved, and its rights, privileges, and franchises declared forfeited, as prescribed in section 94, or whenever any creditor of any national banking association shall have obtained a judgment against it in any court of record, and made application, accompanied by a certificate from the clerk of the court stating that such judgment has been rendered and has remained unpaid for the space of thirty days, or whenever the comptroller shall become satisfied of the insolvency of a national banking association, he may, after due examination of its affairs, in either case, appoint a receiver who shall proceed to close up such association, and enforce the personal liability of the shareholders, as provided in section 192. (June 30, 1876, c. 156, § 1, 19 Stat. 63.)

Enforcement of shareholders' individual liability by creditors on liquidation; see section 65 of this title.

192. Default in payment of circulating notes.—On becoming satisfied, as specified in sections 131 and 132, that any association has refused to pay its circulating notes as therein mentioned, and is in default, the Comptroller of the Currency may forthwith appoint a receiver, and require of him such bond and security as he deems proper. Such receiver, under the direction of the comptroller, shall take possession of the books, records, and assets of every description of such association, collect all debts, dues, and claims belonging to it, and, upon the order of a court of record of competent jurisdiction, may sell or compound all bad or doubtful debts, and, on a like order, may sell all the real and personal property of such association, on such terms as the court shall direct; and may, if necessary to pay the debts of such association, enforce the individual liability of the stockholders. Such receiver shall pay over all money so made to the Treasurer of the United States, subject to the order of the comptroller, and also make report to the comptroller of all his acts and proceedings.

Provided, That the comptroller may, if he deems proper, deposit any of the money so made in any regular Government depositary, or in any State or national bank either of the city or town in which the insolvent bank was located, or of a city or town as adjacent thereto as practicable; if such deposit is made he shall require the depositary to deposit United States bonds or other satisfactory securities with the Treasurer of the United States for the safe-keeping and prompt payment of the money so deposited. Such depositary shall pay upon such money interest at such rate as the comptroller may prescribe, not less, however, than 2 per centum per annum upon the average monthly amount of such deposits. (R. S. § 5234; May 15, 1916, c. 121, 39 Stat. 121.)

193. Notice to present claims.—The comptroller shall, upon appointing a receiver, cause notice to be given, by advertisement in such newspapers as he may direct, for three consecutive months, calling on all persons who may have claims against such association to present the same, and to make legal proof thereof. (R. S. § 5235.)

194. Dividends on adjusted claims; distribution of assets.—From time to time, after full provision has been first made for refunding to the United States any deficiency in redeeming the notes of such association, the comptroller shall make a ratable dividend of the money so paid over to him by such receiver on all such claims as may have been proved to his satisfaction or adjudicated in a court of competent jurisdiction, and, as the proceeds of the assets of such association are paid over to him, shall make further dividends on all claims previously proved or adjudicated; and the remainder of the proceeds, if any, shall be paid over to the shareholders of such association, or their legal representatives, in proportion to the stock by them respectively held. (R. S. § 5236.)

195. Injunction by bank denying failure to redeem notes.—Whenever an association against which proceedings have been instituted, on account of any alleged refusal to redeem its circulating notes as aforesaid, denies having failed to do so, it may, at any time within ten days after it has been notified of the appointment of an agent, as provided in section 132, apply to the nearest district, or territorial court of the United States to enjoin further proceedings in the premises; and such court, after citing the Comptroller of the Currency to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined, and after the decision of the court or finding of a jury that such association has not refused to redeem its circulating notes, when legally presented, in the lawful money of the United States, shall make an order enjoining the comptroller, and any receiver acting under his direction, from all further proceedings on account of such alleged refusal. (R. S. § 5237.)

196. Fees and expenses.—All fees for protesting the notes issued by any national banking association shall be paid by the person procuring the protest to be made, and such association shall be liable therefor; but no part of the bonds deposited by such association shall be applied to the payment of such fees. All expenses of any preliminary or other examinations into the condition of any association shall be paid by such association. All expenses of any receivership shall be paid out of the assets of such association before distribution of the proceeds thereof. (R. S. § 5238.)

197. Shareholders' meeting; continuance of receivership; appointment of agent; winding up business; distribution of assets.—Whenever any association shall have been or shall be placed in the hands of a receiver, as provided in section 192 and other sections of this Code, and when, as provided in section 194 thereof, the Comptroller of the Currency shall have paid to each and every creditor of such association, not including shareholders who are creditors of such association, whose claim or claims as such creditor shall have been proved or allowed as therein prescribed, the full amount of such claims, and all expenses of the receivership and the redemption of the circulating notes of such association shall have been provided for by depositing lawful money of the United States with the Treasurer of the United States, the Comptroller of the Currency shall call a meeting of the shareholders of such association by giving notice thereof for thirty days in a newspaper published in the town, city, or county where the business of such association was carried on, or if no newspaper is there published, in the newspaper published nearest thereto. At such meeting the shareholders shall determine whether the receiver shall be continued and shall wind up the affairs of such association, or whether an agent shall be elected for that purpose, and in so determining the said shareholders shall vote by ballot, in person or by proxy, each share of stock entitling the holder to one vote, and the majority of the stock in value and number of shares shall be necessary to determine whether the said receiver shall be continued, or whether an agent shall be elected. In case such majority shall determine that the said receiver shall be continued, the said receiver shall thereupon proceed with the execution of his trust, and shall sell, dispose of, or otherwise collect the assets of the said association, and shall possess all the powers and authority, and be subject to all the duties and liabilities originally conferred or imposed upon him by his appointment as such receiver, so far as the same remain applicable. In case the said meeting shall, by the vote of a majority of the stock in value and number of shares, determine that an agent shall be elected, the said meeting shall thereupon proceed to elect an agent, voting by ballot, in person or by proxy, each share of stock entitling the holder to one vote, and the person who shall receive votes representing at least a majority of stock in value and number shall be declared the agent for the purposes hereinafter provided; and whenever any of the shareholders of the association shall, after the election of such agent, have executed and filed a bond to the satisfaction of the Comptroller of the Currency, conditioned for the payment and discharge in full of each and every claim that may thereafter be proved and allowed by and before a competent court, and for the faithful performance of all and singular the duties of such trust, the comptroller and the receiver shall thereupon transfer and deliver to such agent all the undivided or uncollected or other assets of such association then remaining in the hands or subject to the order and control of said comptroller and said receiver, or either of them; and for this purpose said comptroller and said receiver are hereby severally empowered and directed to execute any deed, assignment, transfer, or other instrument in writing that may be necessary and proper; and upon the execution and delivery of such instrument to the said agent the said comptroller and the said receiver shall by virtue of this chapter be discharged from any and all liabilities to such association and to each and all the creditors and shareholders thereof. Upon receiving such deed, assignment, transfer, or other instrument the person elected such agent shall hold, control, and dispose of the assets and property of such association which he may receive under the terms hereof for the benefit of the shareholders of such association, and he may in his own name, or in the name of such association, sue and be sued and do all other lawful acts and things necessary to finally settle and distribute the assets and property in his hands, and may sell, compromise, or compound the debts due to such association, with the consent and approval of the circuit or district court of the United States for the district where the business of such association was carried on, and shall at the conclusion of his trust render to such district or circuit court a full account of all his proceedings, receipts, and expenditures as such agent, which court shall, upon due notice, settle and adjust such accounts and discharge said agent and the sureties upon said bond.

And in case any such agent so elected shall refuse to serve, or die, resign, or be removed, any shareholder may call a meeting of the shareholders of such association in the town, city, or village where the business of the said association was carried on, by giving notice thereof for thirty days in a newspaper published in said town, city, or village, or if no newspaper is there published, in the newspaper published nearest thereto, at which meeting the shareholders shall elect an agent, voting by ballot, in person or by proxy, each share of stock entitling the holder to one vote, and when such agent shall have received votes representing at least a majority of the stock in value and number of shares, and shall have executed a bond to the shareholders conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, in the penalty fixed by the shareholders at said meeting, with two sureties, to be approved by a judge of a court of record, and file said bond in the office of the clerk of a court of record in the county where the business of said association was carried on, he shall have all the rights, powers, and duties of the agent first elected as hereinbefore provided. At any meeting held as hereinbefore provided administrators or executors of deceased shareholders may act and sign as the decedent might have done if living, and guardians of minors and trustees of other persons may so act and sign for their ward or wards or cestui que trust. The proceeds of the assets or property of any such association which may be undistributed at the time of such meeting or may be subsequently received shall be distributed as follows:

First. To pay the expenses of the execution of the trust to the date of such payment.

Second. To repay any amount or amounts which have been paid in by any shareholder or shareholders of such association upon and by reason of any and all assessments made upon the stock of such association by the order of the Comptroller of the Currency in accordance with the provisions of the statutes of the United States; and Third. The balance ratably among such stockholders, in proportion to the number of shares held and owned by each. Such distribution shall be made from time to time as the proceeds shall be received and as shall be deemed advisable by the said comptroller or said agent. (June 30, 1876, c. 156, § 3, 19 Stat. 63; Aug. 3, 1892, c. 360, 27 Stat. 345; Mar. 2, 1897, c. 354, 29 Stat. 600.)

198. Purchase by receiver of property of bank; request to comptroller.—Whenever the receiver of any national bank duly appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency, and who shall have duly qualified and entered upon the discharge of his trust, shall find it in his opinion necessary, in order to fully protect and benefit his said trust, to the extent of any and all equities that such trust may have in any property, real or personal, by reason of any bond, mortgage, assignment, or other proper legal claim attaching thereto, and which said property is to be sold under any execution, decree of foreclosure, or proper order of any court of jurisdiction, he may certify the facts in the case, together with his opinion as to the value of the property to be sold, and the value of the equity his said trust may have in the same, to the Comptroller of the Currency, together with a request for the right and authority to use and employ so much of the money of said trust as may be necessary to purchase such property at such sale. (Mar. 29, 1886, c. 28, § 1, 24 Stat. 8.)

199. Approval of request.—Such request, if approved by the Comptroller of the Currency, shall be, together with the certificate of facts in the case, and his recommendation as to the amount of money which, in his judgment, should be so used and employed, submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, and if the same shall likewise be approved by him, the request shall be by the Comptroller of the Currency allowed, and notice thereof, with copies of the request, certificate of facts, and indorsement of approvals, shall be filed with the Treasurer of the United States. (Mar. 29, 1886, c. 28, § 2, 24 Stat. 8.)

200. Payment.—Whenever any such request shall be allowed as hereinbefore provided, the said Comptroller of the Currency shall be, and is, empowered to draw upon and from such funds of any such trust as may be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States for the benefit of the bank in interest, to the amount as may be recommended and allowed and for the purpose for which such allowance was made: Provided, however, That all payments to be made for or on account of the purchase of any such property and under any such allowance shall be made by the Comptroller of the Currency direct, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, for such purpose only and in such manner as he may determine and order. (Mar. 29, 1886, c. 28, § 3, 24 Stat. 8.)

DEFINITIONS, ORGANIZATION, AND GENERAL PROVISIONS AFFECTING SYSTEM

Section 221. Definitions.—Wherever the word "bank" is used in this chapter, the word shall be held to include State bank, banking association, and trust company, except where national banks or Federal reserve banks are specifically referred to.

The terms "national bank" and "national banking association" used in this chapter shall be held to be synonymous and interchangeable. The term "member bank" shall be held to mean any national bank, State bank, or bank or trust company which has become a member of one of the reserve banks created by this chapter. The term "board" shall be held to mean Federal Reserve Board; the term "district" shall be held to mean Federal reserve district; the term "reserve bank" shall be held to mean Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 1, 38 Stat. 251.)

222. Federal reserve districts.—The Federal reserve districts now in existence are continued and shall be known as Federal reserve districts. Such districts may be readjusted and new districts may from time to time be created by the Federal Reserve Board, not to exceed twelve in all: Provided, That the districts shall be apportioned with due regard to the convenience and customary course of business and shall not necessarily be coterminous with any State or States. Federal reserve districts shall as now comprise the continental United States, exclusive of Alaska, and may be designated by number. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

223. Federal reserve cities.—The Federal reserve cities now in existence are continued. A Federal reserve district shall continue to contain only one Federal reserve city. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

224. Status of reserve cities under former statutes.—The organization of reserve districts and Federal reserve cities shall not be construed as changing the present status of reserve cities and central reserve cities, except in so far as this chapter changes the amount of reserves that may be carried with approved reserve agents located therein. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

225. Federal reserve banks.—The Federal reserve banks now in existence in the various Federal reserve cities are continued. Each bank shall include in its title the name of the city in which it is situated, as "Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago." (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

226. "Federal Reserve Act."—The short title of the Act of December 23, 1913 (chapter 6, section 1, Thirty-eighth Statutes, page 251), shall be the "Federal Reserve Act." (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 1, 38 Stat. 251.)

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

241. Creation; membership; salaries.—A Federal Reserve Board is hereby created which shall consist of eight members, including the Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency, who shall be members ex officio, and six members appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. In selecting the six appointive members of the Federal Reserve Board, not more than one of whom shall be selected from any one Federal reserve district, the President shall have due regard to a fair representation of the financial, agricultural, industrial and commercial interests, and geographical divisions of the country. The six members of the Federal Reserve Board appointed by the President and confirmed as aforesaid shall devote their entire time to the business of the Federal Reserve Board and shall each receive an annual salary of $12,000, payable monthly, together with actual necessary traveling expenses, and the Comptroller of the Currency, as ex officio member of the Federal Reserve Board, shall, in addition to the salary now paid him as Comptroller of the Currency, receive the sum of $7,000 annually for his services as a member of said board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 10, 38 Stat. 260; June 3, 1922, c. 205, 42 Stat. 620.)

242. Ineligibility to hold office in member banks; qualifications and terms of office of members; governor and vice governor; office for board; oath of office.—The Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency shall be ineligible during the time they are in office and for two years thereafter to hold any office, position, or employment in any member bank. The appointive members of the Federal Reserve Board shall be ineligible during the time they are in office and for two years thereafter to hold any office, position, or employment in any member bank, except that this restriction shall not apply to a member who has served the full term for which he was appointed. Of the six members thus appointed by the President, one shall be designated by the President to serve for two, one for four, one for six, one for eight, and the balance of the members for ten years, and thereafter each member so appointed shall serve for a term of ten years, unless sooner removed for cause by the President. Of the six persons thus appointed, one shall be designated by the President as governor and one as vice governor of the Federal Reserve Board. The governor of the Federal Reserve Board, subject to its supervision, shall be the active executive officer. The Secretary of the Treasury may assign offices in the Department of the Treasury for the use of the Federal Reserve Board. Each member of the Federal Reserve Board shall within fifteen days after notice of appointment make and subscribe to the oath of office. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 10, 38 Stat. 260; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 101, § 2, 40 Stat. 1315; June 3, 1922, c. 205, 42 Stat. 620.)

243. Assessments upon Federal reserve banks to pay expenses.—The Federal Reserve Board shall have power to levy semiannually upon the Federal reserve banks, in proportion to their capital stock and surplus, an assessment sufficient to pay its estimated expenses and the salaries of its members and employees for the half year succeeding the levying of such assessment, together with any deficit carried forward from the preceding half year. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 10, 38 Stat. 260.)

244. Chairman of board; qualifications of members; vacancies.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall be ex officio chairman of the Federal Reserve Board. No member of the Federal Reserve Board shall be an officer or director of any bank, banking institution, trust company, or Federal reserve bank nor hold stock in any bank, banking institution, or trust company; and before entering upon his duties as a member of the Federal Reserve Board he shall certify under oath to the Secretary of the Treasury that he has complied with this requirement. Whenever a vacancy shall occur, other than by expiration of term, among the six members of the Federal Reserve Board appointed by the President, as above provided, a successor shall be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to fill such vacancy, and when appointed he shall hold office for the unexpired term of the member whose place he is selected to fill. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 10, 38 Stat. 260; June 3, 1922, c. 205, 42 Stat. 620.)

245. Vacancies during recess of Senate.—The President shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen on the Federal Reserve Board during the recess of the Senate by granting commissions which shall expire with the next session of the Senate. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 10, 38 Stat. 260; June 3, 1922, c. 205, 42 Stat. 620.)

246. Powers of Secretary of Treasury as affected by chapter.—Nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed as taking away any powers heretofore vested by law in the Secretary of the Treasury which relate to the supervision, management, and control of the Treasury Department and bureaus under such department, and wherever any power vested by this chapter in the Federal Reserve Board or the Federal reserve agent appears to conflict with the powers of the Secretary of the Treasury, such powers shall be exercised subject to the supervision and control of the Secretary. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 10, 38 Stat. 260.)

247. Reports to Congress.—The Federal Reserve Board shall annually make a full report of its operations to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall cause the same to be printed for the information of the Congress. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 10, 38 Stat. 260.)

248. Enumerated powers.—The Federal Reserve Board shall be authorized and empowered:

(a) Examination of accounts and affairs of banks; publication of weekly statements.—To examine at its discretion the accounts, books, and affairs of each Federal reserve bank and of each member bank and to require such statements and reports as it may deem necessary. The said board shall publish once each week a statement showing the condition of each Federal reserve bank and a consolidated statement for all Federal reserve banks. Such statements shall show in detail the assets and liabilities of the Federal reserve banks, single and combined, and shall furnish full information regarding the character of the money held as reserve and the amount, nature, and maturities of the paper and other investments owned or held by Federal reserve banks. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 261.)

(b) Permitting or rediscounting of paper at specified rate.—To permit, or, on the affirmative vote of at least five members of the Reserve Board to require Federal reserve banks to rediscount the discounted paper of other Federal reserve banks at rates of interest to be fixed by the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(c) Suspending reserve requirements; establishing graduated tax on deficiency in gold reserve.—To suspend for a period not exceeding thirty days, and from time to time to renew such suspension for periods not exceeding fifteen days, any reserve requirement specified in this chapter: Provided, That it shall establish a graduated tax upon the amounts by which the reserve requirements of this chapter may be permitted to fall below the level hereinafter specified: And provided further, That when the gold reserve held against Federal reserve notes falls below 40 per centum, the Federal Reserve Board shall establish a graduated tax of not more than 1 per centum per annum upon such deficiency until the reserves fall to 32½ per centum, and when said reserve falls below 32½ per centum, a tax at the rate increasingly of not less than 1½ per centum per annum upon each 2½ per centum or fraction thereof that such reserve falls below 32½ per centum. The tax shall be paid by the reserve bank, but the reserve bank shall add an amount equal to said tax to the rates of interest and discount fixed by the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(d) Supervising and regulating issue and retirement of notes.—To supervise and regulate through the bureau under the charge of the Comptroller of the Currency the issue and retirement of Federal reserve notes, and to prescribe rules and regulations under which such notes may be delivered by the comptroller to the Federal reserve agents applying therefor. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(e) Adding to or reclassifying reserve and central reserve cities.—To add to the number of cities classified as reserve and central reserve cities under existing law in which national banking associations are subject to the reserve requirements set forth in section 20 of this chapter, or to reclassify existing reserve and central reserve cities or to terminate their designation as such. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(f) Suspending or removing officers or directors of reserve banks.—To suspend or remove any officer or director of any Federal reserve bank, the cause of such removal to be forthwith communicated in writing by the Federal Reserve Board to the removed officer or director and to said bank. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(g) Requiring writing off of doubtful or worthless assets of banks.—To require the writing off of doubtful or worthless assets upon the books and balance sheets of Federal reserve banks. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(h) Suspending operations of or liquidating or reorganizing banks.—To suspend, for the violation of any of the provisions of this chapter, the operations of any Federal reserve bank, to take possession thereof, administer the same during the period of suspension, and, when deemed advisable, to liquidate or reorganize such bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(i) Requiring bonds of agents; safeguarding property in hands of agents.—To require bonds of Federal reserve agents, to make regulations for the safeguarding of all collateral, bonds, Federal reserve notes, money or property of any kind deposited in the hands of such agents, and said board shall perform the duties, functions, or services specified in this chapter, and make all rules and regulations necessary to enable said board effectively to perform the same. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(j) Exercising supervision over reserve banks.—To exercise general supervision over said Federal reserve banks. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(k) Permitting national banks to act as trustees, etc.—To grant by special permit to national banks applying therefor, when not in contravention of State or local law, the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator, registrar of stocks and bonds, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, committee of estates of lunatics, or in any other fiduciary capacity in which State banks, trust companies, or other corporations which come into competition with national banks are permitted to act under the laws of the State in which the national bank is located.

Whenever the laws of such State authorize or permit the exercise of any or all of the foregoing powers by State banks, trust companies, or other corporations which compete with national banks, the granting to and the exercise of such powers by national banks shall not be deemed to be in contravention of State or local law within the meaning of this chapter.

National banks exercising any or all of the powers enumerated in this subsection (k) shall segregate all assets held in any fiduciary capacity from the general assets of the bank and shall keep a separate set of books and records showing in proper detail all transactions engaged in under authority of this subsection. Such books and records shall be open to inspection by the State authorities to the same extent as the books and records of corporations organized under State law which exercise fiduciary powers, but nothing in this chapter shall be construed as authorizing the State authorities to examine the books, records, and assets of the national bank which are not held in trust under authority of this subsection.

No national bank shall receive in its trust department deposits of current funds subject to check or the deposit of checks, drafts, bills of exchange, or other items for collection or exchange purposes. Funds deposited or held in trust by the bank awaiting investment shall be carried in a separate account and shall not be used by the bank in the conduct of its business unless it shall first set aside in the trust department United States bonds or other securities approved by the Federal Reserve Board.

In the event of the failure of such bank the owners of the funds held in trust for investment shall have a lien on the bonds or other securities so set apart in addition to their claim against the estate of the bank.

Whenever the laws of a State require corporations acting in a fiduciary capacity, to deposit securities with the State authorities for the protection of private or court trusts, national banks so acting shall be required to make similar deposits and securities so deposited shall be held for the protection of private or court trusts, as provided by the State law.

National banks in such cases shall not be required to execute the bond usually required of individuals if State corporations under similar circumstances are exempt from this requirement.

National banks shall have power to execute such bond when so required by the laws of the State.

In any case in which the laws of a State require that a corporation acting as trustee, executor, administrator, or in any capacity specified in this section, shall take an oath or make an affidavit, the president, vice president, cashier, or trust officer of such national bank may take the necessary oath or execute the necessary affidavit.

It shall be unlawful for any national banking association to lend any officer, director, or employee any funds held in trust under the powers conferred by this section. Any officer, director, or employee making such loan, or to whom such loan is made, may be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or may be both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court.

In passing upon applications for permission to exercise the powers enumerated in this subsection, the Federal Reserve Board may take into consideration the amount of capital and surplus of the applying bank, whether or not such capital and surplus is sufficient under the circumstances of the case, the needs of the community to be served, and any other facts and circumstances that seem to it proper, and may grant or refuse the application accordingly: Provided, That no permit shall be issued to any national banking association having a capital and surplus less than the capital and surplus required by State law of State banks, trust companies, and corporations exercising such powers. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 264; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 2, 40 Stat. 968.)

(l) Employing attorneys, experts, assistants and clerks; salaries and fees; civil-service rules as applicable.—To employ such attorneys, experts, assistants, clerks, or other employees as may be deemed necessary to conduct the business of the board. All salaries and fees shall be fixed in advance by said board and shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of the members of said board. All such attorneys, experts, assistants, clerks, and other employees shall be appointed without regard to the provisions of section 632 of Title 5, or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof: Provided, That nothing herein shall prevent the President from placing said employees in the classified service. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 11, 38 Stat. 262.)

(m) Rules and regulations for transfer of funds and charges therefor among banks; clearing houses.—The Federal Reserve Board shall make and promulgate from time to time regulations governing the transfer of funds and charges therefor among Federal reserve banks and their branches, and may at its discretion exercise the functions of a clearing house for such Federal reserve banks, or may designate a Federal reserve bank to exercise such functions, and may also require each such bank to exercise the functions of a clearing house for its member banks. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 265.)

FEDERAL ADVISORY COUNCIL

261. Creation; membership; compensation; meetings; officers; procedure; quorum; vacancies.—There is hereby created a Federal Advisory Council, which shall consist of as many members as there are Federal reserve districts. Each Federal reserve bank by its board of directors shall annually select from its own Federal reserve district one member of said council, who shall receive such compensation and allowances as may be fixed by his board of directors subject to the approval of the Federal Reserve Board. The meetings of said advisory council shall be held at Washington, District of Columbia, at least four times each year, and oftener if called by the Federal Reserve Board. The council may in addition to the meetings above provided for hold such other meetings in Washington, District of Columbia, or elsewhere, as it may deem necessary, may select its own officers and adopt its own methods of procedure, and a majority of its members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Vacancies in the council shall be filled by the respective reserve banks, and members selected to fill vacancies, shall serve for the unexpired term. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 12, 38 Stat. 263.)

262. Powers.—The Federal Advisory Council shall have power, by itself or through its officers, (1) to confer directly with the Federal Reserve Board on general business conditions; (2) to make oral or written representations concerning matters within the jurisdiction of said board; (3) to call for information and to make recommendations in regard to discount rates, rediscount business, note issues, reserve conditions in the various districts, the purchase and sale of gold or securities by reserve banks, open-market operations by said banks, and the general affairs of the reserve banking system. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 12, 38 Stat. 263.)

CAPITAL AND STOCK OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS; DIVIDENDS AND EARNINGS

281. Capital.—No Federal reserve bank shall commence business with a subscribed capital less than $4,000,000. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

282. Subscription to capital stock by national banking association.—Every national banking association within each Federal reserve district shall be required to subscribe to the capital stock of the Federal reserve bank for that district in a sum equal to 6 per centum of the paid-up capital stock and surplus of such bank, one-sixth of the subscription to be payable on call of the Federal Reserve Board, one-sixth within three months and one-sixth within six months thereafter, and the remainder of the subscription, or any part thereof, shall be subject to call when deemed necessary by the Federal Reserve Board, said payments to be in gold or gold certificates. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

283. Public subscription to capital stock.—No individual, copartnership, or corporation other than a member bank of its district shall be permitted to subscribe for or to hold at any time more than $25,000 par value of stock in any Federal reserve bank. Such stock shall be known as public stock and may be transferred on the books of the Federal reserve bank by the chairman of the board of directors of such bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

284. Stock allotted to United States.—Stock of a Federal reserve bank allotted to the United States shall be held by the Secretary of the Treasury and disposed of for the benefit of the United States in such manner, at such times, and at such price, not less than par, as the Secretary of the Treasury shall determine. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

285. Nonvoting stock.—Stock not held by member banks shall not be entitled to voting power. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

286. Transfers of stock; rules and regulations.—The Federal Reserve Board is hereby empowered to adopt and promulgate rules and regulations governing the transfers of said stock. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 251.)

287. Value of shares of stock; increase and decrease of stock; member banks as shareholders; surrender of shares.—The capital stock of each Federal reserve bank shall be divided into shares of $100 each. The outstanding capital stock shall be increased from time to time as member banks increase their capital stock and surplus or as additional banks become members, and may be decreased as member banks reduce their capital stock or surplus or cease to be members. Shares of the capital stock of Federal reserve banks owned by member banks shall not be transferred or hypothecated. When a member bank increases its capital stock or surplus, it shall thereupon subscribe for an additional amount of capital stock of the Federal reserve bank of its district equal to 6 per centum of the said increase, one-half of said subscription to be paid in the manner hereinbefore provided for original subscription, and one-half subject to call of the Federal Reserve Board. A bank applying for stock in a Federal reserve bank at any time after the organization thereof must subscribe for an amount of the capital stock of the Federal reserve bank equal to 6 per centum of the paid-up capital stock and surplus of said applicant bank, paying therefor its par value plus one-half of 1 per centum a month from the period of the last dividend. When the capital stock of any Federal reserve bank shall have been increased either on account of the increase of capital stock of member banks or on account of the increase in the number of member banks, the board of directors shall cause to be executed a certificate to the Comptroller of the Currency showing the increase in capital stock, the amount paid in, and by whom paid. When a member bank reduces its capital stock it shall surrender a proportionate amount of its holdings in the capital of said Federal reserve bank, and when a member bank voluntarily liquidates it shall surrender all of its holdings of the capital stock of said Federal reserve bank and be released from its stock subscription not previously called. In either case the shares surrendered shall be canceled and the member bank shall receive in payment therefor, under regulations to be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board, a sum equal to its cash-paid subscriptions on the shares surrendered and one-half of 1 per centum a month from the period of the last dividend, not to exceed the book value thereof, less any liability of such member bank to the Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 5, 38 Stat. 257.)

288. Cancellation of stock held by member bank on insolvency; certificate of reduction of capital of reserve bank.—If any member bank shall be declared insolvent and a receiver appointed therefor, the stock held by it in said Federal reserve bank shall be canceled, without impairment of its liability, and all cash-paid subscriptions on said stock, with one-half of 1 per centum per month from the period of last dividend, not to exceed the book value thereof, shall be first applied to all debts of the insolvent member bank to the Federal reserve bank, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the receiver of the insolvent bank. Whenever the capital stock of a Federal reserve bank is reduced, either on account of a reduction in capital stock of any member bank or of the liquidation or insolvency of such bank, the board of directors shall cause to be executed a certificate to the Comptroller of the Currency showing such reduction of capital stock and the amount repaid to such bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 6, 38 Stat. 258.)

289. Dividends on stock of reserve banks; franchise tax on net earnings; surplus fund.—After all necessary expenses of a Federal reserve bank have been paid or provided for, the stockholders shall be entitled to receive an annual dividend of 6 per centum on the paid-in capital stock, which dividend shall be cumulative. After the aforesaid dividend claims have been fully met, the net earnings shall be paid to the United States as a franchise tax except that the whole of such net earnings, including those for the year ending December 31, 1918, shall be paid into a surplus fund until it shall amount to 100 per centum of the subscribed capital stock of such bank, and that thereafter 10 per centum of such net earnings shall be paid into the surplus. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 7, 38 Stat. 258; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 101, § 1, 40 Stat. 1314.)

290. Disposition of net earnings paid as franchise tax; disposition of surplus fund on dissolution or insolvency of reserve bank.—The net earnings derived by the United States from Federal reserve banks shall, in the discretion of the Secretary, be used to supplement the gold reserve held against outstanding United States notes, or shall be applied to the reduction of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the United States under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. Should a Federal reserve bank be dissolved or go into liquidation, any surplus remaining, after the payment of all debts, dividend requirements as hereinbefore provided, and the par value of the stock, shall be paid to and become the property of the United States and shall be similarly applied. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 7, 38 Stat. 258.)

DIRECTORS OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS; RESERVE AGENTS AND ASSISTANTS

301. Powers and duties of board of directors.—Every Federal reserve bank shall be conducted under the supervision and control of a board of directors.

The board of directors shall perform the duties usually appertaining to the office of directors of banking associations and all such duties as are prescribed by law.

Said board shall administer the affairs of said bank fairly and impartially and without discrimination in favor of or against any member bank or banks and shall, subject to the provisions of law and the orders of the Federal Reserve Board, extend to each member bank such discounts, advancements and accommodations as may be safely and reasonably made with due regard for the claims and demands of other member banks. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 4, 38 Stat. 254.)

302. Number of members; classes.—Such board of directors shall be selected as hereinafter specified and shall consist of nine members, holding office for three years, and divided into three classes, designated as classes A, B, and C.

Class A shall consist of three members, who shall be chosen by and be representative of the stock-holding banks.

Class B shall consist of three members, who at the time of their election shall be actively engaged in their district in commerce, agriculture or some other industrial pursuit.

Class C shall consist of three members who shall be designated by the Federal Reserve Board. When the necessary subscriptions to the capital stock have been obtained for the organization of any Federal reserve bank, the Federal Reserve Board shall appoint the class C directors and shall designate one of such directors as chairman of the board to be selected. Pending the designation of such chairman, the organization committee shall exercise the powers and duties appertaining to the office of chairman in the organization of such Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 4, 38 Stat. 254.)

303. Qualifications and disabilities.—No Senator or Representative in Congress shall be a member of the Federal Reserve Board or an officer or a director of a Federal reserve bank.

No director of class B shall be an officer, director, or employee of any bank.

No director of class C shall be an officer, director, employee, or stockholder of any bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 4, 38 Stat. 254.)

304. Class A and class B directors; selection.—Directors of class A and class B shall be chosen in the following manner:

The Federal Reserve Board shall classify the member banks of the district into three general groups or divisions, designating each group by number. Each group shall consist as nearly as may be of banks of similar capitalization. Each member bank shall be permitted to nominate to the chairman of the board of directors of the Federal reserve bank of the district one candidate for director of class A and one candidate for director of class B. The candidates so nominated shall be listed by the chairman, indicating by whom nominated, and a copy of said list shall, within fifteen days after its completion, be furnished by the chairman to each member bank. Each member bank by a resolution of the board or by an amendment to its by-laws shall authorize its president, cashier, or some other officer to cast the vote of the member bank in the elections of class A and class B directors.

Within fifteen days after receipt of the list of candidates the duly authorized officer of a member bank shall certify to the chairman his first, second, and other choices for director of class A and class B, respectively, upon a preferential ballot upon a form furnished by the chairman of the board of directors of the Federal reserve bank of the district. Each such officer shall make a cross opposite the name of the first, second, and other choices for a director of class A and for a director of class B, but shall not vote more than one choice for any one candidate. No officer or director of a member bank shall be eligible to serve as a class A director unless nominated and elected by banks which are members of the same group as the member bank of which he is an officer or director.

Any person who is an officer or director of more than one member bank shall not be eligible for nomination as a class A director except by banks in the same group as the bank having the largest aggregate resources of any of those of which such person is an officer or director.

Any candidate having a majority of all votes cast in the column of first choice shall be declared elected. If no candidate have a majority of all the votes in the first column, then there shall be added together the votes cast by the electors for such candidates in the second column and the votes cast for the several candidates in the first column. If any candidate then have a majority of the electors voting, by adding together the first and second choices, he shall be declared elected. If no candidate have a majority of electors voting when the first and second choices shall have been added, then the votes cast in the third column for other choices shall be added together in like manner, and the candidate then having the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. An immediate report of election shall be declared. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 4, 38 Stat. 254; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 1, 40 Stat. 968.)

305. Class C directors; selection; "Federal reserve agent."—Class C directors shall be appointed by the Federal Reserve Board. They shall have been for at least two years residents of the district for which they are appointed, one of whom shall be designated by said board as chairman of the board of directors of the Federal reserve bank and as "Federal reserve agent." He shall be a person of tested banking experience and in addition to his duties as chairman of the board of directors of the Federal reserve bank he shall be required to maintain, under regulations to be established by the Federal Reserve Board, a local office of said board on the premises of the Federal reserve bank. He shall make regular reports to the Federal Reserve Board and shall act as its official representative for the performance of the functions conferred upon it by this chapter. He shall receive an annual compensation to be fixed by the Federal Reserve Board and paid monthly by the Federal reserve bank to which he is designated. One of the directors of class C shall be appointed by the Federal Reserve Board as deputy chairman to exercise the powers of the chairman of the board when necessary. In case of the absence of the chairman and deputy chairman, the third class C director shall preside at meetings of the board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 4, 38 Stat. 254; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 2, 40 Stat. 232.)

306. Assistants to Federal reserve agent.—Subject to the approval of the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal reserve agent shall appoint one or more assistants. Such assistants, who shall be persons of tested banking experience, shall assist the Federal reserve agent in the performance of his duties and shall also have power to act in his name and stead during his absence or disability. The Federal Reserve Board shall require such bonds of the assistant Federal reserve agents as it may deem necessary for the protection of the United States. Assistants to the Federal reserve agent shall receive an annual compensation, to be fixed and paid in the same manner as that of the Federal reserve agent. (June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 2, 40 Stat. 232.)

307. Compensation of directors.—Directors of Federal reserve banks shall receive, in addition to any compensation otherwise provided, a reasonable allowance for necessary expenses in attending meetings of their respective boards, which amount shall be paid by the respective Federal reserve banks. Any compensation that may be provided by boards of directors of Federal reserve banks for directors, officers or employees shall be subject to the approval of the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 4, 38 Stat. 254.)

308. Terms of directors; vacancies.—At the first meeting of the full board of directors of each Federal reserve bank, it shall be the duty of the directors of classes A, B, and C, respectively, to designate one of the members of each class whose term of office shall expire in one year from the 1st of January nearest to date of such meeting, one whose term of office shall expire at the end of two years from said date, and one whose term of office shall expire at the end of three years from said date. Thereafter every director of a Federal reserve bank chosen as hereinbefore provided shall hold office for a term of three years. Vacancies that may occur in the several classes of directors of Federal reserve banks may be filled in the manner provided for the original selection of such directors, such appointees to hold office for the unexpired terms of their predecessors. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 4, 38 Stat. 254.)

STATE BANKS AS MEMBERS OF SYSTEM

321. Application for membership.—Any bank incorporated by special law of any State, or organized under the general laws of any State or of the United States, desiring to become a member of the Federal reserve system, may make application to the Federal Reserve Board, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, for the right to subscribe to the stock of the Federal reserve bank organized within the district in which the applying bank is located. Such application shall be for the same amount of stock that the applying bank would be required to subscribe to as a national bank. The Federal Reserve Board, subject to such conditions as it may prescribe, may permit the applying bank to become a stockholder of such Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232.)

322. Determination on application.—In acting upon such applications the Federal Reserve Board shall consider the financial condition of the applying bank, the general character of its management, and whether or not the corporate powers exercised are consistent with the purposes of this chapter. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232.)

323. Stock in Federal reserve banks; method of payment.—Whenever the Federal Reserve Board shall permit the applying bank to become a stockholder in the Federal reserve bank of the district its stock subscription shall be payable on call of the Federal Reserve Board, and stock issued to it shall be held subject to the provisions of this chapter. (Dec. 23, 1913, c 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232.)

324. Laws applicable on becoming members.—All banks admitted to membership under authority of this section shall be required to comply with the reserve and capital requirements of this chapter and to conform to those provisions of law imposed on national banks which prohibit such banks from lending on or purchasing their own stock, which relate to the withdrawal or impairment of their capital stock, and which relate to the payment of unearned dividends. Such banks and the officers, agents, and employees thereof shall also be subject to the provisions of and to the penalties prescribed by section 5209 of the Revised Statutes, and shall be required to make reports of condition and of the payment of dividends to the Federal reserve bank of which they become a member. Not less than three of such reports shall be made annually on call of the Federal reserve bank on dates to be fixed by the Federal Reserve Board. Failure to make such reports within ten days after the date they are called for shall subject the offending bank to a penalty of $100 a day for each day that it fails to transmit such report; such penalty to be collected by the Federal reserve bank by suit or otherwise. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232.)

325. Examinations.—As a condition of membership such banks shall likewise be subject to examinations made by direction of the Federal Reserve Board or of the Federal reserve bank by examiners selected or approved by the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 30 Stat. 232.)

326. Acceptance of examinations and reports by State authorities; special examinations.—Whenever the directors of the Federal reserve bank shall approve the examinations made by the State authorities, such examinations and the reports thereof may be accepted in lieu of examinations made by examiners selected or approved by the Federal Reserve Board: Provided, however, That when it deems it necessary the board may order special examinations by examiners of its own selection and shall in all cases approve the form of the report. The expenses of all examinations, other than those made by State authorities, shall be assessed against and paid by the banks examined. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232.)

327. Surrender of stock and cancellation of memberships.—If at any time it shall appear to the Federal Reserve Board that a member bank has failed to comply with the provisions of this section or the regulations of the Federal Reserve Board made pursuant thereto, it shall be within the power of the board after hearing to require such bank to surrender its stock in the Federal reserve bank and to forfeit all rights and privileges of membership. The Federal Reserve Board may restore membership upon due proof of compliance with the conditions imposed by this section. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232.)

328. Withdrawals from membership.—Any State bank or trust company desiring to withdraw from membership in a Federal reserve bank may do so, after six months' written notice shall have been filed with the Federal Reserve Board, upon the surrender and cancellation of all of its holdings of capital stock in the Federal reserve bank: Provided, however, That no Federal reserve bank shall, except under express authority of the Federal Reserve Board, cancel within the same calendar year more than 25 per centum of its capital stock for the purpose of effecting voluntary withdrawals during that year. All such applications shall be dealt with in the order in which they are filed with the board. Whenever a member bank shall surrender its stock holdings in a Federal reserve bank, or shall be ordered to do so by the Federal Reserve Board, under authority of law, all of its rights and privileges as a member bank shall thereupon cease and determine, and after due provision has been made for any indebtedness due or to become due to the Federal reserve bank it shall be entitled to a refund of its cash-paid subscription with interest at the rate of one-half of 1 per centum per month from date of last dividend, if earned, the amount refunded in no event to exceed the book value of the stock at that time, and shall likewise be entitled to repayment of deposits and of any other balance due from the Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232.)

329. Capital stock required as condition precedent to membership.—No applying bank shall be admitted to membership in a Federal reserve bank unless (a) it possesses a paid-up, unimpaired capital sufficient to entitle it to become a national banking association in the place where it is situated under the provisions of chapter 2 of this title, or (b) it possesses a paid-up, unimpaired capital of at least 60 per centum of the amount sufficient to entitle it to become a national banking association in the place where it is situated under the provisions of chapter 2 of this title and, under penalty of loss of membership complies with rules and regulations which the Federal Reserve Board shall prescribe fixing the time within which and the method by which the unimpaired capital of such bank shall be increased out of net income to equal the capital which would have been required if such bank had been admitted to membership under the provisions of clause (a) of this paragraph: Provided, That every such rule or regulation shall require the applying bank to set aside annually not less than 20 per centum of its net income of the preceding year as a fund exclusively applicable to such capital increase. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 401, 42 Stat. 1478.)

330. Laws applicable on becoming members; discounts for State banks.—Banks becoming members of the Federal reserve system under authority of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this section and to those of this chapter which relate specifically to member banks, but shall not be subject to examination under the provisions of sections 481 and 482 of this title. Subject to the provisions of this chapter and to the regulations of the board made pursuant thereto, any bank becoming a member of the Federal reserve system shall retain its full charter and statutory rights as a State bank or trust company, and may continue to exercise all corporate powers granted it by the State in which it was created, and shall be entitled to all privileges of member banks: Provided, however, That no Federal reserve bank shall be permitted to discount for any State bank or trust company notes, drafts, or bills of exchange of any one borrower who is liable for borrowed money to such State bank or trust company in an amount greater than that which could be borrowed lawfully from such State bank or trust company were it a national banking association. The Federal reserve bank, as a condition of the discount of notes, drafts, and bills of exchange for such State bank or trust company, shall require a certificate or guaranty to the effect that the borrower is not liable to such bank in excess of the amount provided by this section, and will not be permitted to become liable in excess of this amount while such notes, drafts, or bills of exchange are under discount with the Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 257; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232; July 1, 1922, c. 274, 42 Stat. 821.)

331. Certifying checks on State banks admitted as members.—It shall be unlawful for any officer, clerk, or agent of any bank admitted to membership under authority of this section to certify any check drawn upon such bank unless the person or company drawing the check has on deposit therewith at the time such check is certified an amount of money equal to the amount specified in such check. Any check so certified by duly authorized officers shall be a good and valid obligation against such bank, but the act of any such officer, clerk, or agent in violation of this section may subject such bank to a forfeiture of its membership in the Federal reserve system upon hearing by the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 9, 38 Stat. 259; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 3, 40 Stat. 232.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS

341. General enumeration of powers.—Upon the filing of the organization certificate with the Comptroller of the Currency the organization of a Federal reserve bank shall become a body corporate and as such, and in the name designated in such organization certificate, shall have power—

First. To adopt and use a corporate seal.

Second. To have succession for a period of twenty years from its organization unless it is sooner dissolved by an Act of Congress, or unless its franchise becomes forfeited by some violation of law.

Third. To make contracts.

Fourth. To sue and be sued, complain and defend, in any court of law or equity.

Fifth. To appoint by its board of directors, such officers and employees as are not otherwise provided for in this chapter, to define their duties, require bonds of them and fix the penalty thereof, and to dismiss at pleasure such officers or employees.

Sixth. To prescribe by its board of directors by-laws not inconsistent with law, regulating the manner in which its general business may be conducted, and the privileges granted to it by law may be exercised and enjoyed.

Seventh. To exercise by its boards of directors, or duly authorized officers or agents, all powers specifically granted by the provisions of this chapter and such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking within the limitations prescribed by this chapter.

Eighth. Upon deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of any bonds of the United States in the manner provided by existing law relating to national banks, to receive from the Comptroller of the Currency circulating notes in blank, registered and countersigned as provided by law, equal in amount to the par value of the bonds so deposited, such notes to be issued under the same conditions and provisions of law as relate to the issue of circulating notes of national banks secured by bonds of the United States bearing the circulating privilege, except that the issue of such notes shall not be limited to the capital stock of such Federal reserve bank.

But no Federal reserve bank shall transact any business except such as is incidental and necessarily preliminary to its organization until it has been authorized by the Comptroller of the Currency to commence business under the provisions of this chapter. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 4, 38 Stat. 254.)

342. Deposits; exchange and collection; member and nonmember banks; charges.—Any Federal reserve bank may receive from any of its member banks, and from the United States, deposits of current funds in lawful money, national-bank notes, Federal reserve notes, or checks, and drafts, payable upon presentation, and also, for collection, maturing notes and bills; or, solely for purposes of exchange or of collection, may receive from other Federal reserve banks deposits of current funds in lawful money, national-bank notes, or checks upon other Federal reserve banks, and checks and drafts, payable upon presentation within its district, and maturing notes and bills payable within its district; or, solely for the purposes of exchange or of collection, may receive from any nonmember bank or trust company deposits of current funds in lawful money, national-bank notes, Federal reserve notes, checks, and drafts payable upon presentation, or maturing notes and bills: Provided, Such nonmember bank or trust company maintains with the Federal reserve bank of its district a balance sufficient to offset the items in transit held for its account by the Federal reserve bank: Provided further, That nothing in this or any other section of this chapter shall be construed as prohibiting a member or nonmember bank from making reasonable charges, to be determined and regulated by the Federal Reserve Board, but in no case to exceed 10 cents per $100 or fraction thereof, based on the total of checks and drafts presented at any one time, for collection or payment of checks and drafts and remission therefor by exchange or otherwise; but no such charges shall be made against the Federal reserve banks. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 13, 38 Stat. 263; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 4, 40 Stat. 234.)

343. Discount of obligations arising out of actual commercial transactions.—Upon the indorsement of any of its member banks, which shall be deemed a waiver of demand, notice and protest by such bank as to its own indorsement exclusively, any Federal reserve bank may discount notes, drafts, and bills of exchange arising out of actual commercial transactions; that is, notes, drafts, and bills of exchange issued or drawn for agricultural, industrial, or commercial purposes, or the proceeds of which have been used, or are to be used, for such purposes, the Federal Reserve Board to have the right to determine or define the character of the paper thus eligible for discount, within the meaning of this chapter. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed to prohibit such notes, drafts, and bills of exchange, secured by staple agricultural products, or other goods, wares, merchandise from being eligible for such discount, and the notes, drafts, and bills of exchange of factors issued as such making advances exclusively to producers of staple agricultural products in their raw state shall be eligible for such discount; but such definition shall not include notes, drafts, or bills covering merely investments or issued or drawn for the purpose of carrying or trading in stocks, bonds, or other investment securities, except bonds and notes of the Government of the United States. Notes, drafts, and bills admitted to discount under the terms of this paragraph must have a maturity at the time of discount of not more than ninety days, exclusive of grace. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 13, 38 Stat. 263; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 752; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 402, 42 Stat. 1479.)

344. Discount or purchase of bills to finance agricultural shipments.—Upon the indorsement of any of its member banks, which shall be deemed a waiver of demand, notice, and protest by such bank as to its own indorsement exclusively, and subject to regulations and limitations to be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board, any Federal reserve bank may discount or purchase bills of exchange payable at sight or on demand which are drawn to finance the domestic shipment of nonperishable, readily marketable staple agricultural products and are secured by bills of lading or other shipping documents conveying or securing title to such staples: Provided, That all such bills of exchange shall be forwarded promptly for collection, and demand for payment shall be made with reasonable promptness after the arrival of such staples at their destination: Provided further, That no such bill shall in any event be held by or for the account of a Federal reserve bank for a period in excess of ninety days. In discounting such bills Federal reserve banks may compute the interest to be deducted on the basis of the estimated life of each bill and adjust the discount after payment of such bills to conform to the actual life thereof. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 402, 42 Stat. 1478.)

345. Limitation on amount of obligation given for agricultural purposes which may be rediscounted.—The aggregate of such notes, drafts, and bills bearing the signature or indorsement of any one borrower, whether a person, company, firm, or corporation, rediscounted for any one bank shall at no time exceed 10 per centum of the unimpaired capital and surplus of said bank; but this restriction shall not apply to the discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actually existing values. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 13, 38 Stat. 263; Mar. 3, 1915, c. 93, 38 Stat. 958; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 752.)

346. Discount of acceptances.—Any Federal reserve bank may discount acceptances of the kinds hereinafter described, which have a maturity at the time of discount of not more than ninety days' sight, exclusive of days of grace, and which are indorsed by at least one member bank: Provided, That such acceptances if drawn for an agricultural purpose and secured at the time of acceptance by warehouse receipts or other such documents conveying or securing title covering readily marketable staples may be discounted with a maturity at the time of discount of not more than six months' sight exclusive of days of grace. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 13, 38 Stat. 263; Mar. 3, 1915, c. 93, 38 Stat. 958; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 752; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 403, 42 Stat. 1479.)

347. Advances to member banks on their notes.—Any Federal reserve bank may make advances to its member banks on their promissory notes for a period not exceeding fifteen days at rates to be established by such Federal reserve banks, subject to the review and determination of the Federal Reserve Board, provided such promissory notes are secured by such notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or bankers' acceptances as are eligible for rediscount or for purchase by Federal reserve banks under the provisions of this chapter, or by the deposit or pledge of bonds or notes of the United States. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 13, 38 Stat. 263; Mar. 3, 1915, c. 93, 38 Stat. 958; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 752; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, §§ 402, 403, 42 Stat. 1478, 1479.)

348. Discount of obligations given for agricultural purposes or based upon livestock; collateral security for Federal reserve notes.—Upon the indorsement of any of its member banks, which shall be deemed a waiver of demand, notice, and protest by such bank as to its own indorsement exclusively, any Federal reserve bank may, subject to regulations and limitations to be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board, discount notes, drafts, and bills of exchange issued or drawn for an agricultural purpose, or based upon livestock, and having a maturity, at the time of discount, exclusive of days of grace, not exceeding nine months, and such notes, drafts, and bills of exchange may be offered as collateral security for the issuance of Federal reserve notes under the provisions of sections 411–422 of this chapter: Provided, That notes, drafts, and bills of exchange with maturities in excess of six months shall not be eligible as a basis for the issuance of Federal reserve notes unless secured by warehouse receipts or other such negotiable documents conveying or securing title to readily marketable staple agricultural products or by chattel mortgage upon livestock which is being fattened for market. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 404, 42 Stat. 1479.)

349. Rediscount for intermediate credit banks of obligations given for agricultural purposes.—Any Federal reserve bank may, subject to regulations and limitations to be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board, rediscount such notes, drafts, and bills mentioned in the preceding section for any Federal intermediate credit bank, except that no Federal reserve bank shall rediscount for a Federal intermediate credit bank any such note or obligation which bears the indorsement of a nonmember State bank or trust company which is eligible for membership in the Federal reserve system, in accordance with sections 321 to 331. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 404, 42 Stat. 1479.)

350. Purchase and sale of debentures and like obligations of intermediate credit banks and agricultural credit corporations.—Any Federal reserve bank may also buy and sell debentures and other such obligations issued by a Federal intermediate credit bank or by a national agricultural credit corporation, but only to the same extent as and subject to the same limitations as those upon which it may buy and sell bonds issued under Title I of the Federal Farm Loan Act. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 404, 42 Stat. 1479.)

351. Obligations of cooperative marketing association as issued or drawn for agricultural purposes.—Notes, drafts, bills of exchange or acceptances issued or drawn by cooperative marketing associations composed of producers of agricultural products shall be deemed to have been issued or drawn for an agricultural purpose, within the meaning of the three preceding sections, if the proceeds thereof have been or are to be advanced by such association to any members thereof for an agricultural purpose, or have been or are to be used by such association in making payments to any members thereof on account of agricultural products delivered by such members to the association, or if such proceeds have been or are to be used by such association to meet expenditures incurred or to be incurred by the association in connection with the grading, processing, packing, preparation for market, or marketing of any agricultural product handled by such association for any of its members: Provided, That the express enumeration in this paragraph of certain classes of paper of cooperative marketing associations as eligible for rediscount shall not be construed as rendering ineligible any other class of paper of such associations which is now eligible for rediscount. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 404, 42 Stat. 1479.)

352. Limitation on amount of obligations of certain maturities which may be discounted and rediscounted.—The Federal Reserve Board may, by regulation, limit to a percentage of the assets of a Federal reserve bank the amount of notes, drafts, acceptances, or bills having a maturity in excess of three months, but not exceeding six months, exclusive of days of grace, which may be discounted by such bank, and the amount of notes, drafts, bills, or acceptances having a maturity in excess of six months, but not exceeding nine months, which may be rediscounted by such bank. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 404, 42 Stat. 1479.)

353. Purchase and sale of cable transfers, acceptances, and bills.—Any Federal reserve bank may, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board, purchase and sell in the open market, at home or abroad, either from or to domestic or foreign banks, firms, corporations, or individuals, cable transfers and bankers' acceptances and bills of exchange of the kinds and maturities by this chapter made eligible for rediscount, with or without the indorsement of a member bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 14, 38 Stat. 264.)

354. Transactions involving gold coin, bullion, and certificates.—Every Federal reserve bank shall have power to deal in gold coin and bullion at home or abroad, to make loans thereon, exchange Federal reserve notes for gold, gold coin, or gold certificates, and to contract for loans of gold coin or bullion, giving therefor, when necessary, acceptable security, including the hypothecation of United States bonds or other securities which Federal reserve banks are authorized to hold. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 14, 38 Stat. 264.)

355. Purchase and sale of obligations of National, State, and municipal governments.—Every Federal reserve bank shall have power to buy and sell, at home or abroad, bonds and notes of the United States, and bills, notes, revenue bonds, and warrants with a maturity from date of purchase of not exceeding six months, issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes or in anticipation of the receipt of assured revenues by any State, county, district, political subdivision, or municipality in the continental United States, including irrigation, drainage and reclamation districts, such purchases to be made in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 14, 38 Stat. 274.)

356. Purchase of commercial paper from member banks and sale of same.—Every Federal reserve bank shall have power to purchase from member banks and to sell, with or without its indorsement, bills of exchange arising out of commercial transactions, as hereinbefore defined. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 14, 38 Stat. 264.)

357. Establishment of rates of discount.—Every Federal reserve bank shall have power to establish from time to time, subject to review and determination of the Federal Reserve Board, rates of discount to be charged by the Federal reserve bank for each class of paper, which shall be fixed with a view of accommodating commerce and business. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 14, 38 Stat. 264; Apr. 13, 1920, c. 128, 41 Stat. 550; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, § 407, 42 Stat. 407.)

358. Establishment of accounts for purpose of open-market operations; correspondents and agencies.—Every Federal reserve bank shall have power to establish accounts with other Federal reserve banks for exchange purposes and, with the consent or upon the order and direction of the Federal Reserve Board and under regulations to be prescribed by said board, to open and maintain accounts in foreign countries, appoint correspondents, and establish agencies in such countries wheresoever it may be deemed best for the purpose of purchasing, selling, and collecting bills of exchange, and to buy and sell, with or without its indorsement, through such correspondents or agencies, bills of exchange (or acceptances) arising out of actual commercial transactions which have not more than ninety days to run, exclusive of days of grace, and which bear the signature of two or more responsible parties, and, with the consent of the Federal Reserve Board to open and maintain banking accounts for such foreign correspondents or agencies. Whenever any such account has been opened or agency or correspondent has been appointed by a Federal reserve bank, with the consent of or under the order and direction of the Federal Reserve Board, any other Federal reserve bank may, with the consent and approval of the Federal Reserve Board, be permitted to carry on or conduct, through the Federal reserve bank opening such account or appointing such agency or correspondent, any transaction authorized by this section under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 14, 38 Stat. 264; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 754; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 6, 40 Stat. 235.)

359. Purchase and sale of acceptances of intermediate credit banks and agricultural credit corporations.—Every Federal reserve bank shall have power to purchase and sell in the open market, either from or to domestic banks, firms, corporations, or individuals, acceptances of Federal intermediate credit banks and of national agricultural credit corporations, whenever the Federal Reserve Board shall declare that the public interest so requires. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, §§ 405, 407, 42 Stat. 1480.)

360. Receiving checks and drafts on deposit at par; charges for collections, exchange, and clearances.—Every Federal reserve bank shall receive on deposit at par from member banks or from Federal reserve banks checks and drafts drawn upon any of its depositors, and when remitted by a Federal reserve bank, checks and drafts drawn by any depositor in any other Federal reserve bank or member bank upon funds to the credit of said depositor in said reserve bank or member bank. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting a member bank from charging its actual expense incurred in collecting and remitting funds, or for exchange sold to its patrons. The Federal Reserve Board shall, by rule, fix the charges to be collected by the member banks from its patrons whose checks are cleared through the Federal reserve bank and the charge which may be imposed for the service of clearing or collection rendered by the Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 265.)

361. Bills receivable, bills of exchange, discounts, etc.; regulations by Reserve Board.—The discount and rediscount and the purchase and sale by any Federal reserve bank of any bills receivable and of domestic and foreign bills of exchange, and of acceptances authorized by this chapter, shall be subject to such restrictions, limitations, and regulations as may be imposed by the Federal Reserve Board. (Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 753.)

POWERS AND DUTIES OF MEMBER BANKS

371. Loans on farm lands and improved real estate.—Any national banking association not situated in a central reserve city may make loans secured by improved and unencumbered farm land situated within its Federal reserve district or within a radius of one hundred miles of the place in which such bank is located, irrespective of district lines, and may also make loans secured by improved and unencumbered real estate located within one hundred miles of the place in which such bank is located, irrespective of district lines; but no loan made upon the security of such farm land shall be made for a longer time than five years, and no loan made upon the security of such real estate as distinguished from farm land shall be made for a longer time than one year nor shall the amount of any such loan, whether upon such farm land or upon such real estate, exceed 50 per centum of the actual value of the property offered as security. Any such bank may make such loans, whether secured by such farm land or such real estate, in an aggregate sum equal to 25 per centum of its capital and surplus or to one-third of its time deposits and such banks may continue hereafter as heretofore to receive time deposits and to pay interest on the same.

The Federal Reserve Board shall have power from time to time to add to the list of cities in which national banks shall not be permitted to make loans secured upon real estate in the manner described in this section. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 24, 38 Stat. 273; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 754.)

372. Acceptance of drafts or bills relating to shipments.—Any member bank may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it having not more than six months sight to run, exclusive of days of grace, which grow out of transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods; or which grow out of transactions involving the domestic shipment of goods provided shipping documents conveying or securing title are attached at the time of acceptance; or which are secured at the time of acceptance by a warehouse receipt or other such document conveying or securing title covering readily marketable staples. No member bank shall accept, whether in a foreign or domestic transaction, for any one person, company, firm, or corporation to an amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than 10 per centum of its paid-up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus, unless the bank is secured either by attached documents or by some other actual security growing out of the same transaction as the acceptance; and no bank shall accept such bills to an amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than one-half of its paid-up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus: Provided, however, That the Federal Reserve Board, under such general regulations as it may prescribe, which shall apply to all banks alike regardless of the amount of capital stock and surplus, may authorize any member bank to accept such bills to an amount not exceeding at any time in the aggregate 100 per centum of its paid-up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus: Provided further, That the aggregate of acceptances growing out of domestic transactions shall in no event exceed 50 per centum of such capital stock and surplus. (Mar. 3, 1915, c. 93, 38 Stat. 958; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 752; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 5, 40 Stat. 233.)

373. Acceptance of drafts or bills drawn by banks in foreign countries or dependencies of United States for purpose of dollar exchange.—Any member bank may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it having not more than three months' sight to run, exclusive of days of grace, drawn under regulations to be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board by banks or bankers in foreign countries or dependencies or insular possessions of the United States for the purpose of furnishing dollar exchange as required by the usages of trade in the respective countries, dependencies or insular possessions. Such drafts or bills may be acquired by Federal reserve banks in such amounts and subject to such regulations, restrictions, and limitations as may be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board: Provided, however, That no member bank shall accept such drafts or bills of exchange referred to in this paragraph for any one bank to an amount exceeding in the aggregate 10 per centum of the paid-up and unimpaired capital and surplus of the accepting bank unless the draft or bill of exchange is accompanied by documents conveying or securing title by some other adequate security: Provided further, That no member bank shall accept such drafts or bills in an amount exceeding at any time the aggregate of one-half of its paid-up and unimpaired capital and surplus. (Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 754.)

374. Acting as agent for nonmember bank in getting discounts from reserve bank.—No member bank shall act as the medium or agent of a nonmember bank in applying for or receiving discounts from a Federal reserve bank under the provisions of this chapter, except by permission of the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 19, 38 Stat. 270.)

375. Purchases from directors; sales to directors.—Any member bank may contract for, or purchase from, any of its directors or from any firm of which any of its directors is a member, any securities or other property, when (and not otherwise) such purchase is made in the regular course of business upon terms not less favorable to the bank than those offered to others, or when such purchase is authorized by a majority of the board of directors not interested in the sale of such securities or property, such authority to be evidenced by the affirmative vote or written assent of such directors: Provided, however, That when any director, or firm of which any director is a member, acting for or on behalf of others, sells securities or other property to a member bank, the Federal Reserve Board by regulation may, in any or all cases, require a full disclosure to be made, on forms to be prescribed by it, of all commissions or other considerations received, and whenever such director or firm, acting in his or its own behalf, sells securities or other property to the bank the Federal Reserve Board, by regulation, may require a full disclosure of all profit realized from such sale.

Any member bank may sell securities or other property to any of its directors, or to a firm of which any of its directors is a member, in the regular course of business on terms not more favorable to such director or firm than those offered to others, or when such sale is authorized by a majority of the board of directors of a member bank to be evidenced by their affirmative vote or written assent: Provided, however, That nothing in this subsection contained shall be construed as authorizing member banks to purchase or sell securities or other property which such banks are not otherwise authorized by law to purchase or sell. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 22, 38 Stat. 272; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 11, 40 Stat. 240; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 5, 40 Stat. 970.)

376. Rate of interest paid to directors, etc.—No member bank shall pay to any director, officer, attorney, or employee a greater rate of interest on the deposits of such director, officer, attorney, or employee than that paid to other depositors on similar deposits with such member bank. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 22, 38 Stat. 272; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 11, 40 Stat. 240; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 5, 40 Stat. 970.)

DEPOSITARIES AND FISCAL AGENTS

391. Federal reserve banks as Government depositaries and fiscal agents.—The money held in the general fund of the Treasury, except the 5 per centum fund for the redemption of outstanding national-bank notes and the funds provided in this chapter for the redemption of Federal reserve notes may upon the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, be deposited in Federal reserve banks, which banks, when required by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall act as fiscal agents of the United States; and the revenues of the Government or any part thereof may be deposited in such banks, and disbursements may be made by checks drawn against such deposits. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 15, 38 Stat. 265.)

392. Depositaries of Government funds as confined to banks in Federal reserve system; member banks as depositaries.—No public funds of the Philippine Islands, or of the postal savings, or any Government funds, shall be deposited in the continental United States in any bank not belonging to the system established by this chapter: Provided, however, That nothing in this chapter shall be construed to deny the right of the Secretary of the Treasury to use member banks as depositories. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 15, 38 Stat. 265.)

393. Federal reserve banks as depositaries for and fiscal agents of agricultural credit corporations or intermediate credit banks.—The Federal reserve banks are hereby authorized to act as depositories for and fiscal agents of any national agricultural credit corporation or Federal intermediate credit bank. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title IV, § 406, 42 Stat. 1480.)

FEDERAL RESERVE NOTES

411. Issuance to reserve banks; nature of obligation; redemption.—Federal reserve notes, to be issued at the discretion of the Federal Reserve Board for the purpose of making advances to Federal reserve banks through the Federal reserve agents as hereinafter set forth and for no other purpose, are hereby authorized. The said notes shall be obligations of the United States and shall be receivable by all national and member banks and Federal reserve banks and for all taxes, customs, and other public dues. They shall be redeemed in gold on demand at the Treasury Department of the United States, in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, or in gold or lawful money at any Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 23, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 265.)

412. Application for notes; collateral required.—Any Federal reserve bank may make application to the local Federal reserve agent for such amount of the Federal reserve notes hereinbefore provided for as it may require. Such application shall be accompanied with a tender to the local Federal reserve agent of collateral in amount equal to the sum of the Federal reserve notes thus applied for and issued pursuant to such application. The collateral security thus offered shall be notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or acceptances acquired under the provisions of sections 342 to 347 and 372 of this title, or bills of exchange indorsed by a member bank of any Federal reserve district and purchased under the provisions of sections 353 to 358 of this title, or bankers' acceptances purchased under the provisions of said sections, or gold or gold certificates; but in no event shall such collateral security, whether gold, gold certificates, or eligible paper, be less than the amount of Federal reserve notes applied for. The Federal reserve agent shall each day notify the Federal Reserve Board of all issues and withdrawals of Federal reserve notes to and by the Federal reserve bank to which he is accredited. The said Federal Reserve Board may at any time call upon a Federal reserve bank for additional security to protect the Federal reserve notes issued to it. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 265; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 754; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 7, 40 Stat. 236.)

413. Reserves against deposits and notes; circulation of notes; return of notes to bank of issue for credit or redemption; retirement, and destruction.—Every Federal reserve bank shall maintain reserves in gold or lawful money of not less than 35 per centum against its deposits and reserves in gold of not less than 40 per centum against its Federal reserve notes in actual circulation: Provided, however, That when the Federal reserve agent holds gold or gold certificates as collateral for Federal reserve notes issued to the bank such gold or gold certificates shall be counted as part of the gold reserve which such bank is required to maintain against its Federal reserve notes in actual circulation. Notes so paid out shall bear upon their faces a distinctive letter and serial number which shall be assigned by the Federal Reserve Board to each Federal reserve bank. Whenever Federal reserve notes issued through one Federal reserve bank shall be received by another Federal reserve bank, they shall be promptly returned for credit or redemption to the Federal reserve bank through which they were originally issued, or upon direction of such Federal reserve bank, they shall be forwarded direct to the Treasurer of the United States to be retired. No Federal reserve bank shall pay out notes issued through another under penalty of a tax of 10 per centum upon the face value of notes so paid out. Notes presented for redemption at the Treasury of the United States shall be paid out of the redemption fund and returned to the Federal reserve banks through which they were originally issued, and thereupon such Federal reserve bank shall, upon demand of the Secretary of the Treasury, reimburse such redemption fund in lawful money or, if such Federal reserve notes have been redeemed by the Treasurer in gold or gold certificates, then such funds shall be reimbursed to the extent deemed necessary by the Secretary of the Treasury in gold or gold certificates, and such Federal reserve bank shall, so long as any of its Federal reserve notes remain outstanding, maintain with the Treasurer in gold an amount sufficient in the judgment of the Secretary to provide for all redemptions to be made by the Treasurer. Federal reserve notes received by the Treasurer otherwise than for redemption may be exchanged for gold out of the redemption fund hereinafter provided and returned to the reserve bank through which they were originally issued, or they may be returned to such bank for the credit of the United States. Federal reserve notes unfit for circulation shall be returned by the Federal reserve agents to the Comptroller of the Currency for cancellation and destruction. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 266; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 7, 40 Stat. 236.)

414. Gold deposits in Treasury for redemption of issued notes; authority of Reserve Board respecting issuance of notes; interest; lien.—The Federal Reserve Board shall require each Federal reserve bank to maintain on deposit in the Treasury of the United States a sum in gold sufficient in the judgment of the Secretary of the Treasury for the redemption of the Federal reserve notes issued to such bank, but in no event less than 5 per centum of the total amount of notes issued less the amount of gold or gold certificates held by the Federal reserve agent as collateral security; but such deposit of gold shall be counted and included as part of the 40 per centum reserve hereinbefore required. The board shall have the right, acting through the Federal reserve agent, to grant, in whole or in part, or to reject entirely the application of any Federal reserve bank for Federal reserve notes; but to the extent that such application may be granted the Federal Reserve Board shall, through its local Federal reserve agent, supply Federal reserve notes to the banks so applying, and such bank shall be charged with the amount of notes issued to it and shall pay such rate of interest as may be established by the Federal Reserve Board on only that amount of such notes which equals the total amount of its outstanding Federal reserve notes less the amount of gold or gold certificates held by the Federal reserve agent as collateral security. Federal reserve notes issued to any such bank shall, upon delivery, together with such notes of such Federal reserve bank as may be issued under sections 441 to 448 of this chapter upon security of United States 2 per centum Government bonds, become a first and paramount lien on all the assets of such bank. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 266; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 7, 40 Stat. 236.)

415. Reduction of liability for outstanding notes by depositing notes and collateral; reissue of deposited notes; use of collateral for redemption.—Any Federal reserve bank may at any time reduce its liability for outstanding Federal reserve notes by depositing with the Federal reserve agent its Federal reserve notes, gold, gold certificates, or lawful money of the United States. Federal reserve notes so deposited shall not be reissued, except upon compliance with the conditions of an original issue.

The Federal reserve agent shall hold such gold, gold certificates, or lawful money available exclusively for exchange for the outstanding Federal reserve notes when offered by the reserve bank of which he is a director. Upon the request of the Secretary of the Treasury the Federal Reserve Board shall require the Federal reserve agent to transmit to the Treasurer of the United States so much of the gold held by him as collateral security for Federal reserve notes as may be required for the exclusive purpose of the redemption of such Federal reserve notes, but such gold when deposited with the Treasurer shall be counted and considered as if collateral security on deposit with the Federal reserve agent. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 267; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 7, 40 Stat. 236.)

416. Withdrawal of collateral deposited to protect notes; substitution of other collateral or retirement of notes.—Any Federal reserve bank may at its discretion withdraw collateral deposited with the local Federal reserve agent for the protection of its Federal reserve notes issued to it and shall at the same time substitute therefor other collateral of equal amount with the approval of the Federal reserve agent under regulations to be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board. Any Federal reserve bank may retire any of its Federal reserve notes by depositing them with the Federal reserve agent or with the Treasurer of the United States, and such Federal reserve bank shall thereupon be entitled to receive back the collateral deposited with the Federal reserve agent for the security of such notes. Federal reserve banks shall not be required to maintain the reserve or the redemption fund heretofore provided for against Federal reserve notes which have been retired. Federal reserve notes so deposited shall not be reissued except upon compliance with the conditions of an original issue. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 267; June 21, 1917, c. 36, § 7, 40 Stat. 236.)

417. Custody and safe-keeping of notes issued to and collateral deposited with reserve agent.—All Federal reserve notes and all gold, gold certificates, and lawful money issued to or deposited with any Federal reserve agent under the provisions of this chapter shall hereafter be held for such agent, under such rules and regulations as the Federal Reserve Board may prescribe, in the joint custody of himself and the Federal reserve bank to which he is accredited. Such agent and such Federal reserve bank shall be jointly liable for the safe-keeping of such Federal reserve notes, gold, gold certificates, and lawful money. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be construed to prohibit a Federal reserve agent from depositing gold or gold certificates with the Federal Reserve Board, to be held by such board subject to his order, or with the Treasurer of the United States for the purposes authorized by law. (Sept. 21, 1917, c. 32, § 7, 40 Stat. 236.)

418. Printing of notes; denomination and form.—In order to furnish suitable notes for circulation as Federal reserve notes, the Comptroller of the Currency shall, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, cause plates and dies to be engraved in the best manner to guard against counterfeits and fraudulent alterations, and shall have printed therefrom and numbered such quantities of such notes of the denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 as may be required to supply the Federal reserve banks. Such notes shall be in form and tenor as directed by the Secretary of the Treasury under the provisions of this chapter and shall bear the distinctive numbers of the several Federal reserve banks through which they are issued. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 267; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 3, 40 Stat. 969.)

419. Place of deposit of notes prior to delivery to banks.—When such notes have been prepared, they shall be deposited in the Treasury, or in the subtreasury or mint of the United States nearest the place of business of each Federal reserve bank and shall be held for the use of such bank subject to the order of the Comptroller of the Currency for their delivery, as provided by this chapter. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 267.)

420. Control and direction of plates and dies by comptroller; expense of issue and retirement of notes paid by banks.—The plates and dies to be procured by the Comptroller of the Currency for the printing of such circulating notes shall remain under his control and direction, and the expenses necessarily incurred in executing the laws relating to the procuring of such notes, and all other expenses incidental to their issue and retirement, shall be paid by the Federal reserve banks, and the Federal Reserve Board shall include in its estimate of expenses levied against the Federal reserve banks a sufficient amount to cover the expenses herein provided for. (Dec. 23, 1923, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 267.)

421. Examination of plates and dies.—The examination of plates, dies, bed pieces, and so forth, and regulations relating to such examination of plates, dies, and so forth, of national-bank notes provided for in section 108, is hereby extended to include notes herein provided for. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 267.)

422. Appropriations and paper for printing notes; reimbursement of United States for printing notes.—Any appropriation heretofore made out of the general funds of the Treasury for engraving plates and dies, the purchase of distinctive paper, or to cover any other expense in connection with the printing of national-bank notes or notes provided for by Act of May 30, 1908, and any distinctive paper that may be on hand at the time of the passage of this chapter may be used in the discretion of the Secretary for the purposes of this chapter, and should the appropriations heretofore made be insufficient to meet the requirements of this chapter in addition to circulating notes provided for by existing law, the Secretary is hereby authorized to use so much of any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of furnishing the notes aforesaid: Provided, however, That nothing in this section contained shall be construed as exempting national banks or Federal reserve banks from their liability to reimburse the United States for any expenses incurred in printing and issuing circulating notes. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 16, 38 Stat. 267.)

CIRCULATING NOTES AND BONDS SECURING SAME

441. Retirement of circulating notes by member banks; application for sale of bonds securing circulation.—At any time during a period of twenty years from December 23, 1915, any member bank desiring to retire the whole or any part of its circulating notes, may file with the Treasurer of the United States an application to sell for its account, at par and accrued interest, United States bonds securing circulation to be retired. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 18, 38 Stat. 268.)

442. Purchase of bonds by reserve banks.—The Treasurer shall, at the end of each quarterly period, furnish the Federal Reserve Board with a list of such applications, and the Federal Reserve Board may, in its discretion, require the Federal reserve banks to purchase such bonds from the banks whose applications have been filed with the Treasurer at least ten days before the end of any quarterly period at which the Federal Reserve Board may direct the purchase to be made: Provided, That Federal reserve banks shall not be permitted to purchase an amount to exceed $25,000,000 of such bonds in any one year, and which amount shall include bonds acquired under section 341 of this chapter by the Federal reserve bank.

Provided further, That the Federal Reserve Board shall allot to each Federal reserve bank such proportion of such bonds as the capital and surplus of such bank shall bear to the aggregate capital and surplus of all the Federal reserve banks. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 18, 38 Stat. 268.)

443. Transfer of bonds purchased; payment; cancellation of circulating notes of member banks.—Upon notice from the Treasurer of the amount of bonds so sold for its account, each member bank shall duly assign and transfer, in writing, such bonds to the Federal reserve bank purchasing the same, and such Federal reserve bank shall, thereupon, deposit lawful money with the Treasurer of the United States for the purchase price of such bonds, and the Treasurer shall pay to the member bank selling such bonds any balance due after deducting a sufficient sum to redeem its outstanding notes secured by such bonds, which notes shall be canceled and permanently retired when redeemed. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 18, 38 Stat. 268.)

444. Issuance of circulating notes to reserve banks purchasing bonds.—The Federal reserve banks purchasing such bonds shall be permitted to take out an amount of circulating notes equal to the par value of such bonds. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 18, 38 Stat. 268.)

445. Form of circulating notes issued to reserve banks; conditions of issuance.—Upon the deposit with the Treasurer of the United States of bonds so purchased, or any bonds with the circulating privilege acquired under section 341 of this chapter, any Federal reserve bank making such deposit in the manner provided by existing law, shall be entitled to receive from the Comptroller of the Currency circulating notes in blank, registered and countersigned as provided by law, equal in amount to the par value of the bonds so deposited. Such notes shall be the obligations of the Federal reserve bank procuring the same, and shall be in form prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and to the same tenor and effect as national-bank notes now provided by law. They shall be issued and redeemed under the same terms and conditions as national-bank notes except that they shall not be limited to the amount of the capital stock of the Federal reserve bank issuing them. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 18, 38 Stat. 268.)

446. Exchange by reserve banks of bonds bearing circulating privilege for those without such privilege.—Upon application of any Federal reserve bank, approved by the Federal Reserve Board, the Secretary of the Treasury may issue, in exchange for United States 2 per centum gold bonds bearing the circulation privilege, but against which no circulation is outstanding, one-year gold notes of the United States without the circulation privilege, to an amount not to exceed one-half of the 2 per centum bonds so tendered for exchange, and thirty-year 3 per centum gold bonds without the circulation privilege for the remainder of the 2 per centum bonds so tendered: Provided, That at the time of such exchange the Federal reserve bank obtaining such one-year gold notes shall enter into an obligation with the Secretary of the Treasury binding itself to purchase from the United States for gold at the maturity of such one-year notes, an amount equal to those delivered in exchange for such bonds, if so requested by the Secretary, and at each maturity of one-year notes so purchased by such Federal reserve bank, to purchase from the United States such an amount of one-year notes as the Secretary may tender to such bank, not to exceed the amount issued to such bank in the first instance, in exchange for the 2 per centum United States gold bonds; said obligation to purchase at maturity such notes shall continue in force for a period not to exceed thirty years. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 18, 38 Stat. 268.)

447. Form of bonds; conditions of issuance.—For the purpose of making the exchange herein provided for, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to issue at par Treasury notes in coupon or registered form as he may prescribe in denominations of $100, or any multiple thereof, bearing interest at the rate of 3 per centum per annum, payable quarterly, such Treasury notes to be payable not more than one year from the date of their issue in gold coin of the present standard value, and to be exempt as to principal and interest from the payment of all taxes and duties of the United States except as provided by this and the following chapter, as well as from taxes in any form by or under State, municipal, or local authorities. And for the same purpose the Secretary is authorized and empowered to issue United States gold bonds at par, bearing 3 per centum interest payable thirty years from date of issue, such bonds to be of the same general tenor and effect and to be issued under the same general terms and conditions as the United States 3 per centum bonds without the circulation privilege now issued and outstanding. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 18, 38 Stat. 268.)

448. Exchange of one-year gold notes for 3 per centum gold bonds.—Upon application of any Federal reserve bank, approved by the Federal Reserve Board, the Secretary may issue at par such 3 per centum bonds in exchange for the one-year gold notes herein provided for. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 18, 38 Stat. 268.)

BANK RESERVES

461. Demand and time deposits defined.—Demand deposits within the meaning of this chapter shall comprise all deposits payable within thirty days, and time deposits shall comprise all deposits payable after thirty days, all savings accounts and certificates of deposit which are subject to not less than thirty days notice before payment, and all postal savings deposits. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 19, 38 Stat. 270.)

462. Balance which member banks must keep in reserve banks.—Every bank, banking association, or trust company which is or which becomes a member of any Federal reserve bank shall establish and maintain reserve balances with its Federal reserve bank as follows:

(a) If not in a reserve or central reserve city, as now or hereafter defined, it shall hold and maintain with the Federal reserve bank of its district an actual net balance equal to not less than 7 per centum of the aggregate amount of its demand deposits and 3 per centum of its time deposits.

(b) If in a reserve city, as now or hereafter defined, it shall hold and maintain with the Federal reserve bank of its district an actual net balance equal to not less than 10 per centum of the aggregate amount of its demand deposits and 3 per centum of its time deposits: Provided, however, That if located in the outlying districts of a reserve city or in territory added to such city by the extension of its corporate charter, it may, upon the affirmative vote of five members of the Federal Reserve Board, hold and maintain the reserve balances specified in paragraph (a) hereof.

(c) If in a central reserve city, as now or hereafter defined, it shall hold and maintain with the Federal reserve bank of its district an actual net balance equal to not less than 13 per centum of the aggregate amount of its demand deposits and 3 per centum of its time deposits: Provided, however, That if located in the outlying districts of a central reserve city or in territory added to such city by the extension of its corporate charter, it may, upon the affirmative vote of five members of the Federal Reserve Board, hold and maintain the reserve balances specified in paragraphs (a) or (b) thereof. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 19, 38 Stat. 270; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 4, 40 Stat. 970.)

463. Limitation on amount of balance with State bank or trust company.—No member bank shall keep on deposit with any State bank or trust company which is not a member bank a sum in excess of 10 per centum of its own paid-up capital and surplus. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 19, 38 Stat. 270; Aug. 15, 1914, c. 252, 39 Stat. 691; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 10, 40 Stat. 239.)

464. Checking against and withdrawal of reserve balance.—The required balance carried by a member bank with a Federal reserve bank may, under the regulations and subject to such penalties as may be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board, be checked against and withdrawn by such member bank for the purpose of meeting existing liabilities: Provided, however, That no bank shall at any time make new loans or shall pay any dividends unless and until the total balance required by law is fully restored. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 19, 38 Stat. 270; Aug. 15, 1914, c. 252, 39 Stat. 691; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 10, 40 Stat. 239.)

465. Basis for ascertaining deposits against which required balance is determined.—In estimating the balances required by this chapter, the net difference of amounts due to and from other banks shall be taken as the basis for ascertaining the deposits against which required balances with Federal reserve banks shall be determined. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 19, 39 Stat. 270; Aug. 15, 1914, c. 252, 38 Stat. 691; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 10, 40 Stat. 239.)

466. Reserves of banks in Alaska or insular possessions.—National banks, or banks organized under local laws, located in Alaska or in a dependency or insular possession or any part of the United States outside the continental United States may remain nonmember banks, and shall in that event maintain reserves and comply with all the conditions now provided by law regulating them; or said banks may, with the consent of the Reserve Board, become member banks of any one of the reserve districts, and shall in that event take stock, maintain reserves, and be subject to all the other provisions of this chapter. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 19, 38 Stat. 270; Aug. 15, 1914, c. 252, 38 Stat. 691; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 10, 40 Stat. 239.)

467. Deposits of gold coin or gold certificates with United States Treasurer.—The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to receive deposits of gold coin or of gold certificates with the Treasurer of the United States when tendered by any Federal reserve bank or Federal reserve agent for credit to its or his account with the Federal Reserve Board. The Secretary shall prescribe by regulation the form of receipt to be issued by the Treasurer to the Federal reserve bank or Federal reserve agent making the deposit, and a duplicate of such receipt shall be delivered to the Federal Reserve Board by the Treasurer at Washington upon proper advices from any assistant treasurer that such deposit has been made. Deposits so made shall be held subject to the orders of the Federal Reserve Board and shall be payable in gold coin or gold certificates on the order of the Federal Reserve Board to any Federal reserve bank or Federal reserve agent at the Treasury or at the Subtreasury of the United States nearest the place of business of such Federal reserve bank or such Federal reserve agent: Provided, however, That any expense incurred in shipping gold to or from the Treasury or Subtreasuries in order to make such payments, or as a result of making such payments, shall be paid by the Federal Reserve Board and assessed against the Federal reserve banks. The order used by the Federal Reserve Board in making such payments shall be signed by the governor or vice governor, or such other officers or members as the board may by regulation prescribe. The form of such order shall be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The expenses necessarily incurred in carrying out these provisions, including the cost of the certificates or receipts issued for deposits received, and all expenses incident to the handling of such deposits shall be paid by the Federal Reserve Board and included in its assessments against the several Federal reserve banks.

Gold deposits standing to the credit of any Federal reserve bank with the Federal Reserve Board shall, at the option of said bank, be counted as part of the lawful reserve which it is required to maintain against outstanding Federal reserve notes, or as a part of the reserve it is required to maintain against deposits.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending section 429 of title 31, Money and Finance, nor shall the provisions of this section be construed to apply to the deposits made or to the receipts or certificates issued under that section. (June 21, 1917, c. 328, § 8, 40 Stat. 238.)

BANK EXAMINATIONS

481. Appointment of examiners; examination of member banks, State banks, and trust companies; reports.—The Comptroller of the Currency, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall appoint examiners who shall examine every member bank other than those expressly excepted by section 330 of this title, at least twice in each calendar year and oftener if considered necessary: Provided, however, That the Federal Reserve Board may authorize examination by the State authorities to be accepted in the case of State banks and trust companies and may at any time direct the holding of a special examination of State banks or trust companies that are stockholders in any Federal reserve bank. The examiner making the examination of any national bank, or of any other member bank, shall have power to make a thorough examination of all the affairs of the bank and in doing so he shall have power to administer oaths and to examine any of the officers and agents thereof under oath and shall make a full and detailed report of the condition of said bank to the Comptroller of the Currency. (R. S. § 5240; Feb. 19, 1875, c. 89, 18 Stat. 329; Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 21, 38 Stat. 271.)

482. Salaries of examiners; expense of examinations.—The Federal Reserve Board, upon the recommendation of the Comptroller of the Currency, shall fix the salaries of all bank examiners and make report thereof to Congress. The expense of the examinations herein provided for shall be assessed by the Comptroller of the Currency upon the banks examined in proportion to assets or resources held by the banks upon the dates of examination of the various banks. (R. S. § 5240; Feb. 19, 1875, c. 89, 18 Stat. 329; Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 21, 38 Stat. 271.)

483. Special examination of member banks; information of condition furnished to Federal Reserve Board.—In addition to the examinations made and conducted by the Comptroller of the Currency, every Federal reserve bank may, with the approval of the Federal reserve agent or the Federal Reserve Board, provide for special examination of member banks within its district. The expense of such examinations shall be borne by the bank examined. Such examinations shall be so conducted as to inform the Federal reserve bank of the condition of its member banks and of the lines of credit which are being extended by them. Every Federal reserve bank shall at all times furnish to the Federal Reserve Board such information as may be demanded concerning the condition of any member bank within the district of the said Federal reserve bank. (R. S. § 5240; Feb. 19, 1875, c. 89, 18 Stat. 329; Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 21, 38 Stat. 271.)

484. Limitation on visitorial powers.—No bank shall be subject to any visitorial powers other than such as are authorized by law, or vested in the courts of justice or such as shall be or shall have been exercised or directed by Congress, or by either House thereof or by any committee of Congress or of either House duly authorized. (R. S. § 5240; Feb. 19, 1875, c. 89, 18 Stat. 329; Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 21, 38 Stat. 271.)

485. Examination of Federal reserve banks.—The Federal Reserve Board shall, at least once each year, order an examination of each Federal reserve bank, and upon joint application of ten member banks the Federal Reserve Board shall order a special examination and report of the condition of any Federal reserve bank. (R. S. § 5240; Feb. 19, 1875, c. 89, 18 Stat. 329; Dec. 23, 1913, c, 6, § 21, 38 Stat. 271.)

CIVIL LIABILITY OF FEDERAL RESERVE AND MEMBER BANKS, SHAREHOLDERS, AND OFFICERS

501. Liability of Federal reserve or member bank for certifying check when amount of deposit was inadequate.—It shall be unlawful for any officer, director, agent, or employee of any Federal reserve bank, or of any member bank as defined in this chapter, to certify any check drawn upon such Federal reserve bank or member bank unless the person, firm, or corporation drawing the check has on deposit with such Federal reserve bank or member bank, at the times such check is certified, an amount of money not less than the amount specified in such check. Any check so certified by a duly authorized officer, director, agent, or employee shall be a good and valid obligation against such Federal reserve bank or member bank; but the act of any officer, director, agent, or employee of any such Federal reserve bank or member bank in violation of this section shall, in the discretion of the Federal Reserve Board, subject such Federal reserve bank to the penalties imposed by section 248, subsection (h), and shall subject such member bank if a national bank to the liabilities and proceedings on the part of the Comptroller of the Currency provided for in section 192, and shall, in the discretion of the Federal Reserve Board, subject any other member bank to the penalties imposed by section 331 for the violation of any of the provisions of this chapter. (R. S. § 5208; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 7, 40 Stat. 972.)

502. Liability of shareholders of reserve banks on contracts, etc.—The shareholders of every Federal reserve bank shall be held individually responsible, equally and ratably, and not one for another, for all contracts, debts, and engagements of such bank to the extent of the amount of their subscriptions to such stock at the par value thereof in addition to the amount subscribed, whether such subscriptions have been paid up in whole or in part, under the provisions of this chapter. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 2, 38 Stat. 252.)

503. Liability of directors and officers of member banks.—If the directors or officers of any member bank shall knowingly violate or permit any of the agents, officers, or directors of any member bank to violate any of the provisions of sections 375, 376, 593, 594, 595 or regulations of the board made under authority thereof, every director and officer participating in or assenting to such violation shall be held liable in his personal and individual capacity for all damages which the member bank, its shareholders, or any other persons shall have sustained in consequence of such violation. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 22, 38 Stat. 272; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 11, 40 Stat. 240; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 5, 40 Stat. 970.)

RESERVE-BANK BRANCHES

521. Reserve bank branches; establishment; directors.—The Federal Reserve Board may permit or require any Federal reserve bank to establish branch banks within the Federal reserve district in which it is located or within the district of any Federal reserve bank which may have been suspended. Such branches, subject to such rules and regulations as the Federal Reserve Board may prescribe, shall be operated under the supervision of a board of directors to consist of not more than seven nor less than three directors, of whom a majority of one shall be appointed by the Federal reserve bank of the district, and the remaining directors by the Federal Reserve Board. Directors of branch banks shall hold office during the pleasure of the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 3, 38 Stat. 253; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 1, 40 Stat. 232.)

522. Federal reserve branch bank buildings.—No Federal reserve bank shall have authority hereafter to enter into any contract or contracts for the erection of any branch bank building of any kind or character, or to authorize the erection of any such building, if the cost of the building proper, exclusive of the cost of the vaults, permanent equipment, furnishings, and fixtures, is in excess of $250,000: Provided, That nothing herein shall apply to any building under construction prior to June 3, 1922. (June 3, 1922, c. 205, 42 Stat. 621; Feb. 6, 1923, c. 60, 42 Stat. 1223.)

565. Circulation, when exempted from tax.
566. Semiannual returns.
567. Failure to make return; commissioner to estimate.
568. State banks converted into national banks; returns.
569. Provisions as applicable to national banks.
570. Insolvent banks as exempt from tax.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS

Section 531. Exemption from taxation.—Federal reserve banks, including the capital stock and surplus therein, and the income derived therefrom shall be exempt from Federal, State, and local taxation, except taxes upon real estate. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 7, 38 Stat. 258; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 101, § 1, 40 Stat. 1314.)

NATIONAL BANK CIRCULATION

541. Tax on circulating notes generally.—In lieu of all existing taxes, every association shall pay to the Treasurer of the United States, in the months of January and July, a duty of one-half of 1 per centum each half year upon the average amount of its notes in circulation. (R. S. § 5214; Mar. 3, 1883, c. 121, § 1, 22 Stat. 488.)

542. Tax on circulating notes secured by 2 per centum bonds.—Every national banking association having on deposit, as provided by law, bonds of the United States bearing interest at the rate of 2 per centum per annum, issued under the provisions of the Act of March 14, 1900 (chapter 41, Thirty-first Statutes, page 46), to secure the circulating notes, shall pay to the Treasurer of the United States, in the months of January and July, a tax of one-fourth of 1 per centum each half year upon the average amount of such of its notes in circulation as are based upon the deposit of said 2 per centum bonds; and such taxes shall be in lieu of existing taxes on its notes in circulation imposed by section 541 of this title. (Mar. 14, 1900, c. 41, § 13, 31 Stat. 49.)

543. Tax on circulating notes secured by Panama Canal 2 per centum bonds; bonds to have all rights and privileges of other 2 per centum bonds.—Every national banking association having on deposit, as provided by law, bonds issued under the provisions of section 8 of Act of June 28, 1902 (chapter 1302, Thirty-second Statute, page 484), to secure its circulating notes, shall pay to the Treasurer of the United States. in the months of January and July, a tax of one-fourth of 1 per centum each half year upon the average amount of such of its notes in circulation as are based upon the deposit of said 2 per centum bonds; and such taxes shall be in lieu of existing taxes on its notes in circulation imposed by section 541 of this title. (Dec. 21, 1905, c. 3, § 1, 34 Stat. 5.)

544. Half-yearly return of circulation.—In order to enable the Treasurer to assess the duties imposed by the preceding section, each association shall, within ten days from the 1st days of January and July of each year, make a return, under the oath of its president or cashier, to the Treasurer of the United States, in such form as the Treasurer may prescribe, of the average amount of its notes in circulation, for the six months next preceding the most recent 1st day of January or July. Every association which fails so to make such return shall be liable to a penalty of $200, to be collected either out of the interest as it may become due such association on the bonds deposited with the Treasurer, or, at his option, in the manner in which penalties are to be collected of other corporations under the laws of the United States. (R. S. § 5215; Mar 3, 1883, c. 121, § 1, 22 Stat. 488.)

545. Penalty for failure to make return.—Whenever any association fails to make the half-yearly return required by the preceding section, the duties to be paid by such association shall be assessed upon the amount of notes delivered to such association, by the Comptroller of the Currency. (R. S. § 5216; Mar. 3, 1883, c. 121, § 1, 22 Stat. 488.)

546. Enforcing tax on circulation.—Whenever an association fails to pay the duties imposed by the three preceding sections, the sums due may be collected in the manner provided for the collection of United States taxes from other corporations; or the Treasurer may reserve the amount out of the interest. as it may become due, on the bonds deposited with him by such defaulting association. (R. S. § 5217.)

547. Refunding excess tax.—In all cases where an association has paid or may pay in excess of what may be or has been found due from it, on account of the duty required to be paid to the Treasurer of the United States, the association may state an account therefor, which, on being certified by the Treasurer of the United States, and found correct by the First Comptroller of the Treasury, shall be refunded in the ordinary manner by warrant on the Treasury. (R. S. § 5218.)

548. State taxation.—The legislature of each State may determine and direct, subject to the provisions of this section, the manner and place of taxing all the shares of national banking associations located within its limits. The several States may tax said shares, or include dividends derived therefrom in the taxable income of an owner or holder thereof, or tax the income of such associations, provided the following conditions are complied with:

1. (a) The imposition by said State of any one of the above three forms of taxation shall be in lieu of the others.

(b) In the case of a tax on said shares the tax imposed shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of such State coming into competition with the business of national banks: Provided, That bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness in the hands of individual citizens not employed or engaged in the banking or investment business and representing merely personal investments not made in competition with such business, shall not be deemed moneyed capital within the meaning of this section.

(c) In case of a tax on the net income of an association, the rate shall not be higher than the rate assessed upon other financial corporations nor higher than the highest of the rates assessed by the taxing State upon the net income of mercantile, manufacturing, and business corporations doing business within its limits.

(d) In case the dividends derived from the said shares are taxed, the tax shall not be a greater rate than is assessed upon the net income from other moneyed capital.

2. The shares or the net income as above provided of any national banking association owned by nonresidents of any State, or the dividends on such shares owned by such nonresidents, shall be taxed in the taxing district where the association is located and not elsewhere; and such associations shall make return of such income and pay the tax thereon as agent of such nonresident shareholders.

3. Nothing herein shall be construed to exempt the real property of associations from taxation in any State or in any subdivision thereof, to the same extent, according to its value, as other real property is taxed.

4. The provisions of section 5219 of the Revised Statutes of the United States as in force prior to March 4, 1923, shall not prevent the legalizing, ratifying, or confirming by the States of any tax heretofore paid, levied, or assessed upon the shares of national banks, or the collecting thereof, to the extent that such tax would be valid under said section. (R. S. § 5219; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 267, 42 Stat. 1499.)

STATE BANK CIRCULATION

561. Bank and banker defined.—Every incorporated or other bank, and every person, firm, or company having a place of business where credits are opened by the deposit or collection of money or currency, subject to be paid or remitted upon draft, check, or order, or where money is advanced or loaned on stocks, bonds, bullion, bills of exchange, or promissory notes, or where stocks, bonds, bullion, bills of exchange, or promissory notes are received for discount or for sale, shall be regarded as a bank or as a banker. (R. S. § 3407.)

562. Tax on own circulating notes.—Every person, firm, association other than national bank associations, and every corporation, State bank, or State banking association, shall pay a tax of 10 per centum on the amount of their own notes used for circulation and paid out by them. (Feb. 8, 1875, c. 36, § 19, 18 Stat. 311.)

563. Tax on notes of others used as circulation.—Every such person, firm, association, corporation, State bank, or State banking association, and also every national banking association, shall pay a like tax of 10 per centum on the amount of notes of any person, firm, association other than a national banking association, or of any corporation, State bank, or State banking association, or of any town, city, or municipal corporation, used for circulation and paid out by them. (Feb. 8, 1875, c. 36, § 20, 18 Stat. 311.)

564. Returns; payment of tax; penalties.—The amount of such circulating notes, and of the tax due thereon, shall be returned, and the tax paid at the same time, and in the same manner, and with like penalties for failure to return and pay the same, as provided by law for the return and payment of taxes on deposits, capital, and circulation, imposed by the existing provisions of internal revenue law. (Feb. 8, 1875, c. 36, § 21, 18 Stat. 311.)

565. Circulation, when exempted from tax.—Whenever the outstanding circulation of any bank, association, corporation, company, or person is reduced to an amount not exceeding 5 per centum of the chartered or declared capital existing at the time the same was issued, said circulation shall be free from taxation; and whenever any bank which has ceased to issue notes for circulation deposits in the Treasury of the United States, in lawful money, the amount of its outstanding circulation, to be redeemed at par, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, it shall be exempt from any tax upon such circulation. (R. S. § 3411.)

566. Semiannual returns.—A true and complete return of the monthly amount of circulation, as aforesaid, and of the monthly amount of notes of persons, town, city, or municipal corporation, State banks, or State banking associations paid out as aforesaid for the previous six months, shall be made and rendered in duplicate on the 1st day of December and the 1st day of June, by each of such banks, associations, corporations, companies, or persons, with a declaration annexed thereto, under the oath of such person, or of the president or cashier of such bank, association, corporation, or company, in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, that the same contains a true and faithful statement of the amounts subject to tax, as aforesaid; and one copy shall be transmitted to the collector of the district in which any such bank, association, corporation, or company is situated, or in which such person has his place of business, and one copy to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. (R. S. § 3414; Mar. 3, 1883, c. 121, § 1, 22 Stat. 488.)

567. Failure to make return; commissioner to estimate.—In default of the returns provided in the preceding section, the amount of circulation, and notes of persons, town, city, and municipal corporations, State banks, and State banking associations paid out, as aforesaid, shall be estimated by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, upon the best information he can obtain. And for any refusal or neglect to make return and payment, any such bank, association, corporation, company, or person so in default shall pay a penalty of $200, besides the additional penalty and forfeitures provided in other cases. (R. S. § 3415; Mar. 3, 1883, c. 121, § 1, 22 Stat. 488.)

568. State banks converted into national banks; returns.—Whenever any State bank or banking association has been converted into a national banking association, and such national banking association has assumed the liabilities of such State bank or banking association, including the redemption of its bills, by any agreement or understanding whatever with the representatives of such State bank or banking association, such national banking association shall be held to make the required return and payment on the circulation outstanding, so long as such circulation shall exceed 5 per centum of the capital before such conversion of such State bank or banking association. (R. S. § 3416.)

569. Provisions as applicable to national banks.—The provisions of this subdivision of chapter 4, relating to the tax on the circulation of banks, and to their returns, except as contained in sections 565 and 568, and such parts of sections 566 and 567 as relate to the tax of 10 per centum on certain notes, shall not apply to associations which are taxed under and by virtue of chapter 2 of this title. (R. S. § 3417; Feb. 18, 1875, c. 80, § 1, 18 Stat. 319; Mar. 3, 1883, c. 121, § 1, 22 Stat. 488.)

570. Insolvent banks as exempt from tax.—Whenever and after any bank has ceased to do business by reason of insolvency or bankruptcy, no tax shall be assessed or collected, or paid into the Treasury of the United States, on account of such bank, which shall diminish the assets thereof necessary for the full payment of all its depositors; and such tax shall be abated from such national banks as are found by the Comptroller of the Currency to be insolvent; and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, when the facts shall so appear to him, is authorized to remit so much of said tax against insolvent State and savings banks as shall be found to affect the claims of their depositors. (Mar. 1, 1879, c. 125, § 22, 20 Stat. 351; Mar. 3, 1883, c. 121, § 1, 22 Stat. 488.)

IN GENERAL

Section 581. Unauthorized issue of circulating notes.—No officer acting under the provisions of chapter 2 shall countersign or deliver to any national banking association, or to any other company or person, any circulating notes contemplated by chapter 2, except in accordance with the true intent and meaning of its provisions. Every officer who violates this section shall be deemed guilty of a high misdemeanor, and shall be fined not more than double the amount so countersigned and delivered, and imprisoned not less than one year and not more than fifteen years. (R. S. § 5187.)

582. Receipt of United States or bank notes as collateral.—No national banking association shall hereafter offer or receive United States notes or national-bank notes as security or as collateral security for any loan of money, or for a consideration agree to withhold the same from use, or offer or receive the custody or promise of custody of such notes as security, or as collateral security, or consideration for any loan of money. Any association offending against the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not more than $1,000 and a further sum equal to one-third of the money so loaned. The officer or officers of any association who shall make any such loan shall be liable for a further sum equal to one-quarter of the money loaned; and any fine or penalty incurred by a violation of this section shall be recoverable for the benefit of the party bringing such suit. (R. S. § 5207.)

583. Use of word "national"; penalty for unauthorized use.—All banks not organized and transacting business under the national currency laws, or under Chapter 2, and all persons or corporations doing the business of bankers, brokers, or savings institutions, except savings banks authorized by Congress to use the word "national" as a part of their corporate name, are prohibited from using the word "national" as a portion of the name or title of such bank, corporation, firm, or partnership; and any violation of this prohibition shall subject the party chargeable therewith to a penalty of $50 for each day during which it is committed or repeated. (R. S. § 5243.)

FEDERAL RESERVE AND MEMBER BANKS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AND EXAMINERS

591. Unlawful certification of checks.—Any officer, director, agent, or employee of any Federal reserve bank or member bank who shall willfully violate the provisions of this section and section 501 of this title, or who shall resort to any device, or receive any fictitious obligation. directly or collaterally, in order to evade the provisions thereof, or who shall certify a check before the amount thereof shall have been regularly entered to the credit of the drawer upon the books of the bank, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, on conviction thereof in any district court of the United States, be fined not more than $5,000, or shall be imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, in the discretion of the court. (R. S. § 5208; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 7, 40 Stat. 972.)

592. Embezzlement, etc.—Any officer, director, agent, or employee of any Federal reserve bank, or of any member bank as defined in sections 221 to 225 of this title, who embezzles, abstracts, or willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, or credits of such Federal reserve bank or member bank, or who, without authority from the directors of such Federal reserve bank or member bank, issues or puts in circulation any of the notes of such Federal reserve bank or member bank, or who, without such authority, issues or puts forth any certificate of deposit, draws any order or bill of exchange, makes any acceptance, assigns any note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or decree, or who makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of such Federal reserve bank or member bank, with intent in any case to injure or defraud such Federal reserve bank or member bank, or any other company, body politic or corporate, or any individual person, or to deceive any officer of such Federal reserve bank or member bank, or the Comptroller of the Currency, or any agent or examiner appointed to examine the affairs of such Federal reserve bank or member banks, or the Federal Reserve Board; and every receiver of a national banking association who, with like intent to defraud or injure, embezzles, abstracts, purloins, or willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, or assets of his trust, and every person who, with like intent, aids or abets any officer, director, agent, employee, or receiver in any violation of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any district court of the United States shall be fined not more than $5,000 or shall be imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Any Federal reserve agent, or any agent or employee of such Federal reserve agent, or of the Federal Reserve Board, who embezzles, abstracts, or willfully misapplies any moneys, funds, or securities intrusted to his care, or without complying with or in violation of the provisions of chapter 3, issues or puts in circulation any Federal reserve notes, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in any district court of the United States shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, in the discretion of the court. (R. S. § 5209; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 7, 40 Stat. 972.)

593. Loans and gratuities.—No member bank and no officer, director, or employee thereof shall hereafter make any loan or grant any gratuity to any bank examiner. Any bank officer, director, or employee violating this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned not exceeding one year or fined not more than $5,000, or both; and may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given.

Any examiner accepting a loan or gratuity from any bank examined by him or from an officer, director, or employee thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned one year or fined not more than $5,000, or both, and may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given, and shall forever thereafter be disqualified from holding office as a national-bank examiner. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 22, 38 Stat. 272; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 11, 40 Stat. 240; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 5, 40 Stat. 970.)

594. Bank examiners; performance of other services for compensation; disclosure of information.—No national-bank examiner shall perform any other service for compensation while holding such office for any bank or officer, director, or employee thereof.

No examiner, public or private, shall disclose the names of borrowers or the collateral for loans of a member bank to other than the proper officers of such bank without first having obtained the express permission in writing from the Comptroller of the Currency, or from the board of directors of such bank, except when ordered to do so by a court of competent jurisdiction, or by direction of the Congress of the United States, or of either House thereof, or any committee of Congress, or of either House, duly authorized. Any bank examiner violating the provisions of this section shall be imprisoned not more than one year or fined not more than $5,000, or both. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 22, 38 Stat. 272; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 11, 40 Stat. 240; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 5, 40 Stat. 970.)

595. Officers, directors, and employees; commissions and gifts for procuring loans, etc.—Except as herein provided, any officer, director, employee, or attorney of a member bank who stipulates for or receives or consents or agrees to receive any fee, commission, gift, or thing of value from any person, firm, or corporation, for procuring or endeavoring to procure for such person, firm, or corporation, or for any other person, firm, or corporation, any loan from or the purchase or discount of any paper, note, draft, check, or bill of exchange by such member bank shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned not more than one year or fined not more than $5,000, or both. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 22, 38 Stat. 272; June 21, 1917, c. 32, § 11, 40 Stat. 240; Sept. 26, 1918, c. 177, § 5, 40 Stat. 970.)

ESTABLISHMENT BY NATIONAL BANKS OF FOREIGN BRANCHES AND INVESTMENTS IN BANKS DOING FOREIGN BUSINESS

Section 601. Authorization; conditions and regulations.—Any national banking association possessing a capital and surplus of $1,000,000 or more may file application with the Federal Reserve Board for permission to exercise, upon such conditions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by the said board, either or both of the following powers:

First. To establish branches in foreign countries or dependencies or insular possessions of the United States for the furtherance of the foreign commerce of the United States, and to act if required to do so as fiscal agents of the United States.

Second. To invest an amount not exceeding in the aggregate 10 per centum of its paid-in capital stock and surplus in the stock of one or more banks or corporations chartered or incorporated under the laws of the United States or of any State thereof, and principally engaged in international or foreign banking, or banking in a dependency or insular possession of the United States either directly or through the agency, ownership, or control of local institutions in foreign countries, or in such dependencies or insular possessions.

Until January 1, 1921, any national banking association, without regard to the amount of its capital and surplus, may file application with the Federal Reserve Board for permission, upon such conditions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by said board, to invest an amount not exceeding in the aggregate 5 per centum of its paid-in capital and surplus in the stock of one or more corporations chartered or incorporated under the laws of the United States or of any State thereof and, regardless of its location, principally engaged in such phases of international or foreign financial operations as may be necessary to facilitate the export of goods, wares, or merchandise from the United States or any of its dependencies or insular possessions to any foreign country: Provided, however, That in no event shall the total investments authorized by this section by any one national bank exceed 10 per centum of its capital and surplus.

Such application shall specify the name and capital of the banking association filing it, the powers applied for, and the place or places where the banking or financial operations proposed are to be carried on. The Federal Reserve Board shall have power to approve or to reject such application in whole or in part if for any reason the granting of such application is deemed inexpedient, and shall also have power from time to time to increase or decrease the number of places where such banking operations may be carried on. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 25, 38 Stat. 273; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 755; Sept. 17, 1919, c. 60, § 2, 41 Stat. 286.)

602. Reports and examinations.—Every national banking association operating foreign branches shall be required to furnish information concerning the condition of such branches to the Comptroller of the Currency upon demand, and every member bank as defined in section 221 of this title investing in the capital stock of banks or corporations described in the preceding section shall be required to furnish information concerning the condition of such banks or corporations to the Federal Reserve Board upon demand, and the Federal Reserve Board may order special examinations of the said branches, banks, or corporations at such time or times as it may deem best. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 25, 38 Stat. 273; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 755; Sept. 17, 1919, c. 60, § 4, 41 Stat. 286.)

603. Restrictions imposed by Reserve Board on banks purchasing stock in corporations doing foreign business.—Before any national bank shall be permitted to purchase stock in any corporation described in section 601 of this title, the said corporation shall enter into an agreement or undertaking with the Federal Reserve Board to restrict its operations or conduct its business in such manner or under such limitations and restrictions as the said board may prescribe for the place or places wherein such business is to be conducted. If at any time the Federal Reserve Board shall ascertain that the regulations prescribed by it are not being complied with, said board is hereby authorized and empowered to institute an investigation of the matter and to send for persons and papers, subpœna witnesses, and administer oaths in order to satisfy itself as to the actual nature of the transactions referred to. Should such investigation result in establishing the failure of the corporation in question, or of the national bank or banks which may be stockholders therein, to comply with the regulations laid down by the said Federal Reserve Board, such national banks may be required to dispose of stock holdings in the said corporation upon reasonable notice. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 25, 38 Stat. 273; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 755.)

604. Accounts of foreign branches; profit and loss.—Every national banking association operating foreign branches shall conduct the accounts of each foreign branch independently of the accounts of other foreign branches established by it and of its home office, and shall at the end of each fiscal period transfer to its general ledger the profit or loss accrued at each branch as a separate item. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 25, 38 Stat. 273; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 755.)

605. Interlocking directors, officers, and employees.—Any director or other officer, agent, or employee of any member bank may, with the approval of the Federal Reserve Board, be a director or other officer, agent, or employee of any bank or corporation in the capital stock of which such member bank shall have invested as hereinbefore provided without being subject to the provisions of section 19, title 15, Commerce and Trade. (Dec. 23, 1913, c. 6, § 25, 38 Stat. 273; Sept. 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 755.)

ORGANIZATION OF CORPORATIONS TO DO FOREIGN BANKING

611. Formation authorized; fiscal agents; depositaries in insular possessions.—Corporations to be organized for the purpose of engaging in international or foreign banking or other international or foreign financial operations, or in banking or other financial operations in a dependency or insular possession of the United States, either directly or through the agency, ownership or control of local institutions in foreign countries, or in such dependencies or insular possessions as provided by this section, and to act when required by the Secretary of the Treasury as fiscal agents of the United States, may be formed by any number of natural persons, not less in any case than five: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to deny the right of the Secretary of the Treasury to use any corporation organized under this section as depositaries in Panama and the Panama Canal Zone, or in the Philippine Islands and other insular possessions and dependencies of the United States. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378; Feb. 27, 1921, c. 73, 41 Stat. 1145.)

612. Articles of association; contents.—The persons described in the preceding section shall enter into articles of association which shall specify in general terms the objects for which the association is formed and may contain any other provisions not inconsistent with law which the association may see fit to adopt for the regulation of its business and the conduct of its affairs. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

613. Signing of articles of association; forwarding to and filing by Federal Reserve Board; organization certificate; contents.—Such articles of association shall be signed by all of the persons intending to participate in the organization of the corporation and, thereafter, shall be forwarded to the Federal Reserve Board and shall be filed and preserved in its office. The persons signing the said articles of association shall, under their hands, make an organization certificate which shall specifically state:

First. The name assumed by such corporation, which shall be subject to the approval of the Federal Reserve Board.

Second. The place or places where its operations are to be carried on.

Third. The place in the United States where its home office is to be located.

Fourth. The amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which the same shall be divided.

Fifth. The names and places of business or residence of the persons executing the certificate and the number of shares to which each has subscribed.

Sixth. The fact that the certificate is made to enable the persons subscribing the same, and all other persons, firms, companies, and corporations, who or which may thereafter subscribe to or purchase shares of the capital stock of such corporation, to avail themselves of the advantages of this section. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

614. Organization certificate; acknowledgment; forwarding to, filing, and approval by Federal Reserve Board; permit to do business; body corporate; name; seal; corporate succession; contracts; suits; directors, officers, and employees; by-laws.—The person signing the organization certificate shall duly acknowledge the execution thereof before a judge of some court of record or notary public, who shall certify thereto under the seal of such court or notary, and thereafter the certificate shall be forwarded to the Federal Reserve Board to be filed and preserved in its office. Upon duly making and filing articles of association and an organization certificate, and after the Federal Reserve Board has approved the same and issued a permit to begin business, the association shall become and be a body corporate, and as such and in the name designated therein shall have power to adopt and use a corporate seal, which may be changed at the pleasure of its board of directors; to have succession for a period of twenty years unless sooner dissolved by the act of the shareholders owning two-thirds of the stock or by an Act of Congress or unless its franchises become forfeited by some violation of law; to make contracts; to sue and be sued, complain, and defend in any court of law or equity; to elect or appoint directors, all of whom shall be citizens of the United States; and, by its board of directors, to appoint such officers and employees as may be deemed proper, define their authority and duties, require bonds of them, and fix the penalty thereof, dismiss such officers or employees, or any thereof, at pleasure and appoint others to fill their places; to prescribe, by its board of directors, by-laws not inconsistent with law or with the regulations of the Federal Reserve Board regulating the manner in which its stock shall be transferred, its directors elected or appointed, its officers and employees appointed, its property transferred, and the privileges granted to it by law exercised and enjoyed. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

615. Powers of corporation.—Each corporation organized as provided in the preceding sections shall have power, under such rules and regulations as the Federal Reserve Board may prescribe:

(a) Dealings in drafts, checks, bills of exchange, acceptances, and other evidences of indebtedness; purchase and sale of securities; letters of credit; purchase and sale of coin, bullion, and exchange; borrowing and loaning money; issue of debentures, bonds, and notes; deposits; limitation of liabilities; reserves.—To purchase, sell, discount, and negotiate, with or without its indorsement or guaranty, notes, drafts, checks, bills of exchange, acceptances, including bankers' acceptances, cable transfers, and other evidences of indebtedness; to purchase and sell, with or without its indorsement or guaranty, securities, including the obligations of the United States or of any State thereof but not including shares of stock in any corporation except as herein provided; to accept bills or drafts drawn upon it subject to such limitations and restrictions as the Federal Reserve Board may impose; to issue letters of credit; to purchase and sell coin, bullion, and exchange; to borrow and to lend money; to issue debentures, bonds, and promissory notes under such general conditions as to security and such limitations as the Federal Reserve Board may prescribe, but in no event having liabilities outstanding thereon at any one time exceeding ten times its capital stock and surplus; to receive deposits outside of the United States and to receive only such deposits within the United States as may be incidental to or for the purpose of carrying out transactions in foreign countries or dependencies or insular possessions of the United States; and generally to exercise such powers as are incidental to the power conferred by this chapter or as may be usual, in the determination of the Federal Reserve Board, in connection with the transaction of the business of banking or other financial operations in the countries, colonies, dependencies, or possessions in which it shall transact business and not inconsistent with the powers specifically granted herein. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit the Federal Reserve Board, under its power to prescribe rules and regulations, from limiting the aggregate amount of liabilities of any or all classes incurred by the corporation and outstanding at any one time. Whenever a corporation organized under this section receives deposits in the United States authorized by this section it shall carry reserves in such amounts as the Federal Reserve Board may prescribe, but in no event less than 10 per centum of its deposits.

(b) Branches or agencies.—To establish and maintain for the transaction of its business branches or agencies in foreign countries, their dependencies or colonies, and in the dependencies or insular possessions of the United States, at such places as may be approved by the Federal Reserve Board and under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, including countries or dependencies not specified in the original organization certificate.

(c) Purchase of stock in other corporations.—With the consent of the Federal Reserve Board to purchase and hold stock or other certificates of ownership in any other corporation organized under the provisions of this section, or under the laws of any foreign country or a colony or dependency thereof, or under the laws of any State, dependency, or insular possession of the United States but not engaged in the general business of buying or selling goods, wares, merchandise or commodities in the United States, and not transacting any business in the United States except such as in the judgment of the Federal Reserve Board may be incidental to its international or foreign business: Provided, however, That, except with the approval of the Federal Reserve Board, no corporation organized hereunder shall invest in any one corporation an amount in excess of 10 per centum of its own capital and surplus, except in a corporation engaged in the business of banking, when 15 per centum of its capital and surplus may be so invested: Provided further, That no corporation organized hereunder shall purchase, own, or hold stock or certificates of ownership in any other corporation organized hereunder or under the laws of any State which is in substantial competition therewith, or which holds stock or certificates of ownership in corporations which are in substantial competition with the purchasing corporation.

Nothing contained herein shall prevent corporations organized hereunder from purchasing and holding stock in any corporation where such purchase shall be necessary to prevent a loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith; and stock so purchased or acquired in corporations organized under this section shall within six months from such purchase be sold or disposed of at public or private sale unless the time to so dispose of same is extended by the Federal Reserve Board. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

616. Place of carrying on business; when business may be begun.—No corporation organized under this subdivision of chapter 6 shall carry on any part of its business in the United States except such as, in the judgment of the Federal Reserve Board, shall be incidental to its international or foreign business: And provided further, That except such as is incidental and preliminary to its organization no such corporation shall exercise any of the powers conferred by this section until it has been duly authorized by the Federal Reserve Board to commence business as a corporation organized under the provisions of this section. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

617. Engaging in commerce or trade in commodities; price fixing; forfeiture of charter; acts forbidden to directors, officers, agents, or employees.—No corporation organized under this subdivision of chapter 6 shall engage in commerce or trade in commodities except as specifically provided in this section, nor shall it either directly or indirectly control or fix or attempt to control or fix the price of any such commodities. The charter of any corporation violating this provision shall be subject to forfeiture in the manner hereinafter provided in this section. It shall be unlawful for any director, officer, agent, or employee of any such corporation to use or to conspire to use the credit, the funds, or the power of the corporation to fix or control the price of any such commodities, and any such person violating this provision shall be liable to a fine of not less than $1,000 and not exceeding $5,000 or imprisonment not less than one year and not exceeding five years, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

618. Capital stock; amount; when paid in; outstanding liabilities.—No corporation shall be organized under the provisions of this subdivision of chapter 6 with a capital stock of less than $2,000,000, one-quarter of which must be paid in before the corporation may be authorized to begin business, and the remainder of the capital stock of such corporation shall be paid in installments of at least 10 per centum on the whole amount to which the corporation shall be limited as frequently as one installment at the end of each succeeding two months from the time of the commencement of its business operations until the whole of the capital stock shall be paid in: Provided, however, That whenever $2,000,000 of the capital stock of any corporation is paid in the remainder of the corporation's capital stock or any unpaid part of such remainder may, with the consent of the Federal Reserve Board and subject to such regulations and conditions as it may prescribe, be paid in upon call from the board of directors; such unpaid subscriptions, however, to be included in the maximum of 10 per centum of the national bank's capital and surplus which a national bank is permitted under the provisions of this subdivision of chapter 6 to hold in stock of corporations engaged in business of the kind described in this chapter: Provided further, That no such corporation shall have liabilities outstanding at any one time upon its debentures, bonds, and promissory notes in excess of ten times its paid-in capital and surplus.

The capital stock of any such corporation may be increased at any time, with the approval of the Federal Reserve Board, by a vote of two-thirds of its shareholders or by unanimous consent in writing of the shareholders without a meeting and without a formal vote, but any such increase of capital shall be fully paid in within ninety days after such approval: and may be reduced in like manner, provided that in no event shall it be less than $2,000,000. No corporation, except as herein provided, shall during the time it shall continue its operations, withdraw or permit to be withdrawn, either in the form of dividends or otherwise, any portion of its capital. Any national banking association may invest in the stock of any corporation organized under the provisions of this subdivision of chapter 6, but the aggregate amount of stock held in all corporations engaged in business of the kind described in this chapter shall not exceed 10 per centum of the subscribing bank's capital and surplus. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378; June 14, 1921, c. 22, 42 Stat. 28.)

619. Capital stock; by whom held; holding office in or being employed by other corporation.—A majority of the shares of the capital stock of any such corporation shall at all times be held and owned by citizens of the United States, by corporations the controlling interest in which is owned by citizens of the United States, chartered under the laws of the United States or of a State of the United States, or by firms or companies, the controlling interest in which is owned by citizens of the United States. The provisions of section 19, title 15, Commerce and Trade, shall be construed to apply to the directors, other officers, agents, or employees of corporations organized under the provisions of this subdivision: Provided, however, That nothing herein contained shall (1) prohibit any director or other officer, agent, or employee of any member bank, who has procured the approval of the Federal Reserve Board from serving at the same time as a director or other officer, agent, or employee of any corporation organized under the provisions of this section whose capital stock such member bank shall have invested; or (2) prohibit any director or other officer, agent, or employee of any corporation organized under the provisions of this subdivision, who has procured the approval of the Federal Reserve Board, from serving at the same time as a director or other officer, agent or employee of any other corporation in whose capital stock such first-mentioned corporation shall have invested under the provisions of this section. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18; 41 Stat. 378.)

620. Members of Federal Reserve Board without interest in corporation.—No member of the Federal Reserve Board shall be an officer or director of any corporation organized under the provisions of this subdivision, or of any corporation engaged in similar business organized under the laws of any State, nor hold stock in any such corporation, and before entering upon his duties as a member of the Federal Reserve Board he shall certify under oath to the Secretary of the Treasury that he has complied with this requirement. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

621. Liability of shareholders on unpaid subscriptions; membership of corporation in Federal reserve bank prohibited.—Shareholders in any corporation organized under the provisions of this subdivision shall be liable for the amount of their unpaid stock subscriptions. No such corporation shall become a member of any Federal reserve bank. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

622. Forfeiture of rights and privileges; dissolution; liability of directors and officers.—Should any corporation organized under this subdivision violate or fail to comply with any of its provisions, all of its rights, privileges, and franchises derived herefrom may thereby be forfeited. Before any such corporation shall be declared dissolved, or its rights, privileges, and franchises forfeited, any noncompliance with or violation of such laws shall, however, be determined and adjudged by a court of the United States of competent jurisdiction, in a suit brought for that purpose in the district or Territory in which the home office of such corporation is located, which suit shall be brought by the United States at the instance of the Federal Reserve Board or the Attorney General. Upon adjudication of such noncompliance or violation, each director and officer who participated in, or assented to, the illegal act or acts shall be liable in his personal or individual capacity for all damages which the said corporation shall have sustained in consequence thereof. No dissolution shall take away or impair any remedy against the corporation, its stockholders, or officers for any liability or penalty previously incurred. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

623. Voluntary liquidation.—Any corporation organized under this subdivision of chapter 6 may go into voluntary liquidation and be closed by a vote of its shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

624. Receivers.—Whenever the Federal Reserve Board shall become satisfied of the insolvency of any corporation organized under this subdivision of chapter 6, it may appoint a receiver who shall take possession of all of the property and assets of the corporation and exercise the same rights, privileges, powers, and authority with respect thereto as are now exercised by receivers of national banks appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States: Provided, however, That the assets of the corporation subject to the laws of other countries or jurisdiction shall be dealt with in accordance with the terms of such laws. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

625. Stockholders' meetings; books and records; reports; examination.—Every corporation organized under the provisions of this subdivision shall hold a meeting of its stockholders annually upon a date fixed in its by-laws, such meeting to be held at its home office in the United States. Every such corporation shall keep at its home office books containing the names of all stockholders thereof, and the names and addresses of the members of its board of directors, together with copies of all reports made by it to the Federal Reserve Board. Every such corporation shall make reports to the Federal Reserve Board at such times and in such form as it may require; and shall be subject to examination once a year and at such other times as may be deemed necessary by the Federal Reserve Board by examiners appointed by the Federal Reserve Board, the cost of such examinations, including the compensation of the examiners, to be fixed by the Federal Reserve Board and to be paid by the corporation examined. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

626. Dividends; surplus fund.—The directors of any corporation organized under the provisions of this subdivision of chapter 6 may, semiannually, declare a dividend of so much of the net profits of the corporation as they shall judge expedient; but each corporation shall, before the declaration of a dividend, carry one-tenth of its net profits of the preceding half year to its surplus fund until the same shall amount to

20 per centum of its capital stock. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

627. State taxation.—Any corporation organized under the provisions of this subdivision of chapter 6 shall be subject to tax by the State within which its home office is located in the same manner and to the same extent as other corporations organized under the laws of that State which are transacting a similar character of business. The shares of stock in such corporation shall also be subject to tax as the personal property of the owners or holders thereof in the same manner and to the same extent as the shares of stock in similar State corporations. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

628. Extension of corporate existence.—Any corporation organized under the provisions of this subdivision of chapter 6 may at any time within the two years next previous to the date of the expiration of its corporate existence, by a vote of the shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock, apply to the Federal Reserve Board for its approval to extend the period of its corporate existence for a term of not more than twenty years, and upon certified approval of the Federal Reserve Board such corporation shall have its corporate existence for such extended period unless sooner dissolved by the act of the shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock, or by an Act of Congress or unless its franchise becomes forfeited by some violation of law. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

629. Conversion of banking corporations into corporations authorized by this subdivision; procedure.—Any bank or banking institution, principally engaged in foreign business, incorporated by special law of any State or of the United States or organized under the general laws of any State or of the United States and having an unimpaired capital sufficient to entitle it to become a corporation under the provisions of this subdivision may, by the vote of the shareholders owning not less than two-thirds of the capital stock of such bank or banking association, with the approval of the Federal Reserve Board, be converted into a Federal corporation of the kind authorized by this subdivision with any name approved by the Federal Reserve Board: Provided, however, That said conversion shall not be in contravention of the State law. In such case the articles of association and organization certificate may be executed by a majority of the directors of the bank or banking institution, and the certificate shall declare that the owners of at least two-thirds of the capital stock have authorized the directors to make such certificate and to change or convert the bank or banking institution into a Federal corporation. A majority of the directors, after executing the articles of association and the organization certificate, shall have power to execute all other papers and to do whatever may be required to make its organization perfect and complete as a Federal corporation. The shares of any such corporation may continue to be for the same amount each as they were before the conversion, and the directors may continue to be directors of the corporation until others are elected or appointed in accordance with the provisions of this section. When the Federal Reserve Board has given to such corporation a certificate that the provisions of this subdivision of chapter 6 have been complied with, such corporation and all its stockholders, officers, and employees, shall have the same powers and privileges, and shall be subject to the same duties, liabilities, and regulations, in all respects, as shall have been prescribed by this subdivision of chapter 6 for corporations originally organized hereunder. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

630. Offenses by officers of corporation; punishment.—Every officer, director, clerk, employee, or agent of any corporation organized under this subdivision of chapter 6 who embezzles, abstracts, or willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, credits, securities, evidences of indebtedness or assets of any character of such corporation; or who, without authority from the directors, issues or puts forth any certificate of deposit, draws any order or bill of exchange, makes any acceptance, assigns any note, bond, debenture, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or decree; or who makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of such corporation with intent, in either case, to injure or defraud such corporation or any other company, body politic or corporate, or any individual person, or to deceive any officer or such corporation, the Federal Reserve Board, or any agent or examiner appointed to examine the affairs of any such corporation; and every receiver of any such corporation and every clerk or employee of such receiver who shall embezzle, abstract, or willfully misapply or wrongfully convert to his own use any moneys, funds, credits, or assets of any character which may come into his possession or under his control in the execution of his trust or the performance of the duties of his employment; and every such receiver or clerk or employee of such receiver who shall, with intent to injure or defraud any person, body politic or corporate, or to deceive or mislead the Federal Reserve Board, or any agent or examiner appointed to examine the affairs of such receiver, shall make any false entry in any book, report, or record of any matter connected with the duties of such receiver; and every person who with like intent aids or abets any officer, director, clerk, employee, or agent of any corporation organized under this subdivision of chapter 6, or receiver or clerk or employee of such receiver as aforesaid in any violation of this section, shall upon conviction thereof be imprisoned for not less than two years nor more than ten years, and may also be fined not more than $5,000, in the discretion of the court. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

631. False representations as to liability of United States for acts of corporation; punishment.—Whoever being connected in any capacity with any corporation organized under this subdivision of chapter 6 represents in any way that the United States is liable for the payment of any bond or other obligation, or the interest thereon, issued or incurred by any corporation organized hereunder, or that the United States incurs any liability in respect of any act or omission of the corporation, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000 and by imprisonment for not more than five years. (Dec. 24, 1919, c. 18, 41 Stat. 378.)

INTRODUCTORY

Section 641. "Federal Farm Loan Act"; administration by Federal Farm Loan Board.—The Act of July 17, 1916 (chapter 245, section 1, Thirty-ninth Statutes, page 360), as amended by Act of March 4, 1923 (chapter 252, section 1), to include Federal intermediate credit banks may be cited as the "Federal Farm Loan Act." Its administration shall be under the direction and control of the Federal Farm Loan Board hereinafter created. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 1, 39 Stat. 360; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 1, 42 Stat. 1454.)

642. "First mortgage" and "farm loan bonds" defined.—Wherever the term "first mortgage" is used in this chapter it shall be held to include such classes of first liens on farm lands as shall be approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board, and the credit instruments secured thereby. The term "farm loan bonds" shall be held to include all bonds secured by collateral deposited with a farm loan registrar under the terms of this chapter; they shall be distinguished by the addition of the words "Federal," or "joint stock," as the case may be. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 2, 39 Stat. 360.)

FEDERAL FARM LOAN BOARD

651. Federal Farm Loan Bureau; creation; supervision by board.—There shall be established at the seat of government in the Department of the Treasury a bureau charged with the execution of this chapter, and of all acts amendatory, to be known as the Federal Farm Loan Bureau, under the general supervision of a Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 360.)

652. Composition of board; number of members; appointment; salaries; expenses.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall consist of seven members, including the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall be a member and chairman ex officio, and six members to be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Of the six members to be appointed by the President, not more than three shall be appointed from one political party, and all six of said members shall be citizens of the United States and shall devote their entire time to the business of the Federal Farm Loan Board; they shall receive an annual salary of $10,000 payable monthly, together with actual necessary traveling expenses. One of the additional members of the Federal Farm Loan Board, hereby provided for, shall be appointed for a term expiring August 6, 1929, and one for a term expiring August 6, 1931, and thereafter the terms of all members of the Federal Farm Loan Board shall be as in the following section otherwise provided for. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 360; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 301, 42 Stat. 1473.)

653. Terms of office; oath; farm loan commissioner.—One of the members of the Federal Farm Loan Board to be appointed by the President shall be designated by him to serve for two years, one for four years, one for six years, and one for eight years, and thereafter each member so appointed shall serve for a term of eight years, unless sooner removed for cause by the President. One of the members shall be designated by the President as the farm loan commissioner, who shall be the active executive officer of said board. Each member of the Federal Farm Loan Board shall within fifteen days after notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the oath of office. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 360.)

654. Eligibility of members; restriction on right to engage in other business.—No member of the Federal Farm Loan Board shall, during his continuance in office, be an officer or director of any other institution, association, or partnership engaged in banking, or in the business of making land mortgage loans or selling land mortgages. Before entering upon his duties as a member of the Federal Farm Loan Board each member shall certify under oath to the President that he is eligible under this section. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 360.)

655. Filling vacancies on board.—The President shall have the power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to fill any vacancy occurring in the membership of the Federal Farm Loan Board; if such vacancy shall be filled during the recess of the Senate a commission shall be granted which shall expire at the end of the next session. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 360.)

656. Registrars, appraisers, and examiners; appointment; restriction on right to engage in other business.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall appoint a farm loan registrar in each land bank district to receive applications for issues of farm loan bonds and to perform such other services as are prescribed by this chapter, and may appoint a deputy registrar who shall during the unavoidable absence or disability of the registrar perform the duties of that office. It shall also appoint one or more land bank appraisers for each land bank district and as many land bank examiners as it shall deem necessary. Farm loan registrars, deputy registrars, land bank appraisers, and land bank examiners appointed under this section shall be public officials and shall, during their continuance in office, have no connection with or interest in any other institution, association, or partnership engaged in banking or in the business of making land mortgage loans or selling land mortgages: Provided, That this limitation shall not apply to persons employed by the board temporarily to do special work. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361; Apr. 20, 1920, c. 154, § 1, 41 Stat. 570.)

657. Salaries and expenses; provision for payment.—The salaries and expenses of the Federal Farm Loan Board, its officers and employees, farm loan registrars, deputy registrars, examiners, and reviewing appraisers authorized under this chapter, or any subsequent amendments thereof, shall be paid by the Federal land banks, joint-stock land banks, and the Federal intermediate credit banks, as follows:

The Federal Farm Loan Board shall, prior to the 1st days of January and July of each year, estimate the expenses and salaries of the Federal Farm Loan Board, its officers and employees, farm loan registrars and deputy registrars, examiners, and reviewing appraisers, and apportion the same among the Federal land banks, joint-stock land banks, and the Federal intermediate credit banks on such equitable basis as the Federal Farm Loan Board shall determine, giving due consideration to time and expense necessarily incident to the supervision of the operation of each type of bank, and make an assessment upon each of such banks pursuant to such apportionment, payable on the 1st days of January and July next ensuing. The funds collected pursuant to such assessments shall be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States under the miscellaneous receipts title "Assessments on Federal and joint-stock land banks and Federal intermediate credit banks, salaries and expenses Federal Farm Loan Board," to be disbursed in payment of such salaries and expenses on appropriations duly made by Congress: Provided, That the present legal status as to assessments against Federal intermediate credit banks shall continue until June 30, 1926, without appropriations by Congress.

If any deficiency shall occur in such fund during the half-year period for which it was estimated, the Federal Farm Loan Board shall have authority to make immediate assessment covering such deficiency against the Federal land banks, joint-stock land banks, and Federal intermediate credit banks upon the same basis as the original assessment. If at the end of the six months' period there shall remain a surplus in such fund, it shall be deducted from the estimated expenses of the next six months' period when assessment is made for such period. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 302, 42 Stat. 1473; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 3, 43 Stat. 1262.)

658. Appraisers and inspectors; compensation; manner of payment.—Federal land bank appraisers, and appraisers or inspectors of Federal intermediate credit banks, shall receive such compensation as the Federal Farm Loan Board shall fix and shall be paid by the Federal land banks, joint-stock land banks, and the Federal intermediate credit banks they serve, in such proportion and in such manner as the Federal Farm Loan Board shall order. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 302, 42 Stat. 1473; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 3, 43 Stat. 1262.)

659. Attorneys, experts, and other employees; employment; salaries and fees.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall be authorized and empowered to employ such attorneys, experts, assistants, clerks, laborers, and other employees as it may deem necessary to conduct the business of said board. All salaries and fees authorized in sections 652, 653, and 655 to 659 of this title and not otherwise provided for shall be fixed in advance by said board and shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of the Federal Farm Loan Board. All such attorneys, experts, assistants, clerks, laborers, and other employees, and all registrars, examiners, and appraisers shall be appointed without regard to the provisions of sections 632, 635, 637, 638, and 640 to 642 of Title 5, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES, or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof and may be classified without regard to chapter 13 of Title 5, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES: Provided, That nothing herein shall prevent the President from placing said employees in the classified service. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 4, 43 Stat. 1268.)

660. Statements of salaries paid by land banks.—Every Federal land bank shall semiannually submit to the Federal Farm Loan Board a schedule showing the salaries or rates of compensation paid to its officers and employees. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361.)

661. Annual report.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall annually make a full report of its operations to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall cause the same to be printed for the information of the Congress. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361.)

662. Examinations and reports; appraisals of farm land; amortization tables.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall from time to time require examinations and reports of condition of all land banks established under the provisions of this chapter and shall publish consolidated statements of the results thereof. It shall cause to be made appraisals of farm lands as provided by this chapter, and shall prepare and publish amortization tables which shall be used by national farm loan associations and land banks organized under this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361.)

663. Statements of condition of loan associations and land banks.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall prescribe a form for the statement of condition of national farm loan associations and land banks under its supervision, which shall be filled out quarterly by each such association or bank and transmitted to said board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361.)

664. Bulletins and circulars.—It shall be the duty of the Federal Farm Loan Board to prepare from time to time bulletins setting forth the principal features of this chapter and through the Department of Agriculture or otherwise to distribute the same, particularly to the press, to agricultural journals, and to farmers' organizations; to prepare and distribute in the same manner circulars setting forth the principles and advantages of amortized farm loans and the protection afforded debtors under this chapter, instructing farmers how to organize and conduct farm loan associations, and advising investors of the merits and advantages of farm loan bonds; and to disseminate in its discretion information for the further instruction of farmers regarding the methods and principles of cooperative credit and organization. Said board is hereby authorized to use a reasonable portion of the organization fund provided in section 1001 of this chapter for the object specified in this paragraph, and is instructed to lay before the Congress at each session its recommendations for further appropriations to carry out said objects. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 3, 39 Stat. 361.)

ORGANIZATION OF FEDERAL LAND BANKS

671. Federal land bank districts; boundaries.—As soon as practicable the Federal Farm Loan Board shall divide the continental United States, excluding Alaska, into twelve districts, which shall be known as Federal land bank districts, and may be designated by number. Said districts shall be apportioned with due regard to the farm loan needs of the country, but no such district shall contain a fractional part of any State. The boundaries thereof may be readjusted from time to time in the discretion of said board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 362.)

672. Establishment; titles; branches; Porto Rico and Alaska; loans by branches.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall establish in each Federal land bank district a Federal land bank, with its principal office located in such city within the district as said board shall designate. Each Federal land bank shall include in its title the name of the city in which it is located. Subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, any Federal land bank may establish branches within the land bank district. Subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board and under such conditions as it may prescribe, the provisions of this chapter are extended to the island of Porto Rico and the Territory of Alaska; and the Federal Farm Loan Board shall designate a Federal land bank which is hereby authorized to establish a branch bank in Porto Rico, and a Federal land bank which is hereby authorized to establish a branch bank in the Territory of Alaska. Loans made by each such branch bank shall not exceed the sum of $10,000 to any one borrower and shall be subject to the restrictions and provisions of this chapter, except that each such branch bank may loan direct to borrowers, and subject to such regulations as the Federal Farm Loan Board may prescribe, the rate charged borrowers may be 1½ per centum in excess of the rate borne by the last preceding issue of farm loan bonds of the Federal land bank with which such branch bank is connected: Provided, That no loan shall be made in Porto Rico or Alaska by such branch bank for a longer term than 20 years. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 362; Feb. 27, 1921, c. 78, 41 Stat. 1148; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 303, 42 Stat. 1474.)

673. Temporary directors; bonds; officers; attorneys and employees.—Each Federal land bank shall be temporarily managed by five directors appointed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. Said directors shall be citizens of the United States and residents of the district. They shall each give a surety bond, the premium on which shall be paid from the funds of the bank. They shall receive such compensation as the Federal Farm Loan Board shall fix. They shall choose from their number, by majority vote, a president, a vice president, a secretary and a treasurer. They are further authorized and empowered to employ such attorneys, experts, assistants, clerks, laborers, and other employees as they may deem necessary, and to fix their compensation, subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 362.)

674. Organization certificates; contents.—Said temporary directors shall, under their hands, forthwith make an organization certificate, which shall specifically state:

First. The name assumed by such bank.

Second. The district within which its operations are to be carried on, and the particular city in which its principal office is to be located.

Third. The amount of capital stock and the number of shares into which the same is to be divided: Provided, That every Federal land bank organized under this chapter shall by its articles of association permit an increase of its capital stock from time to time for the purpose of providing for the issue of shares to national farm loan associations and stockholders who may secure loans through agents of Federal land banks in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

Fourth. The fact that the certificate is made to enable such persons to avail themselves of the advantages of this chapter. The organization certificate shall be acknowledged before a judge or clerk of some court of record or notary public, and shall be, together with the acknowledgment thereof, authenticated by the seal of such court or notary, transmitted to the farm loan commissioner, who shall record and carefully preserve the same in his office, where it shall be at all times open to public inspection. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 362.)

675. Changes in organization certificate.—The Federal Farm Loan Board is authorized to direct such changes in or additions to any such organization certificate, not inconsistent with this chapter, as it may deem necessary or expedient. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363.)

676. Time of commencement of corporate existence of land banks; powers enumerated.—Upon duly making and filing such organization certificate the bank shall become, as from the date of the execution of its organization certificate, a body corporate, and as such, and in the name designated in the organization certificate, it shall have power—

First. To adopt and use a corporate seal.

Second. To have succession until it is dissolved by Act of Congress or under the provisions of this chapter.

Third. To make contracts.

Fourth. To sue and be sued, complain, interplead, and defend, in any court of law or equity, as fully as natural persons.

Fifth. To elect or appoint directors, and by its board of directors to elect a president and a vice president, appoint a secretary and a treasurer and other officers and employees, define their duties, require bonds of them, and fix the penalty thereof; by action of its board of directors dismiss such officers and employees, or any of them, at pleasure, and appoint others to fill their places.

Sixth. To prescribe, by its board of directors, subject to the supervision and regulation of the Federal Farm Loan Board, by-laws not inconsistent with law, regulating the manner in which its stock shall be transferred, its directors elected, its officers elected or appointed, its property transferred, its general business conducted, and the privileges granted to it by law exercised and enjoyed.

Seventh. To exercise, by its board of directors or duly authorized officers or agents, subject to law, all such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business herein described. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363.)

677. Time of election of directors.—After the subscriptions to stock in any Federal land bank by national farm loan associations, hereinafter authorized, shall have reached the sum of $100,000, the officers and directors of said land bank shall be chosen as herein provided and shall, upon becoming duly qualified, take over the management of said land bank from the temporary officers selected under this section. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363.)

678. Directors; number and qualifications; local and district directors; election and appointment.—The board of directors of every Federal land bank shall be selected as hereinafter specified and shall consist of seven members. Three of said directors shall be known as local directors and shall be chosen by and be representative of national farm loan associations, and borrowers through agencies; three shall be known as district directors and shall be appointed by the Federal Farm Loan Board and represent the public interest. The term of office of local and district directors shall be three years. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 304, 42 Stat. 1474.)

679. Divisions of districts; local directors; nomination of candidates.—At least two months before each election, the Federal Farm Loan Board shall divide each land bank district into three divisions, as nearly equal as possible, according to number of borrowers and the voting strength of national farm loan associations and borrowers through agencies, and the farm loan commissioner shall thereupon notify each association and agency in writing that an election is to be held for one local director from each of said divisions and requesting each association and agency to nominate one candidate for each division. Within ten days of receipt of such notice each national farm loan association and borrower through agencies shall forward nominations of residents of their respective divisions for one director for such division to said farm loan commissioner. The farm loan commissioner shall then prepare a list of candidates for local directors, consisting of the ten persons receiving the highest number of votes from national farm loan associations and borrowers through agencies for each division. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 304, 42 Stat. 1474.)

680. Local directors; election.—At least one month before said election the farm loan commissioner shall mail to each national farm loan association and to each borrower through agencies the list of candidates for their respective divisions. The directors of each national farm loan association shall cast the vote of said association for one of the candidates on said list and shall forward said vote to the said farm loan commissioner within ten days after said list of candidates is received. In voting under this section each association shall be entitled to cast a number of votes equal to the total voting strength of the stockholders in association meetings, and each borrower through agencies shall be entitled to cast one vote for each share of stock held by him in the Federal land bank not exceeding twenty shares, and shall forward said vote to the said farm loan commissioner within ten days after said list of candidates is received. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes in his division shall be declared elected as local director of the Federal land bank district from his division. In case of a tie, the farm loan commissioner shall determine the choice. The nominations from which the list of candidates is prepared, and the votes of the respective associations and borrowers through agencies for such candidates, as counted, shall be tabulated and preserved, subject to examination by any candidate, for at least one year after the result of the election is announced. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 304, 42 Stat. 1475.)

681. District directors; director at large; appointment and election; vacancies.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall designate one of the district directors to serve until December 31, 1924, one to serve till December 31, 1925, and one to serve till December 31, 1926. After their first appointment each district director shall be appointed for a term of three years. At the first regular meeting of the board of directors of each Federal land bank the local directors shall designate one of their members to serve till December 31, 1924, one to serve till December 31, 1925, and one to serve till December 31, 1926. Thereafter each local director shall be chosen as hereinbefore provided and shall hold office for a term of three years. Any vacancies that may occur in the board of directors shall be filled for the unexpired term in the manner provided herein for the original selection of such directors. At the same time that the associations and borrowers through agencies nominate the candidates for the local directors, each association and each borrower through agencies shall also nominate one candidate for director at large for the entire district, and from the three persons having the greatest number of votes for nominee for director at large, the Federal Farm Loan Board shall select a director at large, whose term of office shall terminate on the 31st day of December, 1925, and every three years thereafter. Such seventh director may be removed by the Federal Farm Loan Board for neglect of duty, incapacity for the work, or malfeasance in office, after charges duly preferred and a hearing had thereon, and in such cases the associations of the district shall in like manner nominate candidates for another director at large, to fill the vacancy, for whom the Federal Farm Loan Board shall in same manner select a successor, but any person who is removed can not be nominated to succeed himself. The board of directors thus selected shall, upon qualification, immediately take over the management of each bank. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 304, 42 Stat. 1475.)

682. Qualifications of directors.—Directors of Federal land banks shall have been, for at least two years, residents of the district for which they are appointed or elected, and a local director shall be a resident of his division when elected. No district director of a Federal land bank shall, during his continuance in office, act as an officer, director, or employee of any other institution, association, or partnership engaged in banking or in the business of making or selling land-mortgage loans. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 304, 42 Stat. 1476.)

683. Directors, officers, and employees; compensation and allowances.—Directors of the Federal land bank shall receive, in addition to any compensation otherwise provided, a reasonable allowance for necessary expenses in attending meetings of their boards, to be paid by the respective Federal land banks. Any compensation that may be provided by boards of directors of the Federal land banks for directors, officers, or employees shall be subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 4, 39 Stat. 363; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 304, 42 Stat. 1476.)

CAPITAL STOCK OF FEDERAL LAND BANKS

691. Minimum amount of capital; regulation of subscriptions.—Every Federal land bank shall have, before beginning business, a subscribed capital of not less than $750,000. The Federal Farm Loan Board is authorized to prescribe the times and conditions of the payment of subscriptions to capital stock, to reject any subscription in its discretion, and to require subscribers to furnish adequate security for the payment thereof. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 5, 39 Stat. 364.)

692. Shares; value; who may subscribe.—The capital stock of each Federal land bank shall be divided into shares of $5 each, and may be subscribed for and held by any individual, firm, or corporation, or by the government of any State or of the United States. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 5, 39 Stat. 364.)

693. Transfer of stock held by national farm loan associations.—Stock held by national farm loan associations shall not be transferred or hypothecated, and the certificates therefor shall so state. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 5, 39 Stat. 364.)

694. Dividends; voting stock.—Stock owned by the Government of the United States in Federal land banks shall receive no dividends, but all other stock shall share in dividend distributions without preference. Each national farm loan association and the Government of the United States shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by it in deciding all questions at meetings of shareholders, and no other shareholder shall be permitted to vote. Stock owned by the United States shall be voted by the farm loan commissioner, as directed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 5, 39 Stat. 364.)

695. Subscriptions to stock; subscriptions by United States for unsubscribed balance.—It shall be the duty of the Federal Farm Loan Board, as soon as practicable after July 17, 1916, to open books of subscription for the capital stock of a Federal land bank in each Federal land bank district. If within thirty days after the opening of said books any part of the minimum capitalization of $750,000 herein prescribed for Federal land banks shall remain unsubscribed, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to subscribe the balance thereof on behalf of the United States, said subscription to be subject to call in whole or in part by the board of directors of said land bank upon thirty days' notice with the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board; and the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to take out shares corresponding to the unsubscribed balance as called, and to pay for the same out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. Thereafter no stock shall be issued except as hereinafter provided. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 5, 39 Stat. 364.)

696. Retirement of original stock.—After the subscriptions to capital stock by national farm loan associations shall amount to $750,000 in any Federal land bank, said bank shall apply semiannually to the payment and retirement of the shares of stock which were issued to represent the subscriptions to the original capital 25 per centum of all sums thereafter subscribed to capital stock until all such original capital stock is retired at par. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 5, 39 Stat. 364.)

697. Proportion held in quick assets.—At least 25 per centum of that part of the capital of any Federal land bank for which stock is outstanding in the name of national farm loan associations shall be held in quick assets, and may consist of cash in the vaults of said land bank, or in deposits in member banks of the Federal reserve system, or in readily marketable securities which are approved under rules and regulations of the Federal Farm Loan Board: Provided, That not less than 5 per centum of such capital shall be invested in United States Government bonds. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 5, 39 Stat. 364.)

LAND BANKS AS GOVERNMENT DEPOSITARIES AND AGENTS

701. Land banks and joint stock land banks as depositaries and agents; bonds; investment of funds.—All Federal land banks and joint stock land banks organized under this chapter, when designated for that purpose by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be depositaries of public money, except receipts from customs, under such regulations as may be prescribed by said Secretary; and they may also be employed as financial agents of the Government; and they shall perform all such reasonable duties, as depositaries of public money and financial agents of the Government, as may be required of them. And the Secretary of the Treasury shall require of the Federal land banks and joint stock land banks thus designated satisfactory security, by the deposit of United States bonds or otherwise, for the safekeeping and prompt payment of the public money deposited with them, and for the faithful performance of their duties as financial agents of the Government. No Government funds deposited under the provisions of this section shall be invested in mortgage loans or farm loan bonds. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 6, 39 Stat. 365.)

NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS GENERALLY

711. Organization; articles of association; signature; copies for land banks.—Corporations, to be known as national farm loan associations, may be organized by persons desiring to borrow money on farm mortgage security under the terms of this chapter. Such persons shall enter into articles of association which shall specify in general terms the object for which the association is formed and the territory within which its operations are to be carried on, and which may contain any other provision, not inconsistent with law, which the association may see fit to adopt for the regulation of its business and the conduct of its affairs. Said articles shall be signed by the persons uniting to form the association, and a copy thereof shall be forwarded to the Federal land bank for the district, to be filed and preserved in its office. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

712. Directors; officers; loan committee.—Every national farm loan association shall elect, in the manner prescribed for the election of directors of national banking associations, a board of not less than five directors, who shall hold office for the same period as directors of national banking associations. It shall be the duty of said board of directors to choose in such manner as they may prefer a secretary-treasurer, who shall receive such compensation as said board of directors shall determine. The board of directors shall elect a president, a vice president, and a loan committee of three members. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

713. Compensation and qualifications of directors.—The directors and all officers except the secretary-treasurer shall serve without compensation, unless the payment of salaries to them shall be approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board. All officers and directors except the secretary-treasurer shall, during their term of office, be bona fide residents of the territory within which the association is authorized to do business, and shall be shareholders of the association. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

714. Secretary-treasurer; powers and duties; bond; reports; misconduct in office.—It shall be the duty of the secretary-treasurer of every national farm loan association to act as custodian of its funds and to deposit the same in such bank as the board of directors may designate, to pay over to borrowers all sums received for their account from the Federal land bank upon first mortgage as in this chapter prescribed, and to meet all other obligations of the association, subject to the orders of the board of directors and in accordance with the by-laws of the association. It shall be the duty of the secretary-treasurer, acting under the direction of the national farm loan association, to collect, receipt for, and transmit to the Federal land bank payments of interest, amortization installments, or principal arising out of loans made through the association. He shall be the custodian of the securities, records, papers, certificates of stock, and all documents relating to or bearing upon the conduct of the affairs of the association. He shall furnish a suitable surety bond to be prescribed and approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board for the proper performance of the duties imposed upon him under this chapter, which shall cover prompt collection and transmission of funds. He shall make a quarterly report to the Federal Farm Loan Board upon forms to be provided for that purpose. Upon request from said board said secretary-treasurer shall furnish information regarding the condition of the national farm loan association for which he is acting, and he shall carry out all duly authorized orders of said board. He shall assure himself from time to time that the loans made through the national farm loan association of which he is an officer are applied to the purposes set forth in the application of the borrower as approved, and shall forthwith report to the land bank of the district any failure of any borrower to comply with the terms of his application or mortgage. He shall also ascertain and report to said bank the amount of any delinquent taxes on land mortgaged to said bank and the name of the delinquent. No such secretary-treasurer shall engage in the making of land mortgage loans eligible at a Federal land bank through or for any other land mortgage company or agency, and the making of any such loan by any secretary-treasurer shall forthwith work a forfeiture of his office. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 305, 42 Stat. 1476.)

715. Expenses of secretary-treasurer; payment.—The reasonable expenses of the secretary-treasurer, the loan committee, and other officers and agents of national farm loan associations, and the salary of the secretary-treasurer, shall be paid from the general funds of the association, and the board of directors is authorized to set aside such sums as it shall deem requisite for that purpose and for other expenses of said association. When no such funds are available, the board of directors may levy an assessment on members in proportion to the amount of stock held by each, which may be repaid as soon as funds are available, or it may secure an advance from the Federal land bank of the district, to be repaid with interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum, from dividends belonging to said association. Said Federal land bank is hereby authorized to make such advance and to deduct such repayment. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

716. Number of incorporators; organization; directors; consolidation of offices of secretary and treasurer.—Ten or more natural persons who are the owners, or about to become the owners, of farm land qualified as security for a mortgage loan under section 771 of this chapter, may unite to form a national farm loan association. They shall organize subject to the requirements and the conditions specified in this subdivision and in sections 671–683 of this chapter, so far as the same may be applicable: Provided, That the board of directors may consist of five members only, and instead of a secretary and a treasurer there shall be a secretary-treasurer, who need not be a shareholder of the association. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

717. Report and affidavit accompanying articles of association.—When the articles of association are forwarded to the Federal land bank of the district as provided in this subdivision, they shall be accompanied by the written report of the loan committee as required in section 751 of this chapter, and by an affidavit stating that each of the subscribers is the owner, or is about to become the owner, of farm land qualified under section 771 of this chapter as the basis of a mortgage loan; that the loan desired by each person is not more than $10,000, nor less than $100, and that the aggregate of the desired loans is not less than $20,000; that said affidavit is accompanied by a subscription to stock in the Federal land bank equal to 5 per centum of the aggregate sum desired on mortgage loans; and that a temporary organization of said association has been formed by the election of a board of directors, a loan committee, and a secretary-treasurer who subscribes to said affidavit, giving his residence and post office address. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

718. Investigation of solvency of applicants for incorporation.—Upon receipt of such articles of association, with the accompanying affidavit and stock subscription, the directors of said Federal land bank shall send an appraiser to investigate the solvency and character of the applicants and the value of their lands, and shall then determine whether in their judgment a charter should be granted to such association. They shall forward such articles of association and the accompanying affidavit to the Federal Farm Loan Board with their recommendation. If said recommendation is unfavorable, the charter shall be refused. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

719. Grant or refusal of charter.—If said recommendation is favorable, the Federal Farm Loan Board shall thereupon grant a charter to the applicants therefor, designating the territory in which such association may make loans, and shall forward said charter to said applicants through said Federal land bank: Provided, That said Federal Farm Loan Board may for good cause shown in any case refuse to grant a charter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

720. Loans to associations.—Upon receipt of its charter such national farm loan association shall be authorized and empowered to receive from the Federal land bank of the district sums to be loaned to its members under the terms and conditions of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

721. Loans to members; subscriptions to stock of land banks as collateral; retirement of stock.—Whenever any national farm loan association shall desire to secure for any member a loan on first mortgage from the Federal land bank of its district it shall subscribe for capital stock of said land bank to the amount of 5 per centum of such loan, such subscription to be paid in cash upon the granting of the loan by said land bank. Such capital stock shall be held by said land bank as collateral security for the payment of said loan, but said association shall be paid any dividends accruing and payable on said capital stock while it is outstanding. Such stock may, in the discretion of the directors, and with the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, be paid off at par and retired, and it shall be so paid off and retired upon full payment of the mortgage loan. In such case the national farm loan association shall pay off at par and retire the corresponding shares of its stock which were issued when said land bank stock was issued. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

722. Reduction of capital stock of Federal land banks.—The capital stock of a Federal land bank shall not be reduced to an amount less than 5 per centum of the principal of the outstanding farm loan bonds issued by it. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 7, 39 Stat. 365.)

CAPITAL STOCK OF NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

731. Par value of shares.—The shares in national farm loan associations shall be of the par value of $5 each. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 8, 39 Stat. 367.)

732. Voting stock.—Every shareholder shall be entitled to one vote on each share of stock held by him at all elections of directors and in deciding all questions at meetings of shareholders: Provided, That the maximum number of votes which may be cast by any one shareholder shall be twenty. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 8, 39 Stat. 367.)

733. Borrowers only to be members; amount of stock to be held by borrower; stock held as collateral; retirement of stock.—No persons but borrowers on farm land mortgages shall be members or shareholders of national farm loan associations. Any person desiring to borrow on farm land mortgage through a national farm loan association shall make application for membership and shall subscribe for shares of stock in such farm loan association to an amount equal to 5 per centum of the face of the desired loan, said subscription to be paid in cash upon the granting of the loan. If the application for membership is accepted and the loan is granted, the applicant shall, upon full payment therefor, become the owner of one share of capital stock in said loan association for each $100 of the face of his loan, or any major fractional part thereof. Said capital stock shall be paid off at par and retired upon full payment of said loan. Said capital stock shall be held by said association as collateral security for the payment of said loan, but said borrower shall be paid any dividends accruing and payable on said capital stock while it is outstanding. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 8, 39 Stat. 367.)

734. Increase of stock.—Every national farm loan association formed under this chapter shall by its articles of association provide for an increase of its capital stock from time to time for the purpose of securing additional loans for its members and providing for the issue of shares to borrowers in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Such increases shall be included in the quarterly reports to the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 8, 39 Stat. 367.)

NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS; SPECIAL PROVISIONS

741. Right of members to loans.—Any person whose application for membership is accepted by a national farm loan association shall be entitled to borrow money on farm land mortgage upon filing his application in accordance with section 733 and otherwise complying with the terms of this chapter whenever the Federal land bank of the district has funds available for that purpose, unless said land bank or the Federal Farm Loan Board shall, in its discretion, otherwise determine. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 9, 39 Stat. 368.)

742. Loans to members to pay for shares; repayment.—Any person desiring to secure a loan through a national farm loan association under the provisions of this chapter may, at his option, borrow from the Federal land bank through such association the sum necessary to pay for shares of stock subscribed for by him in the national farm loan association, such sum to be made a part of the face of the loan and paid off in amortization payments: Provided, however, That such addition to the loan shall not be permitted to increase said loan above the limitation imposed in subsection 5 of section 771. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 9, 39 Stat. 368.)

743. Commissions on interest payments; deduction from dividends; loans by land banks to associations; rate of interest.—Subject to rules and regulations prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board, any national farm loan association shall be entitled to retain as a commission from each interest payment on any loan indorsed by it an amount to be determined by said board not to exceed one-eighth of 1 per centum semiannually upon the unpaid principal of said loan, any amounts so retained as commissions to be deducted from dividends payable to such farm loan association by the Federal land bank, and to make application to the land bank of the district for loans not exceeding in the aggregate one-fourth of its total stock holdings in said land bank. The Federal land banks shall have power to make such loans to associations applying therefor and to charge interest at a rate not exceeding 6 per centum per annum. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 9, 39 Stat. 368.)

744. Individual liability of shareholders.—Shareholders of every national farm loan association shall be held individually responsible, equally and ratably, and not one for another, for all contracts, debts, and engagements of such association to the extent of the amount of stock owned by them at the par value thereof, in addition to the amount paid in and represented by their shares. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 9, 39 Stat. 368.)

745. New members.—After a charter has been granted to a national farm loan association, any natural person who is the owner, or about to become the owner, of farm land qualified under section 771 of this chapter as the basis of a mortgage loan, and who desires to borrow on a mortgage of such farm land, may become a member of the association by a two-thirds vote of the directors upon subscribing for one share of the capital stock of such association for each $100 of the face of his proposed loan or any major fractional part thereof. He shall at the same time file with the secretary-treasurer his application for a mortgage loan, giving the particulars required by section 771 of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 9, 39 Stat. 368.)

APPRAISAL FOR FARM LOANS

751. Investigation by loan committee of character and solvency of applicant; sufficiency of security offered; report.—Whenever an application for a mortgage loan is made through a national farm loan association, the loan committee provided for in section 712 of this chapter, shall forthwith make, or cause to be made, such investigation as it may deem necessary as to the character and solvency of the applicant, and the sufficiency of the security offered, and cause written report to be made of the result of such investigation, and shall, if it concurs in such report, approve the same in writing. No loan shall be made unless the report is favorable, and the loan committee is unanimous in its approval thereof. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 10, 39 Stat. 369; Apr. 20, 1920, c. 154, § 2, 41 Stat. 570.)

752. Submission to land bank of report and loan application; weight given appraisal.—The written report required in the preceding section shall be submitted to the Federal land bank, together with the application for the loan, and the directors of said land bank shall examine said written report when they pass upon the loan application which it accompanies, but they shall not be bound by said appraisal. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 10, 39 Stat. 369.)

753. Submission to land bank appraisers of report and loan application.—Before any mortgage loan is made by any Federal land bank. or joint stock land bank, it shall refer the application and written report of the loan committee to one or more of the land bank appraisers appointed under the authority of section 656 of this chapter, and such appraiser or appraisers shall investigate and make a written report upon the land offered as security for said loan. No such loan shall be made by said land bank unless said written report is favorable. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 10, 39 Stat. 369.)

754. Forms for reports.—Forms for appraisal reports for farm loan associations and land banks shall be prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 10, 39 Stat. 369.)

755. Examinations by land bank appraisers as to farm loan bonds and first mortgages.—Land bank appraisers shall make such examinations and appraisals and conduct such investigations, concerning farm loan bonds and first mortgages, as the Federal Farm Loan Board shall direct. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 10, 39 Stat. 369.)

756. Borrowers as appraisers or members of loan committees.—No borrower under this chapter shall be eligible as an appraiser under this subdivision, but borrowers may act as members of a loan committee in any case where they are not personally interested in the loan under consideration. When any member of a loan committee or of a board of directors is interested, directly or indirectly, in a loan, a majority of the board of directors of any national farm loan association shall appoint a substitute to act in his place in passing upon such loan. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 10, 39 Stat. 369.)

POWERS OF NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

761. Enumerated powers.—Every national farm loan association shall have power:

First. Indorsing mortgages.—To indorse, and thereby become liable for the payment of, mortgages taken from its shareholders by the Federal land bank of its district. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 11, 39 Stat. 369).

Second. Receiving advances from banks and loaning to shareholders.—To receive from the Federal land bank of its district funds advanced by said land bank, and to deliver said funds to its shareholders on receipt of first mortgages qualified under section 771 of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 11, 39 Stat. 369.)

Third. Fixing charges for applications for loans.—To fix reasonable initial charges to be made against applicants for loans and to borrowers in order to meet the necessary expenses of the association: Provided, That such charges shall not exceed amounts to be fixed by the Farm Loan Board, and shall in no case exceed 1 per centum of the amount of the loan applied for; to acquire and dispose of property, real and personal, that may be necessary or convenient for the transaction of its business. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 11, 39 Stat. 369; Apr. 20, 1920, c. 154, § 3, 41 Stat. 570.)

Fourth. Issuing interest-bearing certificates against deposits of current funds.—To issue certificates against deposits of current funds bearing interest for not longer than one year at not to exceed 4 per centum per annum after six days from date, convertible into farm loan bonds when presented at the Federal land bank of the district in the amount of $25 or any multiple thereof. Such deposits, when received, shall be forthwith transmitted to said land bank, and be invested by it in the purchase of farm loan bonds issued by a Federal land bank or in first mortgages as defined by this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 11, 39 Stat. 369.)

RESTRICTIONS ON LOANS OF FEDERAL LAND BANKS BASED ON FIRST MORTGAGES

771. Restrictions enumerated.—No Federal land bank organized under this chapter shall make loans except upon the following terms and conditions:

First. Security by first mortgage.—Said loans shall be secured by duly recorded first mortgages on farm land within the land bank district in which the bank is situated. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

Second. Agreement for repayment on amortization plan.—Every such mortgage shall contain an agreement providing for the repayment of the loan on an amortization plan by means of a fixed number of annual or semiannual installments sufficient to cover, first, a charge on the loan at a rate not exceeding the interest rate in the last series of farm loan bonds issued by the land bank making the loan; second, a charge for administration and profits at a rate not exceeding 1 per centum per annum on the unpaid principal, said two rates combined constituting the interest rate on the mortgage; and, third, such amounts to be applied on the principal as will extinguish the debt within an agreed period, not less than five years nor more than forty years: Provided, That after five years from the date upon which a loan is made the mortgagor may, upon any regular installment date, make, in advance, any number of payments or any portion thereof on account of the principal of his loan as provided by his contract or pay the entire principal of such loan, under the rules and regulations of the Federal Farm Loan Board: And provided further, That before the first issues of farm loan bonds by any land bank the interest rate on mortgages may be determined in the discretion of said land bank, subject to the provisions and limitations of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370; Apr. 20, 1920, c. 154, § 4, 41 Stat. 570.)

Third. Maximum interest rate.—No loan on mortgage shall be made under this chapter at a rate of interest exceeding 6 per centum per annum, exclusive of amortization payments. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

Fourth. Purposes of loans enumerated.—Such loans may be made for the following purposes and for no other:

(a) To provide for the purchase of land for agricultural uses.

(b) To provide for the purchase of equipment, fertilizers, and livestock necessary for the proper and reasonable operation of the mortgaged farm; the term "equipment" to be defined by the Federal Farm Loan Board.

(c) To provide buildings and for the improvement of farm lands; the term "improvement" to be defined by the Federal Farm Loan Board.

(d) To liquidate indebtedness of the owner of the land mortgaged incurred for agricultural purposes, or incurred prior to January 1, 1922. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370; Apr. 20, 1920, c. 154, § 4, 41 Stat. 570; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 306, 42 Stat. 1476.)

Fifth. Limitation on amount of loans; appraisal; reappraisal.—No such loan shall exceed 50 per centum of the value of the land mortgaged and 20 per centum of the value of the permanent, insured improvements thereon, said value to be ascertained by appraisal, as provided in section 751 of this chapter. In making said appraisal the value of the land for agricultural purposes shall be the basis of appraisal and the earning power of said land shall be a principal factor.

A reappraisal may be permitted at any time in the discretion of the Federal land bank, and such additional loan may be granted as such reappraisal will warrant under the provisions of this paragraph. Whenever the amount of the loan applied for exceeds the amount that may be loaned under the appraisal as herein limited, such loan may be granted to the amount permitted under the terms of this paragraph without requiring a new application or appraisal. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

Sixth. Persons entitled to loans; sales; death of mortgagor.—No such loans shall be made to any person who is not at the time, or shortly to become, engaged in the cultivation of the farm mortgaged. In case of the sale of the mortgaged land, the Federal land bank may permit said mortgage and the stock interests of the vendor to be assumed by the purchaser. In case of the death of the mortgagor, his heir or heirs, or his legal representative or representatives, shall have the option within sixty days of such death, to assume the mortgage and stock interests of the deceased. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

Seventh. Maximum and minimum of loans.—The amount of loans to any one borrower shall in no case exceed a maximum of $25,000, nor shall any one loan be for a less sum than $100, but preference shall be given to applications for loans of $10,000 and under. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 307, 42 Stat. 1476.)

Eighth. Form of applications for loans.—Every applicant for a loan under the terms of this chapter shall make application on a form to be prescribed for that purpose by the Federal Farm Loan Board, and such applicant shall state the objects to which the proceeds of said loan are to be applied, and shall afford such other information as may be required. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

Ninth. Interest on defaulted payments; payment of taxes and liens; insurance.—Every borrower shall pay simple interest on defaulted payments at the rate of 8 per centum per annum, and by express covenant in his mortgage deed shall undertake to pay when due all taxes, liens, judgments, or assessments which may be lawfully assessed against the land mortgaged. Taxes, liens, judgments, or assessments not paid when due, and paid by the mortgagee, shall become a part of the mortgage debt and shall bear simple interest at the rate of 8 per centum per annum. Every borrower shall undertake to keep insured to the satisfaction of the Federal Farm Loan Board all buildings the value of which was a factor in determining the amount of the loan. Insurance shall be made payable to the mortgagee as its interest may appear at time of loss, and at the option of the mortgagor and subject to general regulations of the Federal Farm Loan Board, sums so received may be used to pay for reconstruction of the buildings destroyed. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

Tenth. Agreement by borrowers as to use of loans.—Every borrower who shall be granted a loan under the provisions of this chapter shall enter into an agreement, in form and under conditions to be prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board, that if the whole or any portion of his loan shall be expended for purposes other than those specified in his original application, or if the borrower shall be in default in respect to any condition or covenant of the mortgage, the whole of said loan shall, at the option of the mortgagee, become due and payable forthwith: Provided, That the borrower may use part of said loan to pay for his stock in the farm loan association, and the land bank holding such mortgage may permit said loan to be used for any purpose specified in subsection fourth of this section. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

Eleventh. Loans not invalidated by unauthorized acts by banks or associations.—No loan or the mortgage securing the same shall be impaired or invalidated by reason of the exercise of any power by any Federal land bank or national farm loan association in excess of the powers herein granted or any limitations thereon. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

772. Loans to be current funds or farm loan bonds.—Funds transmitted to farm loan associations by Federal land banks to be loaned to its members shall be in current funds, or farm loan bonds, at the option of the borrower. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 12, 39 Stat. 370.)

773. Mortgages on farm lands under United States reclamation projects.—The term "first mortgage," as used in section 771, shall be construed to include mortgages on farm lands under United States reclamation projects, notwithstanding there may be against such lands a reserved or created lien in favor of the United States for construction or other charges as provided in sections 372, 381, 383, 391, 392, 411, 416, 419, 421, 431, 432, 434, 439, 461, 476, 491 and 498 of Title 43, PUBLIC LANDS: Provided, That such lands are otherwise eligible for loans under this chapter: And provided further, That the amount and date of maturity of such lien shall be given due consideration in fixing the value of such lands for loan purposes. (May 15, 1922, c. 190, § 3, 42 Stat. 542.)

POWERS OF FEDERAL LAND BANKS GENERALLY

781. Enumerated powers.—Every Federal land bank shall have power, subject to the limitations and requirements of this chapter—

First. Issuing and selling farm loan bonds.—To issue, subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, and to sell farm loan bonds of the kinds authorized in this chapter, to buy the same for its own account, and to retire the same at or before maturity. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

Second. Investing funds in farm first mortgages.—To invest such funds as may be in its possession in the purchase of qualified first mortgages on farm lands situated within the Federal land bank district within which it is organized or for which it is acting. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

Third. Receipt and deposit of mortgages as collateral for bonds; collection of moneys payable under mortgages and bonds.—To receive and to deposit in trust with the farm loan registrar for the district, to be by him held as collateral security for farm loan bonds, first mortgages upon farm land qualified under section 771 of this chapter, and to empower national farm loan associations, or duly authorized agents, to collect and immediately pay over to said land banks the dues, interest, amortization installments and other sums payable under the terms, conditions, and covenants of the mortgages and of the bonds secured thereby. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

Fourth. Acquiring and disposing of property.—To acquire and dispose of—

(a) Such property, real or personal, as may be necessary or convenient for the transaction of its business, which, however, may be in part leased to others for revenue purposes.

(b) Parcels of land acquired in satisfaction of debts or purchased at sales under judgments, decrees, or mortgages held by it. But no such bank shall hold title and possession of any real estate purchased or acquired to secure any debt due to it, for a longer period than five years, except with the special approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board in writing. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

Fifth. Depositing securities and funds with reserve banks.—To deposit its securities, and its current funds subject to check, with any member bank of the Federal reserve system, and to receive interest on the same as may be agreed. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

Sixth. Receiving deposits from associations.—To accept deposits of securities or of current funds from national farm loan associations holding its shares, but to pay no interest on such deposits. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

Seventh. Borrowing money.—To borrow money, to give security therefor, and to pay interest thereon. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

Eighth. Buying and selling United States bonds.—To buy and sell United States bonds. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

Ninth. Charging fees for loans.—To charge applicants for loans and borrowers, under rules and regulations promulgated by the Federal Farm Loan Board, reasonable fees not exceeding the actual cost of appraisal and determination of title. Legal fees and recording charges imposed by law in the State where the land to be mortgaged is located may also be included in the preliminary costs of negotiating mortgage loans. The borrower may pay such fees and charges or he may arrange with the Federal land bank making the loan to advance the same, in which case said expenses shall be made a part of the face of the loan and paid off in amortization payments. Such addition to the loan shall not be permitted to increase said loan above the limitations provided in section 771. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 13, 39 Stat. 372.)

RESTRICTIONS ON FEDERAL LAND BANKS

791. Enumeration of restrictions.—No Federal land bank shall have power—

First. Limiting deposits.—To accept deposits of current funds payable upon demand except from its own stockholders, or to transact any banking or other business not expressly authorized by the provisions of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 14, 39 Stat. 372.)

Second. Loaning on first mortgages except through associations.—To loan on first mortgage except through national farm loan associations as provided in sections 720, 721 and sections 733, 734 of this chapter, or through agents as provided in sections 801–808. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 14, 39 Stat. 372.)

Third. Accepting other than first mortgages.—To accept any mortgages on real estate except first mortgages created subject to all limitations imposed by sections 771–773 of this chapter, and those taken as additional security for existing loans. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 14, 39 Stat. 372.)

Fourth. Issuing excess of bonds; receiving excess of mortgages from associations.—To issue or obligate itself for outstanding farm loan bonds in excess of twenty times the amount of its capital and surplus, or to receive from any national farm loan association additional mortgages when the principal remaining unpaid upon mortgages already received from such association shall exceed twenty times the amount of its capital stock owned by such association. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 14, 39 Stat. 372.)

Fifth. Demanding unauthorized commissions.—To demand or receive, under any form or pretense, any commission or charge not specifically authorized in this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 14, 39 Stat. 372.)

LOANS BY FEDERAL LAND BANKS THROUGH AGENTS

801. Loans; when authorized.—Whenever it shall appear to the Federal Farm Loan Board that national farm loan associations have not been formed, and are not likely to be formed, in any locality, because of peculiar local conditions, said board may, in its discretion, authorize Federal land banks to make loans on farm lands through agents approved by said board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 15, 39 Stat. 373.)

802. Manner of making.—Loans authorized by the preceding section shall be subject to the same conditions and restrictions as if the same were made through national farm loan associations, and each borrower shall contribute 5 per centum of the amount of his loan to the capital of the Federal land bank, and shall become the owner of as much capital stock of the land bank as such contribution shall warrant. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 15, 39 Stat. 373.)

803. Who may be employed as agent.—No agent other than a duly incorporated bank, trust company, mortgage company, or savings institution, chartered by the State in which it has its principal office, shall be employed under the provisions of this subdivision. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 15, 39 Stat. 373.)

804. Expenses of and commissions to agents.—Federal land banks may pay to such agents the actual expense of appraising the land offered as security for a loan, examining and certifying the title thereof, and making, executing, and recording the mortgage papers; and in addition may allow said agents not to exceed one-half of 1 per centum per annum upon the unpaid principal of said loan, such commission to be deducted from dividends payable to the borrower on his stock in the Federal land bank. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 15, 39 Stat. 373.)

805. Expenses of agents added to loans.—Actual expenses paid to agents under the provisions of this subdivision shall be added to the face of the loan and paid off in amortization payments subject to the limitations provided in subsection ninth of section 781 of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 15, 39 Stat. 373.)

806. Collecting interest and payments.—Said agents, when required by the Federal land banks, shall collect and forward to such banks without charge all interest and amortization payments on loans indorsed by them. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 15, 39 Stat. 373.)

807. Indorsement of loans; liability thereon.—Any agent negotiating any such loan shall indorse the same and become liable for the payment thereof, and for any default by the mortgagor, on the same terms and under the same penalties as if the loan had been originally made by said agent as principal and sold by said agent to said land bank, but the aggregate of the unpaid principal of mortgage loans received from any such agent shall not exceed ten times its capital and surplus. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 15, 39 Stat. 373.)

808. When loans to cease.—If at any time the district represented by any agent under the provisions of this subdivision shall, in the judgment of the Federal Farm Loan Board, be adequately served by national farm loan associations, no further loans shall be negotiated therein by agents under this subdivision. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 15, 39 Stat. 373.)

JOINT-STOCK LAND BANKS

811. Power to organize; organization; directors.—Corporations, to be known as joint-stock land banks, for carrying on the business of lending on farm mortgage security and issuing farm loan bonds, may be formed by any number of natural persons not less than ten. They shall be organized subject to the requirements and under the conditions set forth in sections 671–683 of this chapter, so far as the same may be applicable: Provided, That the board of directors of every joint-stock land bank shall consist of not less than five members. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

812. Individual liability of shareholders.—Shareholders of every joint-stock land bank organized under this chapter shall be held individually responsible, equally and ratably, and not one for another, for all contracts, debts, and engagements of such bank to the extent of the amount of stock owned by them at the par value thereof, in addition to the amount paid in and represented by their shares. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

813. Powers, duties, and liabilities; stock.—Except as otherwise provided, joint-stock land banks shall have the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions and conditions imposed on, Federal land banks by this chapter, so far as such restrictions and conditions are applicable: Provided, however, That the Government of the United States shall not purchase or subscribe for any of the capital stock of any such bank; and each shareholder of any such bank shall have the same voting privileges as holders of shares in national banking associations. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

814. Limitation on amount of issue of bonds; transacting banking business.—No joint-stock land bank shall have power to issue or obligate itself for outstanding farm loan bonds in excess of fifteen times the amount of its capital and surplus, or to receive deposits or to transact any banking or other business not expressly authorized by the provisions of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

815. Minimum capital stock required.—No joint-stock land bank shall be authorized to do business until capital stock to the amount of at least $250,000 has been subscribed, one-half thereof paid in cash and the balance subject to call by the board of directors, and a charter has been issued to it by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

816. Issuing bonds before payment of stock.—No joint-stock land bank shall issue any bonds until after the capital stock is entirely paid up. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

817. Form of bonds.—Farm loan bonds issued by joint-stock land banks shall be so engraved as to be readily distinguished in form and color from farm loan bonds issued by Federal land banks, and shall otherwise bear such distinguishing marks as the Federal Farm Loan Board shall direct. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

818. Interest rates; restrictions on mortgage loans.—Joint-stock land banks shall not be subject to the provisions of subsection (b) of section 831 of this chapter as to interest rates on mortgage loans or farm loan bonds, nor to the provisions of subsections first, fourth, sixth, seventh, and tenth of section 771 as to restrictions on mortgage loans: Provided, however, That no loans shall be made which are not secured by first mortgages on farm lands within the State in which such joint-stock land bank has its principal office, or within some one State contiguous to such State. Such joint-stock land banks shall be subject to all other restrictions on mortgage loans imposed on Federal land banks in section 771 of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat, 374.)

819. Limitation on interest rates.—Joint-stock land banks shall in no case charge a rate of interest on farm loans exceeding by more than 1 per centum the rate of interest established for the last series of farm loan bonds issued by them. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

820. Unauthorized commissions or charges.—Joint-stock land banks shall in no case demand or receive, under any form or pretense, any commission or charge not specifically authorized in this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

821. Bonds; power to issue; form and contents.—Each joint-stock land bank organized under this chapter shall have authority to issue bonds based upon mortgages taken by it in accordance with the terms of this chapter. Such bonds shall be in form prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board, and it shall be stated in such bonds that such bank is organized under this subdivision of this chapter, is under Federal supervision, and operates under the provisions of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 16, 39 Stat. 374.)

822. Voluntary liquidation.—Any joint-stock land bank organized and doing business under the provisions of this chapter may go into voluntary liquidation by making provision, to be approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board, for the payment of its liabilities: Provided, That such method of liquidation shall have been duly authorized by a vote of at least two-thirds of the shareholders of such joint-stock land bank at a regular meeting, or at a special meeting called for that purpose, of which at least ten days' notice in writing shall have been given to stockholders. (May 29, 1920, c. 215, 41 Stat. 691.)

823. Assets of liquidating bank; purchase by land or joint stock land bank; assumption of liabilities.—For the purpose of assisting in any such liquidation authorized as in the preceding section provided, any Federal land bank or joint-stock land bank may, with the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, acquire the assets and assume the liabilities of any joint-stock land bank, and in such transaction any Federal land bank may waive the provisions of this chapter requiring such bank to acquire its loans only through national farm loan associations or agents, and those relating to status of borrower, purposes of loan, and also the limitation as to the amount of individual loans. No Federal land bank shall assume the obligations of any joint-stock land bank in such manner as to make its outstanding obligations more than twenty times its capital stock except by creation of a special reserve equal to one-twentieth of the amount of such additional obligations assumed. No joint-stock land bank shall assume the obligations of any other joint-stock land bank in such manner as to make its outstanding obligations more than fifteen times the amount of its capital and surplus, except by creation of a special reserve equal to one-fifteenth of the amount of such additional obligations assumed. (May 29, 1920, c. 215, 41 Stat. 691; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 5, 43 Stat. 1263.)

POWERS OF FEDERAL FARM LOAN BOARD GENERALLY

831. Enumeration.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall have power—

(a) Organizing and chartering banks and loan associations; authorizing increase of stock.—To organize and charter Federal land banks, and to charter national farm loan associations and joint-stock land banks subject to the provisions of this chapter, and in its discretion to authorize them to increase their capital stock. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(b) Reviewing and altering interest rates.—To review and alter at its discretion the rate of interest to be charged by Federal land banks for loans made by them under the provisions of this chapter, said rate to be uniform so far as practicable. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(c) Granting or refusing authority to issue bonds.—To grant or refuse to Federal land banks, or joint-stock land banks, authority to make any specific issue of farm loan bonds. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(d) Making rules and regulations as to charges on loans.—To make rules and regulations respecting the charges made to borrowers on loans under this chapter for expenses in appraisal, determination of title, and recording. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(e) Requiring reports, etc.; examining banks and associations.—To require reports and statements of condition and to make examinations of all banks or associations doing business under the provisions of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(f) Prescribing form and terms of bonds and surety bonds.—To prescribe the form and terms of farm loan bonds, and the form, terms, and penal sums of all surety bonds required under this chapter and of such other surety bonds as they shall deem necessary, such surety bonds to cover financial loss as well as faithful performance of duty. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(g) Regulating payments between banks.—To require Federal land banks to pay forthwith to any Federal land bank their equitable proportion of any sums advanced by said land bank to pay the coupons of any other land bank, basing said required payments on the amount of farm loan bonds issued by each land bank and actually outstanding at the time of such requirement. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(h) Suspending or removal of directors, registrars, appraisers, and examiners.—To suspend or to remove for cause any district director or any registrar, appraiser, examiner, or other official appointed by said board under authority of sections 651–664 of this chapter, the cause of such suspension or removal to be communicated forthwith in writing by the Federal Farm Loan Board to the person suspended or removed, and in case of a district director to the proper Federal land bank. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(i) Exercising supervisory authority over banks.—To exercise general supervisory authority over the Federal land banks, the national farm loan associations, and the joint-stock land banks herein provided for. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

(j) Incidental powers.—To exercise such incidental powers as shall be necessary or requisite to fulfill its duties and carry out the purposes of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 17, 39 Stat. 375.)

APPLICATIONS FOR FARM LOAN BONDS

841. Application; to whom made; collateral security; schedule.—Any Federal land bank, or joint-stock land bank, which shall have voted to issue farm loan bonds under this chapter, shall make written application to the Federal Farm Loan Board, through the farm loan registrar of the district, for approval of such issue. With said application said land bank shall tender to said farm loan registrar as collateral security first mortgages on farm lands qualified under the provisions of section 771, sections 801–807, or sections 811–821 of this chapter, or United States Government bonds, not less in aggregate amount than the sum of the bonds proposed to be issued. Said bank shall furnish with such mortgages a schedule containing a description thereof and such further information as may be prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 18, 39 Stat. 375.)

842. Verifying schedule; transmission to Loan Board; investigation and appraisal of securities tendered.—Upon receipt of the application provided for in the preceding section said farm loan registrar shall verify the schedule also provided for in the preceding section and shall transmit said application and said schedule to the Federal Farm Loan Board, giving such further information pertaining thereto as he may possess. The Federal Farm Loan Board shall forthwith cause to be made such investigation and appraisement of the securities tendered as it shall deem wise, and it shall grant in whole or in part, or reject entirely, such application. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 18, 39 Stat. 375.)

843. Transmission of decisions of Loan Board to land bank and farm loan registrar; information by registrar to board of issue of loan bonds.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall promptly transmit its decision as to any issue of farm loan bonds to the land bank applying for the same and to the farm loan registrar of the district. Said registrar shall furnish, in writing, such information regarding any issue of farm loan bonds as the Federal Farm Loan Board may at any time require. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 18, 39 Stat. 375.)

844. Approval by Loan Board of issue of bonds.—No issue of farm loan bonds shall be authorized unless the Federal Farm Loan Board shall approve such issue in writing. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 18, 39 Stat. 375.)

ISSUE OF FARM LOAN BONDS

851. Duties of registrars on approval of bond issue.—Whenever any farm loan registrar shall receive from the Federal Farm Loan Board notice that it has approved any issue of farm loan bonds under the provisions of sections 841–844 he shall forthwith take such steps as may be necessary, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, to insure the prompt execution of said bonds and the delivery of the same to the land bank applying therefor. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 19, 39 Stat. 376.)

852. Rejection of application; return of collateral security.—Whenever the Federal Farm Loan Board shall reject entirely any application for an issue of farm loan bonds, the first mortgages and bonds tendered to the farm loan registrar as collateral security therefor shall be forthwith returned to said land bank by him. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 19, 39 Stat. 376.)

853. Disposition of collateral security on approval of application.—Whenever the Federal Farm Loan Board shall approve an issue of farm loan bonds, the farm loan registrar having the custody of the first mortgages and bonds tendered as collateral security for such issue of bonds shall retain in his custody those first mortgages and bonds which are to be held as collateral security, and shall return to the bank owning the same any of said mortgages and bonds which are not to be held by him as collateral security. The land bank which is to issue said farm loan bonds shall transfer to said registrar, by assignment, in trust, all first mortgages and bonds which are to be held by said registrar as collateral security, said assignment providing for the right of redemption at any time by payment as provided in this chapter and reserving the right of substitution of other mortgages qualified under sections 771 and 811–821 of this chapter. Said mortgages and bonds shall be deposited in such deposit vault or bank as the Federal Farm Loan Board shall approve, subject to the control of said registrar and in his name as trustee for the bank issuing the farm loan bonds and for the prospective holders of said farm loan bonds. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 19, 39 Stat. 376.)

854. Mortgages acceptable as collateral security.—No mortgage shall be accepted by a farm loan registrar from a land bank as part of an offering to secure an issue of farm loan bonds, either originally or by substitution, except first mortgages made subject to the conditions prescribed in said sections 771, 801–808, and 811–821. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 19, 39 Stat. 376.)

855. Amount of issue as affected by amount of collateral security; United States bonds or cash in lieu of security withdrawn.—It shall be the duty of each farm loan registrar to see that the farm loan bonds delivered by him and outstanding do not exceed the amount of collateral security pledged therefor. Such registrar may, in his discretion, temporarily accept, in place of mortgages withdrawn, United States Government bonds or cash. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 19, 39 Stat. 376.)

856. Additional security.—The Federal Farm Loan Board may, at any time, call upon any land bank for additional security to protect the bonds issued by it. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 19, 39 Stat. 376.)

FORM OF FARM LOAN BONDS

861. Denominations; minimum and maximum periods; interest coupons; rates of interest.—Bonds provided for in this chapter shall be issued in denominations of $40, $100, $500, $1,000, and such larger denominations as the Federal Farm Loan Board may authorize; they shall run for specified minimum and maximum periods, subject to payment and retirement, at the option of the land bank, at any time after the minimum period specified in the bonds, which shall not be longer than ten years from the date of their issue. They shall have interest coupons attached, payable semiannually, and shall be issued in series of not less than $50,000, the amount and terms to be fixed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. They shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed 5½ per centum per annum, but no bonds issued or sold after June 30, 1923, shall bear a rate of interest to exceed 5 per centum per annum. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 20, 39 Stat. 377.)

862. Rules and regulations as to payment.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall prescribe rules and regulations concerning the circumstances and manner in which farm loan bonds shall be paid and retired under the provisions of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 20, 39 Stat. 377.)

863. Delivery to banks.—Farm loan bonds shall be delivered through the registrar of the district to the bank applying for the same. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 20, 39 Stat. 377.)

864. Preparation; custody of plates and dies; exchange for registered bonds; reexchange for coupons.—In order to furnish farm loan bonds for delivery at the Federal land banks and joint stock land banks, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to prepare suitable bonds in such form, subject to the provisions of this chapter, as the Federal Farm Loan Board may approve, such bonds when prepared to be held in the Treasury subject to delivery upon order of the Federal Farm Loan Board. The engraved plates, dies, bed pieces, and so forth, executed in connection therewith shall remain in the custody of the Secretary of the Treasury. Any expenses incurred in the preparation, custody, and delivery of such farm loan bonds shall be paid by the Secretary of the Treasury from any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated: Provided, however, That the Secretary shall be reimbursed for such expenditures by the Federal Farm Loan Board through assessment upon the farm land banks in proportion to the work executed. They may be exchanged into registered bonds of any amount, and reexchanged into coupon bonds, at the option of the holder, under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 20, 39 Stat. 377; Apr. 20, 1920, c. 154, § 5, 41 Stat. 571; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 151, 41 Stat. 1362; Aug. 13, 1921, c. 63, 42 Stat. 159.)

SPECIAL PROVISIONS OF FARM LOAN BONDS

871. Land banks as bound by acts of officers and Loan Board in issue of bonds.—Each land bank shall be bound in all respects by the acts of its officers in signing and issuing farm loan bonds and by the acts of the Federal Farm Loan Board in authorizing their issue. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 21, 39 Stat. 377.)

872. Liability of land banks for interest and principal of loan bonds.—Every Federal land bank issuing farm loan bonds shall be primarily liable therefor, and shall also be liable, upon presentation of farm loan bond coupons, for interest payments due upon any farm loan bonds issued by other Federal land banks and remaining unpaid in consequence of the default of such other land banks; and every such bank shall likewise be liable for such portion of the principal of farm loan bonds so issued as shall not be paid after the assets of any such other land banks shall have been liquidated and distributed: Provided, That such losses, if any, either of interest or of principal, shall be assessed by the Federal Farm Loan Board against solvent land banks liable therefor in proportion to the amount of farm loan bonds which each may have outstanding at the time of such assessment. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 21, 39 Stat. 377.)

873. Record on minutes of land banks respecting liability.—Every Federal land bank shall by appropriate action of its board of directors, duly recorded in its minutes, obligate itself to become liable on farm loan bonds as provided in this subdivision. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 21, 39 Stat. 377.)

874. Signing and attesting bonds; certificate of farm loan commissioner.—Every farm loan bond issued by a Federal land bank shall be signed by its president or vice president and attested by its secretary or assistant secretary. For the purpose of signing such bonds the board of directors of any Federal land bank is authorized to select a vice president who need not be a member of the board of directors; such bonds shall also contain in the face thereof a certificate signed by the farm loan commissioner to the effect that it is issued under the authority of the Federal Farm Loan Act, has the approval in form and issue of the Federal Farm Loan Board, and is legal and regular in all respects; that it is not taxable by National, State, municipal, or local authority; that it is issued against collateral security of United States Government bonds, or indorsed first mortgages on farm lands, at least equal in amount to the bonds issued; and that all Federal land banks are liable for the payment of each bond. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 21, 39 Stat. 377; Apr. 20, 1920, c. 154, § 6, 41 Stat. 571.)

875. Consolidated bonds; authority of land banks to issue and sell.—Whenever it shall appear desirable to issue consolidated bonds of the twelve Federal land banks and to sell them through a common selling agency, and the Federal land banks shall, by resolution, consent to the same, the banks may issue and sell said bonds as hereinafter provided. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

876. Signing and attesting consolidated bonds; recitals.—Every bond so issued shall be signed by the farm loan commissioner and attested by the secretary of the Federal Farm Loan Board, and their signatures may be either written or engraved thereon and shall recite in the face of the bond the fact that it is the joint and several obligation of the twelve Federal land banks, and shall in all respects be governed by the provisions of the Federal Farm Loan Act not inconsistent herewith. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

877. Consolidated bonds; when payable.—The consolidated bonds issued under this provision shall be made payable at any Federal land bank, and may be made payable at any Federal reserve bank or banks designated in the face of the bond. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

878. Land banks as bound by acts of officers in issue of consolidated bonds.—Each Federal land bank on whose behalf consolidated bonds shall be issued under this provision shall in all respects be bound by the act of the farm loan commissioner and the Secretary of the Federal Farm Loan Board. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 6, 43 Stat. 1264.)

879. Participation of land bank in consolidated issue as dependent on assumption of liability respecting loan bonds.—Every Federal land bank, before participation in a consolidated issue, as herein provided, shall by appropriate action of its board of directors, duly recorded in its minutes, obligate itself to become liable on Federal farm loan bonds as provided in section 873 and be bound by the action of the farm loan commissioner and the secretary of the Federal Farm Loan Board in executing the same. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

880. Certificate of farm loan commissioner.—Every farm loan bond issued hereunder shall contain on the face thereof a certificate signed by the farm loan commissioner to the effect that it is issued under the authority of this chapter, has the approval in form and issue of the Federal Farm Loan Board, and is legal and regular in all respects; that it is not taxable by National, State, municipal, or local authority; that it is issued against collateral security consisting of obligations of the United States Government, or indorsed first mortgages on farm lands, at least equal in amount to the bonds issued; and that all Federal land banks are liable for the payment of each bond. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

881. Prerequisites to participation of land bank in consolidated issue; payment of bonds and coupons.—When any Federal land bank shall desire to participate in a consolidated issue of farm loan bonds it shall make application to the Federal Farm Loan Board for the approval on its behalf of such issue and tender to the registrar approved farm mortgages, or obligations of the United States Government, as security therefor, and no banks shall participate in such consolidated issue until such application has been approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board. Each bank shall pay when due, without notice, all bonds and coupons issued on its behalf hereunder. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

882. Failure to pay proportion of interest or principal of consolidated issue; liability of participating banks.—If any Federal land bank shall fail to pay its proportion of interest or principal as prescribed in section 881, the Federal Farm

Loan Board shall immediately call upon the other Federal land banks for the amount necessary to make said payment, the assessments to be made in proportion to the capital stock of each, which assessments shall be forthwith paid by said banks. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1264.)

883. Bond committee.—The presidents of the twelve Federal land banks shall constitute the bond committee of the Federal land banks and shall select a chairman from among their number. The vice president may act in place of the president on the president's request or in case he fails to act. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

884. Duties of bond committee as to issue of consolidated bonds.—When an issue of consolidated bonds is contemplated, the bond committee shall determine the amount of such issue, the rate of interest which it is to bear, and the participation of the several banks therein, and submit their recommendations to the Federal Farm Loan Board for approval. When approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board the bonds shall be executed by the farm loan commissioner and the secretary of the Federal Farm Loan Board, as herein provided. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

885. Expenses of bond committee and bond sale.—The expenses of the bond committee and of the sale of bonds shall be charged against the several land banks in proportion to their participation in the proceeds. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

886. Compensation of members of bond committee.—The presidents of the Federal land banks shall receive no additional compensation for their services as members of the bond committee, but shall be paid necessary traveling expenses. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 308, 42 Stat. 1476.)

APPLICATION OF AMORTIZATION AND INTEREST PAYMENTS

891. Payments upon mortgages pledged as collateral for loan bond issue; application of payments; cancellation of mortgages.—Whenever any Federal land bank, or joint stock land bank, shall receive any interest, amortization or other payments upon any first mortgage or bond pledged as collateral security for the issue of farm loan bonds, it shall forthwith notify the farm loan registrar of the items so received. Said registrar shall forthwith cause such payment to be duly credited upon the mortgage entitled to such credit. Whenever any such mortgage is paid in full, said registrar shall cause the same to be canceled and delivered to the proper land bank, which shall promptly satisfy and discharge the lien of record and transmit such canceled mortgage to the original maker thereof, or his heirs, administrators, executors, or assigns. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378.)

892. Withdrawal of collateral and substitution of other security.—Upon written application by any Federal land bank, or joint stock land bank, to the farm loan registrar, it may be permitted, in the discretion of said registrar, to withdraw any mortgages or bonds pledged as collateral security under this chapter, and to substitute therefor other similar mortgages or United States Government bonds not less in amount than the mortgages or bonds desired to be withdrawn. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378.)

893. Place and mode of payment of loan bonds or interest; cancellation on payment.—Whenever any farm loan bonds, or coupons or interest payments of such bonds, are due under their terms, they shall be payable at the land bank by which they were issued, in gold or lawful money, and upon payment shall be duly canceled by said bank. At the discretion of the Federal Farm Loan Board, payment of any farm loan bond or coupon or interest payment may, however, be authorized to be made at any Federal land bank, any joint stock land bank, or any other bank, under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378.)

894. Withdrawal of collateral security on surrender of loan bonds.—When any land bank shall surrender to the proper farm loan registrar any farm loan bonds of any series, canceled or uncanceled, said land bank shall be entitled to withdraw first mortgages and bonds pledged as collateral security for any of said series of farm loan bonds to an amount equal to the farm loan bonds so surrendered, and it shall be the duty of said registrar to permit and direct the delivery of such mortgages and bonds to such land bank. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378.)

895. Interest payments on hypothecated first mortgages.—Interest payments on hypothecated first mortgages shall be at the disposal of the land bank pledging the same, and shall be available for the payment of coupons and the interest of farm loan bonds as they become due. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378.)

896. Face value of bonds or interest coupons to holders.—Whenever any bond matures, or the interest on any registered bond is due, or the coupon on any coupon bond matures, and the same shall be presented for payment as provided in this chapter, the full face value thereof shall be paid to the holder. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378.)

897. Payments on principal of first mortgages held as collateral as constituting trust fund.—Amortization and other payments on the principal of first mortgages held by a farm loan registrar as collateral security for the issue of farm loan bonds shall constitute a trust fund in the hands of the Federal land bank or joint stock land bank receiving the same, and shall be applied or employed as follows:

In the case of a Federal land bank—

(a) To pay off farm loan bonds issued by or in behalf of said bank as they mature.

(b) To purchase at or below par Federal farm loan bonds.

(c) To loan on first mortgages on farm lands within the land bank district, qualified under this chapter as collateral security for an issue of farm loan bonds.

(d) To purchase United States Government bonds.

In the case of a joint stock land bank—

(a) To pay off farm loan bonds issued by said bank as they mature.

(b) To purchase at or below par farm loan bonds.

(c) To loan on first mortgages qualified under sections 811–821 of this chapter.

(d) To purchase United States Government bonds. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 309, 42 Stat. 1477.)

898. Deposit of trust fund with registrars as substituted collateral security.—The farm loan bonds, first mortgages, United States Government bonds, or cash constituting the trust fund provided for in the preceding section, shall be forthwith deposited with the farm loan registrar as substituted collateral security in place of the sums paid on the principal of indorsed mortgages held by him in trust. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378.)

899. Notice to registrars of disposition of payments on principal of mortgages.—Every Federal land bank, or joint-stock land bank, shall notify the farm loan registrar of the disposition of all payments made on the principal of mortgages held as collateral security for an issue of farm loan bonds, and said registrar is authorized, at his discretion, to order any of such payments, or the proceeds thereof, wherever deposited or however invested, to be immediately transferred to his account as trustee aforesaid. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 22, 39 Stat. 378.)

RESERVES AND DIVIDENDS OF LAND BANKS

901. Amount carried to reserve account; making good impairment; debit to reserve account.—Every Federal land bank, and every joint-stock land bank, shall semiannually carry to reserve account 25 per centum of its net earnings until said reserve account shall show a credit balance equal to 20 per centum of the outstanding capital stock of said land bank. Whenever said reserve shall have been impaired, said balance of 20 per centum shall be fully restored before any dividends are paid. After said reserve has reached the sum of 20 per centum of the outstanding capital stock, 5 per centum of the net earnings shall be annually added thereto. For the period of two years from the date when any default occurs in the payment of the interest, amortization installments, or principal on any first mortgage, by both mortgagor and indorser, the amount so defaulted shall be carried to a suspense account, and at the end of the two-year period specified, unless collected, shall be debited to reserve account. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 23, 39 Stat. 379.)

902. Dividends on balance of net earnings; investment of reserves.—After deducting the 25 per centum or the 5 per centum hereinbefore directed to be deducted for credit to reserve account, any Federal land bank or joint-stock land bank may declare a dividend to shareholders of the whole or any part of the balance of its net earnings. The reserves of land banks shall be invested in accordance with rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 23, 39 Stat. 379.)

RESERVE AND DIVIDENDS OF NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

911. Reserves; amount.—Every national farm loan association shall, out of its net earnings, semiannually carry to reserve account a sum not less than 10 per centum of such net earnings until said reserve account shall show a credit balance equal to 20 per centum of the outstanding capital stock of said association. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 24, 39 Stat. 379.)

912. Making good impairment of reserve.—Whenever the reserve provided for in the preceding section shall have been impaired, said credit balance of 20 per centum shall be fully restored before any dividends are paid. After said reserve has reached said sum of 20 per centum, 2 per centum of the net earnings shall be annually added thereto. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 24, 39 Stat. 379.)

913. Dividends on balance of net earnings.—After deducting the 10 per centum or the 2 per centum hereinbefore directed to be credited to reserve account, said association may, at its discretion, declare a dividend to shareholders of the whole or any part of the balance of said net earnings. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 24, 39 Stat. 379.)

914. Investment of reserves.—The reserves of farm loan associations shall be invested in accordance with rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 24, 39 Stat. 379.)

915. Disposition of reserve on liquidation.—Whenever any farm loan association shall be voluntarily liquidated a sum equal to its reserve account as herein required shall be paid to and become the property of the Federal land bank in which such loan association may be a shareholder. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 24, 39 Stat. 379.)

DEFAULTED FARM LOANS

921. Notice to associations or agents of default under mortgage; making good.—If there shall be default under the terms of any indorsed first mortgage held by a Federal land bank under the provisions of this chapter, the National Farm Loan Association through which said mortgage was received by said Federal land bank shall be notified of said default. Said association may thereupon be required, within thirty days after such notice, to make good such default, either by the payment of the amount unpaid thereon in cash or by the substitution of an equal amount of Federal farm loan bonds, with all unmatured coupons attached. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 25, 39 Stat. 380; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 310, 42 Stat. 1477.)

EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION

931. Land banks and loan associations; exemption from taxation; exceptions; first mortgages and bonds as instrumentalities of Government.—Every Federal land bank and every national farm loan association, including the capital and reserve or surplus therein and the income derived therefrom, shall be exempt from Federal, State, municipal, and local taxation, except taxes upon real estate held, purchased, or taken by said bank or association under the provisions of section 761 and section 781 of this chapter. First mortgages executed to Federal land banks, or to joint-stock land banks, and farm loan bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter, shall be deemed and held to be instrumentalities of the Government of the United States, and as such they and the income derived therefrom shall be exempt from Federal, State, municipal, and local taxation. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 26, 39 Stat. 380.)

932. Shares in joint stock banks included in valuation of personalty for State taxation.—Nothing herein shall prevent the shares in any joint-stock land bank from being included in the valuation of the personal property of the owner or holder of such shares, in assessing taxes imposed by authority of the State within which the bank is located; but such assessment and taxation shall be in manner and subject to the conditions and limitations contained in section 548 with reference to the shares of national banking associations. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 26, 39 Stat. 380.)

933. Real property subject to taxation.—Nothing herein shall be construed to exempt the real property of Federal and joint-stock land banks and national farm loan associations from either State, county, or municipal taxes, to the same extent, according to its value, as other real property is taxed. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 26, 39 Stat. 380.)

INVESTMENT IN FARM LOAN BONDS

941. Fiduciary and trust funds; security for public deposits.—Farm loan bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter by Federal land banks or joint-stock land banks shall be a lawful investment for all fiduciary and trust funds, and may be accepted as security for all public deposits. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 27, 39 Stat. 380.)

942. Buying and selling by member banks of Federal reserve system.—Any member bank of the Federal reserve system may buy and sell farm loan bonds issued under the authority of this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 27, 39 Stat. 380.)

943. Buying and selling by reserve banks.—Any Federal reserve bank may buy and sell farm loan bonds issued under this chapter to the same extent and subject to the same limitations placed upon the purchase and sale by said banks of State, county, district, and municipal bonds under subsection (b) of section 355. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 27, 39 Stat. 380.)

EXAMINATIONS

951. Land bank examiners; appointment; number.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall appoint as many land bank examiners as in its judgment may be required to make careful examinations of the banks and associations permitted to do business under this chapter. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 28, 39 Stat. 381.)

952. Powers, duties, liabilities, and penalties; examinations; reports.—Land bank examiners shall be subject to the same requirements, responsibilities and penalties as are applicable to national bank examiners. Whenever directed by the Federal Farm Loan Board, said examiners shall examine the condition of any national farm loan association and report the same to the farm loan commissioner. They shall examine and report the condition of every Federal land bank and joint-stock land bank at least twice each year. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 28, 39 Stat. 381.)

953. Salaries of examiners.—Land bank examiners shall receive salaries to be fixed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 28, 39 Stat. 381.)

DISSOLUTION AND APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVERS

961. Insolvency of farm loan associations; receivers; powers and duties.—Upon receiving satisfactory evidence that any national farm loan association has failed to meet its outstanding obligations of any description the Federal Farm Loan Board may forthwith declare such association insolvent and appoint a receiver and require of him such bond and security as it deems proper: Provided, That no national farm loan association shall be declared insolvent by said board until the total amount of defaults of current interest and amortization installments on loans indorsed by national farm loan associations shall amount to at least $150,000 in the Federal land bank district, unless such association shall have been in default for a period of two years. Such receiver, under the direction of the Federal Farm Loan Board, shall take possession of the books, records, and assets of every description of such association, collect all debts, dues, and claims belonging to it, and, with the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, or upon the order of a court of record of competent jurisdiction, may sell or compound all bad or doubtful debts, and, on a like approval or order, may sell all the real and personal property of such association, on such terms as the Federal Farm Loan Board or said court shall direct. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 29, 39 Stat. 381.)

962. Disposition of moneys collected by receiver; reports.—Such receiver shall pay over all money so collected to the Treasurer of the United States, subject to the order of the Federal Farm Loan Board, and also make report to said board of all his acts and proceedings. The Secretary of the Treasury shall have authority to deposit at interest any money so received. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 29, 39 Stat. 381.)

963. Insolvency of land banks; receivers; powers and duties.—Upon default of any obligation, Federal land banks and joint stock land banks may be declared insolvent and placed in the hands of a receiver by the Federal Farm Loan Board, and proceedings shall thereupon be had in accordance with the provisions of this section regarding national farm loan associations. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 29, 39 Stat. 381.)

964. Insolvency of farm loan associations; cancellation of stock held in land banks; application of payments on stock; reduction of stock of land banks.—If any national farm loan association shall be declared insolvent and a receiver shall be appointed therefor by the Federal Farm Loan Board, the stock held by it in the Federal land bank of its district shall be canceled without impairment of its liability and all payments on such stock, with accrued dividends, if any, since the date of the last dividend shall be first applied to all debts of the insolvent farm loan association to the Federal land bank and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the receiver of said farm loan association: Provided, That in estimating said debts contingent liabilities incurred by national farm loan associations under the provisions of this chapter on account of default of principal or interest of indorsed mortgages shall be estimated and included as a debt, and said contingent liabilities shall be determined by agreement between the receiver and the Federal land bank of the district, subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, and if said receiver and said land bank can not agree, then by the decision of the farm loan commissioner, and the amount thus ascertained shall be deducted in accordance with the provisions of this section from the amount otherwise due said national farm loan association for said canceled stock. Whenever the capital stock of a Federal land bank shall be reduced, the board of directors shall cause to be executed a certificate to the Federal Farm Loan Board, showing such reduction of capital stock, and, if said reduction shall be due to the insolvency of a national farm loan association, the amount repaid to such association. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 29, 39 Stat. 381.)

965. Voluntary liquidation; consent of Farm Loan Board; consolidation of farm loan associations.—No national farm loan association, Federal land bank or joint stock land bank shall go into voluntary liquidation without the written consent of the Federal Farm Loan Board, but national farm loan associations may consolidate under rules and regulations promulgated by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 29, 39 Stat. 381.)

966. Liquidation of farm loan associations; cancellation of stock and issue of new stock to borrowers; personal liability of stockholders.—Upon liquidation of any national farm loan association, the stock in the Federal land bank held by such association shall be canceled and the Federal land bank shall thereupon issue to the borrowers through such association an amount of stock in the Federal land bank equal to the amount of stock held by such borrowers in the liquidated association, such stock to be held by the bank as collateral to the loans of such borrowers and to be paid off and retired at par in the same manner as stock held by borrowers in farm loan associations, and the Federal land bank shall pay to the borrowers holding such stock the same dividends as are paid to national farm loan associations by such bank. The personal liability of the stockholders in such liquidated association to the association shall survive such liquidation and shall be vested in the bank in that district, which may enforce the same as fully as the association could if in existence. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title III, § 311, 42 Stat. 1478.)

STATE LEGISLATION IMPAIRING SECURITY OF FARM LOANS

971. Examination of State laws as to conveying and recordation.—It shall be the duty of the farm loan commissioner to make examination of the laws of every State of the United States and to inform the Federal Farm Loan Board as rapidly as may be whether in his judgment the laws of each State relating to the conveying and recording of land titles, and the foreclosure of mortgages or other instruments securing loans, as well as providing homestead and other exemptions and granting the power to waive such exemptions as respects first mortgages, are such as to assure the holder thereof adequate safeguards against loss in the event of default on loans secured by any such mortgages. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 30, 39 Stat. 382.)

972. First mortgages as basis of issue of bonds; assistance in examinations.—Pending the making of such examination in the case of any State, the Federal Farm Loan Board may declare first mortgages on farm lands situated within such State ineligible as the basis for an issue of farm loan bonds; and if said examination shall show that the laws of any such State afford insufficient protection to the holder of first mortgages of the kinds provided in this chapter, said Federal Farm Loan Board may declare said first mortgages on land situated in such State ineligible during the continuance of the laws in question. In making his examination of the laws of the several States and forming his conclusions thereon said farm loan commissioner may call upon the office of the Attorney General of the United States for any needed legal advice or assistance, or may employ special counsel in any State where he considers such action necessary. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 30, 39 Stat. 382.)

973. Statement by Loan Board; noncompliance of State laws with requirements of board.—At the request of the executive of any State the Federal Farm Loan Board shall prepare a statement setting forth in what respects the requirements of said board can not be complied with under the existing laws of such State. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 30, 39 Stat. 382.)

PENALTIES

981. False statements in applications for loans; willful overvaluation of land; acceptance of loan or gratuity by examiners.—Any applicant for a loan under this chapter who shall knowingly make any false statement in his application for such loan, and any member of a loan committee or any appraiser provided for in this chapter who shall willfully overvalue any land offered as security for loans under this chapter, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both. Any examiner appointed under this chapter who shall accept a loan or gratuity from any land bank or national farm loan association examined by him, or from any person connected with any such bank or association in any capacity, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, and may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given, and shall forever thereafter be disqualified from holding office as an examiner under the provisions of this chapter. No examiner, while holding such office, shall perform any other service for compensation for any bank or banking or loan association, or for any person connected therewith in any capacity. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 31, 39 Stat. 382.)

982. Falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting bonds or coupons; passing false bonds or coupons; falsely altering.—Any person who shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, or willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting any bond, coupon, or paper in imitation of, or purporting to be in imitation of, the bonds or coupons issued by any land bank or national farm loan association, now or hereafter authorized and acting under the laws of the United States; or any person who shall pass, utter, or publish, or attempt to pass, utter, or publish any false, forged, or counterfeited bond, coupon, or paper purporting to be issued by any such bank or association, knowing the same to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited; or whoever shall falsely alter, or cause or procure to be falsely altered, or shall willingly aid or assist in falsely altering any such bond, coupon, or paper, or shall pass, utter, or publish as true any falsely altered or spurious bond, coupon, or paper issued, or purporting to have been issued, by any such bank or association, knowing the same to be falsely altered or spurious, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 31 Stat. 382.)

983. Charging or receiving unauthorized fee or commission; disclosing names of borrowers.—Other than the usual salary or director's fee paid to any officer, director, or employee of a national farm loan association, a Federal land bank, or a joint-stock land bank, and other than a reasonable fee paid by such association or bank to any officer, director, attorney, or employee for services rendered, no officer, director, attorney, or employee of an association or bank organized under this chapter shall be a beneficiary of or receive, directly or indirectly, any fee, commission, gift, or other consideration for or in connection with any transaction or business of such association or bank. No land bank or national farm loan association organized under this chapter shall charge or receive any fee, commission, bonus, gift, or other consideration not herein specifically authorized. No examiner, public or private, shall disclose the names of borrowers to other than the proper officers of a national farm loan association or land bank without first having obtained express permission in writing from the farm loan commissioner or from the board of directors of such association or bank, except when ordered to do so by a court of competent jurisdiction or by direction of the Congress of the United States, or of either House thereof, or any committee of Congress or of either House duly authorized. Any person violating any provision of this paragraph shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 31, 39 Stat. 382.)

984. Fraud and embezzlement.—Any person connected in any capacity with any national farm loan association, Federal land bank, or joint stock land bank, who embezzles, abstracts, or willfully misapplies any moneys, funds, or credits thereof, or who without authority from the directors draws any order, assigns any note, bond, draft, mortgage, judgment, or decree thereof, or who makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of such association or land bank with intent in either case to defraud such institution or any other company, body politic or corporate, or any individual person, or to deceive any officer of a national farm loan association or land bank or any agent appointed to examine into the affairs of any such association or bank, and every person who with like intent aids or abets any officer, clerk, or agent in any violation of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 31, 39 Stat. 382.)

985. False pretenses as to character of bonds or coupons.—Any person who shall deceive, defraud, or impose upon, or who shall attempt to deceive, defraud, or impose upon, any person, firm, or corporation by making any false pretense or representation regarding the character, issue, security, or terms of any farm loan bond, or coupon, issued under the terms of this chapter; or by falsely pretending or representing that any farm loan bond, or coupon, issued under the terms of this chapter by one class of land banks is a farm loan bond, or coupon, issued by another class of banks; or by falsely pretending or representing that any farm loan bond, or coupon, issued under the terms of this chapter, or anything contained in said farm loan bond, or coupon, is anything other than, or different from, what it purports to be on the face of said bond or coupon, shall be fined not exceeding $500 or imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 31, 39 Stat. 382.)

986. Arrest of violators of act.—The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to direct and use the Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department to detect, arrest, and deliver into custody of the United States marshal having jurisdiction, any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this section. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 31, 39 Stat. 382.)

GOVERNMENT DEPOSITS IN LAND BANKS

991. Government deposits in land banks authorized; purchase of farm loan bonds by Secretary of Treasury; continuance of temporary organization of land banks.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized in his discretion, upon the request of the Federal Farm Loan Board, to make deposits for the temporary use of any Federal land bank, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. Such Federal land bank shall issue to the Secretary of the Treasury a certificate of indebtedness for any such deposit, bearing a rate of interest not to exceed the current rate charged for other Government deposits, to be secured by farm loan bonds or other collateral, to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury. Any such certificate shall be redeemed and paid by such land bank at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury. The aggregate of all sums so deposited by the Secretary of the Treasury shall not exceed the sum of $6,000,000 at any one time.

The Secretary of the Treasury is further authorized, in his discretion, upon the request of the Federal Farm Loan Board, from time to time during the fiscal years ending June 30, 1918, and June 30, 1919, respectively, to purchase at par and accrued interest with any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, from any Federal land bank, farm loan bonds issued by such bank.

Such purchases shall not exceed the sum of $100,000,000 in either of such fiscal years. Any Federal land bank may at any time repurchase at par and accrued interest for the purpose of redemption or resale any bonds so purchased from it and held in the Treasury.

The bonds of any Federal land bank so purchased by the Secretary of the Treasury, and held in the Treasury under the provisions of this amendment one year after the termination of the pending war, shall upon thirty days' notice from the Secretary of the Treasury be redeemed or repurchased by such bank at par and accrued interest.

The temporary organization of any Federal land bank as provided in sections 671–683 shall be continued so long as any farm loan bonds purchased from it under the provisions of this amendment shall be held by the Treasury, and until the subscriptions to stock in such bank by national farm loan associations shall equal the amount of stock held in such bank by the Government of the United States.

Until such time as the aggregate paid-in capital stock of the twelve Federal land banks shall be $50,000,000, or more, the Secretary of the Treasury may in his discretion make deposits in addition to those authorized by the preceding paragraph, to be secured, redeemed, and paid in the same manner as provided in such paragraph, except that any additional deposit made hereunder shall be called by the Secretary of the Treasury and redeemed by the bank or banks holding the same, within fifteen days after the conclusion of each general offering of farm loan bonds by such bank or banks. The aggregate of such additional deposits outstanding at any time shall not exceed the difference between the aggregate paid-in capital stock of the twelve Federal land banks on the last day of the preceding month, and the sum of $50,000,000. The certificates of indebtedness issued to the Secretary of the Treasury by the Federal land bank for such additional deposits shall bear a rate of interest not exceeding by more than one-half of 1 per centum per annum the rate borne by the last bond issue of the land bank receiving such deposits. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 32, 39 Stat. 384; Jan. 18, 1918, c. 9, § 1, 40 Stat. 431; July 1, 1921, c. 39, 42 Stat. 105.)

ORGANIZATION EXPENSES

1001. Appropriation for expenses.—The sum of $100,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Federal Farm Loan Board, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this chapter, including the rent and equipment of necessary offices. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 33, 39 Stat. 384.)

LIMITATION OF COURT DECISIONS

1011. Effect of partial invalidity of chapter.—If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this chapter shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this chapter, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 34, 39 Stat. 384.)

AMENDMENTS TO CHAPTER

1021. Reservation of right to amend.—The right to amend, alter, or repeal this chapter is hereby expressly reserved. (July 17, 1916, c. 245, § 35, 39 Stat. 384.)

ORGANIZATION

Section 1021. Charters to intermediate credit banks; number; name.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall have power to grant charters for twelve institutions to be known and styled as "Federal Intermediate Credit Banks." (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1454.)

1022. Location; officers and directors; employees.—Federal Intermediate Credit Banks shall be established in the same cities as the twelve Federal land banks. The officers and directors of the several Federal land banks shall be ex officio officers and directors of the several Federal Intermediate Credit Banks hereby provided for and shall have power to employ and pay all clerks, bookkeepers, accountants and other help necessary to carry on the business authorized by this title. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1454.)

1023. Corporate powers; suits by or against.—Each Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall have all the usual powers of corporations, and shall have power to sue and be sued both in law and equity, and for purposes of jurisdiction shall be deemed a citizen of the State where it is located. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1454.)

1024. Fiscal agents for United States.—Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, when designated for that purpose by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall act as fiscal agents of the United States Government and perform such duties as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1454.)

1025. Insolvency; receivers.—Upon default of any obligation any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank may be declared insolvent and placed in the hands of a receiver by the Federal Farm Loan Board, and proceedings shall thereupon be had in accordance with the provisions of sections 961 to 965, inclusive, of this chapter regarding National Farm Loan Associations. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1454.)

1026. Application for charters.—The charters to Federal Intermediate Credit Banks shall be granted upon application of the directors of the Federal Land Banks which application shall be in such form as the Federal Farm Loan Board shall prescribe. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1454.)

DISCOUNTS AND LOANS

1031. Powers enumerated.—Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, when chartered and established, shall have power, subject solely to such restrictions, limitations, and conditions as may be imposed by the Federal Farm Loan Board not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter—

(1) To discount for, or purchase from, any national bank, and/or any State bank, trust company, agricultural credit corporation, incorporated livestock loan company, savings institution, cooperative bank, cooperative credit or marketing association of agricultural producers, organized under the laws of any State or of the Government of the United States, and/or any other Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, with its indorsement, any note, draft, bill of exchange, debenture, or other such obligation the proceeds of which have been advanced or used in the first instance for any agricultural purpose or for the raising, breeding, fattening, or marketing of livestock.

(2) To buy or sell, with or without recourse, debentures issued by any other Federal Intermediate Credit Bank; and

(3) To make loans or advances direct to any cooperative association organized under the laws of any State and composed of persons engaged in producing, or producing and marketing, staple agricultural products, or livestock, if the notes or other such obligations representing such loans are secured by warehouse receipts, and/or shipping documents covering such products, and/or mortgages on livestock: Provided, That no such loan or advance shall exceed 75 per centum of the market value of the products covered by said warehouse receipts and/or shipping documents, or of the livestock covered by said mortgages. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1454; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 7, 43 Stat. 1264.)

1032. Purchase or discount of paper from or for national banks, State banks, trust companies, savings institutions, or corporations making loans for agricultural or livestock purposes; limitation upon amount.—No paper shall be purchased from or discounted for any national bank, State bank, trust company, or savings institution under section 1031, if the amount of such paper added to the aggregate liabilities of such national bank, State bank, trust company or savings institution, whether direct or contingent (other than bona fide deposit liabilities), exceeds the amount of such liability permitted under the laws of the jurisdiction creating the same; or exceeds twice the paid in and unimpaired capital and surplus of such national bank, State bank, trust company, or savings institution. No paper shall under section 1031 be purchased from or discounted for any other corporation engaged in making loans for agricultural purposes or for the raising, breeding, fattening, or marketing of livestock, if the amount of such paper added to the aggregate liabilities of such corporation exceeds the amount of such liabilities permitted under the laws of the jurisdiction creating the same; or exceeds ten times the paid in and unimpaired capital and surplus of such corporation. It shall be unlawful for any national bank which is indebted to any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank upon paper discounted or purchased under section 1031, to incur any additional indebtedness, if by virtue of such additional indebtedness its aggregate liabilities, direct or contingent, will exceed the limitations herein contained. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1455.)

1033. Maturity and sale of loans, advances, or discounts.—Loans, advances, or discounts made under section 1031 shall have a maturity at the time they are made or discounted by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of not less than six months nor more than three years. Any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank may in its discretion sell loans or discounts made under section 1031 with or without its indorsement. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1455.)

1034. Rates of interest or discount charges; rediscount of paper of other Intermediate Credit Banks.—Rates of interest or discount charged by the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks upon such loans and discounts shall be subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board. On the majority vote of the members of the Federal Farm Loan Board any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall be required to rediscount the discounted paper of any other Federal Intermediate Credit Bank at rates of interest to be fixed by the Federal Farm Loan Board. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1455; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 7, 43 Stat. 1264.)

ISSUE OF DEBENTURES

1041. Collateral trust debentures or other similar obligations; issue and sale; maturity; security for; amounts.—Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, when chartered and established, shall have power, subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, to borrow money and to issue and to sell collateral trust debentures or other similar obligations with a maturity at the time of issue of not more than five years, which shall be secured by at least a like face amount of cash, or notes or other such obligations discounted or purchased or representing loans made under section 1031: Provided, That no Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall have power to issue or obligate itself for debentures or other obligations under the provisions of this section; section 1042 or 1043 in excess of ten times the amount of the paid-up capital and surplus of such bank. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1456.)

1042. Preparation and issue of debentures or other obligations; interest rates.—The provisions of chapter 7 relating to the preparation and issue of farm loan bonds shall, so far as applicable, govern the preparation and issue of debentures or other such obligations issued under this section, section 1041 or 1043; but the Federal Farm Loan Board shall prescribe rules and regulations governing the receipt, custody, substitution, and release of collateral instruments securing such debentures or other obligations, the right of substitution being hereby granted. Rates of interest upon debentures and other such obligations issued under this section, section 1041 or 1043 shall, subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, be fixed by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank making the issue, not exceeding 6 per centum per annum. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1456.)

1043. Liability of United States Government; form and contents of debentures or other obligations.—The United States Government shall assume no liability, direct or indirect, for any debentures or other obligations issued under the two preceding sections and all such debentures and other obligations shall contain conspicuous and appropriate language, to be prescribed in form and substance by the Federal Farm Loan Board and approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, clearly indicating that no such liability is assumed. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1456.)

DISCOUNT RATES

1051. Establishment of discount rates.—Before making any discounts under the provisions of this chapter, each Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall establish and promulgate a rate of discount to be approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board. Any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank which has made an issue of debentures under the provision of this chapter may thereafter establish, with the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board a rate of discount not exceeding by more than 1 per centum per annum the rate borne by its last preceding issue of debentures: Provided, That the Federal Farm Loan Board may classify loans and debentures according to maturity, and if debentures of different classes sell at a different rate the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks may differentiate in rates on like classes of loans in the same ratio. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1456; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 2, 43 Stat. 1262.)

1052. Rate of interest charged original borrower on note or obligation discounted.—No organization entitled to the privileges of this title, shall, without the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, be allowed to discount with any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank any note or other obligation, upon which the original borrower has been charged a rate of interest exceeding by more than 1½ per centum per annum the discount rate of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank at the time such loan was made. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1456.)

1053. Purchase by credit banks of debentures or obligations issued by it.—A Federal Intermediate Credit Bank may, subject to the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, buy in the open market at or below par for its own account and retire at or before maturity any debentures or obligations issued by it. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1456.)

CAPITAL STOCK

1061. Amount; shares; subscriptions to by United States.—For the purpose of exercising the powers conferred by this chapter, each Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall have a subscribed capital stock of $5,000,000. Capital stock of such amount shall be divided into shares of $5 each and shall be subscribed, held, and paid by the Government of the United States. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to subscribe to such capital stock on behalf of the United States, such subscription to be subject to call in whole or in part by directors of the said banks upon thirty days' notice to the Secretary of the Treasury and with the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to take out shares as called and to pay for the same out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1457.)

APPLICATION OF EARNINGS

1062. Apportionment of joint expenses of Federal Land Banks; Joint-Stock Land Banks, and Federal Intermediate Credit Banks; expenses of Federal Farm Loan Bureau apportioned to Credit Banks.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall equitably apportion the joint salaries and expenses incurred in behalf of the Federal Land Banks, Joint Stock Land Banks, and Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, and shall assess against each Federal Intermediate Credit Bank its proportionate share of the salaries and expenses of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau made necessary in connection with the operation of this provision. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1457; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 524, § 1, 43 Stat. 1262.)

1072. Net earnings; disposition; surplus on insolvency or liquidation.—After all necessary expenses of a Federal Intermediate Credit Bank have been paid or provided for, the net earnings shall be divided into equal parts and one-half thereof shall be paid to the United States and the balance shall be paid into a surplus fund until it shall amount to 100 per centum of the subscribed capital stock of such bank and that thereafter 10 per centum of such earnings shall be paid into the surplus. After the aforesaid requirements have been fully met, the then net earnings shall be paid to the United States as a franchise tax. The net earnings derived by the United States from Federal Intermediate Credit Banks shall, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, be used to supplement the gold reserve held against outstanding United States notes, or shall be applied to the reduction of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the United States under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. Should a Federal Intermediate Credit Bank be dissolved or go into liquidation, after the payment of all debts and other obligations as hereinbefore provided, any surplus remaining shall be paid to and become the property of the United States and shall be similarly applied. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1457.)

LIABILITY ON DEBENTURES OR OTHER SUCH OBLIGATIONS

1081. Nature of liability.—Any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank issuing debentures or other such obligations under this chapter shall be primarily liable therefor, and shall also be liable, upon presentation of the coupons for interest payments due upon any such debentures or obligations issued by any other Federal Intermediate Credit Bank and remaining unpaid in consequence of the default of the other Federal Intermediate Credit Bank. Any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall likewise be liable for such portion of the principal of debentures or obligations so issued as are not paid after the assets of such other Federal Intermediate Credit Bank have been liquidated and distributed. Such losses, if any, either of interest or of principal, shall be assessed by the Federal Farm Loan Board against solvent Federal Intermediate Credit Banks liable therefor in proportion to the amount of capital stock, surplus, and debentures or other such obligations which each may have outstanding at the time of such assessment. Every Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall, by appropriate action of its board of directors duly recorded in its minutes, obligate itself to become liable on debentures and other such obligations as provided in this section. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1458.)

EXAMINATIONS AND REPORTS

1091. Confidential information and examinations by Comptroller of Currency for Credit Banks; examination and audit of Credit Banks.—In order to enable each Federal Intermediate Credit Bank to carry out the purpose of this chapter the Comptroller of the Currency is hereby authorized and directed, upon the request of any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, (1) to furnish for the confidential use of such bank such reports, records, and other information, as he may have available, relating to the financial condition of national banks through or for which the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank has made or contemplates making discounts, and (2) to make through his examiners, for the confidential use of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, examinations of organizations through or for which the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank has made or contemplates making discounts or loans: Provided, That no such examination shall be made without the consent of such organization except where such examination is required by law: Provided, That any organization, except State banks, trust companies and savings associations, shall, as a condition precedent to securing rediscount privileges with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of its district, file with such bank its written consent to its examination as may be directed by the Federal Farm Loan Board by land bank examiners; and State banks, trust companies and savings associations may be in like manner required to file their written consent that reports of their examination by constituted authorities may be furnished by such authorities upon request to the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of their district. Each Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall be examined and audited at least once each year by the Federal Farm Loan Board, and the results of such examination and audit shall be made public by the board. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1458.)

1092. Reports to Federal Farm Loan Board.—Every Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall make to the Federal Farm Loan Board not less than three reports during each year as requested by the board and according to the form which may be prescribed by the board, verified by the oath or affirmation of the president, or secretary, or treasurer, of each Federal Intermediate Credit Bank and attested by the signature of at least three of the directors. Each report shall exhibit, in detail and under appropriate heads, the resources and liabilities of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank at the close of business on any past day specified by the Federal Farm Loan Board within five days from the receipt of a request or requisition therefor from the board, and in the same form in which it is made to the Federal Farm Loan Board shall be published in a newspaper published in the place where such Federal Intermediate Credit Bank is established, or if there is no newspaper in the place, then in the one published nearest thereto, in the same county, at the expense of the bank; and such proof of publication shall be furnished as may be required by the Federal Farm Loan Board. The Federal Farm Loan Board shall also have power to call for special reports from any particular Federal Intermediate Credit Bank whenever in its judgment the same are necessary for a full and complete knowledge of is [its] condition. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1458.)

1093. Investigations and reports by land bank appraisers for Credit Banks.—Land bank appraisers are authorized, upon the request of any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank and with the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, to investigate and make a written report upon the products covered by warehouse receipts or shipping documents, and the live stock covered by mortgages, which are security for notes or other such obligations representing any loan to any organization, under this chapter. Land bank examiners are authorized, upon the request of any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank and with the approval of the Federal Farm Loan Board, to examine and make a written report upon the condition of any organization, except national banks, to which the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank contemplates making any such loan. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1458.)

1094. Cost of examinations.—The Federal Farm Loan Board shall assess the cost of all examinations made by the examiners of the board under the provisions of this chapter, upon the bank, trust company, savings institution, or organization investigated, in accordance with the regulations to be prescribed by the board. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1458.)

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1101. Authority of Federal Farm Loan Board.—The Federal Farm Loan Board is authorized to make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as it deems necessary for the efficient execution of the provisions of this chapter. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

TAX EXEMPTION

1111. Enumeration of exemptions.—The privileges of tax exemption accorded under section 931 shall apply also to each Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, including its capital, reserve, or surplus, and the income derived therefrom, and the debentures issued under this title shall be deemed and held to be instrumentalities of the Government and shall enjoy the same tax exemptions as are accorded farm loan bonds in said section. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

PENALTY PROVISIONS

1121. Enumeration of various acts by officers or employees of Credit Banks made offenses; punishment.—Any officer, director, agent, or employee of a Federal Intermediate Credit Bank who embezzles, abstracts, purloins, or willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, or credits of such bank, or who, without authority from such bank, draws any order or bill of exchange, makes any acceptance, issues, puts forth, or assigns any note, debenture, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or decree, or who makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of such bank with intent in any case to injure or defraud such bank or any other company or person, or to deceive any officer of such bank or the Federal Farm Loan Board, or any agent or examiner appointed to examine the affairs of such bank; and every receiver of such bank who with like intent to defraud or injure embezzles, abstracts, purloins, or willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, or assets of such bank, and every person who with like intent aids or abets any officer, director, agent, employee, or receiver in any violation of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any district court of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or shall be imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 22, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

1122. False statements to Credit Banks; punishment.—Whoever makes any statement, knowing it to be false, for the purpose of obtaining for himself or for any other person, firm, corporation, or association any advance, or extension or renewal of an advance, or any release or substitution of security from such bank, or for the purpose of influencing in any other way the action of such bank, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

1123. Overvaluation of property offered as security; punishment.—Whoever willfully overvalues any property offered as security for any such advance shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

1124. Offenses by examiners; punishment.—Any examiner appointed under chapters 7 and 8 who shall accept a loan or gratuity from any organization examined by him, or from any person connected with any such organization in any capacity, or who shall disclose the names of borrowers to other than the proper officers of such organization, without first having obtained express permission in writing from the Farm Loan Commissioner or from the board of directors of such organization, except when ordered to do so by a court of competent jurisdiction or by direction of the Congress of the United States or of either House thereof, or any committee of Congress or of either House duly authorized, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment of not exceeding one year, or both, and may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given, and shall forever thereafter be disqualified from holding office as an examiner under the provisions of chapters 7 and 8. No examiner while holding such office shall perform any other service for compensation for any bank or banking or loan association or for any person connected therewith in any capacity. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

1125. Taking of fees and gifts by officers and employees; punishment.—Whoever, being an officer, director, employee, agent or attorney of a Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, stipulates for or receives or consents or agrees to receive any fee, commission, gift, or thing of value, from any person, firm, or corporation for procuring or endeavoring to procure for such person, firm, or corporation, or for any other person, firm, or corporation any loan from any such corporation or extension or renewal of loan or substitution of security, or the purchase or discount or acceptance of any paper, note, draft, check, or bill of exchange by any such corporation, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be imprisoned for not more than one year and fined not more than $5,000, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

1126. Forgery and like offenses relating to obligations of Credit Banks; punishment.—Any person who shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited or willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting any debenture, coupon, or other obligation in imitation of or purporting to be in imitation of the debenture, coupon, or other obligation issued by any Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, or any person who shall pass, utter, or publish or attempt to pass, utter, or publish any false, forged, or counterfeited, debenture, coupon, or other obligation purporting to be issued by any such bank knowing the same to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, or any person who shall falsely alter or cause or procure to be falsely altered or shall willingly aid or assist in falsely altering any such debenture, coupon, or other obligation or who shall pass, utter, or publish as true any falsely altered or spurious debenture, coupon, or other obligation issued or purporting to have been issued by any such bank knowing the same to be falsely altered or spurious, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not to exceed five years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

1127. False representations as to debentures or other obligations issued by credit corporations; punishment.—Any person who shall deceive, defraud, or impose upon or who shall attempt to deceive, defraud, or impose upon any person, partnership, corporation, or association by making any false pretense or representation concerning the character, issue, security, contents, conditions, or terms of any debenture, coupon, or other obligation issued under the terms of this chapter, shall be fined not exceeding $500, or imprisoned not to exceed one year, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

1128. Unlawful use of words "Federal Intermediate Credit Bank"; punishment.—All corporations not organized under the provisions of this chapter are prohibited from using the words "Federal Intermediate Credit Bank" as part of their corporate name, and any violation of this prohibition shall subject the party charged therewith to a civil penalty of $50 for each day during which the violation continues. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1459.)

1129. Taking of unauthorized fees, commissions, or other consideration by credit banks.—No Federal Intermediate Credit Bank shall charge or receive any fee, commission, bonus, gift, or other consideration not herein specifically authorized. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title I, § 2, 42 Stat. 1461.)

FORMATION

Section 1151. Purpose; incorporators; articles of association; signing and filing.—Corporations for the purpose of providing credit facilities for the agricultural and livestock industries of the United States, to be known as National Agricultural Credit Corporations, may be formed by any number of natural persons not less in any case than five. Such persons shall enter into articles of association which shall specify the object for which the corporation is formed. Such articles of association shall be signed by the persons intending to participate in the organization of the corporation and be forwarded to the Comptroller of the Currency to be filed and preserved in his office. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 201, 42 Stat. 1461.)

REQUISITES OF ARTICLES AND CERTIFICATE

1161. Organization certificate; contents.—Persons signing such articles of association shall make an organization certificate which shall specifically state the name of the corporation to be organized, the place where its office is to be located, the State or States in which its operations are to be carried on, the amount of its capital stock, and the number of shares into which the same shall be divided, and that the certificate is made to enable the subscribers to avail themselves of the advantages of this chapter. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 201, 42 Stat. 1466.)

1162. Name of corporation.—The name of each corporation organized under this chapter shall include the words "National Agricultural Credit Corporation." (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 201, 42 Stat. 1461.)

1163. Acknowledgment of organization certificate and articles of association.—The organization certificate and articles of association shall be acknowledged before some judge of a court of record or notary public and shall, together with the acknowledgment thereof duly authenticated by the seal of such court or notary, be transmitted to the Comptroller of the Currency, who shall file, record, and carefully preserve the same in his office. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 201, 42 Stat. 1461.)

CORPORATE POWERS

1171. Corporate powers in general; directors and officers.—Upon making and filing the articles of association and organization certificate with the Comptroller of the Currency, and when the Comptroller of the Currency has approved the same and issued a written permit to begin business, the corporation shall be and become a body corporate, and shall have power—

(1) To adopt and use a corporate seal.

(2) To have succession for a period of fifty years unless sooner dissolved by the act of shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock or by Act of Congress or unless its charter shall be forfeited for violation of law.

(3) To make contracts.

(4) To sue and be sued, complain and defend in any court of law or equity, and for purposes of jurisdiction shall be deemed a citizen of the State where it is located.

(5) To elect or appoint directors and by its board of directors to appoint such officers and employees as may be deemed proper; to define their authority and duties; to fix their salaries; in its discretion to require bonds of any of them and to fix the penalty thereof; and to dismiss at pleasure any of such officers or employees.

(6) To prescribe by its board of directors by-laws not inconsistent with law or the regulations of the Comptroller of the Currency defining the manner in which its general business may be conducted, its shares of stock be transferred, its directors and officers be elected or appointed, its property transferred, and the privileges granted to it by law be exercised and enjoyed.

(7) To exercise by its board of directors or duly authorized officers or agents all powers specifically granted by the provisions of this chapter, and such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business for which it is incorporated, within the limitations prescribed by this chapter, but such corporation shall transact no business except such as is incidental and necessarily preliminary to its organization until authorized in writing by the Comptroller of the Currency to commence business under the provisions of this chapter.

(8) The affairs of each National Agricultural Credit Corporation shall be managed by not less than five directors, who shall be elected by the stockholders at a meeting to be held at any time before the corporation is authorized by the Comptroller of the Currency to commence business, and afterwards at meetings to be held on such day in January of each year as may be provided in the articles of association. The directors so elected shall hold office for one year, and until their successors are elected and have qualified. Every director and other officer of the corporation shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe an oath before a notary public or other official having a seal and authorized to administer oaths, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. Such oath shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Comptroller of the Currency, and shall be filed in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Any vacancy in the board shall be filled by appointment by the remaining directors, and any director so appointed shall hold his place until the next election. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 202, 42 Stat. 1461.)

1172. Additional powers under regulation of Comptroller.—Each National Agricultural Credit Corporation shall have power, under such rules and regulations as the Comptroller of the Currency may prescribe—

(1) To make advances upon, to discount, rediscount, or purchase, and to sell or negotiate, with or without its indorsement or guaranty, notes, drafts, or bills of exchange, and to accept drafts or bills of exchange, which—

(A) Are issued or drawn for an agricultural purpose, or the proceeds of which have been or are to be used for an agricultural purpose;

(B) Have a maturity, at the time of discount, purchase, or acceptance, not exceeding nine months; and

(C) Are secured at the time of discount, purchase, or acceptance by warehouse receipts or other like documents conveying or securing title to nonperishable and readily marketable agricultural products, or by chattel mortgages or other like instruments conferring a first and paramount lien upon livestock which is being fattened for market.

(2) To make advances upon or to discount, rediscount, or purchase, and to sell or negotiate with or without its indorsement or guaranty, notes secured by chattel mortgages conferring a first and paramount lien upon maturing or breeding livestock or dairy herds, and having a maturity at the time of discount, rediscount, or purchase not exceeding three years.

(3) To subscribe for, acquire, own, buy, sell, and otherwise deal in Treasury certificates of indebtedness, bonds or other obligations of the United States to such extent as its board of directors may determine.

(4) To act, when requested by the Secretary of the Treasury, as fiscal agent of the United States, and to perform such services as the Secretary of the Treasury may require in connection with the issue, sale, redemption or repurchase of bonds, notes, Treasury certificates of indebtedness, or other obligations of the United States.

(5) To purchase, hold, acquire, and dispose of shares of the capital stock of any corporation organized under the provisions of section 1221 of this chapter, in an amount not to exceed at any time 20 per centum of its paid-in and unimpaired capital and surplus.

(6) To purchase, hold, and convey real estate for the following purposes, and for no others:

(A) Such as shall be necessary for its accommodation in the transaction of its business.

(B) Such as shall be mortgaged to it in good faith by way of security for debts previously contracted.

(C) Such as shall be conveyed to it in satisfaction of loans or advances made or debts previously contracted in the course of its dealings.

(D) Such as it shall purchase at sales under judgments, decrees, or mortgages held by the corporation or shall purchase to secure debts due to it.

(7) To act as custodian, trustee, or agent for holders of notes, drafts, or bills of exchange sold or negotiated under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of this section or under sections 1221 and 1222.

(8) To issue, subject to such regulations as the Comptroller of the Currency may prescribe, collateral trust notes or debentures, with a maturity not exceeding three years, and to pledge as security for such notes or debentures any notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or other securities held by the corporation under the terms of this chapter. The regulations of the Comptroller of the Currency may prescribe the form of notes or debentures, and of notes, drafts, bills of exchange, warehouse receipts, chattel mortgages, or other instruments which may be pledged as security therefor, the provisions which may be made with regard to release, substitution, or exchange of such securities, and with regard to protection, supervision, inspection, and reinspection of the agricultural commodities of livestock pledged or mortgaged as security therefor. (Mar. 14, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 203, 42 Stat. 1462.)

DEBENTURES AND OTHER OBLIGATIONS; LIABILITY; SECURITY

1181. Liability of United States for debentures and other obligations issued by credit corporations.—The United States Government shall assume no liability, direct or indirect, for any debentures or other obligations issued under this chapter, and all such debentures and other obligations shall contain conspicuous and appropriate language, to be prescribed in form and substance by the Comptroller of the Currency and approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, clearly indicating that no such liability is assumed. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 208, 42 Stat. 1462.)

1182. Additional real-estate security for obligations.—Any obligation referred to in paragraphs (1) or (2) of section 1172, which is secured by chattel mortgage upon livestock of an estimated market value at least equal to the face amount of such obligation, may be additionally secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon real estate or by other securities, under such regulations as may be made by the Comptroller of the Currency. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 203, 42 Stat. 1462.)

LIMITATIONS

1191. Restrictions on amount of indebtedness and on advances, etc., to single person; dealings in livestock restricted.—Except as hereinafter provided in section 1222 of this chapter, no National Agricultural Credit Corporation shall incur liabilities, whether direct or contingent, in excess of ten times its paid in and unimpaired capital and surplus; nor shall any such corporation make advances to or hold notes or other direct obligations of any person or corporation, or have outstanding acceptances for any person or corporation, in an amount exceeding 20 per centum of the paid in and unimpaired capital and surplus of such corporation, unless such advances, notes, acceptances, or other obligations are adequately secured by warehouse receipts representing readily marketable and nonperishable agricultural commodities, in which event the amount of such advances to, or notes or other direct obligations of, or acceptances for, such one person, association, or corporation shall not exceed 50 per centum of such paid in and unimpaired capital and surplus. No such corporation shall purchase, own, or deal in any livestock except livestock taken in the course of liquidation of obligations held by it. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 204, 42 Stat. 1464.)

INTEREST RATES

1201. Charges on loans and discounts.—Any National Agricultural Credit Corporation may charge on any loan or discount made, or upon any note, bill of exchange, or other evidence of debt, interest at the rate allowed by the laws of the State in which such corporation is located. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 205, 42 Stat. 1464.)

1202. Exacting unlawful interest.—The taking, receiving, reserving, or charging a rate of interest greater than is allowed by the preceding section, when knowingly done, shall be deemed a forfeiture of the entire interest which the note, bill, or other evidence of debt carries with it or which has been agreed to be paid thereon. In case the greater rate of interest has been paid, the person by whom it has been paid, or his legal representative, may recover back in an action in the nature of an action for debt twice the amount of the interest thus paid from the corporation taking or receiving the same, provided such action is commenced within two years from the time the usurious interest was collected. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 205, 42 Stat. 1464.)

CAPITAL STOCK

1211. Amount; payment as condition to grant of certificate to do business.—No National Agricultural Credit Corporation shall be permitted to commence business with a paid-in capital of less than $250,000, and no permit to begin business shall be issued to any such corporation by the Comptroller of the Currency until there shall have been filed with him a certificate signed by the president or treasurer and by individuals comprising a majority of the board of directors of such corporation showing that at least 50 per centum of the authorized capital stock of such corporation has been paid in in cash; and the remainder of the capital stock of such corporation shall be paid in installments of at least 10 per centum each on the whole amount of the capital, and the entire authorized capital stock shall be paid in within six months from the date upon which such corporation shall be authorized by the Comptroller of the Currency to commence business. The payment of each installment shall be certified to the Comptroller of the Currency under oath by the president or cashier of such corporation. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 206, 42 Stat. 1464.)

1212. Increase or reduction; withdrawal of paid in capital.—The capital stock of any such corporation may be increased at any time with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency by a vote of two-thirds of the holders of its issued and outstanding capital stock, or by written consent of all of its shareholders without a meeting and without a formal vote; and may be reduced in like manner: Provided, That in no event shall such capital stock be reduced to an amount less than one-tenth of its then outstanding indebtedness, direct or contingent, or to an amount less than $250,000, nor without at the same time reducing proportionately outstanding liabilities. No National Agricultural Credit Corporation, except as herein provided, shall withdraw or permit to be withdrawn, either in the form of dividends or otherwise, any portion of its paid-in capital, and section 56 prohibiting the payment of unearned dividends or the withdrawal of capital of national banks, shall be held to apply to National Agricultural Credit Corporations. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 206, 42 Stat. 1464.)

1213. Transfer of shares.—The provisions and limitations contained in section 52, relative to transfer of the shares of the capital stock of national banks, shall apply to National Agricultural Credit Corporations. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 206, 42 Stat. 1464.)

1214. Collection of unpaid subscriptions.—Whenever any shareholder or his assign fails, upon demand of the Comptroller of the Currency, to pay his subscription or any part thereof on stock of any National Agricultural Credit Corporation subscribed to by him, the directors of the corporation, after fifteen days' notice, shall proceed in the manner prescribed by section 54 for the collection of unpaid subscriptions to stock of national banks. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 206, 42 Stat. 1464.)

1215. Shareholders voting by proxy.—Section 61, which relates to the right of shareholders of national banks to vote by proxy, shall be held to apply to shareholders of National Agricultural Credit Corporations. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 206, 42 Stat. 1464.)

REDISCOUNT CORPORATIONS

1221. Rediscount powers.—National Agricultural Credit Corporations having an authorized capital stock of $1,000,000 or over may be organized under the provisions of this chapter, to exercise all the powers enumerated in section 1172, except that in lieu of the powers conferred in paragraphs (1) and (2) of such section, such corporations shall have powers—

(1) Upon the indorsement of any National Agricultural Credit Corporation, or of any bank or trust company which is a member of the Federal Reserve System, to rediscount for such corporation, bank, or trust company, notes, drafts, bills of exchange, and acceptances, which conform to the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 1172. Such indorsement shall be deemed to be a waiver of demand notice and protest by such corporation as to its own indorsement exclusively.

(2) To discount or purchase notes, drafts, or bills of exchange issued or drawn by cooperative associations of producers of agricultural products, provided such notes, drafts, or bills of exchange are secured at the time of discount or purchase by warehouse receipts or other like documents conveying or securing title to nonperishable and readily marketable agricultural products, and have a maturity at the time of discount or purchase not exceeding nine months.

(3) To sell or negotiate with or without recourse any note, draft, or bill of exchange discounted or purchased hereunder. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 207, 42 Stat. 1465).

1222. Limitations upon indebtedness.—National Agricultural Credit Corporations organized under the provisions of this section, shall not be subject to the limitations contained in section 1191, but the Comptroller of the Currency may, by general regulations, from time to time prescribe the amount of indebtedness, direct or contingent, which such corporations may incur, and the aggregate amount of paper of different types which such corporations may rediscount for any one corporation. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 207, 42 Stat. 1465.)

1223. Deposit of bonds or securities.—Corporations with powers limited, as provided in this section, shall not be subject to the requirements, as to deposit of bonds or other obligations of the United States, as provided in section 1231 of this chapter. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 207, 42 Stat. 1465.)

PERMIT TO BEGIN BUSINESS

1231. Deposit of bonds or obligations of United States as condition to issue of permit.—No National Agricultural Credit Corporation, except corporations with powers limited as provided in sections 1221 and 1222, shall commence business until it has deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank of the district wherein it has its place of business, bonds or other obligations of the United States in an aggregate face amount at least 25 per centum of its paid-in capital stock. Each such corporation shall at all times keep on deposit with such Federal Reserve Bank an amount of such bonds or other obligations of the United States at least equal in face value to 7½ per centum of the aggregate indebtedness of such corporation, direct or contingent, said amount to include the 25 per centum deposited as hereinbefore by this section provided. Except as hereinafter provided, such bonds or other obligations shall be held by such Federal Reserve Bank, subject to the direction and control of the Comptroller of the Currency, in trust for the equal and pro rata protection and benefit of all holders of notes, debentures, drafts, bills of exchange, or acceptances upon which such corporation may be directly or contingently liable. Upon receipt of proper evidence that the amount of such bonds or other obligations of the United States so deposited exceeds 7½ per centum of such aggregate indebtedness, the Comptroller of the Currency may release such excess, provided that the amount remaining on deposit shall in no event be reduced below 25 per centum of the paid-in capital stock of such corporation. Under such regulations as the Comptroller of the Currency may prescribe, a Federal Reserve Bank may, upon request of the corporation which deposited the same, sell any such bonds or obligations for account of such corporation, and permit such corporation to use the proceeds thereof for the protection or preservation of any property pledged or mortgaged as security for obligations owned or indorsed by the corporation. If by reason of such sale the face amount of such bonds or other obligations of the United States remaining on deposit with such Federal Reserve Bank shall be less than 7½ per centum of such aggregate indebtedness of the corporation, no further advances shall be made, or notes, drafts, or bills of exchange discounted, rediscounted, accepted, or purchased, by such corporation until sufficient additional bonds or other obligations of the United States have been deposited to make good the deficiency. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 208, 42 Stat. 1466.)

1232. Determination as to grant of permit.—In determining whether to grant permission to do business to any National Agricultural Credit Corporation, the Comptroller of the Currency shall take into account the extent to which the laws of the State or States in which the corporation will do business afford adequate protection to advances made upon the security of warehouse receipts covering agricultural commodities or chattel mortgages upon livestock with respect to (1) bonding, licensing, and inspection of warehouses; (2) recordation of chattel mortgages or deeds of trust on livestock; (3) recordation of brands or other identifying marks on livestock; (4) reporting and recording of interstate shipments and slaughter of livestock; and (5) right of mortgagee to release a portion of the mortgaged property without prejudice to the priority of lien as against junior lienors or other creditors of the mortgagor. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 208, 42 Stat. 1466.)

MISCELLANEOUS ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

1241. Supervision by Comptroller of Currency.—All National Agricultural Credit Corporations shall be under the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency, who shall be charged with the execution of all laws of the United States relating to the organization, regulation, and control of such corporations. The Comptroller of the Currency shall exercise the same general power of supervision over such corporations as he exercises over national banks organized under the laws of the United States. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

1242. Assessment of credit corporations to pay administration expenses.—The Comptroller of the Currency shall have power to levy semiannually upon the National Agricultural Credit Corporations operating under the provisions of this chapter, in proportion to their total assets, an assessment sufficient to pay the expenses of the administration of this chapter for the ensuing half year, together with any deficit carried forward from the preceding half year. Each such corporation shall pay the amount so assessed against it to the Treasurer of the United States subject to the order of the Comptroller of the Currency to be disbursed by the Comptroller in payment of expenses incurred in the administration of this chapter. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

1243. Examiners of National Agricultural Credit Corporations; appointment; compensation; laws applicable.—The Comptroller of the Currency shall have power to appoint and fix the compensation of examiners to examine National Agricultural Credit Corporations or to use national bank examiners for this purpose. All examiners appointed by him shall be subject to existing provisions of law relating to national bank examiners and to the provisions of chapter 3 which prohibit national bank examiners from performing any service for compensation for any bank or officer and from disclosing the names of borrowers or the collateral for loans without obtaining the written consent of the Comptroller of the Currency, and such provisions shall be held to apply to examiners appointed to examine corporations organized under the provisions of this chapter. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

1244. Expenses of examinations.—The expense of all of the examinations of National Agricultural Credit Corporations shall be assessed by the Comptroller of the Currency upon the corporations examined in proportion to assets or resources held by the corporations upon the dates of examination of the various corporations: Provided, That a minimum charge of $50 shall be made for each such examination. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

1245. Loans or gratuities to examiners.—The provisions of chapter 3 which prohibit any member bank from making loans or granting a gratuity to any national bank examiner shall be applicable to National Agricultural Credit Corporations. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

1246. Reports to Comptroller of Currency.—National Agricultural Credit Corporations shall be required to make reports to the Comptroller of the Currency at the time and in the manner required by sections 161, 162 and 163, and shall be subject to the provisions, so far as the same may be held by said comptroller to be applicable, of section 164. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

1247. Licenses to act as inspectors of livestock as basis for loans; suspension or revocation; false representations as to holding of license.—The Secretary of Agriculture may issue a license to any person, upon presentation to him of satisfactory evidence that such person is competent to inspect livestock as a basis for loans. The Secretary of Agriculture may suspend or revoke any license issued by him under this subdivision whenever, after opportunity for hearing has been given to the licensee, the Secretary shall determine that such licensee is incompetent, or has knowingly or carelessly made false or erroneous inspection reports with respect to any livestock, or has accepted any money or other consideration, directly or indirectly, for any neglect or improper performance of duty, or has in any other manner shown himself to be unfit to act as a livestock inspector. Pending investigation the Secretary of Agriculture, whenever he deems it necessary, may suspend a license temporarily without a hearing. It shall be unlawful for any person other than a holder of a license duly issued under this subdivision, or any person whose license has been suspended or revoked under the terms of this subdivision, to represent that he is a Federally licensed livestock inspector, and any violation of this provision shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

1248. False statements in inspection reports.—Any inspector licensed under the provisions of section 1247 who makes any statement in any inspection report or to any person for the purpose of obtaining for himself, or any other person, any advance on the security of the livestock inspected, knowing the same to be false, or who willfully overvalues any security by which an advance is secured, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

1249. Allotment to Department of Agriculture of amounts necessary for administration of functions vested therein.—The Comptroller of the Currency shall allot to the Department of Agriculture from time to time such sums as may be estimated to be necessary for the administration of the functions vested in that department by this chapter, and may ratably assess the same from time to time against National Agricultural credit Corporation. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 209, 42 Stat. 1467.)

BANKS OF FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM AS STOCKHOLDERS

1251. Right to file application for stock; discretion of Comptroller of Currency.—Any member bank of the Federal Reserve System may file application with the Comptroller of the Currency for permission to invest an amount not exceeding in the aggregate 10 per centum of its paid-in capital stock and surplus in the stock of one or more of the National Agricultural Credit Corporations, and upon approval of such application may purchase such stock. The Comptroller of the Currency shall have discretion to approve or reject such application in whole or in part. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 210, 42 Stat. 1469.)

TAXATION

1261. Scope of authority of State to tax.—Taxation by a State of the shares in National Agricultural Credit Corporations, or of dividends derived therefrom, or of the income of said corporations, or real estate owned by them, shall be such only as is or may be authorized by law in the case of national banking associations; and taxation by a State of the debentures or other obligations of such corporations shall not be at a higher rate than the rate applicable to other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens thereof. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 211, 42 Stat. 1469.)

DEPOSITS

1271. Deposits in Federal reserve member banks.—The moneys of National Agricultural Credit Corporations may be kept on deposit subject to check in any member bank of the Federal reserve system. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 212, 42 Stat. 1469.)

CONVERSION OF CORPORATIONS

1281. Conversion of State agricultural or livestock financing corporations into National Agricultural Credit Corporations.—Any agricultural or livestock financing corporation incorporated by special law of any State or organized under the general laws of any State and having an unimpaired capital sufficient to entitle it to become a National Agricultural Credit Corporation may, by the vote of the shareholders owning not less than 51 per centum of the capital stock of such corporation, with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, be converted into a National Agricultural Credit Corporation under this chapter, with any name approved by the Comptroller of the Currency: Provided, That the said conversion shall not be in contravention of the State law. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 213, 42 Stat. 1469.).

1282. Articles of association and organization certificate.—In cases provided for in the preceding section the articles of association and organization certificate may be executed by a majority of the directors of the corporation, and the certificate shall declare that the owners of 51 per centum of the capital stock have authorized the directors to make such certificate and to change or convert the corporation into a National Agricultural Credit Corporation. A majority of the directors, after executing the articles of association and the organization certificate, shall have power to execute all other papers and to do whatever may be required to make its organization perfect and complete as a National Agricultural Credit Corporation. The shares of any such corporation may continue to be for the same amount each as they were before the conversion, and the directors may continue to be directors of the corporation until others are elected or appointed. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 213, 42 Stat. 1469.)

1283. Powers, duties, and liabilities of converted corporation.—When the Comptroller of the Currency has given the corporation a certificate that the provisions of this chapter have been complied with, such corporation, and all its stockholders, owners, and employees, shall have the same powers and privileges and shall be subject to the same duties, liabilities, and regulations, in all respects, as shall have been prescribed by this chapter for corporations originally organized as National Agricultural Credit Corporations. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 213, 42 Stat. 1469.)

CONSOLIDATION OF CORPORATIONS

1291. Procedure for consolidation; capital stock.—Any two or more National Agricultural Credit Corporations, with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, may consolidate into one corporation under the charter of either or any of the existing corporations on such terms and conditions as may be lawfully agreed upon by a majority of the board of directors of each corporation proposing to consolidate, such agreement to be ratified and confirmed by the affirmative vote of the shareholders of each of such corporations owning at least two-thirds of its capital stock outstanding, at a meeting to be held on the call of the directors after publishing notice of the time, place, and object of the meeting for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the place where the said corporation is located, and if no newspaper is published in the place then in a paper published nearest thereto, and after sending such notice to each shareholder of record by registered mail at least ten days prior to said meeting: Provided, That the capital stock of such consolidated corporation shall not be less than $250,000 paid in if the corporations consolidated are organized to exercise the powers covered by section 1180, or less than $1,000,000 paid in if the corporations consolidated are those organized under section 1221. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 214, 42 Stat. 1470.)

1292. Dissenting stockholders.—When the consolidation provided for in the preceding section shall have been effected and approved by the Comptroller of the Currency any shareholder of either of the corporations so consolidated who has not voted for such consolidation may give notice to the board of directors of the corporation in which he is interested, within twenty days from the date of the certificate of approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, that he dissents from the plan of consolidation as adopted and approved, whereupon he shall be entitled to receive the value of the shares so held by him, to be ascertained by an appraisal made by a committee of three persons, one to be selected by the shareholder, one by the directors, and the third by the two so chosen; and in case the value so affixed shall not be satisfactory to the shareholder, he may within five days after being notified of the appraisal appeal to the Comptroller of the Currency, who shall cause a reappraisal to be made, which shall be final and binding; and if said reappraisal shall exceed the value affixed by said committee, the corporation shall pay the expense of the reappraisal, otherwise the appellant shall pay said expense; and the value so ascertained and determined shall be deemed to be a debt due and be forthwith paid to said shareholder by said corporation, and the shares so paid shall be surrendered and after due notice sold at public auction within thirty days after the final appraisement provided for by this chapter. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 214, 42 Stat. 1470.)

1293. Effect of consolidation.—Where corporations consolidate under the provisions of this chapter, all of the rights, franchises, and interest of said corporations shall be consolidated in and to every species of property, personal and mixed, and choses in action thereto belonging, and shall be deemed to be transferred to and vested in the corporation into which it is consolidated without any deed or other transfer, and the said consolidated corporation shall hold and enjoy the same and all rights of property, franchises, and interest, in the same manner and to the same extent as they were held and enjoyed by the corporations so consolidated therewith. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 214, 42 Stat. 1470.)

INSOLVENCY, RECEIVERSHIP, AND LIQUIDATION

1301. Receiver; appointment; powers.—Whenever any National Agricultural Credit Corporation shall be dissolved and its rights, privileges, and franchises declared forfeited as prescribed in the preceding section, or whenever any creditor of any such corporation shall have obtained a judgment against it in any court of record and made application accompanied by a certificate from the clerk of the court, stating that such judgment has been rendered and has remained unpaid for the space of thirty days or whenever the Comptroller of the Currency shall become satisfied of the insolvency of such corporation, he may, after due examination of its affairs in either case, appoint a receiver who shall proceed to wind up the affairs of such corporation. The receiver so appointed shall exercise the powers and be subject to the restrictions of receivers of national banks; and the Comptroller of the Currency shall have the same powers and duties in connection with the administration of such receivership as he has in reference to the receivership of national banks. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 215, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1302. Shareholders' agents; powers.—Shareholders' agents for shareholders of National Agricultural Credit Corporations may be appointed in the manner prescribed by section 197, and shall have the same general powers and duties and be subject to the same restrictions as shareholders' agents of a national bank. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 215, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1303. Voluntary liquidation.—Any National Agricultural Credit Corporation may go into liquidation and be closed by the vote of its shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock. Whenever a vote is taken to go into liquidation it shall be the duty of the board of directors to cause notice of this fact to be certified under the seal of the corporation by its president or cashier to the Comptroller of the Currency and publication thereof to be made for a period of two months in a newspaper published in the city or town in which the corporation is located, or if no newspaper is there published, in the newspaper published nearest thereto, that the corporation is closing up its affairs and notifying the creditors to present their claims against the corporation for payment. All such claims shall be presented to and approved by a liquidating agent to be appointed by the board of directors of such corporation, with the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, and the affairs of such corporation shall be liquidated by such agent and under the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 215, 42 Stat. 1471.)

PENALTY PROVISIONS

1311. Enumeration of various acts by officers, agents, or employees; punishment.—Any officer, director, agent, or employee of a National Agricultural Credit Corporation who embezzles, abstracts, purloins, or willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, or credits of such corporation, or who, without authority from the directors, draws any order or bill of exchange, makes any acceptance, issues, puts forth, or assigns any note, debenture, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or decree, or who makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of such corporation with intent in any case to injure or defraud such corporation or any other company or person, or to deceive any officer of such corporation or the Comptroller of the Currency, or any agent or examiner appointed to examine the affairs of such corporation; and every receiver of such corporation who with like intent to defraud or injure embezzles, abstracts, purloins, or willfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, or assets of the corporation, and every person who with like intent aids or abets any officer, director, agent, employee, or receiver in any violation of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any district court of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or shall be imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 216, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1312. False statements; punishment.—Whoever makes any statement, knowing it to be false, for the purpose of obtaining for himself or for any other person, firm, corporation, or association any advance, or extension or renewal of an advance, or any release or substitution of security, from a National Agricultural Credit Corporation, or for the purpose of influencing in any other way the action of such corporation, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 216, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1313. Overvaluation of property offered as security; punishment.—Whoever willfully overvalues any property offered as security for any such advance shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 216, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1314. Offenses by examiners; punishment.—Any examiner appointed under this chapter who shall accept a loan or gratuity from any organization examined by him, or from any person connected with any such organization in any capacity, or who shall disclose the names of borrowers to other than the proper officers of such organization, without first having obtained expressed permission in writing from the Comptroller of the Currency or from the board of directors of such organization, except when ordered to do so by a court of competent jurisdiction or by direction of the Congress of the United States or of either House thereof, or any committee of Congress or of either House duly authorized, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment of not exceeding one year, or both, and may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given, and shall forever thereafter be disqualified from holding office as an examiner under the provisions of this chapter. No examiner while holding such office shall perform any other service for compensation for any bank or banking or loan association or for any person connected therewith in any capacity. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 216, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1315. Taking of fees and gifts by officers; punishment.—Whoever, being an officer, director, employee, agent or attorney of a National Agricultural Credit Corporation stipulates for or receives or consents or agrees to receive any fee, commission, gift, or thing of value from any person, firm, or corporation for procuring or endeavoring to procure for such person, firm, or corporation, or for any other person, firm, or corporation any loan from any such corporation or extension or renewal of loan or substitution of security, or the purchase or discount or acceptance of any paper, note, draft, check, or bill of exchange by any such corporation, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be imprisoned for not more than one year or fined not more than $5,000, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 216, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1316. Forgery and like offenses relating to obligations of credit corporations; punishment.—Any person who shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, or willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting any debentures, coupons, or other obligations in imitation of or purporting to be an imitation of the debentures, coupons, or other obligations issued by any National Agricultural Credit Corporation, and any person who shall pass, utter, or publish or attempt to pass, utter, or publish any false, forged, or counterfeited debenture, coupon, and other obligation purporting to be issued by any such corporation knowing the same to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, and any person who shall falsely alter or cause or procure to be falsely altered, or shall willingly aid or assist in falsely altering any such debenture, coupon, or other obligation, or who shall pass, utter, or publish as true any falsely altered or spurious debenture, coupon, or other obligation issued or purporting to have been issued by any such corporation knowing the same to be falsely altered or spurious shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not to exceed five years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 216, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1317. False representations as to debenture or other obligations issued by credit banks; punishment.—Any person who shall deceive, defraud, or impose upon or who shall attempt to deceive, defraud, or impose upon any person, partnership, corporation, or association by making any false pretense or representation concerning the character, issue, security, contents, conditions, or terms of any debenture, coupon, or other obligation issued under the terms of this chapter, shall upon conviction be fined not exceeding $500, or imprisoned not to exceed one year, or both. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 216, 42 Stat. 1471.)

1318. Unlawful use of words "National Agricultural Credit Corporation"; punishment.—All corporations not organized under the provisions of this chapter are prohibited from using the words "National Agricultural Credit Corporation" as part of their corporate name, and any violation of this prohibition shall subject the party charged therewith to a civil penalty of $50 for each day during which the violation continues. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 216, 42 Stat. 1471.)

PARTIAL INVALIDITY; AMENDMENTS AND REPEALS

1321. Partial invalidity of chapter.—If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this chapter shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this chapter, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment is rendered. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title V, § 507, 42 Stat. 1482.)

1322. Amendment or repeal of chapter.—The right to amend, alter, or repeal the provisions of this chapter is hereby expressly reserved. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title II, § 217, 42 Stat. 1473.)

Chapter 1.—BUREAU OF THE CENSUS.

Sec.
1. Permanent establishment.
2. Director of the Census; duties.
3. Duties as to Official Register.
4. Printing and distribution of bulletins, etc.
5. Civil service; preferences.
6. Citizenship of employees.
7. Division of Cotton and Tobacco Statistics.
8. Copies of old records for States or cities.

Section 1. Permanent establishment.—The Census Office temporarily established in the Department of the Interior in accordance with an Act entitled "An Act to provide for taking the twelfth and subsequent censuses," approved March 3, 1899, is made a permanent office. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 1, 32 Stat. 51.)

2. Director of the Census; duties.—The permanent Census Office shall be in charge of a Director of the Census, appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. It shall be his duty to superintend and direct the taking of censuses of the United States and to perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by law. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 3, 32 Stat. 51.)

3. Duties as to Official Register.—The Director of the Census shall cause to be compiled, edited, indexed and published, on or before the first Monday in October of each year an Official Register of the United States which shall contain a full and complete list of all persons occupying administrative and supervisory positions in each executive and judicial department of the Government, including the District of Columbia, in connection with which salaries are paid from the Treasury of the United States. The Register shall show the name; official title; salary, compensation and emoluments; legal residence and place of employment for each person listed therein: Provided, however, That the Official Register shall not contain the name of any postmaster, assistant postmaster or officer of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

To enable the Director of the Census to compile and publish the Official Register of the United States, the Executive Office, the judiciary, the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, and the head of each executive department, independent office, establishment and commission of the Government shall, as of the 1st day of July of each year, supply to the Director of the Census the data required by this section, upon forms approved and furnished by him, in due time to permit the publication of the Official Register as herein provided; and no extra compensation shall be allowed to any officer, clerk, or employee of the Bureau of the Census for compiling the Official Register. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 7, 32 Stat. 52; June 7, 1906, c. 3048, 34 Stat. 219; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 421, § 2 (a, b), 43 Stat. 1105.)

4. Printing and distribution of bulletins, etc.—The Director of the Census is authorized and directed to have printed, published, and distributed, from time to time, bulletins and reports of the preliminary and other results of the various investigations authorized by law; and all of said printing and binding shall be done by the Public Printer at the Government Printing Office. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 11, 32 Stat. 53.)

5. Civil service; preferences.—All employees of the Census Office, except unskilled laborers, are placed under the provisions of sections 632, 633, 635, 637, 638, 640, 641 and 642 of Title 5, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES, and the rules established thereunder. Persons who have served as soldiers in any war in which the United States may have been engaged, who have been honorably discharged from the service of the United States and the widows of such soldiers, shall have preference in the matter of employment. All new appointments to the permanent clerical force in the Census Office shall be made in accordance with the requirements of sections 632, 633, 635, 637, 638, 640, 641 and 642 aforesaid. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 5, 32 Stat. 51.)

6. Citizenship of employees.—All employees of the Census Office shall be citizens of the United States. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 10, 32 Stat. 53.)

7. Division of Cotton and Tobacco Statistics.—There shall be in the official organization of the bureau a separate, distinct, and independent division called the Division of Cotton and Tobacco Statistics. (May 10, 1916, c. 117, § 1, 39 Stat. 110.)

8. Copies of old records for States or cities.—The Director of the Census is authorized, upon the request of a governor of any State or Territory, or the chief officer of any municipal government, to furnish such governor or municipal officer with copies of so much of the files or records of the eleven decennial enumerations from 1790 to 1890, inclusive, as may be requested, at the discretion of the Director of the Census, upon payment of the actual cost of making such copies; and the amounts so received shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States, to be placed to the credit of and in addition to the appropriation made for the taking of the census. (Jan. 12, 1903, c. 90, 32 Stat. 767.)

Chapter 2.—THE DECENNIAL CENSUS.

53. Additional census of agriculture and livestock.
54. Additional statistics of manufactured products.
55. Copies of returns, data, etc., for States, courts and others.

Section 21. Time and place of taking.—A census of the population, agriculture, manufactures, forestry and forest products, and mines and quarries of the United States shall be taken by the Director of the Census in the year 1920 and every ten years thereafter. The census provided for in this section shall include each State, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico. A census of Guam and Samoa shall be taken in the same year by the respective governors of said islands and a census of the Panama Canal Zone by the Governor of the Canal Zone in accordance with plans prescribed or approved by the Director of the Census. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 1, 40 Stat. 1291.)

22. Decennial census period.—The period of three years beginning the 1st day of July next preceding the census provided for in the foregoing section shall be known as the decennial census period, and the reports upon the inquiries provided for in said section shall be completed and published within such period. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 2, 40 Stat. 1292.)

23. Employees during census period; appointment and preferences.—During the decennial census period, and no longer, there may be employed in the Census Office, in addition to the force provided for by the Act making appropriations for the Departments of State and Justice and for the judiciary and for the Departments of Commerce and Labor and for other purposes for the fiscal year immediately preceding the decennial census period, an assistant director, who shall be an experienced practical statistician; a chief statistician, who shall be a person of known and tried experience in statistical work; a disbursing clerk; an appointment clerk; a private secretary to the director; four stenographers; eight expert chiefs of division; and ten statistical experts. The assistant director shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The chief statistician, the disbursing clerk, the appointment clerk, the chiefs of divisions, and the private secretary to the director shall be appointed without examination by the Secretary of Commerce upon the recommendation of the Director of the Census. The statistical experts and the stenographers shall be appointed in conformity with sections 632, 633, 635, 637, 638, 640, 641 and 642 of Title 5, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES, and rules thereunder: Provided, That whenever practicable women and honorably discharged soldiers and sailors shall be employed in the positions herein provided for in this section. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 3, 40 Stat. 1292.)

24. Duties of additional employees; disbursing clerk.—The assistant director shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by the Director of the Census. In the absence of the director, the assistant director shall serve as director, and in the absence of the director and assistant director, the chief clerk shall serve as director.

The appointment clerk shall perform the duties assigned him by the Director of the Census. The disbursing clerk of the Census Office shall, at the beginning of the decennial census period, give bond to the Secretary of the Treasury in the sum of $100,000, surety to be approved by the Solicitor of the Treasury, which bond shall be conditioned that the said officer shall render, quarter yearly, a true and faithful account to the General Accounting Office of all moneys and properties which shall be received by him by virtue of his office during the said decennial census period. Such bond shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury, to be by him put in suit upon any breach of the conditions thereof. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 4, 40 Stat. 1292; June 10, 1918, c. 18, § 304, 42 Stat. 24.)

25. Compensation on piece-price basis.—Employees engaged in the compilation or tabulation of statistics by the use of mechanical devices may be compensated on a piece-price basis to be fixed by the director. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 6, 40 Stat. 1292.)

26. Examination and selection of employees; transfers.—The additional clerks and other employees employed in the Census Office during the decennial census period shall be subject to such special test examinations as the Director of the Census may prescribe, subject to the approval of the United States Civil Service Commission, these examinations to be conducted by the United States Civil Service Commission, to be open to all applicants without regard to political party affiliations, and to be held at such places in each State as may be designated by the Civil Service Commission. Certifications shall be made by the Civil Service Commission upon request of the Director of the Census from the eligible registers so established, in conformity with the law of apportionment as now provided for the classified service, and selections therefrom shall be made by the Director of the Census, in the order of rating: Provided, That the requirement as to conformity with the law of apportionment shall not apply to messenger boys, unskilled laborers, and charwomen: And provided further, That no person afflicted with tuberculosis shall be appointed and that each applicant for appointment shall accompany his or her application with a certificate of health from some reputable physician: And provided further, That in no instance shall more than one person be appointed from the same family: And provided further, That when the exigencies of the service require, the director may appoint for temporary employment not exceeding six months' duration from the aforesaid list of eligibles those who, by reason of residence or other conditions, are immediately available; and may also appoint for not exceeding six months' duration persons having had previous experience in operating mechanical appliances in census work whose efficiency records in operating such appliances are satisfactory to him, and may accept such records in lieu of the civil-service examination: And provided further, That employees in other branches of the departmental classified service who have had previous experience in census work may be transferred without examination to the Census Office to serve during the whole or a part of the decennial census period, and at the end of such service the employees so transferred shall be eligible to appointment to positions in any department held by them at date of transfer to the Census Office without examination, but no employee so transferred shall within one year after such transfer receive higher salary than he is receiving at the time of the transfer: And provided further, That during the decennial census period and no longer the Director of the Census may fill vacancies in the permanent force of the Census Office by the promotion or transfer of clerks or other employees employed on the temporary force authorized by the preceding section: And provided further, That at the expiration of the decennial census period the term of service of all employees so transferred and of all other temporary officers and employees appointed under the provisions of this chapter shall terminate, and such officers and employees shall not be eligible to appointment or transfer into the classified service of the Government by virtue of their examination or appointment under this chapter: And provided further, That in the selection of the additional clerks and employees employed in the Census Office during the decennial census period the Director of the Census is authorized to use, so far as is practicable, the reemployment registers established by Executive order of November 29, 1918, so far as the same applies to permanent appointments by competition. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97; § 7, 40 Stat. 1293.)

27. Scope of decennial census; statistics; by whom collected.—The Fourteenth Census shall be restricted to inquiries relating to population, to agriculture, to manufactures, to forestry and forest products, and to mines and quarries. The schedules relating to population shall include for each inhabitant the name, place of abode, relationship to head of family, color, sex, age, conjugal condition, place of birth, place of birth of parents, nationality or mother tongue of all persons born in foreign countries, nationality or mother tongue of parents of foreign birth, number of years in the United States, citizenship, occupation, whether or not employer or employee, whether or not engaged in agriculture, school attendance, literacy, tenure of home and the encumbrance thereon, and the name and address of each blind or deaf and dumb person.

The schedules relating to agriculture shall include name, color, sex, and country of birth of occupant of each farm, tenure, acreage of farm, acreage of woodland, value of farm and improvements, and the encumbrance thereon, value of farm implements, number of livestock on farms, ranges, and elsewhere, and the acreage of crops and the quantities of crops and other farm products for the year ending December 31 next preceding the enumeration. Inquiries shall be made as to the quantity of land reclaimed by irrigation and drainage and the crops produced; also as to the location and character of irrigation and drainage enterprises, and the capital invested in such enterprises.

The schedules of inquiries relating to manufactures, to forestry and forest products, and to mines and quarries shall include the name and location of each establishment; character of organization, whether individual, corporate, or other form; character of business or kind of goods manufactured; amount of capital actually invested; number of proprietors, firm members, copartners and officers, and the amount of their salaries; number of employees and the amount of their wages; quantity and cost of materials used in manufactures; principal miscellaneous expenses; quantity and value of products; time in operation during the year; character and quantity of power used; and character and number of machines employed.

The census of manufactures, of forestry and forest products, and of mines and quarries shall relate to the year ending December 31, next preceding the enumeration of population, and shall be confined to manufacturing establishments and mines and quarries which were in active operation during all or a portion of that year. The census of manufactures shall furthermore be confined to manufacturing establishments conducted under what is known as the factory system, exclusive of the so-called neighborhood, household, and hand industries.

Whenever he shall deem it expedient, the Director of the Census may charge the collection of these statistics upon special agents or upon detailed employees, to be employed without respect to locality.

The number, form, and subdivision of inquiries provided for in this section shall be determined by the Director of the Census. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 8, 40 Stat. 1294.)

28. Designation of supervisors and districts; vacancies.—The Director of the Census shall, at least six months prior to the date fixed for commencing the enumeration at each decennial census, designate the number, whether one or more, of supervisors of census for each State, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico, and shall define the districts within which they are to act; except that the Director of the Census, in his discretion, need not designate supervisors for Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico, but in lieu thereof may employ special agents as provided in this chapter. The supervisors shall be appointed by the Secretary of Commerce upon the recommendation of the Director of the Census: Provided, That the whole number of supervisors shall not exceed four hundred: Provided further, That so far as practicable and desirable the boundaries of the supervisors' districts shall conform to the boundaries of the congressional districts: And provided further, That if in any supervisor's district the supervisor has not been appointed and qualified ninety days preceding the date fixed for the commencement of the enumeration, or if any vacancy shall occur thereafter, either through death, removal, or resignation of a supervisor, or from any other cause, the Director of the Census may appoint a temporary supervisor or detail an employee of the Census Office to act as supervisor for that district. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 9, 40 Stat. 1295.)

29. Duties of supervisors; enumerators.—Each supervisor of census shall be charged with the performance within his own district of the following duties: To consult with the Director of Census in regard to the division of his district into subdivisions most convenient for the purpose of the enumeration, which subdivisions or enumeration districts shall be defined and the boundaries thereof fixed by the Director of the Census; to designate to the director suitable persons and with his consent to employ such persons as enumerators, one or more for each subdivision; to communicate to enumerators the necessary instructions and directions relating to their duties; to examine and scrutinize the returns of the enumerators, and in the event of discrepancies or deficiencies appearing in any of the said returns, to use all diligence in causing the same to be corrected or supplied; to forward the completed returns of the enumerators to the director at such time and in such manner as shall be prescribed, and to make up and forward to the director the accounts of each enumerator in his district for service rendered, which accounts shall be duly certified to by the enumerator, and the same shall be certified as true and correct if so found by the supervisor, and said accounts so certified shall be accepted and paid by the director. The duties imposed upon the supervisor by this chapter shall be performed in any and all particulars in accordance with the orders and instructions of the Director of the Census. (Mar. 8, 1919, c. 97, § 10, 40 Stat. 1295.)

30. Compensation of supervisors; allowances.—Each supervisor of the census shall, upon the completion of his duties to the satisfaction of the Director of the Census, receive the sum of $1,500, and in addition thereto $1 for each thousand or major fraction of a thousand of population enumerated in his district, such sums to be in full compensation for all services rendered and expenses incurred by him: Provided, That of the above-named compensation a sum not to exceed $600, in the discretion of the Director of the Census, may be paid to any supervisor prior to the completion of his duties in one or more payments, as the Director of the Census may determine: Provided further, That in emergencies arising in connection with the work of preparation for or during the progress of the enumeration in his district, or in connection with the reenumeration of any subdivision, a supervisor may, in the discretion of the Director of the Census, be allowed actual and necessary traveling expenses and an allowance in lieu of subsistence not exceeding $4 per day during his necessary absence from his usual place of residence: And provided further, That an appropriate allowance to supervisors for clerk hire may be made when deemed necessary by the Director of the Census. (Mar. 8, 1919, c. 97, § 11, 40 Stat. 1296.)

31. Duties of enumerator; commission.—Each enumerator shall be charged with the collection in his subdivision of the facts and statistics required by the population and agricultural schedules and such other schedules as the Director of the Census may determine shall be used by him in connection with the census, as provided in section 27. It shall be the duty of each enumerator to visit personally each dwelling house in his subdivision, and each family therein, and each individual living out of a family in any place of abode, and by inquiry made of the head of each family, or of the member thereof deemed most competent and trustworthy, or of such individual living out of a family, to obtain each and every item of information and all particulars required by this chapter, as of date January 1 of the year in which the enumeration shall be made; and in case no person shall be found at the usual place of abode of such family, or individual living out of a family, competent to answer the inquiries made in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, then it shall be lawful for the enumerator to obtain the required information as nearly as may be practicable from the family or families or person or persons living nearest to such place of abode who may be competent to answer such inquiries. It shall be the duty also of each enumerator to forward the original schedules, properly filled out and duly certified, to the supervisor of his district as his returns under the provisions of this chapter; and in the event of discrepancies or deficiencies being discovered in these schedules he shall use all diligence in correcting or supplying the same. In case an enumeration district embraces all or any part of any incorporated borough, village, town, or city, and also other territory not included within the limits of such incorporated borough, village, town, or city, it shall be the duty of the enumerator to clearly and plainly distinguish and separate, upon the population schedules, the inhabitants of such borough, village, town, or city from the inhabitants of the territory not included therein. No enumerator shall be deemed qualified to enter upon his duties until he has received from the supervisor of the district to which he belongs a commission, signed by the supervisor, authorizing him to perform the duties of enumerator, and setting forth the boundaries of the subdivision within which such duties are to be performed. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 12, 40 Stat. 1296.)

32. Enumeration districts and assignments.—The territory assigned to each supervisor shall be divided into as many enumeration districts as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter, and, in the discretion of the Director of the Census, two or more enumeration districts may be given to one enumerator, and the boundaries of all the enumeration districts shall be clearly described by civil divisions, rivers, roads, public surveys, or other easily distinguishable lines. Enumerators may be assigned for the special enumeration of institutions, when desirable, without reference to the number of inmates. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 13, 40 Stat. 1296.)

33. Removal of enumerator.—Any supervisor of census may, with the approval of the Director of the Census, remove any enumerator in his district and fill the vacancy thus caused or otherwise occurring. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 14, 40 Stat. 1297.)

34. Incomplete or erroneous enumeration.—Whenever it shall appear that any portion of the census provided for in this chapter has been negligently or improperly taken, and is by reason thereof incomplete or erroneous, the Director of the Census may cause such incomplete and unsatisfactory enumeration and census to be amended or made anew. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 14, 40 Stat. 1297.)

35. Interpreters.—The Director of the Census may authorize and direct supervisors of census to employ interpreters to assist the enumerators of their respective districts in the enumeration of persons not speaking the English language, but no authorizations shall be given for such employment in any district until due and proper effort has been made to employ an enumerator who can speak the language or languages for which the services of an interpreter would otherwise be required. It shall be the duty of such interpreters to accompany the enumerators and faithfully translate the latters' inquiries and the replies thereto, but in no case shall any such interpreter perform the duties of the enumerator unless commissioned as such by the Director of the Census. The compensation of such interpreters shall be fixed by the Director of the Census in advance, and shall not exceed $5 per day for each day actually and necessarily employed. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 15, 40 Stat. 1297.)

36. Compensation of enumerators; expenses.—The compensation of enumerators shall be determined by the Director of the Census as follows: In subdivisions where he shall deem such remuneration sufficient, an allowance of not less than 2 nor more than 4 cents for each inhabitant; not less than 20 nor more than 30 cents for each establishment of productive industry reported; not less than 20 nor more than 30 cents for each farm reported; not less than 20 nor more than 50 cents for each irrigation or drainage enterprise reported; and 10 cents for each barn and inclosure containing livestock not on farms. In other subdivisions the Director of the Census may fix a mixed rate of not less than $1 nor more than $2 per day and, in addition, an allowance of not less than 1 nor more than 3 cents for each inhabitant enumerated, and not less than 15 nor more than 20 cents for each farm and each establishment of productive industry reported. In other subdivisions per diem rates shall be fixed by the director according to the difficulty of enumeration, having special reference to the regions to be canvassed and the sparsity of settlement or other considerations pertinent thereto. The compensation allowed to an enumerator in any such district shall not be less than $3 nor more than $6 per day of eight hours' actual field work, and no payment shall be made for time in excess of eight hours for any one day. The subdivisions or enumeration districts to which the several rates of compensation shall apply shall be designated by the Director of the Census at least two weeks in advance of the enumeration. No claim for mileage or traveling expenses shall be allowed any enumerator in either class of subdivisions, except in extreme cases, and then only when authority has been previously granted by the Director of the Census; and the decision of the director as to the amount due any enumerator shall be final. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 16, 40 Stat. 1297.)

37. Residence of supervisors and enumerators.—Within the limits of continental United States each supervisor to be appointed or selected under this chapter shall be an actual resident of the district, and each enumerator to be appointed or selected under this chapter shall, so far as practicable, be an actual resident of the subdivision within which his duties are to be performed; but an enumerator may be appointed if he be an actual resident of the city, township, or other civil division of which the subdivision in which his duties are to be performed is a part. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 16, 40 Stat. 1297.)

38. Payment for services on death of supervisor or enumerator.—In the event of the death of any supervisor or enumerator after his appointment and entrance on his duties, the Director of the Census is authorized to pay to the widow or legal representative of such supervisor or enumerator such sum as he may deem just and fair for the services rendered by such supervisor or enumerator. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 17, 40 Stat. 1298.)

39. Special agents; appointment, duties, compensation, and allowances.—Special agents may be appointed by the Director of the Census to carry out the provisions of this chapter, sections 3, 77, 101, 111, 112, and statutes supplemental thereto; and such special agents shall perform such duties in connection with the enforcement of said chapter, sections, or statutes as may be required of them by the Director of the Census. The special agents thus appointed shall receive compensation at rates to be fixed by the Director of the Census, such compensation, however, not to exceed $6 per diem except as hereinafter provided: Provided, That during the decennial census period the Director of the Census may fix the compensation of not to exceed twenty-five special agents, who shall be persons of known and tried experience in statistical work, at an amount not to exceed $10 per diem: Provided further, That the Director of the Census may, in his discretion, fix the compensation of special agents on a piece-price basis without limitation as to the amount earned per diem: And provided further, That the special agents appointed under this section shall be entitled to necessary traveling expenses and an allowance in lieu of subsistence not to exceed $4 per diem during necessary absence from their usual places of residence; but no pay or allowance in lieu of subsistence shall be allowed special agents when employed in the Census Office on other than the special work committed to them, and no appointments of special agents shall be made for clerical work: And provided further, That the Director of the Census shall have power, and is authorized, to appoint special agents to assist the supervisors whenever he may deem it proper, in connection with the work of preparation for, or during the progress of, the enumeration or in connection with the reenumeration of any district or a part thereof; or he may, in his discretion, employ for this purpose any of the permanent or temporary employees of the Census Office; and the special agents and employees of the Census Office so appointed or employed shall perform such duties in connection with the enforcement of this chapter as may be required of them by the Director of the Census or by the supervisors of the districts to which they are assigned, and when engaged in the work of enumeration or reenumeration shall have like authority with and perform the same duties as the enumerators in respect to the subjects committed to them under this chapter. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 18, 40 Stat. 1298.)

40. Oath or affirmation.—Every supervisor, supervisor's clerk, enumerator, interpreter, special agent, or other employee shall take and subscribe to an oath or affirmation, to be prescribed by the Director of the Census. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 19, 40 Stat. 1298.)

41. Qualification of employees.—All appointees and employees provided for in this chapter shall be appointed or employed and examined, if examination is required by this chapter, solely with reference to their fitness to perform the duties required of them by the provisions of this chapter, and without reference to their political party affiliations. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 19, 40 Stat. 1298.)

42. Enumeration; commencement and completion.—The enumeration of the population required by section 21 shall be taken as of the 1st day of January, and it shall be the duty of each enumerator to commence the enumeration of his district on the day following, unless the Director of the Census in his discretion shall defer the enumeration in said district by reason of climatic or other conditions which would materially interfere with the proper conduct of the work; but in any event it shall be the duty of each enumerator to prepare the returns hereinbefore required to be made and to forward the same to the supervisor of his district within thirty days from the commencement of the enumeration of his district: Provided, That in any city having two thousand five hundred inhabitants or more under the preceding census the enumeration of the population shall be completed within two weeks from the commencement thereof. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 20, 40 Stat. 1298.)

43. Receiving compensation for appointment; penalty.—If any person shall receive or secure to himself any fee, reward, or compensation as a consideration for the appointment or employment of any person as supervisor, enumerator, or clerk, or other employee, or shall in any way receive or secure to himself any part of the compensation paid to any supervisor, enumerator, clerk, or other employee, he shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $3,000 and be imprisoned not more than five years. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 21, 40 Stat. 1299.)

44. Offenses by census officials.—Any supervisor, supervisor's clerk, enumerator, interpreter, special agent, or other employee who, having taken and subscribed the oath of office required by this chapter, shall, without justifiable cause, neglect or refuse to perform the duties enjoined on him by this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $500; or if he shall, without the authority of the Director of the Census, publish or communicate any information coming into his possession by reason of his employment under the provisions of this chapter, section 111 or statutes supplemental thereto, he shall be guilty of a felony, and shall upon conviction thereof be fined not to exceed $1,000 or be imprisoned not to exceed two years, or both so fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court; or if he shall willfully and knowingly swear or affirm falsely as to the truth of any statement required to be made or subscribed by him under oath by or under authority of this chapter, sections 3, 77, 101, 111, and 112 or statutes supplemental thereto, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $2,000 or imprisoned not exceeding five years, or both; or if he shall willfully and knowingly make a false certificate or a fictitious return he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction of either of the last-named offenses he shall be fined not exceeding $2,000 or be imprisoned not exceeding five years, or both; or if any person who is or has been an enumerator shall knowingly or willfully furnish or cause to be furnished, directly or indirectly, to the Director of the Census or to any supervisor of the census any false statement or false information with reference to any inquiry for which he was authorized and required to collect information he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $2,000 or be imprisoned not exceeding five years, or both. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 22, 40 Stat. 1299.)

45. Duty to furnish correct information; penalty.—It shall be the duty of all persons over eighteen years of age when requested by the Director of the Census, or by any supervisor, enumerator, or special agent, or other employee of the Census Office, acting under the instructions of the said director, to answer correctly, to the best of their knowledge, all questions on the census schedules applying to themselves and to the families to which they belong or are related, and to the farm or farms of which they or their families are the occupants; and any person over eighteen years of age who, under the conditions stated in this section shall refuse or willfully neglect to answer any of these questions, or shall willfully give answers that are false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $100. And it shall be the duty of every owner, proprietor, manager, superintendent, or agent of a hotel, apartment house, boarding or lodging house, tenement, or other building, when requested by the Director of the Census, or by any supervisor, enumerator, special agent, or other employee of the Census Office, acting under the instructions of the said director, to furnish the names of the occupants of said hotel, apartment house, boarding or lodging house, tenement, or other building, and to give thereto free ingress and egress to any duly accredited representative of the Census Office, so as to permit of the collection of statistics for census purposes, including the proper and correct enumeration of all persons having their usual place of abode in said hotel, apartment house, boarding or lodging house, tenement, or other building; and any owner, proprietor, manager, superintendent, or agent of a hotel, apartment house, boarding or lodging house, tenement, or other building who shall refuse or willfully neglect to give such information or assistance under the conditions stated in this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $500. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 23, 40 Stat. 1299.)

46. Causing inaccurate enumeration; penalty.—And it is made unlawful for any individual, committee, or other organization of any kind whatsoever, to offer or render to any supervisor, supervisor's clerk, enumerator, interpreter, special agent, or other officer or employee of the Census Office engaged in making an enumeration of population, either directly or indirectly, any suggestion, advice, or assistance of any kind, with the intent or purpose of causing an inaccurate enumeration of population to be made, either as to the number of persons resident in any district or community, or in any other respect; and any individual, or any officer or member of any committee or other organization of any kind whatsoever, who directly or indirectly offers or renders any such suggestion, advice, information, or assistance, with such unlawful intent or purpose, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $5,000. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 23, 40 Stat. 1299.)

47. Duty to furnish information as to organization, etc.; penalty.—It shall be the duty of every owner, official, agent, person in charge, or assistant to the person in charge of any company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or organization of any nature whatsoever, to answer completely and correctly to the best of his knowledge all questions relating to his respective company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or other organization, or to records or statistics in his official custody, contained on any census schedule prepared by the Director of the Census under the authority of this chapter, sections 77, 111, 112 or statutes supplemental thereto, and any person violating the provisions of this section by refusing or willfully neglecting to answer any of said questions, or by willfully giving answers that are false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $10,000, or imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year, or both so fined and imprisoned. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 24, 40 Stat. 1300.)

48. Restriction on use of information.—The information furnished under the provisions of the next preceding section shall be used only for the statistical purposes for which it is supplied. No publication shall be made by the Census Office whereby the data furnished by any particular establishment can be identified, nor shall the Director of the Census permit anyone other than the sworn employees of the Census Office to examine the individual reports. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 25, 40 Stat. 1300.)

49. Enforcement of fines and penalties.—All fines and penalties imposed by this chapter may be enforced by indictment or information in any court of competent jurisdiction. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 26, 40 Stat. 1300.)

50. Authorization of expenditures for expenses.—The Director of the Census may authorize the expenditure of necessary sums for the actual and necessary traveling expenses of the officers and employees of the Census Office, including an allowance in lieu of subsistence not exceeding $4 per day during their necessary absence from the Census Office, or, instead of such an allowance, their actual subsistence expenses, not to exceed $5 per day; and he may authorize the incidental, miscellaneous, and contingent expenses necessary for the carrying out of this chapter, as herein provided, and not otherwise, including advertising in newspapers, the purchase of manuscripts, books of reference, and periodicals, the rental of sufficient quarters in the District of Columbia and elsewhere and the furnishing thereof, and expenditures necessary for compiling, printing, publishing, and distributing the results of the census, the purchase of necessary paper and other supplies, the purchase, rental, exchange, construction, and repair of mechanical appliances, the compensation of such permanent and temporary clerks as may be employed under the provisions of this chapter and statutes supplemental thereto, and all other expenses incurred under authority conveyed in this chapter. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 27, 40 Stat. 1300.)

51. Printing or publishing.—The Director of the Census is authorized to make requisition upon the Public Printer for such printing as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, to wit: Blanks, schedules, circulars, pamphlets, envelopes, work sheets, and other items of miscellaneous printing; he is further authorized to have printed by the Public Printer, in such editions as the director may deem necessary, preliminary and other census bulletins, and final reports of the results of the several investigations authorized by this chapter, sections 77, 101, 111, or 112, or statutes supplemental thereto, and to publish and distribute said bulletins and reports. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 28, 40 Stat. 1301.)

52. Information from other departments.—The Secretary of Commerce, whenever he may deem it advisable, on request of the Director of the Census, is authorized to call upon any other department or office of the Government for information pertinent to the work provided for in this chapter. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 30, 40 Stat. 1301.)

53. Additional census of agriculture and livestock.—There shall be in the year 1925, and once every ten years thereafter, a census of agriculture and livestock, which shall show the acreage of farm land, the acreage of the principal crops, and the number and value of domestic animals on the farms and ranges of the country. The schedule employed in this census shall be prepared by the Director of the Census. Such census shall be taken as of the 1st day of January and shall relate to the preceding calendar year. The Director of the Census may appoint enumerators or special agents for the purpose of this census in accordance with the provisions of section 111. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 31, 40 Stat. 1301.)

54. Additional statistics of manufactured products.—The Director of the Census is authorized and directed to collect and publish, for the years 1921, 1923, 1925, and 1927, and for every tenth year after each of said years, statistics of the products of manufacturing industries; and the director is authorized to prepare such schedules as in his judgment may be necessary. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 32, 40 Stat. 1301.) (Statistics of manufactures are also provided for in sections 27 and 112.)

55. Copies of returns, data, etc., for States, courts, and others.—The Director of the Census is authorized, at his discretion, upon the written request of the governor of any State or Territory or of a court of record, to furnish such governor or court of record with certified copies of so much of the population or agricultural returns as may be requested, upon the payment of the actual cost of making such copies and $1 additional for certification; and the Director of the Census is further authorized, in his discretion, to furnish to individuals such data from the population schedules as may be desired for genealogical or other proper purposes, upon payment of the actual cost of searching the records and $1 for supplying a certificate; and the Director of the Census is authorized to furnish transcripts of tables and other records and to prepare special statistical compilations for State or local officials, private concerns, or individuals upon the payment of the actual cost of such work: Provided, however, That in no case shall information furnished under the authority of this chapter be used to the detriment of the person or persons to whom such information relates. All moneys received by the Bureau of the Census in payment for labor and materials used in furnishing transcripts of census records or special statistical compilations from such records shall be deposited to the credit of the appropriation for collecting statistics. (Mar. 3, 1919, c. 97, § 33, 40 Stat. 1301.)

TOBACCO STATISTICS

Section 61. Semiannual reports.—The Director of the Census is authorized and directed to collect and publish statistics of the quantity of leaf tobacco in all forms in the United States in the possession of all persons who are dealers or manufacturers, other than the original growers of tobacco, to be summarized and returned by the holder to the Director of the Census as of the dates of October 1 and April 1 of each year, provided that the Director of the Census shall not be required to collect statistics of leaf tobacco from any manufacturer of tobacco who in the preceding calendar year, according to the returns to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, manufactured less than fifty thousand pounds of tobacco, or from any manufacturer of cigars who, during the preceding calendar year manufactured less than two hundred and fifty thousand cigars, or from any manufacturer of cigarettes who during the preceding calendar year manufactured less than one million cigarettes, or from any dealer in leaf tobacco who, on the average, had less than fifty thousand pounds in stock at the ends of the four quarters of the preceding calendar year, and every manufacturer of tobacco who, in the preceding calendar year, according to the return of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue manufactured more than fifty thousand pounds of tobacco, and every manufacturer of cigars who, during the preceding calendar year, manufactured more than two hundred and fifty thousand cigars, and every manufacturer of cigarettes who, during the preceding calendar year, manufactured more than one million cigarettes, and every dealer in or manufacturer of leaf tobacco who, on an average, during the preceding calendar year, had more than fifty thousand pounds in stock, at the ends of the four quarters of the preceding calendar year, shall, under oath, make written reports of the amounts held by them, as provided in sections 61, 63, and 65. (Apr. 30, 1912, c. 102, § 1, 37 Stat. 106.)

62. Types of tobacco to be specified; blanks.—The Director of the Census shall specify the types of tobacco to be included in the reports of the holders thereof, and he shall specify the several types separately in making his reports. In securing reports by types, the Director of the Census shall follow substantially the classification of general types as recognized and adopted by the Department of Agriculture. The Director of the Census shall prepare appropriate blanks upon which such reports shall be made and shall send a copy of same to any person subject to make reports under sections 61 and 65, not more than fifteen nor less than ten days prior to the 1st days of October and April in each year, together with a written or printed demand that such person make the report required. (Apr. 30, 1912, c. 102, § 2, 37 Stat. 107.)

63. Report required; penalty for failure.—All persons subject to the provisions of sections 61 and 65 shall, within ten days after the 1st day of October and 1st day of April in each year, make written report to the Director of the Census the number of pounds of each of the several types of leaf tobacco owned by him as of the said dates, respectively. If any such person shall fail to make said report within the time prescribed, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $300 or more than $1,000. If any such person so liable to make such reports shall fail to make the same within the dates above specified, and thereafter the Director of the Census shall demand such report in writing, which demand shall be forwarded by registered mail, then if such person shall fail to make such report within twenty days after such demand so made, he shall also be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be imprisoned for not more than six months, in the discretion of the court. The depositing of the notice by the Director of the Census in any post office shall be held to be prima facie evidence of the delivery of the notice to the holder of tobacco, from which date the period of twenty days shall begin to run. The president, general manager, or other chief officer of any corporation failing to make such reports as required by sections 61, 63, and 65 shall be subject to the same penalties as are prescribed in this section. (Apr. 30, 1912, c. 102, § 3, 37 Stat. 107.)

64. Penalty for false report.—Any person who shall make a false report to the Director of the Census as to the types or amounts of tobacco held or owned by him shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than six months, in the discretion of the court. The president, general manager, or other officer of any corporation making such false report shall be subject to the same penalty as prescribed in this section. (Apr. 30, 1912, c. 102, § 4, 37 Stat. 107.)

65. "Person" defined.—The word "person" as used in the four preceding sections shall be held to embrace also any partnership, corporation, or association. (Apr. 30, 1912, c. 102, § 5, 37 Stat. 107.)

66. Restriction on use of information.—The information furnished under the provisions of sections 61, 62, 63, and 65 shall be used only for the statistical purposes for which it is supplied. No publication shall be made by the Director of the Census whereby the data furnished by any particular establishment can be identified, nor shall the Director of the Census permit anyone other than the sworn employees of the Census Office to examine the individual reports. (Apr. 30, 1912, c. 102, § 6, 37 Stat. 107.)

67. Cooperation of Commissioner of Internal Revenue.—The Director of the Census shall have access to the records of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the purpose of obtaining the information required in sections 61, 62, 63, and 65, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall cooperate with the Director of the Census in effectuating the purposes and provisions of sections 61 to 68, inclusive. (Apr. 30, 1912, c. 102, § 7, 37 Stat. 107.)

68. Publication of reports.—The Director of the Census shall make and publish his reports under sections 61 to 68, inclusive, at a date as early as practicable after the 1st day of October and the 1st of April in each year. (Apr. 30, 1912, c. 102, § 8, 37 Stat. 108.)

69. Methods of acquiring information.—The Director of the Census may procure the information for the tobacco reports required by this subdivision of this chapter, by mail or by special agents or by other employees of the Bureau of the Census. (May 10, 1916, c. 117, §-1, 39 Stat. 110.)

COTTON STATISTICS

CROSS REFERENCE

Statistics as to raw and prepared cotton are also provided for in section 84

71. Collection and publication.—The Director of the Census is authorized and directed to collect and publish statistics concerning the amount of cotton ginned; the quantity of raw cotton consumed in manufacturing establishments of every character; the quantity of baled cotton on hand; the number of active consuming cotton spindles; the number of active spindle hours, and the quantity of cotton imported and exported, with the country of origin and destination. (Apr. 2, 1924, c. 80, § 1, 43 Stat. 31.)

72. Contents and distribution of reports; publication by Department of Agriculture.—The statistics of the quantity of cotton ginned shall show the quantity ginned from each crop prior to August 1, August 16, September 1, September 16, October 1, October 18, November 1, November 14, December 1, December 13, January 16, and March 1: Provided, That the Director of the Census may limit the canvasses of August 1 and August 16, to those sections of the cotton-growing States in which cotton has been ginned. The quantity of cotton consumed in manufacturing establishments, the quantity of baled cotton on hand, the number of active consuming cotton spindles, the number of active spindle hours, and the statistics of cotton imported and exported shall relate to each calendar month, and shall be published as soon as possible after the close of the month. Each report published by the Bureau of the Census of the quantity ginned shall carry with it the latest available statistics concerning the quantity of cotton consumed, stocks of baled cotton on hand, the number of cotton-consuming spindles, and the quantity of cotton imported and exported.

All of these publications containing statistics of cotton shall be mailed by the Director of the Census to all cotton ginners, cotton manufacturers, and cotton warehousemen, and to all daily newspapers throughout the United States. The Director of the Census shall furnish to the Department of Agriculture, immediately prior to the publication of each report of that bureau regarding the cotton crop, the latest available statistics mentioned in this and the preceding section and the said Department of Agriculture shall publish the same in connection with each of its reports concerning cotton. (Apr. 2, 1924, c. 80, § 2, 43 Stat. 31.)

73. Information as confidential; penalty for disclosure.—The information furnished by any individual establishment under the provisions of sections 71 to 75, inclusive, shall be considered as strictly confidential and shall be used only for the statistical purpose for which it is supplied. Any employee of the Bureau of the Census who, without the written authority of the Director of the Census, shall publish or communicate any information given into his possession by reason of his employment under the provisions of sections 71 to 76, inclusive, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than $300 or more than $1,000 or imprisoned for a period of not exceeding one year, or both so fined and imprisoned, at the discretion of the court. (Apr. 2, 1924, c. 80, § 3, 43 Stat. 31.)

74. Duty to furnish correct information; penalty.—It shall be the duty of every owner, president, treasurer, secretary, director, or other officer or agent of any cotton ginnery, manufacturing establishment, warehouse, or other place where cotton is ginned, manufactured, or stored, whether conducted as a corporation, firm, limited partnership, or by individuals, when requested by the Director of the Census or by any special agent or other employee of the Bureau of the Census acting under the instructions of said director, to furnish completely and correctly, to the best of his knowledge, all of the information concerning the quantity of cotton ginned, consumed, or on hand, and the number of cotton-consuming spindles, and active spindle hours. The request of the Director of the Census for information concerning the quantity of cotton ginned or consumed, stocks of cotton on hand, and number of spindles and spindle hours may be made in writing or by a visiting representative, and if made in writing shall be forwarded by registered mail, and the registry receipt of the Post Office Department shall be accepted as evidence of such demand. Any owner, president, treasurer, secretary, director, or other officer or agent of any cotton ginnery, manufacturing establishment, warehouse, or other place where cotton is ginned or stored, who, under the conditions hereinbefore stated, shall refuse or willfully neglect to furnish any of the information herein provided for or shall willfully give answers that are false shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than $300 or more than $1,000 or imprisoned for a period of not exceeding one year, or both so fined and imprisoned, at the discretion of the court. (Apr. 2, 1924, c. 80, § 4, 43 Stat. 32.)

75. Foreign cotton statistics.—In addition to the information regarding cotton in the United States provided for in sections 71, 72, and 74, the Director of the Census shall compile, by correspondence or the use of published reports and documents, any available information concerning the production, consumption, and stocks of cotton in foreign countries, and the number of cotton-consuming spindles in such countries. Each report published by the Bureau of the Census regarding cotton shall contain an abstract of the latest available information obtained under the provisions of this section, and the Director of the Census shall furnish the same to the Department of Agriculture for publication in connection with the reports of that department concerning cotton in the same manner as in the case of statistics relating to the United States. (Apr. 2, 1924, c. 80, § 5, 43 Stat. 32.)

76. Simultaneous publication of cotton reports.—The reports of cotton ginned to the dates as of which the Department of Agriculture is also required to issue cotton crop reports shall be issued simultaneously with the cotton crop reports of that department, the two reports to be issued from the same place at eleven o'clock antemeridian on the eighth day following that on which the respective reports relate. When such date of release falls on Sunday or a legal holiday the reports shall be issued at eleven o'clock antemeridian on the next succeeding workday. (Apr. 2, 1924, c. 80, § 6, 43 Stat. 32.)

77. Cotton production statistics; weekly bulletins.—The Director of the Census shall annually collect the statistics of the cotton production of the country as returned by the ginners and bulletins giving the results of the same shall be issued weekly beginning September 1 of each year and continued till February 1 following. The director is authorized to prepare such schedules as in his judgment may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 9, 32 Stat. 52.)

COTTONSEED STATISTICS

81. Collection and publication.—The Director of the Census is authorized and directed to collect and publish monthly statistics concerning the quantity of cottonseed received at oil mills, the quantity of seed crushed in such mills, the quantity of crude cottonseed products and refined oil produced, the quantities of these products shipped out of the mills and the quantities of these products and of cottonseed on hand, the quantities of crude and refined cottonseed oil held by refiners, by manufacturers of compound lard, butterine, oleomargarine, and soap, and by brokers, exporters, and warehousemen, engaged in handling crude and refined cottonseed oil, and the quantity of cottonseed and cottonseed products imported and exported: Provided, That the cost of the collection and publication of the statistics provided for in this section shall not exceed $10,000 per annum. (Aug. 7, 1916, c. 274, § 1, 39 Stat. 436.)

82. Information as confidential; penalty for disclosure.—The information furnished by any individual establishment under the provisions of this subdivision shall be considered as strictly confidential and shall be used only for the statistical purpose for which it is supplied. Any employee of the Bureau of the Census who, without the written authority of the Director of the Census, shall publish or communicate any information given into his possession by reason of his employment under the provisions of this subdivision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (Aug. 7, 1916, c. 274, § 2, 39 Stat. 437.)

83. Duty to furnish correct information; penalty.—It shall be the duty of every owner, president, treasurer, secretary, director, or other officer or agent of any cottonseed-oil mill, manufacturing establishment, refinery, or warehouse, where cottonseed products are produced, manufactured, or stored, when requested by the Director of the Census or by any special agent or other employee of the Bureau of the Census acting under the instructions of said director, to furnish completely and correctly, to the best of his knowledge, all of the information concerning the quantity of cottonseed received, consumed, or on hand, and the quantity of crude and refined oil, cake and meal, hulls, and linters produced, and the quantity of these products shipped and on hand. The request of the Director of the Census for information concerning the quantity of cottonseed received, consumed, and on hand, the quantity of crude oil shipped, and the quantity of crude oil consumed and stocks on hand may be made in writing or by a visiting representative, and if made in writing shall be forwarded by registered mail, and the registry receipt of the Post Office Department shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of such demand. Any owner, president, treasurer, secretary, director, or other officer or agent of any cottonseed oil or manufacturing establishment, refinery, or warehouse, where cottonseed and cottonseed products are manufactured or stored, who, under the conditions hereinbefore stated, shall refuse or willfully neglect to furnish any of the information provided for in this section or shall willfully give answers that are false shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000. (Aug. 7, 1916, c. 274, § 3, 39 Stat. 437.)

84. Explosive and medicated cotton products.—The Director of the Census is authorized and directed to collect and publish quarterly statistics of raw and prepared cotton and linters, cotton waste, and hull fiber consumed in the manufacture of guncotton and explosives of all kinds, and of absorbent and medicated cotton, and the quantity held in such establishments at the end of each quarter. The statistics herein provided for are in addition to those now collected in compliance with sections 71 to 76, inclusive, the provisions of said sections being made applicable to and governing the collection and publication of the data. (Aug. 7, 1916, c. 274, § 4, 39 Stat. 437.)

HIDE AND LEATHER STATISTICS

91. Collection and publications.—The Director of the Census is authorized and directed to collect and publish statistics monthly concerning—

(a) The quantities and classes of hides and skins, owned or stored, and the quantities and classes of such products disposed of during the preceding census month by packers, abattoirs, butchers, tanners, jobbers, dealers, wholesalers, importers, and exporters;

(b) The quantities and classes of hides and skins in the process of tanning or manufacture, the quantities and amount of finished product for the preceding month;

(c) The quantities and classes of leather owned or stored and manufactured during the preceding census month by tanners, jobbers, dealers, wholesalers, importers, exporters, and establishments cutting or consuming leather. (June 5, 1920, c. 263, § 1, 41 Stat. 1057.)

92. Information as confidential; penalty for disclosure.—The information furnished by any individual establishment under the provisions of this subdivision shall be considered as strictly confidential and shall be used only for the statistical purposes for which it is supplied. Any employee of the Bureau of Census who, without the written authority of the Director of the Census, shall publish or communicate any information given into his possession by reason of his employment under the provisions of this subdivision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (June 5, 1920, c. 263, § 2, 41 Stat. 1057.).

93. Duty to furnish correct information; penalty.—It shall be the duty of every owner, president, or treasurer, secretary, director, or other officer or agent of any abattoir and of any packing, tanning, jobbing, dealing, wholesaling, importing, or exporting establishment where hides and skins are stored or sold, or leather is tanned, treated, finished, or stored or any establishment is engaged in the cutting of leather or in the production of boots and shoes, gloves, saddlery, harness, or other manufactures of leather goods, wherever leather is consumed, when requested by the Director of the Census or by any special agent or other employee of the Census Office acting under the instructions of said director to furnish completely and accurately to the best of his knowledge, all the information authorized to be collected by section 91. The demand of the Director of the Census for such information shall be made in writing or by a visiting representative and if made in writing shall be forwarded by registered mail and the registry receipt of the Post Office Department shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of such demand. Any owner, president, treasurer, secretary, director, or other officer or agent of any establishment required to furnish information under the provisions of this subdivision, who under the conditions hereinbefore stated shall refuse or willfully neglect to furnish any of the information provided for in this section or shall willfully give answers that are false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000. (June 5, 1920, c. 263, § 3, 41 Stat. 1057.)

BIRTHS AND DEATHS

101. Annual collection of vital statistics; compensation.—There shall be a collection of the statistics of the births and deaths in registration areas annually, the data for which shall be obtained only from and restricted to such registration records of such States and municipalities as in the discretion of the director possess records affording satisfactory data in necessary detail, the compensation for the transcription of which shall not exceed 4 cents for each birth or death reported; or a minimum compensation of $25 may be allowed, in the discretion of the director, in States or cities registering less than five hundred deaths or five hundred births during the preceding year. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 8, 32 Stat. 52; Apr. 27, 1904, c. 1626, 33 Stat. 362.)

MISCELLANEOUS STATISTICS

CROSS REFERENCE

Statistics of manufactures are also provided for in sections 27 and 54.

111. Special statistics; agents.—The Director of the Census is authorized decennially to collect statistics relating to the defective, dependent, and delinquent classes; to crime, including judicial statistics pertaining thereto, provided that such statistics shall include information upon the following questions, namely: Age, sex, color, race, nativity, parentage, literacy by race, color, nativity, and parentage, and such other questions relating to these subjects as the director in his discretion may deem proper; to social statistics of cities; to public indebtedness, valuation, taxation, and expenditures; to religious bodies; to transportation by water, and express business; to mines, mining, quarries, and minerals, and the production and value thereof, including gold in divisions of placer and vein, and silver mines, and the number of men employed, the average daily wage, average working time, and aggregate earnings in the various branches and aforesaid divisions of the mining and quarrying industries; to savings banks and other savings institutions, mortgage, loan, and investment companies, and similar institutions; to the fishing industry in cooperation with the Bureau of Fisheries; and every five years to collect statistics relating to street railways, electric light and power, telephone, and telegraph business. And the Director of the Census shall prepare schedules containing such interrogatories as shall in his judgment be best adapted to elicit the information required under the subjects, with such specifications, divisions, and particulars under each head as he shall deem necessary to that end; and all reports prepared under the provisions of this section shall be designated as "Special Reports of the Census Office." For the purpose of securing the statistics required by this section the Director of the Census may appoint special agents when necessary, and such special agents shall receive compensation as provided in section 39. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 7, 32 Stat. 52; June 7, 1906, c. 3048, 34 Stat. 218.)

112. Statistics of manufactures, etc.—In the year 1925, and every ten years thereafter, there shall be a collection of the statistics of manufactures, confined to manufacturing establishments conducted under what is known as the factory system, exclusive of the so-called neighborhood and mechanical industries; and the director is authorized to prepare such schedules as in his judgment may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section; and the Director of the Census shall make, from time to time, any additional special collections of statistics relating to any branch of agriculture, manufacture, mining, transportation, fisheries, or any other branch of industry that may be required of him by Congress. (Mar. 6, 1902, c. 139, § 9, 32 Stat. 52.)

38. Laws relating to Life Saving Service and Revenue Cutter Service made applicable to Coast Guard.

Section 1. Establishment of Coast Guard; control of organization generally; cooperation with Navy.—The Coast Guard as heretofore established in lieu of the Revenue Cutter Service and the Life Saving Service, existing prior to January 28, 1915, is continued. The Coast Guard shall constitute a part of the military forces of the United States and shall operate under the Treasury Department in time of peace and operate as a part of the Navy, subject to the orders of the Secretary of the Navy, in time of war or when the President shall so direct. When subject to the Secretary of the Navy in time of war the expense of the Coast Guard shall be paid by the Navy Department: Provided, That no provision of this chapter shall be construed as giving any officer of either the Coast Guard or the Navy, military or other control at any time over any vessel, officer, or man of the other service except by direction of the President. (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 1, 38 Stat. 800.)

2. Computation of length of service generally.—In computing length of service for any purpose all creditable service in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Revenue Cutter Service, and Life Saving Service shall be included, counting part of a year as a whole year where stations were operated only part of a year. (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 3, 38 Stat. 801.)

3. Cooperation with Navy; Coast Guard when subject to Navy regulations.—Whenever, in time of war, the Coast Guard operates as a part of the Navy in accordance with law, the personnel of that service shall be subject to the laws prescribed for the government of the Navy: Provided, That in the initiation, prosecution, and completion of disciplinary action, including remission and mitigation of punishments for any offense committed by any officer or enlisted man of the Coast Guard, the jurisdiction shall depend upon and be in accordance with the laws and regulations of the department having jurisdiction of the person of such offender at the various stages of such action: Provided further, That any punishment imposed and executed in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not exceed that to which the offender was liable at the time of the commission of his offense. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 600.)

4. Cooperation with Navy; reimbursement of Navy for Coast Guard expenses.—Whenever, in accordance with law, the expenses of the Coast Guard are paid by the Navy Department, any naval appropriations from which payments are so made shall be reimbursed from available appropriations made by Congress for the expenses of the Coast Guard. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 600.)

5. Composition of Coast Guard.—In the Coast Guard there shall be a commandant, captains, commanders, lieutenant commanders, lieutenants, lieutenants (junior grade), ensigns, engineer in chief, captains (engineering), commanders (engineering), lieutenant commanders (engineering), lieutenants (engineering), lieutenants (junior grade) (engineering), ensigns (engineering), constructors, cadet and cadet engineers, warrant officers, petty officers, and other enlisted men, district superintendents, keepers, and surfmen. The district superintendents shall be commissioned as such, keepers shall be warrant officers, and surfmen shall be enlisted men, of which enlisted men the number one surfmen shall be petty officers.

There shall be in the administrative service of the Coast Guard two chiefs of division, to be appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury, together with such clerical and technical positions and the incumbents therein as now exist. There may be such other clerical and technical assistance as may from time to time be authorized by Congress.

All duties performed, prior to January 28, 1915, by the Revenue Cutter Service and the Life Saving Service and by law continued to be performed by the Coast Guard, together with all duties that may thereafter be imposed upon the Coast Guard, shall, unless otherwise provided by law, be administered by the commandant, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury. (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, §§ 2, 4, 38 Stat. 801, 802; Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 1, 42 Stat. 1130.)

6. Commissioned officers; appointment by President generally.—The commissioned officers of the Coast Guard shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. (R. S. § 2751.)

7. Precedence as between Coast Guard and naval officers when cooperating.—Whenever the personnel of the Coast Guard, or any part thereof, is operating with the personnel of the Navy in accordance with law, precedence between commissioned officers of corresponding grades in the two services shall be determined by the date of commissions in those grades. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 600.)

8. Precedence between line and engineering officers.—In the Coast Guard the precedence between line and engineer officers of the same rank shall be determined by length of continuous service as a commissioned officer. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, § 10, 35 Stat. 63.)

9. Relative rank of commissioned officers with respect to Army and Navy.—The commissioned officers of the Coast Guard shall rank and be of corresponding grade as follows:

Captains and captains (engineering) with captains in the Navy and colonels in the Army;

Commanders and commanders (engineering) with commanders in the Navy and lieutenant colonels in the Army;

Lieutenant commanders and lieutenant commanders (engineering) with lieutenant commanders in the Navy and majors in the Army;

Lieutenants and lieutenants (engineering) with lieutenants in the Navy and captains in the Army;

Lieutenants (junior grade) and lieutenants (junior grade) (engineering) with lieutenants (junior grade) in the Navy and first lieutenants in the Army;

Ensigns and ensigns (engineering) with ensigns in the Navy and second lieutenants in the Army. (Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, 32 Stat. 100; Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, 35 Stat. 61, 63; Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, 38 Stat. 800; June 5, 1920, c. 235, 41 Stat. 879; Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, 42 Stat. 1130.)

10. Distribution in grades of permanent commissioned officers.—The number of permanent commissioned line officers of the Coast Guard authorized by law shall be distributed in grades, as follows: One commandant, seven captains, twelve commanders, thirty-five lieutenant commanders, thirty-seven lieutenants, and seventy-seven lieutenants (junior grade) and ensigns; and the number of permanent commissioned engineer officers authorized by law shall be distributed in grades, as follows: One engineer in chief, three captains (engineering), six commanders (engineering), twelve lieutenant commanders (engineering), twenty-two lieutenants (engineering), and forty-two lieutenants (junior grade) (engineering) and ensigns (engineering). Promotions to the grades of captain, captain (engineering), and commander (engineering), shall be made from the next lower grade by seniority: Provided, That lieutenants and lieutenants (junior grade), both line and engineering, may be promoted, subject to examination as provided by law, without regard to number or length of service in grade, to such grades in the Coast Guard not above lieutenant commander or lieutenant commander (engineering) as correspond to the permanent ranks and grades that may be attained in accordance with law by line officers of the Regular Navy of the same length of total commissioned service, and officers thus promoted shall be extra numbers in their respective grades, which extra numbers shall not at any one time exceed the following, respectively: Twenty lieutenant commanders, fifteen lieutenants, fifteen lieutenant commanders (engineering), and eight lieutenants (engineering), but no officer shall be promoted under this proviso who would thereby be advanced in rank ahead of an officer in the same grade and corps whose name stands above his on the official precedence list: Provided further, That captains and captains (engineering) shall have the rank of, and be of corresponding grade to, captains in the Navy, and commanders (engineering) shall have the rank of, and be of corresponding grade to, commanders in the Navy. (Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 1, 42 Stat. 1130.)

11. Commandant; appointment; rank, pay, etc.; appointment as additional number in grade of captain.—The President is authorized to appoint in the Coast Guard, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, one commandant for a period of four years who may be reappointed for further periods of four years each, who shall act as chief of the Coast Guard. The commandant shall be selected from the active list of line officers not below the grade of commander and shall have, while serving as commandant, the rank, pay, and allowances of a rear admiral (lower half) of the Navy: Provided, That an officer whose term of service as commandant has expired may be appointed a captain and shall be an additional number in that grade; but if not so appointed, he shall take the place on the lineal list in the grade that he would have attained had he not served as commandant and be an additional number in such grade: Provided further, That the position vacated by an officer appointed commandant shall be filled by promotion according to law. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, § 1, 35 Stat. 61; Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 2, 42 Stat. 1130.)

12. Engineer in chief; appointment; rank, pay, etc.; appointment as additional number in grade of commander (engineering).—The President is authorized to appoint in the Coast Guard, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, one engineer in chief for a period of four years who may be reappointed for further periods of four years each. The engineer in chief, while so serving, shall have the rank, pay, and allowances of a captain (engineering) in the Coast Guard, and the engineer in chief shall be selected from the active list of engineer officers not below the grade of lieutenant commander (engineering): Provided, That an officer whose term of service as engineer in chief has expired may be appointed a commander (engineering) and shall be an additional number in that grade; but if not so appointed, he shall take the place on the lineal list in the grade that he would have attained had he not served as engineer in chief and be an additional number in such grade: And provided further, That the position vacated by an officer appointed engineer in chief shall be filled by promotion according to law. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, § 1, 35 Stat. 61; Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 2, 42 Stat. 1130.)

13. Sale of clothing to enlisted men.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to purchase from the appropriation for the maintenance of the Coast Guard uniform clothing for the enlisted men of said service, the same to be sold to the crews of vessels in service: Provided, That the actual cost of the clothing thus sold to enlisted persons shall be withheld from their pay and repaid to said appropriation. (July 1, 1898, c. 546, § 1, 30 Stat. 604.)

14. Ensign (engineering); appointment; probationary term.—Appointments into the grade of ensign (engineering) in the Coast Guard shall be as prior to June 23, 1906, except that, before being commissioned, the candidate who has successfully passed the required examinations shall serve a probationary term of not less than six months as a cadet engineer to determine his fitness for a commission in said service: Provided, That no person shall be commissioned an ensign (engineering) who is less than twenty-one or more than twenty-six years of age, nor until he shall have served the probationary term herein required. (June 23, 1906, c. 3520, § 3, 34 Stat. 452.)

15. Cadets; number; qualifications; examinations; obligation; dismissal.—The number of cadets of the line allowed in the Coast Guard shall be such as to provide for filling the vacancies that may occur in the grade of ensign in said service: Provided, That a person to be eligible for appointment as a cadet of the line shall produce satisfactory evidence of good moral character, shall be not less than eighteen nor more than twenty-four years of age at the time of appointment, and shall pass a satisfactory physical examination by a board of officers of the Public Health Service, and a satisfactory educational examination, which must in all cases be written and strictly competitive, by a board of commissioned officers of the Coast Guard, both examinations to be conducted under such regulations as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided, That no person who has been dismissed or compelled to resign from the Military Academy or from the Naval Academy of the United States for hazing, or for any other improper conduct, shall be eligible for appointment as a cadet in the Coast Guard: Provided further, That no person shall become a cadet of the line who does not obligate himself, in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, to serve at least three years as an officer in said service after graduation, if his services be so long required: And provided further, That the Secretary of the Treasury may summarily dismiss from the service any cadet who, during his probationary term, is found unsatisfactory in either studies or conduct, or may be deemed not adapted for a career in the service. (June 23, 1906, c. 3520, § 2, 34 Stat. 452.)

16. Lieutenant commanders (engineering); duties; promotion to grade.—Lieutenant commanders (engineering) shall perform duty in connection with the construction and inspection of the machinery of vessels and such other duties as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. When a vacancy occurs in such grade it shall be filled by promotion from the active list of lieutenants (engineering) in the order of seniority. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, §§ 1-2, 35 Stat. 61-62.)

17. Commanders; duties; promotion to grade.—Commanders shall perform duty in connection with the construction of vessels and the inspection of their armament and crews and such other duties as the Secretary of the Treasury or the President may prescribe. When a vacancy occurs in such grade it shall be filled by promotion from the active list of lieutenant commanders in the order of seniority. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, §§ 1-2, 35 Stat. 61-62.)

18. Promotion of commissioned officers generally; examinations.—When any commissioned officer of the Coast Guard is retired from active service, the next officer in rank shall be promoted according to the established rules of the service, and the same rule of promotion shall be applied successively to the vacancies consequent upon such retirement.

No commissioned officer shall be promoted to a higher grade or rank on the active list, except to commandant or to engineer in chief, until his mental, moral, and professional fitness to perform all the duties of such higher grade or rank have been established to the satisfaction of a board of examining officers appointed by the President, and until he has been examined by a board of medical officers and pronounced physically qualified to perform all the duties of such higher grade or rank. (Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, § 8, 32 Stat. 101; Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 3, 42 Stat. 1131.)

19. Constructor; appointment; rank.—The President is authorized to appoint, by and with the consent of the Senate, one constructor for the Coast Guard who shall have the relative rank of a lieutenant. (June 1, 1898, c. 546, 30 Stat. 604; Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, § 1, 32 Stat. 100.)

20. Commissioning lieutenant (engineering) a constructor.—A lieutenant (engineering), to be selected for his special ability in naval construction from the present list of lieutenants (engineering) by the Secretary of the Treasury, may be commissioned a constructor for engineering duty in the Coast Guard with the rank now provided by law for a lieutenant (engineering): Provided, That the vacancy created in the list of lieutenants (engineering) by such transfer shall not be filled by promotion or otherwise, but the number of lieutenants (engineering) now authorized by law shall be reduced by one, and that no additional expense shall be incurred by reason of commissioning such lieutenant (engineering) a constructor. (June 23, 1906, c. 3520, § 6, 34 Stat. 453.)

21. Grades and ratings of warrant and petty officers and enlisted men.—The grades and ratings of warrant officers, chief petty officers, petty officers and other enlisted persons in the Coast Guard shall be the same as in the Navy, in so far as the duties of the Coast Guard may require. (May 18, 1920, c. 190, § 8, 41 Stat. 603.)

22. Assignments to duty generally.—Any commissioned or warrant officer, petty officer, or other enlisted man in the Coast Guard may be assigned to any duty which may be necessary for the proper conduct of the Coast Guard. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 601.)

23. Appointment of warrant and petty officers.—No warrant or petty officer shall be appointed or rated as such without a suitable examination or period of probation to determine his fitness for his grade or rating. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, § 8, 35 Stat. 62.)

24. Promotion of ensigns and district superintendents; service requirement; necessity for vacancies in higher grade.—An ensign, an ensign (engineering), or a district superintendent with the rank of ensign, shall be required to complete three years' service in his grade, after which he shall be eligible for promotion to the next higher grade without regard to the number already in that higher grade: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent promotions to fill vacancies in the grade of lieutenant (junior grade) or lieutenant (junior grade) (engineering) as provided by law. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, § 9, 35 Stat. 63; Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 4, 42 Stat. 1131.)

25. Probationary term of cadets.—The probationary term of cadets shall be three years. However, until such time as the grade of ensign shall be filled there may be advanced to that grade any cadet of the line who has served not less than two years as such cadet and is recommended for advancement by the Secretary of the Treasury. (Feb. 26, 1908, c. 755, 32 Stat. 869; June 23, 1906, c. 3520, § 3, 34 Stat. 452.)

26. Administration of oaths generally.—The presidents and recorders of Coast Guard courts and commanding officers of vessels of the Coast Guard are authorized to administer oaths of allegiance and such other oaths as may be necessary for the proper conduct of said service; and commanding officers of vessels of the Coast Guard are authorized to administer oaths generally in Alaska. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, § 12, 35 Stat. 63.)

27. Officers authorized to administer oaths for recruiting, etc.—Such commissioned and warrant officers of the Coast Guard as may be designated by the commandant of the Coast Guard are authorized to administer such oaths as may be necessary in connection with recruiting and for the proper conduct of said service. (June 5, 1920, c. 235, § 1, 41 Stat. 880.)

28. Instruction in aviation at Army or naval aviation schools.—At the request of the Secretary of the Treasury the Secretaries of War and Navy are authorized to receive officers and enlisted men of the Coast Guard for instruction in aviation at any aviation school maintained by the Army or Navy, and such officers and enlisted men shall be subject to the regulations governing such schools. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 601.)

29. Aviation stations; school for instructions; appointment and pay of instructors.—For the purpose of saving life and property along the coasts of the United States and at sea contiguous thereto, and to assist in the national defense, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to establish, equip, and maintain aviation stations, not exceeding ten in number, at such points on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, the Gulf of Mexico, and the Great Lakes as he may deem advisable, and to detail for aviation duty in connection therewith officers and enlisted men of the United States Coast Guard. At one of these stations there may be instituted a school for the purpose of special instruction in aeronautics, and the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to employ one expert instructor in aeronautics, at a salary of $4,000 per annum, and one assistant instructor, also skilled in aeronautics, at a salary of $3,000 per annum. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 601.)

30. Uniforms, accouterments, and equipment for officers and cadets.—Uniforms, accouterments, and equipment shall, upon the request of any officer of the Coast Guard while operating with the Navy or cadets at the Coast Guard Academy, be furnished by the Government at cost, subject to such restrictions and regulations as the Secretary of the Navy may prescribe. (Jan. 12, 1919, c. 8, 40 Stat. 1054.)

31. Purchase of quartermaster supplies.—Officers and enlisted men of the Coast Guard shall be permitted to purchase quartermaster supplies from the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps at the same price as is charged the officers and enlisted men of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. (Mar. 6, 1920, c. 94, § 1, 41 Stat. 506.)

32. Sales of ration supplies to officers' messes.—Ration supplies may be purchased by the cabin, wardroom, and warrant officers' messes and payment therefor made in cash to the commissary officer; the prices to be charged for such supplies shall not be less than the invoice prices, and the cash received from such sales shall be accounted for on the ration return and may be expended for the general mess. (Aug. 1, 1914, c. 223, § 1, 38 Stat. 620.)

33. Contracts for rations.—The Secretary of the Treasury may cause contracts to be made for the supply of rations for the officers and men of the Coast Guard cutters. (R. S. § 2756.)

34. Detail of enlisted men for duty in District of Columbia.—Not more than ten enlisted men at one time may be detailed to duty in the District of Columbia. (June 5, 1920, c. 235, § 1, 41 Stat. 879.)

35. Enlisted men; term of enlistment.—All persons composing the enlisted force of the Coast Guard shall be enlisted for a term not to exceed three years, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall prepare regulations governing such enlistments and for the general government of the service. (May 26, 1906, c. 2556, § 1, 34 Stat. 200.)

36. Annual report by commandant.—The Commandant of the Coast Guard shall submit to the Secretary of the Treasury, for transmission to Congress, an annual report of the expenditures of the moneys appropriated for the maintenance of the Coast Guard and of the operations of the Coast Guard during the year. (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 5, 38 Stat. 802.)

37. Report by Secretary to Congress.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall submit to Congress at the beginning of each regular session thereof a detailed statement of the expenditures for the Coast Guard. (Oct. 2, 1888, c. 1069, 25 Stat. 511.)

38. Laws relating to Life Saving Service and Revenue Cutter Service made applicable to Coast Guard.—Except as hereafter modified, all laws existing January 28, 1915, relating either to the Life Saving Service or the Revenue Cutter Service shall remain of force as far as applicable to the Coast Guard, and the offices, positions, operations, and duties shall in all respects be held and construed to impose the same duties upon the positions and their incumbents in the Coast Guard as were imposed January 28, 1915, upon the corresponding positions and incumbents in the said two organizations existing January 28, 1915. (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 2, 38 Stat. 801.)

58. Officers and crew of vessels.
59. Detail of surgeons, etc., of Public Health Service on Coast Guard cutters.
60. Aid to vessels on lakes.
61. Aid to fishing crews.
62. Tug to aid vessels on north Pacific coast.
63. Vessel for removal of derelicts, etc.
64. Ensigns and pendants for Coast Guard cutters, etc.; wrongful display by others; penalty.
65. Use of vessels for private purpose; penalty for wrongful use.
66. Customs duties of officers of cutters.
67. Additional customs duties under direction of Secretary of Treasury.
68. Stopping vessels; immunity of Coast Guard officer.
69. Sale of useless cutters.
70. Reports to collector of customs, etc.

Section 51. Authority of Secretary of Treasury as to use of vessels for protection of revenue.—The Secretary of the Treasury may direct the performance of any service by the Coast Guard vessels which, in his judgment, is necessary for the protection of the revenue. (R. S. § 2758.)

52. Use of vessels for protection of revenue; authority of President.—The President may, for the better securing the collection of import or tonnage duties, cause to be maintained so many of the Coast Guard cutters as may be necessary to be employed for the protection of the revenue, the expense whereof shall be paid out of such sum as shall be annually appropriated for the Coast Guard, and not otherwise. (R. S. § 2747.)

53. Detail of Coast Guard vessels for patrol duty.—The President may, when the necessities of the service permit it, cause any suitable number of public vessels adapted to the purpose to cruise upon the coast in the season of severe weather and to afford such aid to distressed navigators as their circumstances may require; and such public vessels shall go to sea fully prepared to render such assistance. (R. S. § 1536.)

54. Change of stations of vessels, etc.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized from time to time to make such transfer and change of stations of Coast Guard cutters as he may deem desirable for the best interests of the service, and in his discretion to direct any Coast Guard cutter to cruise in any waters to perform the duties of the Coast Guard Service. (Apr. 21, 1910, c. 182, § 2, 36 Stat. 326.)

55. Vessels for use on Mississippi and Ohio Rivers and tributaries.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to purchase or construct and equip three light-draft river steamboats, including lifeboats and such other life-saving appliances and equipment as may be necessary, to be used in rescuing lives and property and in distributing food and clothing to marooned people during flood times on the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers and their tributaries, for patrolling said waters for the enforcement of navigation and motor-boat laws, and for rendering aid to vessels in distress. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 601.)

56. Transfer of naval vessels to Coast Guard.—The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to transfer to the Department of the Treasury, for the use of the Coast Guard, such vessels of the Navy, with their outfits and armaments, as can be spared by the Navy and as are adapted to the use of the Coast Guard. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 136, § 1, 43 Stat. 105.)

57. Building Coast Guard vessels at navy yards.—The Secretary of the Navy, at the request of the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized to build any Coast Guard vessels authorized, at such navy yards as the Secretary of the Navy may designate. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 601.)

58. Officers and crew of vessels.—The Secretary of the Treasury may assign to each Coast Guard cutter such officers as are necessary in his opinion to perform the duties required of that vessel. Vessels shall have such number of petty officers and other enlisted men as in the opinion of the Secretary are required to make them efficient for their service. (R. S. § 2749.)

59. Detail of surgeons, etc., of Public Health Service on Coast Guard cutters.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to detail for duty on Coast Guard cutters such surgeons and other persons of the Public Health Service as he may deem necessary. (June 24, 1914, c. 124, 38 Stat. 387.)

60. Aid to vessels on lakes.—The Coast Guard cutters on the northern and northwestern lakes, when put in commission, shall be specially charged with aiding vessels in distress on the lakes. (R. S. § 2759.)

61. Aid to fishing crews.—In the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, any of the Coast Guard cutters in commission may be used to extend medical and surgical aid to the crews of American vessels engaged in the deep-sea fisheries, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may from time to time prescribe. (June 24, 1914, c. 124, 38 Stat. 387.)

62. Tug to aid vessels on north Pacific coast.—A first-class ocean-going tug, equipped with wireless-telegraph apparatus, surfboats, and such other modern life and property saving appliances as may be deemed useful in assisting vessels and rescuing persons and property from the perils of the sea, manned and operated by the Coast Guard, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, shall cooperate with the Coast Guard station at or near Neah Bay, in the State of Washington. (Apr. 19, 1906, c. 1640, §§ 1-3, 34 Stat. 123.)

63. Vessel for removal of derelicts, etc.—A steam vessel specially fitted for and adapted to service at sea in bad weather, for the purpose of blowing up or otherwise destroying or towing into port wrecks, derelicts, and other floating dangers to navigation, shall be operated and maintained by the Coast Guard under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. (May 12, 1906, c. 2454, 34 Stat. 190.)

64. Ensigns and pendants for Coast Guard cutters, etc.; wrongful display by others; penalty.—The cutters and boats employed in the service of the Coast Guard shall be distinguished from other vessels by an ensign and pendant, with such marks thereon as shall be prescribed by the President. If any vessel or boat, not employed in the service of the Coast Guard, shall, within the jurisdiction of the United States, carry or hoist any pendant or ensign prescribed for vessels in such service, the master of the vessel so offending shall be liable to a penalty of $100. (R. S. § 2764.)

65. Use of vessels for private purpose; penalty for wrongful use.—Coast Guard cutters shall be used exclusively for the public service, and in no way for private purposes. Any person using any vessel in the Coast Guard for private purposes, in violation of law, shall upon conviction thereof be fined $1,000. (July 7, 1884, c. 332, 23 Stat. 199; Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 6, 38 Stat. 802.)

66. Customs duties of officers of cutters.—The officers of the Coast Guard cutters shall respectively be deemed officers of the customs, and shall be subject to the direction of such collectors of the revenue, or other officers thereof, as from time to time shall be designated for that purpose. They shall go on board all vessels which arrive within the United States or within four leagues of the coast thereof, if bound for the United States, and search and examine the same, and every part thereof, and shall demand, receive, and certify the manifests required to be on board certain vessels, shall affix and put proper fastenings on the hatches and other communications with the hold of any vessel, and shall remain on board such vessels until they arrive at the port or place of their destination. (R. S. § 2760.)

67. Additional customs duties under direction of Secretary of Treasury.—The officers of Coast Guard cutters shall perform, in addition to the duties herinbefore prescribed, such other duties for the collection and security of the revenue as from time to time shall be directed by the Secretary of the Treasury, not contrary to law. (R. S. § 2762.)

68. Stopping vessels; immunity of Coast Guard officer.—Whenever any vessel liable to seizure or examination does not bring-to, on being required to do so, or on being chased by any cutter or boat which has displayed the pendant and ensign prescribed for vessels in the Coast Guard, the master of such cutter or boat may fire at or into such vessel which does not bring-to, after such pendant and ensign has been hoisted, and a gun has been fired by such cutter or boat as a signal; and such master, and all persons acting by or under his direction, shall be indemnified from any penalties or actions for damages for so doing. If any person is killed or wounded by such firing, and the master is prosecuted or arrested therefor, he shall be forthwith admitted to bail. (R. S. § 2765.)

69. Sale of useless cutters.—The President may from time to time cause such of the Coast Guard cutters as have become unfit for further service to be sold; and the proceeds shall be paid into the Treasury: Provided, That the Secretary of the Treasury may apply, in the purchase or construction of Coast Guard cutters, any unexpended balance of the proceeds of Coast Guard cutters sold by him under the authority of this section. (R. S. § 2748.)

70. Reports to collector of customs, etc.—The commanding officer of any Coast Guard cutter shall make a weekly return to the collector, of the transactions of the cutter, specifying the vessels that have been boarded, their names and descriptions, the names of the masters, from what port or place they last sailed, whether laden or in ballast, to what nation belonging, and whether they have the necessary manifests of their cargoes on board, and generally all such matters as it may be necessary for the officers of the customs to know. (R. S. § 2761.)

Section 91. General duties of commandant as regards stations.—It shall be the duty of the commandant to supervise the organization and government of the employees of the service; to prepare and revise regulations therefor as may be necessary; to fix the number of surfmen to be employed at the several stations within the provisions of law; to supervise the expenditure of all appropriations made for the support and maintenance of the Coast Guard; to examine the accounts of disbursements of the district superintendents, and to certify the same to the General Accounting Office; to examine the property returns of the keepers of the several stations, and see that all public property thereto belonging is properly accounted for; to acquaint himself, as far as practicable, with all means employed in foreign countries which may seem to advantageously affect the interests of the service, and to cause to be properly investigated all plans, devices, and inventions for the improvement of life-saving apparatus for use at the stations, which may appear to be meritorious and available; to exercise supervision over the selection of sites for new stations the establishment of which may be authorized by law, or for old ones the removal of which may be made necessary by the encroachment of the sea or by other causes; to prepare and submit to the Secretary of the Treasury estimates for the support of the service; and to collect and compile the statistics of marine disasters. (June 18, 1878, c. 265, § 7, 20 Stat. 164.)

92. Regulations for stations generally.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to make all necessary regulations for the government of the Coast Guard not inconsistent with law. (June 20, 1874, c. 344, § 8, 18 Stat. 127.)

93. Discontinuance of stations.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to discontinue any Coast Guard station or house of refuge whenever in his judgment the interest of commerce and humanity no longer requires its existence. (May 4, 1882, c. 117, § 2, 22 Stat. 56.)

94. Stations at lighthouses.—The Secretary of the Treasury may establish such stations at such lighthouses as, in his judgment, he shall deem best, and the keepers of such lights shall take charge of such boats and apparatus as may be put in their charge respectively, as a part of their official duties. (R. S. § 4245.)

95. Time of manning stations, etc.; establishment, etc., of districts and divisions.—The Secretary of the Treasury in time of peace and the Secretary of the Navy in time of war may, in his discretion, man any Coast Guard station during the entire year, or any portion thereof, maintain any house of refuge as a Coast Guard station, and change, establish, and fix the limits of Coast Guard districts and divisions. (Aug. 29, 1916, c. 417, 39 Stat. 601.)

96. Acquisition of sites for Coast Guard stations, etc.—The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized whenever he shall deem it advisable, to acquire, by donation or purchase in behalf of the United States, the right to use and occupy sites for Coast Guard stations and houses of refuge, the establishment of which has been, or shall hereafter be, authorized by Congress. (Mar. 3, 1875, c. 130, § 1, 18 Stat. 372.)

97. Transfer of apparatus.—The commandant may transfer the apparatus, appliances, equipments, and supplies of any discontinued station or house of refuge to such other stations or houses of refuge as may need them, and may also transfer any portion of the apparatus, appliances, equipments, and supplies of one station or house of refuge to another whenever in his judgment the interests of the service may require it. (May 4, 1882, c. 117, § 3, 22 Stat. 56.)

98. Division of Coast Guard stations into districts.—The sea and lake coasts of the United States are divided into thirteen districts as follows: First district, coasts of Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts to the south end of Plum Island; second district, coast of Massachusetts from the south end of Plum Island to Woods Hole, except the islands of Nantucket, Muskeget, and Marthas Vineyard; third district, coast of Massachusetts from Woods Hole, west, coasts of Rhode Island and Connecticut to the Thames River, together with Nantucket, Marthas Vineyard, and Fishers Island; fourth district, coast of Long Island, New York; fifth district, coast of New Jersey; sixth district, coast between Delaware and Chesapeake Bays; seventh district, coast from Cape Henry, Virginia, to Key West, Florida; eighth district, Gulf coasts of the United States; ninth district, embracing the coasts bordering on Lakes Ontario, Erie, and Huron to Hammond Bay; tenth district, embracing the coast bordering on Lake Huron, west of Hammond Bay, Bois Blanc, Mackinac, and Beaver Islands; the coast bordering on the east side of Lake Michigan; and a station at Louisville, Kentucky; eleventh district, embracing the coast bordering on the west side of Lake Michigan and the coast bordering on Lake Superior; twelfth district, embracing the coast of California, and the coast of Oregon to the south side of Umpqua River; thirteenth district, embracing the coast of Oregon from the south side of Umpqua River and the coasts of Washington and Alaska. (June 6, 1900, c. 791, § 1, 31 Stat. 596; Mar. 1, 1905, c. 1293, § 2, 33 Stat. 819.)

99. Detail of officers for inspection of stations.—The Secretary of the Treasury may detail such officer or officers of the Coast Guard as may be necessary, to act as inspector and assistant inspectors, who shall perform such duties in connection with the conduct of the service as may be required of them by the commandant. (June 18, 1878, c. 265, § 8, 20 Stat. 164.)

100. District superintendent as chief officer of district.—The district superintendents shall be the chief officers and first in authority in their respective districts, subject to the authority of the commandant. (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 4, 38 Stat. 802.)

101. District superintendents as disbursing and customs officers; bond.—All district superintendents of Coast Guard stations shall be disbursing officers and paymasters for their respective districts, and shall give such bonds as the Secretary of the Treasury may require, and shall have the powers and perform the duties of inspectors of customs and shall perform such other duties as the Secretary of the Treasury may designate. (May 4, 1882, c. 117, § 4, 22 Stat. 56.)

102. Promotion to fill vacancy of district superintendent and of keeper.—Whenever a vacancy occurs in the grade of boatswain (life-saving) of a Coast Guard station or house of refuge, it shall be filled by promotion and appointment from the grade of surfman, and whenever a vacancy shall occur in the grade of district superintendent the vacancy shall be filled by promotion and appointment from the grade of boatswain (life-saving). (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 4, 38 Stat. 802.)

103. Appointment of keepers.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to appoint the several keepers of all Coast Guard stations and houses of refuge. (May 4, 1882, c. 117, § 5, 22 Stat. 57.)

104. Powers and duties of keepers generally; residence.—The keepers of Coast Guard stations and houses of refuge shall have the powers of inspectors of customs, but shall receive no additional compensation for duties performed as such: Provided, That said keepers shall have authority and be required to take charge of and protect all property saved from shipwreck at which they may be present, until it is claimed by parties legally authorized to receive it, or until otherwise instructed to dispose of it by the Secretary of the Treasury; and keepers of Coast Guard stations and houses of refuge shall be required to reside continually at or in the immediate vicinity of their respective stations. (June 18, 1878, c. 265, § 4, 20 Stat. 163.)

105. Appointments made only for fitness.—The appointment of district superintendents, inspectors, and keepers and crews of Coast Guard stations shall be made solely with reference to their fitness, and without reference to their political or party affiliations. (May 4, 1882, c. 117, § 10, 22 Stat. 58.)

106. Gratuities to widow or dependents of deceased officer, etc.—If any officer, warrant officer, or enlisted man, on the active list in the Coast Guard, shall hereafter die by reason of perilous service or any wound or injury received or disease contracted in the Life Saving Service in the line of duty, leaving a widow, or a child or children under sixteen years of age, or a dependent mother, such widow and child or children and dependent mother shall be entitled to receive in equal portions, during a period of two years, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, the same amount, payable quarterly as far as practicable, that the husband or father or son would be entitled to receive as pay if he were alive and continued in the service: Provided, That if the widow shall remarry at any time during the said two years her portion of said amount shall cease to be paid to her from the date of her remarriage, but shall be added to the amount to be paid to the remaining beneficiaries under the provisions of this section, if there be any; and if any child shall arrive at the age of sixteen years during the said two years, the portion of such child shall cease to be paid to such child from the date on which such age shall be attained, but shall be added to the amount to be paid to the remaining beneficiaries, if there be any. (May 4, 1882, c. 117, § 8, 22 Stat. 57; Mar. 26, 1908, c. 99, § 3, 35 Stat. 46; Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, 38 Stat. 801.)

107. Transfer of books from Treasury Department library for use at stations.—That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized, in his discretion, to transfer, from time to time, from the Treasury Department library to the Coast Guard stations of the United States, such books as in his judgment may be no longer needed for use in said library. (Dec. 11, 1908, c. 1, 35 Stat. 581.)

108. Sale of condemned articles, etc.—The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to dispose of, to the best advantage, after due condemnation by board of survey, such articles or materials belonging to the Coast Guard stations as may, from long continued use or other cause, become unserviceable. (June 20, 1874, c. 344, § 9, 18 Stat. 127.)

109. Disposition of proceeds of sale.—All moneys received from the sale of old stations and equipments and other material condemned by a board of survey as unserviceable may be expended in rebuilding or improving and equipping stations. (June 18, 1878, c. 265, § 3, 20 Stat. 163.)

110. Compensation of volunteer crews and volunteers; duties.—The compensation of the enrolled members of volunteer crews of lifeboat stations, Coast Guard, is extended to occasions of actual and deserving service at any shipwreck, or in the relief of any vessel in distress, and such persons as may volunteer to take the place of any absent or disabled enrolled members of a crew, and who shall be accepted by the keeper, may be paid therefor, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, a sum not to exceed $8 each on every such occasion: Provided, That all crews and volunteers who may be present at a wreck shall be required to use their utmost endeavors to save life and properly care for the bodies of such as may perish, and, when such efforts are no longer necessary, to save property and protect the same, under the direction of the senior keeper present or of the superintendent of the district, until the arrival of persons legally authorized to take charge; and for the time employed in so saving and protecting property volunteers shall be entitled to compensation not to exceed $3 per day each, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury. (June 18, 1878, c. 265, § 10, 20 Stat. 165.)

111. Investigation of shipwrecks accompanied with loss of life.—Upon the occurrence of any shipwreck within the scope of the operations of the Coast Guard, attended with loss of life, the commandant shall cause an investigation of all the circumstances connected with said disaster and loss of life to be made, with a view of ascertaining the cause of the disaster, and whether any of the officers or men of the Coast Guard have been guilty of neglect or misconduct in the premises; and any officer or clerk in the employment of the Treasury Department who may be detailed to conduct such investigation, or to examine into any alleged incompetency or misconduct of any of the officers or employees of the Coast Guard, shall have authority to administer an oath to any witness attending to testify or depose in the course of such investigation. (June 18, 1878, c. 265, § 9, 20 Stat. 164.)

112. Ammunition for Lyle gun and repair of apparatus at station on Farallone Islands.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to furnish ammunition for the Lyle gun, placed at the Farallone Islands, off the coast of California, and make repairs to the apparatus from time to time as necessary. (May 30, 1908, c. 231, § 1, 35 Stat. 553.)

Chapter 4.—PAY AND ALLOWANCES.

Sec.
121. Pay and allowances generally.
122. Constructor; pay and allowances.
123. District superintendents; pay and allowances.
124. Civil instructors; pay and allowances.
125. Surgeon; pay and allowances.
126. Travel on Government-owned vessels.
127. Rank, pay, or allowances unaffected by Act of January 12, 1923, c. 25.
128. Officers' pay accounts; verification.
129. Allotment of pay.

Section 121. Pay and allowances generally.—Commissioned officers, warrant officers, petty officers, and other enlisted men of the Coast Guard shall receive the same pay, allowances, and increases as now are, herein are, or hereafter may be prescribed for corresponding grades or ratings and length of service in the Navy. And they are entitled to the pay and allowances as provided in Title 37, PAY AND ALLOWANCES. (May 18, 1920, c. 190, § 8, 41 Stat. 603; June 10, 1922, c. 212, 42 Stat. 625–633.)

122. Constructor; pay and allowances.—A constructor, after ten years' commissioned service in the Revenue Cutter Service and Coast Guard, shall have the rank, pay, and allowances of a lieutenant commander, and after twenty years' commissioned service the rank, pay, and allowances of a commander. (Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 2, 42 Stat. 1130.)

123. District superintendents; pay and allowances.—The senior district superintendent, the three district superintendents next in order of seniority, the four district superintendents next below these three in order of seniority, and the junior five district superintendents shall have the rank, pay, and allowances of lieutenant commander, lieutenant, lieutenant (junior grade), and ensign in the Coast Guard, respectively. (May 18, 1920, c. 190, § 8, 41 Stat. 603.)

124. Civil instructors; pay and allowances.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to employ two civilian instructors in the Coast Guard, one at a salary of $2,000 per annum and one at a salary of $1,800 per annum.

A civilian instructor in the Coast Guard, after five years' service as such, shall have the pay and allowances of a lieutenant (junior grade), and after ten years of such service shall have the pay and allowances of a lieutenant in the Coast Guard. (June 23, 1906, c. 3520, § 4, 34 Stat. 453; July 1, 1918, c. 113, § 1, 40 Stat. 640.)

125. Surgeon; pay and allowances.—A surgeon, with the rank of lieutenant, after fifteen years' service in the Coast Guard shall have the pay and allowances of a lieutenant commander. (Apr. 16, 1908, c. 145, § 7, 35 Stat. 62.)

126. Travel on Government-owned vessels.—Officers of the Coast Guard performing travel by Government-owned vessels for which no transportation fare is charged shall only be entitled to reimbursement of actual and necessary expenses incurred. (Jan. 22, 1925, c. 87, Title I, 43 Stat. 772.)

127. Rank, pay, or allowances unaffected by Act of January 12, 1923, c. 25.—Nothing contained in this title, sections 10, 11, 12, and 18, shall be construed to reduce the rank, pay, or allowances of any commissioned officer of the Coast Guard as provided by law prior to January 12, 1923. (Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 5, 42 Stat. 1131.)

128. Officers' pay accounts; verification.—It shall not be necessary for any commissioned officer of the Coast Guard to make oath to his pay accounts. (June 23, 1906, c. 3520, § 5, 34 Stat. 453.)

129. Allotment of pay.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to permit officers and others of the Coast Guard to make allotments from their pay, under such regulations as he may prescribe, for the support of their families or relatives, for their own savings, or for other proper purposes, during such time as they may be absent at sea, on distant duty, or under other circumstances warranting such action. (June 11, 1896, c. 420, § 1, 29 Stat. 421.)

Chapter 5.—OFFENSES OF OFFICERS AND ENLISTED MEN.

Sec.
141. "Deck courts."
142. Limitation to punishment by commander of vessel.
143. Coast Guard courts; composition; jurisdiction as to crimes and punishment; approval of sentence by President or Secretary of Treasury.
144. Offenses not within jurisdiction of Coast Guard tribunals; turning offenders over to civil courts.
145. Concurrent jurisdiction of civil courts; turning over offenders.
146. Place of imprisonment.
147. Deserters; arrest; rewards; reenlistment.

Section 141. "Deck courts."—"Deck courts," to consist of one commissioned officer only, may be ordered by or under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury for the trial of enlisted men in the Coast Guard for minor offenses now triable by Coast Guard courts; and said courts shall be governed in their organization and procedure substantially in accordance with naval "deck courts," and shall have the same power to impose punishment. (June 5, 1920, c. 235, § 1, 41 Stat. 880.)

142. Limitation to punishment by commander of vessel.—No commander of a vessel of the Coast Guard shall inflict upon any commissioned or warrant officer under his command any other punishment than private reprimand, suspension from duty, arrest, or confinement, and such suspension, arrest, or confinement shall not continue longer than ten days, unless a further period be necessary to bring the offender to trial; nor shall he inflict or cause to be inflicted upon any other person under his command for a single offense, or at any one time, any other punishment than confinement, with or without single irons, on board ship; confinement, on bread and water, with or without single irons, on board ship; deprivation of liberty on shore for a period not exceeding three months; extra duties, and, in case of absence without leave falling short of desertion, forfeiture of two days' pay for each day of unauthorized absence: Provided, That such confinement shall not continue longer than ten days, unless further confinement be necessary to bring the offender to trial, and, when on bread and water, a full ration shall be served every third day: Provided, That all punishments inflicted by the commander or by his order, except reprimand, shall be fully entered upon the ship's log. (May 26, 1906, c. 2556, § 2, 34 Stat. 200.)

143. Coast Guard courts; composition; jurisdiction as to crimes and punishment; approval of sentence by President or Secretary of Treasury.—Offenses against the discipline of the Coast Guard too grave in character to be adequately dealt with directly by the commanding officer, as hereinbefore provided, may be punished by Coast Guard courts, to be convened by or under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such courts shall consist of not less than three commissioned officers of the Coast Guard, and shall, under rules approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, be governed in their organization and procedure substantially in accordance with naval courts, but the jurisdiction of Coast Guard courts shall be limited to the following offenses, namely: Disobeying lawful order of superior officer, refusing to obey lawful order of superior officer; striking, assaulting, or attempting or threatening to strike or assault a superior officer while in the execution of the duties of his office; drunkenness on duty; drunkenness; gambling; misappropriation of mess funds; misuse of Government property or supplies; fraudulently signing vouchers; theft in an amount under $100; scandalous conduct tending to the destruction of good morals; desertion; absence from duty without leave or after leave has expired; neglect of duty; conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman; malicious or willful destruction of public property; aiding or enticing others to desert; smuggling liquor on board a vessel of the Coast Guard; cruelty toward or oppression or maltreatment of any subordinate person in the service; using obscene or abusive language; violating or refusing obedience to any lawful order or regulation issued by the Secretary of the Treasury or the President. Such courts shall have power to impose upon a commissioned officer none other than the following punishments, namely: Summary dismissal from the service; suspension from duty for a period of two years or any part thereof upon reduced pay, which shall in no case be less than one-half nor more than three-fourths of the duty pay of such officer; reduction of rank in his own grade; retention of his present number on the official register for a specified time; imprisonment for a period not to exceed two years; official reprimand. The only punishments that may be imposed by such courts upon any person in the Coast Guard other than a commissioned officer shall be the following, namely: Dishonorable discharge; forfeiture of not to exceed two months' pay; imprisonment on land for a period not to exceed one year; confinement aboard ship not to exceed one month; confinement in single irons, on bread and water, or on diminished rations, not exceeding thirty days, but a full ration shall in all cases be given at least every third day; confinement in single irons; reduction to next inferior rating; deprivation of liberty for a period not to exceed three months; extra duties, and the imposing of these punishments will be regulated in accordance with rules prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. A commissioned officer of the said service may be designated by the convening authority as official prosecutor to prosecute the case in the interest of the Government, and whose general powers and duties will be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. The proceedings, findings, and sentences of Coast Guard courts shall be subject to review by the Secretary of the Treasury, as the convening authority, and the records of such courts shall be filed in the division of Coast Guard, Treasury Department, and no sentence of such court shall be carried into effect until approved by the said Secretary: Provided, That in the case of a commissioned officer a sentence of dismissal shall not be carried into effect until approved by the President of the United States. (May 26, 1906, c. 2556, § 3, 34 Stat. 200.)

144. Offenses not within jurisdiction of Coast Guard tribunals; turning offenders over to civil courts.—For offenses against the laws of the United States other than those specified in the foregoing six sections, offenders shall be turned over to the civil authorities for trial. (May 26, 1906, c. 2556, § 7, 34 Stat. 201.)

145. Concurrent jurisdiction of civil courts; turning over offenders.—The jurisdiction conferred by the foregoing five sections for the punishment of offenses against the discipline of the Coast Guard shall not be regarded as exclusive, but offenders may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, be turned over to the civil authorities for trial by any court having jurisdiction of the offense. (May 26, 1906, c. 2556, § 6, 34 Stat. 201.)

146. Place of imprisonment.—The Secretary of the Treasury may designate, as the place of execution of the sentence of a Coast Guard court involving imprisonment, any prison or penitentiary that receives Federal prisoners. (May 26, 1906, c. 2556, § 4, 34 Stat. 201.)

147. Deserters; arrest; rewards; reenlistment.—It shall be lawful for the commanding officer of a vessel of the Coast Guard to apprehend and arrest or cause to be apprehended and arrested, by the force under his command, a deserter from the Coast Guard wherever found, and shall have authority to call upon all persons to assist in such arrest, and all persons so assisting are hereby invested with the power and authority of deputy United States marshals, and shall deliver the offender on board of the vessel from which he deserted: Provided, That a reward for the apprehension and delivery of a deserter from the Coast Guard as hereinbefore provided, not to exceed $15, may be offered by the commanding officer of the vessel from which the person deserted, and this reward, or any part thereof, may be deducted and paid from money due said deserter: Provided, That no person who has deserted from the Coast Guard shall afterwards be employed in said service, or enlisted in any other military or naval service under the United States, unless he shall have delivered himself aboard the vessel from which he deserted, or been apprehended, and the disability shall have been removed by a board of commissioned officers of the said service convened for a consideration of the case, and the action of the said board shall have been approved by the Secretary of the Treasury. (May 26, 1906, c. 2556, § 5, 34 Stat. 201.)

Chapter 6.—RETIREMENT AND DISABILITY; ALLOWANCE TO DEPENDENTS.

Sec.
161. Commandant; retirement; rank and pay.
162. Engineer in chief; retirement; rank and pay.
163. Pay and allowances while on active duty.
164. Recall to active duty during war or emergency generally.
165. Temporary advancement in rank while on active duty.
166. Promotion for active duty after June 30, 1922.
167. Pay of retired officers generally.
168. Disabilities due to vicious habits.
169. Disabilities in course of duty or from age; assignment to special duties.
170. Retiring board; proceedings generally.
171. Retirement for failure in physical examination for promotion.
172. Retirement for disability generally.
173. Retirement on account of age.
174. Retirement of commissioned officers on forty years' length of service; advance in rank.
175. Retirement on thirty years' service; pay; assignment to special duties.
176. Pensions generally.
177. Disabilities received in cooperation with Navy; pension.

Section 161. Commandant; retirement; rank and pay.—Any officer who shall after January 12, 1923, serve as commandant shall, when retired, be retired with the rank of commandant and with the pay of a rear admiral (lower half) of the Navy on the retired list. (Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 2, 42 Stat. 1130.)

162. Engineer in chief; retirement; rank and pay.—An officer who shall after January 12, 1923, serve as engineer in chief shall, when retired, be retired with the rank of engineer in chief and with the pay of a captain (engineering) on the retired list. (Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 2, 42 Stat. 1130.)

163. Pay and allowances while on active duty.—Retired officers of the Coast Guard below the grade of brigadier general or commodore and retired warrant officers and enlisted men, shall, when on active duty, receive full pay and allowances. (June 10, 1922, c. 212, § 17, 42 Stat. 632; May 31, 1924, c. 224, § 6, 43 Stat. 252.)

164. Recall to active duty during war or emergency generally.—During the existence of war or of a national emergency declared by the President to exist, any commissioned or warrant officer of the Coast Guard of the United States on the retired list may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy, be ordered to active duty at sea or on shore; and any retired officer performing such active duty in time of war or national emergency, declared as aforesaid, shall be entitled to promotion on the retired list to the grade or rank, not above that of lieutenant commander in the Coast Guard, and shall thereafter receive the pay and allowances thereof, which his total active service as an officer both prior and subsequent to retirement, in the manner rendered by him, would have enabled him to attain in due course of promotion had such service been rendered continuously on the active list during the period of time last past, except as provided in the following section. (July 1, 1918, c. 114, 40 Stat. 717.)

165. Temporary advancement in rank while on active duty.—During the existence of war or of a national emergency, declared as aforesaid, any commissioned or warrant officer of the Coast Guard of the United States on the retired list, while on active duty, may be temporarily advanced to and commissioned in such higher grade or rank on the retired list, not above that of lieutenant commander in the Coast Guard, as the President may determine, and any officer so advanced shall, while on active duty, be entitled to the same pay and allowances as officers of like grade or rank on the active list: Provided, That any such commissioned or warrant officer who has been so temporarily advanced in grade or rank shall, upon his relief from active duty, or in any case not later than six months after the termination of the war or of the national emergency, declared as aforesaid, revert to the grade or rank on the retired list and to the pay and allowance status which he would have held had he not been so temporarily advanced: Provided further, That nothing in this or the second preceding section shall operate to reduce the pay and allowances now allowed by law to retired officers. (July 1, 1918, c. 114, 40 Stat. 717.)

166. Promotion for active duty after June 30, 1922.—Active duty performed after June 30, 1922, by an officer on the retired list or its equivalent shall not entitle such officer to promotion. (June 10, 1922, c. 212, § 17, 42 Stat. 632; May 31, 1924, c. 224, § 6, 43 Stat. 252.)

167. Pay of retired officers generally.—All officers borne upon the retired list prior to April 12, 1902, or thereafter, shall receive 75 per centum of the duty pay, salary, and increase of the rank upon which they have been or may be retired: Provided, That no longevity increase of pay shall be allowed for any length of service accruing after retirement. (Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, § 9, 32 Stat. 101.)

168. Disabilities due to vicious habits.—When a board finds that an officer is incapacitated for active service, and that such incapacity is the result of his own vicious habits and not due to any incident of service, and its decision shall be approved by the President, the officer shall be dropped from the service. (Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, § 7, 32 Stat. 101.)

169. Disabilities in course of duty or from age; assignment to special duties.—When a board finds that an officer is incapacitated for active service, and that his incapacity is the result of an incident of service, or is due to the infirmities of age, or physical or mental disability, and not his own vicious habits, and such decision is approved by the President, he shall be retired from active service and placed upon a retired list. Officers thus retired may be assigned to such duties as they may be able to perform, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury. (Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, § 6, 32 Stat. 101.)

170. Retiring board; proceedings generally.—The Secretary of the Treasury, under the direction of the President, shall from time to time assemble a Coast Guard retiring board, composed of officers of the Coast Guard and medical officers of the Public Health Service, consisting of not less than five commissioned officers, two-fifths of whom shall be selected from medical officers of the Public Health Service, for the purpose of examining and reporting on such officers of the Coast Guard as may be ordered by the Secretary of the Treasury to appear before it; and the members of said board shall be sworn, in every case, to discharge their duties honestly and impartially, the oath to be administered to the members by the president of the board, and to him by the junior member or recorder; and such board shall inquire into and determine the facts touching the nature and occasion of the disability of any officer who appears to be incapable of performing the duties of his office, and shall have such powers as may be necessary for that purpose; and when the board finds an officer incapacitated for active service it shall also find and report the cause which in its judgment has produced his incapacity, whether such cause is an incident of service, whether due to his own vicious habits, or the infirmities of age, or physical or mental disability. The proceedings and decisions of the board shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall by him be laid before the President for his approval or disapproval and his orders in the case. (Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, § 5, 32 Stat. 100.)

171. Retirement for failure in physical examination for promotion.—If any commissioned officer shall fail in his physical examination for promotion and be found incapacitated for service by reason of physical disability contracted in the line of duty, he shall be retired with the rank to which his seniority entitled him to be promoted. (Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 3, 42 Stat. 1131.)

172. Retirement for disability generally.—When any commissioned officer, warrant officer, or enlisted man has become incapable of performing the duties of his office he shall be either placed upon the retired list or dropped from the service by the President, as hereinafter provided in this chapter. (Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, § 4, 32 Stat. 100.)

173. Retirement on account of age.—When any commissioned officer, warrant officer, or enlisted man in the Coast Guard has reached the age of sixty-four years he shall be retired by the President from active service. (Apr. 12, 1902, c. 501, § 4, 32 Stat. 100.)

174. Retirement of commissioned officers on forty years' length of service; advance in rank.—When a commissioned officer of the Coast Guard who has had forty years' service shall retire, he shall be placed on the retired list with the rank and retired pay of one grade above that actually held by him at the time of retirement; and, in the case of a captain, the rank and retired pay of one grade above shall be the rank of commodore and the pay of a commodore in the Navy on the retired list. (Jan. 12, 1923, c. 25, § 3, 42 Stat. 1131.)

175. Retirement on thirty years' service; pay; assignment to special duties.—A commissioned officer, warrant officer, or enlisted man who has served thirty years, upon suitable application and as to commissioned officers upon approval by the Secretary of the Treasury, may be retired from active service and receive 75 per centum of the duty pay, salary and increase of his grade or rating: Provided, That such commissioned officer, warrant officer, or enlisted man may be assigned to such duties as he may be able to perform. (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 3, 38 Stat. 801.)

176. Pensions generally.—No pension shall be allowed or paid to any commissioned officer, warrant officer, or enlisted man in the Coast Guard either on the active or retired list. (Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 3, 38 Stat. 801.)

177. Disabilities received in cooperation with Navy; pension.—The officers and seamen of the Coast Guard, who have been or may be wounded or disabled in the discharge of their duty while cooperating with the Navy by order of the President, shall be entitled to be placed on the Navy pension list, at the same rate of pension and under the same regulations and restrictions as are provided by law for the officers and seamen of the Navy. (R. S. § 4741.)

Chapter 7.—MEDALS AND HONORS.

Sec.
191. Medal for heroism of officer.
192. Volunteer crews; compensation for saving life; medals.
193. Medals for saving life generally.
194. Bestowal of medal of second class.
195. Additional tokens of honor for repeated acts of heroism.
196. Bestowal of medal on person other than member of Coast Guard.

Section 191. Medal for heroism of officer.—The President of the United States is hereby empowered to prepare a suitable medal of honor to be awarded to any officer of the Coast Guard who shall have distinguished himself in battle or displayed extraordinary heroism in the line of his profession. (Mar. 3, 1915, c. 83, 38 Stat. 931.)

192. Volunteer crews; compensation for saving life; medals.—The Secretary of the Treasury may accept the services of volunteer crews at any of the life-boat stations authorized, who shall be subject to the rules and regulations governing the Coast Guard; and a list of the names of each crew shall be kept in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such volunteers shall receive a sum of not more than $10 each for every occasion upon which they shall have been instrumental in saving human life, and such of the medals as they may be entitled to under the provisions of this chapter: Provided, That no payment shall be made to any person who shall not have actually participated in the efforts to save the life or lives rescued. (June 20, 1874, c. 344, § 6, 18 Stat. 127.)

193. Medals for saving life generally.—The Secretary of the Treasury is directed to cause to be prepared medals of honor, with suitable devices, to be distinguished as life-saving medals of the first and second class, which shall be bestowed upon any persons who shall hereafter endanger their own lives in saving, or endeavoring to save lives from perils of the sea, within the United States, or upon any American vessel: Provided, That the medal of the first class shall be confined to cases of extreme and heroic daring; and that the medal of the second class shall be given in cases not sufficiently distinguished to deserve the medal of the first class: Provided also, That no award of either medal shall be made to any person until sufficient evidence of his deserving shall have been filed with the Secretary of the Treasury and entered upon the records of the department. (June 20, 1874, c. 344, § 7, 18 Stat. 127.)

194. Bestowal of medal of second class.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to bestow the life-saving medal of the second class upon persons making such signal exertions in rescuing and succoring the shipwrecked, and saving persons from drowning, as, in his opinion, shall merit such recognition. (June 18, 1878, c. 265, § 12, 20 Stat. 165.)

195. Additional tokens of honor for repeated acts of heroism.—The life-saving medals of the first and second class authorized by the second preceding section shall be designated as the gold and silver life-saving medal respectively, and any person who has received or may hereafter receive either of said medals under the provisions of either of the two preceding sections, and who shall again perform an act which would entitle him to a medal of the same class under said provisions, shall receive, and the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to award, in lieu of a second medal, a bar, suitably inscribed, of the same metal as the medal to which said person would be entitled, to be attached to a ribbon of such description as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, which may be fastened to the medal already bestowed upon said person; and for every such additional act an additional bar may be added. And the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized, in his discretion, whenever any person becomes entitled to a bar representing a gold medal, to award him, in addition to said bar, such token as it is customary to award in acknowledgment of the services of masters and crews of foreign vessels in rescuing American citizens from shipwreck. (May 4, 1882, c. 117 § 9, 22 Stat. 57.)

196. Bestowal of medal on person other than member of Coast Guard.—So much of the three preceding sections as provide for the award of life-saving medals shall be construed so as to empower the Secretary of the Treasury to bestow such medals upon persons making signal exertions in rescuing and succoring the shipwrecked and saving persons from drowning in the waters over which the United States has jurisdiction, whether the said persons making such exertions were or were not members of the Coast Guard, or whether or not such exertions were made in the vicinity of a Coast Guard station. (Jan. 21, 1897, c. 83, 29 Stat. 494.)

Chapter 8.—TEMPORARY PERSONNEL.

Sec.

201. General qualifications for appointment as temporary commissioned officers.
202. Temporary promotion of permanent officers; effect of promotion on permanent commission and retirement rights.
203. Appointment of temporary officers authorized; pay and allowances; retirement rights.
204. Special list of temporary officers; promotions, reductions, and dismissals.
205. Appointment of temporary chief warrant officers; pay and allowances; retirement rights.
206. Appointment of temporary warrant officers and temporary enlistments; retirement length of service rights.
207. Temporary appointments from naval reserve; effect on status; pay.
208. Rights of permanent personnel unaffected.

Section 201. General qualifications for appointment as temporary commissioned officers.—(a) All original temporary appointments shall be made in grades not above that of lieutenant, in the line or the Engineer Corps, and shall be made only after the candidate has satisfactorily passed such examinations as the President may prescribe. No person shall be given an original temporary appointment who is more than forty years of age.

(b) Any warrant officer or enlisted man of the permanent Coast Guard may be given an original temporary appointment, under such regulations as the President may prescribe, and without reduction in pay or allowances. Notwithstanding such temporary appointment, any such warrant officer or enlisted man shall be entitled to retirement in the same manner as though he had continued to hold his permanent grade or rating, and upon the termination of such temporary appointment shall be entitled to revert to such grade or rating. Service under any such temporary appointment shall be included in determining length of service as a warrant officer or enlisted man. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 130, § 4, 43 Stat. 105.)

202. Temporary promotion of permanent officers; effect of promotion on permanent commission and retirement rights.—Permanent commissioned officers of the Coast Guard may be given temporary promotion in order of seniority and without examination, to fill any such temporary grades. Notwithstanding such temporary promotion, any such officer shall continue to hold his permanent commission and shall be advanced in lineal rank, promoted, and retired in the same manner as though no provision for temporary officers had been made by law. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 130, § 3, 43 Stat. 105.)

203. Appointment of temporary officers authorized; pay and allowances; retirement rights.—(a) The President is authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the following temporary officers of the Coast Guard: Two captains, ten commanders, twenty-five lieutenant commanders, forty-eight lieutenants, and forty-two lieutenants (junior grade) and ensigns, of the line; and five commanders, eleven lieutenant commanders, ninteeen lieutenants, and forty lieutenants (junior grade) and ensigns, of the Engineer Corps.

(b) Such temporary officers while in service shall receive the same pay, allowances, and benefits as permanent commissioned officers of the Coast Guard of corresponding grade and length of service, except that no such officer shall be entitled to retirement because of his temporary commission.

(c) Temporary appointments shall continue until the President otherwise directs or Congress otherwise provides. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 130, § 2, 43 Stat. 105.)

204. Special list of temporary officers; promotions, reductions, and dismissals.—The names of all persons appointed under the preceding section shall be placed upon a special list of temporary officers, as distinguished from the list of permanent officers, of the Coast Guard. The President is authorized, without regard to length of service or seniority, to promote to grades not above lieutenant, in the line or Engineer Corps, or to reduce officers on such special list, within the number specified for each grade, and he may, in his discretion, call for the resignation of, or dismiss, any such officer for unfitness or misconduct. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 130, § 4, 43 Stat. 105.)

205. Appointment of temporary chief warrant officers; pay and allowances; retirement rights.—(a) Under such regulations as he may prescribe, the President is authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, twenty-five temporary chief warrant officers of the Coast Guard from the permanent list of warrant officers of the Coast Guard.

(b) Such chief warrant officers shall receive the same pay, allowances, and benefits as commissioned warrant officers of the Navy, except that any such officer shall continue to hold his permanent grade, and shall be retired in the same manner as though no provision had been made for temporary chief warrant officers. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 130, § 5, 43 Stat. 106.)

206. Appointment of temporary warrant officers and temporary enlistments; retirement length of service rights.—(a) Under such regulations as he may prescribe, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to appoint temporary warrant officers, and to make special temporary enlistments, in the Coast Guard. No person shall be entitled to retirement because of his temporary appointment or enlistment under this section.

(b) Any enlisted man in the permanent Coast Guard may be appointed as a temporary warrant officer. Notwithstanding such temporary appointment, any such enlisted man shall be entitled to retirement in the same manner as though he had continued to hold his permanent rating, and upon the termination of such temporary appointment shall be entitled to revert to such rating. Service under any such temporary appointment shall be included in determining length of service as an enlisted man. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 130, § 6, 43 Stat. 106.)

207. Temporary appointments from naval reserve; effect on status; pay.—The temporary appointment of any member of the Naval Reserve to an enlisted, warrant or commissioned grade in the Coast Guard shall not prejudice his status in the Naval Reserve when his temporary service in the Coast Guard shall have terminated. While serving with the Coast Guard members of the Naval Reserve shall not be entitled to retainer pay or any other special privileges by reason of their former service in the Navy or Naval Reserve, except that service in the Coast Guard may be counted as service in the Naval Reserve. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 130, § 7, 43 Stat. 106.)

208. Rights of permanent personnel unaffected.—Nothing contained in the preceding sections 201 to 207 of this chapter shall operate to reduce the grade, rank, pay, allowances, or benefits that any person in the Coast Guard would have been entitled to if such sections had not become law. (Apr. 21, 1924, c. 130, § 8, 43 Stat. 106.)

Section 1. Trusts, etc., in restraint of trade illegal; penalty.—Every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce among the several States, or with foreign nations, is declared to be illegal. Every person who shall make any such contract or engage in any such combination or conspiracy, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court. (July 2, 1890, c. 647, § 1, 26 Stat. 209.)

2. Monopolizing trade a misdemeanor; penalty.—Every person who shall monopolize, or attempt to monopolize, or combine or conspire with any other person or persons, to monopolize any part of the trade or commerce among the several States, or with foreign nations, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court. (July 2, 1890, c. 647, § 2, 26 Stat. 209.)

3. Trusts in Territories or District of Columbia illegal; combination a misdemeanor.—Every contract, combination in form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce in any Territory of the United States or of the District of Columbia, or in restraint of trade or commerce between any such Territory and another, or between any such Territory or Territories and any State or States or the District of Columbia, or with foreign nations, or between the District of Columbia and any State or States or foreign nations, is declared illegal. Every person who shall make any such contract or engage in any such combination or conspiracy, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court. (July 2, 1890, c. 647, § 3, 26 Stat. 209.)

4. Jurisdiction of courts; duty of district attorneys; procedure.—The several district courts of the United States are invested with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of sections 1 to 7, inclusive, or section 15 of this chapter; and it shall be the duty of the several district attorneys of the United States, in their respective districts, under the direction of the Attorney General, to institute proceedings in equity to prevent and restrain such violations. Such proceedings may be by way of petition setting forth the case and praying that such violation shall be enjoined or otherwise prohibited. When the parties complained of shall have been duly notified of such petition the court shall proceed, as soon as may be, to the hearing and determination of the case; and pending such petition and before final decree, the court may at any time make such temporary restraining order or prohibition as shall be deemed just in the premises. (July 2, 1890, c. 647, § 4, 26 Stat. 209; Mar. 3, 1911, c. 231, § 291, 36 Stat. 1167.)

5. Bringing in additional parties.—Whenever it shall appear to the court before which any proceeding under section 4 of this chapter may be pending, that the ends of justice require that other parties should be brought before the court, the court may cause them to be summoned, whether they reside in the district in which the court is held or not; and subpœnas to that end may be served in any district by the marshal thereof. (July 2, 1890, c. 647, § 5, 26 Stat. 210.)

6. Forfeiture of property in transit.—Any property owned under any contract or by any combination, or pursuant to any conspiracy (and being the subject thereof) mentioned in section 1 of this chapter, and being in the course of transportation from one State to another, or to a foreign country, shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized and condemned by like proceedings as those provided by law for the forfeiture, seizure, and condemnation of property imported into the United States contrary to law. (July 2, 1890, c. 647, § 6, 26 Stat. 210.)

7. "Person" defined.—The word "person," or "persons," wherever used in section 1, 2, 3, or 15 of this chapter shall be deemed to include corporations and associations existing under or authorized by the laws of either the United States, the laws of any of the Territories, the laws of any State, or the laws of any foreign country. (July 2, 1890, c. 647, § 8, 26 Stat. 210.)

8. Trusts in restraint of import trade illegal; penalty.—Every combination, conspiracy, trust, agreement, or contract is declared to be contrary to public policy, illegal, and void when the same is made by or between two or more persons or corporations either of whom, as agent or principal, is engaged in importing any article from any foreign country into the United States, and when such combination, conspiracy, trust, agreement, or contract is intended to operate in restraint of lawful trade, or free competition in lawful trade or commerce, or to increase the market price in any part of the United States of any article or articles imported or intended to be imported into the United States, or of any manufacture into which such imported article enters or is intended to enter. Every person who shall be engaged in the importation of goods or any commodity from any foreign country in violation of this section, or who shall combine or conspire with another to violate the same, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof in any court of the United States such person shall be fined in a sum not less than $100 and not exceeding $5,000, and shall be further punished by imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, for a term not less than three months nor exceeding twelve months. (Aug. 27, 1894, c. 349, § 73, 28 Stat. 570; Feb. 12, 1913, c. 40, 37 Stat. 667.)

9. Jurisdiction of courts; duty of district attorneys; procedure.—The several district courts of the United States are invested with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of the preceding section; and it shall be the duty of the several district attorneys of the United States, in their respective districts, under the direction of the Attorney General, to institute proceedings in equity to prevent and restrain such violations. Such proceedings may be by way of petitions setting forth the case and praying that such violations shall be enjoined or otherwise prohibited. When the parties complained of shall have been duly notified of such petition the court shall proceed, as soon as may be, to the hearing and determination of the case; and pending such petition and before final decree, the court may at any time make such temporary restraining order or prohibition as shall be deemed just in the premises. (Aug. 27, 1894, c. 349, § 74, 28 Stat. 570; Mar. 3, 1911, c. 231, § 291, 36 Stat. 1167.)

10. Bringing in additional parties.—Whenever it shall appear to the court before which any proceeding under the preceding section may be pending, that the ends of justice require that other parties should be brought before the court, the court may cause them to be summoned, whether they reside in the district in which the court is held or not; and subpœnas to that end may be served in any district by the marshal thereof. (Aug. 27, 1894, c. 349, § 75, 28 Stat. 570.)

11. Forfeiture of property in transit.—Any property owned under any contract or by any combination, or pursuant to any conspiracy, and being the subject thereof, mentioned in section 8 of this chapter, imported into and being within the United States or being in the course of transportation from one State to another, or to or from a Territory or the District of Columbia, shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized and condemned by like proceedings as those provided by law for the forfeiture, seizure, and condemnation of property imported into the United States contrary to law. (Aug. 27, 1894, c. 349, § 76, 28 Stat. 570; Feb. 12, 1913, c. 40, 37 Stat. 667.)

12. Words defined.—"Antitrust laws," as used in sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter, includes sections 1 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter.

"Commerce," as used in sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter, means trade or commerce among the several States and with foreign nations, or between the District of Columbia or any Territory of the United States and any State, Territory, or foreign nation, or between any insular possessions or other places under the jurisdiction of the United States, or between any such possession or place and any State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia or any foreign nation, or within the District of Columbia or any Territory or any insular possession or other place under the jurisdiction of the United States: Provided, That nothing in the aforesaid sections contained shall apply to the Philippine Islands.

The word "person" or "persons" wherever used in sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter shall be deemed to include corporations and associations existing under or authorized by the laws of either the United States, the laws of any of the Territories, the laws of any State, or the laws of any foreign country. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 1, 38 Stat. 730.)

13. Discrimination in price between purchasers.—It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, either directly or indirectly to discriminate in price between different purchasers of commodities, which commodities are sold for use, consumption, or resale within the United States or any Territory thereof or the District of Columbia or any insular possession or other place under the jurisdiction of the United States, where the effect of such discrimination may be to substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall prevent discrimination in price between purchasers of commodities on account of differences in the grade, quality, or quantity of the commodity sold, or that makes only due allowance for difference in the cost of selling or transportation, or discrimination in price in the same or different communities made in good faith to meet competition: And provided further, That nothing herein contained shall prevent persons engaged in selling goods, wares, or merchandise in commerce from selecting their own customers in bona fide transactions and not in restraint of trade. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 2, 38 Stat. 730.)

14. Sale, etc., on agreement not to use goods of competitor.—It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, to lease or make a sale or contract for sale of goods, wares, merchandise, machinery, supplies or other commodities, whether patented or unpatented, for use, consumption or resale within the United States or any Territory thereof or the District of Columbia or any insular possession or other place under the jurisdiction of the United States, or fix a price charged therefor, or discount from, or rebate upon, such price, on the condition, agreement or understanding that the lessee or purchaser thereof shall not use or deal in the goods, wares, merchandise, machinery, supplies or other commodities of a competitor or competitors of the lessor or seller, where the effect of such lease, sale, or contract for sale or such condition, agreement or understanding may be to substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 3, 38 Stat. 731.)

15. Suits by persons injured; amount of recovery.—Any person who shall be injured in his business or property by reason of anything forbidden in the antitrust laws may sue therefor in any district court of the United States in the district in which the defendant resides or is found or has an agent, without respect to the amount in controversy, and shall recover threefold the damages by him sustained, and the cost of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 4, 38 Stat. 731.)

16. Effect of criminal prosecution; evidence; limitations.—A final judgment or decree rendered in any criminal prosecution or in any suit or proceeding in equity brought by or on behalf of the United States under the antitrust laws to the effect that a defendant has violated said laws shall be prima facie evidence against such defendant in any suit or proceeding brought by any other party against such defendant under said laws as to all matters respecting which said judgment or decree would be an estoppel as between the parties thereto: Provided, This section shall not apply to consent judgments or decrees entered before any testimony has been taken.

Whenever any suit or proceeding in equity or criminal prosecution is instituted by the United States to prevent, restrain or punish violations of any of the antitrust laws, the running of the statute of limitations in respect of each and every private right of action arising under said laws and based in whole or in part on any matter complained of in said suit or proceeding shall be suspended during the pendency thereof. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 5, 38 Stat. 731.)

17. Antitrust laws not applicable to labor organizations.—The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce. Nothing contained in the antitrust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of labor, agricultural, or horticultural organizations, instituted for the purposes of mutual help, and not having capital stock or conducted for profit, or to forbid or restrain individual members of such organizations from lawfully carrying out the legitimate objects thereof; nor shall such organizations, or the members thereof, be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade, under the antitrust laws. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 6, 38 Stat. 731.)

18. Acquisition by one corporation of stock of another.—No corporation engaged in commerce shall acquire, directly or indirectly, the whole or any part of the stock or other share capital of another corporation engaged also in commerce, where the effect of such acquisition may be to substantially lessen competition between the corporation whose stock is so acquired and the corporation making the acquisition, or to restrain such commerce in any section or community, or tend to create a monopoly of any line of commerce.

No corporation shall acquire, directly or indirectly, the whole or any part of the stock or other share capital of two or more corporations engaged in commerce where the effect of such acquisition, or the use of such stock by the voting or granting of proxies or otherwise, may be to substantially lessen competition between such corporations, or any of them, whose stock or other share capital is so acquired, or to restrain such commerce in any section or community, or tend to create a monopoly of any line of commerce.

This section shall not apply to corporations purchasing such stock solely for investment and not using the same by voting or otherwise to bring about, or in attempting to bring about, the substantial lessening of competition. Nor shall anything contained in this section prevent a corporation engaged in commerce from causing the formation of subsidiary corporations for the actual carrying on of their immediate lawful business, or the natural and legitimate branches or extensions thereof, or from owning and holding all or a part of the stock of such subsidiary corporations, when the effect of such formation is not to substantially lessen competition.

Nor shall anything herein contained be construed to prohibit any common carrier subject to the laws to regulate commerce from aiding in the construction of branches or short lines so located as to become feeders to the main line of the company so aiding in such construction or from acquiring or owning all or any part of the stock of such branch lines, nor to prevent any such common carrier from acquiring and owning all or any part of the stock of a branch or short line constructed by an independent company where there is no substantial competition between the company owning the branch line so constructed and the company owning the main line acquiring the property or an interest therein, nor to prevent such common carrier from extending any of its lines through the medium of the acquisition of stock or otherwise of any other such common carrier where there is no substantial competition between the company extending its lines and the company whose stock, property, or an interest therein is so acquired.

Nothing contained in this section shall be held to affect or impair any right legally acquired on or before October 15, 1914: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be held or construed to authorize or make lawful anything theretofore prohibited or made illegal by the antitrust laws, nor to exempt any person from the penal provisions thereof or the civil remedies therein provided. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 7, 38 Stat. 731.)

19. Interlocking directors and officers.—No person shall at the same time be a director or other officer or employee of more than one bank, banking association or trust company, organized or operating under the laws of the United States, either of which has deposits, capital, surplus, and undivided profits aggregating more than $5,000,000; and no private banker or person who is a director in any bank or trust company, organized and operating under the laws of a State, having deposits, capital, surplus, and undivided profits aggregating more than $5,000,000, shall be eligible to be a director in any bank or banking association organized or operating under the laws of the United States. The eligibility of a director, officer, or employee under the foregoing provisions shall be determined by the average amount of deposits, capital, surplus, and undivided profits as shown in the official statements of such bank, banking association, or trust company filed as provided by law during the fiscal year next preceding the date set for the annual election of directors, and when a director, officer, or employee has been elected or selected in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter it shall be lawful for him to continue as such for one year thereafter under said election or employment.

No bank, banking association or trust company, organized or operating under the laws of the United States, in any city or incorporated town or village of more than two hundred thousand inhabitants, as shown by the last preceding decennial census of the United States, shall have as a director or other officer or employee any private banker or any director or other officer or employee of any other bank, banking association or trust company located in the same place: Provided, That nothing in this section shall apply to mutual savings banks not having a capital stock represented by shares: Provided further, That a director or other officer or employee of such bank, banking association, or trust company may be a director or other officer or employee of not more than one other bank or trust company organized under the laws of the United States or any State where the entire capital stock of one is owned by stockholders in the other: And provided further, That nothing contained in this section shall forbid a director of class A of a Federal reserve bank, as defined in chapter 3 of Title 12, BANKS AND BANKING, from being an officer or director or both an officer and director in one member bank: And provided further, That nothing in sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter shall prohibit any private banker or any officer, director, or employee of any member bank or class A director of a Federal reserve bank, who shall first procure the consent of the Federal Reserve Board, which board is authorized, at its discretion, to grant, withhold, or revoke such consent, from being an officer, director, or employee of not more than two other banks, banking associations, or trust companies, whether organized under the laws of the United States or any State, if such other bank, banking association, or trust company is not in substantial competition with such banker or member bank.

The consent of the Federal Reserve Board may be procured before the person applying therefor has been elected as a class A director of a Federal reserve bank or as a director of any member bank.

No person at the same time shall be a director in any two or more corporations, any one of which has capital, surplus, and undivided profits aggregating more than $1,000,000, engaged in whole or in part in commerce, other than banks, banking associations, trust companies and common carriers subject to chapter 1 of Title 49, TRANSPORTATION, if such corporations are or shall have been theretofore, by virtue of their business and location of operation, competitors, so that the elimination of competition by agreement between them would constitute a violation of any of the provisions of any of the antitrust laws. The eligibility of a director under the foregoing provision shall be determined by the aggregate amount of the capital, surplus, and undivided profits, exclusive of dividends declared but not paid to stockholders, at the end of the fiscal year of said corporation next preceding the election of directors, and when a director has been elected in accordance with the provisions of sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter it shall be lawful for him to continue as such for one year thereafter.

When any person elected or chosen as a director or officer or selected as an employee of any bank or other corporation subject to the provisions of sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter is eligible at the time of his election or selection to act for such bank or other corporation in such capacity his eligibility to act in such capacity shall not be affected and he shall not become or be deemed amenable to any of the provisions hereof by reason of any change in the affairs of such bank or other corporation from whatsoever cause, whether specifically excepted by any of the provisions hereof or not, until the expiration of one year from the date of his election or employment. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 8, 38 Stat. 732; May 15, 1916, c. 120, 39 Stat. 121; May 26, 1920, c. 206, 41 Stat. 626.)

20. Purchases by common carriers in case of interlocking directors, etc.—No common carrier engaged in commerce shall have any dealings in securities, supplies or other articles of commerce, or shall make or have any contracts for construction or maintenance of any kind, to the amount of more than $50,000, in the aggregate, in any one year, with another corporation, firm, partnership or association when the said common carrier shall have upon its board of directors or as its president, manager or as its purchasing or selling officer, or agent in the particular transaction, any person who is at the same time a director, manager, or purchasing or selling officer of, or who has any substantial interest in, such other corporation, firm, partnership or association, unless and except such purchases shall be made from, or such dealings shall be with, the bidder whose bid is the most favorable to such common carrier, to be ascertained by competitive bidding under regulations to be prescribed by rule or otherwise by the Interstate Commerce Commission. No bid shall be received unless the name and address of the bidder or the names and addresses of the officers, directors and general managers thereof, if the bidder be a corporation, or of the members, if it be a partnership or firm, be given with the bid.

Any person who shall, directly or indirectly, do or attempt to do anything to prevent anyone from bidding or shall do any act to prevent free and fair competition among the bidders or those desiring to bid shall be punished as prescribed in this section in the case of an officer or director.

Every such common carrier having any such transactions or making any such purchases shall within thirty days after making the same file with the Interstate Commerce Commission a full and detailed statement of the transaction showing the manner of the competitive bidding, who were the bidders, and the names and addresses of the directors and officers of the corporations and the members of the firm or partnership bidding; and whenever the said commission shall, after investigation or hearing, have reason to believe that the law has been violated in and about the said purchases or transactions it shall transmit all papers and documents and its own views or findings regarding the transaction to the Attorney General.

If any common carrier shall violate this section it shall be fined not exceeding $25,000; and every such director, agent, manager or officer thereof who shall have knowingly voted for or directed the act constituting such violation or who shall have aided or abetted in such violation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not exceeding $5,000, or confined in jail not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 10, 38 Stat. 734.)

21. Enforcement provisions; procedure.—Authority to enforce compliance with sections 13, 14, 18, and 19 of this chapter by the persons respectively subject thereto is vested: in the Interstate Commerce Commission where applicable to common carriers, in the Federal Reserve Board where applicable to banks, banking associations and trust companies, and in the Federal Trade Commission where applicable to all other character of commerce, to be exercised as follows:

Whenever the commission or board vested with jurisdiction thereof shall have reason to believe that any person is violating or has violated any of the provisions of said sections, it shall issue and serve upon such person a complaint stating its charges in that respect, and containing a notice of a hearing upon a day and at a place therein fixed at least thirty days after the service of said complaint. The person so complained of shall have the right to appear at the place and time so fixed and show cause why an order should not be entered by the commission or board requiring such person to cease and desist from the violation of the law so charged in said complaint. Any person may make application, and upon good cause shown may be allowed by the commission or board, to intervene and appear in said proceeding by counsel or in person. The testimony in any such proceeding shall be reduced to writing and filed in the office of the commission or board. If upon such hearing the commission or board, as the case may be, shall be of the opinion that any of the provisions of said sections have been or are being violated, it shall make a report in writing in which it shall state its findings as to the facts, and shall issue and cause to be served on such person an order requiring such person to cease and desist from such violations, and divest itself of the stock held or rid itself of the directors chosen contrary to the provisions of sections 18 and 19 of this chapter, if any there be, in the manner and within the time fixed by said order. Until a transcript of the record in such hearing shall have been filed in a circuit court of appeals of the United States, as hereinafter provided, the commission or board may at any time, upon such notice and in such manner as it shall deem proper, modify or set aside, in whole or in part, any report or any order made or issued by it under this section.

If such person fails or neglects to obey such order of the commission or board while the same is in effect, the commission or board may apply to the circuit court of appeals of the United States, within any circuit where the violation complained of was or is being committed or where such person resides or carries on business, for the enforcement of its order, and shall certify and file with its application a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including all the testimony taken and the report and order of the commission or board. Upon such filing of the application and transcript the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon such person and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the question determined therein, and shall have power to make and enter upon the pleadings, testimony, and proceedings set forth in such transcript a decree affirming, modifying, or setting aside the order of the commission or board. The findings of the commission or board as to the facts, if supported by testimony, shall be conclusive. If either party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence, and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the proceeding before the commission or board, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the commission or board and to be adduced upon the hearing in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as to the court may seem proper. The commission or board may modify its findings as to the facts, or make new findings, by reason of the additional evidence so taken, and it shall file such modified or new findings, which, if supported by testimony, shall be conclusive, and its recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of its original order, with the return of such additional evidence. The judgment and decree of the court shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to review by the Supreme Court upon certiorari as provided in section 347 of Title 28, JUDICIAL CODE AND JUDICIARY.

Any party required by such order of the commission or board to cease and desist from a violation charged may obtain a review of such order in said circuit court of appeals by filing in the court a written petition praying that the order of the commission or board be set aside. A copy of such petition shall be forthwith served upon the commission or board, and thereupon the commission or board forthwith shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the record as hereinbefore provided. Upon the filing of the transcript the court shall have the same jurisdiction to affirm, set aside, or modify the order of the commission or board as in the case of an application by the commission or board for the enforcement of its order, and the findings of the commission or board as to the facts, if supported by testimony, shall in like manner be conclusive.

The jurisdiction of the Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States to enforce, set aside, or modify orders of the commission or board shall be exclusive.

Such proceedings in the circuit court of appeals shall be given precedence over other cases pending therein, and shall be in every way expedited. No order of the commission or board or the judgment of the court to enforce the same shall in any wise relieve or absolve any person from any liability under the antitrust laws.

Complaints, orders, and other processes of the commission or board under this section may be served by anyone duly authorized by the commission or board, either (a) by delivering a copy thereof to the person to be served, or to a member of the partnership to be served, or to the president, secretary, or other executive officer or a director of the corporation to be served; or (b) by leaving a copy thereof at the principal office or place of business of such person; or (c) by registering and mailing a copy thereof addressed to such person at his principal office or place of business. The verified return by the person so serving said complaint, order, or other process setting forth the manner of said service, shall be proof of the same, and the return post-office receipt for said complaint, order, or other process registered and mailed as aforesaid shall be proof of the service of the same. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 11, 38 Stat. 734; Feb. 13, 1925, c. 229, § 2, 43 Stat. 939.)

22. District in which to sue corporation.—Any suit, action, or proceeding under the antitrust laws against a corporation may be brought not only in the judicial district whereof it is an inhabitant, but also in any district wherein it may be found or transacts business; and all process in such cases may be served in the district of which it is an inhabitant, or wherever it may be found. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 12, 38 Stat. 736.)

23. Suits by United States; subpœnas for witnesses.—In any suit, action, or proceeding brought by or on behalf of the United States subpœnas for witnesses who are required to attend a court of the United States in any judicial district in any case, civil or criminal, arising under the antitrust laws may run into any other district: Provided, That in civil cases no writ of subpœna shall issue for witnesses living out of the district in which the court is held at a greater distance than one hundred miles from the place of holding the same without the permission of the trial court being first had upon proper application and cause shown. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 13, 38 Stat. 736.)

24. Liability of directors and agents of corporation.—Whenever a corporation shall violate any of the penal provisions of the antitrust laws, such violation shall be deemed to be also that of the individual directors, officers, or agents of such corporation who shall have authorized, ordered, or done any of the acts constituting in whole or in part such violation, and such violation shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction therefor of any such director, officer, or agent he shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment for not exceeding one year, or by both, in the discretion of the court. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 14, 38 Stat. 736.)

25. Restraining violations; procedure.—The several district courts of the United States are invested with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter, and it shall be the duty of the several district attorneys of the United States, in their respective districts, under the direction of the Attorney General, to institute proceedings in equity to prevent and restrain such violations. Such proceedings may be by way of petition setting forth the case and praying that such violation shall be enjoined or otherwise prohibited. When the parties complained of shall have been duly notified of such petition, the court shall proceed, as soon as may be, to the hearing and determination of the case; and pending such petition, and before final decree, the court may at any time make such temporary restraining order or prohibition as shall be deemed just in the premises. Whenever it shall appear to the court before which any such proceeding may be pending that the ends of justice require that other parties should be brought before the court, the court may cause them to be summoned whether they reside in the district in which the court is held or not, and subpœnas to that end may be served in any district by the marshal thereof. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 15, 38 Stat. 736.)

26. Injunctive relief for private parties; exception.—Any person, firm, corporation, or association shall be entitled to sue for and have injunctive relief, in any court of the United States having jurisdiction over the parties, against threatened loss or damage by a violation of the antitrust laws, including sections 13, 14, 18, and 19 of this chapter, when and under the same conditions and principles as injunctive relief against threatened conduct that will cause loss or damage is granted by courts of equity, under the rules governing such proceedings, and upon the execution of proper bond against damages for an injunction improvidently granted and a showing that the danger of irreparable loss or damage is immediate, a preliminary injunction may issue: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to entitle any person, firm, corporation, or association, except the United States, to bring suit in equity for injunctive relief against any common carrier subject to the provisions of chapter 1 of Title 49, TRANSPORTATION, in respect of any matter subject to the regulation, supervision, or other jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 16, 38 Stat. 737.)

27. Effect of partial invalidity.—If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of sections 12 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter shall, for any reason, be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 26, 38 Stat. 740.)

28. Suits against monopolies expedited.—In any suit in equity brought in any district court of the United States under sections 1 to 7, inclusive, or section 15 of this chapter or any other statutory provisions having a like purpose enacted after February 11, 1903, or that may be enacted wherein the United States is complainant, the Attorney General may file with the clerk of such court a certificate that, in his opinion, the case is of general public importance, a copy of which shall be immediately furnished by such clerk to each of the circuit judges of the circuit in which the case is pending. Thereupon such case shall be given precedence over others and in every way expedited, and be assigned for hearing at the earliest practicable day, before not less than three of the circuit judges of said circuit, if there be three or more; and if there be not more than two circuit judges, then before them and such district judge as they may select; or, in case the full court shall not at any time be made up by reason of the necessary absence or disqualification of one or more of the said circuit judges, the justice of the Supreme Court assigned to that circuit or the other circuit judge or judges may designate a district judge or judges within the circuit who shall be competent to sit in said court at the hearing of said suit. In the event the judges sitting in such case shall be equally divided in opinion as to the decision or disposition of said cause, or in the event that a majority of said judges shall be unable to agree upon the judgment, order, or decree finally disposing of said case in said court which should be entered in said cause, then they shall immediately certify that fact to the Chief Justice of the United States, who shall at once designate and appoint some circuit judge to sit with said judges and to assist in determining said cause. Such order of the Chief Justice shall be immediately transmitted to the clerk of the district court in which said cause is pending, and shall be entered upon the minutes of said court. Thereupon said cause shall at once be set down for reargument and the parties thereto notified in writing by the clerk of said court of the action of the court and the date fixed for the reargument thereof. (Feb. 11, 1903, c. 544, § 1, 32 Stat. 823; June 25, 1910, c. 428, 36 Stat, 854; Mar. 3, 1911, c. 231, § 291, 36 Stat. 1167.)

29. Appeals to Supreme Court.—In every suit in equity brought in any district court of the United States under any of the laws mentioned in the preceding section, wherein the United States is complainant, an appeal from the final decree of the district court will lie only to the Supreme Court and must be taken within sixty days from the entry thereof. (Feb. 11, 1903, c. 544, § 2, 32 Stat. 823; Mar. 3, 1911, c. 231, § 291, 36 Stat. 1167.)

30. Depositions for use in suits in equity.—In the taking of depositions of witnesses for use in any suit in equity brought by the United States under sections 1 to 7, inclusive, or section 15 of this chapter, and in the hearings before any examiner or special master appointed to take testimony therein, the proceedings shall be open to the public as freely as are trials in open court; and no order excluding the public from attendance on any such proceedings shall be valid or enforceable. (Mar. 3, 1913, c. 114, 37 Stat. 731.)

31. Panama Canal closed to violators of antitrust laws.—No vessel permitted to engage in the coastwise or foreign trade of the United States shall be permitted to enter or pass through the Panama Canal if such ship is owned, chartered, operated, or controlled by any person or company which is doing business in violation of the provisions of sections 1 to 27, inclusive, or of any other Act of Congress amending or supplementing the same. The question of fact may be determined by the judgment of any court of the United States of competent jurisdiction in any cause pending before it to which the owners or operators of such ship are parties. Suit may be brought by any shipper or by the Attorney General of the United States. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 390, § 11, 37 Stat. 567.)

32. Immunity of witness.—No person shall be prosecuted or be subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he may testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, in any proceeding, suit, or prosecution under sections 1 to 27, inclusive, of this chapter: Provided, That no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for perjury committed in so testifying. (Feb. 25, 1903, c. 755, § 1, 32 Stat. 904.)

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

Section 41. Federal Trade Commission established; membership; vacancies; seal.—A commission is created and established, to be known as the Federal Trade Commission (hereinafter referred to as the commission), which shall be composed of five commissioners, who shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Not more than three of the commissioners shall be members of the same political party. The first commissioners appointed shall continue in officer for terms of three, four, five, six, and seven years, respectively, from September 26, 1914, the term of each to be designated by the President, but their successors shall be appointed for terms of seven years, except that any person chosen to fill a vacancy shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of the commissioner whom he shall succeed. The commission shall choose a chairman from its own membership. No commissioner shall engage in any other business, vocation, or employment. Any commissioner may be removed by the President for inefficiency, neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office. A vacancy in the commission shall not impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission.

The commission shall have an official seal, which shall be judicially noticed. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 1, 38 Stat. 717.)

42. Salaries; employees; expenses.—Each commissioner shall receive a salary of $10,000 a year, payable in the same manner as the salaries of the judges of the courts of the United States. The commission shall appoint a secretary, who shall receive a salary, payable in like manner, and it shall have authority to employ and fix the compensation of such attorneys, special experts, examiners, clerks, and other employees as it may from time to time find necessary for the proper performance of its duties and as may be from time to time appropriated for by Congress.

With the exception of the secretary, a clerk to each commissioner, the attorneys, and such special experts and examiners as the commission may from time to time find necessary for the conduct of its work, all employees of the commission shall be a part of the classified civil service, and shall enter the service under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commission and by the Civil Service Commission.

All of the expenses of the commission, including all necessary expenses for transportation incurred by the commissioners or by their employees under their orders, in making any investigation, or upon official business in any other places than in the city of Washington, shall be allowed and paid on the presentation of itemized vouchers therefor approved by the commission.

Until otherwise provided by law, the commission may rent suitable offices for its use.

The General Accounting Office shall receive and examine all accounts of expenditures of the commission. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 2, 38 Stat. 718; June 10, 1921, c. 18; § 304, 42 Stat. 24.)

43. Office and place of meeting.—The principal office of the commission shall be in the city of Washington, but it may meet and exercise all its powers at any other place. The commission may, by one or more of its members, or by such examiners as it may designate, prosecute any inquiry necessary to its duties in any part of the United States. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 3, 38 Stat. 719.)

44. Definitions.—The words defined in this section shall have the following meaning when found in this subdivision of this chapter, to wit:

"Commerce" means commerce among the several States or with foreign nations, or in any Territory of the United States or in the District of Columbia, or between any such Territory and another, or between any such Territory and any State or foreign nation, or between the District of Columbia and any State or Territory or foreign nation.

"Corporation" means any company or association incorporated or unincorporated, which is organized to carry on business for profit and has shares of capital or capital stock, and any company or association, incorporated or unincorporated, without shares of capital or capital stock, except partnerships, which is organized to carry on business for its own profit or that of its members.

"Documentary evidence" means all documents, papers, and correspondence in existence on and after September 26, 1914.

"Acts to regulate commerce" means chapter 1 of Title 49, TRANSPORTATION, and all statutes supplementary thereto.

"Antitrust Acts" means sections 1 to 11, inclusive, and section 15 of this title. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 4, 38 Stat. 719; Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 1, 38 Stat. 730.)

45. Unfair methods of competition unlawful; prevention by commission.—Unfair methods of competition in commerce are declared unlawful.

Power to prohibit.—The commission is empowered and directed to prevent persons, partnerships, or corporations, except banks, and common carriers subject to the Acts to regulate commerce, from using unfair methods of competition in commerce.

Procedure by commission.—Whenever the commission shall have reason to believe that any such person, partnership, or corporation has been or is using any unfair method of competition in commerce, and if it shall appear to the commission that a proceeding by it in respect thereof would be to the interest of the public, it shall issue and serve upon such person, partnership, or corporation a complaint stating its charges in that respect, and containing a notice of a hearing upon a day and at a place therein fixed at least thirty days after the service of said complaint. The person, partnership, or corporation so complained of shall have the right to appear at the place and time so fixed and show cause why an order should not be entered by the commission requiring such person, partnership, or corporation to cease and desist from the violation of the law so charged in said complaint. Any person, partnership, or corporation may make application, and upon good cause shown may be allowed by the commission, to intervene and appear in said proceeding by counsel or in person. The testimony in any such proceeding shall be reduced to writing and filed in the office of the commission. If upon such hearing the commission shall be of the opinion that the method of competition in question is prohibited by this subdivision of this chapter, it shall make a report in writing in which it shall state its findings as to the facts and shall issue and cause to be served on such person, partnership, or corporation an order requiring such person, partnership, or corporation to cease and desist from using such method of competition. Until a transcript of the record in such hearing shall have been filed in a circuit court of appeals of the United States, as hereinafter provided, the commission may at any time, upon such notice and in such manner as it shall deem proper, modify or set aside, in whole or in part, any report or any order made or issued by it under this section.

Enforcement of orders.—If such person, partnership, or corporation fails or neglects to obey such order of the commission while the same is in effect, the commission may apply to the circuit court of appeals of the United States, within any circuit where the method of competition in question was used or where such person, partnership, or corporation resides or carries on business, for the enforcement of its order, and shall certify and file with its application a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including all the testimony taken and the report and order of the commission. Upon such filing of the application and transcript the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon such person, partnership, or corporation and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the question determined therein, and shall have power to make and enter upon the pleadings, testimony, and proceedings set forth in such transcript a decree affirming, modifying, or setting aside the order of the commission. The findings of the commission as to facts, if supported by testimony, shall be conclusive. If either party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence, and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the proceeding before the commission, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the commission and to be adduced upon the hearing in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as to the court may seem proper. The commission may modify its findings as to the facts, or make new findings, by reason of the additional evidence so taken, and it shall file such modified or new findings, which, if supported by testimony, shall be conclusive, and its recommendation, if any, for the modification of setting aside of its original order, with the return of such additional evidence. The judgment and decree of the court shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to review by the Supreme Court upon certiorari as provided in section 347 of Title 28, JUDICIAL CODE AND JUDICIARY.

Application to set aside order.—Any party required by such order of the commission to cease and desist from using such method of competition may obtain a review of such order in said circuit court of appeals by filing in the court a written petition praying that the order of the commission be set aside. A copy of such petition shall be forthwith served upon the commission, and thereupon the commission forthwith shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the record as hereinbefore provided. Upon the filing of the transcript the court shall have the same jurisdiction to affirm, set aside, or modify the order of the commission as in the case of an application by the commission for the enforcement of its order, and the findings of the commission as to the facts, if supported by testimony, shall in like manner be conclusive.

Jurisdiction of court.—The jurisdiction of the circuit court of appeals of the United States to enforce, set aside, or modify orders of the commission shall be exclusive.

Precedence—Effect of order or judgment.—Such proceedings in the circuit court of appeals shall be given precedence over other cases pending therein, and shall be in every way expedited. No order of the commission or judgment of the court to enforce the same shall in any wise relieve or absolve any person, partnership, or corporation from any liability under the antitrust acts.

Process—Service—Return.—Complaints, orders, and other processes of the commission under this section may be served by anyone duly authorized by the commission, either (a) by delivering a copy thereof to the person to be served, or to a member of the partnership to be served, or to the president, secretary, or other executive officer or a director of the corporation to be served; or (b) by leaving a copy thereof at the principal office or place of business of such person, partnership, or corporation; or (c) by registering and mailing a copy thereof addressed to such person, partnership, or corporation at his or its principal office or place of business. The verified return by the person so serving said complaint, order, or other process setting forth the manner of said service shall be proof of the same, and the return post-office receipt for said complaint, order, or other process registered and mailed as aforesaid shall be proof of the service of the same. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 5, 38 Stat. 719; Feb. 13, 1925, c. 229, § 2, 43 Stat. 939.)

46. Additional powers of commission.—The commission shall also have power—

Investigation of corporations.—(a) To gather and compile information concerning, and to investigate from time to time the organization, business, conduct, practices, and management of any corporation engaged in commerce, excepting banks and common carriers subject to the Act to regulate commerce, and its relation to other corporations and to individuals, associations, and partnerships.

Reports by corporations.—(b) To require, by general or special orders, corporations engaged in commerce, excepting banks, and common carriers subject to the Act to regulate commerce, or any class of them, or any of them, respectively, to file with the commission in such form as the commission may prescribe annual or special, or both annual and special, reports or answers in writing to specific questions, furnishing to the commission such information as it may require as to the organization, business, conduct, practices, management, and relation to other corporations, partnerships, and individuals of the respective corporations filing such reports or answers in writing. Such reports and answers shall be made under oath, or otherwise, as the commission may prescribe, and shall be filed with the commission within such reasonable period as the commission may prescribe, unless additional time be granted in any case by the commission.

Investigation of compliance with antitrust decrees.—(c) Whenever a final decree has been entered against any defendant corporation in any suit brought by the United States to prevent and restrain any violation of the antitrust Acts, to make investigation, upon its own initiative, of the manner in which the decree has been or is being carried out, and upon the application of the Attorney General it shall be its duty to make such investigation. It shall transmit to the Attorney General a report embodying its findings and recommendations as a result of any such investigation, and the report shall be made public in the discretion of the commission.

Investigations of violations of antitrust statutes.—(d) Upon the direction of the President or either House of Congress to investigate and report the facts relating to any alleged violations of the antitrust Acts by any corporation.

Readjustment of business of corporations violating antitrust statutes.—(e) Upon the application of the Attorney General to investigate and make recommendations for the readjustment of the business of any corporation alleged to be violating the antitrust Acts in order that the corporation may thereafter maintain its organization, management, and conduct of business in accordance with law.

Publication of information; reports.—(f) To make public from time to time such portions of the information obtained by it hereunder, except trade secrets and names of customers, as it shall deem expedient in the public interest; and to make annual and special reports to the Congress and to submit therewith recommendations for additional legislation; and to provide for the publication of its reports and decisions in such form and manner as may be best adapted for public information and use.

Classification of corporations; regulations.—(g) From time to time to classify corporations and to make rules and regulations for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter.

Investigations of foreign trade conditions; reports.—(h) To investigate, from time to time, trade conditions in and with foreign countries where associations, combinations, or practices of manufacturers, merchants, or traders, or other conditions, may affect the foreign trade of the United States, and to report to Congress thereon, with such recommendations as it deems advisable. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 6, 38 Stat. 721.)

47. Reference of suits under antitrust statutes to commission.—In any suit in equity brought by or under the direction of the Attorney General as provided in the antitrust Acts, the court may, upon the conclusion of the testimony therein, if it shall be then of opinion that the complainant is entitled to relief, refer said suit to the commission, as a master in chancery, to ascertain and report an appropriate form of decree therein. The commission shall proceed upon such notice to the parties and under such rules of procedure as the court may prescribe, and upon the coming in of such report such exceptions may be filed and such proceedings had in relation thereto as upon the report of a master in other equity causes, but the court may adopt or reject such report, in whole or in part, and enter such decree as the nature of the case may in its judgment require. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 7, 38 Stat. 722.)

48. Information and assistance from departments.—The several departments and bureaus of the Government when directed by the President shall furnish the commission, upon its request, all records, papers, and information in their possession relating to any corporation subject to any of the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, and shall detail from time to time such officials and employees to the commission as he may direct. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 8, 38 Stat. 722.)

49. Documentary evidence; depositions; witnesses.—For the purposes of this subdivision of this chapter the commission, or its duly authorized agent or agents, shall at all reasonable times have access to, for the purpose of examination, and the right to copy any documentary evidence of any corporation being investigated or proceeded against; and the commission shall have power to require by subpœna the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of all such documentary evidence relating to any matter under investigation.

Any member of the commission may sign subpœnas, and members and examiners of the commission may administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, and receive evidence.

Such attendance of witnesses, and the production of such documentary evidence, may be required from any place in the United States, at any designated place of hearing. And in case of disobedience to a subpœna the commission may invoke the aid of any court of the United States in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence.

Any of the district courts of the United States within the jurisdiction of which such inquiry is carried on may, in case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpœna issued to any corporation or other person, issue an order requiring such corporation or other person to appear before the commission, or to produce documentary evidence if so ordered, or to give evidence touching the matter in question; and any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by such court as a contempt thereof.

Upon the application of the Attorney General of the United States, at the request of the commission, the district courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction to issue writs of mandamus commanding any person or corporation to comply with the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter or any order of the commission made in pursuance thereof.

The commission may order testimony to be taken by deposition in any proceeding or investigation pending under this subdivision of this chapter at any stage of such proceeding or investigation. Such depositions may be taken before any person designated by the commission and having power to administer oaths. Such testimony shall be reduced to writing by the person taking the deposition, or under his direction, and shall then be subscribed by the deponent. Any person may be compelled to appear and depose and to produce documentary evidence in the same manner as witnesses may be compelled to appear and testify and produce documentary evidence before the commission as hereinbefore provided.

Witnesses summoned before the commission shall be paid the same fees and mileage that are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States, and witnesses whose depositions are taken and the persons taking the same shall severally be entitled to the same fees as are paid for like services in the courts of the United States.

No person shall be excused from attending and testifying or from producing documentary evidence before the commission or in obedience to the subpœna of the commission on the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to criminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture. But no natural person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he may testify, or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, before the commission in obedience to a subpœna issued by it: Provided, That no natural person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 9, 38 Stat. 722.)

50. Offenses and penalties.—Any person who shall neglect or refuse to attend and testify, or to answer any lawful inquiry or to produce documentary evidence, if in his power to do so, in obedience to the subpœna or lawful requirement of the commission, shall be guilty of an offense and upon conviction thereof by a court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Any person who shall willfully make, or cause to be made, any false entry or statement of fact in any report required to be made under this subdivision of this chapter, or who shall willfully make, or cause to be made, any false entry in any account, record, or memorandum kept by any corporation subject to this subdivision of this chapter, or who shall willfully neglect or fail to make, or to cause to be made, full, true, and correct entries in such accounts, records, or memoranda of all facts and transactions appertaining to the business of such corporation, or who shall willfully remove out of the jurisdiction of the United States, or willfully mutilate, alter, or by any other means falsify any documentary evidence of such corporation, or who shall willfully refuse to submit to the commission or to any of its authorized agents, for the purpose of inspection and taking copies, any documentary evidence of such corporation in his possession or within his control, shall be deemed guilty of an offense against the United States, and shall be subject, upon conviction in any court of the United States of competent jurisdiction, to a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000, or to imprisonment for a term of not more than three years, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

If any corporation required by this subdivision of this chapter to file any annual or special report shall fail so to do within the time fixed by the commission for filing the same, and such failure shall continue for thirty days after notice of such default, the corporation shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $100 for each and every day of the continuance of such failure, which forfeiture shall be payable into the Treasury of the United States, and shall be recoverable in a civil suit in the name of the United States brought in the district where the corporation has its principal office or in any district in which it shall do business. It shall be the duty of the various district attorneys, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to prosecute for the recovery of forfeitures. The costs and expenses of such prosecution shall be paid out of the appropriation for the expenses of the courts of the United States.

Any officer or employee of the commission who shall make public any information obtained by the commission without its authority, unless directed by a court, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 10, 38 Stat. 723.)

51. Effect of subdivision on other statutory provisions.—Nothing contained in this subdivision of this chapter shall be construed to prevent or interfere with the enforcement of the provisions of the antitrust Acts or the Acts to regulate commerce, nor shall anything contained in said subdivision be construed to alter, modify, or repeal the said antitrust Acts or the Acts to regulate commerce or any part or parts thereof. (Sept. 26, 1914, c. 311, § 11, 38 Stat. 724.)

PROMOTION OF EXPORT TRADE

61. Export trade; definitions.—The words "export trade" wherever used in this subdivision of this chapter mean solely trade or commerce in goods, wares, or merchandise exported, or in the course of being exported from the United States or any Territory thereof to any foreign nation; but the words "export trade" shall not be deemed to include the production, manufacture, or selling for consumption or for resale, within the United States or any Territory thereof, of such goods, wares, or merchandise, or any act in the course of such production, manufacture, or selling for consumption or for resale.

The words "trade within the United States" wherever used in this subdivision of this chapter mean trade or commerce among the several States or in any Territory of the United States, or in the District of Columbia, or between any such Territory and another, or between any such Territory or Territories and any State or States or the District of Columbia, or between the District of Columbia and any State or States.

The word "association" wherever used in this subdivision of this chapter means any corporation or combination, by contract or otherwise, of two or more persons, partnerships, or corporations. (Apr. 10, 1918, c. 50, § 1, 40 Stat. 516.)

62. Export trade and antitrust legislation.—Nothing contained in sections 1 to 7, inclusive, or section 15 of this title shall be construed as declaring to be illegal an association entered into for the sole purpose of engaging in export trade and actually engaged solely in such export trade, or an agreement made or act done in the course of export trade by such association, provided such association, agreement, or act is not in restraint of trade within the United States, and is not in restraint of the export trade of any domestic competitor of such association: Provided, That such association does not, either in the United States or elsewhere, enter into any agreement, understanding, or conspiracy, or do any act which artificially or intentionally enhances or depresses prices within the United States of commodities of the class exported by such association, or which substantially lessens competition within the United States or otherwise restrains trade therein. (Apr. 10, 1918, c. 50, § 2, 40 Stat. 517.)

63. Acquisition of stock of export trade corporation.—Nothing contained in section 18 of this title shall be construed to forbid the acquisition or ownership by any corporation of the whole or any part of the stock or other capital of any corporation organized solely for the purpose of engaging in export trade, and actually engaged solely in such export trade, unless the effect of such acquisition or ownership may be to restrain trade or substantially lessen competition within the United States. (Apr. 10, 1918, c. 50, § 3, 40 Stat. 517.)

64. Unfair methods of competition in export trade.—The prohibition against "unfair methods of competition" and the remedies provided for enforcing said prohibition contained in the preceding subdivision of this chapter shall be construed as extending to unfair methods of competition used in export trade against competitors engaged in export trade, even though the acts constituting such unfair methods are done without the territorial jurisdiction of the United States. (Apr. 10, 1918, c. 50, § 4, 40 Stat. 517.)

65. Information required from export trade corporation; powers of Federal Trade Commission.—Every association which engages solely in export trade, within thirty days after its creation, shall file with the Federal Trade Commission a verified written statement setting forth the location of its offices or places of business and the names and addresses of all its officers and of all its stockholders or members, and if a corporation, a copy of its certificate or articles of incorporation and by-laws, and if unincorporated, a copy of its articles or contract of association, and on the 1st day of January of each year every association engaged solely in export trade shall make a like statement of the location of its offices or places of business and the names and addresses of all its officers and of all its stockholders or members and of all amendments to and changes in its articles or certificate of incorporation or in its articles or contract of association. It shall also furnish to the commission such information as the commission may require as to its organization, business, conduct, practices, management, and relation to other associations, corporations, partnerships, and individuals. Any association which shall fail so to do shall not have the benefit of the provisions of sections 62 and 63 of this chapter, and it shall also forfeit to the United States the sum of $100 for each and every day of the continuance of such failure, which forfeiture shall be payable into the Treasury of the United States, and shall be recoverable in a civil suit in the name of the United States brought in the district where the association has its principal office, or in any district in which it shall do business. It shall be the duty of the various district attorneys, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to prosecute for the recovery of the forfeiture. The costs and expenses of such prosecution shall be paid out of the appropriation for the expenses of the courts of the United States.

Whenever the Federal Trade Commission shall have reason to believe that an association or any agreement made or act done by such association is in restraint of trade within the United States or in restraint of the export trade of any domestic competitor of such association, or that an association either in the United States or elsewhere has entered into any agreement, understanding, or conspiracy, or done any act which artificially or intentionally enhances or depresses prices within the United States of commodities of the class exported by such association, or which substantially lessens competition within the United States or otherwise restrains trade therein, it shall summon such association, its officers, and agents to appear before it, and thereafter conduct an investigation into the alleged violations of law. Upon investigation, if it shall conclude that the law has been violated, it may make to such association recommendations for the readjustment of its business, in order that it may thereafter maintain its organization and management and conduct its business in accordance with law. If such association fails to comply with the recommendations of the Federal Trade Commission, said commission shall refer its findings and recommendations to the Attorney General of the United States for such action thereon as he may deem proper.

For the purpose of enforcing these provisions the Federal Trade Commission shall have all the powers, so far as applicable, given it in the preceding subdivision of this chapter. (Apr. 10, 1918, c. 50, § 5, 40 Stat. 517.)

PREVENTION OF UNFAIR METHODS OF COMPETITION

71. Definition.—When used in this subdivision of this chapter the term "person" includes partnerships, corporations, and associations. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 800, 39 Stat. 798.)

72. Importation or sale of articles at less than market value or wholesale price.—It shall be unlawful for any person importing or assisting in importing any articles from any foreign country into the United States, commonly and systematically to import, sell or cause to be imported or sold such articles within the United States at a price substantially less than the actual market value or wholesale price of such articles, at the time of exportation to the United States, in the principal markets of the country of their production, or of other foreign countries to which they are commonly exported after adding to such market value or wholesale price, freight, duty, and other charges and expenses necessarily incident to the importation and sale thereof in the United States: Provided, That such act or acts be done with the intent of destroying or injuring an industry in the United States, or of preventing the establishment of an industry in the United States, or of restraining or monopolizing any part of trade and commerce in such articles in the United States.

Any person who violates or combines or conspires with any other person to violate this section is guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Any person injured in his business or property by reason of any violation of, or combination or conspiracy to violate, this section, may sue therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the defendant resides or is found or has an agent, without respect to the amount in controversy, and shall recover threefold the damages sustained, and the cost of the suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

The foregoing provisions shall not be construed to deprive the proper State courts of jurisdiction in actions for damages thereunder. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 801, 39 Stat. 798.)

73. Agreements involving restrictions in favor of imported goods.—If any article produced in a foreign country is imported into the United States under any agreement, understanding, or condition that the importer thereof or any other person in the United States shall not use, purchase, or deal in, or shall be restricted in his using, purchasing, or dealing in, the articles of any other person, there shall be levied, collected, and paid thereon, in addition to the duty otherwise imposed by law, a special duty equal to double the amount of such duty: Provided, That the above shall not be interpreted to prevent the establishing in this country on the part of a foreign producer of an exclusive agency for the sale in the United States of the products of said foreign producer or merchant, nor to prevent such exclusive agent from agreeing not to use, purchase, or deal in the article of any other person, but this proviso shall not be construed to exempt from the provisions of this section any article imported by such exclusive agent if such agent is required by the foreign producer or if it is agreed between such agent and such foreign producer that any agreement, understanding or condition set out in this section shall be imposed by such agent upon the sale or other disposition of such article to any person in the United States. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 802, 39 Stat. 799.)

74. Rules and regulations.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall make such rules and regulations as are necessary for the carrying out of the provisions of the preceding section. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 803, 39 Stat. 799.)

75. Retaliation against country prohibiting importations.—Whenever any country, dependency, or colony shall prohibit the importation of any article the product of the soil or industry of the United States and not injurious to health or morals, the President shall have power to prohibit, during the period such prohibition is in force, the importation into the United States of similar articles, or in case the United States does not import similar articles from that country, then other articles, the products of such country, dependency, or colony.

And the Secretary of the Treasury, with the approval of the President, shall make such rules and regulations as are necessary for the execution of the provisions of this section. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 804, 39 Stat. 799.)

76. Retaliation against restriction of importations in time of war.—Whenever during the existence of a war in which the United States is not engaged, the President shall be satisfied that there is reasonable ground to believe that under the laws, regulations, or practices of any country, colony, or dependency contrary to the law and practice of nations, the importation into their own or any other country, dependency, or colony of any article the product of the soil or industry of the United States and not injurious to health or morals is prevented or restricted the President is authorized and empowered to prohibit or restrict during the period such prohibition or restriction is in force, the importation into the United States of similar or other articles, products of such country, dependency, or colony as in his opinion the public interest may require; and in such case he shall make proclamation stating the article or articles which are prohibited from importation into the United States; and any person or persons who shall import, or attempt or conspire to import, or be concerned in importing, such article or articles, into the United States contrary to the prohibition in such proclamation, shall be liable to a fine of not less than $2,000 nor more than $50,000, or to imprisonment not to exceed two years, or both, in the discretion of the court. The President may change, modify, revoke, or renew such proclamation in his discretion. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 805, 39 Stat. 799.)

77. Discrimination against neutral Americans in time of war.—Whenever, during the existence of a war in which the United States is not engaged, the President shall be satisfied that there is reasonable ground to believe that any vessel, American or foreign, is, on account of the laws, regulations or practices of a belligerent Government, making or giving any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage in any respect whatsoever to any particular person, company, firm, or corporation, or any particular description of traffic in the United States or its possessions or to any citizens of the United States residing in neutral countries abroad, or is subjecting any particular person, company, firm, or corporation or any particular description of traffic in the United States or its possessions, or any citizens of the United States residing in neutral countries abroad to any undue or unreasonable prejudice, disadvantage, injury, or discrimination in regard to accepting, receiving, transporting, or delivering, or refusing to accept, receive, transfer, or deliver any cargo, freight or passengers, or in any other respect whatsoever, he is authorized and empowered to direct the detention of such vessels by withholding clearance or by formal notice forbidding departure, and to revoke, modify, or renew any such direction.

Whenever, during the existence of a war in which the United States is not engaged, the President shall be satisfied that there is reasonable ground to believe that under the laws, regulations, or practices of any belligerent country or Government, American ships or American citizens are not accorded any of the facilities of commerce which the vessels or citizens of that belligerent country enjoy in the United States or its possessions, or are not accorded by such belligerent equal privileges or facilities of trade with vessels or citizens of any nationality other than that of such belligerent, the President is authorized and empowered to withhold clearance from one or more vessels of such belligerent country until such belligerent shall restore to such American vessels and American citizens reciprocal liberty of commerce and equal facilities of trade; or the President may direct that similar privileges and facilities, if any, enjoyed by vessels or citizens of such belligerent in the United States or its possessions be refused to vessels or citizens of such belligerent; and in such case he shall make proclamation of his direction, stating the facilities and privileges which shall be refused, and the belligerent to whose vessels or citizens they are to be refused, and thereafter the furnishing of such prohibited privileges and facilities to any vessel or citizen of the belligerent named in such proclamation shall be unlawful; and he may change, modify, revoke, or renew such proclamation; and any person or persons who shall furnish or attempt or conspire to furnish or be concerned in furnishing or in the concealment of furnishing facilities or privileges to ships or persons contrary to the prohibition in such proclamation shall be liable to a fine of not less than $2,000 nor more than $50,000 or to imprisonment not to exceed two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

In case any vessel which is detained by virtue of this subdivision of this chapter shall depart or attempt to depart from the jurisdiction of the United States without clearance or other lawful authority, the owner or master or person or persons having charge or command of such vessel shall be severally liable to a fine of not less than $2,000 nor more than $10,000, or to imprisonment not to exceed two years, or both, and in addition such vessel shall be forfeited to the United States.

The President of the United States is authorized and empowered to employ such part of the land or naval forces of the United States as shall be necessary to carry out the purposes of this subdivision of this chapter. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 806, 39 Stat. 799.)

GENERAL PROVISIONS FOR REGISTRATION

Section 81. Registration authorized; application therefor; fees and other requirements.—The owner of a trade-mark used in commerce with foreign nations, or among the several States, or with Indian tribes, provided such owner shall be domiciled within the territory of the United States, or resides in or is located in any foreign country which, by treaty, convention, or law, affords similar privileges to the citizens of the United States, may obtain registration for such trade-mark by complying with the following requirements: First, by filing in the Patent Office an application therefor, in writing, addressed to the Commissioner of Patents, signed by the applicant, specifying his name, domicile, location, and citizenship; the class of merchandise and the particular description of goods comprised in such class to which the trade-mark is appropriated; a statement of the mode in which the same is applied and affixed to goods, and the length of time during which the trade-mark has been used; a description of the trade-mark itself shall be included, if desired by the applicant or required by the commissioner, provided such description is of a character to meet the approval of the commissioner. With this statement shall be filed a drawing of the trade-mark, signed by the applicant or his attorney, and such number of specimens of the trade-mark as actually used as may be required by the Commissioner of Patents. Second, by paying into the Treasury of the United States the sum of $10, and otherwise complying with the requirements of this subdivision of this chapter and such regulations as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Patents. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 1, 33 Stat. 724; May 4, 1906, c. 2081, § 1, 34 Stat. 168; Feb. 18, 1909, c. 144, 35 Stat. 628.)

82. Declaration accompanying application; verification thereof.—The application prescribed in the foregoing section, in order to create any right whatever in favor of the party filing it, must be accompanied by a written declaration verified by the applicant, or by a member of the firm or an officer of the corporation or association applying, to the effect that the applicant believes himself or the firm, corporation, or association in whose behalf he makes the application to be the owner of the trade-mark sought to be registered, and that no other person, firm, corporation, or association, to the best of the applicant's knowledge and belief, has the right to use such trade-mark in the United States, either in the identical form or in such near resemblance thereto as might be calculated to deceive; that such trade-mark is used in commerce among the several States, or with foreign nations, or with Indian tribes, and that the description and drawing presented truly represent the trade-mark sought to be registered. If the applicant resides or is located in a foreign country, the statement required shall, in addition to the foregoing, set forth that the trade-mark has been registered by the applicant, or that an application for the registration thereof has been filed by him in the foreign country in which he resides or is located, and shall give the date of such registration, or the application therefor, as the case may be, except that in the application in such cases it shall not be necessary to state that the mark has been used in commerce with the United States or among the States thereof. The verification required by this section may be made before any person within the United States authorized by law to administer oaths, or, when the applicant resides in a foreign country, before any minister, chargé d'affaires or consul holding commission under the Government of the United States, or before any notary public, judge, or magistrate having an official seal and authorized to administer oaths in the foreign country in which the applicant may be whose authority shall be proved by a certificate of a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 2, 33 Stat. 724; Feb. 18, 1909, c. 144, 35 Stat. 627.)

83. Designation by foreign applicant of person for service of process or notice.—Every applicant for registration of a trade-mark, or for renewal of registration of a trade-mark, who is not domiciled within the United States, shall, before the issuance of the certificate of registration, as hereinafter provided for, designate, by a notice in writing, filed in the Patent Office, some person residing within the United States on whom process or notice of proceedings affecting the right of ownership of the trade-mark of which such applicant may claim to be the owner, brought under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter or under other laws of the United States, may be served, with the same force and effect as if served upon the applicant or registrant in person. For the purposes of this subdivision of this chapter it shall be deemed sufficient to serve such notice upon such applicant, registrant, or representative by leaving a copy of such process or notice addressed to him at the last address of which the Commissioner of Patents has been notified. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 3, 33 Stat. 725.)

84. Effect of previous application filed in foreign country; proviso.—An application for registration of a trade-mark filed in this country by any person who has previously regularly filed in any foreign country which, by treaty, convention, or law, affords similar privileges to citizens of the United States an application for registration of the same trade-mark shall be accorded the same force and effect as would be accorded to the same application if filed in this country on the date on which application for registration of the same trade-mark was first filed in such foreign country: Provided, That such application is filed in this country within four months from the date on which the application was first filed in such foreign country: And provided, That certificate of registration shall not be issued for any mark for registration of which application has been filed by an applicant located in a foreign country until such mark has been actually registered by the applicant in the country in which he is located. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 4, 33 Stat. 725.)

85. Trade-marks which may be registered.—No mark by which the goods of the owner of the mark may be distinguished from other goods of the same class shall be refused registration as a trade-mark on account of the nature of such mark unless such mark—

(a) Consists of or comprises immoral or scandalous matter.

(b) Consists of or comprises the flag or coat of arms or other insignia of the United States or any simulation thereof, or of any State or municipality or of any foreign nation, or of any design or picture that has been or may hereafter be adopted by any fraternal society as its emblem, or of any name, distinguishing mark, character, emblem, colors, flag, or banner adopted by any institution, organization, club, or society which was incorporated in any State in the United States prior to the date of the adoption and use by the applicant: Provided, That said name, distinguishing mark, character, emblem, colors, flag, or banner was adopted and publicly used by said institution, organization, club, or society prior to the date of adoption and use by the applicant: Provided, That trade-marks which are identical with a registered or known trade-mark owned and in use by another and appropriated to merchandise of the same descriptive properties, or which so nearly resemble a registered or known trade-mark owned and in use by another and appropriated to merchandise of the same descriptive properties as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake in the mind of the public or to deceive purchasers shall not be registered: Provided, That no mark which consists merely in the name of an individual, firm, corporation, or association not written, printed, impressed, or woven in some particular or distinctive manner, or in association with a portrait of the individual, or merely in words or devices which are descriptive of the goods with which they are used, or of the character or quality of such goods, or merely a geographical name or term, shall be registered under the terms of this subdivision of this chapter: Provided further, That no portrait of a living individual may be registered as a trade-mark except by the consent of such individual, evidenced by an instrument in writing, nor may the portrait of any deceased President of the United States be registered during the life of his widow, if any, except by the consent of the widow evidenced in such manner: And provided further, That nothing herein shall prevent the registration of any mark used by the applicant or his predecessors, or by those from whom title to the mark is derived, in commerce with foreign nations or among the several States or with Indian tribes which was in actual and exclusive use as a trade-mark of the applicant, or his predecessors from whom he derived title for ten years next preceding February 20, 1905: Provided further, That nothing herein shall prevent the registration of a trade-mark otherwise registrable because of its being the name of the applicant or a portion thereof. And if any person or corporation shall have so registered a mark upon the ground of said use for ten years preceding February 20, 1905, as to certain articles or classes of articles to which said mark shall have been applied for said period, and shall have thereafter and subsequently extended his business so as to include other articles not manufactured by said applicant for ten years next preceding February 20, 1905, nothing herein shall prevent the registration of said trade-mark in the additional classes to which said new additional articles manufactured by said person or corporation shall apply, after said trade-mark has been used on said article in interstate or foreign commerce or with the Indian tribes for at least one year provided another person or corporation has not adopted and used previously to its adoption and use by the proposed registrant, and for more than one year such trade-mark or one so similar as to be likely to deceive in such additional class or classes. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 5, 33 Stat. 725; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2573, § 1, 34 Stat. 1251; Feb. 18, 1911, c. 113, 36 Stat. 918; Jan. 8, 1913, c. 7, 37 Stat. 649; Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 9, 41 Stat. 535; June 7, 1924, c. 341, 43 Stat. 647.)

86. Examination of application; notice of opposition; certificate issued or refused.—On the filing of an application for registration of a trade-mark which complies with the requirements of this subdivision of this chapter, and the payment of the fees provided for in sections 94 and 95 of this chapter, the Commissioner of Patents shall cause an examination thereof to be made; and if on such examination it shall appear that the applicant is entitled to have his trade-mark registered under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, the commissioner shall cause the mark to be published at least once in the Official Gazette of the Patent Office. Any person who believes he would be damaged by the registration of a mark may oppose the same by filing notice of opposition, stating the grounds therefor, in the Patent Office within thirty days after the publication of the mark sought to be registered, which said notice of opposition shall be verified by the person filing the same before one of the officers mentioned in section 82 of this chapter. An opposition may be filed by a duly authorized attorney, but said opposition shall be null and void unless verified by the opposer within a reasonable time after such filing. If no notice of opposition is filed within said time, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of registration therefor, as hereinafter provided for. If on examination an application is refused, the commissioner shall notify the applicant, giving him his reasons therefor. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 6, 33 Stat. 726; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2573, § 2, 34 Stat. 1252.)

87. Examination of interferences; refusal of registration.—In all cases where notice of opposition has been filed the Commissioner of Patents shall notify the applicant thereof and the grounds therefor.

Whenever application is made for the registration of a trade-mark which is substantially identical with a trade-mark appropriated to goods of the same descriptive properties, for which a certificate of registration has been previously issued to another, or for registration of which another has previously made application, or which so nearly resembles such trade-mark, or a known trade-mark owned and used by another, as, in the opinion of the commissioner, to be likely to be mistaken therefor by the public, he may declare that an interference exists as to such trade-mark, and in every case of interference or opposition to registration he shall direct the examiner in charge of interferences to determine the question of the right of registration to such trade-mark, and of the sufficiency of objections to registration, in such manner and upon such notice to those interested as the commissioner may by rules prescribe.

The commissioner may refuse to register the mark against the registration of which objection is filed, or may refuse to register both of two interfering marks, or may register the mark, as a trade-mark, for the person first to adopt and use the mark, if otherwise entitled to register the same, unless an appeal is taken, as hereinafter provided for, from his decision, by a party interested in the proceeding, within such time (not less than twenty days) as the commissioner may prescribe. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 7, 33 Stat. 726.)

88. Appeal from decision of examiner.—Every applicant for the registration of a trade-mark, or for the renewal of the registration of a trade-mark, which application is refused, or a party to an interference against whom a decision has been rendered, or a party who has filed a notice of opposition as to a trade-mark, may appeal from the decision of the examiner in charge of trade-marks, or the examiner in charge of interferences, as the case may be, to the commissioner in person, having once paid the fee for such appeal. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 8, 33 Stat. 726.)

89. Appeal from decision of Commissioner of Patents.—If an applicant for registration of a trade-mark, or a party to an interference as to a trade-mark, or a party who has filed opposition to the registration of a trade-mark, or party to an application for the cancellation of the registration of a trade-mark, is dissatisfied with the decision of the Commissioner of Patents, he may appeal to the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, on complying with the conditions required in case of an appeal from the decision of the commissioner by an applicant for patent, or a party to an interference as to an invention, and the same rules of practice and procedure shall govern in every stage of such proceedings, as far as the same may be applicable. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 9, 33 Stat. 727.)

90. Assignments.—Every registered trade-mark, and every mark for the registration of which application has been made, together with the application for registration of the same, shall be assignable in connection with the good will of the business in which the mark is used. Such assignment must be by an instrument in writing and duly acknowledged according to the laws of the country or State in which the same is executed; any such assignment shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser for a valuable consideration, without notice, unless it is recorded in the Patent Office within three months from date thereof. The commissioner shall keep a record of such assignments. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 10, 33 Stat. 727.)

91. Certificates of registration and record thereof.—Certificates of registration of trade-marks shall be issued in the name of the United States of America, under the seal of the Patent Office, and shall either be signed by the Commissioner of Patents or have his name printed thereon and attested by an Assistant Commissioner of Patents or by one of the law examiners duly designated by the Commissioner of Patents, and a record thereof, together with printed copies of the drawing and statement of the applicant, shall be kept in books for that purpose. The certificate shall state the date on which the application for registration was received in the Patent Office. Certificates of registration of trade-marks may be issued to the assignee of the applicant, but the assignment must first be entered of record in the Patent Office. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 11, 33 Stat. 727; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 535, § 3, 43 Stat. 1269.)

92. Duration of certificate of registration, and renewal.—A certificate of registration shall remain in force for twenty years, except that in the case of trade-marks previously registered in a foreign country such certificates shall cease to be in force on the day on which the trade-mark ceases to be protected in such foreign country, and shall in no case remain in force more than twenty years, unless renewed. Certificates of registration may be, from time to time renewed for like periods on payment of the renewal fees required by this subdivision of this chapter, upon request by the registrant, his legal representatives, or transferees of record in the Patent Office, and such request may be made at any time not more than six months prior to the expiration of the period for which the certificates of registration were issued or renewed. Certificates of registration in force on April 1, 1905, shall unless already lapsed or canceled, remain in force for the period for which they were issued, but shall be renewable on the same conditions and for the same periods as certificates issued under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, and when so renewed shall have the same force and effect as certificates issued thereunder. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 12, 33 Stat. 727.)

93. Cancellation of registration.—Whenever any person shall deem himself injured by the registration of a trade-mark in the Patent Office he may at any time apply to the Commissioner of Patents to cancel the registration thereof. The commissioner shall refer such application to the examiner in charge of interferences, who is empowered to hear and determine this question and who shall give notice thereof to the registrant. If it appear after a hearing before the examiner that the registrant was not entitled to the use of the mark at the date of his application for registration thereof, or that the mark is not used by the registrant, or has been abandoned, and the examiner shall so decide, the commissioner shall cancel the registration. Appeal may be taken to the commissioner in person from the decision of examiner of interferences. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 13, 33 Stat. 728.)

94. Fees; rates.—The following shall be the rates for trade-mark fees:

On filing each original application for registration of a trade-mark, $10.

On filing each application for renewal of the registration of a trade-mark, $10.

On filing notice of opposition to the registration of a trade-mark, $10.

On an appeal from the examiner in charge of trade-marks to the Commissioner of Patents, $15.

On an appeal from the decision of the examiner in charge of interferences, awarding ownership of a trade-mark or canceling the registration of a trade-mark, to the Commissioner of Patents, $15.

For certified and uncertified copies of certificates of registration and other papers, and for recording transfers and other papers, the same fees as required by law for such copies of patents and for recording assignments and other papers relating to patents. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 14, 33 Stat. 728.)

95. Fees; mode of payment; refunding.—Section 69 of Title 35, PATENTS, relating to the payment of patent fees and to the repayment of fees paid by mistake, are made applicable to trade-mark fees. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 15, 33 Stat. 728.)

96. Evidence of ownership; infringement, and damages therefor.—The registration of a trade-mark under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter shall be prima facie evidence of ownership. Any person who shall, without the consent of the owner thereof, reproduce, counterfeit, copy, or colorably imitate any such trade-mark and affix the same to merchandise of substantially the same descriptive properties as those set forth in the registration, or to labels, signs, prints, packages, wrappers, or receptacles intended to be used upon or in connection with the sale of merchandise of substantially the same descriptive properties as those set forth in such registration, and shall use, or shall have used, such reproduction, counterfeit, copy, or colorable imitation in commerce among the several States, or with a foreign nation, or with the Indian tribes, shall be liable to an action for damages therefor at the suit of the owner thereof; and whenever in any such action a verdict is rendered for the plaintiff, the court may enter judgment therein for any sum above the amount found by the verdict as the actual damages, according to the circumstances of the case, not exceeding three times the amount of such verdict, together with the costs. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 16, 33 Stat. 728.)

97. Jurisdiction of suits.—The district and Territorial courts of the United States and the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia shall have original jurisdiction, and the circuit courts of appeal, of the United States and the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia shall have appellate jurisdiction of all suits at law or in equity respecting trade-marks registered in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, arising thereunder, without regard to the amount in controversy. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 17, 33 Stat. 728; Mar. 3, 1911, c. 231, § 291, 36 Stat. 1167.)

98. Review by Supreme Court.—Writs of certiorari may be granted by the Supreme Court of the United States for the review of cases arising under this subdivision of this chapter in the same manner as provided by section 347 of Title 28, JUDICIAL CODE AND JUDICIARY. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 18, 33 Stat. 729.)

99. Injunctions; recovery and assessment of damages.—The several courts vested with jurisdiction of cases arising under this subdivision of this chapter shall have power to grant injunctions, according to the course and principles of equity, to prevent the violation of any right of the owner of a trade-mark registered under said subdivision, on such terms as the court may deem reasonable; and upon a decree being rendered in any such case for wrongful use of a trade-mark the complainant shall be entitled to recover, in addition to the profits to be accounted for by the defendant, the damages the complainant has sustained thereby, and the court shall assess the same or cause the same to be assessed under its direction. The court shall have the same power to increase such damages, in its discretion, as is given by section 96 of this chapter for increasing damages found by verdict in actions of law; and in assessing profits the plaintiff shall be required to prove defendant's sales only; defendant must prove all elements of cost which are claimed. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 19, 33 Stat. 729.)

100. Destruction of infringing labels; service of injunction, and proceedings for enforcement.—In any case involving the right to a trade-mark registered in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, in which the verdict has been found for the plaintiff, or an injunction issued, the court may order that all labels, signs, prints, packages, wrappers, or receptacles in the possession of the defendant, bearing the trade-mark of the plaintiff or complainant, or any reproduction, counterfeit, copy, or colorable imitation thereof, shall be delivered up and destroyed. Any injunction that may be granted upon hearing, after notice to the defendant, to prevent the violation of any right of the owner of a trade-mark registered in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, by any district court of the United States, or by a judge thereof, may be served on the parties against whom such injunction may be granted anywhere in the United States where they may be found, and shall be operative, and may be enforced by proceedings to punish for contempt, or otherwise, by the court by which such injunction was granted, or by any other district court, or judge thereof, in the United States, or by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, or a judge thereof. The said courts, or judges thereof, shall have jurisdiction to enforce said injunction, as herein provided, as fully as if the injunction had been granted by the district court in which it is sought to be enforced. The clerk of the court or judge granting the injunction shall, when required to do so by the court before which application to enforce said injunction is made, transfer without delay to said court a certified copy of all the papers on which the said injunction was granted that are on file in his office. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 20, 33 Stat. 729; Mar. 3, 1911, c. 31, § 291, 36 Stat. 1167.)

101. Restrictions on actions for infringement.—No action or suit shall be maintained under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter in any case when the trade-mark is used in unlawful business, or upon any article injurious in itself, or which mark has been used with the design of deceiving the public in the purchase of merchandise, or has been abandoned, or upon any certificate of registration fraudulently obtained. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 21, 33 Stat. 729.)

102. Suits involving interfering registered trade-marks.—Whenever there are interfering registered trade-marks, any person interested in any one of them may have relief against the interfering registrant, and all persons interested under him, by suit in equity against the said registrant; and the court, on notice to adverse parties and other due proceedings had according to the course of equity, may adjudge and declare either of the registrations void in whole or in part according to the interest of the parties in the trade-mark, and may order the certificate of registration to be delivered up to the Commissioner of Patents for cancellation. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 22, 33 Stat. 729.)

103. Existing rights and remedies preserved.—Nothing in this subdivision of this chapter shall prevent, lessen, impeach, or avoid any remedy at law or in equity which any party aggrieved by any wrongful use of any trade-mark might have had if the provisions of said subdivision had not been passed. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 23, 33 Stat. 730.)

104. Damages from registration procured by fraudulent means.—Any person who shall procure registration of a trade-mark, or entry thereof, in the office of the Commissioner of Patents by a false or fraudulent declaration or representation, oral or in writing, or by any false means, shall be liable to pay any damages sustained in consequence thereof to the injured party, to be recovered by an action on the case. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 25, 33 Stat. 730.)

105. Regulations for registration.—The Commissioner of Patents is authorized to make rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, for the conduct of proceedings in reference to the registration of trade-marks provided for by this subdivision of this chapter. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 26, 33 Stat. 730.)

106. Articles imported, simulating trade name or trade-mark, not admitted to entry.—No article of imported merchandise which shall copy or simulate the name of any domestic manufacture, or manufacturer or trader, or of any manufacturer or trader located in any foreign country which, by treaty, convention, or law affords similar privileges to citizens of the United States, or which shall copy or simulate a trade-mark registered in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, or shall bear a name or mark calculated to induce the public to believe that the article is manufactured in the United States, or that it is manufactured in any foreign country or locality other than the country or locality in which it is in fact manufactured, shall be admitted to entry at any customhouse of the United States; and, in order to aid the officers of the customs in enforcing this prohibition, any domestic manufacturer or trader, and any foreign manufacturer or trader, who is entitled under the provisions of a treaty, convention, declaration, or agreement between the United States and any foreign country to the advantages afforded by law to citizens of the United States in respect to trade-marks and commercial names, may require his name and residence, and the name of the locality in which his goods are manufactured, and a copy of the certificate of registration of his trade-mark, issued in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, to be recorded in books which shall be kept for this purpose in the Department of the Treasury, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, and may furnish to the department facsimiles of his name, the name of the locality in which his goods are manufactured, or of his registered trade-mark; and thereupon the Secretary of the Treasury shall cause one or more copies of the same to be transmitted to each collector or other proper officer of customs. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 27, 33 Stat. 730.)

107. Notice of registration; notice of infringement.—It shall be the duty of the registrant to give notice to the public that a trade-mark is registered, either by affixing thereon the words "Registered in U. S. Patent Office," or abbreviated thus, "Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.," or when, from the character or size of the trade-mark, or from its manner of attachment to the article to which it is appropriated, this can not be done, then by affixing a label containing a like notice to the package or receptacle wherein the article or articles are inclosed; and in any suit for infringement by a party failing so to give notice of registration no damages shall be recovered, except on proof that the defendant was duly notified of infringement, and continued the same after such notice. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 28, 33 Stat. 730.)

108. Construction; definitions.—In construing this subdivision of this chapter the following rules must be observed, except where the contrary intent is plainly apparent from the context thereof: The United States includes and embraces all territory which is under the jurisdiction and control of the United States. The word "States" includes and embraces the District of Columbia, the Territories of the United States, and such other territory as shall be under the jurisdiction and control of the United States. The terms "person" and "owner," and any other word or term used to designate the applicant or other entitled to a benefit or privilege or rendered liable under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, include a firm, corporation, or association as well as a natural person. The terms "applicant" and "registrant" embrace the successors and assigns of such applicant or registrant. The term "trade-mark" includes any mark which is entitled to registration under the terms of this subdivision of this chapter and whether registered or not and a trade-mark shall be deemed to be "affixed" to an article when it is placed in any manner in or upon either the article itself or the receptacle or package or upon the envelope or other thing in, by, or with which the goods are packed or inclosed or otherwise prepared for sale or distribution. (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 29, 33 Stat. 731.)

109. Repeal.—All Acts and parts of Acts in force prior to February 20, 1905, and inconsistent with this subdivision of this chapter are repealed except so far as the same may apply to certificates of registration issued under the Act of Congress approved March 3, 1881, entitled "An Act to authorize the registration of trade-marks and protect the same," or under the Act approved August 5, 1882, entitled "An Act relating to the registration of trade-marks." (Feb. 20, 1905, c. 592, § 30, 33 Stat. 731.)

INTERNATIONAL REGISTRATION AND MARKS NOT REGISTRABLE UNDER PRECEDING SUBDIVISION

121. Registration of international and other trade-marks.—The Commissioner of Patents shall keep a register of (a) all marks communicated to him by the international bureaus provided for by the convention for the protection of trade-marks and commercial names, made and signed in the city of Buenos Aires, in the Argentine Republic, August 20, 1910, in connection with which the fee of $50 gold for the international registration established by article 2 of that convention has been paid, which register shall show a facsimile of the mark; the name and residence of the registrant; the number, date, and place of the first registration of the mark, including the date on which application for such registration was filed and the term of such registration, a list of goods to which the mark is applied as shown by the registration in the country of origin, and such other data as may be useful concerning the mark.

(b) All other marks not registrable under the preceding subdivision of this chapter, except those specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 85 of this chapter, but which have been in bona fide use for not less than one year in interstate or foreign commerce, or commerce with the Indian tribes by the proprietor thereof, upon or in connection with any goods of such proprietor upon which a fee of $10 has been paid to the Commissioner of Patents and such formalities as required by the said commissioner have been complied with: Provided, That trade-marks which are identical with a known trade-mark owned and used in interstate and foreign commerce, or commerce with the Indian tribes by another and appropriated to merchandise of the same descriptive properties or which so nearly resemble a known trade-mark owned and used in interstate and foreign commerce or commerce with the Indian tribes by another and appropriated to merchandise of the same descriptive properties as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake in the mind of the public or to deceive purchasers, shall not be placed on this register. (Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 1, 41 Stat. 533.)

122. Cancellation of registration.—Whenever any person shall deem himself injured by the inclusion of a trade-mark on this register, he may at any time apply to the Commissioner of Patents to cancel the registration thereof. The commissioner shall refer such application to the examiner in charge of interferences, who is empowered to hear and determine this question, and who shall give notice thereof to the registrant. If it appear after a hearing before the examiner that the registrant was not entitled to the exclusive use of the mark at or since the date of his application for registration thereof, or that the mark is not used by the registrant or has been abandoned, and the examiner shall so decide, the commissioner shall cancel the registration. Appeal may be taken to the commissioner in person from the decision of the examiner in charge of interferences. (Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 2, 41 Stat. 534.)

123. False designation of origin of goods unlawful.—Any person who shall willfully and with intent to deceive, affix, apply, or annex, or use in connection with any article or articles of merchandise, or any container or containers of the same, a false designation of origin, including words or other symbols, tending to falsely identify the origin of the merchandise, and shall then cause such merchandise to enter into interstate or foreign commerce, and any person who shall knowingly cause or procure the same to be transported in interstate or foreign commerce or commerce with Indian tribes, or shall knowingly deliver the same to any carrier to be so transported, shall be liable to an action at law for damages and to an action in equity for an injunction, at the suit of any person, firm, or corporation doing business in the locality falsely indicated as that of origin, or in the region in which said locality is situated, or at the suit of any association of such persons, firms, or corporations. (Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 3, 41 Stat. 534.)

124. Liability for using another's trade-mark.—Any person who shall without the consent of the owner thereof reproduce, counterfeit, copy, or colorably imitate any trade-mark on the register provided by this subdivision of this chapter, and shall affix the same to merchandise of substantially the same descriptive properties as those set forth in the registration, or to labels, signs, prints, packages, wrappers, or receptacles intended to be used upon or in connection with the sale of merchandise of substantially the same descriptive properties as those set forth in such registration, and shall use, or shall have used, such reproduction, counterfeit, copy, or colorable imitation in commerce among the several States, or with a foreign nation, or with the Indian tribes, shall be liable to an action for damages therefor at the suit of the owner thereof; and whenever in any such action a verdict is rendered for the plaintiff the court may enter judgment therein for any sum above the amount found by the verdict as the actual damages, according to the circumstances of the case, not exceeding three times the amount of such verdict, together with the costs. (Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 4, 41 Stat. 534.)

125. Notice of registration; notice of infringement.—It shall be the duty of a registrant under this subdivision of this chapter of a mark falling within class (a) of section 121 of this chapter, to comply with the law of the country in which his original registration took place, in respect to giving notice to the public that the trade-mark is registered, in connection with the use of such trade-mark in the United States of America, and in any suit for infringement by a party failing to do this, no damages shall be recovered except on proof that the defendant was duly notified of the infringement and continued the same after such notice. (Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 5, 41 Stat. 534.)

126. Application of other provisions.—The provisions of sections 95 and 97 to 107, inclusive, of this chapter (as to class [b] marks only), and the provisions of section 131 of this chapter, are made applicable to marks placed on the register provided for by section 121 of this chapter. (Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 6, 41 Stat. 535.)

127. Copies of records as evidence.—Written or printed copies of any records, books, papers, or drawings belonging to the Patent Office and relating to trade-marks placed on the register provided for by this subdivision of this chapter, when authenticated by the seal of the Patent Office and certified by the commissioner thereof, shall be evidence in all cases wherein the originals could be evidence, and any person making application therefor and paying the fee required by law shall have certified copies thereof. (Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 7, 41 Stat. 535.)

128. Fees.—The same fees shall be required for certified and uncertified copies of papers and for records, transfers, and other papers, under this subdivision of this chapter, as are required by law for such copies of patents and for recording assignments and other papers relating to patents.

On filing an appeal under this subdivision of this chapter to the Commissioner of Patents from the decision of the examiner in charge of interferences, awarding ownership of a trade-mark, canceling or refusing to cancel the registration of a trade-mark, a fee of $15 shall be payable. (Mar. 19, 1920, c. 104, § 8, 41 Stat. 535.)

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

131. Classes of merchandise for purpose of registration.—The Commissioner of Patents shall establish classes of merchandise for the purpose of trade-mark registration, and shall determine the particular descriptions of goods comprised in each class. On a single application for registration of a trade-mark the trade-mark may be registered at the option of the applicant for any or all goods upon which the mark has actually been used comprised in a single class of merchandise, provided the particular descriptions of goods be stated. (May 4, 1906, c. 2081, § 2, 34 Stat. 169.)

132. Owners of trade-mark having factory in United States entitled to registration.—Any owner of a trade-mark who shall have a manufacturing establishment within the territory of the United States shall be accorded, so far as the registration and protection of trade-marks used on the products of such establishments are concerned, the same rights and privileges that are accorded to owners of trade-marks domiciled within the territory of the United States by sections 81 to 109, inclusive, of this chapter. (May 4, 1906, c. 2081, § 3, 34 Stat. 169.)

133. Mistake in registration of trade-mark; certificate thereof issued by Patent Office; effect.—Whenever a mistake in a trade-mark registration, incurred through the fault of the Patent Office, is clearly disclosed by the records or files of the office, a certificate, stating the fact and nature of such mistake, signed by the Commissioner of Patents and sealed with the seal of the Patent Office, may be issued, without charge, and recorded in the records of trade-marks, and a printed copy thereof attached to each printed copy of the trade-mark registration, and such certificate shall thereafter be considered as part of the original, and every trade-mark registration, together with such certificate, shall have the same effect and operation in law on the trial of all actions for causes thereafter arising as if the same had been originally issued in such corrected form. All such certificates issued prior to March 4, 1925, in accordance with the rules of the Patent Office and the trade-mark registrations to which they are attached shall have the same force and effect as if such certificates had been specifically authorized by statute. (Mar. 4, 1925, c. 535, § 1, 43 Stat. 1268.)

134. Effect of other statute.—Nothing in sections 488 to 492, inclusive, of Title 5, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES, shall be so construed as to repeal the provisions of section 94 of this chapter. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 370, § 5, 37 Stat. 498.)

Section 141. Citation of chapter.—This chapter may be cited as the "China Trade Act, 1922." (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 1, 42 Stat. 849.)

142. Definitions.—When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise indicates—

(a) The term "person" includes individual, partnership, corporation, and association;

(b) The term "China" means (1) China including Manchuria, Thibet, Mongolia, and any territory leased by China to any foreign government, (2) the Crown Colony of Hongkong, and (3) the Province of Macao;

(c) The terms "China Trade Act corporation" and "corporation" mean a corporation chartered under the provisions of this chapter;

(d) The term "Federal district court" means any Federal district court, the United States Court for China, and the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia;

(e) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of Commerce; and

(f) The term "registrar" means the China Trade Act registrar appointed under the following section. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 2, 42 Stat. 849.)

143. Registrar; designation; station; supervision by Secretary of Commerce.—The Secretary is authorized to designate as China Trade Act registrar an officer of the Department of Commerce. The official station of the registrar shall be in China at a place to be designated by the Secretary. All functions vested in the registrar by this chapter shall be administered by him under the supervision of the Secretary; except that upon appeal to the Secretary, in such manner as he shall by regulation prescribe, any action of the registrar may be affirmed, modified, or set aside by the Secretary as he deems advisable. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 3, 42 Stat. 850.)

144. Incorporation; articles; business prohibited; subscription to stock.—(a) Three or more individuals (hereinafter in this chapter referred to as "incorporators"), a majority of whom are citizens of the United States, may, as hereinafter in this chapter provided, form a District of Columbia corporation for the purpose of engaging in business within China.

(b) The incorporators may adopt articles of incorporation which shall be filed with the Secretary at his office in the District of Columbia and may thereupon make application to the Secretary for a certificate of incorporation in such manner and form as shall be by regulation prescribed. The articles of incorporation shall state—

(1) The name of the proposed China Trade Act corporation, which shall end with the legend, "Federal Inc. U. S. A.," and which shall not, in the opinion of the Secretary, be likely in any manner to mislead the public;

(2) The location of its principal office, which shall be in the District of Columbia;

(3) The particular business in which the corporation is to engage;

(4) The amount of the authorized capital stock, the designation of each class of stock, the terms upon which it is to be issued, and the number and par value of the shares of each class of stock;

(5) The duration of the corporation, which may be for a period of not more than twenty-five years, but which may, upon application of the corporation and payment of the incorporation fee, be successfully extended by the Secretary for like periods;

(6) The names and addresses of at least three individuals (a majority of whom, at the time of designation and during their term of office, shall be citizens of the United States), to be designated by the incorporators, who shall serve as temporary directors; and

(7) The fact that an amount equal to 25 per centum of the amount of the authorized capital stock has been in good faith subscribed to.

(c) A China Trade Act corporation shall not engage in the business of discounting bills, notes, or other evidences of debt, of receiving deposits, of buying and selling bills of exchange, or of issuing bills, notes, or other evidences of debt, for circulation as money; nor engage in any other form of banking business; nor engage in any form of insurance business; nor engage in, nor be formed to engage in, the business of owning or operating any vessel, unless the controlling interest in such corporation is owned by citizens of the United States, within the meaning of section 802 of Title 46, SHIPPING.

(d) No certificate of incorporation shall be delivered to a China Trade Act corporation and no incorporation shall be complete until at least 25 per centum of its authorized capital stock has been paid in in cash, or, in accordance with the provisions of section 148 of this chapter, in real or personal property which has been placed in the custody of the directors, and such corporation has filed a statement to this effect under oath with the registrar within six months after the issuance of its certificate of incorporation, except that the registrar may grant additional time for the filing of such statement upon application made prior to the expiration of such six months. If any such corporation transacts business in violation of this subdivision of this section or fails to file such statement within six months, or within such time as the registrar prescribes upon such application, the registrar shall institute proceedings under section 154 of this chapter for the revocation of the certificate. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 4, 42 Stat. 850; Feb. 26, 1925, c. 345, §§ 1–5, 43 Stat. 995.)

145. Certificate of incorporation.—The Secretary shall, upon the filing of such application, issue a certificate of incorporation certifying that the provisions of this chapter have been complied with and declaring that the incorporators are a body corporate, if (a) an incorporation fee of $100 has been paid him, (b) he finds that the articles of incorporation and statements therein conform to the requirements of, and that the incorporation is authorized by, this chapter, and (c) he finds that such corporation will aid in developing markets in China for goods produced in the United States. A copy of the articles of incorporation shall be made a part of the certificate of incorporation and printed in full thereon. Any failure, previous to the issuance of the certificate of incorporation, by the incorporators or in respect to the application for the certificate of incorporation, to conform to any requirement of law which is a condition precedent to such issuance, may not subsequent thereto be held to invalidate the certificate of incorporation or alter the legal status of any act of a China Trade Act corporation, except in proceedings instituted by the registrar for the revocation of the certificate of incorporation. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 5, 42 Stat. 850.)

146. General powers of corporation.—In addition to the powers granted elsewhere in this chapter, a China Trade Act corporation—

(a) Shall have the right of succession during the existence of the corporation;

(b) Shall have a corporate seal and may, with the approval of the Secretary, alter it;

(c) May sue and be sued;

(d) Shall have the right to transact the business authorized by its articles of incorporation and such further business as is properly connected therewith or necessary and incidental thereto;

(e) May make contracts and incur liabilities;

(f) May acquire and hold real or personal property, necessary to effect the purpose for which it is formed, and dispose of such property when no longer needed for such purposes;

(g) May borrow money and issue its notes, coupon or registered bonds, or other evidences of debt, and secure their payment by a mortgage of its property; and

(h) May establish such branch offices at such places in China as it deems advisable. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 6, 42 Stat. 851; Feb. 26, 1925, c. 345, § 6, 43 Stat. 996.)

147. Stock; issuance at par value.—Each share of the original or any subsequent issue of stock of a China Trade Act corporation shall be issued at not less than par value, and shall be paid for in cash, or in accordance with the provisions of the following section in real or personal property which has been placed in the custody of the directors. No such share shall be issued until the amount of the par value thereof has been paid the corporation; and when issued, each share shall be held to be full paid and nonassessable; except that if any share is, in violation of this section, issued without the amount of the par value thereof having been paid to the corporation, the holder of such share shall be liable in suits by creditors for the difference between the amount paid for such share and the par value thereof. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 7, 42 Stat. 851; Feb. 26, 1925, c. 345, § 7, 43 Stat. 996.)

148. Stock; payment in real or personal property.—No share of stock of a China Trade Act corporation shall, for the purposes of the preceding section or of subdivision (d) of section 144 of this chapter, be held paid in real or personal property unless (1) a certificate describing the property and stating the value at which it is to be received has been filed by the corporation with the Secretary or the registrar in such manner as shall be by regulation prescribed, and a fee to be fixed by the Secretary or the registrar, respectively, to cover the cost of any necessary investigation has been paid, and (2) the Secretary or the registrar, as the case may be, finds and has certified to the corporation that such value is not more than the fair market value of the property. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 8, 42 Stat. 851.)

149. By-laws.—The by-laws may provide—(a) The time, place, manner of calling, giving notice, and conduct of, and determination of a quorum for, the meetings, annual or special of the stockholders or directors;

(b) The number, qualifications, and manner of choosing and fixing the tenure of office and compensation of all directors; but the number of such directors shall be not less than three, and a majority of the directors, and the president and the treasurer, or each officer holding a corresponding office, shall, during their tenure of office, be citizens of the United States resident in China.

(c) The manner of calling for and collecting payments upon shares of stock, the penalties and forfeitures for nonpayment, the preparation of certificates of the shares, the manner of recording their sale or transfer, and the manner of their representation at stockholders' meetings. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 9, 42 Stat. 852; Feb. 26, 1925, c. 345, § 8, 43 Stat. 996.)

150. Stockholders' meetings.—(a) Within six months after the issuance of the certificate of incorporation of a China Trade Act corporation there shall be held a stockholders' meeting either at the principal office or a branch office of the corporation. Such meeting shall be called by a majority of the directors named in the articles of incorporation and each stockholder shall be given at least ninety days' notice of the meeting either in person or by mail. The holders of two-thirds of the voting shares, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at such meetings authorized to transact business. At this meeting or an adjourned meeting thereof a code of by-laws for the corporation shall be adopted by a majority of the voting shares represented at the meeting.

(b) The following questions shall be determined only by the stockholders at a stockholders' meeting:

(1) Adoption of the by-laws;

(2) Amendments to the articles of incorporation or by-laws;

(3) Authorization of the sale of the entire business of the corporation or of an independent branch of such business;

(4) Authorization of the voluntary dissolution of the corporation; and

(5) Authorization of application for the extension of the period of duration of the corporation.

(c) The adoption of any such amendment or authorization shall require the approval of at least two-thirds of the voting shares. No amendment to the articles of incorporation or authorization for dissolution or extension shall take effect until (1) the corporation files a certificate with the Secretary stating the action taken, in such manner and form as shall be by regulation prescribed, and (2) such amendment or authorization is found and certified by the Secretary to conform to the requirements of this chapter.

(d) A certified copy of the by-laws and amendments thereof and of the minutes of all stockholders' meetings of the corporation shall be filed with the registrar. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 10, 42 Stat. 852; Feb. 26, 1925, c. 345, § 9, 43 Stat. 996.)

151. Directors.—The directors designated in the articles of incorporation shall, until their successors take office, direct the exercise of all powers of a China Trade Act corporation except such as are conferred upon the stockholders by law or by the articles of incorporation or by-laws of the corporation. Thereafter the directors elected in accordance with the by-laws of the corporation shall direct the exercise of all powers of the corporation except such as are so conferred upon the stockholders. In the exercise of such powers the directors may appoint and remove and fix the compensation of such officers and employees of the corporation as they deem advisable. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 11, 42 Stat. 852.)

152. Reports; records for public inspection.—(a) For the purposes of this chapter the fiscal year of a China Trade Act corporation shall correspond to the calendar year. The corporation shall make and file with the registrar, in such manner and form and at such time as shall be by regulation prescribed, a report of its business for each such fiscal year and of its financial condition at the close of the year. The corporation shall furnish a true copy of the report to each of its stockholders.

(b) The registrar shall file with the Secretary copies of all reports, certificates, and certified copies received or issued by the registrar under the provisions of this chapter. The Secretary shall file with the registrar copies of all applications for a certificate of incorporation, and certificates received or issued by the Secretary under the provisions of this chapter. All such papers shall be kept on record in the offices of the registrar and the Secretary, and shall be available for public inspection under such regulations as may be prescribed. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 12, 42 Stat. 853.)

153. Dividends.—Dividends declared by a China Trade Act corporation shall be derived wholly from the surplus profits of its business. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 13, 42 Stat. 853.)

154. Investigations by registrar; revocation of certificate of incorporation.—The registrar may, in order to ascertain if the affairs of a China Trade Act corporation are conducted contrary to any provision of this chapter, or any other law, or any treaty of the United States, or the articles of incorporation or by-laws of the corporation, investigate the affairs of the corporation. The registrar, whenever he is satisfied that the affairs of any China Trade Act corporation are or have been so conducted, may institute in the United States Court for China proceedings for the revocation of the certificate of incorporation of the corporation. The court may revoke such certificate if it finds the affairs of such corporation have been so conducted. Pending final decision in the revocation proceedings the court may at any time, upon application of the registrar or upon its own motion, make such orders in respect to the conduct of the affairs of the corporation as it deems advisable. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 14, 42 Stat. 853.)

155. Authority of registrar in obtaining evidence.—(a) For the efficient administration of the functions vested in the registrar by this chapter, he may require, by subpœna issued by him or under his direction, (1) the attendance of any witness and the production of any book, paper, document, or other evidence from any place in China at any designated place of hearing in China, or, if the witness is actually resident or temporarily sojourning outside of China, at any designated place of hearing within fifty miles of the actual residence or place of sojourn of such witness, and (2) the taking of a deposition before any designated person having power to administer oaths.

In the case of a deposition the testimony shall be reduced to writing by the person taking the deposition or under his direction, and shall then be subscribed by the deponent. The registrar, or any officer, employee, or agent of the United States authorized in writing by him, may administer oaths and examine any witness. Any witness summoned or whose deposition is taken, under this section, shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States.

(b) In the case of failure to comply with any subpœna or in the case of the contumacy of any witness before the registrar, or any individual so authorized by him, the registrar or such individual may invoke the aid of any Federal district court. Such court may thereupon order the witness to comply with the requirements of such subpœna and to give evidence touching the matter in question. Any failure to obey such order may be punished by such court as a contempt thereof.

(c) No person shall be excused from so attending and testifying or deposing, nor from so producing any book, paper, document, or other evidence on the ground that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; but no natural person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing as to which, in obedience to a subpœna and under oath, he may so testify, except that no person shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

(d) For the efficient administration of the functions vested in the registrar by this chapter, he, or any officer, employee, or agent of the United States authorized in writing by him, shall at all reasonable times for the purpose of examination have access to and the right to copy any book, account, record, paper, or correspondence relating to the business or affairs of a China Trade Act corporation. Any person who upon demand refuses the registrar or any duly authorized officer, employee, or agent such access or opportunity to copy, or hinders, obstructs, or resists him in the exercise of such right, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $5,000 for each such offense. Such penalty shall be recoverable in a civil suit brought in the name of the United States. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 15, 42 Stat. 853.)

156. Dissolution of corporation; trustees.—In case of the voluntary dissolution of a China Trade Act corporation or revocation of its certificate of incorporation, the directors of the corporation shall be trustees for the creditors and stockholders of the corporation; except that upon application to the United States Court for China by any interested party, or upon the motion of any court of competent jurisdiction in any proceeding pending before it, the court may in its discretion appoint as the trustees such persons, other than the directors, as it may determine. The trustees are invested with the powers, and shall do all acts, necessary to wind up the affairs of the corporation and divide among the stockholders according to their respective interests the property of the corporation remaining after all obligations against it have been settled. For the purposes of this section the trustees may sue and be sued in the name of the corporation and shall be jointly and severally liable to the stockholders and creditors of the corporation to the extent of the property coming into their hands as trustees. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 16, 42 Stat. 854.)

157. Regulations and fees; disposition of fees and penalties.—(a) The Secretary is authorized to make such regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the functions vested in him or in the registrar by this chapter.

(b) The Secretary is authorized to prescribe and fix the amount of such fees (other than the incorporation fee) to be paid him or the registrar for services rendered by the Secretary or the registrar to any person in the administration of the provisions of this chapter. All fees and penalties paid under this chapter shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 17, 42 Stat. 854.)

158. False or fraudulent statements prohibited; penalties.—No stockholder, director, officer, employee, or agent of a China Trade Act corporation shall make, issue, or publish any statement, written or oral, or advertisement in any form, as to the value or as to the facts affecting the value of stocks, bonds, or other evidences of debt, or as to the financial condition or transactions, or facts affecting such condition or transactions, of such corporation if it has issued or is to issue stocks, bonds, or other evidences of debt, whenever he knows or has reason to believe that any material representation in such statement or advertisement is false. No stockholder, director, officer, employee, or agent of a China Trade Act corporation shall, if all the authorized capital stock thereof has not been paid in, make, issue, or publish any written statement or advertisement, in any form, stating the amount of the authorized capital stock without also stating as the amount actually paid in, a sum not greater than the amount paid in. Any person violating any provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 18, 42 Stat. 855.)

159. Unauthorized use of legend; penalty.—No individual, partnership, or association, or corporation not incorporated under this chapter or under a law of the United States, shall engage in business within China under a name in connection with which the legend "Federal Inc. U. S. A." is used. Any person violating this section shall upon conviction thereof be fined not more than $1,000 for each violation. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 19, 42 Stat. 855.)

160. Maintenance of agent for service.—Every China Trade Act corporation shall maintain in the District of Columbia a person as its accredited agent upon whom legal process may be served, in any suit to be brought in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, and who is authorized to enter an appearance in its behalf. In the event of the death or inability to serve, or the resignation or removal, of such person, such corporation shall, within such time as the Secretary by regulation prescribes, appoint a successor. Such corporation shall file with the Secretary a certified copy of each power of attorney appointing a person under this subdivision, and a certified copy of the written consent of each person so appointed. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 20, 42 Stat. 855; Feb. 26, 1925, c. 345, § 10, 43 Stat. 996.)

161. Alteration, amendment, or repeal.—The Congress of the United States reserves the right to alter, amend, or repeal any provision of this chapter. (Sept. 19, 1922, c. 346, § 28, 42 Stat. 856.)

162. Creation of China corporations restricted.—No corporation for the purpose of engaging in business within China shall be created under any law of the United States other than this chapter. (Feb. 26, 1925, c. 345, § 13, 43 Stat. 997.)

194. Bureau of Customs Statistics transferred and consolidated with Division of Statistics.

Section 171. Establishment; consolidation of other bureaus.—The Bureau of Manufactures and the Bureau of Statistics, both of the Department of Commerce and Labor, are, as of July 1, 1912, consolidated into one bureau to be known as the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, and the duties required by law to be performed by the Bureau of Manufactures and the Bureau of Statistics are as of that date transferred to and shall be performed by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. (Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407.)

172. Transfer of duties of Department of Labor; special investigations.—The duties of the Department of Labor, or Bureau of Labor, "to ascertain, at as early a date as possible, and whenever industrial changes shall make it essential, the cost of producing articles at the time dutiable in the United States, in leading countries where such articles are produced, by fully specified units of production, and under a classification showing the different elements of cost, or approximate cost, of such articles of production, including the wages paid in such industries per day, week, month, or year, or by the piece; and hours employed per day; and the profits of manufacturers and producers of such articles; and the comparative cost of living, and the kind of living; what articles are controlled by trusts or other combinations of capital, business operations, or labor, and what effect said trusts, or other combinations of capital, business operations, or labor have on production and prices," are, as of August 23, 1912, transferred to and shall be discharged by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, and it shall be also the duty of said Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to make such special investigation and report on particular subjects when required to do so by the President or either House of Congress. (Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407.)

173. Annual report on statistics of commerce and navigation.—The Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce shall, under the direction of the Secretary of Commerce, annually prepare a report on the statistics of commerce and navigation of the United States with foreign countries, to the close of the calendar year. Such accounts shall comprehend all goods, wares, and merchandise exported from the United States to other countries; all goods, wares, and merchandise imported into the United States from other countries, and all navigation employed in the foreign trade of the United States; which facts shall be stated according to the principles and in the manner hereby directed.

First. The kinds, quantities, and values of all articles exported, and the kinds, quantities, and values of all articles imported, shall be distinctly stated in such accounts, except in cases in which it may appear to the Secretary of Commerce that separate statements of the species, quantities, or values of any particular articles would swell the annual statements without utility; and, in such cases, the kinds and total values of such articles shall be stated together, or in such classes as the Secretary of Commerce may think fit.

Second. The exports shall be so stated as to show the exports to each foreign country, and their values; and the imports shall be so stated as to show the imports from each foreign country, and their values.

Third. The exports shall be so stated as to show, separately, the exports of articles of the production or manufacture of the United States, and their values; and the exports of articles of the production or manufacture of foreign countries, and their values.

Fourth. The navigation employed in the foreign trade of the United States shall be stated in such manner as to show the amount of the tonnage of all vessels departing from the United States for foreign countries; and, separately, the amount of such tonnage of vessels of the United States, and the amount of such tonnage of foreign vessels; and also the foreign nations to which such foreign tonnage belongs, and the amount of such tonnage belonging to each foreign nation; and in such manner as also to show the amount of the tonnage of all vessels departing for every particular foreign country with which the United States have any considerable commerce; and, separately, the amount of such tonnage of vessels of the United States, and the amount of such tonnage of foreign vessels; and in such manner as to show the amount of the tonnage of all vessels arriving in the United States from foreign countries; and, separately, the amount of such tonnage of vessels of the United States, and the amount of such tonnage of foreign vessels; and also the foreign nations to which such foreign tonnage belongs, and the amount of such tonnage belonging to each foreign nation; and in such manner as also to show the amount of the tonnage of all vessels arriving from every particular foreign country with which the United States have any considerable commerce; and, separately, the amount of such tonnage of vessels of the United States, and the amount of such tonnage of foreign vessels.

Fifth. Such accounts shall comprehend and include, in tabular form, the quantity by weight or measure, as well as the amount of value, of the several articles of foreign commerce, whether dutiable or otherwise; and also a similar and separate statement of the commerce of the United States with the British Provinces, under the late so-called reciprocity treaty with Great Britain. (R. S. § 336; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736; Jan. 25, 1919, c. 10, 40 Stat. 1055; Mar. 1, 1919, c. 86, 40 Stat. 1256.)

174. Regulations imposed on collectors.—In order to enable the Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to prepare the annual report on the statistics of commerce and navigation required to be submitted to Congress by the Secretary of Commerce, the following regulations shall be observed by all collectors of customs:

First. The kinds and quantities of all imported articles free from duty shall be ascertained by entry, made upon oath or affirmation, by the owner, or by the consignee or agent of the importer, or by actual examination, where the collector shall think such examination necessary; and the values of all such articles shall be ascertained in the same manner in which the values of imports subject to duties ad valorem are ascertained.

Second. The values of all imported articles subject to specific duties shall be ascertained in the manner in which the values of imports subject to duties ad valorem are ascertained.

Third. The several collectors shall keep separate accounts of the kinds, quantities, and values of such parts of the imports subject to duties ad valorem as may be directed by the Secretary of Commerce.

Fourth. All articles exported shall be valued at their actual cost, or the values which they may truly bear, at the time of exportation, in the ports of the United States from which they are exported; and all articles imported shall be valued at their actual cost, or the values which they may truly bear in the foreign ports from which they are exported for importation into the United States, at the time of such exportation.

Fifth. Before a clearance shall be granted for any vessel bound to a foreign place, the collector shall require the owners, shippers, or consignors of the cargo to deliver to the collector manifests of the cargo, or of the parts thereof shipped by them respectively, which manifests shall specify the kinds and quantities of the articles shipped by them respectively, and the value of the total quantity of each kind of articles; and state that such manifest contains a full, just, and true account of all articles laden on board of such vessel by the owners, shippers, or consignors, respectively, and that the values of such articles are truly stated, according to their actual cost, or the values which they truly bear at the port and time of exportation. And the collector shall also require the master of the vessel, and the owners, shippers, and consignors of the cargo, to state in writing, to the collector, the foreign place or country in which such cargo is truly intended to be landed. The manifests and statements hereby required shall be verified by the oath of the person by whom they are respectively made and subscribed.

Sixth. Every collector shall keep an accurate account of the national characters and tonnage of all vessels which depart from his district for foreign countries, and of the foreign places or countries for which such vessels depart; and, also, an accurate account of the national characters and tonnage of all vessels which enter his district from foreign countries, and of the foreign places or countries from which such vessels arrive.

Seventh. The several collectors shall make quarter-yearly returns to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of all the facts and matters which they are hereby required to ascertain. (R. S. § 337; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736; Mar. 1, 1919, c. 86, 40 Stat. 1256.)

175. Additional duties of bureau.—It shall be the province and duty of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, under the direction of the Secretary of Commerce, to foster, promote, and develop the various manufacturing industries of the United States, and markets for the same at home and abroad, domestic and foreign, by gathering, compiling, publishing, and supplying all available and useful information concerning such industries and such markets, and by such other methods and means as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce or provided by law. And all consular officers of the United States, including consuls general and consuls, are required, and it is made a part of their duty, under the direction of the Secretary of State, to gather and compile, from time to time, useful and material information and statistics in respect to the subjects enumerated in section 596 of Title 5, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES, in the countries and places to which such consular officers are accredited, and to send, under the direction of the Secretary of State, reports as often as required by the Secretary of Commerce of the information and statistics thus gathered and compiled, such reports to be transmitted through the State Department to the Secretary of the Department of Commerce. (Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 5, 32 Stat. 827; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

176. Collection of commercial statistics.—A purpose of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce is the collection, arrangement, and classification of such statistical information as may be procured, showing, or tending to show, each year the condition of the manufactures, domestic trade, currency, and banks of the several States and Territories. (R. S. § 335; Feb. 27, 1877, c. 69, § 1, 19 Stat. 241; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407.)

177. Returns of exports by rail.—Collectors of customs shall render to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, in such manner and form and at such periods as the Secretary of Commerce may prescribe, returns of exports to foreign countries leaving the United States by rail. Any person who shall deliver to any railway or transportation company or other common carrier commodities for transportation and exportation by rail from the United States to foreign countries, shall also deliver to the collector of customs at the frontier port through which the goods pass into the foreign country a manifest, in such form as the Secretary of Commerce may prescribe, duly certified as to its accuracy by said person or his agent, exhibiting the kinds, quantities, and values of the several articles delivered by such person or his agent for exportation. And no railway car containing commodities, the product or manufacture of the United States or foreign goods, duty paid or free of duty, intended to be exported to any foreign country, shall be permitted to leave the United States until the agent of the railway or transportation company, or the person having such car in charge, shall deliver to the customs officer at the last port in the United States through which the commodities pass into foreign territory a manifest thereof, which shall specify the kinds and quantities of the commodities in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce, and until the manifest, exhibiting the kinds, quantities, and values of the several commodities, shall have been delivered to the collector of customs, as above required, by the person exporting such commodities, or by his agent, or information satisfactory to such customs officer as to the kind, quantities, and values of the domestic and foreign free or duty-paid commodities laden on such car. The agent or employee of any railway or transportation company who shall transport such commodities into a foreign country before the delivery to the collector of customs of the manifest, as above required shall be liable to a penalty of $50 for each offense: Provided, That the provisions of this law shall apply to commodities transported to the frontier in railway cars for exportation and transshipment across the frontier into the adjacent foreign territory in ferryboats or vehicles, so far as to require the person in charge thereof to furnish to the collector of customs information of the kinds, quantities, and values of such commodities: And provided further, That nothing contained in the foregoing shall be held as applicable to goods in transit between American ports by routes passing through foreign territory or to merchandise in transit between places in the Dominion of Canada by routes passing through the United States, or to merchandise arriving at the port of Brownsville in Texas, or any other port specially designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, and which may be destined for places in the Republic of Mexico. (July 16, 1892, c. 196, § 1, 27 Stat. 197; Mar. 3, 1893, c. 211, § 1, 27 Stat. 689; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

178. Reports of foreign and interstate commerce and transportation.—It shall be the duty of the officer in charge of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to gather, collate, and annually report to the Secretary of Commerce, for transmission to Congress, statistics and facts relating to commerce with foreign nations and among the several States, the railroad systems of this and other countries, the construction and operation of railroads, the actual cost of such construction and operation of railroads, the actual cost of transporting freights and passengers on railroads, and on canals, rivers, and other navigable waters of the United States, the charges imposed for such transportation of freight and passengers, and the tonnage transported. (Mar. 3, 1875, c. 129, § 1, 18 Stat. 352; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

179. Quarterly reports of exports and imports.—The Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce shall, under the direction of the Secretary of Commerce, prepare and publish quarterly reports of the exports and imports of the United States, including the quantities and values of goods warehoused or withdrawn from warehouse, and such other statistics relative to the trade and industry of the country as the Secretary of Commerce may consider expedient. (R. S. § 330; Mar. 3, 1875, c. 129, § 1, 18 Stat. 352; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736; Mar. 1, 1919, c. 86, 40 Stat. 1256.)

180. Annual statement of vessels.—The Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce shall also prepare an annual statement of vessels registered, enrolled, and licensed under the laws of the United States, together with the class, name, tonnage, and place of registry of each vessel, and such other information as the Secretary of Commerce may deem proper to embody therein. (R. S. § 340; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736; Mar. 1, 1919, c. 86, 40 Stat. 1256.)

181. Annual statement of merchandise.—The Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce shall prepare an annual statement of all merchandise passing in transit through the United States to foreign countries, each description of merchandise, so far as practicable, warehoused, withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, for exportation, for transportation to other districts, and remaining in the warehouse at the end of each fiscal year. (R. S. § 341; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 1, 1919, c. 86, 40 Stat. 1256.)

182. Statistics of manufactures.—The Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce shall collect, digest, and arrange, for the use of Congress, the statistics of the manufactures of the United States, their localities, sources of raw material, markets, exchanges with the producing regions of the country, transportation of products, wages, and such other conditions as are found to affect their prosperity. (R. S. § 342; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 1, 1919, c. 86, 40 Stat. 1256.)

183. Report of statistics.—The Secretary of Commerce shall make a report to Congress on the first Monday of January in each year, containing the results of the information collected during the preceding year, by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, upon the condition of the manufactures, domestic trade, currency, and banks of the several States and Territories. (R. S. § 259; Feb. 27, 1877, c. 69, § 1, 19 Stat. 241; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 9, 32 Stat. 829; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

184. Printing report on commerce and navigation.—The Secretary of Commerce shall cause the annual report on the statistics of commerce and navigation, required from the Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, to be prepared and printed according to law, and to be submitted to Congress at as early a day in each regular session as practicable, and not later than the first Monday in January. (R. S. § 263; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Aug. 23, 1912, c. 350, § 1, 37 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736; Mar. 1, 1919, c. 86, 40 Stat. 1256.)

185. Forms of statements.—The Secretary of Commerce shall prescribe the forms of the annual statements to be submitted to Congress by him showing the actual state of commerce and navigation between the United States and foreign countries, or coastwise between the collection districts of the United States, in each year. (R. S. § 251; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

186. Statistics of coasting trade included.—The annual report of the statistics of commerce and navigation shall state the kinds, quantities, and value of the merchandise entered and cleared coastwise into and from the collection districts of the United States. (R. S. § 338.)

187. Printing statement of exports and imports.—The Secretary of Commerce shall furnish to the Public Printer on or before the 1st day of November of each year, the manuscript, prepared for printing, of a condensed statement of the aggregate amount of the exports and imports from foreign countries during the preceding fiscal year. (R. S. § 265; Jan. 12, 1895, c. 23, § 17, 28 Stat. 603; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

188. Publication of commercial information.—The Secretary of Commerce shall publish official notifications, from time to time, of such commercial information communicated to him by diplomatic and consular officers, as he may deem important to the public interests, in such newspapers, not to exceed three in number, as he may select. (R. S. § 211; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

189. Sale of commercial reports.—The publications by the Department of Commerce of the consular and other commercial reports, including circular letters to chambers of commerce, may be sold at such rates as may be fixed by said department, and the proceeds of all sales shall be paid into the Treasury. (June 16, 1880, c. 235, § 1, 21 Stat. 271; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

190. Discussions in commercial reports of partisan questions.—No part of the consular and other commercial reports of the Department of Commerce, including circular letters to chambers of commerce, discussing partisan political, religious, or moral questions shall be published. (Feb. 25, 1885, c. 150, 23 Stat. 324; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

191. Terms of measure, weight, and money in commercial reports.—All terms of measure, weight, and money in the diplomatic, consular, and other commercial reports prepared, printed, published and distributed by the Department of Commerce shall be reduced to and expressed in terms of measure, weight, and coin of the United States, as well as in the foreign terms. (Feb. 9, 1903, c. 530, 32 Stat. 813; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

192. Disposition of money received from sale of compilations.—All moneys received by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in payment of photographic and other mechanical reproduction of special statistical compilations from its records shall be covered into the Treasury as a miscellaneous receipt. (Mar. 1, 1919, c. 86, § 1, 40 Stat. 1256.)

193. Statements and reports for collectors of customs and Treasury Department.—The Department of Commerce will furnish monthly to the collectors at the several ports a tabulation in detail showing the quantities and values of the merchandise imported and exported from their respective districts, and will furnish the Treasury Department upon request such special reports as may be necessary from time to time. (Jan. 5, 1923, c. 23, § 2, 42 Stat. 1110.)

194. Bureau of Customs Statistics transferred and consolidated with Division of Statistics.—The control and with it the expense of operation of the office known as the Bureau of Customs Statistics under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Treasury, on January 5, 1923, located in the customhouse, city of New York, State of New York, including all officers, clerks, and other employees of that bureau, official records, papers, mechanical and office equipment, furniture, and supplies on that date in use, is as of that date transferred from the Department of the Treasury to the Department of Commerce. The Secretary of Commerce is authorized, if by him deemed advisable, to consolidate the Bureau of Customs Statistics with the Division of Statistics of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce into one office, located in either Washington or New York, or partly in either place, in the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce; the statistical bureau hereby authorized to be located in New York under the jurisdiction and control of the Department of Commerce shall continue to occupy the premises in the New York customhouse which were on January 5, 1923, occupied by the Bureau of Customs Statistics, and additional space as needed shall be assigned in the same building for its use by the Secretary of the Treasury upon request of the Secretary of Commerce. (Jan. 5, 1923, c. 23, § 1, 42 Stat. 1109.)

WEIGHTS, MEASURES, AND STANDARDS GENERALLY

Section 201. Sets of standard weights and measures for agricultural colleges.—The Secretary of the Treasury is directed to cause a complete set of all the weights and measures adopted as standards to be delivered to the governor of each State in the Union, for the use of agricultural colleges in the States, respectively, which have received a grant of lands from the United States, and also one set of the same for the use of the Smithsonian Institution: Provided, That the cost of each set shall not exceed $200. (Mar. 3, 1881, No. 26, 21 Stat. 521.)

202. Repairs to standards.—Such necessary repairs and adjustments shall be made to the standards furnished to the several States and Territories as may be requested by the governors thereof, and also to standard weights and measures that have been, or may be, supplied to United States customhouses and other offices of the United States, under Act of Congress, when requested by the Secretary of the Treasury. (July 11, 1890, c. 667, § 1, 26 Stat. 242.)

203. Replacing lost standard weights and measures; cost.—The Secretary of Commerce is authorized and directed to furnish precise copies of standard weights and measures bearing the seal of the Bureau of Standards and accompanied by a suitable certificate, to any State, Territory, or institution heretofore furnished with the same, upon application in writing by the governor in the case of a State or Territory, or by the official head in the case of an institution, setting forth that the copies of standards applied for are to replace similar ones heretofore furnished, in accordance with law, which have been lost or destroyed: Provided, That the applicant shall, before the said standards are delivered, first deposit with the Secretary of Commerce the amount of money necessary to defray all expenses incurred by the Bureau of Standards in furnishing the same, which amount shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States to the credit of miscellaneous receipts, as soon as the weights or measures are delivered for transportation into the hands of such persons as are designated by the officers ordering the same. (Aug. 18, 1894, c. 301, § 1, 28 Stat. 383; Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 1, 31 Stat. 1449; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141 § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

204. Metric system authorized.—It shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system; and no contract or dealing, or pleading in any court, shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system. (R. S. § 3569.)

205. Authorized tables.—The tables in the schedule annexed shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now [July 28, 1866] in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system; and the tables may lawfully be used for computing, determining, and expressing in customary weights and measures the weights and measures of the metric system. (R. S. § 3570.)

The same and no other shall be used in determining duties and taxes levied by the United States of America on sheet and plate iron and steel. But sections 206 to 208, inclusive, of this chapter, shall not be construed to increase duties upon any articles which may be imported. (Mar. 3, 1893, c. 221, § 1, 27 Stat. 746.)

207. Preparation of standards by Secretary of the Treasury.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and required to prepare suitable standards in accordance with the preceding section. (Mar. 3, 1893, c. 221, § 2, 27 Stat. 746.)

208. Variations.—In the practical use and application of the standard gauge established in section 206 a variation of 2½ per cent, either way may be allowed. (Mar. 3, 1893, c. 221, § 3, 27 Stat. 746.)

209. Standards for screw threads to be adopted.—It shall be the duty of the Commission for the Standardization of Screw Threads to ascertain and establish standards for screw threads, which shall be submitted to the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, and the Secretary of Commerce for their acceptance and approval. Such standards, when thus accepted and approved, shall be adopted and used in the several manufacturing plants under the control of the War and Navy Departments, and, so far as practicable, in all specifications for screw threads in proposals for manufactured articles, parts, or materials to be used under the direction of these departments. (July 18, 1918, c. 156, § 2, 40 Stat. 913; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 96, 40 Stat. 1291.)

210. Promulgation for use by public.—The Secretary of Commerce shall promulgate such standards for use by the public and cause the same to be published as a public document. (July 18, 1918, c. 156, § 3, 40 Stat. 913; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 96, 40 Stat. 1291.)

STANDARDS OF ELECTRICITY

221. Units of electrical measure.—The legal units of electrical measure in the United States shall be as follows:

First. Resistance, ohm.—The unit of resistance shall be what is known as the international ohm, which is substantially equal to one thousand million units of resistance of the centimeter-gram-second system of electromagnetic units, and is represented by the resistance offered to an unvarying electric current by a column of mercury at the temperature of melting ice fourteen and four thousand five hundred and twenty-one ten-thousandths grams in mass, of a constant cross-sectional area, and of the length of one hundred and six and three-tenths centimeters.

Second. Current, ampere.—The unit of current shall be what is known as the international ampere, which is one-tenth of the unit of current of the centimeter-gram-second system of electromagnetic units, and is the practical equivalent of the unvarying current, which, when passed through a solution of nitrate of silver in water in accordance with standard specifications, deposits silver at the rate of one thousand one hundred and eighteen millionths of a gram per second.

Third. Electromotive force, volt.—The unit of electromotive force shall be what is known as the international volt, which is the electromotive force that, steadily applied to a conductor whose resistance is one international ohm, will produce a current of an international ampere, and is practically equivalent to one thousand fourteen hundred and thirty-fourths of the electromotive force between the poles or electrodes of the voltaic cell known as Clark's cell, at a temperature of fifteen degrees centigrade, and prepared in the manner described in the standard specifications.

Fourth. Quantity, coulomb.—The unit of quantity shall be what is known as the international coulomb, which is the quantity of electricity transferred by a current of one international ampere in one second.

Fifth. Capacity, farad.—The unit of capacity shall be what is known as the international farad, which is the capacity of a condenser charged to a potential of one international volt by one international coulomb of electricity.

Sixth. Work, joule.—The unit of work shall be the joule, which is equal to ten million units of work in the centimeter-gram-second system, and which is practically equivalent to the energy expended in one second by an international ampere in an international ohm.

Seventh. Power, watt.—The unit of power shall be the watt, which is equal to ten million units of power in the centimeter-gram-second system, and which is practically equivalent to the work done at the rate of one joule per second.

Eighth. Induction henry.—The unit of induction shall be the henry, which is the induction in a circuit when the electromotive force induced in this circuit is one international volt while the inducing current varies at the rate of one ampere per second. (July 12, 1894, c. 131, § 1, 28 Stat. 101.)

STANDARD BARRELS

231. Standard barrel for apples; steel barrels.—The standard barrel for apples shall be of the following dimensions when measured without distention of its parts: Length of stave, twenty-eight and one-half inches; diameter of head, seventeen and one-eighth inches; distance between heads, twenty-six inches; circumference of bulge, sixty-four inches outside measurement, representing as nearly as possible seven thousand and fifty-six cubic inches: Provided, That steel barrels containing the interior dimensions provided for in this section shall be construed as a compliance therewith. (Aug. 3, 1912, c. 273, § 1, 37 Stat. 250.)

232. Barrels below standard; marking.—All barrels packed with apples shall be deemed to be below standard if the barrel bears any statement, design, or device indicating that the barrel is a standard barrel of apples, as defined in the preceding section and the capacity of the barrel is less than the capacity prescribed by the preceding section, unless the barrel shall be plainly marked on end and side with words or figures showing the fractional relation which the actual capacity of the barrel bears to the capacity prescribed by the preceding section. The marking required by this paragraph shall be in block letters of size not less than seventy-two point one-inch gothic. (Aug. 3, 1912, c. 273, § 4, 37 Stat. 251.)

233. Penalty for violations.—Any person, firm, or corporation, or association who shall knowingly pack or cause to be packed apples in barrels or who shall knowingly sell or offer for sale such barrels in violation of the provisions of section 231 or 232 of this chapter or of sections 20, 21, or 22 of Title 21, FOOD AND DRUGS, shall be liable to a penalty of $1 and costs for each such barrel so sold or offered for sale, to be recovered at the suit of the United States in any court of the United States having jurisdiction. (Aug. 3, 1912, c. 273, § 6, 37 Stat. 251.)

234. Standard barrel for fruits or other dry commodity.—The standard barrel for fruits, vegetables, and other dry commodities other than cranberries shall be of the following dimensions when measured without distention of its parts: Length of stave, twenty-eight and one-half inches; diameter of heads, seventeen and one-eighth inches; distance between heads, twenty-six inches; circumference of bulge, sixty-four inches, outside measurement; and the thickness of staves not greater than four-tenths of an inch: Provided, That any barrel of a different form having a capacity of seven thousand and fifty-six cubic inches shall be a standard barrel. The standard barrel for cranberries shall be of the following dimensions when measured without distention of its parts: Length of staves, twenty-eight and one-half inches; diameter of head, sixteen and one-fourth inches; distance between heads, twenty-five and one-fourth inches; circumference of bulge, fifty-eight and one-half inches, outside measurement; and the thickness of staves not greater than four-tenths of an inch. (Mar. 4, 1915, c. 158, § 1, 38 Stat. 1186.)

235. Sale or shipment of barrel of less capacity than standard; punishment.—It shall be unlawful to sell, offer, or expose for sale in any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or to ship from any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia to any other State, Territory, or the District of Columbia or to a foreign country, a barrel containing fruits or vegetables or any other dry commodity of less capacity than the standard barrels defined in the preceding section, or subdivisions thereof known as the third, half, and three-quarters barrel, and any person guilty of a willful violation of any of the provisions of sections 234 to 236, inclusive, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be liable to a fine not to exceed $500, or imprisonment not to exceed six months, in the court of the United States having jurisdiction: Provided, however, That no barrel shall be deemed below standard within the meaning of sections 234 to 236, inclusive, when shipped to any foreign country and constructed according to the specifications or directions of the foreign purchaser if not constructed in conflict with the laws of the foreign country to which the same is intended to be shipped. (Mar. 4, 1915, c. 158, § 2, 38 Stat. 1186.)

236. Variations from standard permitted; prosecutions; law not applicable to certain barrels.—Reasonable variations shall be permitted and tolerance shall be established by rules and regulations made by the Director of the Bureau of Standards and approved by the Secretary of Commerce. Prosecutions for offenses under this section or either of the two preceding sections may be begun upon complaint of local sealers of weights and measures or other officers of the several States and Territories appointed to enforce the laws of the said States or Territories, respectively, relating to weights and measures: Provided, however, That nothing in this section or the two preceding sections shall apply to barrels used in packing or shipping commodities sold exclusively by weight or numerical count. (Mar. 4, 1915, c. 158, § 3, 38 Stat. 1187.)

237. Standard barrels for lime.—There is established a large and a small barrel of lime, the large barrel to consist of two hundred and eighty pounds and the small barrel to consist of one hundred and eighty pounds, net weight. (Aug. 23, 1916, c. 396, § 1, 39 Stat. 530.)

238. Penalty for selling in barrels not marked.—It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale lime imported in barrels from a foreign country, or to sell or offer for sale lime in barrels for shipment from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, to any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, unless there shall be stenciled or otherwise clearly marked on one or both heads of the small barrel the figures "180 lbs. net" and of the large barrel the figures "280 lbs. net" before the importation or shipment, and on either barrel in addition the name of the manufacturer of the lime and where manufactured, and, if imported, the name of the country from which it is imported. (Aug. 23, 1916, c. 396, § 2, 39 Stat. 530.)

239. Sale in containers of less capacity than barrel.—When lime is sold in interstate or foreign commerce in containers of less capacity than the standard small barrel, it shall be sold in fractional parts of said standard small barrel, and the net weight of lime contained in such container shall by stencil or otherwise be clearly marked thereon, together with the name of the manufacturer thereof, and the name of the brand, if any, under which it is sold, and, if imported, the name of the country from which it is imported. (Aug. 23, 1916, c. 396, § 3, 39 Stat. 530.)

240. Rules and regulations.—Rules and regulations for the enforcement of sections 237 to 242, inclusive, not inconsistent with the provisions of said sections, shall be made by the Director of the Bureau of Standards and approved by the Secretary of Commerce, and such rules and regulations shall include reasonable variations or tolerances which may be allowed. (Aug. 23, 1916, c. 396, § 4, 39 Stat. 531.)

241. Penalty for selling lime in unmarked barrels and containers.—It shall be unlawful to pack, sell, or offer for sale for shipment from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, any barrels or other containers of lime which are not marked as provided in sections 238 and 239, or to sell, charge for, or purport to deliver from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, as a large or small barrel or a fractional part of said small barrel of lime, any less weight of lime than is established by the provisions of sections 237 to 242, inclusive, and any person guilty of a violation of the provisions of sections 237 to 242, inclusive, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be liable to a fine not exceeding $100. (Aug. 23, 1916, c. 396, § 5, 39 Stat. 531.)

242. Duty of district attorney to enforce law.—It shall be the duty of each district attorney, to whom satisfactory evidence of any violation of sections 237 to 242, inclusive, is presented, to cause appropriate proceedings to be commenced and prosecuted in the United States court having jurisdiction of such offense. (Aug. 23, 1916, c. 396, § 6, 39 Stat. 531.)

STANDARD BASKETS AND CONTAINERS

251. Standards for Climax baskets.—Standards for Climax baskets for grapes and other fruits and vegetables shall be the two-quart basket, four-quart basket, and twelve-quart basket, respectively:

(a) The standard two-quart Climax basket shall be of the following dimensions: Length of bottom piece, nine and one-half inches; width of bottom piece, three and one-half inches; thickness of bottom piece, three-eighths of an inch; height of basket, three and seven-eighths inches, outside measurement; top of basket, length eleven inches and width five inches, outside measurement. Basket to have a cover five by eleven inches, when a cover is used.

(b) The standard four-quart Climax basket shall be of the following dimensions: Length of bottom piece, twelve inches; width of bottom piece, four and one-half inches; thickness of bottom piece, three-eighths of an inch; height of basket, four and eleven-sixteenths inches, outside measurement; top of basket, length fourteen inches, width six and one-fourth inches, outside measurement. Basket to have cover six and one-fourth inches by fourteen inches, when cover is used.

(c) The standard twelve-quart Climax basket shall be of the following dimensions: Length of bottom piece, sixteen inches; width of bottom piece, six and one-half inches; thickness of bottom piece, seven-sixteenths of an inch; height of basket, seven and one-sixteenth inches, outside measurement; top of basket, length nineteen inches, width nine inches, outside measurement. Basket to have cover nine inches by nineteen inches, when cover is used. (Aug. 31, 1916, c. 426, § 1, 39 Stat. 673.)

252. Standard basket or container for small fruits and vegetables.—The standard basket or other container for small fruits, berries, and vegetables shall be of the following capacities, namely, dry one-half pint, dry pint, dry quart, or multiples of the dry quart.

(a) The dry half pint shall contain sixteen and eight-tenths cubic inches.

(b) The dry pint shall contain thirty-three and six-tenths cubic inches.

(c) The dry quart shall contain sixty-seven and two-tenths cubic inches. (Aug. 31, 1916, c. 426, § 2, 39 Stat. 673.)

253. Failure to conform to standards; penalty; exception.—It shall be unlawful to manufacture for shipment, or to sell for shipment, or to ship from any State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia, any Climax baskets or other containers for small fruits, berries, or vegetables whether filled or unfilled, which do not conform to the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter; and any person guilty of a willful violation of any of the provisions of said subdivision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $25: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall apply to the manufacture, sale, or shipment of Climax baskets, baskets, or other containers for small fruits, berries, and vegetables when intended for export to foreign countries when such Climax baskets, baskets, or other containers for small fruits, berries, and vegetables accord with the specifications of the foreign purchasers or comply with the law of the country to which shipment is made or to be made. (Aug. 31, 1916, c. 426, § 3, 39 Stat. 674.)

254. Examination and test by Department of Agriculture; rules and regulations.—The examination and test of Climax baskets, baskets, or other containers for small fruits, berries, and vegetables, for the purpose of determining whether such baskets or other containers comply with the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter, shall be made by the Department of Agriculture, and the Secretary of Agriculture shall establish and promulgate rules and regulations allowing such reasonable tolerances and variations as may be found necessary. (Aug. 31, 1916, c. 426, § 4, 39 Stat. 674.)

255. Duties of district attorney.—It shall be the duty of each district attorney, to whom satisfactory evidence of any violation of this subdivision of this chapter is presented, to cause appropriate proceedings to be commenced and prosecuted in the proper court of the United States for the enforcement of the penalties as in such case provided in said subdivision. (Aug. 31, 1916, c. 426, § 5, 39 Stat. 674.)

256. Guaranty of manufacturer of baskets or containers as defined.—No dealer shall be prosecuted under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter when he can establish a guaranty signed by the manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, or other party residing within the United States from whom such Climax baskets, baskets, or other containers, as defined in said subdivision, where purchased, to the effect that said Climax baskets, baskets, or other containers are correct within the meaning of said subdivision. Said guaranty, to afford protection, shall contain the name and address of the party or parties making the sale of Climax baskets, baskets, or other containers to such dealer, and in such case said party or parties shall be amenable to the prosecutions, fines, and other penalties which would attach in due course to the dealer under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter. (Aug. 31, 1916, c. 426, § 6, 39 Stat. 674.)

STANDARD TIME

261. Zones for standard time.—For the purpose of establishing the standard time of the United States, the territory of continental United States shall be divided into five zones in the manner provided in this section. The standard time of the first zone shall be based on the mean astronomical time of the seventy-fifth degree of longitude west from Greenwich; that of the second zone on the ninetieth degree; that of the third zone on the one hundred and fifth degree; that of the fourth zone on the one hundred and twentieth degree; and that of the fifth zone, which shall include only Alaska, on the one hundred and fiftieth degree. The limits of each zone shall be defined by an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, having regard for the convenience of commerce and the existing junction points and division points of common carriers engaged in commerce between the several States and with foreign nations, and such order may be modified from time to time. (Mar. 19, 1918, c. 24, § 1, 40 Stat. 450.)

262. Duty to observe standard time of zones.—Within the respective zones created under the authority of this subdivision of this chapter the standard time of the zone shall govern the movement of all common carriers engaged in commerce between the several States or between a State and any of the Territories of the United States, or between a State or the Territory of Alaska and any of the insular possessions of the United States or any foreign country. In all statutes, orders, rules and regulations relating to the time of performance of any act by any officer or department of the United States, whether in the legislative, executive, or judicial branches of the Government, or relating to the time within which any rights shall accrue or determine, or within which any act shall or shall not be performed by any person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, it shall be understood and intended that the time shall be the United States standard time of the zone within which the act is to be performed. (Mar. 19, 1918, c. 24, § 2, 40 Stat. 451.)

263. Designation of zone standard times.—The standard time of the first zone shall be known and designated as United States standard eastern time; that of the second zone shall be known and designated as United States standard central time; that of the third zone shall be known and designated as United States standard mountain time; that of the fourth zone shall be known and designated as United States standard Pacific time; and that of the fifth zone shall be known and designated as United States standard Alaska time. (Mar. 19, 1918, c. 24, § 4, 40 Stat. 451.)

264. Part of Idaho in third zone.—In the division of territory, and in the definition of the limits of each zone, as provided in this subdivision of this chapter so much of the State of Idaho as lies south of the Salmon River, traversing the State from east to west near forty-five degrees thirty minutes latitude shall be embraced in the third zone. (Mar. 3, 1923, c. 216, 42 Stat. 1434.)

265. Transfer of certain territory to standard central-time zone.—The Panhandle and Plains sections of Texas and Oklahoma are transferred to and placed within the United States standard central-time zone.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is authorized and directed to issue an order placing the western boundary line of the United States standard central-time zone in so far as the same affect Texas and Oklahoma as follows:

Beginning at a point where such western boundary time zone line crosses the State boundary line between Kansas and Oklahoma; thence westerly along said State boundary line to the northwest corner of the State of Oklahoma; thence in a southerly direction along the west State boundary line of Oklahoma and the west State boundary line of Texas to the southeastern corner of the State of New Mexico; thence in a westerly direction along the State boundary line between the States of Texas and New Mexico to the Rio Grande River; thence down the Rio Grande River as the boundary line between the United States and Mexico: Provided, That the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf Railway Company and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company may use Tucumcari, New Mexico, as the point at which they change from central to mountain time and vice versa; the Colorado Southern and Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Companies may use Sixela, New Mexico, as such changing point; the Atchison, Topeka and Sante Fe Railway Company and other branches of the Santa Fe system may use Clovis, New Mexico, as such changing point, and those railways running into or through El Paso may use El Paso as such point: Provided further, That this section shall not, except as herein provided, interfere with the adjustment of time zones as established by the Interstate Commerce Commission. (Mar. 4, 1921, c. 178, § 1, 41 Stat. 1446.)

Chapter 7.—THE BUREAU OF STANDARDS.

Sec.
271. Bureau established.
272. Functions of bureau.
273. Functions; for whom exercised.
274. Director; powers and duties; report.
275. Appointment of officers and employees.
276. Fees.
277. Regulations.
278. Visiting committee.
279. Absence of director.
280. Apprentices; promotion.
281. Testing materials for District of Columbia.

Section 271. Bureau established.—The Office of Standard Weights and Measures shall be known as the National Bureau of Standards. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 1, 31 Stat. 1449.)

272. Functions of bureau.—The functions of the bureau shall consist in the custody of the standards; the comparison of the standards used in scientific investigations, engineering, manufacturing, commerce, and educational institutions with the standards adopted or recognized by the Government; the construction, when necessary, of standards, their multiples and subdivisions; the testing and calibration of standard measuring apparatus; the solution of problems which arise in connection with standards; the determination of physical constants and the properties of materials, when such data are of great importance to scientific or manufacturing interests and are not to be obtained of sufficient accuracy elsewhere. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 2, 31 Stat. 1449.)

273. Functions; for whom exercised.—The bureau shall exercise its functions for the Government of the United States; for any State or municipal government within the United States; or for any scientific society, educational institution, firm, corporation, or individual within the United States engaged in manufacturing or other pursuits requiring the use of standards or standard measuring instruments. All requests for the services of the bureau shall be made in accordance with the rules and regulations established in sections 276 and 277. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 3, 31 Stat. 1449.)

274. Director; powers and duties; report.—The director shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. He shall have the general supervision of the bureau, its equipment, and the exercise of its functions. He shall make an annual report to the Secretary of Commerce, including an abstract of the work done during the year and a financial statement. He may issue, when necessary, bulletins for public distribution, containing such information as may be of value to the public or facilitate the bureau in the exercise of its functions. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 5, 31 Stat. 1449; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

275. Appointment of officers and employees.—The officers and employees of the bureau, except the director, shall be appointed by the Secretary of Commerce at such time as their respective services may become necessary. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 6, 31 Stat. 1450; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

276. Fees.—For all comparisons, calibrations, tests, or investigations, except those performed for the Government of the United States or State governments within the United States, a reasonable fee shall be charged, according to a schedule submitted by the director and approved by the Secretary of Commerce. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 8, 31 Stat. 1450; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

277. Regulations.—The Secretary of Commerce shall, from time to time, make regulations regarding the payment of fees, the limits of tolerance to be attained in standards submitted for verification, the sealing of standards, the disbursement and receipt of moneys, and such other matters as he may deem necessary for carrying into effect sections 271 to 278, inclusive. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 9, 31 Stat. 1450; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

278. Visiting committee.—There shall be a visiting committee of five members to be appointed by the Secretary of Commerce, to consist of men prominent in the various interests involved, and not in the employ of the Government. This committee shall visit the bureau at least once a year, and report to the Secretary of Commerce upon the efficiency of its scientific work and the condition of its equipment. The members of this committee shall serve without compensation, but shall be paid the actual expenses incurred in attending its meetings. The period of service of the members of the committee shall be so arranged that one member shall retire each year, and the appointments to be for a period of five years. Appointments made to fill vacancies occurring other than in the regular manner are to be made for the remainder of the period in which the vacancy exists. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 872, § 10, 31 Stat. 1450; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 10, 32 Stat. 829; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

279. Absence of director.—In the case of the absence of the Director of the Bureau of Standards the Secretary of Commerce may designate some officer of said bureau to perform the duties of the director during his absence. (Mar. 4, 1911, c. 237, § 1, 36 Stat. 1231; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

280. Apprentices; promotion.—Apprentices in the Bureau of Standards may be promoted after satisfactory apprenticeship, with the approval of the Civil Service Commission, to positions corresponding to the journeyman grades for which their duties logically prepare them, without regard to apportionment: Provided, That they thus acquire no rights to transfer to other lines of work. (July 16, 1914, c. 141, § 1, 38 Stat. 502.)

281. Testing materials for District of Columbia.—Materials for fireproof buildings, other structural materials, and all materials, other than materials for paving and for fuel, purchased for and to be used by the government of the District of Columbia, when necessary in the judgment of the commissioners to be tested, shall be tested by the Bureau of Standards under the same conditions as similar testing is required to be done for the United States Government. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 150, 37 Stat. 945.)

Chapter 8.—FALSELY STAMPED GOLD OR SILVER OR GOODS MANUFACTURED THEREFROM.

Sec.
291. Stamping with words "United States assay," etc., unlawful.
292. Forfeiture.
293. Penalty for infraction.
294. Importation or transportation of falsely marked gold or silver ware prohibited.
295. Standard of fineness of gold articles; deviation.
296. Standard of fineness of silver articles; deviation.
297. Stamping plated articles; words "sterling" or "coin" forbidden.
298. Violations of law; penalty; jurisdiction of prosecutions.
299. Expression "article of merchandise" defined.
300. Application of State laws.

Section 291. Stamping with words "United States assay," etc., unlawful.—It shall be unlawful for any person, partnership, association, or corporation engaged in commerce among the several States, Territories, District of Columbia, and possessions of the United States, or with any foreign country, to stamp any gold, silver, or goods manufactured therefrom, and which are intended and used in such commerce, with the words "United States assay," or with any words, phrases, or devices calculated to convey the impression that the United States Government has certified to the fineness or quality of such gold or silver, or of the gold or silver contained in any of the goods manufactured therefrom. Each and every such stamp shall constitute a separate offense. (Feb. 21, 1905, c. 720, § 1, 33 Stat. 732.)

292. Forfeiture.—Any gold, silver, or goods manufactured therefrom after February 21, 1905, bearing any of the stamps, words, phrases, or devices prohibited to be used under the preceding section, and being in the course of transportation from one State to another, or to or from a Territory, the District of Columbia, or possessions of the United States, shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized and condemned by like proceedings as those provided by law for the forfeiture, seizure, and condemnation of property imported into the United States contrary to law. (Feb. 21, 1905, c. 720, § 3, 33 Stat. 732.)

293. Penalty for infraction.—Every person, partnership, association, or corporation violating the provisions of this section or either of the two preceding sections, and every officer, director, or managing agent of such partnership, association, or corporation having knowledge of such violation and directly participating in such violation or consenting thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, be punished with a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Feb. 21, 1905, c. 720, § 2, 33 Stat. 732.)

294. Importation or transportation of falsely marked gold or silver ware prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, or association, being a manufacturer of or wholesale or retail dealer in gold or silver jewelry or gold ware, silver goods or silverware, or for any officer, manager, director, or agent of such firm, corporation, or association to import or export or cause to be imported into or exported from the United States for the purpose of selling or disposing of the same, or to deposit or cause to be deposited in the United States mails for transmission thereby, or to deliver or cause to be delivered to any common carrier for transportation from one State, Territory, or possession of the United States, or the District of Columbia, to any other State, Territory, or possession of the United States, or to said District, in interstate commerce, or to transport or cause to be transported from one State, Territory, or possession of the United States, or from the District of Columbia, to any other State, Territory, or possession of the United States, or to said District, in interstate commerce, any article of merchandise manufactured after June 13, 1907, and made in whole or in part of gold or silver, or any alloy of either of said metals, and having stamped, branded, engraved, or printed thereon, or upon any tag, card, or label attached thereto, or upon any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which said article is incased or inclosed, any mark or word indicating or designed or intended to indicate that the gold or silver or alloy of either of said metals in such article is of a greater degree of fineness than the actual fineness or quality of such gold, silver, or alloy, according to the standards and subject to the qualifications set forth in the two following sections. (June 13, 1906, c. 3289, § 1, 34 Stat. 260.)

295. Standard of fineness of gold articles; deviation.—In the case of articles of merchandise made in whole or in part of gold or of any of its alloys so imported into or exported from the United States, or so deposited in the United States mails for transmission, or so delivered for transportation to any common carrier, or so transported or caused to be transported as specified in the preceding section, the actual fineness of such gold or alloy shall not be less by more than one-half of one carat than the fineness indicated by the mark stamped, branded, engraved, or printed upon any part of such article, or upon any tag, card, or label attached thereto, or upon any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which such article is incased or inclosed; except that in the case of watch-cases and flatware, so made of gold or of any of its alloys, the actual fineness of such gold or alloy shall not be less by more than three one-thousandth parts than the fineness indicated by the mark stamped, branded, engraved, or printed upon such article, or upon any tag, card, or label attached thereto, or upon any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which such article is incased or inclosed: Provided, That in any test for the ascertainment of the fineness of any article mentioned in this section, according to the foregoing standards, the part of the article taken for the test, analysis, or assay shall be such part or portion as does not contain or have attached thereto any solder or alloy of inferior fineness used for brazing or uniting the parts of said article: Provided further, That in the case of any article mentioned in this section, in addition to the foregoing tests and standards, the actual fineness of the entire quantity of gold or of its alloys contained in such article, including all solder and alloy of inferior fineness used for brazing or uniting the parts of such article (all such gold, alloys, and solder being assayed as one piece), shall not be less by more than one carat than the fineness indicated by the mark stamped, branded, engraved, or imprinted upon such article, or upon any tag, card, or label attached thereto, or upon any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which such article is incased or inclosed, it being intended that the standards of fineness and the tests or methods for ascertaining the same provided in this section for articles mentioned therein shall be concurrent and not alternative. (June 13, 1906, c. 3289, § 2, 34 Stat. 260.)

296. Standard of fineness of silver articles; deviation.—In the case of articles of merchandise made in whole or in part of silver or any of its alloys so imported into or exported from the United States, or so deposited in the United States mails for transmission, or so delivered for transportation to any common carrier, or so transported or caused to be transported as specified in section 294, the actual fineness of the silver or alloy thereof of which such article is wholly or partly composed shall not be less by more than four one-thousandth parts than the actual fineness indicated by any mark (other than the word "sterling" or the word "coin") stamped, branded, engraved, or printed upon any part of such article, or upon any tag, card, or label attached thereto, or upon any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which such article is incased or inclosed; and that no such article or tag, card, or label attached thereto, or box, package, cover, or wrapper in which such article is incased or inclosed shall be marked, stamped, branded, engraved, or printed with the word "sterling" or "sterling silver" or any colorable imitation thereof, unless such article or parts thereof purporting to be silver contains nine hundred and twenty-five one-thousandth parts pure silver; and that no such article, tag, card, label, box, package, cover, or wrapper shall be marked, stamped, branded, engraved, or printed with the words "coin" or "coin silver" or colorable imitation thereof unless such article or parts thereof purporting to be silver contains nine hundred one-thousandth parts pure silver: Provided, That in the case of all such articles whose fineness is indicated by the word "sterling" or the word "coin" there shall be allowed a divergence in the fineness of four one-thousandth parts from the foregoing standards: Provided, That in any test for the ascertainment of the fineness of any such article mentioned in this section according to the foregoing standards the part of the article taken for the test, analysis, or assay shall be such part or portion as does not contain or have attached thereto any solder or alloy of inferior fineness used for brazing or uniting the parts of such article: Provided further, That in the case of any article mentioned in this section, in addition to the foregoing tests and standards, the actual fineness of the entire quantity of silver or of its alloys contained in such article, including all solder and alloy of inferior fineness used for brazing or uniting the parts of such article (all such silver, alloys, and solder being assayed as one piece), shall not be less by more than ten one-thousandth parts than the fineness indicated by the mark stamped, branded, engraved, or imprinted upon such article, or upon any tag, card, or label attached thereto, or upon any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which such article is incased or inclosed, it being intended that the standards of fineness and the tests or methods for ascertaining the same provided in this section for articles mentioned therein shall be concurrent and not alternative. (June 13, 1906, c. 3289, § 3, 34 Stat. 261.)

297. Stamping plated articles; words "sterling" or "coin" forbidden.—In the case of articles of merchandise made in whole or in part of an inferior metal, having deposited or plated thereon or brazed or otherwise affixed thereto a plating, covering, or sheet composed of gold or silver, or of an alloy of either of said metals, and known in the market as rolled gold plate, gold plate, gold filled, silver plate, or gold or silver electroplate, or by any similar designation, so imported into or exported from the United States, or so deposited in the United States mails for transmission, or so delivered to any common carrier, or so transported or caused to be transported as specified in section 294, no such article, nor any tag, card, or label attached thereto, nor any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which such article is incased or inclosed, shall be stamped, branded, engraved, or imprinted with any word or mark usually employed to indicate the fineness of gold, unless such word or mark be accompanied by other words plainly indicating that such article or part thereof is made of rolled gold plate, gold plate, or gold electroplate, or is gold filled, as the case may be, and no such article, nor any tag, card, or label attached thereto, nor any box, package, cover, or wrapper in which such article is incased or inclosed, shall be stamped, branded, engraved, or imprinted with the word "sterling" or the word "coin," either alone or in conjunction with other words or marks. (June 13, 1906, c. 3289, § 4, 34 Stat. 261.)

298. Violations of law; penalty; jurisdiction of prosecutions.—Each and every person, firm, corporation, or association, being a manufacturer of or a wholesale or retail dealer in gold or silver jewelry, gold ware, silver goods, or silverware, who or which shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of sections 294 to 300, inclusive, and every officer, manager, director, or managing agent of any such corporation or association having knowledge of such violation and directly participating in such violation or consenting thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States having jurisdiction of crimes within the district in which such violation was committed or through which has been conducted the transportation of the article in respect to which such violation has been committed, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment for not more than three months, or both, at the discretion of the court. Whenever the offense is begun in one jurisdiction and completed in another it may be dealt with, inquired of, tried, determined, and punished in either jurisdiction in the same manner as if the offense had been actually and wholly committed therein. (June 13, 1906, c. 3289, § 5, 34 Stat. 262.)

299. Expression "article of merchandise" defined.—The expression "article of merchandise" as used in sections 294 to 300, inclusive, shall signify any goods, wares, works of art, commodity, or other thing which may be lawfully kept or offered for sale. (June 13, 1906, c. 3289, § 6, 34 Stat. 262.)

300. Application of State laws.—All articles of merchandise to which sections 294 to 300, inclusive, apply which shall have been transported into any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, and shall remain therein for use, sale, or storage, shall, upon arrival in such State, Territory, District, or possession, be subject to the operation of all the laws of such State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States to the same extent and in the same manner as though such articles of merchandise had been produced in such State, Territory, District, or possession, and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced therein in original packages or otherwise. (June 13, 1906, c. 3289, § 7, 34 Stat. 262.)

Chapter 9.—THE WEATHER BUREAU.

317. Appropriations and estimates.
318. Weather signals on mail cars.
319. Printing.
320. Sale of maps or publications.
321. Destruction of old telegrams.

Section 311. Establishment.—The civilian duties prior to October 1, 1890, performed by the Signal Corps of the Army shall devolve upon a bureau to be known as the Weather Bureau, which shall be established in and attached to the Department of Agriculture. (Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1266, § 1, 26 Stat. 653.)

312. Chief and employees.—The Weather Bureau shall consist of one Chief of Weather Bureau and such civilian employees as Congress may annually provide for and as may be necessary to properly perform the duties devolving on said bureau by law, and the chief of said bureau shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. (Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1266, § 4, 26 Stat. 653; July 8, 1898, No. 57, 30 Stat. 752.)

313. Duties of chief of bureau.—The Chief of the Weather Bureau, under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, shall have charge of the forecasting of weather, the issue of storm warnings, the display of weather and flood signals for the benefit of agriculture, commerce, and navigation, the gauging and reporting of rivers, the maintenance and operation of seacoast telegraph lines and the collection and transmission of marine intelligence for the benefit of commerce and navigation, the reporting of temperature and rain-fall conditions for the cotton interests, the display of frost and cold-wave signals, the distribution of meteorological information in the interests of agriculture and commerce, and the taking of such meteorological observations as may be necessary to establish and record the climatic conditions of the United States, or as are essential for the proper execution of the foregoing duties. (Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1266, § 3, 26 Stat. 653.)

314. Promotions.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to make promotions in the service without prejudice to those transferred from the Signal Service of the War Department. (Aug. 8, 1894, c. 238, 28 Stat. 273.)

315. Changes or assignment to duty.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to make such changes or assignment to duty in the personnel or detailed force of the Weather Bureau for limiting or reducing expenses as he may deem necessary. (Mar. 2, 1895, c. 169, 28 Stat. 736.)

316. Traveling expenses.—Officials and employees of the Weather Bureau, when transferred from one station to another for official duty, shall be allowed all traveling expenses authorized by laws existing on March 4, 1913, applicable to said bureau, notwithstanding any changes in appointments that may be required by such transfers. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 145, 37 Stat. 830.)

317. Appropriations and estimates.—The appropriations for the support of the Weather Bureau shall be made with those of the other bureaus of the Department of Agriculture, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Agriculture to prepare future estimates for the Weather Bureau which shall be specially developed and extended in the interests of agriculture. (Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1266, § 9, 26 Stat. 653.)

318. Weather signals on mail cars.—The Secretary of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Postmaster General, may arrange a plan by which there shall be displayed on all cars and other conveyances used for transporting United States mail, suitable flags or other signals to indicate weather forecasts, cold-wave warnings, frost warnings, and so forth, to be furnished by the Chief of the Weather Bureau. (Apr. 25, 1896, c. 140, 29 Stat. 108.)

319. Printing.—No printing shall be done by the Weather Bureau that can be done at the Government Printing Office without impairing the service of said bureau. (Feb. 10, 1925, c. 200, 43 Stat. 826.)

320. Sale of maps or publications.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to sell any surplus maps or publications of the Weather Bureau, and the money received from such sales shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States. (Mar. 4, 1907, c. 2907, 34 Stat. 1258.)

321. Destruction of old telegrams.—All telegrams pertaining to the business of the Weather Bureau may be destroyed after they are three years old, and the accounts based thereon have been settled by the Treasury Department. (May 25, 1900, c. 555, 31 Stat. 204.)

THE CORPORATION

Section 331. Creation of corporation; composition.—The Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Agriculture, and four additional persons (who shall be the directors first appointed as hereinafter provided) are created a body corporate and politic in deed and in law by the name, style, and title of the War Finance Corporation (herein called the corporation), and shall have succession for a period of ten years: Provided, That except as otherwise provided by this subdivision and the following subdivision of this chapter the corporation shall not exercise any of the powers conferred by said subdivisions except such as are incidental to the liquidation of its assets and the winding up of its affairs, after July 1, 1922. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 1, 40 Stat. 506; Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 2, 42 Stat. 181.)

332. Capital stock.—The capital stock of the corporation shall be $500,000,000, all of which shall be subscribed by the United States of America, and such subscription shall be subject to call upon the vote of three-fifths of the board of directors of the corporation, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, at such time or times as may be deemed advisable; and there is appropriated, as of April 5, 1918, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $500,000,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purpose of making payment upon such subscription when and as called. Receipts for payments by the United States of America for or on account of such stock shall be issued by the corporation to the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall be evidence of stock ownership. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 2, 40 Stat. 506.)

333. Directors.—The management of the corporation shall be vested in a board of directors, consisting of the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall be chairman of the board, and four other persons, to be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. No director, officer, attorney, agent, or employee of the corporation shall in any manner, directly or indirectly, participate in the determination of any question affecting his personal interests, or the interests of any corporation, partnership, or association, in which he is directly or indirectly interested; and each director shall devote his time, not otherwise required by the business of the United States, principally to the business of the corporation. Before entering upon his duties, each of the four directors so appointed, and each officer, shall take an oath faithfully to discharge the duties of his office. Nothing contained in this or any other statute shall be construed to prevent the appointment as a director of the corporation of any officer or employee under the United States or of a director of a Federal reserve bank.

Of the four directors so appointed, the President of the United States shall designate two to serve for two years, and two for four years; and thereafter each director so appointed shall serve for four years. Whenever a vacancy shall occur among the directors so appointed, the person appointed director to fill any such vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of the member whose place he is selected to fill. Any director shall be subject to removal by the President of the United States. Three members of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 3, 40 Stat. 507.)

334. Salaries of directors.—The four directors of the corporation appointed as hereinbefore provided shall receive annual salaries, payable monthly, of $12,000. Any director receiving from the United States any salary or compensation for services shall not receive as salary from the corporation any amount which, together with any salary or compensation received from the United States, would make the total amount paid to him by the United States and by the corporation exceed $12,000. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 4, 40 Stat. 507.)

335. Office; branch offices.—The principal office of the corporation shall be located in the District of Columbia, but there may be established agencies or branch offices in any city or cities of the United States under rules and regulations prescribed by the board of directors. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 5, 40 Stat. 507.)

336. Seal; corporate powers.—The corporation shall be empowered and authorized to adopt, alter, and use a corporate seal; to make contracts; to purchase or lease and hold or dispose of such real estate as may be necessary for the prosecution of its business; to sue and be sued; to complain and defend in any court of competent jurisdiction, State or Federal; to appoint, by its board of directors, and fix the compensation of such officers, employees, attorneys, and agents as are necessary for the transaction of the business of the corporation, to define their duties, require bonds of them and fix the penalties thereof, and to dismiss at pleasure such officers, employees, attorneys, and agents; and to prescribe, amend, and repeal, by its board of directors, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, by-laws regulating the manner in which its general business may be conducted and the privileges granted to it by law may be exercised and enjoyed, and prescribing the powers and duties of its officers and agents. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 6, 40 Stat. 507.)

337. Advances to persons, firms, or corporations.—The corporation shall be empowered and authorized, in exceptional cases, to make advances directly to any person, firm, corporation, or association, conducting an established and going business in the United States, whose operations shall be necessary or contributory to the prosecution of the war (but only for the purpose of conducting such business in the United States and only when in the opinion of the board of directors of the corporation such person, firm, corporation, or association is unable to obtain funds upon reasonable terms through banking channels or from the general public), for periods not exceeding five years from the respective dates of such advances, upon such terms, and subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the board of directors of the corporation. In no case shall the aggregate amount of the advances made under this section exceed at any one time an amount equal to 12½ per centum of the sum of (1) the authorized capital stock of the corporation plus (2) the aggregate amount of bonds of the corporation authorized to be outstanding at any one time when the capital stock is fully paid in. Every such advance shall be secured by adequate security of such character as shall be prescribed by the board of directors of a value at the time of such advance (as estimated and determined by the board of directors), equal to (except in case of an advance made to a railroad in the possession and control of the President, for the purpose of making additions, betterments or road extensions to such railroad) at least 125 per centum of the amount advanced by the corporation. The corporation shall retain power to require additional security at any time. The rate of interest charged on any such advance shall not be less than 1 per centum per annum in excess of the rate of discount for ninety-day commercial paper prevailing at the time of such advance at the Federal reserve bank of the district in which the borrower is located. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 9, 40 Stat. 509.)

338. Limitation of aggregate amount of advances.—In no case shall the aggregate amount of the advances made under this subdivision of this chapter to any one person, firm, corporation, or association exceed at any one time an amount equal to 10 per centum of the authorized capital stock of the corporation, but this section shall not apply in the case of an advance made to a railroad in the possession and control of the President, for the purpose of making additions, betterments or road extensions to such railroad. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 10, 40 Stat. 509.)

339. Purchase of bonds of United States.—The corporation shall be empowered and authorized to subscribe for, acquire, and own, buy, sell, and deal in bonds and obligations of the United States issued or converted after September 24, 1917, to such extent as the board of directors, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may from time to time determine. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 11, 40 Stat. 509.)

340. Bonds of corporation; issue, etc.—The corporation shall be empowered and authorized to issue and have outstanding at any one time its notes or bonds in an amount aggregating not more than three times its paid-in capital, such notes or bonds to mature not less than six months nor more than five years from the respective dates of issue, and may be redeemable before maturity at the option of the corporation, as may be stipulated in such notes or bonds, and to bear such rate or rates of interest as may be determined by the board of directors, but such rate or rates of interest shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such notes or bonds shall have a first and paramount floating charge on all the assets of the corporation, and the corporation shall not at any time mortgage or pledge any of its assets. Such notes or bonds may be issued at not less than par in payment of any advances authorized by this subdivision of this chapter, or may be offered for sale publicly or to any individual, firm, corporation, or association, at such price or prices at not less than par as the board of directors, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may determine. The power of the corporation to issue notes or bonds may be exercised at any time prior to January 31, 1927, but no such bonds or notes shall mature later than June 30, 1927.

Upon such terms not inconsistent herewith as may be determined from time to time by the board of directors, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, at or before the issue thereof, any of such bonds may be issued payable in any foreign money or foreign moneys, or issued payable at the option of the respective holders thereof either in dollars or in any foreign money or foreign moneys at such fixed rate of exchange as may be stated in any such bonds. For the purpose of determining the amount of bonds issued payable in any foreign money or foreign moneys the dollar equivalent shall be determined by the par of exchange at the date of issue thereof, as estimated by the Director of the Mint and proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury in pursuance of the provisions of section 372 of Title 31, MONEY AND FINANCE. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 12, 40 Stat. 509; Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 5, 42 Stat. 183; June 10, 1922, c. 215, § 2, 42 Stat. 634; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title V, § 502, 42 Stat. 1481.)

341. Discount by reserve banks of obligations of member banks secured by bonds.—The Federal reserve banks shall be authorized, subject to the maturity limitations of chapter 3, Title 12, BANKS AND BANKING, and to regulations of the Federal Reserve Board, to discount the direct obligations of member banks secured by such notes or bonds of the corporation and to rediscount notes or other negotiable instruments secured by such notes or bonds and indorsed by a member bank. Discounts or rediscounts under this section shall be at an interest rate equal to the prevailing rate for eligible commercial paper of corresponding maturities.

Any Federal reserve bank may, with the approval of the Federal Reserve Board, use any obligation or paper so acquired for any purpose for which it is authorized to use obligations or paper secured by bonds or notes of the United States not bearing the circulation privilege: Provided, however, That whenever Federal reserve notes are issued against the security of such obligations or paper the Federal Reserve Board may make a special interest charge on such notes, which, in the discretion of the Federal Reserve Board, need not be applicable to other Federal reserve notes which may from time to time be issued and outstanding. All provisions of law, not inconsistent herewith, in respect to the acquisition by any Federal reserve bank of obligations or paper secured by such bonds or notes of the United States, and in respect to Federal reserve notes issued against the security of such obligations or paper, shall extend, in so far as applicable, to the acquisition of obligations or paper secured by the bonds of the corporation and to the Federal reserve notes issued against the security of such obligations or paper. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 13, 40 Stat. 510; Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 6, 42 Stat. 184.)

342. Authorization to commence business.—The corporation shall not exercise any of the powers granted by this subdivision of this chapter or perform any business except such as is incidental and necessarily preliminary to its organization until it has been authorized by the President of the United States to commence business under the provisions of this subdivision of this chapter. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 14, 40 Stat. 510.)

343. Moneys of corporation; deposit and disposition thereof; liquidation.—All moneys of the corporation not otherwise employed may be kept on deposit, subject to check, with the Treasurer of the United States, or in any of the Federal reserve banks, or may, upon the direction of the board of directors of the corporation, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, be invested in bonds or other obligations of the United States issued or converted after September 24, 1917, or upon like direction and approval, may be used from time to time in the purchase or redemption of any bonds issued by the corporation.

The Federal reserve banks are authorized to act as depositories for and as fiscal agents of the corporation in the general performance of the powers conferred by this subdivision of this chapter.

Beginning January 1, 1925, the directors of the corporation shall proceed to liquidate its assets and wind up its affairs, except as specifically provided in this subdivision of this chapter; but the directors of the corporation, in their discretion, may, from time to time prior to such liquidation, sell and dispose of any securities or other property acquired by the corporation.

After January 1, 1925, the corporation may, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, deposit with the Treasurer of the United States, as a special deposit, out of money belonging to the corporation, or from time to time received by it in the course of liquidation or otherwise, an amount equal to the aggregate amount of all outstanding bonds or notes of the corporation, including principal and interest to maturity. Moneys so deposited shall constitute a special fund for the payment of principal and interest of such bonds or notes, or for the purchase or redemption of such bonds or notes at not more than par and accrued interest, and may be drawn upon or paid out for no other purpose.

Whenever there shall have been deposited in such special fund an amount equal to the aggregate amount of all bonds or notes of the corporation then outstanding, including principal and interest to maturity, the corporation may, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, pay into the Treasury of the United States, as miscellaneous receipts, any moneys belonging to the corporation, or received from time to time in the course of liquidation or otherwise, in excess of a reasonable reserve to meet all liabilities and expenses during liquidation. Whenever any such payment is made, an amount of capital stock of the corporation equal in par value to the amount so paid in shall be canceled and retired.

All net earnings of the corporation not required for its operations shall be accumulated as a reserve fund until such time as the corporation liquidates under the terms of this subdivision of this chapter.

Any balance remaining after the payment of all the corporation's debts, and after the retirement of all its capital stock as herein provided, shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts, and thereupon the corporation shall be dissolved. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 15, 40 Stat. 510; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 100, § 10, 40 Stat. 1314; Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 7, 42 Stat. 184; June 10, 1922, c. 215, § 3, 42 Stat. 634; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 252, Title V, § 503, 42 Stat. 1481; Feb. 20, 1924, c. 37, §§ 2, 3, 43 Stat. 15.)

344. Bonds and property of corporation; exemption from taxation.—Any and all bonds issued by the corporation shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, and (b) graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, corporations, or associations. The interest on an amount of such bonds the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000, owned by any individual, partnership, corporation, or association, shall be exempt from the taxes referred to in clause (b). The corporation, including its franchise and the capital and reserve or surplus thereof, and the income derived therefrom, shall be exempt from all taxation imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except that any real property of the corporation shall be subject to State, county, or municipal taxes to the same extent, according to its value, as other real property is taxed. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 16, 40 Stat. 511.)

345. Liability of United States for obligation of corporation.—The United States shall not be liable for the payment of any bond or other obligation or the interest thereon issued or incurred by the corporation, nor shall it incur any liability in respect of any act or omission of the corporation. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 17, 40 Stat. 511.)

346. Offenses; punishment.—Whoever (1) makes any statement, knowing it to be false, for the purpose of obtaining for himself or for any other person, firm, corporation, or association any advance under this subdivision of this chapter, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or both.

Whoever willfully overvalues any security by which any such advance is secured, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

Whoever (1) falsely makes, forges, or counterfeits any bond, coupon, or paper in imitation of or purporting to be in imitation of a bond or coupon issued by the corporation; or (2) passes, utters, or publishes, or attempts to pass, utter, or publish, any false, forged, or counterfeited bond, coupon, or paper purporting to be issued by the corporation, knowing the same to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited; or (3) falsely alters any such bond, coupon, or paper; or (4) passes, utters, or publishes as true any falsely altered or spurious bond, coupon, or paper issued or purporting to have been issued by the corporation, knowing the same to be falsely altered or spurious, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or both.

Whoever, being connected in any capacity with the corporation, (1) embezzles, abstracts, or willfully misapplies any moneys, funds, or credits thereof, or (2) with intent to defraud the corporation or any other company, body politic or corporate, or any individual, or to deceive any officer of the corporation, (a) makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of the corporation, or (b) without authority from the directors draws any order or assigns any note, bond, draft, mortgage, judgment, or decree thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or both.

The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to direct and use the Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department to detect, arrest, and deliver into custody of the United States marshal having jurisdiction any person committing any of the offenses punishable under this section. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 18, 40 Stat. 511.)

347. Reports.—The corporation shall file quarterly reports with the Secretary of the Senate and with the Clerk of the House of Representatives, stating as of the first day of each month of the quarter just ended (1) the total amount of capital paid in, (2) the total amount of bonds issued, (3) the total amount of bonds outstanding, (4) the total amount of advances made under section 337, (5) a list of the classes and amount of securities taken under such section, (6) the total amount of advances outstanding under section 337, and (7) such other information as may be required by either House of Congress.

The corporation shall make a report to Congress on the first day of each regular session, including a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 19, 40 Stat. 512.)

348. Advances to banks, etc.; financing agricultural projects; purchase of acceptances.—Whenever in the opinion of the board of directors of the corporation the public interest may require it, the corporation shall be authorized and empowered to make advances upon such terms not inconsistent with this subdivision or the following subdivision of this chapter as it may determine to any bank, banker, or trust company in the United States, or to any cooperative association of producers in the United States which may have made advances for agricultural purposes, including the breeding, raising, fattening, and marketing of livestock, or may have discounted or rediscounted notes, drafts, bills of exchange or other negotiable instruments issued for such purposes. Such advance or advances may be made upon promissory note or notes, or other instrument or instruments, in such form as to impose on the borrowing bank, banker, trust company, or cooperative association a primary and unconditional obligation to repay the advance at maturity with interest as stipulated therein, and shall be fully and adequately secured in each instance by indorsement, guaranty, pledge, or otherwise. Such advances may be made for a period not exceeding one year and the corporation may from time to time extend the time of payment of any such advance through renewals, substitution of new obligations or otherwise, but the time for the payment of any such advance shall not be extended beyond three years from the date upon which such advance was originally made. The aggregate of advances made to any bank, banker, trust company, or cooperative association shall not exceed the amount remaining unpaid of the advances made by such bank, banker, trust company, or cooperative association for purposes herein described.

The corporation may, in exceptional cases, upon such terms not inconsistent with this subdivision or the following subdivision of this chapter as it may determine, purchase from domestic banks, bankers, or trust companies, notes, drafts, bills of exchange or other instruments of indebtedness secured by chattel mortgages, warehouse receipts, bills of lading, or other instruments in writing, conveying or securing marketable title to staple agricultural products, including livestock. The corporation may from time to time, upon like security, extend the time of payment of any note, draft, bill of exchange, or other instrument acquired under this section, but the time for the payment of any such note, draft, bill of exchange, or other instrument shall not be extended beyond three years from the date upon which such note, draft, bill of exchange, or other instrument was acquired by the corporation. The corporation is further authorized, upon such terms as it may prescribe, to purchase, sell, or otherwise deal in acceptances, adequately secured, issued by banking corporations organized under chapter 6 of Title 12, BANKS AND BANKING: Provided, That no purchase of acceptances of the said banking corporations shall be made except for the purpose of assisting the said banking corporations in financing the exportation of agricultural and manufactured products from the United States to foreign countries. No such acceptances shall be purchased which have a maturity at the time of such purchase of more than three years. (Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 3, 42 Stat. 182.)

349. Aggregate amount of advances, and notes, etc., unpaid.—The aggregate amount of all advances made under the preceding section, and of all notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or other securities purchased under the said section remaining unpaid, shall not at any one time exceed $1,000,000,000. (Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 3, 42 Stat. 183.)

350. Definitions.—Whenever in this subdivision or the following subdivision of this chapter the words "bank, banker, or trust company" are used, they shall be deemed to include any reputable and responsible financing institution incorporated under the laws of any State or of the United States with resources adequate to the undertaking contemplated. (Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 3, 42 Stat. 183.)

351. Reports furnished by Comptroller of Currency to facilitate advances.—In order to enable the corporation to carry out the purposes of this subdivision and the following subdivision of this chapter, the Comptroller of the Currency is authorized to furnish to the corporation for its confidential use such reports, records, or other information as he may have available relating to financial condition of national banks to which the corporation has made or contemplates making advances, and to make, through his examiners, for the confidential use of the corporation, examinations of banks, bankers, or trust companies, other than national banks to which the corporation has made or contemplates making advances: Provided, That no such examination shall be made without the consent of such bank, banker, or trust company. (Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 3, 42 Stat. 183.)

352. Interest rate on loans by persons receiving advances.—No person, bank, banker, or trust company receiving money under the provisions of this subdivision or the following subdivision of this chapter shall loan such money at a rate of interest greater than 2 per centum per annum in excess of the rate of interest charged or received by the corporation upon such money. (Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 3, 42 Stat. 183.)

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

361. Offenses; punishment.—Whoever willfully violates any of the provisions of this subdivision or the preceding subdivision of this chapter except where a different penalty is provided in either of said subdivisions, shall, upon conviction in any court of the United States of competent jurisdiction, be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both; and whoever knowingly participates in any such violation, except where a different penalty is provided in either of said subdivisions, shall be punished by a like fine or imprisonment, or both. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 300, 40 Stat. 514.)

362. Partial invalidity.—If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this subdivision or the preceding subdivision of this chapter shall, for any reason, be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, or, in case any court of competent jurisdiction shall adjudge to be invalid any provisions hereof in respect of any class or classes of securities, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of said subdivisions, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, part, or subject matter of said subdivisions directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 302, 40 Stat. 514.)

363. "Securities" defined.—The term "securities," as used in this subdivision or the preceding subdivision of this chapter, includes stocks, shares of stock, bonds, debentures, notes, certificates of indebtedness, and other obligations. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 303, 40 Stat. 514.)

364. Person defined.—When used in this subdivision or the preceding subdivision of this chapter the term "person" includes partnerships, corporations, and associations, as well as individuals. (Aug. 24, 1921, c. 80, § 1, 42 Stat. 181.)

365. Amendment or repeal.—The right to amend, alter, or repeal this subdivision or the preceding subdivision of this chapter is expressly reserved. (Apr. 5, 1918, c. 45, § 304, 40 Stat. 515.)

EXTENSION PROVISIONS

371. Extension of time for advances and purchases.—The time during which the War Finance Corporation may make advances and purchase notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or other securities under the terms of section 348 of this chapter, is extended to and including November 30, 1924: Provided, That if any application for an advance or for the purchase by the War Finance Corporation of notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or other securities is received at the office of the corporation in the District of Columbia on or before November 30, 1924, such application may be acted upon and approved, and the advance may be made or the notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or other securities may be purchased at any time prior to December 31, 1924. (Feb. 20, 1924, c. 37, § 1, 43 Stat. 14.)

372. Extension of time for payment.—The corporation may from time to time, through renewals, substitutions of new obligations, or otherwise, extend the time of payment of any advance made under authority conferred in section 348 of this chapter; but the time for the payment of any such advance shall not be extended beyond January 1, 1926, if such advance was originally made on or before January 1, 1923, or beyond three years from the date upon which such advance was originally made, if such advance was originally made after January 1, 1923. (Feb. 20, 1924, c. 37, § 4, 43 Stat. 15.)

373. Activities of War Finance Corporation revived.—The Secretary of the Treasury and the members of the War Finance Corporation are directed as of January 4, 1921, to revive the activities of the War Finance Corporation, and that said corporation be as of that date rehabilitated with the view of assisting in the financing of the exportation of agricultural and other products to foreign markets. (Jan. 4, 1921, c. 9, 41 Stat. 1084.)

THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

Section 1. Service created; director; other employees.—There is created in the Department of the Interior a service to be called the National Park Service, which shall be under the charge of a director. The Secretary of the Interior shall appoint the director, and there shall also be in said service such subordinate officers, clerks, and employees as may be appropriated for by Congress. The service thus established shall promote and regulate the use of the Federal areas known as national parks, monuments, and reservations hereinafter specified by such means and measures as conform to the fundamental purpose of the said parks, monuments, and reservations, which purpose is to conserve the scenery and the natural and historic objects and the wild life therein and to provide for the enjoyment of the same in such manner and by such means as will leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations. (Aug. 25, 1916, c. 408, § 1, 39 Stat. 535; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 265, § 1, 42 Stat. 1488; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 462, 43 Stat. 1176.)

2. National parks, reservations, and monuments; supervision.—The director shall, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, have the supervision, management, and control of the several national parks and national monuments which on August 25, 1916, were under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior, and of the Hot Springs National Park in the State of Arkansas, and of such other national parks and reservations of like character as may be created by Congress. In the supervision, management, and control of national monuments contiguous to national forests the Secretary of Agriculture may cooperate with said National Park Service to such extent as may be requested by the Secretary of the Interior. (Aug. 25, 1916, c. 408, § 2, 39 Stat. 535; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 161, § 1, 41 Stat. 1407.)

3. Same; rules and regulations; timber; leases.—The Secretary of the Interior shall make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary or proper for the use and management of the parks, monuments, and reservations under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service, and any violation of any of the rules and regulations authorized by this section and sections 1 and 2 of this title shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment for not exceeding six months or both, and be adjudged to pay all costs of the proceedings. He may also, upon terms and conditions to be fixed by him, sell or dispose of timber in those cases where in his judgment the cutting of such timber is required in order to control the attacks of insects or diseases or otherwise conserve the scenery or the natural or historic objects in any such park, monument, or reservation. He may also provide in his discretion for the destruction of such animals and of such plant life as may be detrimental to the use of any of said parks, monuments, or reservations. He may also grant privileges, leases, and permits for the use of land for the accommodation of visitors in the various parks, monuments, or other reservations provided for under section 2 of this title, but for periods not exceeding twenty years; and no natural curiosities, wonders, or objects of interest shall be leased, rented, or granted to any one on such terms as to interfere with free access to them by the public: Provided, however, That the Secretary of the Interior may, under such rules and regulations and on such terms as he may prescribe, grant the privilege to graze livestock within any national park, monument, or reservation herein referred to when in his judgment such use is not detrimental to the primary purpose for which such park, monument, or reservation was created, except that this provision shall not apply to the Yellowstone National Park. (Aug. 25, 1916, c. 408, § 3, 39 Stat. 535; June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 5, 41 Stat. 732.)

4. Rights of way through public lands.—The provisions of sections 1, 2, and 3 of this title shall not affect or modify the provisions of sections 79, 419, and 420 of this title. (Aug. 25, 1916, c. 408, § 4, 39 Stat. 536.)

5. Rights of way through parks or reservations for electrical poles and lines.—The head of the department having jurisdiction over the lands is authorized and empowered, under general regulations to be fixed by him, to grant an easement for rights of way, for a period not exceeding fifty years from the date of the issuance of such grant, over, across, and upon the public lands of the United States for electrical poles and lines for the transmission and distribution of electrical power, and for poles and lines for telephone and telegraph purposes, to the extent of twenty feet on each side of the center line of such electrical, telephone and telegraph lines and poles, to any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States, where it is intended by such to exercise the right of way herein granted for any one or more of the purposes herein named: Provided, That such right of way shall be allowed within or through any national park or any other reservation only upon the approval of the chief officer of the department under whose supervision or control such park or reservation falls, and upon a finding by him that the same is not incompatible with the public interest. All or any part of such right of way may be forfeited and annulled by declaration of the head of the department having jurisdiction over the lands for nonuse for a period of two years or for abandonment.

Any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States to whom there has heretofore been issued a permit prior to March 4, 1911, for any of the purposes specified herein under any law existing at that date, may obtain the benefit of this section upon the same terms and conditions as shall be required of citizens, associations, or corporations making application under the provisions of this section subsequent to said date. (Mar. 4, 1911, c. 238, 36 Stat. 1253.)

6. Donations of lands within national parks and monuments and moneys.—The Secretary of the Interior in his administration of the National Park Service is authorized, in his discretion, to accept patented lands, rights of way over patented lands or other lands, buildings, or other property within the various national parks and national monuments, and moneys which may be donated for the purposes of the national park and monument system. (June 5, 1920, c. 235, § 1, 41 Stat. 917.)

7. Purchase of supplies or services for National Park Service.—The purchase of supplies or the procurement of services by the National Park Service outside the District of Columbia may be made in open market without compliance with sections 5 and 16 of Title 41, Public Contracts, in the manner common among business men, when the aggregate amount of the purchase or service does not exceed $50. (Jan. 24, 1923, c. 42, 42 Stat. 1215.)

8. Roads and trails in national parks and monuments; construction, etc.—The Secretary of the Interior, in his administration of the National Park Service, is authorized to construct, reconstruct, and improve roads and trails, inclusive of necessary bridges, in the national parks and monuments under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior. (Apr. 9, 1924, c. 86, § 1, 43 Stat. 90.)

9. Exchange of motor vehicles and equipment as part consideration in purchase of new equipment.—The National Park Service may exchange, as part consideration, in the purchase of new equipment, motor vehicles, and any other equipment for use in the national parks. (Jan. 24, 1923, c. 42, 42 Stat. 1215.)

10. Arrests by employees of park service for violations of laws and regulations.—All persons employed in the National Park Service of the United States shall have authority to make arrests for the violation of the laws and regulations relating to the national forests and national parks, and any person so arrested shall be taken before the nearest United States commissioner, within whose jurisdiction the national forest or national park is located, for trial; and upon sworn information by any competent person any United States commissioner in the proper jurisdiction shall issue process for the arrest of any person charged with the violation of said laws and regulations; but nothing herein contained shall be construed as preventing the arrest by any officer of the United States, without process, of any person taken in the act of violating said laws and regulations. (Mar. 3, 1905, c. 1405, 33 Stat. 872.)

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK

21. Yellowstone Park; establishment.—The tract of land in the States of Montana and Wyoming, lying near the headwaters of the Yellowstone River and described as follows, to wit, commencing at the junction of Gardiner's River, with the Yellowstone River, and running east to the meridian passing ten miles to the eastward of the most eastern point of Yellowstone Lake; thence south along said meridian to the parallel of latitude passing ten miles south of the most southern point of Yellowstone Lake; thence west along said parallel to the meridian passing fifteen miles west of the most western point of Madison Lake; thence north along said meridian to the latitude of the junction of the Yellowstone and Gardiner's Rivers; thence east to the place of beginning, is reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or sale under the laws of the United States, and dedicated and set apart as a public park or pleasuring ground for the benefit and enjoyment of the people; and all persons who locate, or settle upon, or occupy any part of the land thus set apart as a public park, except as provided in the following section, shall be considered trespassers and removed therefrom. (R. S. § 2474.)

22. Same; control by Secretary of the Interior; removal of trespassers.—Such public park shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior. In addition to the powers and duties enumerated in section 3 of this title not inconsistent with this section, he shall make regulations providing for the preservation, from injury or spoliation, of all timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities, or wonders, within the park, and their retention in their natural condition. The Secretary may, in his discretion, grant leases for building purposes for terms not exceeding twenty years, of small parcels of ground, at such places in the park as may require the erection of buildings for the accommodation of visitors. He shall provide against the wanton destruction of the fish and game found within the park, and against their capture or destruction for the purposes of merchandise or profit. He shall also cause all persons trespassing upon the same to be removed therefrom, and generally is authorized to take all such measures as may be necessary or proper to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this section. (R. S. § 2475; Aug. 25, 1916, c. 408, § 3, 39 Stat. 535.)

23. Same; detail of troops for protection.—The Secretary of War, upon the request of the Secretary of the Interior, is authorized and directed to make the necessary details of troops to prevent trespassers or intruders from entering the park for the purpose of destroying the game or objects of curiosity therein, or for any other purpose prohibited by law, and to remove such persons from the park if found therein. (Mar. 3, 1883, c. 143, § 1, 22 Stat. 627.)

24. Same; jurisdiction over park; fugitives from justice.—The Yellowstone National Park, as its boundaries now are defined, or as they may be hereafter defined or extended, shall be under the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States. All the laws applicable to places under the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, shall have force and effect in said park. Nothing in this section shall be construed to forbid the service in the park of any civil or criminal process of any court having jurisdiction in the States of Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming. All fugitives from justice taking refuge in said park shall be subject to the same laws as refugees from justice found in the State of Wyoming. (May 7, 1894, c. 72, § 1, 28 Stat. 73.)

25. Same; criminal laws applicable.—If any offense shall be committed in said Yellowstone National Park, which offense is not prohibited or the punishment is not specially provided for by any law of the United States or by any regulation of the Secretary of the Interior, the offender shall be subject to the same punishment as the laws of the State of Wyoming in force at the time of the commission of the offense may provide for a like offense in the said State; and no subsequent repeal of any such law of the State of Wyoming shall affect any prosecution for said offense committed within said park. (May 7, 1894, c. 72, § 3, 28 Stat. 73.)

26. Same; regulations for hunting and fishing in; punishment for violations; forfeitures.—All hunting, or the killing, wounding, or capturing at any time of any bird or wild animal, except dangerous animals, when it is necessary to prevent them from destroying human life or inflicting an injury, is prohibited within the limits of said park; nor shall any fish be taken out of the waters of the park by means of seines, nets, traps, or by the use of drugs or any explosive substances or compounds, or in any other way than by hook and line, and then only at such seasons and in such times and manner as may be directed by the Secretary of the Interior. The Secretary of the Interior shall make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary and proper for the management and care of the park and for the protection of the property therein, especially for the preservation from injury or spoliation of all timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities, or wonderful objects within said park; and for the protection of the animals and birds in the park, from capture or destruction, or to prevent their being frightened or driven from the park; and he shall make rules and regulations governing the taking of fish from the streams or lakes in the park. Possession within the said park of the dead bodies, or any part thereof, of any wild bird or animal shall be prima facie evidence that the person or persons having the same are guilty of violating this section. Any person or persons, or stage or express company or railway company, receiving for transportation any of the said animals, birds, or fish so killed, taken, or caught shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined for every such offense not exceeding $300. Any person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation that may be promulgated by the Secretary of the Interior with reference to the management and care of the park, or for the protection of the property therein, for the preservation from injury or spoliation of timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities or wonderful objects within said park, or for the protection of the animals, birds and fish in the said park, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subjected to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, and be adjudged to pay all costs of the proceedings.

All guns, traps, teams, horses, or means of transportation of every nature or description used by any person or persons within said park limits when engaged in killing, trapping, ensnaring, or capturing such wild beasts, birds, or wild animals shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized by the officers in said park and held pending the prosecution of any person or persons arrested under charge of violating the provisions of this section, and upon conviction under this section of such person or persons using said guns, traps, teams, horses, or other means of transportation such forfeiture shall be adjudicated as a penalty in addition to the other punishment provided herein. Such forfeited property shall be disposed of and accounted for by and under the authority of the Secretary of the Interior. (May 7, 1894, c. 72, § 4, 28 Stat. 73; June 28, 1916, c. 179, 39 Stat. 238.)

27. Same; commissioner; jurisdiction and powers of.—The United States district court in said district shall appoint a commissioner, who shall reside in the park, who shall have jurisdiction to hear and act upon all complaints made, of any and all violations of the law, or of the rules and regulations made by the Secretary of the Interior for the government of the park, and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish and objects of interest therein, and for other purposes authorized by sections 25 to 27 of this chapter. Such commissioner shall have power, upon sworn information, to issue process in the name of the United States for the arrest of any person charged with the commission of any misdemeanor, or charged with the violation of the rules and regulations, or with the violation of any provision of such sections prescribed for the government of said park, and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish in the said park, and to try the person so charged, and, if found guilty, to impose the punishment and adjudge the forfeiture prescribed. In all cases of conviction an appeal shall lie from the judgment of said commissioner to the United States district court for the district of Wyoming, said appeal to be governed by the laws of the State of Wyoming providing for appeals in cases of misdemeanor from justices of the peace to the district court of said State; but the United States circuit court in said district may prescribe rules of procedure and practice for said commissioner in the trial of cases and for appeal to said United States district court. Said commissioner shall also have power to issue process as hereinbefore provided for the arrest of any person charged with the commission of any felony within the park, and to summarily hear the evidence introduced, and, if he shall determine that probable cause is shown for holding the person so charged for trial, shall cause such person to be safely conveyed to a secure place for confinement, within the jurisdiction of the United States district court in said State of Wyoming, and shall certify a transcript of the record of his proceedings and the testimony in the case to the said court, which court shall have jurisdiction of the case. He shall grant bail in all cases bailable under the laws of the United States or of said State. All process issued by the commissioner shall be directed to the marshal of the United States for the district of Wyoming; but nothing herein contained shall be construed as preventing the arrest by any officer of the Government or employee of the United States in the park without process of any person taken in the act of violating the law or any regulation of the Secretary of the Interior. He shall exercise such authority and powers only as are conferred by this section. (May 7, 1894, c. 72, § 5, 28 Stat. 74.)

28. Same; deputy marshals.—The marshal of the United States for the district of Wyoming may appoint one or more deputy marshals for Yellowstone National Park, who shall reside in said park. (May 7, 1894, c. 72, § 6, 28 Stat. 75.)

29. Same; compensation of commissioner, marshals, and United States attorneys.—The commissioner in Yellowstone National Park shall be paid an annual salary as appropriated for by Congress, payable quarterly, and the marshal of the United States and his deputies, and the attorney of the United States and his assistants in said district, shall be paid the same salary as provided by law for like services in said district. (May 7, 1894, c. 72, § 7, 28 Stat. 75; Apr. 17, 1900, c. 192, § 1, 31 Stat. 133; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 295, 42 Stat. 1560; Feb. 27, 1925, c. 364, 43 Stat. 1028.)

30. Same; jail, and office for commissioner.—The Secretary of the Interior shall cause to be erected in Yellowstone National Park a suitable building to be used as a jail, and also having in said building an office for the use of the commissioner. (May 7, 1894, c. 72, § 9, 28 Stat. 75.)

31. Same; payment of costs and expenses.—All costs and expenses arising in cases under sections 24 to 30 of this title, and properly chargeable to the United States, shall be certified, approved, and paid as like costs and expenses in the courts of the United States are certified, approved, and paid under the laws of the United States. (May 7, 1894, c. 72, § 8, 28 Stat. 75.)

32. Same; lease of lands within park.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and empowered to lease for a period not exceeding twenty years, at an annual rental to be determined by him, to any person, corporation, or company he may authorize to transact business in the Yellowstone National Park, separate tracts of land, not exceeding twenty acres each, at such places not to exceed ten in number to any one person, corporation, or company, in said park as the comfort and convenience of visitors may require for the construction and maintenance of substantial hotel buildings and buildings for the protection of stage, stock, and equipment.

Such lease or leases shall not include any of the geysers or any objects of curiosity or interest in said park, or exclude the public from free and convenient approach thereto, or include any ground within one-eighth of a mile of any of the geysers of the Yellowstone Falls, the Grand Canyon, or the Yellowstone River, Mammoth Hot Springs, or any object of curiosity in the park; nor shall such lease convey either expressly or by implication any exclusive privilege within the park, except on the premises held thereunder and for the time therein granted. Every lease made for any property of said park shall require the lessee to observe and obey each and every provision in any Act of Congress, every rule, order, or regulation made or which shall hereafter be made and published by the Secretary of the Interior concerning the use, care, management, or government of the park, or any object or property therein under penalty of forfeiture of such lease, and shall be subject to the right of revocation and forfeiture, which shall therein be reserved by the Secretary of the Interior.

The provisions of this section are not to be construed as mandatory upon the Secretary of the Interior, but the authority herein given is to be exercised in his sound discretion. (Aug. 3, 1894, c. 198, 28 Stat. 222; June 4, 1906, c. 2570, 34 Stat. 207; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2518, 34 Stat. 1219.)

33. Same; leases of lands; mortgages by lessees.—Any person, corporation, or company holding a lease within Yellowstone Park for the purposes described in the preceding section is authorized, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, to execute mortgages upon his or its rights, properties, and franchises, including his or its contract or contracts with the Secretary of the Interior, and such mortgages, together with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior may be filed for record in the office of the Secretary of the Interior, and when so reported shall have all the effect of a public record. Any mortgage, lien, or encumbrance created under the provisions of this section shall be subject to the rights of the Government to compel the enforcement of the terms of the lease or contract of the mortgagor, and any purchaser under a foreclosure of such encumbrance shall take subject to all the conditions assumed by the original lessee or contractor. (June 4, 1906, c. 2570, 34 Stat. 207.)

34. Same; road extensions.—Road extensions and improvements shall be made in Yellowstone National Park under and in harmony with the general plan of roads and improvements to be approved by the Secretary of the Interior. (July 1, 1918, c. 113, § 1, 40 Stat. 678.)

35. Same; private use of electricity from lighting and power plant.—Private parties or companies doing business in the Yellowstone National Park under authority from the Government may be permitted, in the discretion of the Secretary of War, to use electricity furnished by the electric lighting and power plant of Fort Yellowstone and Mammoth Hot Springs at actual cost to the Government for operation, maintenance, and depreciation of the plant and 10 per centum additional, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War. (Mar. 3, 1903, c. 1007, § 1, 32 Stat. 1130.)

36. Same; disposition of surplus elk, buffalo, bear, beaver, and predatory animals.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in his discretion and under regulations to be prescribed by him, to give surplus elk, buffalo, bear, beaver, and predatory animals inhabiting Yellowstone National Park to Federal, State, county, and municipal authorities for preserves, zoos, zoological gardens, and parks. He may sell or otherwise dispose of the surplus buffalo of the Yellowstone National Park herd, and all moneys received from the sale of any such surplus buffalo shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts. (Jan. 24, 1923, c. 42, 42 Stat. 1214.)

SEQUOIA, YOSEMITE, AND GENERAL GRANT NATIONAL PARKS

41. Sequoia National Park.—The tract of land in the State of California known and described as township numbered 18 south, of range numbered 30 east, also township 18 south, range 31 east; and sections 31, 32, 33, and 34, township 17 south, range 30 east, all east of Mount Diablo meridian, is hereby reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or sale under the laws of the United States, and dedicated and set apart as a public park, or pleasure ground, for the benefit and enjoyment of the people; and all persons who shall locate or settle upon, or occupy the same or any part thereof except as hereinafter provided, shall be considered trespassers and removed therefrom. (Sept. 25, 1890, c. 926, § 1, 26 Stat. 478.)

42. Same; donations of lands or rights of way.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to accept patented lands or rights of way whether over patented or other lands in the Sequoia National Park that may be donated for park purposes. (July 1, 1916, c. 209, § 1, 39 Stat. 308.)

43. Same; rules and regulations; leases; fish and game; trespassers.—Sequoia National Park shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior, whose duty it shall be to make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary or proper for the care and management of the same. Such regulations shall provide for the preservation from injury of all timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities or wonders within said park, and their retention in their natural condition. He may, in his discretion, grant leases for building purposes for terms not exceeding twenty years of small parcels of ground not exceeding five acres, at such places in said park as shall require the erection of buildings for the accommodation of visitors. He shall provide against the wanton destruction of the fish and game found within said park, and against their capture or destruction, for the purposes of merchandise or profit. He shall also cause all persons trespassing upon the same to be removed therefrom, and, in addition to the powers and duties enumerated in sections 3 and 61 of this title, generally, shall be authorized to take all such measures as shall be necessary or proper to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this section and section 42 of this title. (Sept. 25, 1890, c. 926, § 2, 26 Stat. 478; Aug. 25, 1916, c. 408, § 3, 39 Stat. 535.)

44. Lands set aside as reserved forest lands.—The tracts of land in the State of California known and described as follows: Commencing at the northwest corner of township 2 north, range 19 east Mount Diablo meridian, thence eastwardly on the line between townships 2 and 3 north, ranges 24 and 25 east; thence southwardly on the line between ranges 24 and 25 east to the Mount Diablo base line; thence eastwardly on said base line to the corner to township 1 south, ranges 25 and 26 east; thence southwardly on the line between ranges 25 and 26 east to the southeast corner of township 2 south, range 25 east; thence eastwardly on the line between townships 2 and 3 south, range 26 east to the corner to townships 2 and 3 south, ranges 26 and 27 east; thence southwardly on the line between ranges 26 and 27 east to the first standard parallel south; thence westwardly on the first standard parallel south to the southwest corner of township 4 south, range 19 east; thence northwardly on the line between ranges 18 and 19 east to the northwest corner of township 2 south, range 19 east; thence westwardly on the line between townships 1 and 2 south to the southwest corner of township 1 south, range 19 east; thence northwardly on the line between ranges 18 and 19 east to the northwest corner of township 2 north, range 19 east, the place of beginning, are reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or sale under the laws of the United States, and, except as otherwise provided in section 46 of this title, set apart as reserved forest lands; and all persons who shall locate or settle upon, or occupy the same or any part thereof, except as hereinafter provided, shall be considered trespassers and removed therefrom. Nothing in this section and sections 45, 55, and 61 of this title shall be construed as in anywise affecting any bona-fide entry of land made within the limits above described under any law of the United States prior to October 1, 1890. (Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1263, § 1, 26 Stat. 650.)

45. Additional forest reserves in California.—There is reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy or sale under the laws of the United States, and set apart as reserved forest lands, as provided in section 44 of this title, and subject to all the limitations and provisions therein contained, the following lands, to wit: Township 17 south, range 30 east of the Mount Diablo meridian, excepting sections 31, 32, 33, and 34 of said township, included in a previous bill. And there is also reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy or sale under the laws of the United States, and set apart as forest lands, subject to like limitations, conditions, and provisions, all of townships 15 and 16 south, of ranges 29 and 30 east of the Mount Diablo meridian. And there is also hereby reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy or sale under the laws of the United States, and set apart as reserved forest lands under like limitations, restrictions, and provisions, sections 5 and 6 in township 14 south, range 28, east of Mount Diablo meridian, and also sections 31 and 32 of township 13 south, range 28 east of the same meridian. Nothing in this section or sections 44, 55, and 61 of this title, shall authorize rules or contracts touching the protection and improvement of said reservations, beyond the sums that may be received by the Secretary of the Interior under the foregoing provisions, or authorize any charge against the Treasury of the United States. (Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1263, § 8, 26 Stat. 651.)

46. Yosemite National Park; lands segregated from and included in Sierra National Forest; rights of way over.—All those tracts or parcels of ground described in section 45 of this title, but not included within the metes and bounds of the land hereinafter described are included and made a part of the Sierra National Forest, namely: The tracts of land in the State of California known and described as follows: Beginning at the point where the middle of the channel of the South Fork of the Merced River intersects the line between sections 3 and 4, township 4 south, range 20 east, Mount Diablo base and meridian; thence northerly along section lines through the middle of townships 3 and 4 south, range 20 east, to the northwest corner of section 3, township 3 south, range 20 east; thence westerly along township line to the southwest corner of section 33, township 2 south, range 20 east; thence northerly along section lines to the northwest corner of section 21, said township; thence westerly along section lines to the southwest corner of section 18, said township; thence southerly along range line to the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of section 24, township 2 south, range 19 east; thence westerly to the southwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 24, said township; thence southerly to the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 24, said township; thence westerly along section lines to the southwest corner of section 23, said township; thence northerly along section lines to the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of section 14, said township; thence easterly to the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of section 14, said township; thence northerly along section line to the northwest corner of section 13, said township; thence easterly along section line to the northeast corner of section 13, said township; thence northerly along range line to the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of section 7, township 2 south, range 20 east; thence easterly to the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of section 7, said township; thence southerly along section line to the northwest corner of section 17, said township; thence easterly along section lines to the northeast corner of section 16, said township; thence northerly along section lines to the northwest corner of section 3, said township; thence westerly along township line to the southwest corner of section 33, township 1 south, range 20 east; thence northerly along section lines to the northwest corner of section 21, said township; thence westerly along section lines to the southwest corner of section 18, said township; thence northerly along range line to the northwest corner of section 6, said township; thence westerly along Mount Diablo base line to the southwest corner of section 34, township 1 north, range 19 east; thence northerly along section lines through the middle of townships 1 and 2 north, range 19 east, to the point of intersection with the summit of the divide between Cherry Creek on the west and Eleanor and Fall Creeks on the east; thence along the summit of said divide in a northeasterly direction to the summit of the Sierra Nevada Mountains; thence southeasterly along the summit of the Sierra Nevada Mountains to the divide between the Merced and San Joaquin Rivers; thence southwesterly along said divide to the point of intersection with the south boundary of township 4 south, range 23 east, Mount Diablo base and meridian; thence westerly along township line to the point of intersection with the middle of the channel of the South Fork of the Merced River; thence westerly down the middle of said river to the place of beginning. The lands above described are reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or sale under the laws of the United States, and set apart as reserved forest lands, subject to all the provisions of sections 44, 45, and 61 of this title. The Secretary of the Interior may require the payment of such price as he may deem proper for privileges on the land herein segregated from the Yosemite National Park and made a part of the Sierra National Forest accorded under sections 79, 419, and 522 of this title, and other sections concerning rights of way over public lands; and the moneys received from the privileges accorded on the lands herein segregated and included in the Sierra National Forest shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States as provided by law. The forest lands herein set aside and reserved shall be known as the "Yosemite National Park." (Feb. 7, 1905, c. 547, § 1, 33 Stat. 702.)

47. Same; additional lands excluded from Yosemite National Park and added to Sierra National Forest.—That portion of the Yosemite National Park lying between the boundary line described in section 46 of this title and the line next herein described is excluded from said park and the said portion so described added to and made a part of the Sierra National Forest, to wit: Beginning at the point on the line between sections 35 and 36, township 4 south, range 21 east, where same intersects the middle of the channel of the South Fork of the Merced River; thence north on section line to the southwest corner of section 25; thence west on section lines to the southwest corner of section 28; thence north on section line to the northwest corner of section 28; thence west on section line to the quarter-section corner between sections 20 and 29; thence north through the middle of section 20 to the center thereof; thence east through the middle of section 20 to the quarter-section corner between sections 20 and 21; thence north on section line to the quarter-section corner between sections 16 and 17; thence west through middle of section 17 to the center thereof; thence north through the middle of sections 17, 8, and 5 to the quarter-section corner of north boundary of section 5 on township boundary, all in township 4 south, range 21 east; thence north through the middle of section 32, township 3 south, range 21 east, to the center thereof; thence west through the middle of section 32, said township, and section 36, township 3 south, range 20 east, to the quarter-section corner between sections 35 and 36; thence north on section line to the quarter-section corner between sections 25 and 26; thence east through the middle of section 25 to the center thereof; thence north through the middle of sections 25 and 24 to the center of section 24; thence west through the middle of sections 24, 23, and 22 to the quarter-section corner between sections 21 and 22, township 3 south, range 20 east, on the present western boundary of the Yosemite National Park. The above-indicated portion of land so made a part of the Sierra National Forest shall be subject to all of the Acts of Congress with relation thereto. The Secretary of the Interior may require the payment of such price as he may deem proper for privileges on the land herein segregated from the Yosemite National Park and made a part of the Sierra National Forest accorded under sections 79, 419, and 522 of this title, relating to rights of way over certain parks, reservations, and other lands, and other sections concerning rights of way over public lands. In the grant of any right of way for railway purposes across the lands placed under this measure within the Sierra National Forest it shall be stipulated that no logs or timber shall be hauled over the same without the consent of the Secretary of the Interior and under regulations to be promulgated by him. (June 11, 1906, No. 27, § 1, 34 Stat. 831.)

48. Same; Yosemite Valley and Mariposa Big Tree Grove reserved and made part of Yosemite National Park.—The tracts of land embracing the Yosemite Valley and the Mariposa Big Tree Grove, described as the "Cleft" or "Gorge" in the granite peak of the Sierra Nevada mountains, situated in the county of Mariposa, in the State of California, and the headwaters of the Merced River, and known as the Yosemite Valley, with its branches or spurs, in estimated length fifteen miles, and in average width one mile back from the main edge of the precipice, on each side of the valley, and the tracts embracing what is known as the "Mariposa Big Tree Grove," not to exceed the area of four sections, and to be taken in legal subdivisions of one quarter section each, together with that part of fractional sections 5 and 6, township 5 south, range 22 east, Mount Diablo meridian, California, lying south of the South Fork of Merced River and almost wholly between the Mariposa Big Tree Grove and the present south boundary of the Yosemite National Park, on June 11, 1906, are reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or sale under the laws of the United States and set apart as a national forest, subject to all the limitations, conditions, and provisions of sections 44, 45, and 61 of this title, as well as the limitations, conditions, and provisions of section 46, and shall hereafter form a part of the Yosemite National Park. (June 30, 1864, c. 184, §§ 1, 2, 13 Stat. 325; June 11, 1906, No. 27, § 2, 34 Stat. 832.)

49. Same; rights of claimants and owners of lands included; laws and regulations applicable within.—None of the lands patented and in private ownership in the area included under sections 46 and 47 of this title in the Sierra National Forest shall have the privileges of the lieu-land scrip provisions of the land laws, but otherwise to be in all respects under the laws and regulations affecting the national forests. All laws, rules, and regulations affecting national forests, including the right to change the boundaries thereof by Executive proclamation, shall take effect and be in force within the limits of the territory excluded by sections 46 and 47 from the Yosemite National Park, except as otherwise provided. (June 11, 1906, No. 27, § 2, 34 Stat. 832.)

50. Same; revenues from privileges.—All revenues derived from privileges in the park authorized under sections 44, 46, and 55 of this title, as well as under section 47, or from privileges accorded on the lands segregated from said park and included within the Sierra National Forest, shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States, to the credit of miscellaneous receipts. (June 11, 1906, No. 27, § 3, 34 Stat. 832; June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 153.)

51. Same; exchange of privately owned lands in park.—The Secretaries of the Departments of Interior and Agriculture, for the purpose of eliminating private holdings within the Yosemite National Park and to preserve intact timber along and adjoining the roads in the scenic portion of the park on patented lands, are empowered in their discretion to obtain and accept for the United States a complete title to any and all patented lands within the boundaries of said park by the exchange of timber or timber and lands within the Yosemite National Park and the Sierra and Stanislaus National Forests for such lands and the timber thereon within the park, necessary conveyances of park and national forest timber or timber and lands to be made by said secretaries, respectively. The secretaries of the said departments are authorized to acquire title in fee by the exchange of lands of the United States for patented lands not exceeding six hundred and forty acres in the Sierra and Stanislaus National Forests, adjacent and contiguous to the Yosemite National Park, and when such patented lands are thus acquired, said lands shall become a part of the Yosemite National Park and be subject to all the provisions of sections 44, 45, 55, and 61 of this title. (Apr. 9, 1912, c. 74, § 1, 37 Stat. 80; Apr. 16, 1914, c. 58, 38 Stat. 345.)

52. Same; values of lands and timber to be exchanged; lands added to park.—The value of patented lands within the park offered in exchange, and the value of the timber on park lands proposed to be given in exchange for such patented lands, shall be ascertained in such manner as the Secretary of the Interior may, in his discretion, direct, and all expenses incident to ascertaining such values shall be paid by the owners of said patented lands, and such owners shall, before any exchange is effective, furnish the Secretary of the Interior evidence satisfactory to him of title to the patented lands offered in exchange, and if the value of the timber on park lands exceeds the value of the patented lands deeded to the Government in the exchange such excess shall be paid to the Secretary of the Interior by the owners of the patented lands before any of the timber is removed from the park, and shall be deposited and covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. The same course shall be pursued in relation to exchange for timber standing near public roads on patented lands for timber to be exchanged on park lands. The lands conveyed to the Government under section 51 of this title shall become a part of the Yosemite National Park. (Apr. 9, 1912, c. 74, § 2, 37 Stat. 80.)

53. Same; cutting and removal of timber.—All timber must be cut and removed from the Yosemite National Park under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior, and any damage which may result to the roads or any part of the park in consequence of the cutting and removal of the timber from the reservation shall be borne by the owners of the patented lands, and bond satisfactory to the Secretary of the Interior must be given for the payment of such damages, if any, as shall be determined by the Secretary of the Interior. (Apr. 9, 1912, c. 74, § 3, 37 Stat. 81.)

54. Same; sale of matured, dead, or down timber.—The Secretary of the Interior may sell and permit the removal of such matured or dead or down timber as he may deem necessary or advisable for the protection or improvement of the park, and the proceeds derived therefrom shall be deposited and covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. (Apr. 9, 1912, c. 74, § 4, 37 Stat. 81.)

55. Same; leases of land in; mortgages by lessees.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and empowered to grant leases, for periods of not exceeding twenty years, at annual rentals, and under terms and conditions to be determined by him, to any person, corporation, or company he may authorize to transact business in the Yosemite National Park, for separate tracts of land, not exceeding twenty acres each, at such places, not to exceed ten in number, to any person, corporation, or company in said park, as the comfort and convenience of visitors may require, for the construction and maintenance of substantial hotel buildings and buildings for the protection of motor cars, stages, stock and equipment, and so forth. Such leases may, at the option of the Secretary of the Interior, contain appropriate provisions for the appraisement, at the expiration of the lease, of the value of such hotel and other buildings (or portions thereof) as may be constructed by the lessees, respectively, and the payment of the same to the lessees in case a new lease be made to persons other than said lessees, such payments to be made by such new lessees, respectively.

Any person or corporation or company holding a lease or leases within said park for the purposes above described is authorized, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, to execute mortgages upon his or its rights and properties, including his or its contract or contracts with the Secretary of the Interior; such mortgages shall be executed in duplicate and delivered to the Secretary of the Interior for his approval, and upon his approval thereof he shall retain one of said duplicates and file the same for record in his office.

Any mortgage, lien, or encumbrance created under the provisions hereof shall be subject to the rights of the Government to compel the enforcement of the terms of the lease or contract of the mortgagor, and any purchaser under a foreclosure of such encumbrance shall take subject to all the conditions assumed by the original lessee or contractor. (Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1263, § 2, 26 Stat. 651; July 23, 1914, c. 206, 38 Stat. 554; June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 153.)

56. Same; donations of lands or rights of way.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to accept patented lands or rights of way whether over patented or other lands in the

Yosemite National Park that may be donated for park purposes. (July 1, 1916, c. 209, § 1, 39 Stat. 308.)

57. Yosemite, Sequoia, and General Grant National Parks; cession by California accepted; exclusive jurisdiction of United States; jurisdiction remaining in and taxation by California.—Sole and exclusive jurisdiction is assumed by the United States over the territory embraced and included within the Yosemite National Park, Sequoia National Park, and General Grant National Park, respectively, saving, however, to the State of California the right to serve civil or criminal process within the limits of the aforesaid parks or either of them in suits or prosecutions for or on account of rights acquired, obligations incurred, or crimes committed in said State outside of said parks; and saving further to the said State the right to tax persons and corporations, their franchises and property on the lands included in said parks, and the right to fix and collect license fees for fishing in said parks; and saving also to the persons residing in any of said parks now or hereafter the right to vote at all elections held within the county or counties in which said parks are situated. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 1, 41 Stat. 731.)

58. Same; laws applicable; fugitives from justice.—All the laws applicable to places under sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States shall have force and effect in said parks or either of them. All fugitives from justice taking refuge in said parks, or either of them, shall be subject to the same laws as refugees from justice found in the State of California. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 1, 41 Stat. 731.)

59. Same; offenses punishable by State laws.—If any offense shall be committed in the Yosemite National Park, Sequoia National Park, General Grant National Park, or either of them, which offense is not prohibited or the punishment is not specifically provided for by any law of the United States, the offender shall be subject to the same punishment as the laws of the State of California in force at the time of the commission of the offense may provide for a like offense in said State; and no subsequent repeal of any such law of the State of California shall affect any prosecution for said offense committed within said parks, or either of them. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 4, 41 Stat. 731.)

60. Same; hunting or fishing prohibited.—All hunting or the killing, wounding, or capturing at any time of any wild bird or animal, except dangerous animals, when it is necessary to prevent them from destroying human lives or inflicting personal injury, is prohibited within the limits of said parks; nor shall any fish be taken out of any of the waters of the said parks, or any one of them, in any other way than by hook and line, and then only at such seasons and such times and manner as may be directed by the Secretary of the Interior. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 5, 41 Stat. 731.)

61. Same; rules and regulations.—In addition to the powers and duties enumerated in section 3 of this title, not inconsistent with this section, the Secretary of the Interior shall make and publish such general rules and regulations as he may deem necessary and proper for the management and care of the park and for the protection of the property therein, especially for the preservation from injury or spoliation of all timber, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to the date of passage of the respective Acts creating and establishing said parks, natural curiosities or wonderful objects within said parks, and for the protection of the animals in the park from capture or destruction, and to prevent their being frightened or driven from the said parks; and he shall make rules and regulations governing the taking of fish from the streams or lakes in the said parks or either of them. He shall cause all persons trespassing upon the same to be removed therefrom. (Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1263, § 2, 26 Stat. 651; June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 5, 41 Stat. 732.)

62. Same; possession of dead bodies of birds or animals.—Possession within said parks, or either of them, of the dead bodies or any part thereof of any wild bird or animal shall be prima facie evidence that person or persons having same are guilty of violating sections 60 to 63, inclusive, of this title. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 5, 41 Stat. 732.)

63. Same; transportation of birds, animals, or fish; violations of statute or rules or regulations for management, care, and preservation of parks; damage or spoliation; punishment.—Any person or persons, or stage or express company, or railway company, who knows or has reason to believe that they were taken or killed contrary to the provisions of sections 57 to 78, inclusive, of this title, and who receives for transportation any of said animals, birds, or fish so killed, caught, or taken, or who shall violate any of the other provisions of said sections, or any rule or regulation that may be promulgated by the Secretary of the Interior, with reference to the management and care of the said parks, or either of them, or for the protection of the property therein for the preservation from injury or spoliation of timber, mineral deposits, other than those legally located prior to the passage of the respective Acts creating and establishing said parks, natural curiosities, or wonderful objects within said parks, or either of them, or for the protection of the animals, birds, or fish in the said parks, or either of them, or who shall within said parks commit any damage, injury, spoliation to or upon any building, fence, hedge, gate, guidepost, tree, wood, underwood, timber, garden, crops, vegetables, plants, land, springs, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to the passage of the respective Acts creating and establishing said parks, natural curiosities, or other matter or thing growing or being thereon, or situated therein, shall be subject to the penalty provided for the violation of rules and regulations of the Secretary of the Interior authorized by section 3 of this title. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 5, 41 Stat. 732.)

64. Same; sale or disposal of timber; destruction of detrimental animal or plant life.—Nothing in sections 57 to 78, inclusive, of this title shall be construed as repealing or in any way modifying the authority granted the Secretary of the Interior by said section 3 of this title to sell or dispose of timber in national parks in those cases where, in his judgment, the cutting of such timber is required in order to control the attacks of insects or diseases or otherwise conserve the scenery of the natural or historic objects in such parks and to provide for the destruction of such animals and such plant life as may be detrimental to the use of any of said parks, or the authority granted to said Secretary by sections 51 to 54 of this title. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 5, 41 Stat. 732.)

65. Same; seizure and forfeiture of guns, traps, teams, horses, and so forth.—All guns, traps, teams, horses, or means of transportation of every nature or description used by any person or persons within the limits of said parks, or either of them, when engaged in killing, trapping, ensnaring, or capturing such wild beasts, birds, or animals, shall be forfeited to the United States and may be seized by the officers in said parks, or either of them, and held pending prosecution of any person or persons arrested under the charge of violating the provisions of sections 57 to 77, inclusive, of this title, and upon conviction such forfeiture shall be adjudicated as a penalty in addition to the other punishment prescribed therein. Such forfeited property shall be disposed of and accounted for by and under the authority of the Secretary of the Interior. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 6, 41 Stat. 733.)

66. Same; commissioners; appointment; jurisdiction.—The United States District Court for the Northern District of California shall appoint a commissioner for the Yosemite National Park, and the United States District Court for the Southern District of California shall appoint a commissioner for the Sequoia National Park and the General Grant National Park. Such commissioners shall have jurisdiction within their respective parks to hear and act upon all complaints made of any violations of law, or of the rules and regulations made by the Secretary of the Interior, for the government of said parks and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish, and objects of interest therein, and for other purposes authorized by sections 57 to 77, inclusive, of this title. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, §§ 7, 8, 41 Stat. 733.)

67. Same; commissioners; arrests for certain offenses.—Such commissioners within their respective parks shall have power upon sworn information, to issue process in the name of the United States for the arrest of any person charged with the commission of any misdemeanor, or charged with a violation of the rules and regulations, or with a violation of any of the provisions of sections 57 to 77, inclusive, of this title prescribed for the government of said parks and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish in said parks, and try persons so charged, and, if found guilty, impose punishment and to adjudge forfeiture prescribed. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, §§ 7, 8, 41 Stat. 733.)

68. Same; appeals from conviction by commissioners.—In all cases of conviction an appeal shall lie from the judgment of said commissioners to the United States Court for the Northern District of California, and the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, respectively, and the United States district court in such district shall prescribe rules and procedure and practice for said commissioners appointed by them in the trial of cases and for appeals to said United States district court. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, §§ 7, 8, 41 Stat. 733.)

69. Same; residence of commissioners.—The commissioner for the Yosemite National Park shall reside within the exterior boundaries of Yosemite National Park, and the commissioner for the Sequoia National Park and the General Grant National Park shall reside within the exterior boundaries of one of the said last-named national parks and at a place to be designated by the court making such appointment. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 11, 41 Stat. 734.)

70. Same; arrests by commissioners for certain offenses; holding persons arrested for trial; bail.—Any such commissioner within his jurisdiction shall also have the power to issue process as hereinbefore provided for the arrest of any person charged with commission within said boundaries of said parks, or either of them, of any criminal offense not covered by the provisions of sections 60 to 64 of this title, to hear the evidence introduced, and if he is of the opinion that probable cause is shown for holding the person so charged for trial, he shall cause such person to be safely conveyed to a secure place of confinement within the jurisdiction of the United States district court in and for the judicial district to which he belongs, and certify a transcript of the record of his proceedings and testimony in the case to the court, to which the park is attached as specified in sections 76 and 77, which court shall have jurisdiction of the case. The said commissioner shall grant bail in all cases bailable under the laws of the United States or of said State. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 9, 41 Stat. 734.)

71. Same; service of process issued by commissioners; arrests without process.—All process issued by the commissioner of the Yosemite National Park shall be directed to the marshal of the United States for the northern district of California, and all process issued by the commissioner of the Sequoia National Park and the General Grant National Park shall be directed to the marshal of the United States for the southern district of California, but nothing herein contained shall be so construed to prevent the arrest by any officer or employee of the Government or any person employed by the United States, in the policing of such reservation within the boundaries of said parks, or either of them, without process of any person taken in the act of violating the law or the provisions of sections 57 to 77 of this title or the regulation prescribed by said Secretary as aforesaid. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 10, 41 Stat. 734.)

72. Same; salaries of commissioners.—The commissioner provided for the Yosemite National Park and the commissioner provided for the Sequoia National Park and the General Grant National Park by section 66 of this title each shall be paid an annual salary as appropriated for by Congress, payable monthly. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 11, 41 Stat. 734; Feb. 27, 1925, c. 364, 43 Stat. 1028.)

73. Same; fees, costs, and expenses collected by commissioner.—All fees, costs, and expenses collected by the commissioner shall be disposed of as provided in section 74 of this title. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 11, 41 Stat. 734.)

74. Same; disposition of fines and costs.—All fines and costs imposed and collected shall be deposited by said commissioners of the United States, or the marshal of the United States collecting the same, with the clerk of the United States district court to which said parks are attached, as provided in sections 76 and 77 of this title. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 13, 41 Stat. 734.)

75. Same; payment of fees, costs, and expenses chargeable to United States.—All fees, costs, and expenses arising in cases under sections 57 to 77, inclusive, of this title and properly chargeable to the United States shall be certified, approved, and paid as are like fees, costs, and expenses in the courts of the United States. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 12, 41 Stat. 734.)

76. Yosemite National Park; included within certain judicial district; jurisdiction of district court.—Yosemite National Park shall constitute a part of the United States judicial district for the northern district of California, and the district court of the United States in and for said northern district shall have jurisdiction of all offenses committed within said boundaries of the Yosemite National Park. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 2, 41 Stat. 731.)

77. Sequoia and General Grant National Parks included in certain judicial districts; jurisdiction of district courts.—Sequoia National Park and General Grant National Park shall constitute part of the United States judicial district for the southern district of California, and the district court of the United States in and for said southern district shall have jurisdiction of all offenses committed within the boundaries of said Sequoia National Park and General Grant National Park. (June 2, 1920, c. 218, § 3, 41 Stat. 731.)

78. Detail of troops to Sequoia, Yosemite, and General Grant Parks.—The Secretary of War, upon the request of the Secretary of the Interior, is authorized and directed to make the necessary detail of troops to prevent trespassers or intruders from entering the Sequoia National Park, the Yosemite National Park, and the General Grant National Park, respectively, in California, for the purpose of destroying the game or objects of curiosity therein, or for any other purpose prohibited by law or regulation for the government of said reservations, and to remove such persons from said parks if found therein. (June 6, 1900, c. 791, § 1, 31 Stat. 618.)

79. Rights of way for electrical plants.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and empowered, under general regulations to be fixed by him, to permit the use of rights of way through the Yosemite, Sequoia, and General Grant National Parks, California, for electrical plants, poles, and lines for the generation and distribution of electrical power, and for telephone and telegraph purposes, and for canals, ditches, pipes and pipe lines, flumes, tunnels, or other water conduits, and for water plants, dams, and reservoirs used to promote irrigation or mining or quarrying, or the manufacturing or cutting of timber or lumber, or the supplying of water for domestic, public, or any other beneficial uses to the extent of the ground occupied by such canals, ditches, flumes, tunnels, reservoirs, or other water conduits or water plants, or electrical or other works permitted hereunder, and not to exceed fifty feet on each side of the marginal limits thereof, or not to exceed fifty feet on each side of the center line of such pipes and pipe lines, electrical, telegraph, and telephone lines and poles, by any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States, where it is intended by such to exercise the use permitted hereunder or any one or more of the purposes herein named. Such permits shall be allowed within or through any of said parks only upon the approval of the chief officer of the department under whose supervision such park falls and upon a finding by him that the same is not incompatible with the public interest. All permits given hereunder for telegraph and telephone purposes shall be subject to the provision of sections 1 to 5 and 8 of Title 47, and amendments thereto, regulating rights of way for telegraph companies over the public domain. Any permission given by the Secretary of the Interior under the provisions of this section may be revoked by him or his successor in his discretion, and shall not be held to confer any right, or easement, or interest in, to, or over any of said parks. (Feb. 15, 1901, c. 372, 31 Stat. 790.)

MOUNT RAINIER NATIONAL PARK

91. Mount Rainier National Park; establishment; trespassers.—All those certain tracts, pieces or parcels of land lying and being in the State of Washington, and within the boundaries particularly described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point three miles east of the northeast corner of township numbered 17 north, of range 6 east of the Willamette meridian; thence south through the central parts of townships numbered 17, 16, and 15 north, of range 7 east of the Willamette meridian, 18 miles more or less, subject to the proper easterly or westerly offsets, to a point three miles east of the northeast corner of township numbered 14 north, of range 6 east of the Willamette meridian; thence east on the township line between townships numbered 14 and 15 north, 18 miles more or less to a point 3 miles west of the northeast corner of township 14 north, of range 10 east of the Willamette meridian; thence northerly subject to the proper easterly or westerly offsets, 18 miles more or less, to a point 3 miles west of the northeast corner of township numbered 17 north, of range 10 east of the Willamette meridian (but in locating said easterly boundary, wherever the summit of the Cascade Mountains is sharply and well defined, the said line shall follow the said summit, where the said summit line bears west of the easterly line as herein determined); thence westerly along the township line between said townships numbered 17 and 18 to the place of beginning, are dedicated and set apart as a public park, to be known and designated as the Mount Rainier National Park, for the benefit and enjoyment of the people; and all persons who shall locate or settle upon or occupy the same, or any part thereof, except as hereafter provided, shall be considered trespassers and be removed therefrom. (Mar. 2, 1899, c. 377, § 1, 30 Stat. 993.)

92. Same; control; regulations; leases for buildings; rights of way to park; fish and game; removal of trespassers.—Mount Rainier National Park shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior. In addition to the powers and duties enumerated in section 3 of this title, not inconsistent with this section, he shall make regulations providing for the preservation from injury or spoliation of all timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities, or wonders within said park, and their retention in their natural condition. The Secretary may, in his discretion, grant parcels of ground at such places in said park as shall require the erection of buildings for the accommodation of visitors. And through the lands of the Pacific National Forest adjoining said park rights of way are hereby granted, under such restrictions and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may establish, to any railway or tramway company or companies, through the lands of said Pacific National Forest, and also into said park created by section 91 of this title, for the purpose of building, constructing, and operating a railway, constructing and operating a railway or tramway line or lines, through said lands, also into said park. He shall provide against the wanton destruction of the fish and game found within said park, and against their capture or destruction for the purposes of merchandise or profit. He shall also cause all persons trespassing upon the same to be removed therefrom, and generally shall be authorized to take all such measures as shall be necessary to fully carry out the objects and purposes of sections 91 to 93 of this title. (Mar. 2, 1899, c. 377, § 2, 30 Stat. 994; June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 153.)

93. Same; grant of prior lands to Northern Pacific Railroad; lieu lands to settlers.—Upon execution and filing with the Secretary of the Interior, by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, of proper deed releasing and conveying to the United States the lands in Mount Rainier National Park, also the lands in the Pacific National Forest which have been heretofore granted by the United States to said company, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, and which lie opposite said company's constructed road, said company is authorized to select an equal quantity of nonmineral public lands, so classified as nonmineral at the time of actual Government survey, which has been or shall be made, of the United States not reserved and to which no adverse right or claim shall have attached or have been initiated at the time of the making of such selection, lying within any State into or through which the railroad of said Northern Pacific Railroad Company runs, to the extent of the lands so relinquished and released to the United States. Any settlers on lands in said national park may relinquish their rights thereto and take other public lands in lieu thereof, to the same extent and under the same limitations and conditions as are provided by law for national forests and national parks. (Mar. 2, 1899, c. 377, § 3, 30 Stat. 994.)

94. Same; location of mining claims.—The location of mining claims under the mineral land laws of the United States is prohibited within the area of the Mount Rainier National Park, in the State of Washington. This provision shall not affect rights acquired in good faith before May 27, 1908, under the mineral land laws of the United States to any mining location or locations in said Mount Rainier National Park. (May 27, 1908, c. 200, § 1, 35 Stat. 365.)

95. Same; jurisdiction by the United States; fugitives from justice.—Sole and exclusive jurisdiction is assumed by the United States over the territory embraced within the Mount Rainier National Park, saving, however, to the State of Washington the right to serve civil or criminal process within the limits of the aforesaid park in suits or prosecution for or on account of rights acquired, obligations incurred, or crimes committed in said State but outside of said park, and saving further to the said State the right to tax persons and corporations, their franchises and property, on the lands included in said park. All the laws applicable to places under the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States shall have force and effect in said park. All fugitives from justice taking refuge in said park shall be subject to the same laws as refugees from justice found in the State of Washington. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 1, 39 Stat. 243.)

96. Same; part of judicial district for western district of Washington; jurisdiction of district court.—Mount Rainier National Park shall constitute a part of the United States judicial district for the western district of Washington, and the district court of the United States in and for said district shall have jurisdiction of all offenses committed within said boundaries. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 2, 39 Stat. 244.)

97. Same; offenses in; punishment.—If any offense shall be committed in the Mount Rainier National Park, which offense is not prohibited or the punishment for which is not specifically provided for by any law of the United States, the offender shall be subject to the same punishment as the laws of the State of Washington in force at the time of the commission of the offense may provide for a like offense in said State; and no subsequent repeal of any such law of the State of Washington shall affect any prosecution for said offense committed within said park. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 3, 39 Stat. 244.)

98. Same; protection of game and fish; forfeitures and punishments.—All hunting or the killing, wounding, or capturing at any time of any wild bird or animal, except dangerous animals when it is necessary to prevent them from destroying human lives or inflicting personal injury, is prohibited within the limits of said park; nor shall any fish be taken out of the waters of the park in any other way than by hook and line, and then only at such seasons and in such times and manner as may be directed by the Secretary of the Interior. That the Secretary of the Interior shall make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary and proper for the management and care of the park and for the protection of the property therein, especially for the preservation from injury or spoliation of all timber, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to May 27, 1908, natural curiosities, or wonderful objects within said park, and for the protection of the animals and birds in the park from capture or destruction, and to prevent their being frightened or driven from the park; and he shall make rules and regulations governing the taking of fish from the streams or lakes in the park. Possession within said park of the dead bodies, or any part thereof, of any wild bird or animal shall be prima facie evidence that the person or persons having the same are guilty of violating this section. Any person or persons, or stage or express company, or railway company, who knows or has reason to believe that they were taken or killed contrary to the provisions of this section and who receives for transportation any of said animals, birds, or fish so killed, caught, or taken, or who shall violate any of the other provisions of sections 95 to 105, inclusive, of this title, or any rule or regulation that may be promulgated by the Secretary of the Interior with reference to the management and care of the park or for the protection of the property therein, for the preservation from injury or spoliation of timber, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to May 27, 1908, natural curiosities, or wonderful objects within said park, or for the protection of the animals, birds, or fish in the park, or who shall within said park commit any damage, injury, or spoliation to or upon any building, fence, hedge, gate, guidepost, tree, wood, underwood, timber, garden, crops, vegetables, plants, land, springs, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to May 27, 1908, natural curiosities, or other matter or thing growing or being thereon or situated therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, and be adjudged to pay all costs of the proceedings. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 4, 39 Stat. 244.)

99. Same; protection of game and fish; forfeitures and seizures of guns, traps, teams, and so forth.—All guns, traps, teams, horses, or means of transportation of every nature or description used by any person or persons within said park limits when engaged in killing, trapping, ensnaring, or capturing such wild beasts, birds, or animals shall be forfeited to the United States and may be seized by the officers in said park and held pending the prosecution of any person or persons arrested under charge of violating the provisions of sections 95 to 105, inclusive, of this title, and upon conviction thereunder of such person or persons using said guns, traps, teams, horses, or other means of transportation, such forfeiture shall be adjudicated as a penalty in addition to the other punishment provided therein. Such forfeited property shall be disposed of and accounted for by and under the authority of the Secretary of the Interior. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 5, 39 Stat. 245.)

100. Same; commissioner; appointment; jurisdiction and powers.—The United States District Court for the Western District of Washington shall appoint a commissioner who shall reside in the park and who shall have jurisdiction to hear and act upon all complaints made of any violations of law or of the rules and regulations made by the Secretary of the Interior for the government of the park and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish, and objects of interest therein, and for other purposes authorized by sections 95 to 105, inclusive, of this title.

He shall have power, upon sworn information, to issue process in the name of the United States for the arrest of any person charged with the commission of any misdemeanor, or charged with a violation of the rules and regulations, or with a violation of any of the provisions of such sections prescribed for the government of said park and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish in said park, and to try the person so charged, and, if found guilty, to impose punishment and to adjudge the forfeiture prescribed.

In all cases of conviction an appeal shall lie from the judgment of said commissioner to the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington, and the United States district court in said district shall prescribe the rules of procedure and practice for said commissioner in the trial of cases and for appeal to said United States district court. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 6, 39 Stat. 245.)

101. Same; commissioner; arrest; bail.—Any such commissioner shall also have power to issue process for the arrest of any person charged with the commission within said boundaries of any criminal offense not covered by the provisions of section 98 of this title to hear the evidence introduced, and if he is of opinion that probable cause is shown for holding the person so charged for trial shall cause such person to be safely conveyed to a secure place of confinement within the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington, and certify a transcript of the record of his proceedings and the testimony in the case to said court, which court shall have jurisdiction of the case. The said commissioner shall grant bail in all cases bailable under the laws of the United States or of said State. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 7, 39 Stat. 245.)

102. Same; commissioner; direction of process of; arrests by other officers.—All process issued by the commissioner shall be directed to the marshal of the United States for the western district of Washington, but nothing contained in this section shall be so construed as to prevent the arrest by any officer or employee of the Government or any person employed by the United States in the policing of said reservation within said boundaries without process of any person taken in the act of violating the law or sections 95 to 105, inclusive, of this title or the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior as aforesaid. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 8, 39 Stat. 245.)

103. Same; commissioner; salary; residence; fees.—The commissioner provided for herein shall be paid an annual salary as appropriated for by Congress, payable quarterly.

He shall reside within the exterior boundaries of said Mount Rainier National Park, at a place to be designated by the court making such appointment. All fees, costs, and expenses collected by the commissioner shall be disposed of as provided in section 104 of this title. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 9, 39 Stat. 246; Feb. 27, 1925, c. 364, 43 Stat. 1029.)

104. Same; fines and costs; disposition of.—All fines and costs imposed and collected shall be deposited by said commissioner of the United States, or the marshal of the United States collecting the same, with the clerk of the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 11, 39 Stat. 246.)

105. Same; fees, costs, and expenses chargeable to United States.—All fees, costs, and expenses arising in cases under sections 95 to 104 of this title and properly chargeable to the United States shall be certified, approved, and paid as are like fees, costs, and expenses in the courts of the United States. (June 30, 1916, c. 197, § 10, 39 Stat. 246.)

106. Same; donations of patented lands or rights of way.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to accept patented lands or rights of way over patented lands in the Mount Rainier National Park that may be donated for park purposes. (June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 152.)

MESA VERDE NATIONAL PARK

111. Mesa Verde National Park; boundaries.—There is reserved from settlement, entry, sale, or other disposal and set apart as a public reservation, all those certain tracts, pieces and parcels of land lying and being situated in the State of Colorado, within the boundaries described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the north boundary of the Southern Ute Indian Reservation in southwestern Colorado where the north quarter corner of unsurveyed fractional section 2, township 34 north, range 15 west, "south of the Ute boundary," intersects the same; thence south to the south quarter corner of unsurveyed section 26, said township; thence west to the southwest corner of unsurveyed section 25, township 34 north, range 16 west; thence north to the northwest corner of unsurveyed fractional section 1, said township and range; thence west to the southeast corner of fractional section 12, township 34 north, range 16 west, "north of the Ute boundary"; thence north to the northwest corner of section 19, township 35 north, range 15 west; thence east to the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 16, said township; thence north to the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of said section; thence east to the southwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 13, said township; thence north to the northwest corner of the northeast quarter of said section; thence east to the southwest corner of section 7, township 35 north, range 14 west; thence north to the northwest corner of said section; thence east to the southwest corner of section 5, said township; thence north to the northwest corner of said section; thence east to the northeast corner of said section; thence south to the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of said section; thence east to the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 4, said township; thence south to the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 16, said township; thence east to the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of said section; thence south to the northwest corner of section 22, said township; thence east to the northeast corner of said section; thence south to the northwest corner of section 26, said township; thence east along the north section line of section 26 to the east bank of the Rio Mancos; thence in a southeasterly direction along the east bank of the Rio Mancos to its intersection with the northern boundary line of the Southern Ute Indian Reservation, thence west along said Indian reservation boundary to its intersection with the range line between ranges 14 and 15 west, the place of beginning.

Said park shall be known as Mesa Verde National Park. (June 29, 1906, c. 3607, §§ 1, 2, 34 Stat. 616, 617; June 30, 1913, c. 4, § 1, 38 Stat. 83.)

112. Same; control of; regulations; prehistoric ruins.—Mesa Verde National Park shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior. In addition to the duties and powers enumerated in section 3 of this title not inconsistent with this section, he shall establish such service as he may deem necessary for the care and management of the same. Such regulations shall provide specifically for the preservation from injury or spoliation of the ruins and other works and relics of prehistoric or primitive man within said park. (June 29, 1906, c. 3607, § 2, 34 Stat. 617.)

113. Same; examinations, excavations, and gathering objects of interest.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to permit examinations, excavations, and other gathering of objects of interest within said park by any person or persons whom he may deem properly qualified to conduct such examinations, excavations, or gatherings, subject to such rules and regulations as he may prescribe. But the examinations, excavations, and gatherings shall be undertaken only for the benefit of some reputable museum, university, college, or other recognized scientific or educational institution, with a view to increasing the knowledge of such objects and aiding the general advancement of archæological science. (June 29, 1906, c. 3607, § 3, 34 Stat. 617.)

114. Same; removal, disturbance, destruction, or molestation of ruins.—Any person or persons who may otherwise in any manner willfully remove, disturb, destroy, or molest any of the ruins, mounds, buildings, graves, relics, or other evidences of an ancient civilization or other property from said park shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction before any court having jurisdiction of such offenses shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than twelve months, or such person or persons may be fined and imprisoned, at the discretion of the judge, and shall be required to restore the property disturbed, if possible. (June 29, 1906, c. 3607, § 4, 34 Stat. 617.)

115. Same; leases and permits; prehistoric ruins not included.—The Secretary of the Interior may, upon terms and conditions to be fixed by him, grant leases and permits for the use of the land or development of the resources thereof, in the Mesa Verde National Park, and the funds derived therefrom shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States. Such leases or grants shall not include any of the prehistoric ruins in said park or exclude the public from free or convenient access thereto. (June 25, 1910, c. 385, 36 Stat. 796.)

116. Same; donations of lands or rights of way.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to accept patented lands or rights of way over patented lands in the Mesa Verde National Park that may be donated for park purposes. (June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 152.)

CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK

121. Crater Lake National Park; establishment.—The tract of land bounded north by the parallel forty-three degrees four minutes north latitude, south by forty-two degrees forty-eight minutes north latitude, east by the meridian one hundred and twenty-two degrees west longitude, and west by the meridian one hundred and twenty-two degrees sixteen minutes west longitude, having an area of two hundred and forty-nine square miles, in the State of Oregon, and including Crater Lake, is reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or sale under the laws of the United States, and dedicated and set apart forever as a public park or pleasure ground for the benefit of the people of the United States, to be known as Crater Lake National Park. (May 22, 1902, c. 820, § 1, 32 Stat. 202.)

122. Same; control; regulations.—Crater Lake National Park shall be under the control and custody of the Secretary of the Interior. In addition to the powers and duties enumerated in section 3 of this title not inconsistent with this section, he shall cause adequate measures to be taken for the preservation of the natural objects within said park, and also for the protection of the timber from wanton depredation, the preservation of all kinds of game and fish, the punishment of trespassers, the removal of unlawful occupants and intruders, and the prevention and extinguishment of forest fires. (May 22, 1902, c. 820, § 2, 32 Stat. 202.)

123. Same; settlement, residence, lumbering, or business within, punishable; admission of visitors; mining claims.—It shall be unlawful for any person to establish any settlement or residence within Crater Lake National Park, or to engage in any lumbering, or other enterprise or business occupation therein, or to enter therein for any speculative purpose whatever, and any person violating the provisions of this section or sections 121 and 122 of this title, or the rules and regulations established thereunder, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, and shall further be liable for all destruction of timber or other property of the United States in consequence of any such unlawful act. Crater Lake National Park shall be open, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe, to all scientists, excursionists, and pleasure seekers and to the location of mining claims and the working of the same. Restaurant and hotel keepers, upon application to the Secretary of the Interior, may be permitted by him to establish places of entertainment within the Crater Lake National Park for the accommodation of visitors, at places and under regulations fixed by the Secretary of the Interior, and not otherwise. (May 22, 1902, c. 820, § 3, 32 Stat. 203.)

124. Same; jurisdiction by the United States; fugitives from justice.—Sole and exclusive jurisdiction is assumed by the United States over the territory embraced within the Crater Lake National Park, saving, however, to the State of Oregon the right to serve civil or criminal process within the limits of the aforesaid park in suits or prosecution for or on account of rights acquired, obligations incurred, or crimes committed in said State but outside of said park, and saving further to the said State the right to tax persons and corporations, their franchises and property, on the lands included in said park. All the laws applicable to places under the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States shall have force and effect in said park. All fugitives from justice taking refuge in said park shall be subject to the same laws as refugees from justice found in the State of Oregon. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 1, 39 Stat. 521.)

125. Same; part of judicial district for Oregon; jurisdiction of district court.—Crater Lake National Park shall constitute a part of the United States judicial district for Oregon, and the district court of the United States in and for Oregon shall have jurisdiction of all offenses committed within said boundaries. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 2, 39 Stat. 522.)

126. Same; offense in.—If any offense shall be committed in the Crater Lake National Park, which offense is not prohibited or the punishment for which is not specifically provided for by any law of the United States, the offender shall be subject to the same punishment as the laws of the State of Oregon in force at the time of the commission of the offense may provide for a like offense in said State; and no subsequent repeal of any such law of the State of Oregon shall affect any prosecution for said offense committed within said park. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 3, 39 Stat. 522.)

127. Same; hunting and fishing; rules and regulations; punishment.—All hunting or the killing, wounding, or capturing at any time of any wild bird or animal, except dangerous animals when it is necessary to prevent them from destroying human lives or inflicting injury, is prohibited within the limits of said park; nor shall any fish be taken out of the waters of the park in any other way than by hook and line, and then only at such seasons and in such times and manner as may be directed by the Secretary of the Interior. The Secretary of the Interior shall make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary and proper for the management and care of the park and for the protection of the property therein, especially for the preservation from injury or spoliation of all timber, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to August 21, 1916, natural curiosities, or wonderful objects within said park, and for the protection of the animals and birds in the park from capture or destruction, and to prevent their being frightened or driven from the park; and he shall make rules and regulations governing the taking of fish from the streams or lakes in the park. Possession within said park of the dead bodies, or any part thereof, of any wild bird or animal shall be prima facie evidence that the person or persons having the same are guilty of violating this section. Any person or persons, or stage or express company, or railway company, who knows or has reason to believe that they were taken or killed contrary to the provisions of sections 124 to 134, inclusive, of this title and who receives for transportation any of said animals, birds, or fish so killed, caught, or taken, or who shall violate any of the other provisions of such sections or any rule or regulation that may be promulgated by the Secretary of the Interior with reference to the management and care of the park or for the protection of the property therein, for the preservation from injury or spoliation of timber, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to August 21, 1916, natural curiosities, or wonderful objects within said park, or for the protection of the animals, birds, or fish in the park, or who shall within said park commit any damage, injury, or spoliation to or upon any building, fence, hedge, gate, guidepost, tree, wood, underwood, timber, garden, crops, vegetables, plants, land, springs, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to August 21, 1916, natural curiosities, or other matter or thing growing or being thereon or situate therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, and be adjudged to pay all costs of the proceedings. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 4, 39 Stat. 522.)

128. Same; hunting and fishing; forfeitures or seizures of guns, traps, teams, etc., for violating regulations.—All guns, traps, teams, horses, or means of transportation of every nature or description used by any person or persons within said park limits when engaged in killing, trapping, ensnaring, or capturing such wild beasts, birds, or animals shall be forfeited to the United States and may be seized by the officers in said park and held pending the prosecution of any person or persons arrested under charge of violating the provisions of sections 124 to 134, inclusive, of this title, and upon conviction under said sections of such person or persons using said guns, traps, teams, horses, or other means of transportation, such forfeiture shall be adjudicated as a penalty in addition to the other punishment provided herein. Such forfeited property shall be disposed of and accounted for by and under the authority of the Secretary of the Interior. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 5, 39 Stat. 523.)

129. Same; commissioner; appointment; powers and duties.—The United States District Court for Oregon shall appoint a commissioner who shall reside in the park and who shall have jurisdiction to hear and act upon all complaints made of any violations of law or of the rules and regulations made by the Secretary of the Interior for the government of the park and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish, and objects of interest therein, and for other purposes authorized by sections 124 to 134, inclusive, of this title.

He shall have power, upon sworn information, to issue process in the name of the United States for the arrest of any person charged with the commission of any misdemeanor, or charged with a violation of the rules and regulations, or with a violation of any of the provisions of the above-named sections prescribed for the government of said park and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish in said park, and to try the person so charged, and if found guilty, to impose punishment and to adjudge the forfeiture prescribed.

In all cases of conviction an appeal shall lie from the judgment of said commissioner to the United States District Court for Oregon, and the United States court in said district shall prescribe the rules of procedure and practice for said commissioner in the trial of cases and for appeal to said United States District Court. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 6, 39 Stat. 523.)

130. Same; commissioner; arrests by; bail.—Any such commissioner shall also have power to issue process as provided in section 129 of this title for the arrest of any person charged with the commission within said boundaries of any criminal offense not covered by the provisions of section 127 of this title to hear the evidence introduced, and if he is of opinion that probable cause is shown for holding the person so charged for trial shall cause such person to be safely conveyed to a secure place of confinement within the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for Oregon, and certify a transcript of the record of his proceedings and the testimony in the case to said court, which court shall have jurisdiction of the case. The said commissioner shall grant bail in all cases bailable under the laws of the United States or of said State. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 7, 39 Stat. 523.)

131. Same; commissioner; direction of process; arrest without process.—All process issued by the commissioner shall be directed to the marshal of the United States for the district of Oregon, but nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent the arrest by any officer or employee of the Government or any person employed by the United States in the policing of said reservation within said boundaries without process of any person taken in the act of violating the law or sections 124 to 134, inclusive, of this title, or the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior as aforesaid. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 8, 39 Stat. 523.)

132. Same; commissioner; salary; residence; fees, costs, and expenses.—The commissioner in Crater Lake National Park shall be paid an annual salary as appropriated for by Congress, payable quarterly. He shall reside within the exterior boundaries of said Crater Lake National Park, at a place to be designated by the court making such appointment. All fees, costs, and expenses collected by the commissioner shall be disposed of as provided in section 133 of this title. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 9, 39 Stat. 523; Feb. 27, 1925, c. 364, 43 Stat. 1028.)

133. Same; deposit of fines and costs collected.—All fines and costs imposed and collected shall be deposited by said commissioner of the United States, or the marshal of the United States collecting the same, with the clerk of the United States District Court for Oregon. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 11, 39 Stat. 524.)

134. Same; accounting for fees, costs, and expenses.—All fees, costs, and expenses arising in cases under sections 124 to 134, inclusive, of this title and properly chargeable to the United States shall be certified, approved, and paid as are like fees, costs, and expenses in the courts of the United States. (Aug. 21, 1916, c. 368, § 10, 39 Stat. 524.)

135. Same; donations of patented lands or rights of way.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to accept patented lands or rights of way over patented lands in the Crater Lake National Park that may be donated for park purposes. (June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 152.)

WIND CAVE NATIONAL PARK

141. Wind Cave National Park; establishment.—There are reserved from settlement, entry, sale, or other disposal, and set apart as a public park, all those certain tracts, pieces, or parcels of land lying and being situate in the State of South Dakota and within the boundaries particularly described as follows: Beginning at the southeast corner of section 13, township 6 south, range 5 east, Black Hills meridian, South Dakota; thence westerly to the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 16, said township; thence northerly along the quarter-section lines to the northwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 4, said township; thence easterly to the southwest corner of section 34, township 5 south, range 5 east; thence northerly to the northwest corner of said section; thence easterly to the northeast corner of section 31, township 5 south, range 6 east; thence southerly along the section lines to the southeast corner of section 7, township 6 south, range 6 east; thence westerly to the southwest corner of said section; thence southerly to the southeast corner of section 13, township 6 south, range 5 east, the place of beginning. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect any valid rights acquired in connection with any of the lands embraced within the limits of said park which shall be known as Wind Cave National Park. (Jan. 9, 1903, c. 63, §§ 1, 2, 32 Stat. 765.)

142. Same; control of; regulations.—Wind Cave National Park shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior, whose duty it shall be to prescribe such rules and regulations and establish such service as he may deem necessary for the care and management of the same. (Jan. 9, 1903, c. 63, § 2, 32 Stat. 765.)

143. Same; leases of cavern and lands.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in the exercise of his discretion, to rent or lease, under rules and regulations to be made by him, the cavern underlying the above-described lands, and also pieces and parcels of ground within said park for the erection of such buildings as may be required for the accommodation of visitors. (Jan. 9, 1903, c. 63, § 3, 32 Stat. 765.)

144. Same; disposition of funds from rentals or leases.—All funds arising from such rentals or leases shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as provided by law. (Jan. 9, 1903, c. 63, § 4, 32 Stat. 765; May 24, 1922, c. 199, 42 Stat. 590.)

145. Same; exchange of lands in.—In cases in which a tract covered by an unperfected bona fide claim or by a patent is included within the limits of this park, the settler or owner thereof may, if he desires to do so, relinquish the tract to the Government and secure other land, outside of the park, in accordance with the provisions of the law relating to the subject of such relinquishment of lands in national forests in the State of South Dakota. (Jan. 9, 1903, c. 63, § 5, 32 Stat. 766.)

146. Same; offenses.—All persons who shall unlawfully intrude upon said park, or who shall without permission appropriate any object therein or commit unauthorized injury or waste in any form whatever upon the lands or other public property therein, or who shall violate any of the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder, shall upon conviction be fined in a sum not more than $1,000 or be imprisoned for a period not more than twelve months, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (Jan. 9, 1903, c. 63, § 6, 32 Stat. 766.)

PLATT NATIONAL PARK

151. Platt National Park; acquisition; payment.—The Choctaw and Chickasaw Tribes absolutely and unqualifiedly relinquish, cede, and convey unto the United States a tract or tracts of land at and in the vicinity of the village of Sulphur, in the Chickasaw Nation, of not exceeding six hundred and forty acres, to be selected, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, and to embrace all the natural springs in and about said village, and so much of Sulphur Creek, Rock Creek, Buckhorn Creek, and the lands adjacent to said natural springs and creeks as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of the Interior for the proper utilization and control of said springs and the waters of said creeks, which lands shall be so selected as to cause the least interference with the contemplated town site at that place consistent with the purposes for which said cession is made. The ceded lands shall be held, owned, and controlled by the United States absolutely and without any restriction, save that no part thereof shall be platted or disposed of for town-site purposes during the existence of the two tribal governments. There shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States, to the credit of the two tribes, from the unappropriated public moneys of the United States, $20 per acre for each acre so selected, which shall be in full compensation for the lands so ceded, and such moneys shall, upon the dissolution of the tribal governments, be divided per capita among the members of the tribes, freedmen excepted, as are other funds of the tribes. Until otherwise provided by law, the Secretary of the Interior may, under rules prescribed for that purpose, regulate and control the use of the water of said springs and creeks and the temporary use and occupation of the lands so ceded. No person shall occupy any portion of the lands so ceded, or carry on any business thereon, except as provided in said rules, and until otherwise provided by Congress the laws of the United States relating to the introduction, possession, sale, and giving away of liquors or intoxicants of any kind within the Indian country or Indian reservations shall be applicable to the lands so ceded. The said lands shall be within the jurisdiction of the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Oklahoma. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed or held to commit the Government of the United States to any expenditure of money upon said lands or the improvements thereof, except as provided herein, it being the intention of this provision that in the future the lands and improvements herein mentioned shall be conveyed by the United States to such Territorial or State organization as may exist at the time when such conveyance is made. The land so ceded by this section shall be known as Platt National Park. (July 1, 1902, c. 1362, § 64, 32 Stat. 655; June 16, 1906, c. 335, §§ 13, 14, 34 Stat. 275; June 29, 1906, No. 42, 34 Stat. 837; Nov. 16, 1907, 35 Stat. 2160.)

152. Same; additional land withdrawn for; payment for; management and control; regulations; sale of improvements; penalties; town lots.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and directed to withhold from sale or other disposition the irregular tract of land containing seventy-eight and sixty-eight one-hundredths acres, more or less, lying in the northwest quarter of section 2 and the northeast quarter of section 3, township 1 south, range 3 east, and being within the exterior boundaries of the proposed town site of Sulphur, in the Chickasaw Nation, Indian Territory, and excluded from said town site by order of the Secretary of the Interior, of October 20, 1903, and also to withdraw and withhold from disposition the tract of land within the exterior boundaries of said proposed town site, lying south of and adjacent to the tract above mentioned, containing in the aggregate one hundred and thirty-eight acres, more or less, and mentioned in the report of Gerard H. Matthes, of December 27, 1903, to F. H. Newell, chief engineer United States Geological Survey, and shown upon the map accompanying said report by a yellow line.

The land reserved shall be paid for by the United States at the rate of $60 per acre and in the same manner as the land acquired in accordance with the provisions of section 151 of this title and shall be a part of Platt National Park, subject to all the provisions of section 151 of this title, respecting the care, control, direction, use, and occupancy thereof as if they had been included in the original segregation. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in the absence of other provisions for the care and management thereof, to designate an officer or employee of his department to take charge of the land, acquired under this section and section 151 of this title, and to enforce rules and regulations for the control and use thereof, and of the waters of the springs and creeks within the reservation. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in his discretion, to sell or dispose of any buildings upon the land reserved, and all money received from such sales, or that may be realized for the use of said waters or for the use and occupancy of the land or the buildings thereon, through leases, permits, or otherwise, shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States to the credit of miscellaneous receipts. If any person, firm, or corporation shall willfully violate any of the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior relative to the use of the waters of said springs and creeks and the use and occupation of the lands in said reservation, such person, firm, corporation, or members or agents thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $5 and not more than $100, and may be imprisoned for a term of not more than six months for each offense. (Apr. 21, 1904, c. 1402, § 18, 33 Stat. 220; July 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 153.)

153. Same; Acts relating to not affected by admission of Oklahoma; rights and jurisdiction of United States; indemnity school lands.—Nothing in the Act of June 16, 1906, chapter 3335, section 7, Thirty-fourth Statutes, page 272, entitled, "An Act to enable the people of Oklahoma and of the Indian Territory to form a constitution and State government and be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original States * * *," shall repeal or affect any Act of Congress relating to Platt National Park as defined on June 16, 1906, or as may be defined or extended, or the power of the United States over it or any other lands embraced in the State hereafter set aside by Congress as a national park, game preserve, or for the preservation of objects of archæological or ethnological interest; and nothing contained in said Act shall interfere with the rights and ownership of the United States in any land hereafter set aside by Congress as national park, game preserve, or other reservation, or in the said Platt National Park, as it was on June 6, 1906, or may be defined or extended by law; but exclusive legislation, in all cases whatsoever, shall be exercised by the United States, which shall have exclusive control and jurisdiction over the same; but nothing in this section contained shall be construed to prevent the service within said Platt National Park or national parks, game preserves, and other reservations hereafter established by law, of civil and criminal processes lawfully issued by the authority of said State, and said State shall not be entitled to select indemnity school lands for the thirteenth, sixteenth, thirty-third, and thirty-sixth sections that may be embraced within the metes and bounds of the national park, game preserve, and other reservation or the said Platt National Park, as now defined or may be hereafter defined. (June 16, 1906, c. 3335, § 7, 34 Stat. 272.)

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK

161. Glacier National Park; establishment; trespassers; claims and rights under land laws not affected; rights of way for railways; reclamation projects; indemnity selections of lands.—The tract of land in the State of Montana particularly described by metes and bounds as follows, to wit: Commencing at a point on the international boundary between the United States and the Dominion of Canada at the middle of the

Flathead River; thence following southerly along and with the middle of the Flathead River to its confluence with the Middle Fork of the Flathead River; thence following the north bank of said Middle Fork of the Flathead River to where it is crossed by the north boundary of the right of way of the Great Northern Railroad; thence following the said right of way to where it intersects the west boundary of the Blackfeet Indian Reservation; thence northerly along said west boundary to its intersection with the international boundary; thence along said international boundary to the place of beginning, is reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or disposal under the laws of the United States, and dedicated and set apart as a public park or pleasure ground for the benefit and enjoyment of the people of the United States under the name of "The Glacier National Park." All persons who shall locate or settle upon or occupy the same, or any part thereof, except as hereinafter provided, shall be considered trespassers and removed therefrom. Nothing herein contained shall affect any valid claim, location, or entry existing under the land laws of the United States before May 11, 1910, or the rights of any such claimant, locator, or entryman to the full use and enjoyment of his land. Rights of way through the valleys of the North and Middle Forks of the Flathead River for steam or electric railways may be acquired within said Glacier National Park under filings or proceedings heretofore or hereafter made or instituted under the laws applicable to the acquisition of such rights over or upon the unappropriated public domain of the United States, and the United States Reclamation Service may enter upon and utilize for flowage or other purposes any area within said park which may be necessary for the development and maintenance of a Government reclamation project. No lands within the limits of Glacier National Park belonging to or claimed by any railroad or other corporation having or claiming before May 11, 1910, the right of indemnity selection by virtue of any law or contract whatsoever shall be used as a basis for indemnity selection in any State or Territory whatsoever for any loss sustained by reason of the creation of Glacier National Park. (May 11, 1910, c. 226, § 1, 36 Stat. 354.)

162. Same; control of; regulations; leases; sale and removal of timber.—Glacier National Park shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior. In addition to the powers and duties enumerated in section 3 of this title not inconsistent with this section, he shall make and publish such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of the United States as he may deem necessary or proper for the care, protection, management, and improvement of the same, which regulations shall provide for the preservation of the park in a state of nature so far as is consistent with the purposes of section 161 of this title, and for the care and protection of the fish and game within the boundaries thereof. He may, in his discretion, execute leases to parcels of ground not exceeding ten acres in extent at any one place to any one person or company, for not to exceed twenty years, when such ground is necessary for the erection of buildings for the accommodation of visitors, and to parcels of ground not exceeding one acre in extent and for not to exceed twenty years to persons who have heretofore erected or whom he may hereafter authorize to erect summer homes or cottages; he may also sell and permit the removal of such matured or dead or down timber as he may deem necessary or advisable for the protection or improvement of the park. (May 11, 1910, c. 226, § 2, 36 Stat. 354.)

163. Same; jurisdiction by the United States; fugitives from justice.—Sole and exclusive jurisdiction is assumed by the United States over the territory embraced within the Glacier National Park, saving, however, to the State of Montana the right to serve civil or criminal process within the limits of the aforesaid park in suits or prosecution for or on account of rights acquired, obligations incurred, or crimes committed in said State but outside of said park, and saving, further, to the said State the right to tax persons and corporations, their franchises and property, on the lands included in said park. All the laws applicable to places under the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States shall have force and effect in said park. All fugitives from justice taking refuge in said park shall be subject to the same laws as refugees from justice found in the State of Montana. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 1, 38 Stat. 699.)

164. Eliminating private holdings of lands in; timber or public lands of equal value in exchange.—The Secretary of the Interior, for the purpose of eliminating private holdings within the Glacier National Park and the preservation intact of the natural forest along the roads in the scenic portions of the park, both on patented and park lands, is empowered, in his discretion: (1) To obtain for the United States the complete title to any or all of the lands held in private or State ownership within the boundaries of said park within townships 32 and 33 north, ranges 18 and 19 west of Montana principal meridian, by the exchange or dead, decadent, or matured timber of approximately equal values that can be removed from any part of the park without injuriously affecting the scenic beauty thereof; or, upon the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture, the timber to be selected or exchanged may be taken from the Government lands within the metes and bounds of the national forests within the State of Montana, or, (2) he is empowered, in his discretion, to obtain for the United States the complete title to any or all of the lands held in private ownership within the boundaries of said park by accepting from the owners of such privately owned lands complete relinquishment thereof and by granting and patenting to such owners, in exchange therefor, in each instance, like public land of equal value situate in the State of Montana, after due notice of the proposed exchange has been given by publication for not less than thirty days in the counties where the lands proposed to be exchanged or taken in exchange are located. (Mar. 3, 1917, c. 164, § 1, 39 Stat. 1122; Feb. 28, 1923, c. 144, § 1, 42 Stat. 1324.)

165. Same; value of lands sought to be exchanged.—For purposes of subdivision 2 of section 164 of this title the value of all patented lands within said park, including the timber thereon, offered for exchange, and the value of other lands of the United States elsewhere situate, to be given in exchange therefor, shall be ascertained in such manner as the Secretary of the Interior may direct; and the owners of such privately owned lands within said park shall, before any exchange is effective, furnish the Secretary of the Interior evidence satisfactory to him of title to the patented lands offered in exchange; and lands conveyed to the Government under this section and section 164 shall be and remain a part of the Glacier National Park. (Feb. 28, 1923, c. 144, § 2, 42 Stat. 1324.)

166. Same; exchange of timber for private holdings in; valuations.—For purposes of subdivision (1) of section 164 of this title the value of all patented lands within said park, including the timber thereon, offered for exchange, and the value of the timber on park lands, or on Government lands within the metes and bounds of the national forests within the State of Montana, proposed to be given in exchange for such patented lands, shall be ascertained in such manner as the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture may jointly in their discretion direct, and all expenses incident to ascertaining such values shall be paid by the owners of said patented lands. Such owners shall, before any exchange is effective, furnish the Secretary of the Interior evidence satisfactory to him of title to the patented lands offered in exchange; and if the value of timber on park lands or on the Government lands in the national forests within the State of Montana exceeds the value of the patented lands deeded to the Government in exchange, such excess shall be paid to the Secretary of the Interior by the owners of the patented lands before any timber is removed, and shall be deposited and covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. The lands conveyed to the Government under this section and section 164 shall become a part of the Glacier National Park. (Mar. 3, 1917, c. 164, § 2, 39 Stat. 1122.)

167. Same; exchange of timber for private holdings in; removal of timber.—All timber on Government lands in the park must be cut and removed under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior, and any damage which may result to the roads or any part of the park or the national forests in consequence of the cutting and removal of the timber therefrom shall be borne by the owners of the patented lands, and bonds satisfactory to the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture, jointly, must be given for the payment of such damages, if any, as shall be determined by the Secretary of the Interior so far as the same relates to lands within a national park and by the Secretary of Agriculture where the same relates to lands in the national forests. The Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of the Interior shall jointly report to Congress in detail the factors upon which valuations were made. (Mar. 3, 1917, c. 164, § 3, 39 Stat. 1122.)

168. Same; part of judicial district of Montana; jurisdiction of district court.—Glacier National Park shall constitute a part of the United States judicial district of Montana, and the district court of the United States in and for said district shall have jurisdiction of all offenses committed within said boundaries. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 2, 38 Stat. 699.)

169. Same; criminal laws applicable.—If any offense shall be committed in the Glacier National Park, which offense is not prohibited or the punishment is not specifically provided for by any law of the United States, the offender shall be subject to the same punishment as the laws of the State of Montana in force at the time of the commission of the offense may provide for a like offense in said State; and no subsequent repeal of any such law of the State of Montana shall affect any prosecution for said offense committed within said park. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 3, 38 Stat. 699.)

170. Same; hunting and fishing; regulations; punishment.—All hunting or the killing, wounding, or capturing at any time of any bird or wild animal, except dangerous animals when it is necessary to prevent them from destroying human lives or inflicting personal injury, is prohibited within the limits of said park; nor shall any fish be taken out of the waters of the park in any other way than by hook and line, and then only at such seasons and in such times and manner as may be directed by the Secretary of the Interior. The Secretary of the Interior shall make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary and proper for the management and care of the park and for the protection of the property therein, especially for the preservation from injury or spoliation of all timber, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to May 11, 1910, natural curiosities, or wonderful objects within said park, and for the protection of the animals and birds in the park from capture or destruction, and to prevent their being frightened or driven from the park. He shall make rules and regulations governing the taking of fish from the streams or lakes in the park. Possession within said park of the dead bodies, or any part thereof, of any wild bird or animal shall be prima facie evidence that the person or persons having the same are guilty of violating this section. Any person or persons, or stage or express company, or railway company, who knows or has reason to believe that they were taken or killed contrary to the provisions of this section and who receives for transportation any of said animals, birds, or fish so killed, caught, or taken, or who shall violate any of the other provisions of sections 163 and 168 to 177, inclusive, of this title, or any rule or regulation that may be promulgated by the Secretary of the Interior with reference to the management and care of the park or for the protection of the property therein, for the preservation from injury or spoliation of timber, mineral deposits, other than those legally located prior to May 11, 1910, natural curiosities, or wonderful objects within said park, or for the protection of the animals, birds, or fish in the park, or who shall within said park commit any damage, injury, or spoliation to or upon any building, fence, hedge, gate, guidepost, tree, wood, underwood, timber, garden, crops, vegetables, plants, land, springs, mineral deposits other than those legally located prior to May 11, 1910, natural curiosities, or other matter or thing growing or being thereon, or situated therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500, or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, and be adjudged to pay all costs of the proceedings. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 4, 38 Stat. 700.)

171. Same; hunting and fishing; forfeitures and seizures of guns, traps, teams, and so forth.—All guns, traps, teams, horses, or means of transportation of every nature or description, used by any person or persons within said park limits when engaged in killing, trapping, ensnaring, or capturing such wild beasts, birds, or wild animals shall be forfeited to the United States and may be seized by the officers in said park and held pending the prosecution of any person or persons arrested under charge of violating the provisions of sections 109 and 114 to 123, inclusive, of this title, and upon conviction under said sections of such person or persons using said guns, traps, teams, horses, or other means of transportation, such forfeiture shall be adjudicated as a penalty in addition to the other punishment provided under said sections. Such forfeited property shall be disposed of and accounted for by and under the authority of the Secretary of the Interior. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 5, 38 Stat. 700.)

172. Same; commissioner; jurisdiction; powers and duties.—The United States district court for the district of Montana shall appoint a commissioner, who shall reside in the park, and who shall have jurisdiction to hear and act upon all complaints made of any violations of law or of the rules and regulations made by the Secretary of the Interior for the government of the park and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish, and objects of interest therein, and for other purposes authorized by sections 163 and 168 to 177, inclusive, of this title.

Such commissioner shall have power, upon sworn information, to issue process in the name of the United States for the arrest of any person charged with the commission of any misdemeanor, or charged with a violation of the rules and regulations, or with a violation of any of the provisions of said sections prescribed for the government of said park and for the protection of the animals, birds, and fish in said park, and to try the person so charged, and, if found guilty, to impose punishment and to adjudge the forfeiture prescribed.

In all cases of conviction an appeal shall lie from the judgment of said commissioner to the United States district court for the district of Montana, and the United States district court in said district shall prescribe the rules of procedure and practice for said commissioner in the trial of cases and for appeal to said United States district court. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 6, 38 Stat. 700.)

173. Same; commissioner; arrest of offenders, confinement, and bail.—Any such commissioner shall also have power to issue process as hereinbefore provided for the arrest of any person charged with the commission, within said boundaries, of any criminal offense not covered by the provisions of section

170 of this title, to hear the evidence introduced, and if he is of opinion that probable cause is shown for holding the person so charged for trial, shall cause such person to be safely conveyed to a secure place of confinement within the jurisdiction of the United States district court for the district of Montana, and certify a transcript of the record of his proceedings and the testimony in the case to said court, which court shall have jurisdiction of the case. The said commissioner shall grant bail in all cases bailable under the laws of the United States or of said State. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 7, 38 Stat. 700.)

174. Same; commissioner; process directed to marshal; arrest without process.—All process issued by the commissioner shall be directed to the marshal of the United States for the district of Montana, but nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent the arrest by any officer or employee of the Government, or any person employed by the United States in the policing of said reservation, within said boundaries, without process, of any person taken in the act of violating the law or sections 163, and 168 to 177, inclusive, of this title, or the regulations prescribed by said Secretary as aforesaid. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 8, 38 Stat. 701.)

175. Same; commissioner; salary; residence; fees.—The commissioner in Glacier National Park shall be paid an annual salary as appropriated for by Congress, payable quarterly. He shall reside within the exterior boundaries of said Glacier National Park, at a place to be designated by the court making such appointment. All fees, costs, and expenses collected by the commissioner shall be disposed of as provided in section 176 of this title. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 9, 38 Stat. 701; Feb. 27, 1925, c. 364, 43 Stat. 1028.)

176. Same; fines and costs imposed and collected deposited with clerk.—All fines and costs imposed and collected shall be deposited by said commissioner of the United States or the marshal of the United States collecting the same with the clerk of the United States district court for the district of Montana. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 11, 38 Stat. 701.)

177. Same; fees, costs, and expenses; how certified and paid.—All fees, costs, and expenses arising in cases under this section and sections 163 and 168 to 176 of this title and properly chargeable to the United States shall be certified, approved, and paid as are like fees, costs, and expenses in the courts of the United States. (Aug. 22, 1914, c. 264, § 10, 38 Stat. 701.)

178. Same; hotel operated under regulation prescribed.—Any hotel erected on the land sold and conveyed to the Glacier Park Hotel Company under authority of the Act of March 2, 1917, chapter 147, Thirty-ninth Statutes, page 994, shall be operated by the said Glacier Park Hotel Company, its successors and assigns under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe for the conduct and operation of hotels within the Glacier National Park. (Mar. 2, 1917, c. 147, 39 Stat. 994.)

179. Same; donations of buildings and other property.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in his discretion, to accept buildings, moneys, or other property which may be useful in the betterment of the administration and affairs of the Glacier National Park under his supervision, and which may be donated for park purposes. He may accept patented lands or rights of way over patented lands in the Glacier National Park that may be donated for park purposes. (June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 151; July 1, 1916, c. 209, § 1, 39 Stat. 308.)

180. Same; proceeds of leases and other revenues covered into the Treasury.—All proceeds of leases and other revenues that may be derived from any source connected with Glacier National Park shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States to the credit of miscellaneous receipts. (Mar. 4, 1911, c. 285, § 1, 36 Stat. 1421; June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 153.)

The United States Reclamation Service may enter upon and utilize for flowage or other purposes any area within said park which may be necessary for the development and maintenance of a Government reclamation project. (Jan. 26, 1915, c. 19, § 1, 38 Stat. 798.)

192. Same; boundaries enlarged.—The eastern boundary line of the Rocky Mountain National Park between the section corner common to sections 2 and 3, township 3 north, and sections 34 and 35, township 4 north, range 73 west, and the township corner common to townships 5 and 6 north, ranges 72 and 73 west, is hereby changed so as to read as follows:

"Beginning at a point on the present eastern boundary line of the Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado, which is the northwest corner of section 2 and the northeast corner of section 3, township 3 north, range 73 west of the sixth principal meridian, Colorado, running thence east along the township line to its intersection with the main hydrographic divide east of Cow Creek, between section 31, township 4 north, and section 6, township 3 north, range 72 west; thence northwesterly following along said hydrographic divide, passing over Twin Sisters, the Crags, passing west of Lily Lake, and continuing along said hydrographic divide, now between Aspen Brook and Fish Creek and passing over Lily Mountain and Gianttrack Mountain to a point which is the southeast corner of section 34 and the southwest corner of section 35, township 5 north, range 73 west; thence north along the section lines between sections 34 and 35, 26 and 27, 22 and 23, 14 and 15, to the quarter corner common to sections 14 and 15, all in township 5 north, range 73 west; thence east along quarter-section line, through sections 14 and 13, township 5 north, range 73 west and along the continuation of said quarter-section line through section 18 to the quarter corner common to sections 18 and 17, township 5 north, range 72 west; thence north along the section line between sections 18 and 17, 7 and 8, 5 and 6, all in township 5 north, range 72 west, to that point which is the northeast corner of section 6 and the northwest corner of section 5 in said township and range; thence west along the township line to the township corner common to townships 5 and 6 north, ranges 72 and 73 west, which is on the present eastern boundary line of the Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado."

And the lands lying between the eastern boundary existing on February 14, 1917, and the eastern boundary as changed by this section between said section corner common to sections 2 and 3, township 3 north, and sections 34 and 35, township 4 north, range 73 west, and said township corner common to townships 5 and 6 north, ranges 72 and 73 west, are reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or disposal under the laws of the United States, and are made a part of and included in the Rocky Mountain National Park, and all the provisions of section 191 of this title are made applicable to and extended over the lands hereby added to the park. (Feb. 14, 1917, c. 61, 39 Stat. 916.)

193. Same; claims and rights under land laws not affected; rights of way for irrigation and other purposes.—Nothing contained in this section and sections 191, 194, and 195 of this title shall affect any valid existing claim, location, or entry under the land laws of the United States, existing on January 26, 1915, whether for homestead, mineral, right of way, or any other purpose whatsoever, or shall affect the rights of any such claimant, locator, or entryman to the full use and enjoyment of his land. Whenever consistent with the primary purposes of the park, sections 79, 419, and 522 of this title shall be applicable to the lands included within the park. The Secretary of the Interior may, in his discretion and upon such conditions as he may deem wise, grant easements or rights of way for steam, electric, or similar transportation upon or across the park. (Jan. 26, 1915, c. 19, § 2, 38 Stat. 800.)

194. Same; lands held in private, municipal, or State ownership not affected.—No lands located within the park boundaries held in private, municipal, or State ownership on January 26, 1915, shall be affected by or subject to the provisions of sections 191, 193, and 195 of this title. (Jan. 26, 1915, c. 19, § 3, 38 Stat. 800.)

195. Same; control of; regulations; leases; sale and removal of timber.—Rocky Mountain National Park shall be under the executive control of the Secretary of the Interior. In addition to the powers and duties enumerated in section 3 of this title and not inconsistent with this section, he shall make and publish such reasonable rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the United States, as he may deem necessary or proper for the care, protection, management, and improvement of the same, the said regulations being primarily aimed at the freest use of the said park for recreation purposes by the public and for the preservation of the natural conditions and scenic beauties thereof. The said Secretary may, in his discretion, execute leases to parcels of ground not exceeding twenty acres in extent in any one place to any person or company for not to exceed twenty years whenever such ground is necessary for the erection of establishments for the accommodation of visitors, may grant such other necessary privileges and concessions as he deems wise for the accommodation of visitors, and may likewise arrange for the removal of such mature or dead or down timber as he may deem necessary and advisable for the protection and improvement of the park. The regulations governing the park shall include provisions for the use of automobiles therein. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to accept patented lands or rights of way over patented lands in the Rocky Mountain National Park, that may be donated for park purposes. (Jan. 26, 1915, c. 19, § 4, 38 Stat. 800; June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 152; Mar. 1, 1919, c. 88, 40 Stat. 1270.)

LASSEN VOLCANIC NATIONAL PARK

201. Lassen Volcanic National Park; establishment; boundaries; entries under land laws; rights of way; reclamation projects; indemnity lands.—All those certain tracts, pieces, or parcels of land lying and being situate in the State of California and within the boundaries particularly described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northeast corner of section 3, township 31, range 6 east, Mount Diablo meridian, California; thence southerly to the southeast corner of said section; thence easterly to the northeast corner of the northwest quarter of section 11, said township; thence southerly to the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 14, said township; thence easterly to the northeast corner of the northwest quarter of section 24, said township; thence southerly to the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 25, said township; thence westerly to the southwest corner of section 26, said township; thence southerly to the southeast corner of section

34, said township; thence westerly along the sixth standard parallel north, allowing for the proper offsets, to the northeast corner of section 3, township 30 north, range 6 east; thence southerly to the southeast corner of section 27, said township; thence westerly to the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 28, said township; thence northerly to the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of said section; thence westerly to the southwest corner of the northwest quarter of said section; thence northerly to the northwest corner of said section; thence westerly to the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 20, said township; thence northerly to the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of said section; thence westerly to the range line between ranges 5 and 6 east; thence southerly along said range line to the southeast corner of township 30 north, range 5 east; thence westerly along the township line between townships 29 and 30 north to the southwest corner of section 33, township 30 north, range 5 east; thence northerly to the northwest corner of said section; thence westerly to the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 29, said township; thence northerly to the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of said section; thence westerly to the southwest corner of the northwest quarter of said section; thence northerly to the northwest corner of said section; thence westerly to the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 20, township 30 north, range 4 east; thence northerly to the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 8, said township; thence easterly to the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 9, said township; thence northerly to the township line between townships 30 and 31 north; thence easterly along the sixth standard parallel north, allowing for the proper offsets, to the southwest corner of section 33, township 31 north, range 4 east; thence northerly to the northwest corner of section 21, said township; thence easterly to the range line between ranges 4 and 5 east; thence northerly along said range line to the northwest corner of fractional section 18, township 31 north, range 5 east; thence easterly to the southwest corner of section 12, said township; thence northerly to the northwest corner of section 1, said township; thence easterly along the township line between townships 31 and 32 north to the northeast corner of section 3, township 31 north, range 6 east, the place of beginning, are reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, disposal, or sale, under the laws of the United States, and said tracts are dedicated and set apart as a public park or pleasure ground for the benefit and enjoyment of the people of the United States under the name and to be known and designated as the Lassen Volcanic National Park; and all persons who shall locate or settle upon or occupy the same, or any part thereof, except as hereinafter provided, shall be considered trespassers and be removed therefrom. Nothing herein contained shall affect any valid existing claim, location, or entry existing under the land laws of the United States before August 9, 1916, or the rights of any such claimant, locator, or entryman to the full use and enjoyment of his land. Rights of way for steam or electric railways, automobiles, or wagon roads may be acquired within Lassen Volcanic National Park under filings or proceedings made or instituted under the laws applicable to the acquisition of such rights over or upon the national forest lands of the United States when the construction of such roads will not interfere with the objects of the national park, and that the United States Reclamation Service may enter upon and utilize for flowage or other purposes any area within said park which may be necessary for the development and maintenance of a Government reclamation project. No lands located within the park boundaries held prior to August 9, 1916, in private, municipal, or State ownership shall be affected by or subject to the provisions of this section and sections 202, and 203 of this title. No lands within the limits of said park hereby created belonging to or claimed by any railroad or other corporation having or claiming on August 9, 1916, the right of indemnity selection by virtue of any law or contract whatsoever shall be used as a basis for indemnity selection in any State or Territory whatsoever for any loss sustained by reason of the creation of said park. (Aug. 9, 1916, c. 302, § 1, 39 Stat. 442.)

202. Same; control; rules and regulations; fish and game; leases; automobiles; stock grazing.—Lassen Volcanic National Park shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior. He shall make such rules and regulations and exercise such powers as are enumerated in section 3 of this title in so far as not inconsistent with this section. Such regulations shall be aimed primarily at the freest use of the said park for recreation purposes by the public and for the preservation from injury or spoliation of all timber, mineral deposits, and natural curiosities or wonders within said park and their retention in their natural condition as far as practicable and for the preservation of the park in a state of nature so far as is consistent with the purposes of this section and sections 201, 203 of this title. He shall provide against the wanton destruction of the fish and game found within said park and against their capture or destruction for purposes of merchandise or profit, and generally shall be authorized to take all such measures as shall be necessary to fully carry out the objects and purposes of said sections. He may, in his discretion, execute leases to parcels of ground not exceeding 10 acres in extent at any one place to any one person or persons or company for not to exceed 20 years when such ground is necessary for the erection of buildings for the accommodation of visitors and to parcels of ground not exceeding one acre in extent and for not to exceed 20 years to persons who have heretofore erected, or whom he may hereafter authorize to erect, summer homes or cottages. Such leases or privileges may be renewed or extended at the expiration of the terms thereof. No exclusive privilege, however, shall be granted within the park except upon the ground leased. The regulations governing the park shall include provisions for the use of automobiles therein and the reasonable grazing of stock. (Aug. 9, 1916, c. 302, § 2, 39 Stat. 444.)

203. Same; sale and removal of timber; charges for leases and privileges.—The Secretary of the Interior may sell and permit the removal of such matured or dead or down timber as he may deem necessary or advisable for the protection or improvement of the park, and may exact such charges as he deems proper for leases and all other privileges granted hereunder. (Aug. 9, 1916, c. 302, §§ 3, 4, 39 Stat. 444.)

ABRAHAM LINCOLN NATIONAL PARK

211. Abraham Lincoln National Park or Reservation; deed to; admission fees to.—The United States of America accepts title to the lands mentioned in the deed of gift or conveyance now in possession of the Secretary of War, together with all the buildings and appurtenances thereon, especially the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born and the memorial hall inclosing the same, which deed of conveyance was executed on the 11th day of April, 1916, by the Lincoln Farm Association, a corporation, to the United States of America, describing certain lands situated near the town of Hodgenville, county of Larue, State of Kentucky, which lands are more particularly identified and described in said deed or conveyance. The title to such lands, buildings, and appurtenances is accepted upon the terms and conditions stated in said deed or conveyance, namely: That the land therein described, together with the buildings and appurtenances thereon, shall be forever dedicated to the purposes of a national park or reservation, the United States of America agreeing to protect and preserve the said lands, buildings, and appurtenances, and especially the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born and the memorial hall inclosing the same, from spoliation, destruction, and further disintegration, to the end that they may be preserved for all time, so far as may be; and further agreeing that there shall never be any charge or fee made to or asked from the public for admission to the said park or reservation. (July 17, 1916, c. 247, § 1, 39 Stat. 385.)

212. Same; endowment fund; protection and preservation.—The United States of America also accepts title to the endowment fund of $50,000 mentioned in the assignment and transfer, now in the possession of the Secretary of War, which assignment and transfer was executed on the 11th day of April, 1916, by the Lincoln Farm Association, a corporation, to the United States of America, transferring and turning over all its right, title, and interest in and to said endowment fund, heretofore invested in certain stocks, bonds, and securities held and owned by the Lincoln Farm Association, and more particularly identified and described in said assignment and transfer. The title to said endowment fund is accepted upon the terms and conditions stated in said assignment and transfer, namely, that the United States of America shall forever keep the said tract of land described in said deed, together with the buildings and appurtenances thereunto belonging, dedicated to the purpose of a national park or reservation, and that there shall never be any charge or fee made to or asked from the public for admission to the said park or reservation; and further, shall forever protect, preserve, and maintain said land, buildings, and appurtenances, and especially the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born and the memorial hall inclosing the same, from spoliation, destruction, and further disintegration, to the end that they may be preserved for all time, as far as may be, as a national park or reservation. (July 17, 1916, c. 247, § 2, 39 Stat. 385.)

213. Same; execution of instruments necessary to carry out purposes of gift.—The President of the United States of America and the Secretary of War are authorized to execute, in the name of the United States of America, such instrument or instruments as may be or may become necessary to comply with or carry out the terms and conditions of such gift or gifts and to secure the full benefit therefrom. (July 17, 1916, c. 247, § 3, 39 Stat. 386.)

214. Same; rules and regulations.—Abraham Lincoln National Park shall be under the control of the Secretary of War and administered under such regulations not inconsistent with law as he may from time to time prescribe. (July 17, 1916, c. 247, § 4, 39 Stat. 386.)

GRAND CANYON NATIONAL PARK

221. Grand Canyon National Park; establishment; boundaries.—There is reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or disposal under the laws of the United States and dedicated and set apart as a public park for the benefit and enjoyment of the people, under the name of the "Grand Canyon National Park," the tract of land in the State of Arizona particularly described by and included within metes and bounds, as follows, to wit:

(Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 1, 40 Stat. 1175.)

222. Same; administration, concessions, and privileges.—The administration, protection, and promotion of Grand Canyon National Park shall be exercised, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, by the National Park Service, subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 4 of this title. All concessions for hotels, camps, transportation, and other privileges of every kind and nature for the accommodation or entertainment of visitors shall be let at public bidding to the best and most responsible bidder. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 2, 40 Stat. 1177.)

223. Same; rights of Havasupai Indians.—Nothing contained in sections 221 to 228 of this title shall affect the rights of the Havasupai Tribe of Indians to the use and occupancy of the bottom lands of the Canyon of Cataract Creek as described in the Executive order of March 31, 1882, and the Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in his discretion, to permit individual members of said tribe to use and occupy other tracts of land within said park for agricultural purposes. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 3, 40 Stat. 1177.)

224. Same; entries under land laws; toll road.—Nothing contained in sections 221 to 228, inclusive, of this title shall affect any valid claim, location, or entry existing under the land laws of the United States, prior to February 26, 1919, whether for homestead, mineral, right of way, or any other purpose whatsoever, or shall affect the rights of any such claimant, locator, or entryman to the full use and enjoyment of his land and nothing contained in this chapter shall affect, diminish, or impair the right and authority of the county of Coconino, in the State of Arizona, to levy and collect tolls for the passage of livestock over and upon the Bright Angel Toll Road and Trail, and the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to negotiate with the said county of Coconino for the purchase of said Bright Angel Toll Road and Trail and all rights therein. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 4, 40 Stat. 1177.)

225. Same; laws applicable to park; easements and rights of ways.—Whenever consistent with the primary purposes of Grand Canyon National Park sections 79, 419, and 522 of this title, and subsequent Acts shall be applicable to the lands included within the park. The Secretary of the Interior may, in his discretion and upon such conditions as he may deem proper, grant easements or rights of way for railroads upon or across the park. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 5, 40 Stat. 1178.)

226. Same; development of mineral resources.—Whenever consistent with the primary purposes of said park, the Secretary of the Interior is authorized, under general regulations to be prescribed by him, to permit the prospecting, development, and utilization of the mineral resources of said park upon such terms and for specified periods, or otherwise, as he may deem to be for the best interests of the United States. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 6, 40 Stat. 1178.)

227. Same; reclamation projects.—Whenever consistent with the primary purposes of said park, the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to permit the utilization of areas therein which may be necessary for the development and maintenance of a Government reclamation project. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 7, 40 Stat. 1178.)

228. Same; buildings on privately owned lands.—Where privately owned lands within the said park lie within three hundred feet of the rim of the Grand Canyon no building, tent, fence, or other structure shall be erected on the park lands lying between said privately owned lands and the rim. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 8, 40 Stat. 1178.)

LAFAYETTE NATIONAL PARK, ZION NATIONAL PARK, AND MOUNT McKINLEY NATIONAL PARK

341. Lafayette National Park; establishment; lands included.—The tracts of land, easements, and other real estate known before February 26, 1919, as the Sieur de Monts National Monument, situated on Mount Desert Island, in the county of Hancock and State of Maine, are declared to be a national park and dedicated as a public park for the benefit and enjoyment of the people under the name of the Lafayette National Park, under which name the aforesaid national park shall be entitled to receive and to use all moneys heretofore or hereafter appropriated for Sieur de Monts National Monument. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 45, § 1, 40 Stat. 1178.)

342. Same; administration.—The administration, protection, and promotion of Lafayette National Park shall be exercised under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior by the National Park Service, subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 4 of this title and sections additional thereto or amendatory thereof. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 45, § 2, 40 Stat. 1179.)

343. Same; acceptance of property on Mount Desert Island.—The Secretary of the Interior is hereby authorized, in his discretion, to accept in behalf of the United States such other property on said Mount Desert Island, including lands, easements, buildings, and moneys, as may be donated for the extension or improvement of said park. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 45, § 3, 40 Stat. 1179.)

344. Zion National Park; creation; maintenance.—The Zion National Monument, in the county of Washington, State of Utah, is declared to be a national park and dedicated as such for the benefit and enjoyment of the people, under the name of the Zion National Park, under which name the aforesaid national park shall be maintained by allotment of funds heretofore or hereafter appropriated for the national monuments, until such time as an independent appropriation is made therefor by Congress. (Nov. 19, 1919, c. 110, § 1, 41 Stat. 356.)

345. Same; administration.—The administration, protection, and promotion of said Zion National Park shall be exercised under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior by the National Park Service, subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 4 of this title, and laws additional thereto or amendatory thereof. (Nov. 19, 1919, c. 110, § 2, 41 Stat. 356.)

346. Same; exchange of lands.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to exchange, in his discretion, alienated lands in Zion National Park for unappropriated and unreserved public lands of equal value and approximately equal area in the State of Utah outside of said parks. (June 7, 1924, c. 305, § 3, 43 Stat. 594.)

347. Mount McKinley National Park; establishment; boundaries.—The tract of land in the Territory of Alaska particularly described by and included within the metes and bounds, to wit: Beginning at a point as shown on Plate III, reconnoissance map of the Mount McKinley region, Alaska, prepared in the Geological Survey, edition of 1911, said point being at the summit of a hill between two forks of the headwaters of the Toklat River, approximate latitude sixty-three degrees forty-seven minutes, longitude one hundred and fifty degrees twenty minutes; thence south six degrees twenty minutes west nineteen miles; thence south sixty-eight degrees west sixty miles; thence in a southeasterly direction approximately twenty-eight miles to the summit of Mount Russell; thence in a northeasterly direction approximately eighty-nine miles to a point twenty-five miles due south of a point due east of the point of beginning; thence due north twenty-five miles to said point; thence due west twenty-eight and one-half miles to the point of beginning, is reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or disposal under the laws of the United States, and said tract is dedicated and set apart as a public park for the benefit and enjoyment of the people, under the name of the Mount McKinley National Park. In addition to the above described tract all those lands lying between the south, east, and north boundaries above described and the following described boundary are made a part of and included in the Mount McKinley National Park for all purposes to wit: Beginning at the summit of Mount Russell, which is the present southwest corner of the park; thence in a northeasterly direction one hundred miles, more or less, to a point on the one hundred and forty-ninth meridian, which is twenty-five miles south of a point due east of the upper northwest corner of the park; thence north along the one hundred and forty-ninth meridian twenty-five miles; thence west forty miles, more or less, to the upper northwest corner of Mount McKinley National Park as existing prior to January 30, 1922. (Feb. 26, 1917, c. 121, § 1, 39 Stat. 938; Jan. 20, 1922, c. 39, 42 Stat. 359.)

348. Same; entries under land laws not affected.—Nothing contained in sections 347 to 354, inclusive, of this title shall affect any valid existing claim, location, or entry existing under the land laws of the United States, prior to February 26, 1917, whether for homestead, mineral, right of way, or any other purpose whatsoever, or shall affect the rights of any such claimant, locator, or entryman to the full use and enjoyment of his land. (Feb. 26, 1917, c. 121, § 2, 39 Stat. 938.)

349. Same; rights of way in.—Whenever consistent with the primary purposes of Mount McKinley National Park, sections 79, 419, and 522 of this title shall be applicable to the lands included within the park. (Feb. 26, 1917, c. 121, § 3, 39 Stat. 938.)

350. Same; mineral land laws applicable.—Nothing in sections 347 to 354, inclusive, of this title shall in any way modify or affect the mineral land laws applicable to the lands in the said park prior to February 26, 1917. (Feb. 26, 1917, c. 121, § 4, 39 Stat. 938.)

351. Same; control of; rules and regulations.—Mount McKinley National Park shall be under the executive control of the Secretary of the Interior, and it shall be the duty of the said executive authority, as soon as practicable, to make and publish such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of the United States as the said authority may deem necessary or proper for the care, protection, management, and improvement of the same, the said regulations being primarily aimed at the freest use of the said park for recreation purposes by the public and for the preservation of animals, birds, and fish and for the preservation of the natural curiosities and scenic beauties thereof. (Feb. 26, 1917, c. 121, § 5, 39 Stat. 938.)

352. Same; game refuge; killing game in.—The said park is established as a game refuge, and no person shall kill any game in said park except under an order from the Secretary of the Interior for the protection of persons or to protect or prevent the extermination of other animals or birds. Prospectors and miners engaged in prospecting or mining in said park may take and kill therein so much game or birds as may be needed for their actual necessities when short of food; but in no case shall animals or birds be killed in said park for sale or removal therefrom, or wantonly. (Feb. 26, 1917, c. 121, § 6, 39 Stat. 939.)

353. Same; leases; appropriations.—The Secretary of the Interior may, in his discretion, execute leases to parcels of ground not exceeding twenty acres in extent for periods not to exceed twenty years whenever such ground is necessary for the erection of establishments for the accommodation of visitors; may grant such other necessary privileges and concessions as he deems wise for the accommodation of visitors; and may likewise arrange for the removal of such mature or dead or down timber as he may deem necessary and advisable for the protection and improvement of the park. No appropriation for the maintenance of said park in excess of $10,000 annually shall be made unless the same shall have first been expressly authorized by law. (Feb. 26, 1917, c. 121, § 7, 39 Stat. 939.)

354. Same; offenses; punishment.—Any person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of sections 347 to 353 of this title shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subjected to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, and be adjudged to pay all costs of the proceedings. (Feb. 26, 1917, c. 121, § 8, 39 Stat. 939.)

HOT SPRINGS NATIONAL PARK

361. Hot Springs National Park; establishment; supply of water; free baths for indigent; dedication to United States.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to grant to hotels having bathhouses attached, and to bathhouses situated in the Hot Springs National Park, as well as in the city of Hot Sprngs, Arkansas, the right to install, maintain, and use, either in said bathhouses or in connection with the rooms of said hotels or the bathhouses attached to said hotels, as many bathtubs as in his discretion he may deem proper and necessary for the public service and the amount of hot water will justify. The superintendent shall provide and maintain a sufficient number of free baths for the use of the indigent. All titles given or to be given by the United States shall explicitly exclude the right to the purchaser of the land, his heirs or assigns, from ever boring thereon for hot water; and the Hot Springs, with the National Park and mountain are dedicated to the United States, and shall remain forever free from sale or alienation. (Dec. 16, 1878, c. 5, 20 Stat. 258; Apr. 12, 1904, c. 1249, 33 Stat. 173; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 161, § 1, 41 Stat. 1407.)

362. Same; leases of bathhouses and sites; supply of water.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and empowered to execute leases to the bathhouses and bathhouse sites in the Hot Springs National Park, for periods not exceeding twenty years, and at an annual rental of not less than $30 per tub for each tub used in any bathhouse. Said annual rental shall be payable quarterly in advance, at the office of the Government superintendent of said property, in Hot Springs, Arkansas. The same rate for water rent shall be charged for the water to all parties receiving the same, whether in or outside said park. After the Army and Navy hospital bathhouse, the public bathhouse, the bathhouses which are authorized in the said park, the Arlington Hotel, and the bathhouses outside said park authorized on or before March 3, 1891, to be supplied with hot water, in the order herein named, if there shall still be a surplus of hot water the Secretary of the Interior may, in his discretion and under such regulations as he may prescribe, cause hot water to be furnished to bathhouses, hotels, and families outside the said park. Such bathhouses, hotels, and families shall cause all connections for obtaining such hot water to be made at their own expense. All water furnished to any hotel or family for other use than bathing shall be paid for at such reasonable price, as shall be fixed by the Secretary of the Interior. The Secretary of the Interior shall at the expiration of each period of five years during the continuance of each lease readjust the terms and amounts of payment provided for therein as may be just, but not less than the minimum herein provided. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 533, § 1, 26 Stat. 842; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 161, § 1, 41 Stat. 1407.)

363. Same; rules and regulations.—Full power is vested in the Secretary of the Interior to provide, in all leases to be executed against any combination among lessees or their assigns, as to ownership, prices, or accommodations at any bathhouse; as well as to make all needful rules and regulations as to the use of the hot water, and to prevent its waste, including full power to authorize the superintendent of said park to make examination and inspection at any time of the manner of using the hot water at any bathtub, that it may be used in proper quantity only, and to prevent its waste; and also full power to provide and fix reasonable maximum charges for all baths, or bathing privileges, or services of any person connected with any bathhouse furnished to bathers; and for reasonable maximum charges to guests at the Arlington Hotel; and also, generally, the Secretary of the Interior may make all necessary rules and regulations as to said bathhouses and the service therein as shall be deemed best for the public interest, and to provide penalties for the violation of any regulation which may be enforced as though provided by Act of Congress. All leases and grants of hot-water privileges shall be held to be subject to all regulations in force on March 3, 1891, or which may be adopted by the Secretary of the Interior, and for any violation of any regulation, known to the proprietor at the time of the offense, the lease or grant may be canceled by the Secretary of the Interior. It shall be expressly provided in all leases and grants of privilege for hot water that the bathhouse for which provision is made shall not be owned or controlled by any person, company, or corporation which may be the owner of or interested (as stockholder or otherwise) in any other bathhouse on or near the Hot Springs National Park; that neither the hot-water privilege granted nor any interest therein, nor the right to operate or control said bathhouse, shall be assigned or transferred by the party of the second part without the approval of the Secretary of the Interior first obtained, in writing; and if the ownership or control of said bathhouse be transferred to any person, company, or corporation owning or interested in any other bathhouse on or near said reservation, the Secretary of the Interior may, for that cause, deprive the bathhouse provided for of the hot water and cancel the lease or agreement. All buildings to be erected in the Hot Springs National Park shall be on plans first approved by the Secretary of the Interior, and shall be required to be fireproof, as nearly as practicable. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 533, § 3, 26 Stat. 843.)

364. Same; investigation of applicant for lease, or contract.—The Secretary of the Interior, before executing any lease to bathhouses or bathhouse sites in the park or contracts for the use of hot water for bathhouses outside said park, may make due investigation to ascertain whether the person, persons, or corporation applying for such lease or contract are not, directly or indirectly, interested in any manner whatever in any other bathhouse, lease, interest, or privilege at or near Hot Springs, Arkansas, or whether he or they belong to any pool, combination, or association so interested, or whether he or they are members or stockholders in any corporation so interested, or, if a corporation, whether its members or any of them are members or stockholders of any other corporation or association interested in any other bathhouse, lease, interest, or privilege as aforesaid, and in order to arrive at the facts in any such case he is authorized to send for persons and papers, administer oaths to witnesses, and require affidavits from applicants; and any such person making a false oath or affidavit in the premises shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and, upon conviction, subject to all the pains and penalties of perjury under the statutes of the United States; and whenever, either at the time of leasing or other time it appears to the satisfaction of the said Secretary that such interest in other bathhouse, lease, interest, or privilege exists, or at any time any pool or combination exists between any two or more bathhouses or he deems it for the best interests of the management of the Hot Springs National Park and waters, or for the public interest he may refuse such lease, license, permit or other privilege, or forfeit any lease or privilege wherein the parties interested have become otherwise interested as aforesaid. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 533, § 4, 26 Stat. 843.)

365. Same; taxation, under State laws.—The consent of the United States is hereby given for the taxation, under the authority of the laws of the State of Arkansas applicable to the equal taxation of personal property in that State, as personal property of all structures and other property in private ownership on the Hot Springs National Park. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 533, § 5, 26 Stat. 844.)

366. Same; collection of water on reservation.—The authority conferred upon the Secretary of the Interior to collect the hot water upon said Hot Springs National Park shall be so construed as to require water to be collected only where such collection is necessary for its proper distribution, and not where by gravity the same can be properly utilized. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 533, § 6, 26 Stat. 844.)

367. Same; sale of lots.—The Secretary of the Interior may direct the public sale of all unsold Government lots in Hot Springs National Park, and not permanently reserved on March 3, 1891, at the city of Hot Springs, after having had the same reappraised, and also advertised as required by law, and no lot shall be sold at less than the appraised price. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 533, § 7, 26 Stat. 844.)

368. Same; operation of bathhouse in connection with hotel.—Nothing in this section and sections 362 to 367 of this title shall be so construed as to prevent the stockholders of any hotel from operating a bathhouse in connection with such hotel as a part thereof. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 533, § 8, 26 Stat. 844.)

369. Same; charges assessable against bath attendants and masseurs and physicians prescribing use of hot waters.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to assess and collect from physicians, who desire to prescribe the hot waters from the Hot Springs National Park, reasonable charges for the exercise of such privilege, including fees for examination and registration; and he is also authorized to assess and collect from bath attendants and masseurs operating in all bathhouses receiving hot water from the said park, reasonable charges for the exercise of such privileges. The moneys received from the exercise of this authority shall be used in the protection and improvement of the said park. (June 5, 1920, c. 235, § 1, 41 Stat. 918.)

370. Same; lease of Arlington Hotel site; valuation of improvements.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to lease certain premises fronting on Central Avenue and on Fountain Street, occupied on August 24, 1912, by the buildings of the Arlington Hotel Company, at Hot Springs, Arkansas, on such terms and conditions as he may determine. No lease made hereunder shall be for a longer period than twenty years. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 355, § 1, 37 Stat. 459.)

371. Same; use of free bathhouses limited.—Only persons who are without and unable to obtain the means to pay for baths and are suffering from ailments for which bathing in the water of the Hot Springs National Park will afford relief or effect a cure shall be permitted to bathe at the free bathhouse in said park at Hot Springs, Arkansas, and before any person shall be permitted to bathe at said free bathhouse on the reservation he shall be required to make oath, before such officer duly authorized to administer oaths for general purposes as the superintendent of the Hot Springs National Park shall designate, that he is without and unable to obtain the means to pay for baths, and any person desiring to bathe at the free bathhouse on the Hot Springs National Park making a false oath as to his financial condition shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not to exceed $25, or thirty days' imprisonment, or both. (Mar. 2, 1911, c. 200, 36 Stat. 1015.)

372. Same; laws operative within judicial district of Arkansas.—The portion of the Hot Springs Mountain Reservation in the State of Arkansas situated and lying within boundaries defined as follows, "commencing at stone monument numbered 7, set upon the west line of Reserve Avenue and marking the boundary line of Hot Springs Mountain, and running thence in a northwesterly direction to a point upon the south line of Fountain Street to a stone monument numbered 42 and marking the boundary line of Hot Springs Mountain; thence along the south line of Fountain Street to its intersection with Central Avenue or to stone monument numbered 33; thence south along the east line of Central Avenue to where the same is intersected by Reserve Avenue at stone monument numbered 30; thence along the north boundary line of Reserve Avenue to stone monument numbered 7, the point of commencement; all in township 2 south, range 19 west, in the county of Garland and State of Arkansas, and also block 82 being a part of the permanent United States Hot Springs National Park," or within such boundaries as may be defined hereafter, shall be under the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, and all laws applicable to places under such sole and exclusive jurisdiction shall have full force and effect therein. Nothing in this section and sections 373 to 383 of this title shall be so construed as to forbid the service within said boundaries of any civil or criminal process of any court having jurisdiction in the State of Arkansas. All fugitives from justice taking refuge within said boundaries shall, on due application to the executive of said State, whose warrant may lawfully run within said territory for said purpose, be subject to the laws which apply to fugitives from justice found in the State of Arkansas. Said section shall not be so construed as to interfere with the right to tax all structures and other property in private ownership within the boundaries above described, accorded to the State of Arkansas by section 365 of this title and the above-described portion of said park shall constitute a part of the eastern United States judicial district of Arkansas, and the district and circuit courts of the United States in and for said district shall have jurisdiction of all offenses committed within said boundaries. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, §§ 1, 2, 33 Stat. 187; Sept. 18, 1922, c. 321, 42 Stat. 847.)

373. Same; injuries to property.—Any person who shall, within the tract mentioned in section 372 of this title, commit any damage, injury, or spoliation to or upon any building fence, hedge, gate, guidepost, tree, wood, underwood, timber, garden, crops, vegetables, plants, land, springs, mineral deposits, natural curiosities, or other matter or thing growing or being thereon, or situated therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $100 and be adjudged to pay all costs of the proceedings. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 3, 33 Stat. 187.)

374. Same; taking or use of or bathing in water in violation of rules and regulations.—Any person who shall, except in compliance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may deem necessary, enter or attempt to enter upon said tract, take, or attempt to take, use, or attempt to use, bathe in, or attempt to bathe in water of any spring located thereon, or without presenting satisfactory evidence that he or she (provided he or she is under medical treatment) is the patient of a physician duly registered at the office of the superintendent of the Hot Springs National Park as one qualified, under such rules which the Secretary of the Interior may have made or shall make, to prescribe the waters of the Hot Springs, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $100, and be adjudged to pay all costs of the proceedings. No physician who shall engage in the solicitation of patronage through the medium of drummers, or otherwise, shall be or remain thus registered. If any person so bathing, or attempting to bathe, or so entering, or attempting to enter upon the described tract, shall have the permit of a physician, such physician shall be liable to the penalties of this section, unless he be regularly registered; and such person shall not be liable to the penalties of this section, unless it shall be made to appear that he knew, or had reason to believe, that the physician giving him such permit was not regularly registered. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 4, 33 Stat. 188.)

375. Same; offenses under ordinances of Hot Springs or laws of State.—If any act shall be committed within said boundaries described in section 372 of this title which would constitute an offense under the municipal ordinances of the city of Hot Springs or the laws of the State of Arkansas, but which is not prohibited or the punishment of which is not specially provided for by any law of the United States, regulation of the Secretary of the Interior, or by sections 372 to 383 of this title, the offender shall be subject to the same punishment as the said municipal ordinances of the city of Hot Springs, or the laws of the State of Arkansas in force at the time of the commission of the offense, may provide for a like offense in the said State, and no subsequent repeal of any such law or ordinance shall affect any pending prosecution for an offense committed within said boundaries. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 5, 33 Stat. 188.)

376. Same; prosecutions for violations of law or rules and regulations.—Any United States commissioner duly appointed by the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas, and residing in said district, shall have power and jurisdiction to hear and act upon all complaints made of any and all violations of sections 372 to 383 of this title. Any of said commissioners shall have power, upon sworn complaint, to issue process in the name of the United States for the arrest of any person charged with the doing, otherwise than in compliance with the rules and regulations of the Secretary of the Interior, of any act with reference to the matters which the Secretary of the Interior in section 374 is authorized to regulate, or in violation of such rules and regulations, or in violation of any provision of sections 372 to 383, or with any misdemeanor or other like offense the punishment provided for which does not exceed a fine of $100 to try the person thus charged, and if found guilty, to impose the penalty prescribed. In all cases of conviction an appeal shall lie from the judgment of any of said commissioners to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas. The said United States district court shall prescribe rules of procedure and practice for any of said commissioners in the trial of cases and with reference to said appeals. (Apr. 20, 1904, c.

1400, § 6, 33 Stat. 188; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2516, 34 Stat. 1218; Mar. 3, 1911, c. 230, 36 Stat. 1086.)

377. Same; prosecutions for other offenses.—Any of said commissioners shall also have power to issue process as hereinbefore provided for the arrest of any person charged with the commission, within said boundaries, of any criminal offense not covered by the provisions of section 376 of this title, to hear the evidence introduced, and if he is of opinion that probable cause is shown for holding the person so charged for trial, shall cause such person to be safely conveyed to a secure place for confinement, within the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas, and certify a transcript of the record of his proceedings and the testimony in the case to said court, which court shall have jurisdiction of the case. Any of said commissioners shall grant bail in all cases bailable under the laws of the United States or of the State of Arkansas or the ordinances of the city of Hot Springs. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 7, 33 Stat. 188; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2516, § 2, 34 Stat. 1218.)

378. Same; process directed to marshal; arrests by others.—All process issued by any of said commissioners shall be directed to the marshal of the United States for the eastern district of Arkansas, but nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent the arrest by any officer of the Government, police of said reservation, police officer of the city of Hot Springs, or employee of the United States within said boundaries, without process, of any person taken in the act of violating the law or sections 372 to 383 of this title, or doing anything with reference to the matters which in section 374 the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to regulate, except in compliance with such rules and regulations, or committing any act in violation of such regulations. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 8, 33 Stat. 189; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2516, § 2, 34 Stat. 1218.)

379. Same; fees of commissioner and marshal and deputies.—Any of said commissioners referred to in section 376 of this title and the marshal of the United States and his deputies in the eastern district of Arkansas shall be paid the same fees and compensation as are now provided by law for like services in said district. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 9, 33 Stat. 189; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2516, § 2, 34 Stat. 1218.)

380. Same; disposition of fines and costs.—All fines and costs imposed and collected shall be deposited by any of said commissioners of the United States or the marshal of the United States collecting the same with the clerk of the United States district court for the judicial district in which said park may be situated. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 11, 33 Stat. 189; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2516, § 2, 34 Stat. 1218.)

381. Same; execution of sentence on conviction.—Upon the conviction of a party upon trial by any of said commissioners or by said district court, execution of sentence shall be in conformity with the laws of the United States, anything in the statutes of the State of Arkansas to the contrary notwithstanding. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 13, 33 Stat. 189; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2516, § 2, 34 Stat. 1218.)

382. Same; imprisonment for nonpayment of fines or costs.—All persons who may be imprisoned for nonpayment of any fine, or costs, provided for by sections 372 to 383 of this title, or awaiting trial without bail, shall be confined in the jail of Pulaski County, at Little Rock, Arkansas, or at such place as may be otherwise designated. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 12, 33 Stat. 189.)

383. Same; fees chargeable to United States.—All fees, costs, and expenses arising in cases under sections 372 to 382 of this title and properly chargeable to the United States shall be certified, approved, and paid as are like fees, costs, and expenses in the courts of the United States. (Apr. 20, 1904, c. 1400, § 10, 33 Stat. 189.)

HAWAII NATIONAL PARK

391. Hawaii National Park; establishment; boundaries.—The tracts of land on the island of Hawaii and on the island of Maui, in the Territory of Hawaii, hereinafter described, shall be perpetually dedicated and set apart as a public park or pleasure ground for the benefit and enjoyment of the people of the United States, to be known as Hawaii National Park. Said tracts of land are described as follows:

First. All that tract of land comprising portions of the lands of Kapapala and Keauhou, in the district of Kau, and Kahaualea, Panaunui, and Apua, in the district of Puna, on the island of Hawaii containing approximately thirty-five thousand eight hundred and sixty-five acres, bounded as follows: Beginning at a point on the west edge of the Keamoku Aa Flow (lava flow of 1823), from which point the true azimuth and distance to Government survey trigonometrical station Ohaikea is one hundred and sixty-six degrees twenty minutes, six thousand three hundred and fifty feet, and running by true azimuths: (First) Along the west edge of the Keamoku lava flow in a northeasterly and northwesterly direction, the direct azimuth and distance being one hundred and ninety-eight degrees ten minutes, fourteen thousand seven hundred feet; (second) two hundred and fifty-six degrees, eleven thousand four hundred feet, more or less, across the land of Kapapala and Keauhou to a marked point on the Humuula trail; (third) three hundred and twenty-eight degrees fifteen minutes, eight thousand seven hundred and twenty-five feet, across the land of Keauhou to the top of the fault north of the Kau road; (fourth) along the fault in a northeasterly direction, the direction azimuth and distance being two hundred and fifty-one degrees and thirty minutes, four thousand three hundred and thirty feet; (fifth) two hundred and forty-five degrees, six thousand feet, to a point near the southwest boundary of the land of Olaa; (sixth) three hundred and thirty-seven degrees ten minutes, eight thousand six hundred and fifty feet, more or less, to the junction of the Hilo and Keauhou roads; (seventh) three hundred and thirty-three degrees and twenty minutes, three thousand three hundred feet, more or less, to the southwest corner of the land of Keaau; (eighth) three hundred and thirty-two degrees and ten minutes, seven thousand feet, along the land of Kahaualea; (ninth) two hundred and eighty-one degrees, thirty thousand three hundred and seventy-five feet, more or less, across the land of Kahaualea, passing through the north corner of the land of Panaunui, to the north corner of the land of Laeapuki; (tenth) thirty-one degrees thirty minutes, thirteen thousand two hundred feet, more or less, along the land of Laeapuki and across the land of Panaunui; (eleventh) eighty-nine degrees and ten minutes, thirty-two thousand nine hundred feet, more or less, across the land of Panaunui, Apua, and Keauhou to "Palilele-o-Kalihipaa," the boundary point of the Keauhou-Kapapala boundary; (twelfth) fifty-one degrees and thirty minutes, five thousand and five hundred feet, across the land of Kapapala; (thirteenth) one hundred and two degrees and fifty minutes, nineteen thousand one hundred and fifty feet, across the land of Kapapala to a small cone about one thousand five hundred feet southwest of Puu Koae trigonometrical station; (fourteenth) one hundred and sixty-six degrees twenty minutes, twenty-one thousand feet, across the land of Kapapala to the point of beginning.

Second. All that tract of land comprising portions of the lands of Kapapala and Kahuku, in the district of Kau, island of Hawaii; Keauhou second, in the district of North Kona; and Kaohe, in the district of Hamakua, containing seventeen thousand nine hundred and twenty acres, bounded as follows: Beginning at Pohaku Hanalei of Humuula, a small cone on the brow of Mauna Loa, and at the common boundary points of the lands of Humaula, Kapapala, and Kaohe, from which the true azimuth and distance to Government survey trigonometrical station Omaokoili is one hundred and ninety-five degrees twelve minutes eighteen seconds, seventy-eight thousand two hundred and eighty-six feet, and running by true azimuths: First, two hundred and ninety-eight degrees, five thousand two hundred and forty feet; second, twenty-eight degrees, thirty-six thousand nine hundred and sixty feet; third, one hundred and eighteen degrees, twenty-one thousand one hundred and twenty feet; fourth, two hundred and eight degrees, thirty-six thousand nine hundred and sixty feet; fifth, two hundred and ninety-eight degrees, fifteen thousand eight hundred and eighty feet, to the point of beginning.

Third. A strip of land of sufficient width for a road to connect the two tracts of land on the island of Hawaii above described, the width and location of which strip shall be determined by the Secretary of the Interior.

Fourth. All that tract of land comprising portions of the lands of Honuaula and Kula, in the district of Makawao, and Kipahulu, Kaupo, and Kahikinui, in the district of Hana, on the island of Maui, containing approximately twenty-one thousand one hundred and fifty acres, bounded as follows: Beginning at a point called Kolekole, on the summit near the most western point of the rim of the crater of Haleakala, and running by approximate azimuths and distances: First, hundred and ninety-three degrees forty-five minutes, nineteen thousand three hundred and fifty feet along the west slope of the crater of Haleakala to a point called Puu-o-Ili; second, two hundred and sixty-eight degrees, twenty-three thousand feet up the western slope and across Koolau Gap to the point where the southwest boundary of Koolau Forest Reserve crosses the east rim of Koolau Gap; third, three hundred and six degrees thirty minutes, seventeen thousand one hundred and fifty feet along the southwest boundary of Koolau Forest Reserve to a point called Palalia, on the east rim of the crater of Haleakala; fourth, along the east rim of the crater of Haleakala, the direct azimuth and distance being three hundred and fifty-four degrees fifteen minutes, eighteen thousand three hundred feet, to a point on the east rim of Kaupo Gap, shown on Hawaiian Government survey maps at an elevation of four thousand two hundred and eight feet; fifth, eighty-eight degrees forty-five minutes, three thousand three hundred feet, across Kaupo Gap to a point called Kaumikaohu, on the boundary line between the lands of Kipahulu and Kahikinui; sixth, one hundred and two degrees and thirty minutes, forty thousand seven hundred and fifty feet, along the south slope of the crater of Haleakala to the point of beginning.

Fifth. All that tract of land comprising a portion of the Kau Desert, Kapapala, in the district of Kau, on the island of Hawaii, containing forty-three thousand four hundred acres, more or less, bounded as follows: Beginning at a galvanized-iron nail driven into the pahoehoe at the northeast corner of this tract of land, at a place called Palilele-o-Kalihipaa, and on the boundary between the lands of Kapapala and Keauhou, the coordinates of said point of beginning referred to Government survey trigonometrical station Uwekahuna, being twenty-six thousand and ten and four-tenths feet south and nine thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and four-tenths feet east, as shown on Government survey registered map numbered two thousand three hundred and eighty-eight and running by true azimuths: First, three hundred and fifty degrees forty-three minutes, thirty thousand and twenty-three feet, along the land of Kapapala to a point at seacoast; second, thence in a west and southwesterly direction along the seacoast to a station on a large flat stone, at a place called Na-Puu-o-na-Elemakule, at the seacoast boundary point of the lands of Kapapala and Kaalaala, the direct azimuth and distance being sixty-nine degrees thirty-four minutes thirty seconds, thirty-two thousand and forty-three feet; third, eighty-nine degrees twenty-seven minutes thirty seconds, thirty thousand six hundred and ninety feet, along the land of Kaalaala to the main 1868 lava crack, said point being by true azimuth and distance two hundred and ninety-six degrees twenty-seven minutes thirty seconds, two thousand one hundred feet from Government survey trigonometrical station Puu Nahala; fourth, thence up along the main 1868 lava crack, along the Kapapala pastoral lands to a small outbreak of lava from the 1868 lava crack, opposite the Halfway House, the direct azimuth and distance being one hundred and ninety-eight degrees, thirty-two thousand five hundred and fifty feet; fifth, two hundred and thirty degrees twenty-five minutes, twenty-seven thousand six hundred and fifteen feet, along the Kapapala pastoral lands to the west boundary of the Kilauea section, Hawaii National Park; sixth, three hundred and forty-six degrees twenty minutes, six thousand seven hundred and forty-two feet, along said west boundary to a small cone; seventh, two hundred and eighty-two degrees fifty minutes, nineteen thousand one hundred and fifty feet, along the south boundary of said Kilauea section, Hawaii National Park; eighth, two hundred and thirty-one degrees fifty minutes thirty seconds, five thousand four hundred and thirty feet, along said south boundary to the point of beginning. Chapter 12 of this title shall not apply to or extend over lands defined in subdivision 5. (Aug. 1, 1916, c. 264, § 1, 39 Stat. 432; May 1, 1922, c. 174, 42 Stat. 503, 504.)

392. Same; acquisition of privately owned lands.—The governor of the Territory of Hawaii is authorized to acquire, at the expense of the Territory of Hawaii, by exchange or otherwise, all privately owned lands lying within the boundaries of the Hawaii National Park as defined by section 391 of this title, and all necessary perpetual easements and rights of way, or roadways, in fee simple, over or to said land or any part thereof, but the provisions of sections 663 to 677 of Title 48, TERRITORIES AND INSULAR POSSESSIONS, relating to exchanges of public lands shall not apply on the acquisition by exchange of the privately owned lands herein referred to. (Feb. 27, 1920, c. 89, §§ 1, 2, 41 Stat. 452, 453.)

393. Same; entries under land laws; rights of way; lands excluded.—Nothing herein contained shall affect any valid claim, location, or entry existing under the land laws of the United States prior to August 1, 1916, whether for homestead, mineral, right of way, or any other purpose whatsoever, or shall affect the rights of any such claimant, locator, or entryman to the full use and enjoyment of his land. Whenever consistent with the primary purposes of the park, sections 79, 419, and 522 of this title shall be applicable to the lands included within the park. The Secretary of the Interior may, in his discretion and upon such conditions as he may deem wise, grant easements or rights of way for steam, electric, or similar transportation upon or across the park. No lands located within the park boundaries held in private or municipal ownership prior to August 1, 1916, shall be affected by or subject to the provisions of this section and sections 391 and 394 of this title. (Aug. 1, 1916, c. 264, §§ 2, 3, 39 Stat. 433, 434.)

394. Same; control of; rules and regulations; leases; appropriations.—Hawaii National Park shall be under the executive control of the Secretary of the Interior. He shall perform the duties and exercise the powers enumerated in section 3 of this title, except as inconsistent with this section. The regulations promulgated shall provide for the preservation from injury, of all timber, birds, mineral deposits, and natural curiosities or wonders within said park, and their retention in their natural condition as nearly as possible. He may in his discretion grant leases for terms not exceeding twenty years, at such annual rental as he may determine, of parcels of land in said park of not more than twenty acres in all to any one person, corporation, or company for the erection and maintenance of buildings for the accommodation of visitors; but no such lease shall include any of the objects of curiosity or interest in said park or exclude the public from free convenient approach thereto or convey, either expressly or by implication, any exclusive privilege within the park except upon the premises held thereunder and for the time granted therein; and every such lease shall require the lessee to observe and obey each and every provision in any Act of Congress and every rule, order, or regulation of the Secretary of the Interior concerning the use, care, management, or government of the park, or any object or property therein, under penalty of forfeiture of such lease. He may in his discretion grant to persons or corporations holding leases of land in the park on August 1, 1916, upon the surrender thereof, new leases hereunder, upon the terms and stipulations contained in their present leases, with such modifications, restrictions, and reservations as he may prescribe. All of the proceeds of said leases and other revenues that may be derived from any source connected with the park shall be expended under the direction of the Secretary, in the management and protection of the same and the construction of roads and paths therein. He may also, in his discretion, permit the erection and maintenance of buildings in said park for scientific purposes. No appropriation shall be made for the improvement or maintenance of said park until proper conveyances shall be made to the United States of such perpetual easements and rights of way over private lands within the exterior boundaries of said park as the Secretary of the Interior shall find necessary to make said park reasonably accessible in all its parts, and said Secretary shall when such easements and rights of way have been conveyed to the United States report the same to Congress. (Aug. 1, 1916, c. 264, § 4, 39 Stat. 434; June 5, 1924, c. 263, 43 Stat. 390.)

UTAH NATIONAL PARK

401. Utah National Park; establishment; boundaries; administration.—There is reserved and withdrawn from settlement, occupancy, or disposal under the laws of the United States and dedicated and set apart as a public park for the benefit and enjoyment of the people, under the name of the "Utah National Park," the tract of land in the State of Utah particularly described by and included within metes and bounds, as follows, to wit:

Unsurveyed sections 31 and 32, township 36 south, range 3 west; surveyed section 36, township 36 south, range 4 west; north half, southwest quarter and west half of the southeast quarter of partially surveyed section 5; unsurveyed sections 6 and 7, west half, west half of the northeast quarter, and west half of the southwest quarter of partially surveyed section 8, partially surveyed section 17 and unsurveyed section 18, township 37 south, range 3 west; and unsurveyed sections 1, 12, and 13, township 37 south, range 4, all west of the Salt Lake meridian, in the State of Utah. All the land within the exterior boundaries of the aforesaid tract shall first become the property of the United States. The administration, protection, and promotion of said Utah National Park shall be exercised under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior by the National Park Service, subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 4 of this title. (June 7, 1924, c. 305, §§ 1, 2, 43 Stat. 593, 594.)

402. Same; existing claims, locations, or entries not affected; exchange of lands.—Nothing contained in section 401 of this title shall affect any valid claim, location, or entry existing under the land laws of the United States prior to June 7, 1924, whether for homestead, mineral, right of way, or any other purpose whatsoever, or shall affect the rights of any such claimant, locator, or entryman to the full use and enjoyment of his land. The Secretary of the Interior is hereby authorized to exchange, in his discretion, alienated lands in Utah National Park for unappropriated and unreserved public lands of equal value and approximately equal area in the State of Utah outside of said parks. (June 7, 1924, c. 305, § 3, 43 Stat. 594.)

THE NATIONAL MILITARY PARKS

411. National military parks; military maneuvers in.—In order to obtain practical benefits of great value to the country from the establishment of national military parks, said parks and their approaches are hereby declared to be national fields for military maneuvers for the Regular Army of the United States and the National Guard or militia of the States. Said parks shall be opened for such purposes only in the discretion of the Secretary of War, and under such regulations as he may prescribe. (May 15, 1896, c. 182, § 1, 29 Stat. 120.)

412. Same; camps for military instruction; regulations for militia.—The Secretary of War is authorized, within the limits of appropriations which may from time to time be available for such purpose, to assemble, at his discretion, in camp at such season of the year and for such period as he may designate, at such field of military maneuvers, such portions of the military forces of the United States as he may think best, to receive military instruction there.

The Secretary of War is further authorized to make and publish regulations governing the assembling of the National Guard or militia of the several States upon the maneuvering grounds, and he may detail instructors from the Regular Army for such forces during their exercises. (May 15, 1896, c. 182, § 2, 29 Stat. 121.)

413. Same; offenses relating to structures and vegetation.—Every person who willfully destroys, mutilates, defaces, injures, or removes any monument, statue, marker, guidepost, or other structure, or who willfully destroys, cuts, breaks, injures, or removes any tree, shrub, or plant within the limits of any national military parks shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $1,000 for each monument, statue, marker, guidepost, or other structure, tree, shrub, or plant destroyed, defaced, injured, cut, or removed, or by imprisonment for not less than fifteen days and not more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment. (Mar. 3, 1897, c. 372, §§ 1, 5, 29 Stat. 621, 622.)

414. Same; trespassing for hunting, or shooting.—Every person who shall trespass upon any national military parks for the purpose of hunting or shooting, or who shall hunt any kind of game thereon with gun or dog, or shall set trap or net or other device whatsoever thereon for the purpose of hunting or catching game of any kind, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not less than five days or more than thirty days, or by both fine and imprisonment. (Mar. 3, 1897, c. 372, § 2, 29 Stat. 621.)

415. Same; arrest and prosecution of offenders.—The superintendent or any guardian of such national military park is authorized to arrest forthwith any person engaged or who may have been engaged in committing any misdemeanor named in sections 413 and 414 of this title, and shall bring such person before any United States commissioner or judge of any district or circuit court of the United States within either of the districts within which the park is situated, and in the district within which the misdemeanor has been committed, for the purpose of holding him to answer for such misdemeanor, and then and there shall make complaint in due form. (Mar. 3, 1897, c. 372, § 3, 29 Stat. 621.)

416. Same; refusal to surrender leased land in; recovery.—Any person to whom land lying within any national military parks may have been leased, who refuses to give up possession of the same to the United States after the termination of said lease, and after possession has been demanded for the United States by any park commissioner or the park superintendent, or any person retaining possession of land lying within the boundary of said park which he or she may have sold to the United States for park purposes and have received payment therefor, after possession of the same has been demanded for the United States by any park commissioner or the park superintendent, shall be deemed guilty of trespass, and the United States may maintain an action for the recovery of the possession of the premises so withheld in the courts of the United States, according to the statutes or code of practice of the State in which the park may be situated. (Mar. 3, 1897, c. 372, §§ 4, 5, 29 Stat. 622.)

417. Acceptance of donations of land.—The Secretary of War is authorized to accept on behalf of the United States donations of land for road or other purposes. (Aug. 18, 1894, c. 301, § 1, 28 Stat. 405.)

418. Approach roads to national cemeteries or national military parks; conveyance to States, and so forth.—The Secretary of War is authorized in his discretion, subject to such conditions as may seem to him proper, to convey by proper quitclaim deed to any State, county, municipality, or proper agency thereof, in which the same is located, all the right, title, and interest of the United States in and to any Government owned or controlled approach road to any national military park. Prior to the delivery of any conveyance under this section the State, county, or municipality to which the conveyance herein authorized is to be made shall notify the Secretary of War in writing of its willingness to accept and maintain the road or roads included in such conveyance. Upon the execution and delivery of any conveyance herein authorized, the jurisdiction of the United States of America, which has been heretofore ceded to the United States by a State over the roads conveyed, shall thereby cease and determine and shall thereafter vest and be in the particular State in which such roads are located. (Mar. 3, 1925, c. 418, 43 Stat. 1104.)

419. Rights of way for electrical plants.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and empowered, under general regulations to be fixed by him, to permit the use of rights of way through the public lands of the United States, reserved for military parks, for electrical plants, poles, and lines for the generation and distribution of electrical power, and for telephone and telegraph purposes, and for canals, ditches, pipes and pipe lines, flumes, tunnels, or other water conduits, and for water plants, dams, and reservoirs used to promote irrigation or mining or quarrying, or the manufacturing or cutting of timber or lumber, or the supplying of water for domestic, public, or any other beneficial uses to the extent of the ground occupied by such canals, ditches, flumes, tunnels, reservoirs, or other water conduits or water plants, or electrical or other works permitted hereunder, and not to exceed fifty feet on each side of the marginal limits thereof, or not to exceed fifty feet on each side of the center line of such pipes and pipe lines, electrical, telegraph, and telephone lines and poles, by any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States, where it is intended by such to exercise the use permitted hereunder or any one or more of the purposes herein named. Such permits shall be allowed within or through any military park, only upon the approval of the chief officer of the department under whose supervision such park falls and upon a finding by him that the same is not incompatible with the public interest. All permits given hereunder for telegraph and telephone purposes shall be subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 6, and 8 of title 47, and amendments thereto, regulating rights of way for telegraph companies over the public domain. Any permission given by the Secretary of the Interior under the provisions of this section may be revoked by him or his successor in his discretion, and shall not be held to confer any right, or easement, or interest in, to, or over any such military park. (Feb. 15, 1901, c. 372, 31 Stat. 790.)

420. Rights of way for electrical poles and lines.—The head of the department having jurisdiction over the lands is authorized and empowered, under general regulations to be fixed by him, to grant an easement for rights of way, for a period not exceeding fifty years from the date of the issuance of such grant, over, across, and upon the public lands of the United States for electrical poles and lines for the transmission and distribution of electrical power, and for poles and lines for telephone and telegraph purposes, to the extent of twenty feet on each side of the center line of such electrical, telephone and telegraph lines and poles, to any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States, where it is intended by such to exercise the right of way herein granted for any one or more of the purposes herein named. Such right of way shall be allowed within or through any military park, only upon the approval of the chief officer of the department under whose supervision or control such park falls, and upon a finding by him that the same is not incompatible with the public interest. All or any part of such right of way may be forfeited and annulled by declaration of the head of the department having jurisdiction over the lands for nonuse for a period of two years or for abandonment.

Any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States to whom there has been issued a permit prior to March 4, 1911, for any of the purposes specified herein under any law existing at that date, may obtain the benefit of this section upon the same terms and conditions as shall be required of citizens, associations, or corporations making application under the provisions of this section subsequent to such date. (Mar. 4, 1911, c. 238, 36 Stat. 1253.)

421. Vacancies occurring in commissions in charge of parks not to be filled.—Vacancies occurring by death or resignation in the membership of the several commissions in charge of national military parks shall not be filled, and the duties of the offices thus vacated shall devolve upon the remaining commissioners or commissioner for each of said parks. As vacancies occur the Secretary of War shall become ex officio a member of the commission effected with full authority to act with the remaining commissioners or commissioner, and in case of the vacation of all the offices of commissioner in any one park hereunder the duties of such commission shall thereafter be performed under the direction of the Secretary of War. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 355, § 1, 37 Stat. 442.)

NATIONAL MONUMENTS

431. National monuments; reservation of land; relinquishment of private claims.—The President of the United States is authorized, in his discretion, to declare by public proclamation historic landmarks, historic and prehistoric structures, and other objects of historic or scientific interest that are situated upon the lands owned or controlled by the Government of the United States to be national monuments, and may reserve as a part thereof parcels of land, the limits of which in all cases shall be confined to the smallest area compatible with the proper care and management of the objects to be protected. When such objects are situated upon a tract covered by a bona fide unperfected claim or held in private ownership, the tract, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the proper care and management of the object, may be relinquished to the Government, and the Secretary of the Interior is hereby authorized to accept the relinquishment of such tracts in behalf of the Government of the United States. (June 8, 1906, c. 3060, § 2, 34 Stat. 225.)

432. Same; permits to examine ruins, excavations, and gathering of objects; regulations.—Permits for the examination of ruins, the excavation of archæological sites, and the gathering of objects of antiquity upon the lands under their respective jurisdictions may be granted by the Secretaries of the Interior, Agriculture, and War to institutions which they may deem properly qualified to conduct such examination, excavation, or gathering, subject to such rules and regulations as they may prescribe: Provided, That the examinations, excavations, and gatherings are undertaken for the benefit of reputable museums, universities, colleges, or other recognized scientific or educational institutions, with a view to increasing the knowledge of such objects, and that the gatherings shall be made for permanent preservation in public museums. The Secretaries of the departments aforesaid shall make and publish from time to time uniform rules and regulations for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section. (June 8, 1906, c. 3060, §§ 3, 4, 34 Stat. 225.)

433. American antiquities.—Any person who shall appropriate, excavate, injure, or destroy any historic or prehistoric ruin or monument, or any object of antiquity, situated on lands owned or controlled by the Government of the United States, without the permission of the Secretary of the Department of the Government having jurisdiction over the lands on which said antiquities are situated, shall, upon conviction, be fined in a sum of not more than $500 or be imprisoned for a period of not more than ninety days, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (June 8, 1906, c. 3060, § 1, 34 Stat. 225.)

434. National monument in Riverside County, California.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to set apart the following-described lands located in the county of Riverside, in the State of California, as a national monument, which shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior, who shall administer and protect the same under the provisions of section 433 of this title, and under such regulations as he may prescribe: The west half of the southwest quarter of section 2, the southeast quarter of section 3, all of section 10, the west half of the northwest quarter of section 11, all of section 14, all in township 5 south, range 4 east, San Bernardino base and meridian, containing one thousand six hundred acres: Provided, That before such reservation and dedication as herein authorized shall become effective the consent and relinquishment of the Agua Caliente Band of Indians shall first be obtained, covering its right, title, and interest in and to the lands herein described, and payment therefor to the members of said band on a per capita basis, at a price to be agreed upon, when there shall be donated for such purposes to the Secretary of the Interior a fund in an amount to be fixed and determined by him as sufficient to compensate the Indians therefor. (Aug. 26, 1922, c. 295, § 1, 42 Stat. 832.)

435. Same; reservations.—In order to determine the amount to be paid under the preceding section the Secretary of the Interior is authorized and directed to negotiate with said Indians to obtain their consent and relinquishment, and when such consent and relinquishment has been obtained and an agreement reached the Secretary of the Interior is further authorized to make payment from said donated fund for the lands relinquished to the enrolled members of the said Agua Caliente Band as authorized by section 434 of this title. The consent and relinquishment of the Indians may be obtained and payment made for the lands in such manner as the Secretary of the Interior may deem advisable. The water rights, dam, pipe lines, canals, and irrigation structures located in sections 2 and 3 of township 5 south, range 4 east, San Bernardino meridian, and also all water and water rights in Palm Canyon, are excepted from this reserve and shall remain under the exclusive control and supervision of the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The provisions of chapter 12 of this title shall not apply to this monument. (Aug. 26, 1922, c. 295, §§ 2, 3, 42 Stat. 832.)

436. Same; material, equipment, and supplies for.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to reserve from distribution to the several States, in addition to the 10 per centum authorized by section 5 of Title 23, HIGHWAYS, not exceeding 5 per centum of the material, equipment, and supplies hereafter received from the Secretary of War, and to transfer said material, equipment, and supplies to the Secretary of the Interior for use in constructing, reconstructing, improving, and maintaining roads and trails in the national parks and monuments. No charge shall be made for such transfer except such sums as may be agreed upon as being reasonable charges for freight, handling, and conditioning for efficient use. (Apr. 9, 1924, c. 86, § 3, 43 Stat. 90.)

437. Fort McHenry; restoration and preservation.—The Secretary of War is authorized and directed to begin the restoration of Fort McHenry, in the State of Maryland, including the restoration of the old Fort McHenry proper to such a condition as would make it suitable for preservation permanently as a national park and perpetual national memorial shrine as the birthplace of the immortal "Star-Spangled Banner," written by Francis Scott Key, and he is further authorized and directed, as are his successors, to hold the said Fort McHenry in perpetuity as a military reservation, national park, and memorial, and to maintain it as such, except that part mentioned in section 439 of this title, and that part in use on March 3, 1925, by the Department of Commerce for a light and fog-signal station under revocable license from the War Department with the maintenance of the electric lines thereto and such portion of the reservation, including improvement, as may be reserved by the Secretary of War for the use of the Chief of Engineers, the said reservation to be maintained as a national public park, subject to such regulations as may from time to time be issued by the Secretary of War. (May 26, 1914, c. 100, 38 Stat. 382; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 425, 43 Stat. 1109.)

438. Same; repairs and improvements; how made.—Any and all repairs, improvements, changes, and alterations in the grounds, buildings, and other appurtenances to the reservation shall be made only according to detailed plans which shall be approved by the Secretary of War, and all such repairs, improvements, or alterations shall be made at the expense of the United States, and all such improvements, together with the reservation itself, shall become and remain permanently the property of the United States. (May 26, 1914, c. 100, 38 Stat. 382; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 425, 43 Stat. 1109.)

439. Same; land for use of Secretary of the Treasury.—Permission is granted the Secretary of the Treasury to use permanently a strip of land sixty feet wide belonging to said fort grounds, beginning at the north corner of the grounds of the fort and extending south sixty-three degrees thirty minutes east, six hundred and fifty feet to the south corner of the site set aside for the immigration station at Baltimore, said strip of land being located along the northwest boundary of the land ceded to the Baltimore Dry Dock Company and the land of the said immigration station, the same to be used, if so desired, in lieu of acquiring, by purchase or condemnation, any of the lands of the dry dock company so that the Secretary of the Treasury may, in connection with land acquired from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, have access to and from said immigration station and grounds over the right of way so acquired to the city streets and railroads beyond, the Secretary of the Treasury to have the same power to construct, contract for, and arrange for railroad and other facilities upon said outlet as fully as provided in the Act approved March 4, 1913, chapter 147, Thirty-seventh Statutes 889, setting aside a site for an immigration station and providing for an outlet therefrom, but the War Department shall have equal use of the railroad track and other roads so constructed, over which to reach the city streets and railroads beyond from the other part of the fort grounds. (May 26, 1914, c. 100, 38 Stat. 382; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 425, 43 Stat. 1109.)

440. Same; closure in times of national emergency.—The Secretary of War may, in case of a national emergency close the said Fort McHenry and use it for any and all military purposes during the period of the emergency and for such period of time thereafter, as the public needs may require. (May 26, 1914, c. 100, 38 Stat. 382; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 425, 43 Stat. 1109.)

MISCELLANEOUS

451. Limit on cost of buildings erected in national parks.—No expenditure for construction of administration or other buildings cost in case of any building exceeding $1,500 shall be made in any national park except under express authority of Congress. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 355, § 1, 37 Stat. 460; July 1, 1918, c. 113, § 1, 40 Stat. 677.)

452. Revenues of national parks covered into Treasury; estimates for care of parks.—All revenues of the national parks shall be covered into the Treasury to the credit of miscellaneous receipts, except in case of Hot Springs National Park such as may be necessary to pay obligations outstanding on June 30, 1922, and the Secretary of the Interior is directed to submit, annually, estimates of the amounts required for the care, maintenance, and development of the said parks. (June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 153; May 24, 1922, c. 199, 42 Stat. 590.)

453. Donations of land for park purposes near or adjacent to National Forest Reserve in North Carolina.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to accept for park purposes any lands and rights of way, including the Grandfather Mountain, near or adjacent to the Government National Forest in western North Carolina. (June 12, 1917, c. 27, § 1, 40 Stat. 152.)

454. Oaths to expense accounts.—The superintendent, the acting superintendent, custodian, and principal clerks of the various national parks and other Government reservations, are required, empowered, and authorized, when requested, to administer oaths, required by law or otherwise, to accounts for travel or other expenses against the United States, with like force and effect as officers having a seal; for such services when so rendered, or when rendered on demand by notaries public, who at the time are also salaried officers or employees of the United States, no charge shall be made; and no fee or money paid for the services herein described shall be paid or reimbursed by the United States. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 355, § 8, 37 Stat. 487.)

525. Rights of way for wagon roads or railroads.

Section 471. National forests; establishment; limitation on additions in certain States; lands suitable for production of timber.—The President of the United States may, from time to time, set apart and reserve, in any State or Territory having public land bearing forests, in any part of the public lands wholly or in part covered with timber or undergrowth, whether of commercial value or not, as national forests, and the President shall, by public proclamation, declare the establishment of such forests and the limits thereof.

(a) No national forest shall be created, nor shall any additions be made to one heretofore created within the limits of the States of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, or Wyoming, except by Act of Congress.

(b) The President, in his discretion is authorized to establish as national forests or parts thereof, any lands within the boundaries of Government reservations, other than national parks, reservations for phosphate and other mineral deposits, or water-power purposes, national monuments and Indian reservations, which in the opinion of the Secretary of the department now administering the area and the Secretary of Agriculture are suitable for the production of timber, to be administered by the Secretary of Agriculture under such rules and regulations and in accordance with such general plans as may be jointly approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary formerly administering the area, for the use and occupation of such lands and for the sale of products therefrom. Any person who shall violate any rule or regulation promulgated under this subdivision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. (May 3, 1891, c. 561, § 24, 26 Stat. 1103; Mar. 4, 1907, c. 2907, 34 Stat. 1271; Aug. 24, 1912, c. 369, 37 Stat. 497; June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 9, 43 Stat. 655.)

472. Laws affecting national forest lands.—The Secretary of the Department of Agriculture shall execute or cause to be executed all laws affecting public lands reserved under the provisions of section 471 of this title, or sections supplemental to and amendatory thereof, subject to the provisions for national forests established under subdivision (b) of section 471 of this title, after such lands have been so reserved, excepting such laws as affect the surveying, prospecting, locating, appropriating, entering, relinquishing, reconveying, certifying, or patenting of any of such lands. (Feb. 1, 1905, c. 288, § 1, 33 Stat. 628.)

473. Revocation, modification, or vacation of orders or proclamations establishing national forests.—The President of the United States is authorized and empowered to revoke, modify, or suspend any and all Executive orders and proclamations or any part thereof issued under section 471 of this title, from time to time as he shall deem best for the public interests. By such modification he may reduce the area or change the boundary lines or may vacate altogether any order creating a national forest. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, §§ 1, 2, 30 Stat. 34, 36.)

474. Surveys; plats and field notes; maps; effect under Act June 4, 1897.—Surveys, field notes, and plats returned from the survey of public lands designated as national forests undertaken under the supervision of the Director of the Geological Survey in accordance with provisions of Act June 4, 1897, chapter 2, section 1, Thirtieth Statutes, page 34, shall have the same legal force and effect as surveys, field notes, and plats returned through the Field Surveying Service; and such surveys, which include subdivision surveys under the rectangular system, approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office as in other cases, and properly certified copies thereof shall be filed in the respective land offices of the districts in which such lands are situated, as in other cases. All laws inconsistent with the provisions hereof are declared inoperative as respects such survey. A copy of every topographic map and other maps showing the distribution of the forests, together with such field notes as may be taken relating thereto, shall be certified thereto by the Director of the Survey and filed in the General Land Office. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 34; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 462, 43 Stat. 1144.)

475. Purposes for which national forests may be established and administered.—All public lands heretofore designated and reserved prior to June 4, 1897, by the President of the United States under the provisions of section 471 of this title, the orders for which shall be and remain in full force and effect, unsuspended and unrevoked, and all public lands that may hereafter be set aside and reserved as national forests under said section, shall be as far as practicable controlled and administered in accordance with the following provisions. No national forest shall be established, except to improve and protect the forest within the boundaries, or for the purpose of securing favorable conditions of water flows, and to furnish a continuous supply of timber for the use and necessities of citizens of the United States; but it is not the purpose or intent of these provisions, or of section 471, to authorize the inclusion therein of lands more valuable for the mineral therein, or for agricultural purposes, than for forest purposes. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 34.)

476. Sale of timber.—For the purpose of preserving the living and growing timber and promoting the younger growth on national forests, the Secretary of Agriculture, under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe, may cause to be designated and appraised so much of the dead, matured, or large growth of trees found upon such national forests as may be compatible with the utilization of the forests thereon, and may sell the same for not less than the appraised value in such quantities to each purchaser as he shall prescribe, to be used in the State or Territory in which such timber reservation may be situated, respectively, but not for export therefrom. Before such sale shall take place notice thereof shall be given by the said Secretary of Agriculture for not less than thirty days, by publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation, as he may deem necessary, in the State or Territory where such reservation exists. In cases of unusual emergency the Secretary of Agriculture may, in the exercise of his discretion, permit the purchase of timber and cord wood in advance of advertisement of sale at rates of value approved by him and subject to payment of the full amount of the highest bid resulting from the usual advertisement of sale. He may, in his discretion, sell without advertisement, in quantities to suit applicants, at a fair appraisement, timber and cord wood and other forest products not exceeding in value $500. In cases in which advertisement is had and no satisfactory bid is received, or in cases in which the bidder fails to complete the purchase, the timber may be sold, without further advertisement, at private sale, in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture, at not less than the appraised valuation, in quantities to suit purchasers. Payments for such timber to be made to the receiver of the local land office of the district wherein said timber may be sold, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe; and the moneys arising therefrom shall be accounted for by the receiver of such land office to the Secretary of Agriculture, in a separate account, and shall be covered into the Treasury. Such timber, before being sold, shall be marked and designated, and shall be cut and removed under the supervision of some person appointed for that purpose by the Secretary of Agriculture not interested in the purchase or removal of such timber nor in the employment of the purchaser thereof. Such supervisor shall make report in writing to the Secretary of Agriculture and to the receiver in the land office in which such reservation shall be located of his doings in the premises. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 35; June 6, 1900, c. 804, 31 Stat. 661; Feb. 1, 1905, c. 288, 33 Stat. 628; June 30, 1906, c. 3913, 34 Stat. 684; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 457, § 3, 43 Stat. 1132.)

477. Use of timber and stone by settlers.—The Secretary of Agriculture may permit, under regulations to be prescribed by him, the use of timber and stone found upon national forests, free of charge, by bona fide settlers, miners, residents, and prospectors for minerals, for firewood, fencing, buildings, mining, prospecting, and other domestic purposes, as may be needed by such persons for such purposes; such timber to be used within the State or Territory, respectively, where such national forests may be located. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 35.)

478. Egress or ingress of actual settlers; prospecting.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as prohibiting the egress or ingress of actual settlers residing within the boundaries of national forests, or from crossing the same to and from their property or homes; and such wagon roads and other improvements may be constructed thereon as may be necessary to reach their homes and to utilize their property under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture. Nor shall anything herein prohibit any person from entering upon such national forests for all proper and lawful purposes, including that of prospecting, locating, and developing the mineral resources thereof. Such persons must comply with the rules and regulations covering such national forests. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 36.)

479. Sites for schools and churches.—The settlers residing within the exterior boundaries of national forests, or in the vicinity thereof, may maintain schools and churches within such national forest, and for that purpose may occupy any part of the said national forest, not exceeding two acres for each schoolhouse and one acre for a church. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 36.)

480. Civil and criminal jurisdiction.—The jurisdiction, both civil and criminal, over persons within national forests shall not be affected or changed by reason of their existence, except so far as the punishment of offenses against the United States therein is concerned; the intent and meaning of this provision being that the State wherein any such national forest is situated shall not, by reason of the establishment thereof, lose its jurisdiction, nor the inhabitants thereof their rights and privileges as citizens, or be absolved from their duties as citizens of the State. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 36; Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 12, 36 Stat. 963.)

481. Use of waters.—All waters within the boundaries of national forests may be used for domestic, mining, milling, or irrigation purposes, under the laws of the State wherein such national forests are situated, or under the laws of the United States and the rules and regulations established thereunder. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 36.)

482. Mineral lands; restoration to public domain; location and entry.—Upon the recommendation of the Secretary of the Interior, with the approval of the President, after sixty days' notice thereof, published in two papers of general circulation in the State or Territory wherein any national forest is situated, and near the said national forest, any public lands embraced within the limits of any such forest which, after due examination by personal inspection of a competent person appointed for that purpose by the Secretary of the Interior, shall be found better adapted for mining or for agricultural purposes than for forest usage, may be restored to the public domain. And any mineral lands in any national forest which have been or which may be shown to be such, and subject to entry under the existing mining laws of the United States and the rules and regulations applying thereto, shall continue to be subject to such location and entry, notwithstanding any provisions contained in this chapter. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 36.)

483. Exchange of lands in national forests with persons who have relinquished lands as basis for lieu selection; procedure; relinquishment of original lands to such persons.—Where any person or persons in good faith relinquished to the United States lands in a national forest as a basis for a lieu selection under the Act of June 4, 1897, chapter 2, section 1, Thirtieth Statutes, page 36, and failed to get their lieu selections of record prior to the passage of the Act of March 3, 1905, chapter 1495, Thirty-third Statutes, page 1264, or whose lieu selections, though duly filed, are finally rejected, the Secretary of the Interior, with the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture, upon application of such person or persons, their heirs or assigns, is authorized to accept title to such of the base lands as are desirable for national-forest purposes, which lands shall thereupon become parts of the nearest national forest, and, in exchange therefor, may issue patent for not to exceed an equal value of national-forest land, unoccupied, surveyed, and nonmineral in character, or the Secretary of Agriculture may authorize the grantor to cut and remove an equal value of timber within the national forests of the same State. Where an exchange can not be agreed upon the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby authorized to relinquish and quit claim to such person or persons, their heirs or assigns, all title to such lands which the respective relinquishments of such person or persons may have vested in the United States. Such person or persons, their heirs or assigns, shall, within five years after September 22, 1922, make satisfactory proof of the relinquishment of such lands to the United States by submitting to the Commissioner of the General Land Office an abstract of title to such lands showing relinquishment of the same to the United States, which abstract or abstracts shall be retained in the files of the General Land Office. (Sept. 22, 1922, c. 404, § 1, 42 Stat. 1017.)

484. Same; selection of other lands in lieu of lands relinquished.—If it shall appear that any of the lands relinquished to the United States for the purpose stated in the preceding section have been disposed of or appropriated to a public use, other than the general purposes for which the national forest within the bounds of which they are situate was created, such lands shall not be relinquished and quit-claimed as provided therein, unless the head of the department having jurisdiction over the lands shall consent to such relinquishment; and if he shall fail to so consent, or if any of the lands so relinquished have been otherwise disposed of by the United States, other surveyed, nonmineral, unoccupied, unreserved public lands of approximately equal area and value may be selected and patented in lieu of the lands so appropriated or disposed of in the manner and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by said Act of June 4, 1897, chapter 2, section 1, Thirtieth Statutes, page 36, and the regulations issued thereunder. Applications to make such lieu selections must be filed in the General Land Office within three years after September 22, 1922. (Sept. 22, 1922, c. 404, § 2, 42 Stat. 1017.)

485. Exchange of lands in national forests; cutting timber in national forests in exchange for lands therein.—When the public interests will be benefited thereby, the Secretary of the Interior is authorized in his discretion to accept on behalf of the United States title to any lands within the exterior boundaries of the national forests which, in the opinion of the Secretary of Agriculture, are chiefly valuable for national-forest purposes, and in exchange therefor may patent not to exceed an equal value of such national-forest land, in the same State, surveyed and nonmineral in character, or the Secretary of Agriculture may authorize the grantor to cut and remove an equal value of timber within the national forests of the same State; the values in each case to be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture. Before any such exchange is effected notice of the contemplated exchange reciting the lands involved shall be published once each week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the county or counties in which may be situated the lands to be accepted, and in some like newspaper published in any county in which may be situated any lands or timber to be given in such exchange. Timber given in such exchanges shall be cut and removed under the laws and regulations relating to the national forests, and under the direction and supervision and in accordance with the requirements of the Secretary of Agriculture. Lands conveyed to the United States under this section shall, upon acceptance of title, become parts of the national forest within whose exterior boundaries they are located. (Mar. 20, 1922, c. 105, § 1, 42 Stat. 465.)

486. Exchange of lands in national forests; reservations of timber, minerals, or easements.—Either party to an exchange may make reservations of timber, minerals, or easements, the values of which shall be duly considered in determining the values of the exchanged lands. Where reservations are made in lands conveyed to the United States the right to enjoy them shall be subject to such reasonable conditions respecting ingress and egress and the use of the surface of the land as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Agriculture; where mineral reservations are made in lands conveyed by the United States it shall be so stipulated in the patents, and that any person who acquires the right to mine and remove the reserved deposits may enter and occupy so much of the surface as may be required for all purposes incident to the mining and removal of the minerals therefrom, and may mine and remove such minerals upon payment to the owner of the surface for damages caused to the land and improvements thereon. All property, rights, easements, and benefits authorized by this section to be retained by or reserved to owners of lands conveyed to the United States shall be subject to the tax laws of the States where such lands are located. (Mar. 20, 1922, c. 105, § 2; Feb. 28, 1925, c. 375, 43 Stat. 1090.)

487. Cutting timber on land added to Siskiyou National Forest.—The Secretary of Agriculture is hereby authorized, in his discretion, to sell the merchantable timber on the land added to the Siskiyou National Forest by Act September 22, 1922, chapter 407, section 1, Forty-second Statutes 1019, in accordance with the regulations governing the sale of public timber in the national forests, and the entire proceeds of any sale of the timber on such land shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States in a special fund designated as "The Oregon and California land-grant fund," referred to in the Act of Congress approved June 9, 1916, chapter 137, section 10, Thirty-ninth Statutes, page 222, and be disposed of in the manner therein designated, the land added forming part of the area which revested in the United States under the provisions of the said Act. (Sept. 22, 1922, c. 407, § 2, 42 Stat. 1019.)

488. Establishment of exterior boundaries of national forests.—All standard, meander, township, and section lines of the public land surveys shall be established under the direction and supervision of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, whether the lands to be surveyed are within or without reservations, except that where the exterior boundaries of national forests are required to be coincident with standard, township, or section lines such boundaries may, if not previously established in the ordinary course of the public land surveys, be established and marked under the supervision of the Director of the United States Geological Survey whenever necessary to complete the survey of such exterior boundaries. (Mar. 3, 1899, c. 424, § 1, 30 Stat. 1097.)

489. Sale of mature, dead, and down timber.—The Secretary of Agriculture, under such rules and regulations as he shall establish, is authorized and directed to sell at actual cost, to homestead settlers and farmers, for their domestic use, the mature, dead, and down timber in national forests, but it is not the intent of this provision to restrict the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture to permit the free use of timber as provided in section 477 of this title. (Aug. 10, 1912, c. 284, 37 Stat. 287.)

490. Deposits from timber purchasers to defray cost of disposing of débris.—Deposits may be received from timber purchasers in such sums as the Secretary of Agriculture may require to cover the cost to the United States of disposing of brush and other débris resulting from cutting operations in sales of national forest timber; such deposits shall be covered into the Treasury and shall constitute a special fund, which is appropriated and made available until expended, as the Secretary of Agriculture may direct, to pay the cost of such work and to make refunds to the depositors of amounts deposited by them in excess of such cost. (Aug. 11, 1916, c. 313, 39 Stat. 462.)

491. Export of timber and other products.—The Secretary of Agriculture may, in his discretion, permit timber and other forest products cut or removed from the national forests to be exported from the State or Territory in which said forests are respectively situated. (Mar. 4, 1917, c. 179, 39 Stat. 1145; May 11, 1922, c. 185, 42 Stat. 519; Feb. 26, 1923, c. 119, 42 Stat. 1302; June 5, 1924, c. 266, 43 Stat. 443; Feb. 10, 1925, c. 200, 43 Stat. 834.)

492. Earth, stone, and timber for Navy, War Department, and Government works in Alaska.—Hereafter the Secretary of Agriculture, under regulations to be prescribed by him, is authorized to permit the Navy Department to take from the national forests such earth, stone, and timber for the use of the Navy as may be compatible with the administration of the national forests for the purposes for which they are established, and also in the same manner to permit the taking of earth, stone, and timber from the national forests for the construction of Government railways and other Government works in Alaska. The Secretary of Agriculture shall submit with his annual estimates a report of the quantity and market value of earth, stone, and timber furnished as provided in this section. He is authorized also to permit the War Department to take earth, stone, and timber from the national forests for use in the construction of river and harbor and other works in charge of that department, subject to such regulations and restrictions as he may prescribe. (Mar. 4, 1915, c. 144, 38 Stat. 1100; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 467, § 13, 43 Stat. 1197.)

493. Nebraska National Forest; trees from for homestead settlers.—The Secretary of Agriculture, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, may furnish young trees free, from the nurseries on the Nebraska National Forest, so far as they may be spared, to residents of the territory covered by section 224, paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of Title 43, Public Lands. (May 11, 1922, c. 185, 42 Stat. 520; Feb. 26, 1923, c. 119, 42 Stat. 1304; June 5, 1924, c. 266, 43 Stat. 445; Feb. 10, 1925, c. 200, 43 Stat. 835.)

494. Calaveras Bigtree National Forest.—The Secretary of Agriculture, to secure and protect for all time the big trees scientifically known as Sequoia washingtoniana, is empowered, in his discretion, to obtain for the United States the complete title to any or all of the following-described lands in the State of California: In township 4 north, range 15 east, Mount Diablo meridian, the northeast quarter of section 1; in township 4 north, range 16 east, Mount Diablo meridian, the north half of section 6; in township 5 north, range 15 east, Mount Diablo meridian, the southwest quarter of section 14, south half of section 15, north half of section 22, northwest quarter of section 23, and southeast quarter of section 36, and in township 5 north, range 16 east, Mount Diablo meridian, the west half of section 28, the east half and southwest quarter of section 29, the southeast quarter of section 30, all of sections 31, 32, and the northwest quarter of section 33. And such area or areas, as fast as complete title is acquired, shall be permanently held by the United States and shall be known as the Calaveras Bigtree National Forest and shall be administered, and protected, by the Secretary of Agriculture from the funds appropriated for the administration of National Forest land to prolong the existence, growth, and promote the reproduction of said big trees. The owners of land acquired hereunder shall convey to the United States full title to any of the above-described areas approved for said national forest by the Secretary of Agriculture, the completeness of such title to be determined by the Secretary of the Interior in each case, and shall be reimbursed therefor only in one or both of the following ways: (1) They may be given the right to file with the Secretary of the Interior, within sixty days after such conveyance, selections of surveyed, unappropriated, nonmineral public lands or of nonmineral national forest lands, and if the lands so selected shall be found subject to selection and of the actual value in lands and stumpage substantially equal to that of the lands and stumpage conveyed they may be patented to said owners in lieu of the conveyed lands. In any case where any part of the lands selected is national forest land, the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture shall first be secured with respect to such part, or (2) the Secretary of Agriculture may grant to any such conveying owner the right to cut from national forest land an amount of timber and wood, substantially equal to the amount of timber and wood on the land acquired by the United States under the provisions of this section. (Feb. 18, 1909, c. 143, 35 Stat. 626; May 7, 1912, c. 105, 37 Stat. 108.)

495. Leases of lands for sanitariums or hotels.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized, under such rules and regulations as he from time to time may make, to rent or lease to responsible persons or corporations applying therefor suitable spaces and portions of ground near, or adjacent to, mineral, medicinal, or other springs, within any national forest established within the United States, or hereafter to be established, and where the public is accustomed or desires to frequent, for health or pleasure, for the purpose of erecting upon such leased ground sanitariums or hotels, to be opened for the reception of the public. And he is further authorized to make such regulations, for the convenience of people visiting such springs, with reference to spaces and locations, for the erection of tents or temporary dwelling houses to be erected or constructed for the use of those visiting such springs for health or pleasure. And the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to prescribe the terms and duration and the compensation to be paid for the privileges granted under the provisions of this section. (Feb. 28, 1899, c. 221, § 1, 30 Stat. 908; Feb. 1, 1905, c. 288, § 1, 33 Stat. 628.)

496. Same; disposition of funds from.—All funds arising from the privileges granted under section 495 of this title shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as provided by law. (Feb. 28, 1899, c. 221, § 2, 30 Stat. 908; Mar. 4, 1907, c. 2907, 34 Stat. 1270.)

497. Use and occupation of lands for summer homes, hotels, and stores.—The Secretary of Agriculture may, upon such terms as he may deem proper, for periods not exceeding thirty years, permit responsible persons or associations to use and occupy suitable spaces or portions of ground in the national forest for the construction of summer homes, hotels, stores, or other structures needed for recreation or public convenience, not exceeding five acres to any one person or association, but this shall not be construed to interfere with the right to enter homesteads upon agricultural lands in national forests as provided by law. (Mar. 4, 1915, c. 144, 38 Stat. 1101.)

498. Disposal of moneys received; refund of excess.—All moneys received as contributions toward cooperative work in forest investigations, or the protection and improvement of the national forests, shall be covered into the Treasury and shall constitute a special fund, which is appropriated and made available until expended, as the Secretary of Agriculture may direct, for the payment of the expenses of said investigations, protection, or improvements by the Forest Service, and for refunds to the contributors of amounts heretofore or hereafter paid in by them in excess of their share of the cost of said investigations, protection, or improvements. Annual report shall be made to Congress of all such moneys so received as contributions for such cooperative work. (June 30, 1914, c. 131, 38 Stat. 430.)

499. Disposal of money received by or on account of Forest Service; refund of excess and moneys erroneously collected; receipts from permits.—All money received by or on account of the Forest Service for timber, or from any other source of national-forest revenue, including moneys received from sale of products from or use of lands in national forests created under section 471 (b) of this title, and moneys received on account of permits for hunting, fishing, or camping on lands acquired under authority of sections 513 to 517 and 521 of this title, shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as a miscellaneous receipt, and except as provided in sections 500 and 501 of this title, there is appropriated and made available as the Secretary of Agriculture may direct out of any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, so much as may be necessary to make refunds to depositors of money heretofore or hereafter deposited by them to secure the purchase price on the sale of any products or for the use of any land or resources of the national forests in excess of amounts found actually due from them to the United States and also so much as may be necessary to refund or pay over to the rightful claimants such sums as may be found by the Secretary of Agriculture to have been erroneously collected for the use of any lands, or for timber or other resources sold from lands located within, but not a part of, the national forests, or for alleged illegal acts done upon such lands, which acts are subsequently found to have been proper and legal; and the Secretary of Agriculture shall make annual report to Congress of the amounts refunded hereunder. (Mar. 4, 1907, c. 2907, 34 Stat. 1270; Mar. 4, 1911, c. 238, 36 Stat. 1253; Mar. 4, 1917, c. 179, 39 Stat. 1150; June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 9, 43 Stat. 655.)

500. Payment of receipts to State for schools and roads.—Twenty-five per centum of all moneys received during any fiscal year from each national forest shall be paid, at the end of such year, by the Secretary of the Treasury to the State in which such national forest is situated, to be expended as the State legislature may prescribe for the benefit of the public schools and public roads of the county or counties in which such national forest is situated. When any national forest is in more than one State or county the distributive share to each from the proceeds of such forest shall be proportional to its area therein. There shall not be paid to any State for any county an amount equal to more than 40 per centum of the total income of such county from all other sources. (May 23, 1908, c. 192, 35 Stat. 260; Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 13, 36 Stat. 963; June 30, 1914, c. 131, 38 Stat. 441.)

501. Expenditures from receipts for roads and trails; cooperation with State authorities.—Ten per centum of all moneys received from the national forests during each fiscal year shall be available at the end thereof, to be expended by the Secretary of Agriculture for the construction and maintenance of roads and trails within the national forests in the States from which such proceeds are derived; but the Secretary of Agriculture may, whenever practicable, in the construction and maintenance of such roads, secure the cooperation or aid of the proper State or Territorial authorities in the furtherance of any system of highways of which such roads may be made a part. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 145, 37 Stat. 843.)

502. Reimbursement to owners of equipment damaged or destroyed while fire fighting.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to reimburse owners of horses, vehicles, and other equipment lost, damaged, or destroyed while being used for necessary fire fighting, trail, or official business, such reimbursement to be made from any available funds in the appropriation to which the hire of such equipment is properly chargeable. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 145, 37 Stat. 843.)

503. Appropriation for roads and trails; cooperation of States; aggregate expenditure.—There is appropriated and made available until expended, out of any moneys in the National Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $1,000,000 for each fiscal year up to and including the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, in all $10,000,000, to be available until expended under the supervision of the Secretary of Agriculture, upon request from the proper officers of the State, Territory, or county for the survey, construction, and maintenance of roads and trails within or only partly within the national forests, when necessary for the use and development of resources upon which communities within and adjacent to the national forests are dependent. The State, Territory, or county shall enter into a cooperative agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture for the survey, construction, and maintenance of such roads or trails, upon a basis equitable to both the State, Territory, or county, and the United States. The aggregate expenditures in any State, Territory, or county shall not exceed 10 per centum of the value, as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, of the timber and forage resources which are or will be available for income upon the national forest lands within the respective county or counties wherein the roads or trails will be constructed; and the Secretary of Agriculture shall make annual report to Congress of the amounts expended hereunder.

Immediately upon the execution of any cooperative agreement hereunder the Secretary of Agriculture shall notify the Secretary of the Treasury of the amount to be expended by the United States within or adjacent to any national forest thereunder, and each fiscal year the Secretary of the Treasury shall apply from any and all revenues from such forest 10 per centum thereof to reimburse the United States for expenditures made under such agreement until the whole amount advanced under such agreement shall have been returned from the receipts from such national forest. (July 11, 1916, c. 241, § 8, 39 Stat. 358.)

504. Purchases of tree seed, cones, and nursery stock for national forests.—The Secretary of Agriculture may procure tree seed, cones, and nursery stock, for seeding and tree planting within national forests, and for experiments and investigations necessary for such seeding and tree planting, by open purchase, without advertisements for proposals, whenever in his discretion such method is most economical and in the public interest and when the cost thereof will not exceed $500. (June 30, 1914, c. 131, 38 Stat. 429.)

505. Use of national forests established on land reserved for purposes of national defense; maintenance available.—Where a national forest is established under section 471(b) of this title on land previously reserved for the Army or Navy for purposes of national defense the land shall remain subject to the unhampered use of the War or Navy Department for said purposes and nothing in this section or section 471(b) shall be construed to relinquish the authority over such lands for purposes of national defense now vested in the department for which the lands were formerly reserved. Any moneys available for the maintenance, improvement, protection, construction of highways and general administration of the national forests shall be available for expenditure on national forests created under such section. (June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 9, 43 Stat. 655.)

506. Agricultural lands opened to homestead entry.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized, in his discretion, upon application or otherwise, to examine and ascertain as to the location and extent of lands within permanent or temporary national forests except in the counties of San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara, in the State of California, which are chiefly valuable for agriculture, and which, in his opinion, may be occupied for agricultural purposes without injury to such national forests and which are not needed for public purposes, and may list and describe the same by metes and bounds, or otherwise, and file the lists and descriptions with the Secretary of the Interior, with the request that the said lands be opened to entry in accordance with the provisions of the homestead laws and sections 506 to 509 of this title.

Upon the filing of any such list or description the Secretary of the Interior shall declare the said lands open to homestead settlement and entry in tracts not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres in area and not exceeding one mile in length, at the expiration of sixty days from the filing of the list in the land office of the district within which the lands are located, during which period the said list or description shall be prominently posted in the land office and advertised for a period of not less than four weeks in one newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the lands are situated. Any settler actually occupying and in good faith claiming such lands for agricultural purposes prior to January 1, 1906, and who shall not have abandoned the same, and the person, if qualified to make a homestead entry, upon whose application the land proposed to be entered was examined and listed, shall, each in the order named, have a preference right of settlement and entry. Any entryman desiring to obtain patent to any lands described by metes and bounds entered by him under the provisions of sections 506 to 509 shall, within five years of the date of making settlement, file, with the required proof of residence and cultivation, a plat and field notes of the lands entered, made by or under the direction of the United States supervisor of surveys, showing accurately the boundaries of such lands, which shall be distinctly marked by monuments on the ground, and by posting a copy of such plat, together with a notice of the time and place of offering proof, in a conspicuous place on the land embraced in such plat during the period prescribed by law for the publication of his notice of intention to offer proof, and that a copy of such plat and field notes shall also be kept posted in the office of the register of the land office for the land district in which such lands are situated for a like period; and further, that any agricultural lands within forest reserves may, at the discretion of the Secretary, be surveyed by metes and bounds, and that no lands entered under the provisions of sections 506 to 509 shall be patented under the commutation provisions of the homestead laws, but settlers, upon final proof, shall have credit for the period of their actual residence upon the lands covered by their entries. No land listed under the aforesaid sections shall pass from the forest until patent issues. (June 11, 1906, c. 3074, § 1, 34 Stat. 233; May 30, 1908, c. 233, 35 Stat. 554; Aug. 10, 1912, c. 284, 37 Stat. 287; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 462, 43 Stat. 1144.)

507. Additional homestead right of entry to former settlers.—Settlers upon lands chiefly valuable for agriculture within national forests on January 1, 1906, who had on that date exercised or lost their homestead privilege, but were otherwise competent to enter lands under the homestead laws, are granted an additional homestead right of entry for the purposes of sections 506 to 509 of this title only, and such settlers must otherwise comply with the provisions of the homestead law, and in addition thereto must pay $2.50 per acre for lands entered under the provisions of this section, such payment to be made at the time of making final proof on such lands. (June 11, 1906, c. 3074, § 2, 34 Stat. 234.)

508. Entries in Black Hills National Forest subject to mining laws and to appropriation of waters.—All entries under sections 506 to 509 of this title in the Black Hills National Forest shall be subject to the quartz or lode mining laws of the United States, and the laws and regulations permitting the location, appropriation, and use of the waters within the said national forest for mining, irrigation, and other purposes; and no titles acquired to agricultural lands in said Black Hills National Forest under said sections shall vest in the patentee any riparian rights to any stream or streams of flowing water within said forest; and that such limitation of title shall be expressed in the patents for the lands covered by such entries. (June 11, 1906, c. 3074, § 3, 34 Stat. 234.)

509. Future settlements on lands within reserves, and rights of former bona fide settlers.—Nothing contained within sections 506 to 509, inclusive, of this title shall be held to authorize any future settlement on any lands within national forests until such lands have been opened to settlement as provided in said sections, or to in any way impair the legal rights of any bona fide homestead settler who has or shall establish residence upon public lands prior to their inclusion within a national forest. (June 11, 1906, c. 3074, § 5, 34 Stat. 234.)

510. Right of homestead entry extended to certain lands.—The provisions of sections 506 to 509, inclusive, of this title shall apply to all lands within the national forests in Lawrence and Pennington Counties in South Dakota. (Aug. 8, 1916, c. 295, 39 Stat. 440.)

511. Reinstatement of entries canceled or relinquished.—All homestead entries which have been canceled or relinquished, or are invalid solely because of the erroneous allowance of such entries after the withdrawal of lands for national-forest purposes, may be reinstated or allowed to remain intact, but in the case of entries heretofore canceled applications for reinstatement must have been filed in the proper local land office prior to July 1, 1912. (Mar. 3, 1911, c. 225, § 1, 36 Stat. 1084.)

512. Segregation of lands for homestead entry.—The Secretary of Agriculture is directed and required to select, classify, and segregate, as soon as practicable, all lands within the boundaries of national forests that may be opened to settlement and entry under the homestead laws applicable to the national forests. And after March 4, 1913, such surveys, and the plats and field notes thereof, shall be made by employees of the Forest Service, to be designated by the United States supervisor of surveys, and such surveys and the plats and field notes thereof shall be approved by the United States supervisor of surveys. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 145, 37 Stat. 842; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 462, 43 Stat. 1144.)

513. National Forest Reservation Commission; annual report to Congress.—The National Forest Reservation Commission shall consist of the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of Agriculture, and two Members of the Senate, to be selected by the President of the Senate and two Members of the House of Representatives, to be selected by the Speaker, and is authorized to consider and pass upon such lands as may be recommended for purchase as provided in section 515 of this title, and to fix the price or prices at which such lands may be purchased, and no purchases shall be made of any lands until such lands have been duly approved for purchase by said commission. The members of the commission shall serve as such only during their incumbency in their respective official positions, and any vacancy on the commission shall be filled in the manner as the original appointment. It shall report annually to Congress through its president, not later than the first Monday in December, its operations and expenditures in detail, during the preceding fiscal year. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, §§ 4, 5, 36 Stat. 962.)

514. Appropriation for expenses of commission; payments.—A sum sufficient to pay the necessary expenses of the commission and its members, not to exceed an annual expenditure of $25,000, is appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. Said appropriation shall be immediately available, and shall be paid out on the audit and order of the president of the said commission, which audit and order shall be conclusive and binding upon all departments as to the correctness of the accounts of said commission. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 14, 36 Stat. 963.)

515. Examination, location and recommendation for purchase of forested, cut-over, or denuded lands, and report by Secretary of Agriculture.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed to examine, locate and recommend for purchase such forested, cut-over or denuded lands within the watersheds of navigable streams as in his judgment may be necessary to the regulation of the flow of navigable streams or for the production of timber and to report to the National Forest Reservation Commission the results of such examination; but before any lands are purchased by the commission said lands shall be examined by the Secretary of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Director of the Geological Survey, and a report made by them to the commission showing that the control of such lands by the Federal Government will promote or protect the navigation of streams or by the Secretary of Agriculture showing that such control will promote the production of timber thereon. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 6, 36 Stat. 962; June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 6, 43 Stat. 654.)

516. Purchase of lands approved by commission; consent of State; exchange of lands; cutting and removing timber.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to purchase, in the name of the United States, such lands as have been approved for purchase by the National Forest Reservation Commission at the price or prices fixed by said commission. No deed or other instrument of conveyance shall be accepted or approved by the Secretary of Agriculture under this section until the legislature of the State in which the land lies shall have consented to the acquisition of such land by the United States for the purpose of preserving the navigability of navigable streams. With the approval of the National Forests Reservation Commission as provided by this section and section 515 of this title, and when the public interests will be benefitted thereby, the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized, in his discretion, to accept on behalf of the United States title to any lands within the exterior boundaries of national forests acquired under said sections which, in his opinion, are chiefly valuable for the purposes as therein stated, and in exchange therefor to convey by deed not to exceed an equal value of such national forest land in the same State, or he may authorize the grantor to cut and remove an equal value of timber within such national forests in the same State, the values in each case to be determined by him. Before any such exchange is effected notice of the contemplated exchange reciting the lands involved shall be published once each week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the county or counties in which may be situated the lands to be accepted, and in some like newspaper published in any county in which may be situated any lands or timber to be given in such exchange. Timber given in such exchanges shall be cut and removed under the laws and regulations relating to such national forests, and under the direction and supervision and in accordance with the requirements of the Secretary of Agriculture. Lands so accepted by the Secretary of Agriculture shall, upon acceptance, become parts of the national forests within whose exterior boundaries they are located, and be subject to all the provisions of sections 480, 500, 513 to 519 and 521 of this title. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 7, 36 Stat. 962; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 473, 43 Stat. 1215.)

517. Title to lands to be acquired.—The Secretary of Agriculture may do all things necessary to secure the safe title in the United States to the lands to be acquired under sections 513 to 519 and 521 of this title, but no payment shall be made for any such lands until the title shall be satisfactory to the Attorney General and shall be vested in the United States. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 8, 36 Stat. 962.)

518. Acquisition of lands not defeated by rights of way, easements, and reservations.—Such acquisition by the United States shall in no case be defeated because of located or defined rights of way, easements, and reservations, which, from their nature will, in the opinion of the National Forest Reservation Commission and the Secretary of Agriculture, in no manner interfere with the use of the lands so encumbered, for the purposes of sections 480, 500, 513 to 519, and 521 of this title. Such rights of way, easements, and reservations retained by the owner from whom the United States receives title, shall be subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture for their occupation, use, operation, protection, and administration, and that such rules and regulations shall be expressed in and made part of the written instrument conveying title to the lands to the United States; and the use, occupation, and operation of such rights of way, easements, and reservations shall be under, subject to, and in obedience with the rules and regulations so expressed. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 9, 36 Stat. 962; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 145, 37 Stat. 855.)

519. Agricultural lands included in tracts acquired; sale for homesteads.—Inasmuch as small areas of land chiefly valuable for agriculture may of necessity or by inadvertence be included in tracts acquired under this section and sections 513 to 518 of this title, the Secretary of Agriculture may, in his discretion, and he is authorized, upon application or otherwise, to examine and ascertain the location and extent of such areas as in his opinion may be occupied for agricultural purposes without injury to the forests or to stream flow and which are not needed for public purposes, and may list and describe the same by metes and bounds, or otherwise, and offer them for sale as homesteads at their true value, to be fixed by him, to actual settlers, in tracts not exceeding eighty acres, in area, under such joint rules and regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe; and in case of such sale the jurisdiction over the lands sold shall, ipso facto, revert to the State in which the lands sold lie. And no right, title, interest, or claim in or to any lands acquired under said sections, or the waters thereon, or the products, resources, or use thereof after such lands shall have been so acquired, shall be initiated or perfected, except as in this section provided. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 10, 36 Stat. 962.)

520. Regulations as to mineral resources.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized, under general regulations to be prescribed by him, to permit the prospecting, development, and utilization of the mineral resources of the lands acquired under sections 513 to 519 of this title, upon such terms and for specified periods or otherwise, as he may deem to be for the best interests of the United States; and all moneys received on account of charges, if any, made under said sections shall be disposed of as is provided by existing law for the disposition of receipts from national forests. (Mar. 4, 1917, c. 179, 39 Stat. 1150.)

521. Lands acquired to be reserved, held, and administered as national forest lands; designation.—Subject to the provisions of the last preceding section, the lands acquired under sections 513 to 519 of this title shall be permanently reserved, held, and administered as national forest lands under the provisions of section 471 of this title. And the Secretary of Agriculture may from time to time divide the lands acquired under the aforesaid sections into such specific national forests and so designate the same as he may deem best for administrative purposes. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 11, 36 Stat. 963.)

522. Rights of way for electrical plants.—That the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and empowered, under general regulations to be fixed by him, to permit the use of rights of way through the national forests for electrical plants, poles, and lines for the generation and distribution of electrical power, and for telephone and telegraph purposes, and for canals, ditches, pipes and pipe lines, flumes, tunnels, or other water conduits, and for water plants, dams, and reservoirs used to promote irrigation or mining or quarrying, or the manufacturing or cutting of timber or lumber, or the supplying of water for domestic, public, or any other beneficial uses to the extent of the ground occupied by such canals, ditches, flumes, tunnels, reservoirs, or other water conduits or water plants, or electrical or other works permitted hereunder, and not to exceed fifty feet on each side of the marginal limits thereof, or not to exceed fifty feet on each side of the center line of such pipes and pipe lines, electrical, telegraph, and telephone lines and poles, by any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States, where it is intended by such to exercise the use permitted hereunder or any one or more of the purposes herein named. Such permits shall be allowed within or through any national forest, only upon the approval of the chief officer of the department under whose supervision such national forest falls and upon a finding by him that the same is not incompatible with the public interest. All permits given hereunder for telegraph and telephone purposes shall be subject to the provision of sections 1 to 6 and 8 of Title 47 TELEGRAPHS, TELEPHONES, AND RADIOTELEGRAPHS, regulating rights of way for telegraph companies over the public domain. Any permission given by the Secretary of Agriculture under the provisions of this section may be revoked by him or his successor in his discretion, and shall not be held to confer any right, or easement, or interest in, to, or over any national forest. (Feb. 15, 1901, c. 372, 31 Stat. 790.)

523. Rights of way for electrical poles and lines.—The head of the department having jurisdiction over the lands is authorized and empowered, under general regulations to be fixed by him, to grant an easement for rights of way, for a period not exceeding fifty years from the date of the issuance of such grant, over, across, and upon the national forests of the United States for electrical poles and lines for the transmission and distribution of electrical power, and for poles and lines for telephone and telegraph purposes, to the extent of twenty feet on each side of the center line of such electrical, telephone and telegraph lines and poles, to any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States, where it is intended by such to exercise the right of way herein granted for any one or more of the purposes herein named. Such right of way shall be allowed within or through any national forest only upon the approval of the chief officer of the department under whose supervision or control such national forest falls, and upon a finding by him that the same is not incompatible with the public interest. All or any part of such right of way may be forfeited and annulled by declaration of the head of the department having jurisdiction over the lands for nonuse for a period of two years or for abandonment.

Any citizen, association, or corporation of the United States to whom there has been issued a permit prior to March 4, 1911, for any of the purposes specified herein under any law existing at that date, may obtain the benefit of this section upon the same terms and conditions as shall be required of citizens, associations, or corporations making application under the provisions of this section subsequent to said date. (Mar. 4, 1911, c. 238, 36 Stat. 1253.)

524. Rights of way for dams, reservoirs, or water plants for municipal, mining, and milling purposes.—Rights of way for the construction and maintenance of dams, reservoirs, water plants, ditches, flumes, pipes, tunnels, and canals, within and across the national forests of the United States, are granted to citizens and corporations of the United States for municipal or mining purposes, and for the purposes of the milling and reduction of ores, during the period of their beneficial use, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture, and subject to the laws of the State or Territory in which said forests are respectively situated. (Feb. 1, 1905, c. 288, § 4, 33 Stat. 628.)

525. Rights of way for wagon roads or railroads.—In the form provided by existing law the Secretary of the Interior may file and approve surveys and plats of any right of way for a wagon road, railroad, or other highway over and across any national forest when in his judgment the public interests will not be injuriously affected thereby. (Mar. 3, 1899, c. 427, § 1, 30 Stat. 1233.)

Chapter 3.—FOREST PROTECTION; FOREST SERVICE; REFORESTATION.

Sec.
551. Protection of national forests; rules and regulations.
552. Consent to agreement by States for conservation of forests and water supply.
553. Duties of officials of Forest Service; stock laws; protection of fish and game.
554. Forest supervisors and rangers.
555. Forest headquarters and ranger stations.
556. Appropriations for Forest Service; use for transportation or traveling expenses; preparation or publication of newspaper or magazine articles.
557. Employees of Forest Service; subsistence furnished to; personal equipment; supplies, and medical attention.
558. Leaves of absence to employees of Forest Service in Alaska.
559. Arrests for violations of laws and regulations by employees of Forest Service.
560. Use of timber for telephone lines for fire protection.
561. Transfer of telephone supplies to Department of Agriculture for use of Forest Service.
562. Forest experiment station in California.
563. Cooperation with States for fire protection on private or State forest lands upon the watersheds of navigable rivers.
564. Cooperation by Secretary of Agriculture with State officials as to recommendations of systems of forest fire prevention and suppression.
565. Cooperation by Secretary of Agriculture with State officials in protection of timbered and forest-producing lands from fire; limitation on amount of expenditures by United States.
566. Expenditure by Secretary of Agriculture for study of effects of tax laws, and so forth, upon forest perpetuation, and so forth; appropriation.
567. Cooperation by Secretary of Agriculture with States in procuring, and so forth, forest-tree seeds and plants; limitation on expenditure; appropriation.
568. Cooperation by Secretary of Agriculture with States in establishing, and so forth, wood lots, shelter belts, windbreaks, and so forth; limitation on expenditure; appropriation.
569. Donations to United States of lands for timber purposes.
570. Ascertainment by Secretary of Agriculture of public lands valuable for stream-flow protection and report thereof.
571. Buildings for national forest purposes; construction, and so forth.
572. Special fund for payment of expenses of reforestation, administration, or protection of forests by Forest Service, and for refunds to contributors.

Section 551. Protection of national forests; rules and regulations.—The Secretary of Agriculture shall make provisions for the protection against destruction by fire and depredations upon the public forests and national forests which may have been set aside or which may be hereafter set aside under the provisions of section 471 of this title, and which may be continued; and he may make such rules and regulations and establish such service as will insure the objects of such reservations, namely, to regulate their occupancy and use and to preserve the forests thereon from destruction; and any violation of the provisions of sections 473 to 483 of this title or such rules and regulation shall be punished as is provided for in section 104 of Title 18. (June 4, 1897, c. 2, § 1, 30 Stat. 35; Feb. 1, 1905, c. 288, § 1, 33 Stat. 628.)

552. Consent to agreement by States for conservation of forests and water supply.—Consent of the Congress of the United States is given to each of the several States of the Union to enter into any agreement or compact, not in conflict with any law of the United States, with any other State or States for the purpose of conserving the forests and the water supply of the States entering into such agreement or compact. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 1, 36 Stat. 961.)

553. Duties of officials of Forest Service; stock laws; protection of fish and game.—Officials of the Forest Service designated by the Secretary of Agriculture shall, in all ways that are practicable, aid in the enforcement of the laws of the States or Territories with regard to stock, for the prevention and extinguishment of forest fires, and for the protection of fish and game, and with respect to national forests, shall aid the other Federal bureaus and departments on request from them, in the performance of the duties imposed on them by law. (May 23, 1908, c. 192, 35 Stat. 259.)

554. Forest supervisors and rangers.—Forest supervisors and rangers shall be selected, when practicable, from qualified citizens of the States or Territories in which the national forests, respectively, are situated. (Feb. 1, 1905, c. 288, § 3, 33 Stat. 628.)

555. Forest headquarters and ranger stations.—Where no suitable Government land is available for national forest headquarters or ranger stations, the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to purchase such lands out of any funds appropriated for building improvements on the national forests, but not more than $2,500 shall be so expended in any one year; and to accept donations of land for any national forest purpose. (Mar. 3, 1925, c. 457, § 5, 43 Stat. 1133.)

556. Appropriations for Forest Service; use for transportation or traveling expenses; preparation or publication of newspaper or magazine articles.—No part of any funds appropriated for the Forest Service shall be used to pay the transportation or traveling expenses of any forest officer or agent except he be traveling on business directly connected with the Forest Service and in furtherance of the works, aims, and objects specified and authorized by law; nor shall any such funds be paid or used for the purpose of paying for, in whole or in part, the preparation or publication of any newspaper or magazine article, but this shall not prevent the giving out to all persons, without discrimination, including newspapers and magazine writers and publishers, of any facts or official information of value to the public. (May 11, 1922, c. 185, 42 Stat. 521.)

557. Employees of Forest Service; subsistence furnished to; personal equipment; supplies, and medical attention.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to furnish subsistence to employees of the Forest Service, to purchase personal equipment and supplies for them, and to make deductions therefor from moneys appropriated for salary payments or otherwise due such employees. He is also authorized, in his discretion, to provide out of moneys appropriated for the general expenses of the Forest Service medical attention for employees of the Forest Service located at isolated situations, including the moving of such employees to hospitals or other places where medical assistance is available, and in case of death to remove the bodies of deceased employees to the nearest place where they can be prepared for shipment or for burial. (Mar. 3, 1925, c. 457, §§ 4, 6, 43 Stat. 1133.)

558. Leaves of absence to employees of Forest Service in Alaska.—Employees of the Forest Service who are assigned to permanent duty in Alaska may, in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture, without additional expense to the Government, be granted leave of absence not to exceed thirty days in any one year, which leave may, in exceptional and meritorious cases, where such an employee is ill, be extended, in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture, not to exceed thirty days additional in any one year. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 145, 37 Stat. 843.)

559. Arrests for violations of laws and regulations by employees of Forest Service.—All persons employed in the Forest Service of the United States shall have authority to make arrests for the violation of the laws and regulations relating to the national forests and national parks, and any person so arrested shall be taken before the nearest United States commissioner, within whose jurisdiction the forest or national park is located, for trial; and upon sworn information by any competent person any United States commissioner in the proper jurisdiction shall issue process for the arrest of any person charged with the violation of said laws and regulations; but nothing herein contained shall be construed as preventing the arrest by any officer of the United States, without process, of any person taken in the act of violating said laws and regulations. (Mar. 3, 1905, c. 1405, 33 Stat. 872.)

560. Use of timber for telephone lines for fire protection.—The Secretary of Agriculture, whenever he may deem it necessary for the protection of the national forests from fire, may permit the use of timber free of charge for the construction of telephone lines. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 145, 37 Stat. 843.)

561. Transfer of telephone supplies to Department of Agriculture for use of Forest Service.—The Secretary of War is authorized and directed to transfer to the Department of Agriculture, for the use of the Forest Service, such telephone supplies pertaining to the Military Establishment which have been found to be surplus and no longer required for military purposes and are needed for the present use of the said service. Freight charges incurred in the transfer of the property provided for in this section shall not be defrayed by the War Department, and if the War Department shall load any of said property for shipment the expense of said loading shall be reimbursed to the War Department by the department to which the property is transferred by an adjustment of the appropriations of the two departments. (Mar. 15, 1920, c. 100, §§ 3, 4, 41 Stat. 531.)

562. Forest experiment station in California.—In order to determine and demonstrate the best methods for the conservative management of forest and forest lands and the protection of timber and other forest products, the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed (1) to establish and maintain, in cooperation with the State of California and with the surrounding States, a forest experiment station at such place or places as he may determine to be most suitable, and (2) to conduct, independently or in cooperation with other branches of the Federal Government, the States, universities, colleges, county, and municipal agencies, business organizations, and individuals, such silvicultural, dendrological, forest fire, economic, and other experiments and investigations as may be necessary. (Mar. 3, 1925, c. 424, § 1, 43 Stat. 1108.)

563. Cooperation with States for fire protection on private or State forest lands upon the watersheds of navigable rivers.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized, and on such conditions as he deems wise, to stipulate and agree with any State or group of States to cooperate in the organization and maintenance of a system of fire protection on any private or State forest lands within such State or States and situated upon the watershed of a navigable river. No such stipulation or agreement shall be made with any State which has not provided by law for a system of forest-fire protection. In no case shall the amount expended in any State exceed in any fiscal year the amount appropriated by that State for the same purpose during the same fiscal year. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 186, § 2, 36 Stat. 961.)

564. Cooperation by Secretary of Agriculture with State officials as to recommendations of systems of forest fire prevention and suppression.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed, in cooperation with appropriate officials of the various States or other suitable agencies, to recommend for each forest region of the United States such systems of forest fire prevention and suppression as will adequately protect the timbered and cut-over lands therein with a view to the protection of forest and water resources and the continuous production of timber on lands chiefly suitable therefor. (June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 1, 43 Stat. 653.)

565. Cooperation by Secretary of Agriculture with State officials in protection of timbered and forest-producing lands from fire; limitation on amount of expenditures by United States.—If the Secretary of Agriculture shall find that the system and practice of forest fire prevention and suppression provided by any State substantially promotes the objects described in the foregoing section, he is hereby authorized and directed, under such conditions as he may determine to be fair and equitable in each State, to cooperate with appropriate officials of each State, and through them with private and other agencies therein, in the protection of timbered and forest-producing lands from fire. In no case other than for preliminary investigations shall the amount expended by the Federal Government in any State during any fiscal year, under this section, exceed the amount expended by the State for the same purpose during the same fiscal year, including the expenditures of forest owners or operators which are required by State law or which are made in pursuance of the forest protection system of the State under State supervision and for which in all cases the State renders satisfactory accounting. In the cooperation extended to the several States due consideration shall be given to the protection of watersheds of navigable streams, but such cooperation may, in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture, be extended to any timbered or forest producing lands, or watersheds from which water is secured for domestic use or irrigation, within the cooperating States. (June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 2, 43 Stat. 653; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 447, 43 Stat. 1127.)

566. Expenditure by Secretary of Agriculture for study of effects of tax laws, and so forth, upon forest perpetuation, and so forth; appropriation.—The Secretary of Agriculture shall expend such portions of the appropriations authorized herein as he deems advisable to study the effects of tax laws, methods, and practices upon forest perpetuation, to cooperate with appropriate officials of the various States or other suitable agencies in such investigations and in devising tax laws designed to encourage the conservation and growing of timber, and to investigate and promote practical methods of insuring standing timber on growing forests from losses by fire and other causes. There is authorized to be appropriated annually, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, not more than $2,500,000, to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out the provisions of this section and sections 564 and 565 of this title. (June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 3, 43 Stat. 653.)

567. Cooperation by Secretary of Agriculture with States in procuring, and so forth, forest-tree seeds and plants; limitation on expenditure; appropriation.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed to cooperate with the various States in the procurement, production, and distribution of forest-tree seeds and plants, for the purpose of establishing windbreaks, shelter belts, and farm wood lots upon denuded or nonforested lands within such cooperating States, under such conditions and requirements as he may prescribe to the end that forest-tree seeds or plants so procured, produced, or distributed shall be used effectively for planting denuded or nonforested lands in the cooperating States and growing timber thereon. The amount expended by the Federal Government in cooperation with any State during any fiscal year for such purposes shall not exceed the amount expended by the State for the same purposes during the same fiscal year. There is authorized to be appropriated annually, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, not more than $100,000, to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out the provisions of this section. (June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 4, 43 Stat. 654.)

568. Cooperation by Secretary of Agriculture with States in establishing, and so forth, wood lots, shelter belts, windbreaks, and so forth; limitation on expenditure; appropriation.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed, in cooperation with appropriate officials of the various States or, in his discretion, with other suitable agencies, to assist the owners of farms in establishing, improving, and renewing wood lots, shelter belts, windbreaks, and other valuable forest growth, and in growing and renewing useful timber crops. Except for preliminary investigations, the amount expended by the Federal Government under this section in cooperation with any State or other cooperating agency during any fiscal year shall not exceed the amount expended by the State or other cooperating agency for the same purpose during the same fiscal year. There is authorized to be appropriated annually out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, not more than $100,000 to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out the provisions of this section. (June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 5, 43 Stat. 654.)

569. Donations to United States of lands for timber purposes.—To enable owners of lands chiefly valuable for the growing of timber crops to donate or devise such lands to the United States in order to assure future timber supplies for the agricultural and other industries of the State or for other national forest purposes, the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized, in his discretion, to accept on behalf of the United States title to any such land so donated or devised, subject to such reservations by the donor of the present stand of merchantable timber or of mineral or other rights for a period not exceeding twenty years as the Secretary of Agriculture may find to be reasonable and not detrimental to the purposes of this section, and to pay out of any moneys appropriated for the general expenses of the Forest Service the cost of recording deeds or other expenses incident to the examination and acceptance of title. Any lands to which title is so accepted shall be in units of such size or so located as to be capable of economical administration as national forests either separately or jointly with other lands acquired under this section, or jointly with an existing national forest. All lands to which title is accepted under this section shall, upon acceptance of title, become national forest lands, subject to all laws applicable to lands acquired under sections 513, 515, and 521 of this title. In the sale of timber from national forest lands acquired under this section preference shall be given to applicants who will furnish the products desired therefrom to meet the necessities of citizens of the United States engaged in agriculture in the States in which such national forest is situated. All property, rights, easements, and benefits authorized by this section to be retained by or reserved to owners of lands donated or devised to the United States shall be subject to the tax laws of the States where such lands are located. (June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 7, 43 Stat. 654.)

570. Ascertainment by Secretary of Agriculture of public lands valuable for stream-flow protection and report thereof.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to ascertain and determine the location of public lands chiefly valuable for stream-flow protection or for timber production, which can be economically administered as parts of national forests, and to report his findings to the National Forest Reservation Commission established under section 513 of this title, and if the commission shall determine that the administration of said lands by the Federal Government will protect the flow of streams used for navigation or for irrigation, or will promote a future timber supply, the President shall lay the findings of the commission before the Congress of the United States. (June 7, 1924, c. 348, § 8, 43 Stat. 655.)

571. Buildings for national forest purposes; construction, and so forth.—In addition to buildings costing not to exceed $1,500 each, the Secretary of Agriculture, out of any moneys appropriated for the improvement or protection of the national forests, may construct, improve, or purchase during each fiscal year three buildings for national forest purposes at not to exceed $2,500 each, and three at not to exceed $2,000 each. The cost of a water supply or sanitary system shall not be charged as a part of the cost of any building except those costing in excess of $2,000 each, and no such water supply and sanitary system shall cost in excess of $500. (Mar. 3, 1925, c. 457, § 2, 43 Stat. 1132.)

572. Special fund for payment of expenses of reforestation, administration, or protection of forests by Forest Service, and for refunds to contributors.—All moneys received as contributions towards reforestation or for the administration or protection of lands within or near the national forests shall be covered into the Treasury and shall constitute a special fund, which is authorized to be appropriated for the payment of the expenses of said reforestation, administration, or protection by the Forest Service, and for refunds to the contributors of amounts heretofore or hereafter paid in by or for them in excess of their share of the cost, but the United States shall not be liable for any damage incident to cooperation hereunder. (Mar. 3, 1925, c. 457, § 1, 43 Stat. 1132.)

Chapter 4.—PROTECTION OF TIMBER, AND DEPREDATIONS.

Sec.

591. Live-oak and red-cedar lands.
592. Same; selection of tracts.
593. Same; protection of timber.
594. Protection of timber owned by United States from fire, disease, or insect ravages.
595. Same; cutting or destruction.
596. Same; forfeiture of vessels carrying away timber.
597. Same; clearance of vessels laden with; prosecution of depredators.
598. Lands in Florida reserved for naval purposes; examination.
599. Same; lands not needed restored to entry and sale.
600. Restoration to public domain of naval reservations; preference right of entry; lands disposed of under town-site laws.
601. Disposition of moneys collected for depredations.
602. Seizure of timber cut.
603. Relief from prosecutions on payment for timber cut.
604. Cutting timber on certain mineral lands; permits to corporations; railroad corporations.
605. Same; notice to Commissioner of General Land Office of unlawful cutting.
606. Same; offenses; punishment.
607. Cutting and removal of timber on certain public lands for certain purposes.
608. Permits to cut and remove timber; citizens of Malheur County, Oregon.
609. Same; citizens of Modoc County, California.
610. Same; citizens of Washington County and Kane County, Utah.
611. Same; citizens of Idaho and Wyoming.
612. Same; permits to certain corporations.
613. Same; limitations of use of timber taken not to apply to certain territory.
614. Sale of timber killed or damaged by forest fires.
615. Disposal of proceeds of sale of burnt timber on existing claim.

Section 591. Live-oak and red-cedar lands.—The Secretary of the Navy is authorized, under the direction of the President, to cause such vacant and unappropriated lands of the United States as produce the live-oak and red-cedar timbers to be explored, and selection to be made of such tracts or portions thereof, where the principal growth is of either of such timbers, as in his judgment may be necessary to furnish for the Navy a sufficient supply of the same. (R. S. § 2458.)

592. Same; selection of tracts.—The President is authorized to appoint surveyors of public lands, who shall perform the duties prescribed in the preceding section, and report to him the tracts by them selected, with the boundaries ascertained and accurately designated by actual survey or watercourses; and the tracts of land thus selected with the approbation of the President shall be reserved, unless otherwise directed by law, from any future sale of the public lands, and be appropriated to the sole purpose of supplying timber for the Navy of the United States; but nothing in this section contained shall be construed to prejudice the rights of any person, prior to March 1, 1817, claiming lands, which may be reserved in the manner herein provided. (R. S. § 2459.)

593. Same; protection of timber.—The President is authorized to employ so much of the land and naval forces of the United States as may be necessary effectually to prevent the felling, cutting down, or other destruction of the timber of the United States in Florida, and to prevent the transportation or carrying away any such timber as may be already felled or cut down; and to take such other and further measures as may be deemed advisable for the preservation of the timber of the United States in Florida. (R. S. § 2460.)

594. Protection of timber owned by United States from fire, disease, or insect ravages.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to protect and preserve, from fire, disease, or the ravages of beetles, or other insects, timber owned by the United States upon the public lands, national parks, national monuments, Indian reservations, or other lands under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior owned by the United States, either directly or in cooperation with other departments of the Federal Government, with States, or with owners of timber; and appropriations are authorized to be made for such purposes. (Sept. 20, 1922, c. 349, 42 Stat. 857.)

595. Same; cutting or destruction.—If any person shall cut, or cause or procure to be cut, or aid, assist, or be employed in cutting, or shall wantonly destroy, or cause or procure to be wantonly destroyed, or aid, assist, or be employed in wantonly destroying any live-oak or red-cedar trees, or other timber standing, growing, or being on any lands of the United States, which, in pursuance of any law passed, or hereafter to be passed, have been reserved or purchased for the use of the United States, for supplying or furnishing therefrom timber for the Navy of the United States; or if any person shall remove, or cause or procure to be removed, or aid, or assist, or be employed in removing from any such lands which have been reserved or purchased, any live-oak or red-cedar trees, or other timber, unless duly authorized so to do, by order, in writing, of a competent officer, and for the use of the Navy of the United States; or if any person shall cut, or cause or procure to be cut, or aid, or assist, or be employed in cutting any live-oak or red-cedar trees, or other timber on, or shall remove, or cause or procure to be removed. or aid, or assist, or be employed in removing any live-oak or red-cedar trees or other timber, from any other lands of the United States, acquired, or hereafter to be acquired, with intent to export, dispose of, use, or employ the same in any manner whatsoever, other than for the use of the Navy of the United States; every such person shall pay a fine not less than triple the value of the trees or timber so cut, destroyed, or removed, and shall be imprisoned not exceeding twelve months. (R. S. § 2461.)

596. Same; forfeiture of vessels carrying away timber.—If the master, owner, or consignee of any vessel shall knowingly take on board any timber cut on lands which have been reserved or purchased as in the preceding section prescribed, without proper authority, and for the use of the Navy of the United States; or shall take on board any live-oak or red-cedar timber cut on any other lands of the United States, with intent to transport the same to any port or place within the United States, or to export the same to any foreign country, the vessel on board of which the same shall be taken, transported, or seized, shall, with her tackle, apparel, and furniture, be wholly forfeited to the United States, and the captain or master of such vessel wherein the same was exported to any foreign country against the provisions of this section shall forfeit and pay to the United States a sum not exceeding $1,000. (R. S. § 2462.)

597. Same; clearance of vessels laden with; prosecution of depredators.—It shall be the duty of all collectors of the customs within the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Florida, before allowing a clearance to any vessel laden in whole or in part with live-oak timber, to ascertain satisfactorily that such timber was cut from private lands, or, if from public ones, by consent of the Navy Department. And it is also made the duty of all officers of the customs, and of the land officers within those States, to cause prosecutions to be seasonably instituted against all persons known to be guilty of depredations on, or injuries to, the live oak growing on the public lands. (R. S. § 2463.)

598. Lands in Florida reserved for naval purposes; examination.—The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to cause an examination to be made of the condition of all lands in the State of Florida which have been set apart or reserved for naval purposes, excepting the reservation upon which the navy yard at Pensacola is located, and to ascertain whether or not such reserved lands are or will be of any value to the Government of the United States for naval purposes. (Mar. 3, 1879, c. 189, § 1, 20 Stat. 470.)

599. Same; lands not needed restored to entry and sale.—All of said lands which, in the judgment of the Secretary of the Navy, are no longer required for naval purposes shall, as soon as practicable, be certified by him to the Secretary of the Interior, and be subject to entry and sale in the same manner and under the same conditions as other public lands of the United States. All persons who have, in good faith, made improvements on said reserved lands so certified on March 3, 1879, and who occupy the same, shall be entitled to purchase the part or parts so occupied or improved by them, not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres to any one person at $1.25 per acre within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Secretary of the Interior. (Mar. 3, 1879, c. 189, § 2, 20 Stat. 471.)

600. Restoration to public domain of naval reservations; preference right of entry; lands disposed of under town-site laws.—The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to cause to be certified to the Secretary of the Interior, for restoration to the public domain, the whole or such portion or portions of the several tracts of land in the States of Alabama and Mississippi heretofore set apart and reserved for naval uses as are no longer required for the purposes for which they were reserved, or for any purposes connected with the naval service; and upon such certification the tracts of land described therein shall be duly restored to and become a part of the public lands of the United States. Persons who enter under the homestead law shall pay for such lands not less than the value heretofore or hereafter determined by appraisement, nor less than the price of the land at the time of the entry; and such payment may, at the option of the purchaser, be made in five equal installments, at times and at rates of interest to be fixed by the Secretary of the Interior. So much of the said lands as are situated on Back Bay, near the city of Biloxi, in the State of Mississippi, shall be disposed of under the town-site law and not as agricultural lands. (Mar. 2, 1895, c. 182, 28 Stat. 814.)

601. Disposition of moneys collected for depredations.—All moneys collected for depredations upon the public lands shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as other moneys received from the sale of public lands. (Apr. 30, 1878, c. 76, § 2, 20 Stat. 46.)

602. Seizure of timber cut.—If any timber cut on the public lands shall be exported from the Territories of the United States, it shall be liable to seizure by United States authority wherever found. (Apr. 30, 1878, c. 76, § 2, 20 Stat. 46.)

603. Relief from prosecutions on payment for timber cut.—Any person prosecuted in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington for violating section 595 of this title who is not prosecuted for cutting timber for export from the United States, may be relieved from further prosecution and liability therefor upon payment, into the court wherein said action is pending, of the sum of $2.50 per acre for all lands on which he shall have cut or caused to be cut timber, or removed or caused to be removed the same. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as granting to the person hereby relieved the title to said lands for said payment; but he shall have the right to purchase the same upon the same terms and conditions as other persons, as provided in sections 311 to 313 of Title 43, PUBLIC LANDS, and section 103 of Title 18, CRIMINAL CODE AND CRIMINAL PROCEDURE. All moneys collected under this section, sections 311 to 313 of Title 43, PUBLIC LANDS, and section 103 of Title 18, CRIMINAL CODE AND CRIMINAL PROCEDURE, shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States. (June 3, 1878, c. 151, § 5, 20 Stat. 90.)

604. Cutting timber on certain mineral lands; permits to corporations; railroad corporations.—All citizens of the United States and other persons, bona fide residents of the State of Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho, or Montana, and all other mineral districts of the United States, are authorized and permitted to fell and remove, for building, agricultural, mining, or other domestic purposes, any timber or other trees growing or being on the public lands, said lands being mineral, and not subject to entry under existing laws of the United States, except for mineral entry, in said States or districts of which such citizens or persons may be at the time bona fide residents, subject to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe for the protection of the timber and of the undergrowth growing upon such lands, and for other purposes. It shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Interior to grant permits in accordance with the provisions of this section, to corporations incorporated under a Federal law of the United States or incorporated under the laws of a State or Territory of the United States, other than the State in which the privilege is requested. Such permits to confer the same rights and benefits upon such corporations as are conferred upon corporations incorporated in the State in which the privilege is to be exercised, but all such corporations shall first have complied with the laws of that State so as to entitle them to do business therein. The provisions of this section and sections 605 and 606 of this title shall not extend to railroad corporations. (June 3, 1878, c. 150, § 1, 20 Stat. 88; Jan. 11, 1921, c. 22, 41 Stat. 1088.)

605. Same; notice to Commissioner of General Land Office of unlawful cutting.—It shall be the duty of the register of any local land office in whose district any mineral land may be situated to ascertain from time to time whether any timber is being cut or used upon any such lands, except for the purposes authorized by section 604 of this title, within their respective land districts; and, if so, they shall immediately notify the Commissioner of the General Land Office of that fact; and all necessary expenses incurred in making such proper examinations shall be paid and allowed such register in making up their next quarterly accounts. (June 3, 1878, c. 150, § 2, 20 Stat. 88; Mar. 3, 1925, c. 462, 43 Stat. 1145.)

606. Same; offenses; punishment.—Any person or persons who shall violate the provisions of sections 603 to 605, inclusive, of this title, or any rules and regulations in pursuance thereof made by the Secretary of the Interior, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $500, and to which may be added imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months. (June 3, 1878, c. 150, § 3, 20 Stat. 89.)

607. Cutting and removal of timber on certain public lands for certain purposes.—In the States of Colorado, Montana, Idaho, North Dakota, and South Dakota, Wyoming, New Mexico, and Arizona, and the Territory of Alaska, and the gold and silver regions of Nevada, California, Oregon, Washington, and Utah in any criminal prosecution or civil action by the United States for a trespass on such public timber lands or to recover timber or lumber cut thereon it shall be a defense if the defendant shall show that the said timber was so cut or removed from the timber lands for use in such State or Territory by a resident thereof for agricultural, mining, manufacturing, or domestic purposes under rules and regulations made and prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior and has not been transported out of the same, [but nothing herein contained shall operate to enlarge the rights of any railway company to cut timber on the public domain]. The Secretary of the Interior may make suitable rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this section, and he may designate the sections or tracts of land where timber may be cut, and it shall not be lawful to cut or remove any timber except as may be prescribed by such rules and regulations, but this section shall not operate to repeal sections 604 to 606 of this title and section 103 of Title 18, CRIMINAL CODE AND CRIMINAL PROCEDURE. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 559, 26 Stat. 1093, c. 561, § 8, 26 Stat. 1099; Feb. 13, 1893, c. 103, 27 Stat. 444; Mar. 3, 1901, c. 855, 31 Stat. 1436; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 111, 40 Stat. 1321, c. 115, 40 Stat. 1322; Feb. 27, 1922, c. 82, 42 Stat. 398.)

608. Permits to cut and remove timber; citizens of Malheur County, Oregon.—It shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Interior to grant permits under the provisions of section 607 of this title to citizens of Malheur County, Oregon, to cut timber in the State of Idaho for agricultural, mining, or other domestic purposes and to remove the timber so cut to Malheur County, State of Oregon. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 559, 26 Stat. 1093, c. 561, § 8, 26 Stat. 1099; Feb. 13, 1893, c. 103, 27 Stat. 444; Mar. 3, 1901, c. 855, 31 Stat. 1436; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 111, 40 Stat. 1321, c. 115, 40 Stat. 1322; Feb. 27, 1922, c. 82, 42 Stat. 398.)

609. Same; citizens of Modoc County, California.—It shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Interior to grant permits under the provisions of section 607 of this title, to citizens of Modoc County, California, to cut timber in the State of Nevada for agricultural, mining, or other domestic purposes, and to remove the timber so cut to Modoc County, State of California. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 559, 26 Stat. 1093, c. 561, § 8, 26 Stat. 1099; Feb. 13, 1893, c. 103, 27 Stat. 444; Mar. 3, 1901, c. 855, 31 Stat. 1436; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 111, 40 Stat. 1321, c. 115, 40 Stat. 1322; Feb. 27, 1922, c. 82, 42 Stat. 398.)

610. Same; citizens of Washington County and Kane County, Utah.—It shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Interior to grant permits under the provisions of section 607 of this title, to citizens of Washington County and of Kane County, Utah, to cut timber on the public lands of the counties of Mohave and Coconino, Arizona, for agricultural, mining, or other domestic purposes, and remove the timber so cut to said Washington County and Kane County, Utah. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 559, 26 Stat. 1093, c. 561, § 8, 26 Stat. 1099; Feb. 13, 1893, c. 103, 27 Stat. 444; Mar. 3, 1901, c. 855, 31 Stat. 1436; Mar. 3, 1919, c. 111, 40 Stat. 1321, c. 115, 40 Stat. 1322; Feb. 27, 1922, c. 82, 42 Stat. 398.)

611. Same; citizens of Idaho and Wyoming.—It shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Interior to grant permits under the provisions of section 607 of this title, to citizens of Idaho and Wyoming to cut timber in the State of Wyoming west of the Continental Divide on the Snake River and its tributaries to the boundary line of Idaho, for agricultural, mining, or other domestic purposes, and to remove the timber so cut to the State of Idaho. (July 1, 1898, c. 546, § 1, 30 Stat. 618.)

612. Same; permits to certain corporations.—It shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Interior to grant permits in accordance with the provisions of section 607 of this title, to corporations incorporated under a Federal law of the United States or incorporated under the laws of a State or Territory of the United States, other than the State in which the privilege is requested, said permits to confer the same rights and benefits upon such corporations as are conferred upon corporations incorporated in the State in which the privilege is to be exercised: Provided, That all such corporations shall first have complied with the laws of that State so as to entitle them to do business therein. Nothing shall operate to enlarge the rights of any railway company to cut timber on the public domain. (Jan. 11, 1921, c. 22, 41 Stat. 1088.)

613. Same; limitations of use of timber taken not to apply to certain territory.—The provisions of section 607 of this title, PUBLIC LANDS, limiting the use of timber taken from public lands to residents of the State in which such timber is found, for use within said State, shall not apply to the south slope of Pryor Mountains, in the State of Montana, lying south of the Crow Reservation, west of the Big Horn River, and east of Sage Creek; but within the above-described boundaries the provisions of said section shall apply equally to the residents of the States of Wyoming and Montana, and to the use of timber taken from the above-described tract in either of the above-named States. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 862, 31 Stat. 1439.)

614. Sale of timber killed or damaged by forest fires.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized, under such rules as he may prescribe, to sell and dispose of to the highest bidder at public auction, or through sealed bids, the timber on any lands of the United States, outside the boundaries of national forests, including those embraced in unperfected claims under any of the public-land laws, also upon the ceded Indian lands, that may have been killed or seriously and permanently damaged by forest fires prior to March 4, 1913, the proceeds of all such sales to be covered into the Treasury of the United States. The damaged timber upon any lands embraced in an existing claim shall be disposed of only upon the application or with the written consent of such claimant, and the money received from the sale of damaged timber on any such lands shall be kept in a special fund to await the final determination of such claim. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 165, § 1, 37 Stat. 1015.)

615. Disposal of proceeds of sale of burnt timber on existing claim.—Upon the certification of the Secretary of the Interior that any claim under section 614 of this title has been finally approved and patented the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to pay to such claimant, his heirs or legal representatives, the money received from the sale of the damaged timber upon his land, after deducting therefrom the expenses of the sale; and upon the certification of the Secretary of the Interior that any such claim has been finally rejected and canceled the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to transfer the money derived from the sale of the damaged timber upon the lands embraced in such claim to the general fund in the Treasury derived from the sale of public lands, unless by legislation the lands from which the timber had been removed had been theretofore appropriated to the benefit of an Indian tribe or otherwise, in which event the net proceeds derived from the sale of the timber shall be transferred to the fund of such tribe or otherwise credited or distributed as by law provided. (Mar. 4, 1913, c. 165, § 2, 37 Stat. 1016.)

Chapter 5.—PROTECTION OF FUR SEALS AND OTHER FUR-BEARING ANIMALS.

Sec.
631. Control, and so forth, of fur seal, salmon, and other fisheries by Department of Commerce.
632. Killing seal or sea otter in certain waters of the North Pacific prohibited.
633. Equipping vessels for pelagic sealing or sea-otter hunting forbidden; use of ports of United States.
634. Natives permitted to carry on pelagic fishing.
635. Importing illegally taken skins; forfeiture.
636. Regulations made by President; enforcement of law and regulations.
637. Punishment for violations of law; forfeiture.
638. Presumption as to violations.
639. Venue of prosecutions.
640. Guard or patrol of waters; seizure and search of vessels within jurisdiction of United States.
641. Seizure of vessels outside of jurisdiction of signatory powers; procedure.
642. Delivery by, receipt and disposal of skins by the United States under convention of July 7, 1911; performance of articles thereunder.
643. "Pelagic sealing" defined; "person" construed.
644. Killing of certain fur-bearing animals in Alaska forbidden; punishment and forfeiture; power of Secretary of Commerce to authorize killing; duty to execute law.
645. Jurisdiction of offenses.
646. Pribilof Islands a special reservation; landing on islands unlawful.
647. Killing seals on Pribilof Islands regulated; firearms forbidden; regulation of privileges of natives.
648. Killing seals on Pribilof Islands by natives; disposal of skins by Secretary of Commerce.
649. Killing female or seal less than one year old, or killing in waters adjacent to Pribilof Islands or on beaches or cliffs; punishment, and forfeiture.
650. Killing of seals on Pribilof Islands; regulations; restricted to officers and natives under their direction; number to be killed.
651. Sale of sealskins; proceeds; subsequent treaties.
652. Employment of natives of Pribilof Islands in killing seals and curing skins.
653. Same; depots for and transportation of provisions from mainland to Pribilof Islands; care of natives.
654. Investigation as to seal life on the Pribilof Islands.
655. Agents to be disinterested.
656. Same; administering certain oaths and taking testimony.
657. Traveling expenses.
658. Additional officers and agents to enforce seal-fisheries law.

Section 631. Control, and so forth, of fur seal, salmon, and other fisheries by Department of Commerce.—The jurisdiction, supervision and control over the fur seal, salmon and other fisheries of Alaska are vested in the Department of Commerce. (Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 7, 32 Stat. 828.)

632. Killing seal or sea otter in certain waters of the North Pacific prohibited.—No citizen of the United States, nor person owing duty of obedience to the laws or the treaties of the United States, nor any of their vessels, nor any vessel of the United States, nor any person belonging to or on board of such vessel, shall kill, capture, or pursue, at any time or in any manner whatever, any fur seal in the waters of the North Pacific Ocean north of the thirtieth parallel of north latitude and including the seas of Bering, Kamchatka, Okhotsk, and Japan; nor shall any such person or vessel kill, capture or pursue sea otter in any of the waters mentioned beyond the distance of three miles from the shore line of the territory of the United States. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 1, 37 Stat. 499.)

633. Equipping vessels for pelagic sealing or sea-otter hunting forbidden; use of ports of United States.—No citizen of the United States, nor person above described in section 632 of this title, shall equip, use, or employ, or furnish aid in equipping, using, or employing, or furnish supplies to any vessel used or employed, or to be used or employed, in carrying on or taking part in pelagic sealing or in sea-otter hunting in said waters, nor shall any of their vessels nor any vessel of the United States be so used or employed; and no person or vessel shall use any of the ports or harbors of the United States, or any part of the territory of the United States, for any purpose whatsoever connected with the operations of pelagic sealing or sea-otter hunting in the waters named in section 632; and no vessel which is engaged or employed, or intended to be engaged or employed, for or in connection with pelagic sealing or sea-otter hunting in such waters shall use any of the ports or harbors or any part of the territory of the United States for any purpose whatsoever. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 2, 37 Stat. 500.)

634. Natives permitted to carry on pelagic fishing.—The provisions of sections 632 and 633 of this title shall not apply to Indians, Aleuts, or other aborigines dwelling on the American coast of the waters mentioned in section 632 of this title who carry on pelagic sealing in canoes or undecked boats propelled wholly by paddles, oars, or sails, and not transported by or used in connection with other vessels, and manned by not more than five persons each, in the way hitherto practiced by the said Indians, Aleuts, or other aborigines, and without the use of firearms. The exception made in this section shall not apply to Indians, Aleuts, or other aborigines in the employment of other persons or who shall kill, capture, or pursue fur seals or sea otters under contract to deliver the skins to any person. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 3, 37 Stat. 500.)

635. Importing illegally taken skins; forfeiture.—The importation or bringing into territory of the United States, by any person whatsoever, of skins of fur seals or sea otters taken in the waters mentioned in section 632 of this title, or of skins identified as those of the species known as Callorhinus alascanus, Callorhinus ursinus, and Callorhinus kuriensis, or belonging to the American, Russian, or Japanese herds, whether raw, dressed, dyed, or manufactured, except such as have been taken under the authority of the respective parties to the convention between the Governments of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, and Russia, concluded at Washington, July 7, 1911 (37 Stat. 1546), to which the breeding grounds of such herds belong, and have been officially marked and certified as having been so taken, is hereby prohibited; and all such articles imported or brought in shall not be permitted to be exported, but shall be seized and forfeited to the United States. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 4, 37 Stat. 500.)

636. Regulations made by President; enforcement of law and regulations.—The President shall have power to make regulations to carry sections 632 to 643, inclusive, of this title and the said convention into effect, and from time to time to add to, modify, amend, or revoke such regulations, as in his judgment may seem expedient. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of Commerce, under the direction of the President, to see that the said convention, the provisions of said sections, and the regulations made thereunder are executed and enforced; and all officers of the United States engaged in the execution and enforcement of said sections are authorized and directed to cooperate with the proper officers of any of the other parties to the said convention in taking such measures as may be appropriate and available under the said convention, said sections, or the regulations made thereunder for the purpose of preventing pelagic sealing as in said sections prohibited. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 5, 37 Stat. 500.)

637. Punishment for violations of law; forfeiture.—Every person guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of said convention, or of sections 632 to 643, inclusive, of this title, or of any regulation made thereunder, shall, for each offense, be fined not less than $200 or more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both; and every vessel, its tackle, apparel, furniture, and cargo, at any time used or employed in violation of said sections, or of the regulations made thereunder, shall be forfeited to the United States. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 6, 37 Stat. 501.)

638. Presumption as to violations.—If any vessel shall be found within the waters to which the provisions of sections 632 to 643, inclusive, of this title apply, having on board fur-seal skins or sea-otter skins, or bodies of seals or sea otters, or apparatus or implements for killing or taking seals or sea otter, it shall be presumed that such vessel was used or employed in the killing of said seals or sea otters, or that said apparatus or implements were used in violation of the provisions of sections 632 to 643, inclusive, until the contrary is proved to the satisfaction of the court, in so far as such vessel, apparatus, and implements are subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 7, 37 Stat. 501.)

639. Venue of prosecutions.—Any violation of the said convention, or of the provisions of sections 632 to 643, inclusive, of this title, or of the regulations thereunder, may be prosecuted either in the District Court of Alaska, or in any district court of the United States in California, Oregon, or Washington. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 8, 37 Stat. 501.)

640. Guard or patrol of waters; seizure and search of vessels within jurisdiction of United States.—It shall be the duty of the President to cause a guard or patrol to be maintained in the waters frequented by the seal herd or herds and sea otter, in the protection of which the United States is especially interested, composed of naval or other public vessels of the United States designated by him for such service; and any officer of any such vessel engaged in such service and any other officers duly designated by the President may search any vessel of the United States, in port, or in territorial waters of the United States, or on the high seas, when suspected of having violated, or being about to violate, the provisions of said convention, or of sections 632 to 643, inclusive, of this title, or of any regulation made thereunder, and may seize such vessel and the officers and crew thereof and bring them into the most accessible port of the Territory or of any of the States mentioned in section 639 of this title for trial. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 9, 37 Stat. 501.)

641. Seizure of vessels outside of jurisdiction of signatory powers; procedure.—Any vessel or person described in section 632 of this title offending or being about to offend against the prohibitions of the said convention, or of sections 632 to 643, inclusive, of this title, or of the regulations made thereunder, may be seized and detained by the naval or other duly commissioned officers of any of the parties to the said convention other than the United States, except within the territorial jurisdiction of one of the other of said parties, on condition, however, that when such vessel or person is so seized and detained by officers of any party other than the United States such vessel or person shall be delivered as soon as practicable at the nearest point to the place of seizure, with the witnesses and proofs necessary to establish the offense so far as they are under the control of such party, to the proper official of the United States, whose courts alone shall have jurisdiction to try the offense and impose the penalties for the same. The said officers of any party to said convention other than the United States shall arrest and detain vessels and persons, as in this section specified, only after such party, by appropriate legislation or otherwise, shall have authorized the naval or other officers of the United States duly commissioned and instructed by the President to that end to arrest, detain, and deliver to the proper officers of such party vessels and subjects under the jurisdiction of that Government offending against said convention or any statute or regulation made by that Government to enforce said convention. The President of the United States shall determine by proclamation when such authority has been given by the other parties to said convention, and his determination shall be conclusive upon the question; and such proclamation may be modified, amended, or revoked by proclamation of the President whenever, in his judgment, it is deemed expedient. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 10, 37 Stat. 501.)

642. Delivery by, receipt and disposal of skins by the United States under convention of July 7, 1911; performance of articles thereunder.—The Secretary of Commerce, or his authorized agents, shall have authority to receive on behalf of the United States any and all fur-seal skins taken as provided in the thirteenth and fourteenth articles of the convention mentioned in section 635 of this title and tendered for delivery by the Governments of Japan and Great Britain in accordance with the terms of said articles; and all skins which are or shall become the property of the United States from any source whatsoever shall be sold by the Secretary of Commerce in such market, at such times, and in such manner as he may deem most advantageous; and the proceeds of such sale or sales shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States. The Secretary of Commerce shall likewise have authority to deliver to the authorized agents of the Canadian Government and the Japanese Government the skins to which they are entitled under the provisions of the tenth article of said convention; to pay to Great Britain and Japan such sums as they are entitled to receive, respectively, under the provisions of the eleventh article of said convention; to retain such skins as the United States may be entitled to retain under the provisions of the eleventh article of said convention; and to do or perform, or cause to be done or performed, any and every act which the United States is authorized or obliged to do or perform by the provisions of the tenth, eleventh, thirteenth, and fourteenth articles of said convention. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 11, 37 Stat. 502; June 22, 1916, c. 171, 39 Stat. 236.)

643. "Pelagic sealing" defined; "person" construed.—The term "pelagic sealing" where used in sections 632 to 643 of this chapter shall be taken to mean the killing, capturing, or pursuing in any manner whatsoever of fur seals while the same are in the water. The word "person" where used therein shall extend and be applied to partnerships and corporations. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 12, 37 Stat. 502.)

644. Killing of certain fur-bearing animals in Alaska forbidden; punishment, and forfeiture; power of Secretary of Commerce to authorize killing; duty to execute law.—No person shall kill any sea otter or fur seal within the limits of Alaska or in the waters thereof; and every person guilty thereof shall, for each offense, be fined not less than $200 nor more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than six months, or both; and all vessels, their tackle, apparel, furniture, and cargo found engaged in violation of this section shall be forfeited; but the Secretary of Commerce shall have power to authorize the killing of any such fur seal under such regulations as he may prescribe; and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Commerce to prevent the killing of any fur seal except as authorized by law and to provide for the execution of the provisions of this section until it is otherwise provided by law. (R. S. § 1956; Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 4, 36 Stat. 327; Jan. 13, 1925, c. 75, §§ 2, 14, 43 Stat. 739, 747.)

645. Jurisdiction of offenses.—Unless otherwise provided by law all violations of the provisions of section 644 of this title committed within the limits of the Territory of Alaska and the waters thereof shall be prosecuted in the district court of the United States in Alaska. Any person authorized by the Secretary of Commerce shall have power to arrest persons and seize vessels and merchandise liable to fines, penalties, or forfeitures under this and other laws extended over the Territory and to keep and deliver the same to the marshal of said court. (R. S. § 1957; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 7, 32 Stat. 828; June 6, 1900, c. 786, § 4, 31 Stat. 1322; Mar. 3, 1909, c. 269, § 2, 35 Stat. 839; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736; Mar. 2, 1921, c. 110, 41 Stat. 1203.)

646. Pribilof Islands a special reservation; landing on islands unlawful.—The Pribilof Islands, including the islands of Saint Paul and Saint George, Walrus and Otter Islands, and Sea Lion Rock, in Alaska, are declared a special reservation for government purposes; and until otherwise provided by law it shall be unlawful for any person to land or remain on any of those islands, except through stress of weather or like unavoidable cause or by the authority of the Secretary of Commerce, and any person found on any of those islands contrary to the provisions hereof shall be summarily removed and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding $500 or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both fine and imprisonment; and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Commerce to carry this section into effect. (R. S. § 1959; Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 5, 36 Stat. 327.)

86270°—26——28

647. Killing seals on Pribilof Islands regulated; firearms forbidden; regulation of privileges to natives.—It shall be unlawful to kill any fur seal upon the Pribilof Islands, or in the waters adjacent thereto, except under the authority of the Secretary of Commerce, and it shall be unlawful to kill such seals by the use of firearms or by other means tending to drive the seals away from those islands; but the natives of the islands shall have the privilege of killing such young seals as may be necessary for their own food and clothing, and also such old seals as may be required for their own clothing and for the manufacture of boats for their own use; and the killing in such cases shall be limited and controlled by such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce. (R. S. § 1960; Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 6, 36 Stat. 327.)

648. Killing seals on Pribilof Islands by natives; disposal of skins by Secretary of Commerce.—The Secretary of Commerce is authorized to sell the skins of all seals used for food by the said natives of the Pribilof Islands as permitted under section 647 of this title in such market, at such times and in such manner as he may deem most advantageous. (June 22, 1916, c. 171, 39 Stat. 236.)

649. Killing female or seal less than one year old, or killing in waters adjacent to Pribilof Islands or on beaches or cliffs; punishment, and forfeiture.—It shall be unlawful to kill any female seal or any seal less than one year old at any season of the year, except as provided under section 647 of this title; and it shall also be unlawful to kill any seal in the waters adjacent to the Pribilof Islands, or on the beaches, cliffs, or rocks where they haul up from the sea to remain; and every person who violates the provisions of this or section 647 shall be punished for each offense by a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $1,000 or by imprisonment not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all vessels, their tackle, apparel, and furniture, whose crews are found engaged in the violation of either this or section 648 of this title, shall be forfeited to the United States. (R. S. § 1961; Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 7, 36 Stat. 328.)

650. Killing of seals on Pribilof Islands; regulations; restricted to officers and natives under their direction; number to be killed.—The Secretary of Commerce shall have power to authorize the killing of fur seals and the taking of sealskins on the Pribilof Islands, in Alaska, under regulations established by him prescribing the manner in which such killing shall be done and limiting the number of seals to be killed, whenever he shall determine that such killing is necessary or desirable and not inconsistent with the preservation of the seal heard. Under such authority the right of killing fur seals and taking sealskins shall be exercised by officers, agents, or employees of the United States appointed by the Secretary of Commerce, and by the natives of the Pribilof Islands under the direction and supervision of such officers, agents, or employees, and by no other person. Male seals only shall be killed and not more than 95 per centum of three-year-old male seals shall be killed in any one year. For the year ending August 1, 1926, five thousand three-year-old males, selected from among the finest and most perfect seals of that age found on the hauling grounds, shall be reserved for breeding purposes. (Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 1, 36 Stat. 326; Aug. 24, 1912, c. 373, § 11, 37 Stat. 502.)

651. Sale of sealskins; proceeds; subsequent treaties.—Any and all sealskins taken under the authority conferred by the preceding section shall be sold by the Secretary of Commerce in such market, at such times, and in such manner as he may deem most advantageous; and the proceeds of such sale or sales shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States. The directions of this section, relating to the disposition of sealskins and the proceeds thereof, shall be subject to the provisions of any treaty made after April 24, 1910, by the United States for the protection of seal life. (Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 2, 36 Stat. 326.)

652. Employment of natives of Pribilof Islands in killing seals and curing skins.—Whenever seals are killed and sealskins taken on any of the Pribilof Islands the native inhabitants of said Islands shall be employed in such killing and in curing the skins taken, and shall receive for their labor fair compensation, to be fixed from time to time by the Secretary of Commerce, who shall have the authority to prescribe by regulation the manner in which such compensation shall be paid to the said natives or expended or otherwise used in their behalf and for their benefit. (Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 3, 36 Stat. 327.)

653. Same; depots for and transportation of provisions from mainland to Pribilof Islands; care of natives.—The Secretary of Commerce shall have authority to establish and maintain depots for provisions and supplies on the Pribilof Islands and to provide for the transportation of such provisions and supplies from the mainland of the United States to the said islands by the charter of private vessels or by the use of public vessels of the United States which may be placed at his disposal by the President; and he shall likewise have authority to furnish food, shelter, fuel, clothing, and other necessaries of life to the native inhabitants of the Pribilof Islands and to provide for their comfort, maintenance, education, and protection. (Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 9, 36 Stat. 328.)

654. Investigation as to seal life on the Pribilof Islands.—The Commissioner of Fisheries is authorized and required to investigate, under the direction of the Secretary of Commerce, and when so requested report annually to him regarding the conditions of seal life upon the rookeries of the Pribilof Islands; and he is also directed to continue the inquiries relative to the life history and migrations of the fur seals frequenting the waters of Bering Sea. (Mar. 3, 1893, c. 208, 27 Stat. 585; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 7, 32 Stat. 828; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

655. Agents to be disinterested.—The persons charged with the management of the seal fisheries in Alaska, and the performance of such other duties as may be assigned to them by the Secretary of Commerce, shall never be interested directly or indirectly in any lease of the right to take seals, nor in any proceeds or profits thereof either as owner, agent, partner, or otherwise. (R. S. §§ 1973, 1975; Feb. 14, 1903, c. 552, § 7, 32 Stat. 823; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

656. Same; administering oaths and taking testimony.—The agents are empowered to administer oaths in all cases relating to the service of the United States, and to take testimony in Alaska for the use of the Government in any matter concerning the public revenue. (R. S. § 1976.)

657. Traveling expenses.—The persons charged with the management of the seal fisheries in Alaska shall be allowed, in addition to their salaries, their necessary traveling expenses in going to and returning from Alaska, for which expenses vouchers shall be presented to the General Accounting Office. (R. S. § 1974; June 10, 1921, c. 18, § 304, 42 Stat. 24.)

658. Additional officers and agents to enforce seal fisheries law.—The Secretary of Commerce shall have authority to appoint such additional officers, agents, and employees as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of sections 644, 646, 647, and 649 to 653 of this title and the laws of the United States relating to the seal fisheries of Alaska, to prescribe their duties and to fix their compensation. (Apr. 21, 1910, c. 183, § 9, 36 Stat. 328.)

Chapter 6.—GAME AND BIRD PRESERVES; PROTECTION.

685. Same; hunting, trapping, killing, or capturing game unlawful.
686. Same; operation of local game laws.
687. Same; Grand Canyon Game Preserve included in park.

Section 671. National Bison Range.—There is reserved and excepted from the unallotted lands now embraced within the Flathead Indian Reservation, in the State of Montana, a parcel not to exceed twenty thousand acres of said lands, near the confluence of the Pend d'Oreille and Jocko Rivers, for a permanent National Bison Range for the herd of bison presented by the American Bison Society. The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed to inclose said lands with a good and substantial fence and to erect thereon the necessary sheds and buildings for the proper care and maintenance of the said bison. (May 23, 1908, c. 192, 35 Stat. 267; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 301, 35 Stat. 1051.)

672. Wind Cave National Game Preserve.—There is established a national game preserve, to be known as the Wind Cave National Game Preserve, upon the land embraced within the boundaries of the Wind Cave National Park, in the State of South Dakota, for a permanent national range for a herd of buffalo presented to the United States by the American Bison Society, and for such other native American game animals as may be placed therein. The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to acquire by purchase or condemnation such adjacent lands as may be necessary for the purpose of assuring an adequate, permanent water supply, and to enclose the said game preserve with a good and substantial fence and to erect thereon all necessary sheds and buildings for the proper care and maintenance of the said animals. (Aug. 10, 1912, c. 284, 37 Stat. 293.)

673. Wyoming Elk Reserve.—There is established a winter game (elk) reserve in the State of Wyoming, which shall be located in that section of Wyoming lying south of the Yellowstone Park, and shall include not less than two thousand acres in township 41 north, ranges 115 and 116 west, and the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to purchase said lands with improvements, to erect necessary buildings and inclosures, and to incur other expenses necessary for the maintenance of the reserve. The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to include in said refuge and to inclose not more than one thousand acres of unoccupied public lands, which when selected shall be made to conform to the lines of the public surveys, and shall be adjacent to or partly inclosed by said refuge. (Aug. 10, 1912, c. 284, 37 Stat. 293; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 145, 37 Stat. 847.)

674. Sullys Hill National Park Game Preserve.—For the improvement of a game preserve in Sullys Hill National Park, in the State of North Dakota, $5,000, the same to be available until expended. The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to inclose the Sullys Hill National Park with a good and substantial fence, to construct thereon all sheds, buildings, and corrals necessary for the proper care and maintenance of the animals and birds therein, to erect a suitable headquarters, to construct and maintain roads, trails, and other structures necessary for the convenience of visitors, and to incur such other expenses as may be necessary for the proper maintenance of the preserve and the animals and birds placed therein. He is also authorized to place in the park buffalos, elk, deer, and such other wild or rare animals and birds as he may in his discretion decide. (June 30, 1914, c. 131, 38 Stat. 434.)

675. Custer State Park Game Sanctuary; establishment.—There is designated as the Custer State Park Game Sanctuary such areas, not exceeding forty-six thousand acres, of the Harney National Forest, and adjoining or in the vicinity of the Custer State Park, in the State of South Dakota, as should, in the opinion of the President of the United States, be set aside for the protection of game animals and birds and be recognized as a breeding place therefor. (June 5, 1920, c. 247, § 1, 41 Stat. 986; June 7, 1924, c. 324, 43 Stat. 632.)

676. Same; hunting, etc., in; regulation; punishment.—Hunting, trapping, killing, or capturing of game animals and birds upon the lands of the United States designated in section 675 of this title shall be unlawful, except under such regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of Agriculture; and any person violating such regulations or the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction in any United States court of competent jurisdiction, be fined in a sum not exceeding $1.000, or be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. It is the purpose of this section to protect from trespass the public lands of the United States and the game animals and birds which may be thereon, and not to interfere with the operation of the local game laws as affecting private or State lands. (June 5, 1920, c. 247, §§ 2, 3, 41 Stat. 986.)

677. Same; inclosure.—The State of South Dakota is hereby authorized and permitted to erect and maintain a good substantial fence, inclosing in whole or in part Custer State Park Game Sanctuary. The State shall erect and maintain such gates in this fence as may be required by the authorized agents of the Federal Government in administering this game sanctuary and the adjoining national forest lands, and may erect and maintain such additional inclosures as may be agreed upon with the Secretary of Agriculture. The right of the State to maintain this fence shall continue so long as Custer State Park Game Sanctuary is also given similar protection by the laws of the State of South Dakota. (June 5, 1920, c. 247, § 4, 41 Stat. 986.)

678. Same; exchange of lands with State of South Dakota.—Upon recommendation of the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of the Interior may patent to the State of South Dakota not to exceed one thousand six hundred acres of nonmineral national forest lands not otherwise appropriated or withdrawn within the areas of Custer State Park Game Sanctuary: Provided, That the State of South Dakota conveys to the Government good and sufficient title to other lands of equal value owned by the State and lying within the exterior boundaries of a national forest in the State of South Dakota and approved by the Secretary of Agriculture as equally desirable for national forest purposes, the lands thus conveyed to the Government to become a part of the national forest. This shall not operate to restrict any selection rights which the State may have or may be hereafter granted, excepting as to the specific lands conveyed to the Government under authority of this section. (June 5, 1920, c. 247, § 5, 41 Stat. 986.)

679. Same; patents to State of South Dakota of certain lands in park; reservation of coal, oil, gas, and other mineral rights.—The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and directed to issue to the State of South Dakota patents conveying title, but reserving the minerals therein, to any unpatented lands of the United States held or claimed by virtue of locations made prior to March 3, 1925, under the United States general mining laws, within the Custer State Park, not exceeding a total of two thousand acres, upon payment to the United States of $1.25 per acre therefor, and upon evidence being furnished that all claim, right, title, and interest of such claimants have been transferred to the State or have been abandoned. Patents so issued to the State of South Dakota shall be conditioned upon the lands being used for park purposes, and provide for the reversion of the lands of the United States in the event of failure to so hold and use. The United States reserves all coal, oil, gas, or other minerals in the lands patented under this section with the right, in case any of said patented lands are found by the Secretary of the Interior to be more valuable for the minerals therein than for park purposes, to provide, by special legislation, having due regard for the rights of the State of South Dakota, for the disposition and extraction of the coal, oil, gas, or other minerals therein. The provisions of this section are limited to lands lying within the limits of the Custer State Park, within townships 3 and 4 south, range 6 east, and the east one-third of townships 3 and 4 south, range 5 east, Black Hills meridian. (Mar. 3, 1925, c. 465, 43 Stat. 1185.)

680. Game animal and bird refuge in South Dakota; establishment.—Subject to valid rights and entries initiated under the public land laws, prior to June 7, 1924, any or all of the following described lands in Government ownership may be withdrawn from entry and disposition by proclamation of the President for the purpose of protecting and propagating antelope and other game animals and birds: National forest lands—Township 18 north, range 7 east, Black Hills meridian, section 24, south half, and south half north half; section 25, all; township 18 north, range 8 east, sections 17 to 20, inclusive; section 21, west half; sections 29 to 32, inclusive. Public lands—Township 18 north, range 7 east, sections 5 to 9, inclusive; sections 13 to 23, inclusive; section 24, north half north half; sections 26 to 36, inclusive; and those parts of sections 3, 4, 10, and 11 lying south and west of the Riva Road. The withdrawal of the lands herein authorized shall not affect withdrawals for national forest purposes made prior to June 7, 1924. (June 7, 1924, c. 326, § 1, 43 Stat. 634.)

681. Same; erection of fence by State.—The State of South Dakota is authorized and permitted to erect and maintain a good, substantial fence inclosing in whole or in part such areas as may be designated and set aside by the President under the authority of section 680 of this title. The State shall erect and maintain such gates in this fence as may be required by the authorized agents of the Federal Government in the administration of the national forest lands embraced therein, or to provide ingress and egress to persons occupying lands within said inclosure. The right of the State to maintain said fence shall continue so long as the area designated by the President shall be given protection by the laws of the State of South Dakota as a game refuge. (June 7, 1924, c. 326, § 2, 43 Stat. 634.)

682. Game refuge in Ozark National Forest.—The President of the United States is authorized to designate such national forest lands within the Ozark National Forest, within the State of Arkansas, as should, in his discretion, be set aside for the protection of game animals, birds, or fish; and whoever shall hunt, catch, trap, willfully disturb, or kill any kind of game animal, game or nongame bird, or fish, or take the eggs of any such bird on any lands so set aside, or in or on the waters thereof, except under such general rules and regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture may from time to time prescribe, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. No lands within the present limits of the fourth congressional district shall be included in such designation. (Feb. 28, 1925, c. 376, 43 Stat. 1091.)

683. Areas set aside for protection of game and fish; unlawfully taking game or fish.—The President of the United States is authorized to designate such areas on any lands purchased by the United States under the provisions of sections 513 to 519 and 521 of this title, as should, in his opinion, be set aside for the protection of game animals, birds, or fish.

Whoever shall hunt, catch, trap, willfully disturb or kill any kind of game animal, game or nongame bird, or fish, or take the eggs of any such bird on lands set aside, or in or on the waters thereof, except under such general rules and regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture may from time to time prescribe, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (Aug. 11, 1916, c. 313, 39 Stat. 476.)

684. Game breeding areas in Wichita National Forest.—The President of the United States is hereby authorized to designate such areas in the Wichita National Forest and in the Grand Canyon National Forest as should, in his opinion, be set aside for the protection of game animals and birds and be recognized as a breeding place therefor. (Jan. 24, 1905, c. 137, § 1, 33 Stat. 614; June 29, 1906, c. 3593, § 1, 34 Stat. 607.)

685. Same; hunting, trapping, killing, or capturing game unlawful.—Hunting, trapping, killing, or capturing of game animals and birds upon the lands of the United States within the limits of areas provided for in section 684 of this title shall be unlawful, except under such regulations as may be prescribed from time to time, by the Secretary of Agriculture; and any person violating such regulations or the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction in any United States court of competent jurisdiction, be fined in a sum not exceeding $1,000 or be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (Jan. 24, 1905, c. 137, § 2, 33 Stat. 614; June 29, 1906, c. 3593, § 2, 34 Stat. 607.)

686. Same; operation of local game laws.—It is the purpose of sections 684 and 685 of this title to protect from trespass the public lands of the United States and the game animals and birds which may be thereon, and not to interfere with the operation of the local game laws as affecting private, State or Territorial lands. (Jan. 24, 1905, c. 137, § 3, 33 Stat. 614; June 29, 1906, c. 3593, § 3, 34 Stat. 607.)

687. Same; Grand Canyon Game Preserve included in Park.—Such parts of the Grand Canyon National Game Preserve, designated under authority of section 684 of this title, as are included with the Grand Canyon National Park are excluded and eliminated from said game preserve. (Feb. 26, 1919, c. 44, § 9, 40 Stat. 1178.)

Chapter 7.—PROTECTION OF MIGRATORY GAME AND INSECTIVOROUS BIRDS.

Sec.
701. Game and wild birds; preservation.
702. Importation of eggs of game birds for propagation.
703. Taking, killing, or possessing migratory birds unlawful.
704. Determination as to when and how migratory birds may be taken, killed, or possessed.
705. Transportation or importation of migratory birds; when unlawful.
706. Arrests; search warrants.
707. Punishments.
708. State or Territorial laws or regulations.
709. Migratory birds, nests, or eggs for scientific or propagating purposes.
710. Partial invalidity; short title.
711. Breeding and sale for food supply.

Section 701. Game and wild birds; preservation.—The duties and powers of the Department of Agriculture include the preservation, distribution, introduction, and restoration of game birds and other wild birds. The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to adopt such measures as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section and sections 391 to 394, of Title 18, CRIMINAL CODE AND CRIMINAL PROCEDURE, and to purchase such game birds and other wild birds as may be required therefor, subject, however, to the laws of the various States and Territories. The object and purpose of this section is to aid in the restoration of such birds in those parts of the United States adapted thereto where the same have become scarce or extinct, and also to regulate the introduction of American or foreign birds or animals in localities where they have not heretofore existed.

The Secretary of Agriculture shall from time to time collect and publish useful information as to the propagation, uses, and preservation of such birds.

And the Secretary of Agriculture shall make and publish all needful rules and regulations for carrying out the purposes of said sections, and shall expend for said purposes such sums as Congress may appropriate therefor. (May 25, 1900, c. 553, § 1, 31 Stat. 187.)

702. Importation of eggs of game birds for propagation.—The Secretary of Agriculture shall have the power to authorize the importation of eggs of game birds for purposes of propagation, and he shall prescribe all necessary rules and regulations governing the importation of eggs of said birds for such purposes. (June 3, 1902, c. 983, 32 Stat. 285.)

703. Taking, killing, or possessing migratory birds unlawful.—Unless and except as permitted by regulations made as hereinafter provided, it shall be unlawful to hunt, take, capture, kill, attempt to take, capture or kill, possess, offer for sale, sell, offer to purchase, purchase, deliver for shipment, ship, cause to be shipped, deliver for transportation, transport, cause to be transported, carry or cause to be carried by any means whatever, receive for shipment, transportation or carriage, or export, at any time or in any manner, any migratory bird, included in the terms of the convention between the United States and Great Britain for the protection of migratory birds concluded August 16, 1916 (39 Stat. 1702), or any part, nest, or egg of any such bird. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 2, 40 Stat. 755.)

704. Determination as to when and how migratory birds may be taken, killed, or possessed.—Subject to the provisions and in order to carry out the purposes of the convention, the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed, from time to time, having due regard to the zones of temperature and to the distribution, abundance, economic value, breeding habits, and times and lines of migratory flight of such birds, to determine when, to what extent, if at all, and by what means, it is compatible with the terms of the convention to allow hunting, taking, capture, killing, possession, sale, purchase, shipment, transportation, carriage, or export of any such bird, or any part, nest, or egg thereof, and to adopt suitable regulations permitting and governing the same, in accordance with such determinations, which regulations shall become effective when approved by the President. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 3, 40 Stat. 755.)

705. Transportation or importation of migratory birds; when unlawful.—It shall be unlawful to ship, transport, or carry, by any means whatever, from one State, Territory, or district to or through another State, Territory, or district, or to or through a foreign country, any bird, or any part, nest, or egg thereof, captured, killed, taken, shipped, transported, or carried at any time contrary to the laws of the State, Territory, or district in which it was captured, killed, or taken, or from which it was shipped, transported, or carried. It shall be unlawful to import any bird, or any part, nest, or egg thereof, captured, killed, taken, shipped, transported, or carried contrary to the laws of any Province of the Dominion of Canada in which the same was captured, killed, or taken, or from which it was shipped, transported, or carried. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 4, 40 Stat. 755.)

706. Arrests; search warrants.—Any employee of the Department of Agriculture authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture to enforce the provisions of sections 703 to 711 of this title shall have power, without warrant, to arrest any person committing a violation of said sections in his presence or view and to take such person immediately for examination or trial before an officer or court of competent jurisdiction; shall have power to execute any warrant or other process issued by an officer or court of competent jurisdiction for the enforcement of the provisions of said sections; and shall have authority, with a search warrant, to search any place. The several judges of the courts established under the laws of the United States, and United States commissioners may, within their respective jurisdictions, upon proper oath or affirmation showing probable cause, issue warrants in all such cases. All birds, or parts, nests, or eggs thereof, captured, killed, taken, shipped, transported, carried, or possessed contrary to the provisions of said sections or of any regulations made pursuant thereto shall, when found, be seized by any such employee, or by any marshal or deputy marshal, and, upon conviction of the offender or upon judgment of a court of the United States that the same were captured, killed, taken, shipped, transported, carried, or possessed contrary to the provisions of said sections or of any regulation made pursuant thereto, shall be forfeited to the United States and disposed of as directed by the court having jurisdiction. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 5, 40 Stat. 756.)

707. Punishments.—Any person, association, partnership, or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of said convention or of sections 703 to 711 of this title, or who shall violate or fail to comply with any regulation made pursuant to said sections, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $500 or be imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 6, 40 Stat. 756.)

708. State or Territorial laws or regulations.—Nothing in sections 703 to 711 of this title shall be construed to prevent the several States and Territories from making or enforcing laws or regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of said convention or of said sections, or from making or enforcing laws or regulations which shall give further protection to migratory birds, their nests, and eggs, if such laws or regulations do not extend the open seasons for such birds beyond the dates approved by the President in accordance with section 704 of this title. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 7, 40 Stat. 756.)

709. Migratory birds, nests, or eggs for scientific or propagating purposes.—Until the adoption and approval, pursuant to section 704 of this title, of regulations dealing with migratory birds and their nests and eggs, such migratory birds and their nests and eggs as are intended and used exclusively for scientific or propagating purposes may be taken, captured, killed, possessed, sold, purchased, shipped, and transported for such scientific or propagating purposes if and to the extent not in conflict with the laws of the State, Territory, or District in which they are taken, captured, killed, possessed, sold, or purchased, or in or from which they are shipped or transported if the packages containing the dead bodies or the nests or eggs of such birds when shipped and transported shall be marked on the outside thereof so as accurately and clearly to show the name and address of the shipper and the contents of the package. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 8, 40 Stat. 756.)

710. Partial invalidity; short title.—If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of sections 703 to 711 of this title, which shall be known by the short title of the "Migratory Bird Treaty Act," shall, for any reason, be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 10, 40 Stat. 757.)

711. Breeding and sale for food supply.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent the breeding of migratory game birds on farms and preserves and the sale of birds so bred under proper regulation for the purpose of increasing the food supply. (July 3, 1918, c. 128, § 12, 40 Stat. 757.)

Chapter 8.—UPPER MISSISSIPPI RIVER WILD LIFE AND FISH REFUGE.

Sec.
721. Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge; citation.
722. Same; acquisition of lands and water for.
723. Same; purposes of refuge; regulations by Secretaries of Agriculture and Commerce.
724. Same; consent of States to acquisition; existing rights of way, easements, and so forth.
725. Same; joint regulations, and so forth, by Secretaries of Agriculture and Commerce.
726. Same; acts prohibited in refuge; commercial fishing.
727. Same; powers of employees of Departments of Agriculture and Commerce; searches and seizures.
728. Same; expenditures.
729. Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge; price per acre.
730. Same; violations of law or regulations; punishment.
731. Same; effect on other laws.

Section 721. Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge; citation.—Sections 722 to 731 of this title may be cited as "The Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge Act." The term "person" as used therein includes an individual, partnership, association or corporation. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, §§ 1, 12, 43 Stat. 650, 652.)

722. Same; acquisition of lands and water for.—The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed to acquire by purchase, gift, or lease, such areas of land, or of land and water, situated between Rock Island, Illinois, and Wabasha, Minnesota, on either side of or upon islands in the Mississippi River which are subject to overflow by such river and which are not used for agricultural purposes, as he determines suitable for the purposes of this chapter, and any such area when acquired shall become a part of the Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge (referred to in this chapter as the "refuge"). (June 7, 1924, c. 346, §§ 2, 3, 43 Stat. 650.)

723. Same; purposes of refuge; regulations by Secretaries of Agriculture and Commerce.—The refuge shall be established and maintained (a) as a refuge and breeding place for migratory birds included in the terms of the convention between the United States and Great Britain for the protection of migratory birds, concluded August 16, 1916, and (b) to such extent as the Secretary of Agriculture may by regulations prescribe, as a refuge and breeding place for other wild birds, game animals, fur-bearing animals, and for the conservation of wild flowers and aquatic plants, and (c) to such extent as the Secretary of Commerce may by regulations prescribe as a refuge and breeding place for fish and other aquatic animal life. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, § 3, 43 Stat. 650.)

724. Same; consent of States to acquisition; existing rights of way, easements, and so forth.—(a) Such area shall not be acquired by the Secretary of Agriculture until the legislature of each State in which is situated any part of the areas to be acquired under section 722 of this title has consented to the acquisition of such part by the United States for the purposes therein stated, and, except in the case of a lease, no payment shall be made by the United States for any such area until title thereto is satisfactory to the Attorney General and is vested in the United States.

(b) The existence of a right of way, easement, or other reservation or exception in respect of such area shall not be a bar to its acquisition (1) if the Secretary of Agriculture determines that any such reservation or exception will in no manner interfere with the use of the area for the purposes for which acquired, or (2) if in the deed or other conveyance it is stipulated that any reservation or exception in respect of such area, in favor of the person from whom the United States receives title, shall be subject to regulations prescribed under authority of this chapter. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, § 4, 43 Stat. 650.)

725. Same; joint regulations, and so forth, by Secretaries of Agriculture and Commerce.—Except where it is specifically provided otherwise, the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of Commerce shall jointly prescribe such regulations, exercise such functions, and perform such duties as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, § 5, 43 Stat. 651.)

726. Same; acts prohibited in refuge; commercial fishing.—No person shall, except in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture in respect of wild birds, game animals, fur-bearing animals, wild flowers, and aquatic plants, or by the Secretary of Commerce in respect of fish and other aquatic-animal life—

(a) Enter the refuge for any purpose; or

(b) Disturb, injure, kill, or remove, or attempt to disturb, injure, kill, or remove any wild bird, game animal, fur-bearing animal, fish or other aquatic-animal life on the refuge; or

(c) Remove from the refuge, or injure or destroy thereon any flower, plant, tree, or other natural growth, or the nest or egg of any wild bird; or

(d) Injure or destroy any notice, sign board, fence, building, or other property of the United States thereon. Commercial fishing may, however, be conducted in the waters of this refuge under regulation by the Secretary of Commerce. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, §§ 6, 7, 43 Stat. 651.)

727. Same; powers of employees of Departments of Agriculture and Commerce; searches and seizures.—(a) Any employee of the Department of Agriculture authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture to enforce the provisions of this chapter, and any employee of the Department of Commerce so authorized by the Secretary of Commerce (1) shall have power, without warrant, to arrest any person committing in the presence of such employee a violation of this chapter or of any regulation made pursuant to this chapter, and to take such person immediately for examination or trial before an officer or court of competent jurisdiction, (2) shall have power to execute any warrant or other process issued by an officer or court of competent jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this chapter or regulations made pursuant thereto, and (3) shall have authority, with a search warrant issued by an officer or court of competent jurisdiction to make a search in accordance with the terms of such warrant. Any judge of a court established under the laws of the United States, or any United States commissioner may, within his respective jurisdiction, upon proper oath or affirmation showing probable cause, issue warrants in all such cases.

(b) All birds, animals, fish, or parts thereof captured, injured, or killed, and all flowers, plants, trees, and other natural growths, and nests and eggs of birds removed, and all implements or paraphernalia, including guns, fishing equipment, and boats used or attempted to be used contrary to the provisions of this chapter or any regulations made pursuant thereto, shall, when found by such employee or by any marshal or deputy marshal, be summarily seized by him and placed in the custody of such persons as the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of Commerce may jointly by regulation prescribe.

(c) A report of the seizure shall be made to the United States attorney for the judicial district in which the seizure is made, for forfeiture either (1) upon conviction of the offender under section 730 of this title, or (2) by proceedings by libel in rem. Such libel proceedings shall conform as near as may be to civil suits in admiralty, except that either party may demand trial by jury upon any issue of fact when the value in controversy exceeds $20. In case of a jury trial the verdict of the jury shall have the same effect as the finding of the court upon the facts. Libel proceedings shall be at the suit and in the name of the United States. If such forfeiture proceedings are not instituted within a reasonable time, the United States attorney shall give notice thereof, and the custodian shall thereupon release the articles seized. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, § 8, 43 Stat. 651.)

728. Same; expenditures.—The Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of Commerce are authorized to make such expenditures for construction, equipment, maintenance, repairs, and improvements, including expenditures for personal services at the seat of government and elsewhere, as may be necessary to execute the functions imposed upon them by this chapter and as may be provided for by Congress from time to time. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, § 9, 43 Stat. 652.)

729. Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge; price per acre.—For the acquisition of any areas authorized by section 722 of this title, the Secretary of Agriculture shall not pay for any land or land and water a price which when added to the price of land or land and water theretofore purchased, shall exceed an average cost of $5 per acre. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, § 10, 43 Stat. 652; Mar. 4, 1925, c. 558, 43 Stat. 1354.)

730. Same; violations of law or regulations; punishment.—Any person who shall violate or fail to comply with any provision of or any regulation made pursuant to this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $500 or be imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, § 11, 43 Stat. 652.)

731. Same; effect on other laws.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as exempting any portion of the Mississippi River from the provisions of Federal laws for the improvement, preservation, and protection of navigable waters, nor as authorizing any interference with the operations of the War Department in carrying out any project now or hereafter adopted for the improvement of said river. (June 7, 1924, c. 346, § 13, 43 Stat. 652.)

Chapter 9.—THE BUREAU OF FISHERIES.

Sec.
741. Commissioner of Fisheries.
742. Acting commissioner.
743. Details from Coast Guard.
744. Investigations; fish propagation; annual statement of expenditures; investigations of damages by predacious fishes; executive assistance.
745. Powers of commissioner.
746. Vessels of Bureau of Fisheries.
747. Vessels of bureau; commutation of rations of officers and crews.
748. Expenditure of appropriations for propagation of food fishes.
749. Advisory committee; designations; duties; expenses.
750. Station on Mississippi River for rescue of fish and propagation of mussels.
751. Same; personnel.

Section 741. Commissioner of Fisheries.—There shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a person of scientific and practical acquaintance with the fish and fisheries to be a Commissioner of Fisheries, and he shall be removable at the pleasure of the President. He shall not hold any other office or employment under the authority of the United States or any State. (R. S. § 4395; Jan. 20, 1888, c. 1, 25 Stat. 1; Feb. 27, 1925, c. 364, 43 Stat. 1046.)

742. Acting commissioner.—In the case of the absence of the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries the Secretary of Commerce may designate some officer of said bureau to perform the duties of the commissioner during their absence. (Mar. 4, 1911, c. 285, § 1, 36 Stat. 1436; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141; § 1, 37 Stat. 736.)

743. Details from Coast Guard.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to detail from time to time for duty under the Commissioner of Fisheries any officers and men of the Coast Guard whose services can be spared for such duty. (Mar. 3, 1885, c. 360, 23 Stat. 494; Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, 38 Stat. 800.)

744. Investigations; fish propagation; annual statement of expenditures; investigations of damages by predacious fishes; executive assistance.—The Commissioner of Fisheries shall prosecute investigations and inquiries on the subject, with the view of ascertaining whether any and what diminution in the number of the food fishes of the coast and the lakes of the United States has taken place; and, if so, to what causes the same is due; and also whether any and what protective, prohibitory, or precautionary measures should be adopted in the premises; and shall report upon the same to Congress. He shall submit annually to Congress at the beginning of each session a detailed statement of expenditures under all appropriations for "propagation of food fishes." He is authorized and directed to conduct investigations and experiments for the purpose of ameliorating the damage wrought to the fisheries by dogfish and other predacious fishes and aquatic animals. Said investigations and experiments shall be such as to develop the best and cheapest means of taking such fishes and aquatic animals, of utilizing them for economic purposes, especially for food and to encourage the establishment of fisheries and markets for them.

The heads of the several executive departments shall cause to be rendered all necessary and practicable aid to the commissioner in the prosecution of his investigations and inquiries. (R. S. §§ 4396, 4397; Mar. 3, 1887, c. 362, 24 Stat. 523; June 21, 1916, c. 160; §§ 1, 2, 39 Stat. 232.)

745. Powers of commissioner.—The commissioner may take or cause to be taken at all times, in the waters of the seacoast of the United States, where the tide ebbs and flows, and also in the waters of the lakes, such fish or specimens thereof as may in his judgment, from time to time, be needful or proper for the conduct of his duties, any law, custom, or usage of any State to the contrary notwithstanding. (R. S. § 4398.)

746. Vessels of Bureau of Fisheries.—The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to place the vessels of the United States Bureau of Fisheries on the same footing with the Navy Department as those of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. (May 31, 1880, c. 113, § 1, 21 Stat. 151.)

747. Vessels of bureau; commutation of rations of officers and crews.—Commutation of rations (not to exceed $1 per day) may be paid to officers and crews of vessels of the Bureau of Fisheries under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce. (Mar. 28, 1922, c. 117, Title I, 42 Stat. 484; Jan. 5, 1923, c. 24, Title I, 42 Stat. 1125; May 28, 1924, c. 204, Title III, 43 Stat. 238; Feb. 27, 1925, c. 364, Title III, 43 Stat. 1047.)

748. Expenditure of appropriations for propagation of food fishes.—Appropriations for propagation of food fishes shall not be expended for hatching or planting fish or eggs in any State in which, in the judgment of the Secretary of Commerce, there are not adequate laws for the protection of the fishes, nor in any State in which the United States Commissioner of Fisheries and his duly authorized agents are not accorded full and free right to conduct fish-cultural operations, and all fishing and other operations necessary therefor, in such manner and at such times as is considered necessary and proper by the said commissioner or his agents. (July 1, 1918, c. 113, § 1, 40 Stat. 693.)

749. Advisory committee; designations; duties; expenses.—There shall be an advisory committee of not to exceed two members from the Atlantic coast, two members from the Pacific coast, and four members from the inland waters, Great Lakes, and Alaskan sections of the United States, to be designated from time to time by the Secretary of Commerce, to consist of men prominently identified with the various branches of the fishery industry, qualified in aquatic research, and experienced in fish culture, who shall visit the Bureau of Fisheries at such times as the Secretary of Commerce may deem necessary and report to the Secretary of Commerce on the condition and needs of the service, the members to serve without compensation, but to be paid the actual expenses incurred in attending the meetings. (June 16, 1921, c. 23, § 4, 42 Stat. 63.)

750. Station on Mississippi River for rescue of fishes and propagation of mussels.—There shall be established on the Mississippi River, at a point to be selected by the Secretary of Commerce, a station for the rescue of fishes and the propagation of mussels in connection with fish-rescue operations throughout the Mississippi Valley, to be under the direction of the Bureau of Fisheries of the Department of Commerce. (Apr. 28, 1922, c. 153, § 1, 42 Stat. 501.)

751. Same; personnel.—In connection with the establishment of such fish-rescue station there is authorized the following personnel, namely: One district supervisor, to have general charge of fish-rescue and fish-cultural operations in the Mississippi Valley; a superintendent, two field foremen, four fish-culturists at large, one engineer at large, one clerk, two coxswains at large, and two apprentice fish-culturists, whose respective salaries shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of section 676 of Title 5, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES. (Apr. 28, 1922, c. 153, § 2, 42 Stat. 501.)

Chapter 10.—NORTHERN PACIFIC HALIBUT FISHERY.

Sec.
761. Definition of terms "close season," "territorial waters," "prohibited waters."
762. Fishing unlawful, when; exceptions.
763. Unlawful port use; departures.
764. Unlawful port entry; possession of fish unlawfully caught.
765. Canadian vessels and nationals.
766. Patrols; searches.
767. Seizure and forfeiture.
768. Penalty; Fisheries Commission exempted.
769. Duration of chapter.

Section 761. Definition of terms "close season," "territorial waters," "prohibited waters."—For the purposes of this chapter "close season" shall mean the period from the 16th day of November in any year to the 15th day of February in the next following year, both days inclusive, or any other close season hereafter fixed by agreement between the United States and Canada; "territorial waters of the United States" shall mean the waters contiguous to the western coast of the United States and the waters contiguous to the coast of Alaska; "territorial waters of Canada" shall mean the waters contiguous to the western coast of Canada, and "prohibited waters" shall mean the territorial waters of the United States, the territorial waters of Canada, and the high seas, including Bering Sea, extending westerly from the limits of the territorial waters of the United States and of Canada. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, § 2, 43 Stat. 648.)

762. Fishing unlawful, when; exceptions.—It shall be unlawful for any person to fish for, or catch, or attempt to catch, any halibut (hippoglossus) at any time during the close season in the territorial waters of the United States, or for any national or inhabitant of the United States to fish for, or catch, or attempt to catch, any halibut at any time during the close season in prohibited waters. The unintentional catching of halibut, when legally fishing for other species of fish, shall not constitute a violation of this section if such halibut shall be used for food by the crew of the vessel catching the same, or be landed and immediately delivered to any authorized official of the Bureau of Fisheries of the Department of Commerce of the United States or the fishing authorities of the Dominion of Canada. The halibut delivered to any official of the United States pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be sold by the Department of Commerce to the highest bidder for cash and the proceeds therefrom, exclusive of necessary expenses in connection therewith, shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, § 3, 43 Stat. 649.)

763. Unlawful port use; departures.—No person, firm, or corporation shall use any port of or place in the United States to furnish, prepare, or outfit any vessel, boat, or other craft intended to be used in violation of this chapter, nor shall any person permit, or cause to be permitted, any vessel, boat, or other craft intended to be used in violation of this chapter to depart from any port of or place in the United States. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, § 4, 43 Stat. 649.)

764. Unlawful port entry; possession of fish unlawfully caught.—It shall be unlawful for any vessel, boat, or other craft having on board any halibut caught contrary to the provisions of this chapter to enter any port or place in the United States, or for any vessel, boat, or other craft to enter any such port or place while upon or in the prosecution of any voyage during which the vessel, boat, or other craft fished or was used in fishing for halibut in prohibited waters in the close season. It shall be unlawful for any person knowingly to have in his possession any halibut unlawfully caught under the provisions of this chapter. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, § 5, 43 Stat. 649.)

765. Canadian vessels and nationals.—Every national or inhabitant and every vessel of Canada found violating the provisions of this chapter shall be delivered as soon as practicable to an authorized official of Canada at the nearest point to the place of seizure or elsewhere as the officials of the United States seizing the same and the authorized officials of Canada may agree upon, and the witnesses and proof necessary to the prosecution of said persons and vessels of Canada shall be furnished with reasonable promptitude to the authorities of Canada having jurisdiction thereof. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, § 8, 43 Stat. 649.)

766. Patrols; searches.—The President shall cause a patrol of naval or other public vessels designated by him to be maintained in such places and waters as to him shall seem expedient for enforcing the provisions of this chapter, and any officer of any vessel engaged in such service, and any other officers designated by the President, may search any vessel, boat, or other craft in the territorial waters of the United States and any vessel, boat, or other craft of the United States on the high seas when suspected of having violated or being about to violate the provisions of this chapter. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, § 7, 43 Stat. 649.)

767. Seizure and forfeiture.—Every vessel, boat, or craft employed in any manner in violating the provisions of this chapter shall be seized by any collector, surveyor, inspector, officer of a revenue cutter, or person specified in section 766 of this title, and except as provided in section 765 of this title, every such vessel, boat, or craft, including its tackle, apparel, furniture, cargo, and stores, shall be forfeited to the United States by proper proceedings in any court of the United States in Alaska, California, Oregon, or Washington. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, § 9, 43 Stat. 650.)

768. Penalty; Fisheries Commission exempted.—Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, but none of the inhibitions contained in the chapter shall apply to the International Fisheries Commission when engaged in any scientific investigation. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, §§ 6, 10, 43 Stat. 649, 650.)

769. Duration of chapter.—This chapter, which may be cited as the Northern Pacific Halibut Act shall continue in force until the termination of the convention concluded by the United States and Great Britain on March 2, 1924 (Forty-third Statutes, page 1841), for the protection of the halibut fishery of the northern Pacific Ocean. (June 7, 1924, c. 345, §§ 1, 12, 43 Stat. 648, 650.)

Chapter 11.—REGULATION OF LANDING, CURING, AND SALE OF SPONGES TAKEN FROM GULF OF MEXICO AND FLORIDA.

Sec.
781. Taking or catching, in waters of Gulf or Straits of Florida, commercial sponges of less than prescribed size, and landing or possession of same.
782. Same; possession prima facie evidence.
783. Punishment for violations of law; liability of vessels.
784. Jurisdiction of prosecutions.
785. Enforcement of law prohibiting taking of sponges of specified sizes; employment of vessels of the Coast Guard and of employees of Customs Service.

Section 781. Taking or catching, in waters of Gulf or Straits of Florida, commercial sponges of less than prescribed size, and landing or possession of same.—It is unlawful for any citizen of the United States, or person owing duty of obedience to the laws of the United States, or any boat or vessel of the United States, or person belonging to or on any such boat or vessel, to take or catch, by any means or method, in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico or the Straits of Florida outside of State territorial limits, any commercial sponges measuring when wet less than five inches in their maximum diameter, or for any person or vessel to land, deliver, cure, offer for sale, or have in possession at any port or place in the United States, or on any boat or vessel of the United States, any such commercial sponges. (Aug. 15, 1914, c. 253, § 1, 38 Stat. 692.)

782. Same; possession prima facie evidence.—The presence of sponges of a diameter of less than five inches on any vessel or boat of the United States engaged in sponging in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico or the Straits of Florida outside of State territorial limits, or the possession of any sponges of less than the said diameter sold or delivered by such vessels, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of the provisions of this chapter. (Aug. 15, 1914, c. 253, § 2, 38 Stat. 692.)

783. Punishment for violations of law; liability of vessels.—Every person, partnership, or association guilty of a violation of the provisions of this chapter shall be liable to a fine of not more than $500, and in addition such fine shall be a lien against the vessel or boat on which the offense is committed, and said vessel or boat shall be seized and proceeded against by process of libel in any court having jurisdiction of the offense. (Aug. 15, 1914, c. 253, § 3, 38 Stat. 692.)

784. Jurisdiction of prosecutions.—Any violation of the provisions of this chapter shall be prosecuted in the district court of the United States of the district wherein the offender is found or into which he is first brought. (Aug. 15, 1914, c. 253, § 4, 38 Stat. 692.)

785. Enforcement of law prohibiting taking of sponges of specified sizes; employment of vessels of the Coast Guard and of employees of Customs Service.—The Secretary of Commerce shall enforce the provisions of this chapter, and he is authorized to empower such officers and employees of the Department of Commerce as he may designate, or such officers and employees of other departments as may be detailed for the purpose, to make arrests and seize vessels and sponges, and upon his request the Secretary of the Treasury may employ the vessels of the Coast Guard or the employees of the Customs Service to that end. (Aug. 15, 1914, c. 253, § 5, 38 Stat. 692.)

Chapter 12.—WATER POWER.

Sec.
791. Short title of chapter.
792. Creation of Federal Power Commission; members, quorum, seal, and chairman.
793. Executive secretary; detail of engineer officer.
794. Performance of work of commission generally.

Sec.
795. Expenses of commission generally; subsistence allowance to employees on field work.
796. Words used in chapter defined.
797. General powers of commission.
798. Purpose and scope of preliminary permits; transfer and cancellation.
799. License; duration, conditions, revocation, alteration, or surrender.
800. Preferences in issuance of preliminary permits or licenses.
801. Transfer of license; obligations of transferee.
802. Information to accompany application for license.
803. Conditions of license generally.
804. Project works affecting navigable waters; requirements insertable in license.
805. Participation by Government of cost of locks, and so forth.
806. Time limit for construction of project works; extension of time; termination or revocation of licenses for delay.
807. Right of Government to take over project works; compensation; condemnation by Federal or State Government.
808. New licenses and removals; compensation of old licensee.
809. Temporary use by Government of project works for national safety; compensation for use.
810. Disposition of charges arising from licenses.
811. Operation of navigation facilities; rules and regulations; penalties.
812. Public service licensee; regulations by State or by commission as to service, rates, charges, etc.
813. Power entering into interstate commerce; regulation of rate, charges, and so forth.
814. Exercise by licensee of power of eminent domain.
815. Contract to furnish power extending beyond period of license; obligations of new licensee.
816. Preservation of rights vested prior to June 10, 1920.
817. Projects not affecting navigable waters; necessity for Federal license.
818. Public lands included in project; reservation of lands from entry.
819. Offenses; punishment.
820. Proceedings in equity for revocation of license or to prevent violations of license.
821. State laws and water rights unaffected.
822. Reservation of right to alter or repeal chapter.
823. Repeal of inconsistent laws.

Section 791. Short title of chapter.—The short title of this chapter shall be "The Federal Water Power Act." (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 30, 41 Stat. 1077.)

792. Creation of Federal Power Commission; members, quorum, seal, and chairman.—A commission is hereby created and established, to be known as the Federal Power Commission (hereinafter referred to in this chapter as the commission), which shall be composed of the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Interior, and the Secretary of Agriculture. Two members of the commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and the commission shall have an official seal, which shall be judicially noticed. The President shall designate the chairman of the commission. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 1, 41 Stat. 1063.)

793. Executive secretary; detail of engineer officer.—The commission shall appoint an executive secretary, who shall receive a salary of $5,000 a year, and prescribe his duties, and the commission may request the President of the United States to detail an officer from the United States Engineer Corps to serve the commission as engineer officer, his duties to be prescribed by the commission. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 2, 41 Stat. 1063.)

794. Performance of work of commission generally.—The work of the commission shall be performed by and through the Departments of War, Interior, and Agriculture and their engineering, technical, clerical, and other personnel except as may be otherwise provided by law. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 2, 41 Stat. 1063.)

795. Expenses of commission generally; subsistence allowance to employees on field work.—All the expenses of the commission, including rent in the District of Columbia, all necessary expenses for transportation and subsistence, including, in the discretion of the commission, a per diem of not exceeding $4 in lieu of subsistence incurred by its employees under its orders in making any investigation, or conducting field work, or upon official business outside of the District of Columbia and away from their designated points of duty, shall be allowed and paid on the presentation of itemized vouchers therefor approved by a member or officer of the commission duly authorized for that purpose. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 2, 41 Stat. 1063.)

796. Words used in chapter defined.—The words defined in this section shall have the following meanings for the purposes of this chapter, to wit:

"Public lands" means such lands and interests in lands owned by the United States as are subject to private appropriation and disposal under public-land laws. It shall not include "reservations," as hereinafter defined.

"Reservations" means national monuments, national parks, national forests, tribal lands embraced within Indian reservations, military reservations, and other lands and interests in lands owned by the United States, and withdrawn, reserved, or withheld from private appropriation and disposal under the public-land laws; also lands and interests in lands acquired and held for any public purpose.

"Corporation" means a corporation organized under the laws of any State or of the United States empowered to develop, transmit, distribute, sell, lease, or utilize power in addition to such other powers as it may possess, and authorized to transact in the State or States in which its project is located all business necessary to effect the purposes of a license under this chapter. It shall not include "municipalities" as hereinafter defined.

"State" means a State admitted to the Union, the District of Columbia, and any organized Territory of the United States.

"Municipality" means a city, county, irrigation district, drainage district, or other political subdivision or agency of a State competent under the laws thereof to carry on the business of developing, transmitting, utilizing, or distributing power.

"Navigable waters" means those parts of streams or other bodies of water over which Congress has jurisdiction under its authority to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several States, and which either in their natural or improved condition, notwithstanding interruptions between the navigable parts of such streams or waters by falls, shallows, or rapids compelling land carriage, are used or suitable for use for the transportation of persons or property in interstate or foreign commerce, including therein all such interrupting falls, shallows, or rapids; together with such other parts of streams as shall have been authorized by Congress for improvement by the United States or shall have been recommended to Congress for such improvement after investigation under its authority.

"Municipal purposes" means and includes all purposes within municipal powers as defined by the constitution or laws of the State or by the charter of the municipality.

"Government dam" means a dam or other work, constructed or owned by the United States for Government purposes, with or without contribution from others.

"Project" means complete unit of improvement or development, consisting of a power house, all water conduits, all dams and appurtenant works and structures (including navigation structures) which are a part of said unit, and all storage, diverting, or forebay reservoirs directly connected therewith, the primary line or lines transmitting power therefrom to the point of junction with the distribution system or with the interconnected primary transmission system, all miscellaneous structures used and useful in connection with said unit or any part thereof, and all water rights, rights of way, ditches, dams, reservoirs, lands, or interest in lands, the use and occupancy of which are necessary or appropriate in the maintenance and operation of such unit.

"Project works" means the physical structures of a project.

"Net investment" in a project means the actual legitimate original cost thereof as defined and interpreted in the "classification of investment in road and equipment of steam roads, issue of 1914, Interstate Commerce Commission," plus similar costs of additions thereto and betterments thereof, minus the sum of the following items properly allocated thereto, if and to the extent that such items have been accumulated during the period of the license from earnings in excess of a fair return on such investment: (a) Unappropriated surplus, (b) aggregate credit balances of current depreciation accounts, and (c) aggregate appropriations of surplus or income held in amortization, sinking fund, or similar reserves, or expended for additions or betterments or used for the purposes for which such reserves were created. The term "cost" shall include, in so far as applicable, the elements thereof prescribed in said classification, but shall not include expenditures from funds obtained through donations by States, municipalities, individuals, or others, and said classification of investment of the Interstate Commerce Commission shall in so far as applicable be published and promulgated as a part of the rules and regulations of the commission. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 3, 41 Stat. 1063.)

797. General powers of commission.—The commission is hereby authorized and empowered—

Investigations and data; statements as to investment of licenses in projects; access to projects, maps, and so forth.—(a) To make investigations and to collect and record data concerning the utilization of the water resources of any region to be developed, the water power industry and its relation to other industries and to interstate or foreign commerce, and concerning the location, capacity, development costs, and relation to markets of power sites, and whether the power from Government dams can be advantageously used by the United States for its public purposes, and what is a fair value of such power, to the extent the commission may deem necessary or useful for the purposes of this chapter.

In order to aid the commission in determining the net investment of a licensee in any project, the licensee shall, upon oath, within a reasonable period of time, to be fixed by the commission, after the construction of the original project or any addition thereto or betterment thereof, file with the commission, in such detail as the commission may require, a statement in duplicate showing the actual legitimate cost of construction of such project, addition, or betterment, and the price paid for water rights, rights of way, lands, or interest in lands. The commission shall deposit one of said statements with the Secretary of the Treasury. The licensee shall grant to the commission or to its duly authorized agent or agents, at all reasonable times, free access to such project, addition, or betterment, and to all maps, profiles, contracts, reports of engineers, accounts, books, records, and all other papers and documents relating thereto.

Cooperation with executive departments; information and aid furnished commission.—(b) To cooperate with the executive departments and other agencies of State or National Governments in such investigations; and for such purpose the several departments and agencies of the National Government are authorized and directed upon the request of the commission, to furnish such records, papers, and information in their possession as may be requested by the commission, and temporarily to detail to the commission such officers or experts as may be necessary in such investigations.

Publication of information, and so forth; reports to Congress.—(c) To make public from time to time the information secured hereunder, and to provide for the publication of its reports and investigations in such form and manner as may be best adapted for public information and use. The commission, on or before the first Monday in December of each year, shall submit to Congress for the fiscal year preceding a classified report showing the permits and licenses issued under this chapter, and in each case the parties thereto, the terms prescribed, and the moneys received, if any, on account thereof.

Issue of licenses for construction, and so forth, of dams, conduits, reservoirs, and so forth.—(d) To issue licenses to citizens of the United States, or to any association of such citizens, or to any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or any State thereof, or to any State, or municipality for the purpose of constructing, operating, and maintaining dams, water conduits, reservoirs, power houses, transmission lines, or other project works necessary or convenient for the development and improvement of navigation, and for the development, transmission, and utilization of power across, along, from or in any of the navigable waters of the United States, or upon any part of the public lands and reservations of the United States (including the Territories), or for the purpose of utilizing the surplus water or water power from any Government dam, except as herein provided: Provided, That licenses shall be issued within any reservation only after a finding by the commission that the license will not interfere or be inconsistent with the purpose for which such reservation was created or acquired, and shall be subject to and contain such conditions as the Secretary of the department under whose supervision such reservation falls shall deem necessary for the adequate protection and utilization of such reservations:

Provided further, That after March 3, 1921, no permit, license, lease, or authorization for dams, conduits, reservoirs, power houses, transmission lines, or other works for storage or carriage of water, or for the development, transmission, or utilization of power, within the limits as constituted, March 3, 1921, of any national park or national monument shall be granted or made without specific authority of Congress:

Provided further, That no license affecting the navigable capacity of any navigable waters of the United States shall be issued until the plans of the dam or other structures affecting the navigation have been approved by the Chief of Engineers and the Secretary of War. Whenever the contemplated improvement is, in the judgment of the commission, desirable and justified in the public interest for the purpose of improving or developing a waterway or waterways for the use or benefit of interstate or foreign commerce, a finding to that effect shall be made by the commission and shall become a part of the records of the commission: Provided further, That in case the commission shall find that any Government dam may be advantageously used by the United States for public purposes in addition to navigation, no license therefor shall be issued until two years after it shall have reported to Congress the facts and conditions relating thereto, except that this provision shall not apply to any Government dam constructed prior to June 10, 1920: And provided further, That upon the filing of any application for a license which has not been preceded by a preliminary permit under subsection (e) of this section, notice shall be given and published as required by the proviso of said subsection.

Preliminary permits; notice of application.—(e) To issue preliminary permits for the purpose of enabling applicants for a license hereunder to secure the data and to perform the acts required by section 802 of this chapter: Provided, however, That upon the filing of any application for a preliminary permit by any person, association, or corporation the commission, before granting such application, shall at once give notice of such application in writing to any State or municipality likely to be interested in or affected by such application; and shall also publish notice of such application for eight weeks in a daily or weekly newspaper published in the county or counties in which the project or any part thereof or the lands affected thereby are situated.

Rules and regulations for accounts of licensees; false entries in accounts or statements in reports; punishment.—(f) To prescribe rules and regulations for the establishment of a system of accounts and for the maintenance thereof by licensees hereunder; to examine all books and accounts of such licensees at any time; to require them to submit at such time or times as the commission may require statements and reports, including full information as to assets and liabilities, capitalization, net investment and reduction thereof, gross receipts, interest due and paid, depreciation and other reserves, cost of project, cost of maintenance and operation of the project, cost of renewals and replacements of the project works, and as to depreciation of the project works and as to production, transmission, use and sale of power, also to require any licensee to make adequate provision for currently determining said costs and other facts. All such statements and reports shall be made upon oath, unless otherwise specified, and in such form and on such blanks as the commission may require. Any person who, for the purpose of deceiving, makes or causes to be made any false entry in the books or the accounts of such licensee, and any person who, for the purpose of deceiving, makes or causes to be made any false statement or report in response to a request or order or direction from the commission for the statements and report herein referred to shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

Hearings; depositions; witnesses; production of documentary evidence; administration of oaths; fees and mileage of witnesses.—(g) To hold hearings and to order testimony to be taken by deposition at any designated place in connection with the application for any permit or license, or the regulation of rates, service, or securities, or the making of any investigation, as provided in this chapter; and to require by subpœna, signed by any member of the commission, the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of documentary evidence from any place in the United States, and in case of disobedience to a subpœna the commission may invoke the aid of any court of the United States in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence. Any member, expert, or examiner of the commission may, when duly designated by the commission for such purposes, administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses and receive evidence. Depositions may be taken before any person designated by the commission or by its executive secretary and empowered to administer oaths, shall be reduced to writing by such person or under his direction, and subscribed by the deponent. Witnesses summoned before the commission shall be paid the same fees and mileage that are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States, and witnesses whose depositions are taken and persons taking the same shall severally be entitled to the same fees as are paid for like services in the courts of the United States.

Necessary powers not enumerated; rules and regulations.—(h) To perform any and all acts, to make such rules and regulations, and to issue such orders not inconsistent with this chapter as may be necessary and proper for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 4, 41 Stat. 1065; Mar. 3, 1921, c. 129, 41 Stat. 1353.)

798. Purpose and scope of preliminary permits; transfer and cancellation.—Each preliminary permit issued under this chapter shall be for the sole purpose of maintaining priority of application for a license under the terms of this chapter for such period or periods, not exceeding a total of three years, as in the discretion of the commission may be necessary for making examinations and surveys, for preparing maps, plans, specifications, and estimates, and for making financial arrangements. Each such permit shall set forth the conditions under which priority shall be maintained and a license issued. Such permits shall not be transferable, and may be canceled by order of the commission upon failure of permittees to comply with the conditions thereof. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 5, 41 Stat. 1067.)

799. License; duration, conditions, revocation, alteration or surrender.—Licenses under this chapter shall be issued for a period not exceeding fifty years. Each such license shall be conditioned upon acceptance by the licensee of all of the terms and conditions of this chapter and such further conditions, if any, as the commission shall prescribe in conformity with this chapter, which said terms and conditions and the acceptance thereof shall be expressed in said license. Licenses may be revoked only for the reasons and in the manner prescribed under the provisions of this chapter, and may be altered or surrendered only upon mutual agreement between the licensee and the commission after ninety days' public notice. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 6, 41 Stat. 1067.)

800. Preferences in issuance of preliminary permits or licenses.—In issuing preliminary permits hereunder or licenses where no preliminary permit has been issued and in issuing licenses to new licensees under section 808 of this chapter the commission shall give preference to applications therefor by States and municipalities, provided the plans for the same are deemed by the commission equally well adapted, or shall within a reasonable time to be fixed by the commission be made equally well adapted, to conserve and utilize in the public interest the navigation and water resources of the region; and as between other applicants, the commission may give preference to the applicant the plans of which it finds and determines are best adapted to develop, conserve, and utilize in the public interest the navigation and water resources of the region, if it be satisfied as to the ability of the applicant to carry out such plans.

Development of projects by United States.—Whenever, in the judgment of the commission, the development of any project should be undertaken by the United States itself, the commission shall not approve any application for such project by any citizen, association, corporation, State, or municipality, but shall cause to be made such examinations, surveys, reports, plans, and estimates of the cost of the project as it may deem necessary, and shall submit its findings to Congress with such recommendations as it may deem appropriate concerning the construction of such project or completion of any project upon any Government dam by the United States. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 7, 41 Stat. 1067.)

801. Transfer of license; obligations of transferee.—No voluntary transfer of any license, or of the rights thereunder granted, shall be made without the written approval of the commission; and any successor or assign of the rights of such licensee, whether by voluntary transfer, judicial sale, foreclosure sale, or otherwise, shall be subject to all the conditions of the license under which such rights are held by such licensee and also subject to all the provisions and conditions of this chapter to the same extent as though such successor or assign were the original licensee hereunder: Provided, That a mortgage or trust deed or judicial sales made thereunder or under tax sales shall not be deemed voluntary transfers within the meaning of this section. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 8, 41 Stat. 1068.)

802. Information to accompany application for license.—Each applicant for a license hereunder shall submit to the commission—

(a) Such maps, plans, specifications, and estimates of cost as may be required for a full understanding of the proposed project. Such maps, plans, and specifications when approved by the commission shall be made a part of the license; and thereafter no change shall be made in said maps, plans, or specifications until such changes shall have been approved and made a part of such license by the commission.

(b) Satisfactory evidence that the applicant has complied with the requirements of the laws of the State or States within which the proposed project is to be located with respect to bed and banks and to the appropriation, diversion, and use of water for power purposes and with respect to the right to engage in the business of developing, transmitting, and distributing power, and in any other business necessary to effect the purposes of a license under this chapter.

(c) Such additional information as the commission may require. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 9, 41 Stat. 1068.)

803. Conditions of license generally.—All licenses issued under this chapter shall be on the following conditions:

Modification of plans, etc., to secure adaptability of project.—(a) That the project adopted, including the maps, plans, and specifications, shall be such as in the judgment of the commission will be best adapted to a comprehensive scheme of improvement and utilization for the purposes of navigation, of water-power development, and of other beneficial public uses; and if necessary in order to secure such scheme the commission shall have authority to require the modification of any project and of the plans and specifications of the project works before approval.

Alterations in project works.—(b) That except when emergency shall require for the protection of navigation, life, health, or property, no substantial alteration or addition not in conformity with the approved plans shall be made to any dam or other project works constructed hereunder of a capacity in excess of one hundred horsepower without the prior approval of the commission; and any emergency alteration or addition so made shall thereafter be subject to such modification and change as the commission may direct.

Maintenance and repair of project works; liability of licensee for damages.—(c) That the licensee shall maintain the project works in a condition of repair adequate for the purposes of navigation and for the efficient operation of said works in the development and transmission of power, shall make all necessary renewals and replacements, shall establish and maintain adequate depreciation reserves for such purposes, shall so maintain and operate said works as not to impair navigation, and shall conform to such rules and regulations as the commission may from time to time prescribe for the protection of life, health, and property. Each licensee hereunder shall be liable for all damages occasioned to the property of others by the construction, maintenance, or operation of the project works or of the works appurtenant or accessory thereto, constructed under the license, and in no event shall the United States be liable therefor.

Amortization reserves.—(d) That after the first twenty years of operation out of surplus earned thereafter, if any, accumulated in excess of a specified reasonable rate of return upon the actual, legitimate investment of a licensee in any project or projects under license the licensee shall establish and maintain amortization reserves, which reserves shall, in the discretion of the commission, be held until the termination of the license or be applied from time to time in reduction of the net investment. Such specified rate of return and the proportion of such surplus earnings to be paid into and held in such reserves shall be set forth in the license.

Annual charges payable by licensees.—(e) That the licensee shall pay to the United States reasonable annual charges in an amount to be fixed by the commission for the purpose of reimbursing the United States for the costs of the administration of this chapter; for recompensing it for the use, occupancy, and enjoyment of its lands or other property; and for the expropriation to the Government of excessive profits until the respective States shall make provision for preventing excessive profits or for the expropriation thereof to themselves, or until the period of amortization as herein provided is reached, and in fixing such charges the commission shall seek to avoid increasing the price to the consumers of power by such charges, and charges for the expropriation of excessive profits may be adjusted from time to time by the commission as conditions may require: Provided, That when licenses are issued involving the use of Government dams or other structures owned by the United States or tribal lands embraced within Indian reservations the commission shall fix a reasonable annual charge for the use thereof, and such charges may be readjusted at the end of twenty years after the beginning of operations and at periods of not less than ten years thereafter in a manner to be described in each license: Provided, That licenses for the development, transmission, or distribution of power by States or municipalities shall be issued and enjoyed without charge to the extent such power is sold to the public without profit or is used by such State or municipality for State or municipal purposes, except that as to projects constructed or to be constructed by States or municipalities primarily designed to provide or improve navigation licenses therefor shall be issued without charge; and that licenses for the development, transmission, or distribution of power for domestic, mining, or other beneficial use in projects of not more than one hundred horsepower capacity may be issued without charge, except on tribal lands within Indian reservations; but in no case shall a license be issued free of charge for the development and utilization of power created by any Government dam and that the amount charged therefor in any license shall be such as determined by the commission.

Reimbursement by licensee of other licensees, and so forth.—(f) That whenever any licensee hereunder is directly benefited by the construction work of another licensee, a permittee, or of the United States of a storage reservoir or other headwater improvement, the commission shall require as a condition of the license that the licensee so benefited shall reimburse the owner of such reservoir or other improvements for such part of the annual charges for interest, maintenance, and depreciation thereon as the commission may deem equitable. The proportion of such charges to be paid by any licensee shall be determined by the commission.

Whenever such reservoir or other improvement is constructed by the United States the commission shall assess similar charges against any licensee directly benefited thereby, and any amount so assessed shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States, to be reserved and appropriated as a part of the special fund for headwater improvements as provided in section 810 of this chapter.

Conditions in discretion of commission.—(g) Such other conditions not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter as the commission may require.

Monopolistic combinations prohibited.—(h) Combinations, agreements, arrangements, or understandings, express or implied, to limit the output of electrical energy, to restrain trade, or to fix, maintain, or increase prices for electrical energy or service are hereby prohibited.

Waiver of conditions.—(i) In issuing licenses for a minor part only of a complete project, or for a complete project of not more than one hundred horsepower capacity, the commission may in its discretion waive such conditions, provisions, and requirements of this chapter, except the license period of fifty years, as it may deem to be to the public interest to waive under the circumstances: Provided, That the provisions hereof shall not apply to lands within Indian reservations. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 10, 41 Stat. 1068.)

804. Project works affecting navigable waters; requirements insertable in license.—If the dam or other project works are to be constructed across, along, or in any of the navigable waters of the United States, the commission may, in so far as it deems the same reasonably necessary to promote the present and future needs of navigation and consistent with a reasonable investment cost to the licensee, include in the license any one or more of the following provisions or requirements:

(a) That such licensee shall, to the extent necessary to preserve and improve navigation facilities, construct, in whole or in part, without expense to the United States, in connection with such dam, a lock or locks, booms, sluices, or other structures for navigation purposes, in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the Chief of Engineers and the Secretary of War and made part of such license.

(b) That in case such structures for navigation purposes are not made a part of the original construction at the expense of the licensee, then whenever the United States shall desire to complete such navigation facilities the licensee shall convey to the United States, free of cost, such of its land and its rights of way and such right of passage through its dams or other structures, and permit such control of pools as may be required to complete such navigation facilities.

(c) That such licensee shall furnish free of cost to the United States power for the operation of such navigation facilities, whether constructed by the licensee or by the United States. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 11, 41 Stat. 1070.)

805. Participation by Government of costs of locks, and so forth.—Whenever application is filed for a project hereunder involving navigable waters of the United States, and the commission shall find upon investigation that the needs of navigation require the construction of a lock or locks or other navigation structures, and that such structures can not, consistent with a reasonable investment cost to the applicant, be provided in the manner specified in section 804, subsection (a) of this chapter, the commission may grant the application with the provision to be expressed in the license that the licensee will install the necessary navigation structures if the Government fails to make provision therefor within a time to be fixed in the license and cause a report upon such project to be prepared, with estimates of cost of the power development and of the navigation structures, and shall submit such report to Congress with such recommendations as it deems appropriate concerning the participation of the United States in the cost of construction of such navigation structures. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 12, 41 Stat. 1070.)

806. Time limit for construction of project works; extension of time; termination or revocation of licenses for delay.—The licensee shall commence the construction of the project works within the time fixed in the license, which shall not be more than two years from the date thereof, shall thereafter in good faith and with due diligence prosecute such construction, and shall within the time fixed in the license complete and put into operation such part of the ultimate development as the commission shall deem necessary to supply the reasonable needs of the then available market, and shall from time to time thereafter construct such portion of the balance of such development as the commission may direct, so as to supply adequately the reasonable market demands until such development shall have been completed. The periods for the commencement of construction may be extended once but not longer than two additional years and the period for the completion of construction carried on in good faith and with reasonable diligence may be extended by the commission when not incompatible with the public interests. In case the licensee shall not commence actual construction of the project works, or of any specified part thereof, within the time prescribed in the license or as extended by the commission, then, after due notice given, the license shall, as to such project works or part thereof, be terminated upon written order of the commission. In case the construction of the project works, or of any specified part thereof, has been begun but not completed within the time prescribed in the license, or as extended by the commission, then the Attorney General, upon the request of the commission, shall institute proceedings in equity in the district court of the United States for the district in which any part of the project is situated for the revocation of said license, the sale of the works constructed, and such other equitable relief as the case may demand, as provided for in section 820 of this chapter. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 13, 41 Stat. 1071.)

807. Right of Government to take over project works; compensation; condemnation by Federal or State Government.—Upon not less than two years' notice in writing from the commission the United States shall have the right upon or after the expiration of any license to take over and thereafter to maintain and operate any project or projects as defined in section 796 of this chapter, and covered in whole or in part by the license, or the right to take over upon mutual agreement with the licensee all property owned and held by the licensee then valuable and serviceable in the development, transmission, or distribution of power and which is then dependent for its usefulness upon the continuance of the license, together with any lock or locks or other aids to navigation constructed at the expense of the licensee, upon the condition that before taking possession it shall pay the net investment of the licensee in the project or projects taken, not to exceed the fair value of the property taken, plus such reasonable damages, if any, to property of the licensee valuable, serviceable, and dependent as above set forth but not taken, as may be caused by the severance therefrom of property taken, and shall assume all contracts entered into by the licensee with the approval of the commission. The net investment of the licensee in the project or projects so taken and the amount of such severance damages, if any, shall be determined by agreement between the commission and the licensee, and in case they can not agree, by proceedings in equity instituted by the United States in the district court of the United States in the district within which any such property may be located: Provided, That such net investment shall not include or be affected by the value of any lands, rights of way or other property of the United States licensed by the commission under this chapter, by the license, or by good will, going value, or prospective revenues: Provided further, That the values allowed for water rights, rights of way, lands, or interest in lands shall not be in excess of the actual reasonable cost thereof at the time of acquisition by the licensee: Provided, That the right of the United States or any State or municipality to take over, maintain, and operate any project licensed under this chapter at any time by condemnation proceedings upon payment of just compensation is hereby expressly reserved. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 14, 41 Stat. 1071.)

808. New licenses and renewals; compensation of old licensee.—If the United States does not, at the expiration of the original license, exercise its right to take over, maintain, and operate any project or projects of the licensee, as provided in section 807 of this chapter, the commission is authorized to issue a new license to the original licensee upon such terms and conditions as may be authorized or required under the then existing laws and regulations, or to issue a new license under said terms and conditions to a new licensee, which license may cover any project or projects covered by the original license, and shall be issued on the condition that the new licensee shall, before taking possession of such project or projects, pay such amount, and assume such contracts as the United States is required to do in the manner specified in section 807 of this chapter: Provided, That in the event the United States does not exercise the right to take over or does not issue a license to a new licensee, or issue a new license to the original licensee, upon reasonable terms, then the commission shall issue from year to year an annual license to the then licensee under the terms and conditions of the original license until the property is taken over or a new license is issued as aforesaid. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 15, 41 Stat. 1072.)

809. Temporary use by Government of project works for national safety; compensation for use.—When in the opinion of the President of the United States, evidenced by a written order addressed to the holder of any license hereunder, the safety of the United States demands it, the United States shall have the right to enter upon and take possession of any project, or part thereof, constructed, maintained, or operated under said license, for the purpose of manufacturing nitrates, explosives, or munitions of war, or for any other purpose involving the safety of the United States, to retain possession, management, and control thereof for such length of time as may appear to the President to be necessary to accomplish said purposes, and then to restore possession and control to the party or parties entitled thereto; and in the event that the United States shall exercise such right it shall pay to the party or parties entitled thereto just and fair compensation for the use of said property as may be fixed by the commission upon the basis of a reasonable profit in time of peace, and the cost of restoring said property to as good condition as existed at the time of the taking over thereof, less the reasonable value of any improvements that may be made thereto by the United States and which are valuable and serviceable to the licensee. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 16, 41 Stat. 1072.)

810. Disposition of charges arising from licenses.—All proceeds from any Indian reservation shall be placed to the credit of the Indians of such reservation. All other charges arising from licenses hereunder shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States, subject to the following distribution: Twelve and one-half per centum thereof is hereby appropriated to be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to "Miscellaneous receipts"; 50 per centum of the charges arising from licenses hereunder for the occupancy and use of public lands, national monuments, national forests, and national parks shall be paid into, reserved, and appropriated as a part of the reclamation fund created by sections 372, 373, 381, 383, 391, 392, 411, 416, 419, 421, 431, 432, 434, 439, 461, 476, 491 and 498, Title 43, PUBLIC LANDS; and 37½ per centum of the charges arising from licenses hereunder for the occupancy and use of national forests, national parks, public lands, and national monuments, from development within the boundaries of any State shall be paid by the Secretary of the Treasury to such State; and 50 per centum of the charges arising from all other licenses hereunder is hereby reserved and appropriated as a special fund in the Treasury to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of War in the maintenance and operation of dams and other navigation structures owned by the United States or in the construction, maintenance, or operation of headwater or other improvements of navigable waters of the United States. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 17, 41 Stat. 1072.)

811. Operation of navigation facilities; rules and regulations; penalties.—The operation of any navigation facilities which may be constructed as a part of or in connection with any dam or diversion structure built under the provisions of this chapter, whether at the expense of a licensee hereunder or of the United States, shall at all times be controlled by such reasonable rules and regulations in the interest of navigation, including the control of the level of the pool caused by such dam or diversion structure as may be made from time to time by the Secretary of War. Such rules and regulations may include the maintenance and operation by such licensee at its own expense of such lights and signals as may be directed by the Secretary of War, and such fishways as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce; and for willful failure to comply with any such rule or regulation such licensee shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as provided in section 819 of this chapter. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 18, 41 Stat. 1073.)

812. Public-service licensee; regulations by State or by commission as to service, rates, charges, etc.—As a condition of the license, every licensee under this chapter which is a public-service corporation, or a person, association, or corporation owning or operating any project and developing, transmitting, or distributing power for sale or use in public service, shall abide by such reasonable regulation of the services to be rendered to customers or consumers of power, and of rates and charges of payment therefor, as may from time to time be prescribed by any duly constituted agency of the State in which the service is rendered or the rate charged. That in case of the development, transmission, or distribution, or use in public service of power by any licensee under this chapter or by its customer engaged in public service within a State which has not authorized and empowered a commission or other agency or agencies within said State to regulate and control the services to be rendered by such licensee or by its customer engaged in public service, or the rates and charges of payment therefor, or the amount or character of securities to be issued by any of said parties, it is agreed as a condition of such license that jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the commission, upon complaint of any person aggrieved or upon its own initiative, to exercise such regulation and control until such time as the State shall have provided a commission or other authority for such regulation and control: Provided, That the jurisdiction of the commission shall cease and determine as to each specific matter of regulation and control prescribed in this section as soon as the State shall have provided a commission or other authority for the regulation and control of that specific matter. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 19, 41 Stat. 1073.)

813. Power entering into interstate commerce; regulation of rates, charges, and so forth.—When said power or any part thereof shall enter into interstate or foreign commerce the rates charged and the service rendered by any such licensee, or by any subsidiary corporation, the stock of which is owned or controlled directly or indirectly by such licensee, or by any person, corporation, or association purchasing power from such licensee for sale and distribution or use in public service shall be reasonable, nondiscriminatory, and just to the customer and all unreasonable discriminatory and unjust rates or services are hereby prohibited and declared to be unlawful; and whenever any of the States directly concerned has not provided a commission or other authority to enforce the requirements of this section within such State or to regulate and control the amount and character of securities to be issued by any of such parties or such States are unable to agree through their properly constituted authorities on the services to be rendered or on the rates or charges of payment therefor, or on the amount or character of securities to be issued by any of said parties, jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the commission, upon complaint of any person aggrieved, upon the request of any State concerned, or upon its own initiative to enforce the provisions of this section, to regulate and control so much of the services rendered, and of the rates and charges of payment therefor as constitute interstate or foreign commerce and to regulate the issuance of securities by the parties included within this section, and securities issued by the licensee subject to such regulations shall be allowed only for the bona fide purpose of financing and conducting the business of such licensee.

The administration of the provisions of this section, so far as applicable, shall be according to the procedure and practice in fixing and regulating the rates, charges, and practices of railroad companies as provided in chapter 1 of Title 49, TRANSPORTATION, and the parties subject to such regulation shall have the same rights of hearing, defense, and review as said companies in such cases.

In any valuation of the property of any licensee hereunder for purposes of rate making, no value shall be claimed by the licensee or allowed by the commission for any project or projects under license in excess of the value or values prescribed in section 807 of this chapter for the purposes of purchase by the United States, but there shall be included the cost to such licensee of the construction of the lock or locks or other aids of navigation and all other capital expenditures required by the United States, and no value shall be claimed or allowed for the rights granted by the commission or by this chapter. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 20, 41 Stat. 1073.)

814. Exercise by licensee of power of eminent domain.—When any licensee can not acquire by contract or pledges an unimproved dam site or the right to use or damage the lands or property of others necessary to the construction, maintenance, or operation of any dam, reservoir, diversion structure, or the works appurtenant or accessory thereto, in conjunction with an improvement which in the judgment of the commission is desirable and justified in the public interest for the purpose of improving or developing a waterway or waterways for the use or benefit of interstate or foreign commerce, it may acquire the same by the exercise of the right of eminent domain in the district court of the United States for the district in which such land or other property may be located, or in the State courts. The practice and procedure in any action or proceeding for that purpose in the district court of the United States shall conform as nearly as may be with the practice and procedure in similar action or proceeding in the courts of the State where the property is situated: Provided, That United States district courts shall only have jurisdiction of cases when the amount claimed by the owner of the property to be condemned exceeds $3,000. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 21, 41 Stat. 1074.)

815. Contract to furnish power extending beyond period of license; obligations of new licensee.—Whenever the public interest requires or justifies the execution by the licensee of contracts for the sale and delivery of power for periods extending beyond the date of termination of the license, such contracts may be entered into upon the joint approval of the commission and of the public-service commission or other similar authority in the State in which the sale or delivery of power is made, or if sold or delivered in a State which has no such public-service commission, then upon the approval of the commission, and thereafter, in the event of failure to issue a new license to the original licensee at the termination of the license, the United States or the new licensee, as the case may be, shall assume and fullfill all such contracts. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 22, 41 Stat. 1074.)

816. Preservation of rights vested prior to June 10, 1920.—The provisions of this chapter shall not be construed as affecting any permit or valid existing right of way granted prior to June 10, 1920, or as confirming or otherwise affecting any claim, or as affecting any authority then given pursuant to law, but any person, association, corporation, State, or municipality, holding or possessing such permit, right of way, or authority may apply for a license hereunder, and upon such application the commission may issue to any such applicant a license in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and in such case the provisions of this chapter shall apply to such applicant as a licensee hereunder: Provided, That when application is made for a license under this section for a project or projects already constructed, the fair value of said project or projects, determined as provided in this section, shall for the purposes of this chapter and of said license be deemed to be the amount to be allowed as the net investment of the applicant in such project or projects as of the date of such license, or as of the date of such determination, if license has not been issued. Such fair value may, in the discretion of the commission, be determined by mutual agreement between the commission and the applicant or, in case they can not agree, jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the district court of the United States in the district within which such project or projects may be located, upon the application of either party, to hear and determine the amount of such fair value. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 23, 41 Stat. 1075.)

817. Projects not affecting navigable waters; necessity for Federal license.—Any person, association, corporation, State, or municipality intending to construct a dam or other project works across, along, over, or in any stream or part thereof, other than those defined in this chapter as navigable waters, and over which Congress has jurisdiction under its authority to regulate commerce between foreign nations and among the several States, may in their discretion file declaration of such intention with the commission, whereupon the commission shall cause immediate investigation of such proposed construction to be made, and if upon investigation it shall find that the interests of interstate or foreign commerce would be affected by such proposed construction, such person, association, corporation, State, or municipality shall not proceed with such construction until it shall have applied for and shall have received a license under the provisions of this chapter. If the commission shall not so find, and if no public lands or reservations are affected, permission is hereby granted to construct such dam or other project works in such stream upon compliance with State laws. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 23, 41 Stat. 1075.)

818. Public lands included in project; reservation of lands from entry.—Any lands of the United States included in any proposed project under the provisions of this chapter shall from the date of filing of application therefor be reserved from entry, location, or other disposal under the laws of the United States until otherwise directed by the commission or by Congress. Notice that such application has been made, together with the date of filing thereof and a description of the lands of the United States affected thereby, shall be filed in the local land office for the district in which such lands are located. Whenever the commission shall determine that the value of any lands of the United States so applied for, or heretofore or hereafter reserved or classified as power sites, will not be injured or destroyed for the purposes of power development by location, entry, or selection under the public-land laws, the Secretary of the Interior, upon notice of such determination, shall declare such lands open to location, entry, or selection, subject to and with a reservation of the right of the United States or its permittees or licensees to enter upon, occupy, and use any part or all of said lands necessary, in the judgment of the commission, for the purposes of this chapter, which right shall be expressly reserved in every patent issued for such lands; and no claim or right to compensation shall accrue from the occupation or use of any of said lands for said purposes. The United States or any licensee for any such lands hereunder may enter thereupon for the purposes of this chapter, upon payment of any damages to crops, buildings, or other improvements caused thereby to the owner thereof, or upon giving a good and sufficient bond to the United States for the use and benefit of the owner to secure the payment of such damages as may be determined and fixed in an action brought upon the bond in a court of competent jurisdiction, said bond to be in the form prescribed by the commission: Provided, That locations, entries, selections, or filings made prior to June 10, 1920, for lands reserved as water-power sites or in connection with water-power development or electrical transmission may proceed to approval or patent under and subject to the limitations and conditions in this section contained. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 24, 41 Stat. 1075.)

819. Offenses; punishment.—Any licensee, or any person, who shall willfully fail or who shall refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter, or with any of the conditions made a part of any license issued hereunder, or with any subpœna of the commission, or with any regulation or lawful order of the commission, or of the Secretary of War, or of the Secretary of Commerce as to fishways, issued or made in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall, in the discretion of the court, be punished by a fine of not exceeding $1,000, in addition to other penalties herein prescribed or provided by law; and every month any such licensee or any such person shall remain in default after written notice from the commission, or from the Secretary of War, or from the Secretary of Commerce, shall be deemed a new and separate offense punishable as aforesaid. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 25, 41 Stat. 1076.)

820. Proceedings in equity for revocation of license or to prevent violations of license.—The Attorney General may, on request of the commission or of the Secretary of War, institute proceedings in equity in the district court of the United States in the district in which any project or part thereof is situated for the purpose of revoking for violation of its terms any permit or license issued hereunder, or for the purpose of remedying or correcting by injunction, mandamus, or other process any act of commission or omission in violation of the provisions of this chapter or of any lawful regulation or order promulgated hereunder. The district courts shall have jurisdiction over all of the above-mentioned proceedings and shall have power to issue and execute all necessary process and to make and enforce all writs, orders, and decrees to compel compliance with the lawful orders and regulations of the commission and of the Secretary of War, and to compel the performance of any condition imposed under the provisions of this chapter. In the event a decree revoking a license is entered, the court is empowered to sell the whole or any part of the project or projects under license, to wind up the business of such licensee conducted in connection with such project or projects, to distribute the proceeds to the parties entitled to the same, and to make and enforce such further orders and decrees as equity and justice may require. At such sale or sales the vendee shall take the rights and privileges belonging to the licensee and shall perform the duties of such licensee and assume all outstanding obligations and liabilities of the licensee which the court may deem equitable in the premises; and at such sale or sales the United States may become a purchaser, but it shall not be required to pay a greater amount than it would be required to pay under the provisions of section 807 of this chapter at the termination of the license. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 26, 41 Stat. 1076.)

821. State laws and water rights unaffected.—Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as affecting or intending to affect or in any way to interfere with the laws of the respective States relating to the control, appropriation, use, or distribution of water used in irrigation or for municipal or other uses, or any vested right acquired therein. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 27, 41 Stat. 1077.)

822. Reservation of right to alter or repeal chapter.—The right to alter, amend, or repeal this chapter is hereby expressly reserved; but no such alteration, amendment, or repeal shall affect any license theretofore issued under the provisions of this chapter, or the rights of any licensee thereunder. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 28, 41 Stat. 1077.)

823. Repeal of inconsistent laws.—All Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent with this chapter are hereby repealed: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be held or construed to modify or repeal any of the provisions of the Act of Congress approved December 19, 1913, granting certain rights of way to the city and county of San Francisco, in the State of California. (June 10, 1920, c. 285, § 29, 41 Stat. 1077.)

Section 1. Exclusive rights as to copyrighted works.—Any person entitled thereto, upon complying with the provisions of this title, shall have the exclusive right:

(a) To print, reprint, publish, copy, and vend the copyrighted work;

(b) To translate the copyrighted work into other languages or dialects, or make any other version thereof, if it be a literary work; to dramatize it if it be a nondramatic work; to convert it into a novel or other nondramatic work if it be a drama; to arrange or adapt it if it be a musical work; to complete, execute, and finish it if it be a model or design for a work of art;

(c) To deliver or authorize the delivery of the copyrighted work in public for profit if it be a lecture, sermon, address, or similar production;

(d) To perform or represent the copyrighted work publicly if it be a drama or, if it be a dramatic work and not reproduced in copies for sale, to vend any manuscript or any record whatsoever thereof; to make or to procure the making of any transcription or record thereof by or from which, in whole or in part, it may in any manner or by any method be exhibited, performed, represented, produced, or reproduced; and to exhibit, perform, represent, produce, or reproduce it in any manner or by any method whatsoever;

(e) To perform the copyrighted work publicly for profit if it be a musical composition and for the purpose of public performance for profit; and for the purposes set forth in subsection (a) hereof, to make any arrangement or setting of it or of the melody of it in any system of notation or any form of record in which the thought of an author may be recorded and from which it may be read or reproduced: Provided, That the provisions of this title, so far as they secure copyright controlling the parts of instruments serving to reproduce mechanically the musical work, shall include only compositions published and copyrighted after July 1, 1909, and shall not include the works of a foreign author or composer unless the foreign state or nation of which such author or composer is a citizen or subject grants, either by treaty, convention, agreement, or law, to citizens of the United States similar rights. And as a condition of extending the copyright control to such mechanical reproductions, that whenever the owner of a musical copyright has used or permitted or knowingly acquiesced in the use of the copyrighted work upon the parts of instruments serving to reproduce mechanically the musical work, any other person may make similar use of the copyrighted work upon the payment to the copyright proprietor of a royalty of 2 cents on each such part manufactured, to be paid by the manufacturer thereof; and the copyright proprietor may require, and if so the manufacturer shall furnish, a report under oath on the 20th day of each month on the number of parts of instruments manufactured during the previous month serving to reproduce mechanically said musical work, and royalties shall be due on the parts manufactured during any month upon the 20th of the next succeeding month. The payment of the royalty provided for by this section shall free the articles or devices for which such royalty has been paid from further contribution to the copyright except in case of public performance for profit. It shall be the duty of the copyright owner, if he uses the musical composition himself for the manufacture of parts of instruments serving to reproduce mechanically the musical work, or licenses others to do so, to file notice thereof, accompanied by a recording fee, in the copyright office, and any failure to file such notice shall be a complete defense to any suit, action, or proceeding for any infringement of such copyright.

In case of the failure of such manufacturer to pay to the copyright proprietor within thirty days after demand in writing the full sum of royalties due at said rate at the date of such demand the court may award taxable costs to the plaintiff and a reasonable counsel fee, and the court may, in its discretion, enter judgment therein for any sum in addition over the amount found to be due as royalty in accordance with the terms of this title, not exceeding three times such amount.

The reproduction or rendition of a musical composition by or upon coin-operated machines shall not be deemed a public performance for profit unless a fee is charged for admission to the place where such reproduction or rendition occurs. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, §§ 1, 64, 35 Stat. 1075, 1088.)

2. Rights of author or proprietor of unpublished work.—Nothing in this title shall be construed to annul or limit the right of the author or proprietor of an unpublished work, at common law or in equity, to prevent the copying, publication, or use of such unpublished work without his consent, and to obtain damages therefor. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 2, 35 Stat. 1076.)

3. Protection of component parts of work copyrighted; composite works or periodicals.—The copyright provided by this title shall protect all the copyrightable component parts of the work copyrighted, and all matter therein in which copyright is already subsisting, but without extending the duration or scope of such copyright. The copyright upon composite works or periodicals shall give to the proprietor thereof all the rights in respect thereto which he would have if each part were individually copyrighted under this title. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 3, 35 Stat. 1076.)

4. All writings of author included.—The works for which copyright may be secured under this title shall include all the writings of an author. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 4, 35 Stat. 1076.)

5. Classification of works for registration.—The application for registration shall specify to which of the following classes the work in which copyright is claimed belongs:

(a) Books, including composite and cyclopedic works, directories, gazetteers, and other compilations;

(b) Periodicals, including newspapers;

(c) Lectures, sermons, addresses (prepared for oral delivery);

(d) Dramatic or dramatico-musical compositions;

(e) Musical compositions;

(f) Maps;

(g) Works of art; models or designs for works of art;

(h) Reproductions of a work of art;

(i) Drawings or plastic works of a scientific or technical character;

(j) Photographs;

(k) Prints and pictorial illustrations;

(l) Motion-picture photoplays;

(m) Motion pictures other than photoplays.

The above specifications shall not be held to limit the subject matter of copyright as defined in section 4 of this title, nor shall any error in classification invalidate or impair the copyright protection secured under this title. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 5, 35 Stat. 1076; Aug. 24, 1912, c. 356, 37 Stat. 488.)

6. Copyright on compilations of works in public domain or of copyrighted works; subsisting copyrights not affected.—Compilations or abridgments, adaptations, arrangements, dramatizations, translations, or other versions of works in the public domain, or of copyrighted works when produced with the consent of the proprietor of the copyright in such works, or works republished with new matter, shall be regarded as new works subject to copyright under the provisions of this title; but the publication of any such new works shall not affect the force or validity of any susbisting copyright upon the matter employed or any part thereof, or be construed to imply an exclusive right to such use of the original works, or to secure or extend copyright in such original works. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 6, 35 Stat. 1077.)

7. Copyright not to subsist in works in public domain, or published prior to July 1, 1909 and not already copyrighted, or Government publications; publication by Government of copyrighted material.—No copyright shall subsist in the original text of any work which is in the public domain, or in any work which was published in this country or any foreign country prior to July 1, 1909, and has not been already copyrighted in the United States, or in any publication of the United States Government, or any reprint, in whole or in part, thereof. The publication or republication by the Government, either separately or in a public document, of any material in which copyright is subsisting shall not be taken to cause any abridgment or annulment of the copyright or to authorize any use or appropriation of such copyright material without the consent of the copyright proprietor. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, §§ 7, 64, 35 Stat. 1077, 1088.)

8. Authors or proprietors, entitled; aliens.—The author or proprietor of any work made the subject of copyright by this title, or his executors, administrators, or assigns, shall have copyright for such work under the conditions and for the terms specified in this title. The copyright secured by this title shall extend to the work of an author or proprietor who is a citizen or subject of a foreign State or nation only:

(a) When an alien author or proprietor shall be domiciled within the United States at the time of the first publication of his work; or

(b) When the foreign State or nation of which such author or proprietor is a citizen or subject grants, either by treaty, convention, agreement, or law, to citizens of the United States the benefit of copyright on substantially the same basis as to its own citizens, or copyright protection, substantially equal to the protection secured to such foreign author under this title or by treaty; or when such foreign State or nation is a party to an international agreement which provides for reciprocity in the granting of copyright, by the terms of which agreement the United States may, at its pleasure, become a party thereto.

The existence of the reciprocal conditions aforesaid shall be determined by the President of the United States, by proclamation made from time to time, as the purposes of this title may require. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 8, 35 Stat. 1077.)

9. Publication of work with notice.—Any person entitled thereto by this title may secure copyright for his work by publication thereof with the notice of copyright required by this title; and such notice shall be affixed to each copy thereof published or offered for sale in the United States by authority of the copyright proprietor, except in the case of books seeking ad interim protection under section 21 of this title. (Mar 4, 1909, c. 320, § 9, 35 Stat. 1077.)

10. Registration of claim and issuance of certificate.—Such person may obtain registration of his claim to copyright by complying with the provisions of this title, including the deposit of copies, and upon such compliance the register of copyrights shall issue to him the certificate provided for in section 55 of this title. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 10, 35 Stat. 1078.)

11. Works not reproduced for sale.—Copyright may also be had of the works of an author, of which copies are not reproduced for sale, by the deposit, with claim of copyright, of one complete copy of such work if it be a lecture or similar production or a dramatic, musical, or dramatico-musical composition; of a title and description, with one print taken from each scene or act, if the work be a motion-picture photoplay; of a photographic print if the work be a photograph; of a title and description, with not less than two prints taken from different sections of a complete motion picture, if the work be a motion picture other than a photoplay; or of a photograph or other identifying reproduction thereof, if it be a work of art or a plastic work or drawing. But the privilege of registration of copyright secured hereunder shall not exempt the copyright proprietor from the deposit of copies, under sections 12 and 13 of this title, where the work is later reproduced in copies for sale. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 11, 35 Stat. 1078; Aug. 24, 1912, c. 356, 37 Stat. 488.)

12. Deposit of copies after publication; action or proceeding for infringement.—After copyright has been secured by publication of the work with the notice of copyright as provided in section 9 of this title, there shall be promptly deposited in the copyright office or in the mail addressed to the register of copyrights, Washington, District of Columbia, two complete copies of the best edition thereof then published, or if the work is by an author who is a citizen or subject of a foreign State or nation and has been published in a foreign country, one complete copy of the best edition then published in such foreign country, which copies or copy, if the work be a book or periodical, shall have been produced in accordance with the manufacturing provisions specified in section 15 of this title; or if such work be a contribution to a periodical, for which contribution special registration is requested, one copy of the issue or issues containing such contribution; or if the work is not reproduced in copies for sale there shall be deposited the copy, print, photograph, or other identifying reproduction provided by section 11 of this title, such copies or copy, print, photograph, or other reproduction to be accompanied in each case by a claim of copyright. No action or proceeding shall be maintained for infringement of copyright in any work until the provisions of this title with respect to the deposit of copies and registration of such work shall have been complied with. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 12, 35 Stat. 1078; Mar. 28, 1914, c. 47, § 1, 38 Stat. 311.)

13. Same; failure to deposit; demand; penalty.—Should the copies called for by section 12 of this title not be promptly deposited as provided in this title, the register of copyrights may at any time after the publication of the work, upon actual notice, require the proprietor of the copyright to deposit them, and after the said demand shall have been made, in default of the deposit of copies of the work within three months from any part of the United States, except an outlying territorial possession of the United States, or within six months from any outlying territorial possession of the United States, or from any foreign country, the proprietor of the copyright shall be liable to a fine of $100 and to pay to the Library of Congress twice the amount of the retail price of the best edition of the work, and the copyright shall become void. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 13, 35 Stat. 1078.)

14. Same; postmaster's receipt; transmission by mail without cost.—The postmaster to whom are delivered the articles deposited as provided in sections 11 and 12 of this title shall, if requested, give a receipt therefor and shall mail them to their destination without cost to the copyright claimant. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 14, 35 Stat. 1078.)

15. Mechanical work to be done in United States.—Of the printed book or periodical specified in section 5, subsections (a) and (b) of this title, except the original text of a book of foreign origin in a language or languages other than English, the text of all copies accorded protection under this title, except as below provided, shall be printed from type set within the limits of the United States, either by hand or by the aid of any kind of typesetting machine, or from plates made within the limits of the United States from type set therein, or, if the text be produced by lithographic process, or photo-engraving process, then by a process wholly performed within the limits of the United States, and the printing of the text and binding of the said book shall be performed within the limits of the United States; which requirements shall extend also to the illustrations within a book consisting of printed text and illustrations produced by lithographic process, or photo-engraving process, and also to separate lithographs or photo-engravings, except where in either case the subjects represented are located in a foreign country and illustrate a scientific work or reproduce a work of art; but they shall not apply to works in raised characters for the use of the blind, or to books of foreign origin in a language or languages other than English, or to books published abroad in the English language seeking ad interim protection under this title. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 15, 35 Stat. 1078.)

16. Affidavit to accompany copies.—In the case of the book the copies so deposited shall be accompanied by an affidavit, under the official seal of any officer authorized to administer oaths within the United States, duly made by the person claiming copyright or by his duly authorized agent or representative residing in the United States, or by the printer who has printed the book, setting forth that the copies deposited have been printed from type set within the limits of the United States or from plates made within the limits of the United States from type set therein; or, if the text be produced by lithographic process, or photo-engraving process, that such process was wholly performed within the limits of the United States and that the printing of the text and binding of the said book have also been performed within the limits of the United States. Such affidavit shall state also the place where and the establishment or establishments in which such type was set or plates were made or lithographic process, or photo-engraving process or printing and binding were performed and the date of the completion of the printing of the book or the date of publication. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 16, 35 Stat. 1079.)

17. Making false affidavit.—Any person who, for the purpose of obtaining registration of a claim to copyright, shall knowingly make a false affidavit as to his having complied with the above conditions shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000, and all of his rights and privileges under said copyright shall thereafter be forfeited. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 17, 35 Stat. 1079.)

18. Notice; form.—The notice of copyright required by section 9 of this title shall consist either of the word "Copyright" or the abbreviation "Copr.", accompanied by the name of the copyright proprietor, and if the work be a printed literary, musical, or dramatic work, the notice shall include also the year in which the copyright was secured by publication. In the case, however, of copies of works specified in subsections (f) to (k), inclusive, of section 5 of this title, the notice may consist of the letter C inclosed within a circle, thus: ©, accompanied by the initials, monogram, mark, or symbol of the copyright proprietor. On some accessible portion of such copies or of the margin, back, permanent base, or pedestal, or of the substance on which such copies shall be mounted, his name shall appear. But in the case of works in which copyright was subsisting on July 1, 1909, the notice of copyright may be either in one of the forms prescribed herein or may consist of the following words: "Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year ——, by A. B., in the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington"; or, at his option the word "Copyright," together with the year the copyright was entered and the name of the party by whom it was taken out; thus, "Copyright, 19—, by A. B." (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, §§ 18, 64, 35 Stat. 1079, 1088; June 18, 1874, c. 301, § 1, 18 Stat. 79.)

19. Same; place of application of; one notice in each volume or number of newspaper or periodical.—The notice of copyright shall be applied, in the case of a book or other printed publication, upon its title page or the page immediately following, or if a periodical either upon the title page or upon the first page of text of each separate number or under the title heading, or if a musical work either upon its title page or the first page of music. One notice of copyright in each volume or in each number of a newspaper or periodical published shall suffice. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 19, 35 Stat. 1079.)

20. Same; effect of accidental omission from copy or copies.—Where the copyright proprietor has sought to comply with the provisions of this title with respect to notice, the omission by accident or mistake of the prescribed notice from a particular copy or copies shall not invalidate the copyright or prevent recovery for infringement against any person who, after actual notice of the copyright, begins an undertaking to infringe it, but shall prevent the recovery of damages against an innocent infringer who has been misled by the omission of the notice; and in a suit for infringement no permanent injunction shall be had unless the copyright proprietor shall reimburse to the innocent infringer his reasonable outlay innocently incurred if the court, in its discretion, shall so direct. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 20, 35 Stat. 1080.)

21. Ad interim protection of book published abroad.—In the case of a book first published abroad in the English language, the deposit in the copyright office, not later than sixty days after its publication abroad, of one complete copy of the foreign edition, with a request for the reservation of the copyright and a statement of the name and nationality of the author and of the copyright proprietor and of the date of publication of the said book, shall secure to the author or proprietor an ad interim copyright, which shall have all the force and effect given to copyright by this title, and shall endure until the expiration of four months after such deposit in the copyright office. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 21, 35 Stat. 1080; Dec. 18, 1919, c. 11, 41 Stat. 369.)

22. Same; extension to full term.—Whenever within the period of such ad interim protection an authorized edition of such book shall be published within the United States, in accordance with the manufacturing provisions specified in section 15 of this title, and whenever the provisions of this title as to deposit of copies, registration, filing of affidavit, and the printing of the copyright notice shall have been duly complied with, the copyright shall be extended to endure in such book for the term provided in this title. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 22, 35 Stat. 1080.)

23. Duration; renewal.—The copyright secured by this title shall endure for twenty-eight years from the date of first publication, whether the copyrighted work bears the author's true name or is published anonymously or under an assumed name: Provided, That in the case of any posthumous work or of any periodical, cyclopedic, or other composite work upon which the copyright was originally secured by the proprietor thereof, or of any work copyrighted by a corporate body (otherwise than as assignee or licensee of the individual author) or by an employer for whom such work is made for hire, the proprietor of such copyright shall be entitled to a renewal and extension of the copyright in such work for the further term of twenty-eight years when application for such renewal and extension shall have been made to the copyright office and duly registered therein within one year prior to the expiration of the original term of copyright: And provided further, That in the case of any other copyrighted work, including a contribution by an individual author to a periodical or to a cyclopedic or other composite work when such contribution has been separately registered, the author of such work, if still living, or the widow, widower, or children of the author, if the author be not living, or if such author, widow, widower, or children be not living, then the author's executors, or in the absence of a will, his next of kin shall be entitled to a renewal and extension of the copyright in such work for a further term of twenty-eight years when application for such renewal and extension shall have been made to the copyright office and duly registered therein within one year prior to the expiration of the original term of copyright: And provided further, That in default of the registration of such application for renewal and extension, the copyright in any work shall determine at the expiration of twenty-eight years from first publication. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 23, 35 Stat. 1080.)

24. Same; renewal; subsisting copyrights.—The copyright subsisting in any work on July 1, 1909, may, at the expiration of the term of twenty-eight years from the time of recording the title thereof as provided by former law, be renewed and extended by the author of such work if still living, or the widow, widower, or children of the author, if the author be not living, or if such author, widow, widower, or children be not living, then by the author's executors, or in the absence of a will, his next of kin, for a further period of twenty-eight years. If the work be a composite work upon which copyright was originally secured by the proprietor thereof, then such proprietor shall be entitled to the privilege of renewal and extension granted under this section: Provided, That application for such renewal and extension shall be made to the copyright office and duly registered therein within one year prior to the expiration of the existing term. (R. S. § 4953; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, §§ 24, 64, 35 Stat. 1080, 1088.)

25. Infringement.—If any person shall infringe the copyright in any work protected under the copyright laws of the United States such person shall be liable:

(a) Injunction.—(a) To an injunction restraining such infringement;

(b) Damages and profits; amount; other remedies.—(b) To pay to the copyright proprietor such damages as the copyright proprietor may have suffered due to the infringement, as well as all the profits which the infringer shall have made from such infringement, and in proving profits the plaintiff shall be required to prove sales only and the defendant shall be required to prove every element of cost which he claims, or in lieu of actual damages and profits such damages as to the court shall appear to be just, and in assessing such damages the court may, in its discretion, allow the amounts as hereinafter stated, but in case of a newspaper reproduction of a copyrighted photograph such damages shall not exceed the sum of $200 nor be less than the sum of $50, and in the case of the infringement of an undramatized or nondramatic work by means of motion pictures, where the infringer shall show that he was not aware that he was infringing, and that such infringement could not have been reasonably foreseen, such damages shall not exceed the sum of $100; and in the case of an infringement of a copyrighted dramatic or dramatico-musical work by a maker of motion pictures and his agencies for distribution thereof to exhibitors, where such infringer shows that he was not aware that he was infringing a copyrighted work, and that such infringements could not reasonably have been foreseen, the entire sum of such damages recoverable by the copyright proprietor from such infringing maker and his agencies for the distribution to exhibitors of such infringing motion picture shall not exceed the sum of $5,000 nor be less than $250, and such damages shall in no other case exceed the sum of $5,000 nor be less than the sum of $250, and shall not be regarded as a penalty. But the foregoing exceptions shall not deprive the copyright proprietor of any other remedy given him under this law, nor shall the limitation as to the amount of recovery apply to infringements occurring after the actual notice to a defendant, either by service of process in a suit or other written notice served upon him.

First. In the case of a painting, statue, or sculpture, $10 for every infringing copy made or sold by or found in the possession of the infringer or his agents or employees;

Second. In the case of any work enumerated in section 5 of this title, except a painting, statue, or sculpture, $1 for every infringing copy made or sold by or found in the possession of the infringer or his agents or employees;

Third. In the case of a lecture, sermon, or address, $50 for every infringing delivery;

Fourth. In the case of a dramatic or dramatico-musical or a choral or orchestral composition, $100 for the first and $50 for every subsequent infringing performance; in the case of other musical compositions $10 for every infringing performance;

(c) Impounding during action.—(c) To deliver up on oath, to be impounded during the pendency of the action, upon such terms and conditions as the court may prescribe, all articles alleged to infringe a copyright;

(d) Destruction of infringing copies and plates.—(d) To deliver up on oath for destruction all the infringing copies or devices, as well as all plates, molds, matrices, or other means for making such infringing copies as the court may order.

(e) Royalties for use of mechanical reproduction of musical works.—(e) Whenever the owner of a musical copyright has used or permitted the use of the copyrighted work upon the parts of musical instruments serving to reproduce mechanically the musical work, then in case of infringement of such copyright by the unauthorized manufacture, use, or sale of interchangeable parts, such as disks, rolls, bands, or cylinders for use in mechanical music-producing machines adapted to reproduce the copyrighted music, no criminal action shall be brought, but in a civil action an injunction may be granted upon such terms as the court may impose, and the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover in lieu of profits and damages a royalty as provided in section 1, subsection (e), of this title: Provided also, That whenever any person, in the absence of a license agreement, intends to use a copyrighted musical composition upon the parts of instruments serving to reproduce mechanically the musical work, relying upon the compulsory license provision of this title, he shall serve notice of such intention, by registered mail, upon the copyright proprietor at his last address disclosed by the records of the copyright office, sending to the copyright office a duplicate of such notice; and in case of his failure so to do the court may, in its discretion, in addition to sums hereinabove mentioned, award the complainant a further sum, not to exceed three times the amount provided by section 1, subsection (e), by way of damages, and not as a penalty, and also a temporary injunction until the full award is paid.

Rules of procedure.—Rules and regulations for practice and procedure under this section shall be prescribed by the Supreme Court of the United States. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 25, 35 Stat. 1081; Aug. 24, 1912, c. 356, 37 Stat. 489.)

26. Jurisdiction of courts in enforcing remedies.—Any court given jurisdiction under section 34 of this title may proceed in any action, suit, or proceeding instituted for violation of any provision hereof to enter a judgment or decree enforcing the remedies herein provided. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 26, 35 Stat. 1082.)

27. Joinder of proceedings for different remedies.—The proceedings for an injunction, damages, and profits, and those for the seizure of infringing copies, plates, molds, matrices, and so forth, aforementioned, may be united in one action. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 27, 35 Stat. 1082.)

28. Willful infringement for profit.—Any person who willfully and for profit shall infringe any copyright secured by this title, or who shall knowingly and willfully aid or abet such infringement, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not exceeding one year or by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, or both, in the discretion of the court: Provided, however, That nothing in this title shall be so construed as to prevent the performance of religious or secular works such as oratorios, cantatas, masses, or octavo choruses by public schools, church choirs, or vocal societies, rented, borrowed, or obtained from some public library, public school, church choir, school choir, or vocal society, provided the performance is given for charitable or educational purposes and not for profit. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 28, 35 Stat. 1082.)

29. Fraudulent notice of copyright, or removal or alteration of notice.—Any person who, with fraudulent intent, shall insert or impress any notice of copyright required by this title, or words of the same purport, in or upon any uncopyrighted article, or with fraudulent intent shall remove or alter the copyright notice upon any article duly copyrighted shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $1,000. Any person who shall knowingly issue or sell any article bearing a notice of United States copyright which has not been copyrighted in this country, or who shall knowingly import any article bearing such notice or words of the same purport, which has not been copyrighted in this country, shall be liable to a fine of $100. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 29, 35 Stat. 1082.)

30. Importation of article bearing false notice or piratical copies of copyrighted work.—The importation into the United States of any article bearing a false notice of copyright when there is no existing copyright thereon in the United States, or of any piratical copies of any work copyrighted in the United States, is prohibited. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 30, 35 Stat. 1082.)

31. Importation, during existence of copyright, of piratical copies, or of copies not produced in accordance with section 15 of this title.—During the existence of the American copyright in any book the importation into the United States of any piratical copies thereof or of any copies thereof (although authorized by the author or proprietor) which have not been produced in accordance with the manufacturing provisions specified in section 15 of this title, or any plates of the same not made from type set within the limits of the United States, or any copies thereof produced by lithographic or photoengraving process not performed within the limits of the United States, in accordance with the provisions of section 15 is prohibited: Provided, however, That, except as regards piratical copies, such prohibition shall not apply:

(a) To works in raised characters for the use of the blind;

(b) To a foreign newspaper or magazine, although containing matter copyrighted in the United States printed or reprinted by authority of the copyright proprietor, unless such newspaper or magazine contains also copyright matter printed or reprinted without such authorization;

(c) To the authorized edition of a book in a foreign language or languages of which only a translation into English has been copyrighted in this country.

(d) To any book published abroad with the authorization of the author or copyright proprietor when imported under the circumstances stated in one of the four subdivisions following, that is to say:

First. When imported, not more than one copy at one time, for individual use and not for sale; but such privilege of importation shall not extend to a foreign reprint of a book by an American author copyrighted in the United States;

Second. When imported by the authority or for the use of the United States;

Third. When imported, for use and not for sale, not more than one copy of any such book in any one invoice, in good faith, by or for any society or institution incorporated for educational, literary, philosophical, scientific, or religious purposes, or for the encouragement of the fine arts, or for any college, academy, school, or seminary of learning, or for any State, school, college, university, or free public library in the United States;

Fourth. When such books form parts of libraries or collections purchased en bloc for the use of societies, institutions, or libraries designated in the foregoing paragraph, or form parts of the libraries or personal baggage belonging to persons or families arriving from foreign countries and are not intended for sale: Provided, That copies imported as above may not lawfully be used in any way to violate the rights of the proprietor of the American copyright or annul or limit the copyright protection secured by this title, and such unlawful use shall be deemed an infringement of copyright. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 31, 35 Stat. 1082.)

32. Forfeiture and destruction of articles prohibited importation.—Any and all articles prohibited importation by this title which are brought into the United States from any foreign country (except in the mails) shall be seized and forfeited by like proceedings as those provided by law for the seizure and condemnation of property imported into the United States in violation of the customs revenue laws. Such articles when forfeited shall be destroyed in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury or the court, as the case may be, shall direct: Provided, however, That all copies of authorized editions of copyright books imported in the mails or otherwise in violation of the provisions of this title may be exported and returned to the country of export whenever it is shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury, in a written application, that such importation does not involve willful negligence or fraud. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 32, 35 Stat. 1083.)

33. Regulations to prevent importation in mails of articles prohibited.—The Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General are empowered and required to make and enforce such joint rules and regulations as shall prevent the importation into the United States in the mails of articles prohibited importation by this title, and may require notice to be given to the Treasury Department or Post Office Department, as the case may be, by copyright proprietors or injured parties, of the actual or contemplated importation of articles prohibited importation by this title, and which infringe the rights of such copyright proprietors or injured parties. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 33, 35 Stat. 1083.)

34. Jurisdiction of actions under laws.—All actions, suits, or proceedings arising under the copyright laws of the United States shall be originally cognizable by the district courts of the United States, the district court of any Territory, the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, the district courts of Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico, and the courts of first instance of the Philippine Islands. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 34, 35 Stat. 1084; Aug. 24, 1912, c. 390, § 8, 37 Stat. 565.)

35. District in which actions may be brought.—Civil actions, suits, or proceedings arising under this title may be instituted in the district of which the defendant or his agent is an inhabitant, or in which he may be found. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 35, 35 Stat. 1084.)

36. Injunctions; service and enforcement.—Any such court or judge thereof shall have power, upon bill in equity filed by any party aggrieved, to grant injunctions to prevent and restrain the violation of any right secured by this title, according to the course and principles of courts of equity, on such terms as said court or judge may deem reasonable. Any injunction that may be granted restraining and enjoining the doing of anything forbidden by this title may be served on the parties against whom such injunction may be granted anywhere in the United States, and shall be operative throughout the United States and be enforceable by proceedings in contempt or otherwise by any other court or judge possessing jurisdiction of the defendants. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 36, 35 Stat. 1084.)

37. Transmission of certified copies of papers for enforcement of injunction by other court.—The clerk of the court, or judge granting the injunction, shall, when required so to do by the court hearing the application to enforce said injunction, transmit without delay to said court a certified copy of all the papers in said cause that are on file in his office. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 37, 35 Stat. 1084.)

38. Review of orders, judgments, or decrees.—The orders, judgments, or decrees of any court mentioned in section 34 of this title arising under the copyright laws of the United States may be reviewed on appeal or writ of error in the manner and to the extent now provided by law for the review of cases determined in said courts, respectively. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 38, 35 Stat. 1084.)

39. Limitation of criminal proceedings.—No criminal proceeding shall be maintained under the provisions of this title unless the same is commenced within three years after the cause of action arose. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 39, 35 Stat. 1084.)

40. Costs; attorney's fees.—In all actions, suits, or proceedings under this title, except when brought by or against the United States or any officer thereof, full costs shall be allowed, and the court may award to the prevailing party a reasonable attorney's fee as part of the costs. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 40, 35 Stat. 1084.)

41. Copyright distinct from property in object copyrighted; effect of sale of object, and of assignment of copyright.—The copyright is distinct from the property in the material object copyrighted, and the sale or conveyance, by gift or otherwise, of the material object shall not of itself constitute a transfer of the copyright, nor shall the assignment of the copyright constitute a transfer of the title to the material object; but nothing in this title shall be deemed to forbid, prevent, or restrict the transfer of any copy of a copyrighted work the possession of which has been lawfully obtained. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 41, 35 Stat. 1084.)

42. Assignments and bequests.—Copyright secured under this title or previous copyright laws of the United States may be assigned, granted, or mortgaged by an instrument in writing signed by the proprietor of the copyright, or may be bequeathed by will. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 42, 35 Stat. 1084.)

43. Same; executed in foreign country; acknowledgment and certificate.—Every assignment of copyright executed in a foreign country shall be acknowledged by the assignor before a consular officer or secretary of legation of the United States authorized by law to administer oaths or perform notarial acts. The certificate of such acknowledgment under the hand and official seal of such consular officer or secretary of legation shall be prima facie evidence of the execution of the instrument. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 43, 35 Stat. 1084.)

44. Same; record.—Every assignment of copyright shall be recorded in the copyright office within three calendar months after its execution in the United States or within six calendar months after its execution without the limits of the United States, in default of which it shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser or mortgagee for a valuable consideration, without notice, whose assignment has been duly recorded. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 44, 35 Stat. 1084.)

45. Same; certificate of record.—The register of copyrights shall, upon payment of the fee prescribed by section 61 of this title, record such assignment, and shall return it to the sender with a certificate of record attached under seal of the copyright office, and upon the payment of the fee prescribed by section 61 he shall furnish to any person requesting the same a certified copy thereof under the said seal. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 45, 35 Stat. 1085.)

46. Same; use of name of assignee in notice.—When an assignment of the copyright in a specified book or other work has been recorded the assignee may substitute his name for that of the assignor in the statutory notice of copyright prescribed by this title. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 46, 35 Stat. 1085.)

47. Copyright office; preservation of records.—All records and other things relating to copyrights required by law to be preserved shall be kept and preserved in the copyright office, Library of Congress, District of Columbia, and shall be under the control of the register of copyrights, who shall, under the direction and supervision of the Librarian of Congress, perform all the duties relating to the registration of copyrights. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 47, 35 Stat. 1085.)

48. Register and assistant register.—There shall be appointed by the Librarian of Congress a register of copyrights, and one assistant register of copyrights, who shall have authority during the absence of the register of copyrights to attach the copyright office seal to all papers issued from the said office and to sign such certificates and other papers as may be necessary. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 48, 35 Stat. 1085; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 265, § 1, 42 Stat. 1488.)

49. Same; deposit of moneys received; reports.—The register of copyrights shall make daily deposits in some bank in the District of Columbia, designated for this purpose by the Secretary of the Treasury as a national depository, of all moneys received to be applied as copyright fees, and shall make weekly deposits with the Secretary of the Treasury, in such manner as the latter shall direct, of all copyright fees actually applied under the provisions of this title, and annual deposits of sums received which it has not been possible to apply as copyright fees or to return to the remitters, and shall also make monthly reports to the Secretary of the Treasury and to the Librarian of Congress of the applied copyright fees for each calendar month, together with a statement of all remittances received, trust funds on hand, moneys refunded, and unapplied balances. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 49, 35 Stat. 1085.)

50. Same; bond.—The register of copyrights shall give bond to the United States in the sum of $20,000, in form to be approved by the Solicitor of the Treasury and with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of the Treasury, for the faithful discharge of his duties. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 50, 35 Stat. 1085.)

51. Same; annual report.—The register of copyrights shall make an annual report to the Librarian of Congress, to be printed in the annual report on the Library of Congress, of all copyright business for the previous fiscal year, including the number and kind of works which have been deposited in the copyright office during the fiscal year, under the provisions of this title. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 51, 35 Stat. 1085.)

52. Seal of copyright office.—The seal used in the copyright office on July 1, 1909, shall be the seal of the copyright office, and by it all papers issued from the copyright office requiring authentication shall be authenticated. (July 8, 1870, c. 230, § 85, 16 Stat. 212; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 52, 35 Stat. 1085.)

53. Rules for registration of claims.—Subject to the approval of the Librarian of Congress, the register of copyrights shall be authorized to make rules and regulations for the registration of claims to copyright as provided by this title. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 53, 35 Stat. 1085.)

54. Record books in copyright office.—The register of copyrights shall provide and keep such record books in the copyright office as are required to carry out the provisions of this title, and whenever deposit has been made in the copyright office of a copy of any work under the provisions of this title he shall make entry thereof. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 54, 35 Stat. 1086.)

55. Certificate of registration; effect as evidence; receipt for copies deposited.—In the case of each entry the person recorded as the claimant of the copyright shall be entitled to a certificate of registration under seal of the copyright office, to contain the name and address of said claimant, the name of the country of which the author of the work is a citizen or subject, and when an alien author domiciled in the United States at the time of said registration, then a statement of that fact, including his place of domicile, the name of the author (when the records of the copyright office shall show the same), the title of the work which is registered for which copyright is claimed, the date of the deposit of the copies of such work, the date of publication if the work has been reproduced in copies for sale, or publicly distributed, and such marks as to class designation and entry number as shall fully identify the entry. In the case of a book, the certificate shall also state the receipt of the affidavit, as provided by section 16 of this title, and the date of the completion of the printing, or the date of the publication of the book, as stated in the said affidavit. The register of copyrights shall prepare a printed form for the said certificate, to be filled out in each case as above provided for in the case of all registrations made after June 30, 1909, and in the case of all previous registrations so far as the copyright office record books shall show such facts, which certificate, sealed with the seal of the copyright office, shall, upon payment of the prescribed fee, be given to any person making application for the same. Said certificate shall be admitted in any court as prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. In addition to such certificate the register of copyrights shall furnish, upon request, without additional fee, a receipt for the copies of the work deposited to complete the registration. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, §§ 55, 64, 35 Stat. 1086, 1088; Mar. 2, 1913, c. 97, 37 Stat. 724.)

56. Catalogues of copyright entries; effect as evidence.—The register of copyrights shall fully index all copyright registrations and assignments and shall print at periodic intervals a catalogue of the titles of articles deposited and registered for copyright, together with suitable indexes, and at stated intervals shall print complete and indexed catalogues for each class of copyright entries, and may thereupon, if expedient, destroy the original manuscript catalogue cards containing the titles included in such printed volumes and representing the entries made during such intervals. The current catalogues of copyright entries and the index volumes herein provided for shall be admitted in any court as prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein as regards any copyright registration. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 56, 35 Stat. 1086.)

57. Same; distribution and sale; disposal of proceeds.—The said printed current catalogues as they are issued shall be promptly distributed by the copyright office to the collectors of customs of the United States and to the postmasters of all exchange offices of receipt of foreign mails, in accordance with revised lists of such collectors of customs and postmasters prepared by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General, and they shall also be furnished to all parties desiring them at a price to be determined by the register of copyrights, not exceeding $5 per annum for the complete catalogue of copyright entries and not exceeding $1 per annum for the catalogues issued during the year for any one class of subjects. The consolidated catalogues and indexes shall also be supplied to all persons ordering them at such prices as may be determined to be reasonable, and all subscriptions for the catalogues shall be received by the Superintendent of Public Documents, who shall forward the said publications; and the moneys thus received shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and accounted for under such laws and Treasury regulations as shall be in force at the time. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 57, 35 Stat. 1086.)

58. Records and works deposited in copyright office open to public inspection; taking copies of entries.—The record books of the copyright office, together with the indexes to such record books, and all works deposited and retained in the copyright office, shall be open to public inspection; and copies may be taken of the copyright entries actually made in such record books, subject to such safeguards and regulations as shall be prescribed by the register of copyrights and approved by the Librarian of Congress. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 58, 35 Stat. 1086.)

59. Disposition of articles deposited in office.—Of the articles deposited in the copyright office under the provisions of the copyright laws of the United States, the Librarian of Congress shall determine what books and other articles shall be transferred to the permanent collections of the Library of Congress, including the law library, and what other books or articles shall be placed in the reserve collections of the Library of Congress for sale or exchange, or be transferred to other governmental libraries in the District of Columbia for use therein. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 59, 35 Stat. 1087.)

60. Destruction of articles deposited in office remaining undisposed of; removal of by author or proprietor; manuscripts of unpublished works.—Of any articles undisposed of as above provided, together with all titles and correspondence relating thereto, the Librarian of Congress and the register of copyrights jointly shall, at suitable intervals, determine what of these received during any period of years it is desirable or useful to preserve in the permanent files of the copyright office, and, after due notice as hereinafter provided, may within their discretion cause the remaining articles and other things to be destroyed: Provided, That there shall be printed in the Catalogue of Copyright Entries from February to November, inclusive, a statement of the years of receipt of such articles and a notice to permit any author, copyright proprietor, or other lawful claimant to claim and remove before the expiration of the month of December of that year anything found which relates to any of his productions deposited or registered for copyright within the period of years stated, not reserved or disposed of as provided for in this title. No manuscript of an unpublished work shall be destroyed during its term of copyright without specific notice to the copyright proprietor of record, permitting him to claim and remove it. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 60, 35 Stat. 1087.)

61. Fees.—The register of copyrights shall receive, and the persons to whom the services designated are rendered shall pay, the following fees: For the registration of any work subject to copyright, deposited under the provisions of this title, $1, which sum is to include a certificate of registration under seal: Provided, That in the case of photographs the fee shall be 50 cents where a certificate is not demanded. For every additional certificate of registration made, 50 cents. For recording and certifying any instrument of writing for the assignment of copyright, or any such license specified in section 1, subsection (e), of this title, or for any copy of such assignment or license, duly certified, if not over three hundred words in length, $1; if more than three hundred and less than one thousand words in length, $2; if more than one thousand words in length, $1 additional for each one thousand words or fraction thereof over three hundred words. For recording the notice of user or acquiescence specified in section 1, subsection (e), 25 cents for each notice if not over fifty words, and an additional 25 cents for each additional one hundred words. For comparing any copy of an assignment with the record of such document in the copyright office and certifying the same under seal, $1. For recording the extension or renewal of copyright provided for in sections 23 and 24 of this title, 50 cents. For recording the transfer of the proprietorship of copyrighted articles, 10 cents for each title of a book or other article, in addition to the fee prescribed for recording the instrument of assignment. For any requested search of copyright office records, indexes, or deposits, 50 cents for each full hour of time consumed in making such search: Provided, That only one registration at one fee shall be required in the case of several volumes of the same book deposited at the same time. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 61, 35 Stat. 1087.)

62. Terms defined.—In the interpretation and construction of this title "the date of publication" shall in the case of a work of which copies are reproduced for sale or distribution be held to be the earliest date when copies of the first authorized edition were placed on sale, sold, or publicly distributed by the proprietor of the copyright or under his authority, and the word "author" shall include an employer in the case of works made for hire. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 320, § 62, 35 Stat. 1087.)

63. Registration of prints and labels.—In the construction of this title, the word "print" shall be applied only to pictorial illustrations or works connected with the fine arts, and no prints or labels designed to be used for any other article of manufacture shall be entered under the copyright law, but may be registered in the Patent Office. And the Commissioner of Patents is charged with the supervision and control of the entry or registry of such prints or labels, in conformity with the regulations provided by law as to copyright of prints, except that there shall be paid for recording the title of any print or label not a trade mark, $6, which shall cover the expense of furnishing a copy of the record under the seal of the Commissioner of Patents, to the party entering the same. (June 18, 1874, c. 301, § 3, 18 Stat. 79.)

Part 1.—CRIMES

Chapter 1.—OFFENSES AGAINST EXISTENCE OF GOVERNMENT.

Sec.
1. Treason.
2. Same; punishment.
3. Misprision of treason; punishment.
4. Inciting rebellion or insurrection.
5. Criminal correspondence with foreign governments; redress of private injuries excepted.
6. Seditious conspiracy.
7. Recruiting for service against United States.
8. Enlisting to serve against United States.

Section 1. (Criminal Code, section 1.) Treason.—Whoever, owing allegiance to the United States, levies war against them or adheres to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort within the United States or elsewhere, is guilty of treason. (R. S. § 5331; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 1, 35 Stat. 1088.)

2. (Criminal Code, section 2.) Same; punishment.—Whoever is convicted of treason shall suffer death; or, at the discretion of the court, shall be imprisoned not less than five years and fined not less than $10,000, to be levied on and collected out of any or all of his property, real and personal, of which he was the owner at the time of committing such treason, any sale or conveyance to the contrary notwithstanding; and every person so convicted of treason shall, moreover, be incapable of holding any office under the United States. (R. S. § 5332; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 2, 35 Stat. 1088.)

3. (Criminal Code, section 3.) Misprision of treason; punishment.—Whoever, owing allegiance to the United States and having knowledge of the commission of any treason against them, conceals and does not, as soon as may be, disclose and make known the same to the President or to some judge of the United States, or to the governor or to some judge or justice of a particular State, is guilty of misprision of treason and shall be imprisoned not more than seven years and fined not more than $1,000. (R. S. § 5333; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 3, 35 Stat. 1088.)

4. (Criminal Code, section 4.) Inciting rebellion or insurrection.—Whoever incites, sets on foot, assists, or engages in any rebellion or insurrection against the authority of the United States or the laws thereof, or gives aid or comfort thereto, shall be imprisoned not more than ten years, or fined not more than $10,000, or both; and shall, moreover, be incapable of holding any office under the United States. (R. S. § 5334; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 4, 35 Stat. 1088.)

5. (Criminal Code, section 5.) Criminal correspondence with foreign governments; redress of private injuries excepted.—Every citizen of the United States, whether actually resident or abiding within the same, or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or in any foreign country, without the permission or authority of the Government, directly or indirectly, commences or carries on any verbal or written correspondence or intercourse with any foreign government or any officer or agent thereof, with an intent to influence the measures or conduct of any foreign government or of any officer or agent thereof, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States, or to defeat the measures of the Government of the United States; and every person, being a citizen of or resident within the United States or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and not duly authorized, counsels, advises, or assists in any such correspondence with such intent, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than three years; but nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge the right of a citizen to apply, himself or his agent, to any foreign government or the agents thereof for redress of any injury which he may have sustained from such government or any of its agents or subjects. (R. S. § 5335; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 5, 35 Stat. 1088.)

6. (Criminal Code, section 6.) Seditious conspiracy.—If two or more persons in any State or Territory, or in any place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, conspire to overthrow, put down, or to destroy by force the Government of the United States, or to levy war against them, or to oppose by force the authority thereof, or by force to prevent, hinder, or delay the execution of any law of the United States, or by force to seize, take, or possess any property of the United States contrary to the authority thereof, they shall each be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than six years, or both. (R. S. § 5336; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 6, 35 Stat. 1089.)

7. (Criminal Code, section 7.) Recruiting for service against United States.—Whoever recruits soldiers or sailors within the United States, or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, to engage in armed hostility against the same, or opens within the United States, or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, a recruiting station for the enlistment of such soldiers or sailors to serve in any manner in armed hostility against the United States, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5337; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 7, 35 Stat. 1089.)

8. (Criminal Code, section 8.) Enlisting to serve against United States.—Every person enlisted or engaged within the United States or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, with intent to serve in armed hostility against the United States, shall be fined $100 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5338; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 8, 35 Stat. 1089.)

Chapter 2.—OFFENSES AGAINST NEUTRALITY.

Sec.
21. Accepting commission to serve against friendly power.
22. Enlisting in foreign service; exceptions.
23. Arming vessels against friendly powers; forfeiture of vessel.
24. Augmenting force of foreign armed vessel.

34. Same; statement from master that cargo will not be delivered to other vessels.
35. Same; forbidding departure of vessels.
36. Same; unlawful taking of vessel out of port.
37. Same; internment of persons belonging to armed land or naval forces of belligerent nation; arrest; punishment for aiding escape.
38. Enforcement of sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 37 of this title.
39. Same; United States defined; jurisdiction of offenses; prior offenses; partial invalidity of provisions.

Section 21. (Criminal Code, section 9.) Accepting commission to serve against friendly power.—Every citizen of the United States who, within the territory or jurisdiction thereof, accepts and exercises a commission to serve a foreign prince, state, colony, district, or people, in war, by land or by sea, against any prince, state, colony, district, or people, with whom the United States are at peace, shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5281; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 9, 35 Stat. 1089.)

22. (Criminal Code, section 10, amended.) Enlisting in foreign service; exceptions.—Whoever, within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, enlists or enters himself, or hires or retains another person to enlist or enter himself, or to go beyond the limits or jurisdiction of the United States with intent to be enlisted or entered in the service of any foreign prince, state, colony, district, or people as a soldier or as a marine or seaman on board of any vessel of war, letter of marque, or privateer shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than three years: Provided, That this section shall not apply to citizens or subjects of any country engaged in war with a country with which the United States is at war, unless such citizen or subject of such foreign country shall hire or solicit a citizen of the United States to enlist or go beyond the jurisdiction of the United States with intent to enlist or enter the service of a foreign country. Enlistments under this proviso shall be under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of War. (R. S. § 5282; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 10, 35 Stat. 1089; May 7, 1917, c. 11, 40 Stat. 39.)

23. (Criminal Code, section 11.) Arming vessels against friendly powers; forfeiture of vessel.—Whoever, within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, fits out and arms, or attempts to fit out and arm, or procures to be fitted out and armed, or knowingly is concerned in the furnishing, fitting out, or arming of any vessel, with intent that such vessel shall be employed in the service of any foreign prince, or state, or of any colony, district, or people, to cruise, or commit hostilities against the subjects, citizens, or property of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people, with whom the United States are at peace, or whoever issues or delivers a commission within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States for any vessel, to the intent that she may be so employed, shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. And every such vessel, her tackle, apparel, and furniture, together with all materials, arms, ammunition, and stores which may have been procured for the building and equipment thereof, shall be forfeited; one half to the use of the informer and the other half to the use of the United States. (R. S. § 5283; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 11, 35 Stat. 1090.)

24. (Criminal Code, section 12.) Augmenting force of foreign armed vessel.—Whoever, within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, increases or augments, or procures to be increased or augmented, or knowingly is concerned in increasing or augmenting, the force of any ship of war, cruiser, or other armed vessel which, at the time of her arrival within the United States, was a ship of war, or cruiser, or armed vessel, in the service of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people, or belonging to the subjects or citizens of any such prince or state, colony, district, or people, the same being at war with any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people, with whom the United States are at peace, by adding to the number of the guns of such vessel, or by changing those on board of her for guns of a larger caliber, or by adding thereto any equipment solely applicable to war, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than one year. (R. S. § 5285; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 12, 35 Stat. 1090.)

25. (Criminal Code, section 13, amended.) Organizing military expedition against friendly power.—Whoever, within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States or of any of its possessions, knowingly begins or sets on foot or provides or prepares a means for or furnishes the money for, or who takes part in, any military or naval expedition or enterprise to be carried on from thence against the territory or dominion of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people with whom the United States is at peace, shall be fined not more than $3,000 or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (R. S. § 5286; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 13, 35 Stat. 1090; June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 8, 40 Stat. 223.)

26. (Criminal Code, section 14.) Enforcement by courts; employment of land or naval forces.—The district courts shall take cognizance of all complaints, by whomsoever instituted, in cases of captures made within the waters of the United States, or within a marine league of the coasts or shores thereof. In every case in which a vessel is fitted out and armed, or attempted to be fitted out and armed, or in which the force of any vessel of war, cruiser, or other armed vessel is increased or augmented, or in which any military expedition or enterprise is begun or set on foot, contrary to the provisions and prohibitions of this chapter; and in every case of the capture of a vessel within the jurisdiction or protection of the United States as before defined; and in every case in which any process issuing out of any court of the United States is disobeyed or resisted by any person having the custody of any vessel of war, cruiser, or other armed vessel of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people, or of any subjects or citizens of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people, it shall be lawful for the President, or such other person as he shall have empowered for that purpose, to employ such part of the land or naval forces of the United States, or of the militia thereof, for the purpose of taking possession of and detaining any such vessel, with her prizes, if any, in order to enforce the execution of the prohibitions and penalties of this chapter, and the restoring of such prizes in the cases in which restoration shall be adjudged; and also for the purpose of preventing the carrying on of any such expedition or enterprise from the territory or jurisdiction of the United States against the territory or dominion of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people with whom the United States are at peace. (R. S. § 5287; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 14, 35 Stat. 1090.)

27. (Criminal Code, section 15, amended.) Compelling foreign vessels to depart.—It shall be lawful for the President to employ such part of the land or naval forces of the United States, or of the militia thereof, as he may deem necessary to compel any foreign vessel to depart from the United States or any of its possessions in all cases in which, by the law of nations or the treaties of the United States, it ought not to remain, and to detain or prevent any foreign vessel from so departing in all cases in which, by the law of nations or the treaties of the United States, it is not entitled to depart. (R. S. § 5288; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 15, 35 Stat. 1091; June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 10, 40 Stat. 223.)

28. (Criminal Code, section 16.) Bonds from armed vessels on clearing.—The owners or consignees of every armed vessel sailing out of the ports of, or under the jurisdiction of, the United States, belonging wholly or in part to citizens thereof, shall, before clearing out the same, give bond to the United States, with sufficient sureties, in double the amount of the value of the vessel and cargo on board, including her armament, conditioned that the vessel shall not be employed by such owners to cruise or commit hostilities against the subjects, citizens, or property of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people, with whom the United States are at peace. (R. S. § 5289; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 16, 35 Stat. 1091.)

29. (Criminal Code, section 17.) Detention by collectors of customs.—The several collectors of the customs shall detain any vessel manifestly built for warlike purposes, and about to depart the United States, or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, the cargo of which principally consists of arms and munitions of war, when the number of men shipped on board, or other circumstances, render it probable that such vessel is intended to be employed by the owners to cruise or commit hostilities upon the subjects, citizens, or property of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district, or people with whom the United States are at peace, until the decision of the President is had thereon, or until the owner gives such bond and security as is required of the owners of armed vessels by the preceding section. (R. S. § 5290; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 17, 35 Stat. 1091.)

30. (Criminal Code, section 18.) Construction of chapter; transient aliens; prosecutions for treason or piracy.—The provisions of sections 21 to 29 of this title shall not be construed to extend to any subject or citizen of any foreign prince, state, colony, district, or people who is transiently within the United States and enlists or enters himself on board of any vessel of war, letter of marque, or privateer, which at the time of its arrival within the United States was fitted and equipped as such, or hires or retains another subject or citizen of the same foreign prince, state, colony, district, or people who is transiently within the United States to enlist or enter himself to serve such foreign prince, state, colony, district, or people on board such vessel of war, letter of marque, or privateer, if the United States shall then be at peace with such foreign prince, state, colony, district, or people. Nor shall they be construed to prevent the prosecution or punishment of treason, or of any piracy defined by the laws of the United States. (R. S. § 5291; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 18, 35 Stat. 1091.)

31. Enforcement of neutrality; withholding clearance papers from vessels.—During a war in which the United States is a neutral nation, the President, or any person thereunto authorized by him, may withhold clearance from or to any vessel, domestic or foreign, which is required by law to secure clearance before departing from port or from the jurisdiction of the United States, or, by service of formal notice upon the owner, master, or person in command or having charge of any domestic vessel not required by law to secure clearances before so departing, to forbid its departure from port or from the jurisdiction of the United States, whenever there is reasonable cause to believe that any such vessel, domestic or foreign, whether requiring clearance or not, is about to carry fuel, arms, ammunition, men, supplies, dispatches, or information to any warship, tender, or supply ship of a foreign belligerent nation in violation of the laws, treaties, or obligations of the United States under the law of nations; and it shall thereupon be unlawful for such vessel to depart. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 1, 40 Stat. 221.)

32. Same; detention of armed vessels.—During a war in which the United States is a neutral nation, the President, or any person thereunto authorized by him, may detain any armed vessel owned wholly or in part by American citizens, or any vessel, domestic or foreign (other than one which has entered the ports of the United States as a public vessel), which is manifestly built for warlike purposes or has been converted or adapted from a private vessel to one suitable for warlike use, until the owner or master, or person having charge of such vessel, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the President, or to the person duly authorized by him, that the vessel will not be employed by the said owners, or master, or person having charge thereof, to cruise against or commit or attempt to commit hostilities upon the subjects, citizens, or property of any foreign prince or state, or of any colony, district or people with which the United States is at peace, and that the said vessel will not be sold or delivered to any belligerent nation, or to an agent, officer, or citizen of such nation, by them or any of them, within the jurisdiction of the United States, or, having left that jurisdiction, upon the high seas. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 2, 40 Stat. 221.)

33. Same; sending out armed vessel with intent to deliver to belligerent nation.—During a war in which the United States is a neutral nation, it shall be unlawful to send out of the jurisdiction of the United States any vessel built, armed, or equipped as a vessel of war, or converted from a private vessel into a vessel of war, with any intent or under any agreement or contract, written or oral, that such vessel shall be delivered to a belligerent nation, or to an agent, officer, or citizen of such nation, or with reasonable cause to believe that the said vessel shall or will be employed in the service of any such belligerent nation after its departure from the jurisdiction of the United States. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 3, 40 Stat. 222.)

34. Same; statement from master that cargo will not be delivered to other vessels.—During a war in which the United States is a neutral nation, in addition to the facts required by sections 91, 92, and 94 of Title 46 to be set out in the masters' and shippers' manifests before clearance will be issued to vessels bound to foreign ports, each of which sections is hereby declared to be and is continued in full force and effect, every master or person having charge or command of any vessel, domestic or foreign, whether requiring clearance or not, before departure of such vessel from port shall deliver to the collector of customs for the district wherein such vessel is then located a statement duly verified by oath, that the cargo or any part of the cargo is or is not to be delivered to other vessels in port or to be transshipped on the high seas and, if it is to be so delivered or transshipped, stating the kind and quantities and the value of the total quantity of each kind of article so to be delivered or transshipped, and the name of the person, corporation, vessel, or government, to whom the delivery or transshipment is to be made; and the owners, shippers, or consignors of the cargo of such vessel shall in the same manner and under the same conditions deliver to the collector like statements under oath as to the cargo or the parts thereof laden or shipped by them, respectively. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 4, 40 Stat. 222.)

35. Same; forbidding departure of vessels.—Whenever it appears that the vessel is not entitled to clearance or whenever there is reasonable cause to believe that the additional statements under oath required in section 34 of this title are false, the collector of customs for the district in which the vessel is located may, subject to review by the Secretary of Commerce, refuse clearance to any vessel, domestic or foreign, and by formal notice served upon the owners, master, or person or persons in command or charge of any domestic vessel for which clearance is not required by law, forbid the departure of the vessel from the port or from the jurisdiction of the United States; and it shall thereupon be unlawful for the vessel to depart. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 5, 40 Stat. 222.)

36. Same; unlawful taking of vessel out of port.—Whoever, in violation of any of the provisions of sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 38 of this title, shall take, or attempt or conspire to take, or authorize the taking of any such vessel, out of port or from the jurisdiction of the United States, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both; and, in addition, such vessel, her tackle, apparel, furniture, equipment, and her cargo shall be forfeited to the United States. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 6, 40 Stat. 222.)

37. Same; internment of person belonging to armed land or naval forces of belligerent nation; arrest; punishment for aiding escape.—Whoever, being a person belonging to the armed land or naval forces of a belligerent nation or belligerent faction of any nation and being interned in the United States, in accordance with the law of nations, shall leave or attempt to leave said jurisdiction, or shall leave or attempt to leave the limits of internment in which freedom of movement has been allowed, without permission from the proper official of the United States in charge, or shall willfully overstay a leave of absence granted by such official, shall be subject to arrest by any marshal or deputy marshal of the United States, or by the military or naval authorities thereof, and shall be returned to the place of internment and there confined and safely kept for such period of time as the official of the United States in charge shall direct; and whoever, within the jurisdiction of the United States and subject thereto, shall aid or entice any interned person to escape or attempt to escape from the jurisdiction of the United States, or from the limits of internment prescribed, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 7, 40 Stat. 223.)

38. Enforcement of sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 37 of this title.—The President may employ such part of the land or naval forces of the United States as he may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 37 of this title. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title V, § 9, 40 Stat. 223.)

39. Same; United States defined; jurisdiction of offenses; prior offenses; partial invalidity of provisions.—The term "United States," as used in sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 38 of this title, includes the Canal Zone, and all territory and waters, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. The several courts of first instance in the Philippine Islands and the district court of the Canal Zone shall have jurisdiction of offenses under said sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 38 committed within their respective districts, and concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts of the United States of offenses thereunder committed upon the high seas, and of conspiracies to commit such offenses, as defined by section 88 of this title, and the provisions of said section 88, for the purposes of sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 38 of this title, are extended to the Philippine Islands, and to the Canal Zone. Offenses committed and penalties, forfeitures, or liabilities incurred prior to the taking effect hereof under any law embraced in or changed, modified, or repealed by sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 38 may be prosecuted and punished, and suits and proceedings for causes arising or acts done or committed prior to the taking effect hereof may be commenced and prosecuted, in the same manner and with the same effect as if said sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 38 had not been passed. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of sections 22, 25, 27, and 31 to 38 shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, §§ 1 to 4, 40 Stat. 231.)

Chapter 8.—OFFENSES AGAINST ELECTIVE FRANCHISE AND CIVIL RIGHTS OF CITIZENS.

Sec.

51. Conspiracy to injure persons in exercise of civil rights.
52. Depriving citizens of civil rights under color of State laws.
53. Searches without search warrant; punishment.
54. Conspiring to prevent officer from performing duties.
55. Unlawful presence of troops at polls.
56. Intimidating voters by Army or Navy officers.
57. Army or Navy officers prescribing qualifications of voters.
58. Interfering with election officers by Army or Navy officers.
59. Additional punishment.

Section 51. (Criminal Code, section 19.) Conspiracy to injure persons in exercise of civil rights.—If two or more persons conspire to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States, or because of his having so exercised the same, or if two or more persons go in disguise on the highway, or on the premises of another, with intent to prevent or hinder his free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege so secured, they shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years, and shall, moreover, be thereafter ineligible to any office, or place of honor, profit, or trust created by the Constitution or laws of the United States. (R. S. § 5508; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 19, 35 Stat. 1092.)

52. (Criminal Code, section 20.) Depriving citizens of civil rights under color of State laws.—Whoever, under color of any law, statute, ordinance, regulation, or custom, willfully subjects, or causes to be subjected, any inhabitant of any State, Territory, or District to the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured or protected by the Constitution and laws of the United States, or to different punishments, pains, or penalties, on account of such inhabitant being an alien, or by reason of his color, or race, than are prescribed for the punishment of citizens, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 5510; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 20, 35 Stat. 1092.)

53. Searches without search warrant; punishment.—Any officer, agent, or employee of the United States engaged in the enforcement of Title 27 (the National Phohibition Act) or any other law of the United States, who shall search any private dwelling as defined in Title 27 (National Prohibition Act), and occupied as such dwelling, without a warrant directing the search, or who while so engaged shall without a search warrant maliciously and without reasonable cause search any other building or property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined for a first offense not more than $1,000, and for a subsequent offense not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment. (Nov. 23, 1921, c. 134, § 6, 42 Stat. 223.)

54. (Criminal Code, section 21.) Conspiring to prevent officer from performing duties.—If two or more persons in any State, Territory, or District conspire to prevent, by force, intimidation, or threat, any person from accepting or holding any office, trust, or place of confidence under the United States, or from discharging any duties thereof; or to induce by like means any officer of the United States to leave any State, Territory, District, or place, where his duties as an officer are required to be performed, or to injure him in his person or property on account of his lawful discharge of the duties of his office, or while engaged in the lawful discharge thereof, or to injure his property so as to molest, interrupt, hinder, or impede him in the discharge of his official duties, each of such persons shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than six years, or both. (R. S. § 5518; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 21, 35 Stat. 1092.)

55. (Criminal Code, section 22.) Unlawful presence of troops at polls.—Every officer of the Army or Navy, or other person in the civil, military, or naval service of the United States, who orders, brings, keeps, or has under his authority or control any troops or armed men at any place where a general or special election is held in any State, unless such force be necessary to repel armed enemies of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5528; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 22, 35 Stat. 1092.)

56. (Criminal Code, section 23.) Intimidating voters by Army or Navy officers.—Every officer or other person in the military or naval service of the United States who, by force, threat, intimidation, order, advice, or otherwise, prevents, or attempts to prevent, any qualified voter of any State from freely exercising the right of suffrage at any general or special election in such State shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5529, Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 23, 35 Stat. 1092.)

57. (Criminal Code, section 24.) Army or Navy officers prescribing qualifications of voters.—Every officer of the Army or Navy who prescribes or fixes, or attempts to prescribe or fix, whether by proclamation, order, or otherwise, the qualifications of voters at any election in any State shall be punished as provided in section 56 of this title. (R. S. § 5530; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 24, 35 Stat. 1092.)

58. (Criminal Code, section 25.) Interfering with election officers by Army or Navy officers.—Every officer or other person in the military or naval service of the United States who, by force, threat, intimidation, order, or otherwise, compels, or attempts to compel, any officer holding an election in any State to receive a vote from a person not legally qualified to vote, or who imposes, or attempts to impose, any regulations for conducting any general or special election in a State different from those prescribed by law, or who interferes in any manner with any officer of an election in the discharge of his duty, shall be punished as provided in section 56 of this title. (R. S. § 5531; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 25, 35 Stat. 1092.)

59. (Criminal Code, section 26.) Additional punishment.—Every person convicted of any offense defined in sections 55 to 58 of this title shall, in addition to the punishment therein prescribed, be disqualified from holding any office of honor, profit, or trust under the United States; but nothing therein shall be construed to prevent any officer, soldier, sailor, or marine from exercising the right of suffrage in any election district to which he may belong, if otherwise qualified according to the laws of the State in which he offers to vote. (R. S. § 5532; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 26, 35 Stat. 1093.)

Officer making false acknowledgments.—Whoever, being an officer authorized to administer oaths or to take and certify acknowledgments, shall knowingly make any false acknowledgment, certificate, or statement concerning the appearance before him or the taking of an oath or affirmation by any person with respect to any proposal, contract, bond, undertaking, or other matter, submitted to, made with, or taken on behalf of, the United States, and concerning which an oath or affirmation is required by law or regulation made in pursuance of law, or with respect to the financial standing of any principal, surety, or other party to any such proposal, contract, bond, undertaking, or other instrument, shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 31, 35 Stat. 1094.)

76. (Criminal Code, section 32.) Falsely pretending to be United States officer.—Whoever, with intent to defraud either the United States or any person, shall falsely assume or pretend to be an officer or employee acting under the authority of the United States, or any department, or any officer of the Government thereof, and shall take upon himself to act as such, or shall in such pretended character demand or obtain from any person or from the United States, or any department, or any officer of the Government thereof, any money, paper, document, or other valuable thing, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (R. S. § 5438; Apr. 18, 1884, c. 26, 23 Stat. 11; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 32, 35 Stat. 1095.)

77. Falsely representing to be officer, agent, or employee of United States and making arrest or search.—Whoever not being an officer, agent, or employee of the United States shall falsely represent himself to be such officer, agent, or employee and in such assumed character shall arrest or detain any person, or shall in any manner search the person, buildings, or other property of any person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (Nov. 23, 1921, c. 134, § 6, 42 Stat. 224.)

78. (Criminal Code, section 33.) False personation of holder of public stocks or pensioner.—Whoever shall falsely personate any true and lawful holder of any share or sum in the public stocks or debt of the United States, or any person entitled to any annuity, dividend, pension, prize money, wages, or other debt due from the United States, and, under color of such false personation, shall transfer or endeavor to transfer such public stock or any part thereof, or shall receive or endeavor to receive the money of such true and lawful holder thereof, or the money of any person really entitled to receive such annuity, dividend, pension, prize money, wages, or other debt, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5435; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 33, 35 Stat. 1095.)

79. (Criminal Code, section 34.) False demand on fraudulent power of attorney.—Whoever shall knowingly or fraudulently demand or endeavor to obtain any share or sum in the public stocks of the United States, or to have any part thereof transferred, assigned, sold, or conveyed, or to have any annuity, dividend, pension, prize money, wages, or other debt due from the United States, or any part thereof, received, or paid by virtue of any false, forged, or counterfeited power of attorney, authority, or instrument, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5436; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 34, 35 Stat. 1095.)

80. (Criminal Code, section 35, amended.) Presenting false claims; aiding in obtaining payment thereof.—Whoever shall make or cause to be made or present or cause to be presented, for payment or approval, to or by any person or officer in the civil, military, or naval service of the United States, or any department thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, any claim upon or against the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, knowing such claim to be false, fictitious, or fraudulent; or whoever, for the purpose of obtaining or aiding to obtain the payment or approval of such claim, or for the purpose and with the intent of cheating and swindling or defrauding the Government of the United States, or any department thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, shall knowingly and willfully falsify or conceal or cover up by any trick, scheme, or device a material fact, or make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent statements or representations, or make or use or cause to be made or used any false bill, receipt, voucher, roll, account, claim, certificate, affidavit, or deposition, knowing the same to contain any fraudulent or fictitious statement or entry, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5438; May 30, 1908, c. 235, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 35, 35 Stat. 1095; Oct. 23, 1918, c. 194, 40 Stat. 1015.)

81. False affidavit and postdating vouchers; false certificate to vouchers.—Every person who knowingly or willfully makes or aids, or assists in the making, or in anywise procures the making or presentation of any false or fraudulent affidavit, declaration, certificate, voucher, or paper or writing purporting to be such, pertaining to any matter within the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment for a term of not more than five years. (R. S. § 4746; July 7, 1898, c. 578, 30 Stat. 718.)

82. (Criminal Code, section 35, amended.) Purloining or stealing personal property of United States.—Whoever shall take and carry away or take for his own use, or for the use of another, with intent to steal or purloin, any personal property of the United States, or any branch or department thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5438; May 30, 1908, c. 235, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 35, 35 Stat. 1095; Oct. 23, 1918, c. 194, 40 Stat. 1015.)

83. (Criminal Code, section 35, amended.) Conspiracy to defraud United States in regard to allowance or payment of false claims.—Whoever shall enter into any agreement, combination, or conspiracy to defraud the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, by obtaining or aiding to obtain the payment or allowance of any false or fraudulent claim, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5438; May 30, 1908, c. 235, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 35, 35 Stat. 1095; Oct. 23, 1918, c. 194, 40 Stat. 1015.)

84. (Criminal Code, section 35, amended.) Unauthorized delivery of certificate, voucher, receipt, etc., for military or naval property.—Whoever, being authorized to make or deliver any certificate, voucher, receipt, or other paper certifying the receipt of arms, ammunition, provisions, clothing, or other property used or to be used in the military or naval service, shall make or deliver the same to any other person without a full knowledge of the truth of the facts stated therein and with intent to defraud the United States, or any department thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5438; May 30, 1908, c. 255, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 35, 35 Stat. 1095; Oct. 23, 1918, c. 194, 40 Stat. 1015.)

85. (Criminal Code, section 35, amended.) Unauthorized delivery of money or property for military or naval service.—Whoever, having charge, possession, custody, or control of any money or other public property used or to be used in the military or naval service, with intent to defraud the United States, or any department thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, or willfully to conceal such money or other property, shall deliver or cause to be delivered to any person having authority to receive the same any amount of such money or other property less than that for which he received a certificate or took a receipt, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5438; May 30, 1908, c. 235, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 35, 35 Stat. 1095; Oct. 23, 1918, c. 194, 40 Stat. 1015.)

86. (Criminal Code, section 35, amended.) Unlawful purchase as pledge of military or naval property.—Whoever shall purchase, or receive in pledge from any person any arms, equipment, ammunition, clothing, military stores, or other property furnished by the United States, under a clothing allowance or otherwise, to any soldier, sailor, officer, cadet, or midshipman in the military or naval service of the United States or of the National Guard or Naval Militia, or to any person accompanying, serving, or retained with the land or naval forces and subject to military or naval law, having knowledge or reason to believe that the property has been taken from the possession of the United States or furnished by the United States under such allowance, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 5438; May 30, 1908, c. 235, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 35, 35 Stat. 1095; Oct. 23, 1918, c. 194, 40 Stat. 1015.)

87. (Criminal Code, section 36.) Embezzling arms and stores.—Whoever shall steal, embezzle, or knowingly apply to his own use, or unlawfully sell, convey, or dispose of, any ordnance, arms, ammunition, clothing, subsistence, stores, money, or other property of the United States, furnished or to be used for the military or naval service, shall be punished as prescribed in sections 80 and 82 to 86 of this title. (R. S. § 5439; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 36, 35 Stat. 1096.)

88. (Criminal Code, section 37.) Conspiring to commit offense against United States.—If two or more persons conspire either to commit any offense against the United States, or to defraud the United States in any manner or for any purpose, and one or more of such parties do any act to effect the object of the conspiracy, each of the parties to such conspiracy shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 5440; May 17, 1879, c. 8, 21 Stat. 4; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 37, 35 Stat. 1096.)

89. Threats against President.—Any person who knowingly and willfully deposits or causes to be deposited for conveyance in the mail or for delivery from any post office or by any letter carrier any letter, paper, writing, print, missive, or document containing any threat to take the life of or to inflict bodily harm upon the President of the United States, or who knowingly and willfully otherwise makes any such threat against the President, shall upon conviction be fined not exceeding $1,000 or imprisoned not exceeding five years, or both. (Feb. 14, 1917, c. 64, 39 Stat. 919.)

90. (Criminal Code, section 38.) Interfering with delivery of prize property.—Whoever shall willfully do, or aid or advise in the doing, of any act relating to the bringing in, custody, preservation, sale, or other disposition of any property captured as prize, or relating to any documents or papers connected with the property, or to any deposition or other document or paper connected with the proceedings, with intent to defraud, delay, or injure the United States or any captor or claimant of such property, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5441; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 38, 35 Stat. 1096.)

91. (Criminal Code, section 39.) Bribery of United States officer.—Whoever shall promise, offer, or give, or cause or procure to be promised, offered, or given, any money or other thing of value, or shall make or tender any contract, undertaking, obligation, gratuity, or security for the payment of money, or for the delivery or conveyance of anything of value, to any officer of the United States, or to any person acting for or on behalf of the United States in any official function, under or by authority of any department or office of the Government thereof, or to any officer or person acting for or on behalf of either House of Congress, or of any committee of either House, or both Houses thereof, with intent to influence his decision or action on any question, matter, cause, or proceeding which may at any time be pending, or which may by law be brought before him in his official capacity, or in his place of trust or profit, or with intent to influence him to commit or aid in committing, or to collude in, or allow, any fraud, or make opportunity for the commission of any fraud, on the United States, or to induce him to do or omit to do any act in violation of his lawful duty, shall be fined not more than three times the amount of money or value of the thing so offered, promised, given, made, or tendered, or caused or procured to be so offered, promised, given, made, or tendered, and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5451; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 39, 35 Stat. 1096.)

92. (Criminal Code, section 40.) Unlawfully taking or using papers relating to claims.—Whoever shall take and carry away, without authority from the United States, from the place where it has been filed, lodged, or deposited, or where it may for the time being actually be kept by authority of the United States, any certificate, affidavit, deposition, written statement of facts, power of attorney, receipt, voucher, assignment, or other document, record, file, or paper, prepared, fitted, or intended to be used or presented in order to procure the payment of money from or by the United States, or any officer or agent thereof, or the allowance or payment of the whole or any part of any claim, account, or demand against the United States, whether the same has or has not already been so used or presented, and whether such claim, account, or demand, or any part thereof, has or has not already been allowed or paid; or whoever shall present, use, or attempt to use, any such document, record, file, or paper so taken and carried away, in order to procure the payment of any money from or by the United States, or any officer or agent thereof, or the allowance or payment of the whole or any part of any claim, account, or demand against the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5454; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 40, 35 Stat. 1096.)

93. (Criminal Code, section 41.) Interested persons acting as Government agents.—No officer or agent of any corporation, joint-stock company, or association, and no member or agent of any firm, or person directly or indirectly interested in the pecuniary profits or contracts of such corporation, joint-stock company, association, or firm, shall be employed or shall act as an officer or agent of the United States for the transaction of business with such corporation, joint-stock company, association, or firm. Whoever shall violate the provision of this section shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than two years. (R. S. § 1783; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 41, 35 Stat. 1097.)

94. (Criminal Code, section 42.) Enticing desertion from Army or Navy.—Whoever shall entice or procure, or attempt or endeavor to entice or procure, any soldier in the military service, or any seaman or other person in the naval service of the United States, or who has been recruited for such service, to desert therefrom, or shall aid any such soldier, seaman, or other person in deserting or in attempting to desert from such service; or whoever shall harbor, conceal, protect, or assist any such soldier, seaman, or other person who may have deserted from such service, knowing him to have deserted therefrom, or shall refuse to give up and deliver such soldier, seaman, or other person on the demand of any officer authorized to receive him, shall be imprisoned not more than three years and fined not more than $2,000. (R. S. §§ 1553, 5455; Feb. 27, 1877, c. 69, § 1, 19 Stat. 253; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 42, 35 Stat. 1097.)

95. (Criminal Code, section 43.) Enticing workmen from arsenals or armories.—Whoever shall procure or entice any artificer or workman retained or employed in any arsenal or armory to depart from the same during the continuance of his engagement, or to avoid or break his contract with the United States; or whoever, after due notice of the engagement of such workman or artificer, during the continuance of such engagement, shall retain, hire, or in anywise employ, harbor, or conceal such artificer or workman, shall be fined not more than $50, or imprisoned not more than three months, or both. (R. S. § 1668; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 43, 35 Stat. 1097.)

96. (Criminal Code, section 44, amended.) Injuries to fortifications or harbor defenses; jurisdiction of offenses committed within Canal Zone or defensive sea areas.—Whoever shall willfully trespass upon, injure, or destroy any of the works or property or material of any submarine mine or torpedo or fortification or harbor-defense system owned or constructed or in process of construction by the United States, or shall willfully interfere with the operation or use of any such submarine mine, torpedo, fortification, or harbor-defense system, or shall knowingly, willfully, or wantonly violate any duly authorized and promulgated order or regulation of the President governing persons or vessels within the limits of defensive sea areas, which defensive sea areas are hereby authorized to be established by order of the President from time to time as may be necessary in his discretion for purposes of national defense, shall be punished on conviction thereof in a district or circuit court of appeals of the United States for the district or circuit in which the offense is committed, or into which the offender is first brought, by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, or by both, in the discretion of the court. Offenses hereunder committed within the Canal Zone or within any defensive sea areas which the President is authorized to establish by this section, shall be cognizable in the District Court of the Canal Zone, and jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon said court to hear and determine all such cases arising under this section and to impose the penalties herein provided for the violation of any of its provisions. (July 7, 1898, c. 576, § 1, 30 Stat. 717; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 44, 35 Stat. 1097; Mar. 4, 1917, c. 180, 39 Stat. 1194; May 22, 1917, c. 20, § 19, 40 Stat. 89.)

97. (Criminal Code, section 45.) Unlawfully entering military reservation, fort, or arsenal.—Whoever shall go upon any military reservation, Army post, fort, or arsenal, for any purpose prohibited by law or military regulation made in pursuance of law, or whoever shall reenter or be found within any such reservation, post, fort, or arsenal, after having been removed therefrom or ordered not to reenter by any officer or person in command or charge thereof, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 45, 35 Stat. 1097.)

98. Possession or control of property or papers in aid of foreign government designed or intended for violating penal statutes, treaty rights or obligations of United States; or rights under law of nations.—Whoever, in aid of any foreign government, shall knowingly and willfully have possession of or control over any property or papers designed or intended for use or which is used as the means of violating any penal statute, or any of the rights or obligations of the United States under any treaty or the law of nations, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. The term "United States," as used in this section, includes the Canal Zone, and all territory and waters, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. The words "foreign government," as used in this section, shall be deemed to include any government, faction, or body of insurgents within a country with which the United States is at peace, which government, faction, or body of insurgents may or may not have been recognized by the United States as a government. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title VIII, § 4, 40 Stat. 226; June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 22, 40 Stat. 230; June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, § 1, 40 Stat. 231.)

Cross reference—Jurisdiction of offenses under this section, see section 574 of this title.

99. (Criminal Code, section 46.) Robbery of personal property of United States.—Whoever shall rob another of any kind or description of personal property belonging to the United States, or shall feloniously take and carry away the same, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5456; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 46, 35 Stat. 1097.)

100. (Criminal Code, section 47.) Embezzling public moneys or other property.—Whoever shall embezzle, steal, or purloin any money, property, record, voucher, or valuable thing whatever, of the moneys, goods, chattels, records, or property of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (Mar. 3, 1875, c. 144, § 1, 18 Stat. 479; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 47, 35 Stat. 1097.)

101. (Criminal Code, section 48.) Receiving stolen public property.—Whoever shall receive, conceal, or aid in concealing, or shall have or retain in his possession with intent to convert to his own use or gain, any money, property, record, voucher, or valuable thing whatever, of the moneys, goods, chattels, records, or property of the United States, which has theretofore been embezzled, stolen, or purloined by any other person, knowing the same to have been so embezzled, stolen, or purloined, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both; and such person may be tried either before or after the conviction of the principal offender. (Mar. 3, 1875, c. 144, § 2, 18 Stat. 479; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 48, 35 Stat. 1098.)

102. Stealing, defacing, etc., books, pamphlets, or manuscripts in Library of Congress or other public libraries.—Any person who shall steal, wrongfully deface, injure, mutilate, tear, or destroy any book, pamphlet, or manuscript, or any portion thereof, belonging to the Library of Congress, or to any public library in the District of Columbia, whether the property of the United States or of any individual or corporation in said district, or who shall steal, wrongfully deface, injure, mutilate, tear, or destroy any book, pamphlet, document, manuscript, print, engraving, medal, newspaper, or work of art, the property of the United States, shall be held guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall, when the offense is not otherwise punishable by some statute of the United States, be punished by a fine not less than $10 nor more than $1,000, and by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than twelve months, or both, for every such offense. (June 19, 1878, c. 317, 20 Stat. 171.)

103. (Criminal Code, section 49.) Timber depredations on public lands; rights of entrymen.—Whoever shall cut, or cause or procure to be cut, or shall wantonly destroy, or cause to be wantonly destroyed, any timber growing on the public lands of the United States; or whoever shall remove, or cause to be removed, any timber from said public lands, with intent to export or to dispose of the same; or whoever, being the owner, master, or consignee of any vessel, or the owner, director, or agent of any railroad, shall knowingly transport any timber so cut or removed from said lands, or lumber manufactured therefrom, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. Nothing in this section shall prevent any miner or agriculturist from clearing his land in the ordinary working of his mining claim, or in the preparation of his farm for tillage, or from taking the timber necessary to support his improvements, or the taking of timber for the use of the United States. And nothing in this section shall interfere with or take away any right or privilege under any existing law of the United States to cut or remove timber from any public lands. (June 3, 1878, c. 151, § 4, 20 Stat. 90; Aug. 4, 1892, c. 375, § 2, 27 Stat. 348; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 49, 35 Stat. 1098.)

104. (Criminal Code, section 50, amended.) Same; on Indian lands or trust allotments.—Whoever shall unlawfully cut, or aid in unlawfully cutting, or shall wantonly injure or destroy, or procure to be wantonly injured or destroyed, any tree, growing, standing, or being upon any land of the United States which, in pursuance of law, has been reserved or purchased by the United States for any public use, or upon any Indian reservation, or lands belonging to or occupied by any tribe of Indians under the authority of the United States, or any Indian allotment while the title to the same shall be held in trust by the Government, or while the same shall remain inalienable by the allottee without the consent of the United States, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 5388; June 4, 1888, c. 340, 25 Stat. 166; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 50, 35 Stat. 1098; June 25, 1910, c. 431, § 6, 36 Stat. 857.)

105. (Criminal Code, section 51.) Boxing trees for turpentine.—Whoever shall cut, chip, chop, or box any tree upon any lands belonging to the United States, or upon any lands covered by or embraced in any unperfected settlement, application, filing, entry, selection, or location, made under any law of the United States, for the purpose of obtaining from such tree any pitch, turpentine, or other substance, or shall knowingly encourage, cause, procure, or aid in the cutting, chipping, chopping, or boxing of any such tree, or shall buy, trade for, or in any manner acquire any pitch, turpentine, or other substance, or any article or commodity made from any such pitch, turpentine, or other substance, when he has knowledge that the same has been so unlawfully obtained from such trees, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (June 4, 1906, c. 2571, 34 Stat. 208; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 51, 35 Stat. 1098.)

106. (Criminal Code, section 52.) Setting fire to timber on public lands.—Whoever shall willfully set on fire, or cause to be set on fire, any timber, underbrush, or grass upon the public domain, or shall leave or suffer fire to burn unattended near any timber or other inflammable material, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (Feb. 24, 1897, c. 313, § 1, 29 Stat. 594; May 5, 1900, c. 349, 31 Stat. 169; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 52, 35 Stat. 1098.)

107. (Criminal Code, section 53, amended.) Failing to extinguish fires.—Whoever shall build a fire in or near any forest, timber, or other inflammable material upon the public domain, or upon any Indian reservation, or lands belonging to or occupied by any tribe of Indians under the authority of the United States, or upon any Indian allotment while the title to the same shall be held in trust by the Government, or while the same shall remain inalienable by the allottee without the consent of the United States, shall, before leaving said fire, totally extinguish the same; and whoever shall fail to do so shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (Feb. 24, 1897, c. 313, § 2, 29 Stat.

594; May 5, 1900, c. 349, 31 Stat. 170; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 53, 35 Stat. 1098; June 25, 1910, c. 431, § 6, 36 Stat. 857.)

108. (Criminal Code, section 54.) Fines paid into school funds.—In all cases arising under sections 106 and 107 of this title the fines collected shall be paid into the public school fund of the county in which the lands where the offense was committed are situated. (Feb. 24, 1897, c. 313, § 3, 29 Stat. 594; May 5, 1900, c. 349, 31 Stat. 170; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 54, 35 Stat. 1099.)

109. (Criminal Code, section 55.) Trespassing on Bull Run National Forest.—Whoever, except forest rangers and other persons employed by the United States to protect the forest, Federal and State officers in the discharge of their duties, and the employees of the water board of the city of Portland, State of Oregon, shall knowingly trespass upon any part of the reserve known as Bull Run National Forest, in the Cascade Mountains, in the State of Oregon, or shall enter thereon for the purpose of grazing stock, or shall engage in grazing stock thereon, or shall permit stock of any kind to graze thereon, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (Apr. 28, 1904, c. 1774, 33 Stat. 526; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 55, 35 Stat. 1099.)

110. (Criminal Code, section 56.) Breaking fences or driving cattle on inclosed public lands.—Whoever shall knowingly and unlawfully break, open, or destroy any gate, fence, hedge, or wall inclosing any lands of the United States which, in pursuance of any law, have been reserved or purchased by the United States for any public use; or whoever shall drive any cattle, horses, hogs, or other livestock upon any such lands for the purpose of destroying the grass or trees on said lands, or where they may destroy the said grass or trees; or whoever shall knowingly permit his cattle, horses, hogs, or other livestock, to enter through any such inclosure upon any such lands of the United States, where such cattle, horses, hogs, or other livestock may or can destroy the grass or trees or other property of the United States on the said lands, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to unreserved public lands. (Mar. 3, 1875, c. 151, §§ 2, 3, 18 Stat. 481, 482; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 56, 35 Stat. 1099.)

111. (Criminal Code, section 57.) Injuring or removing survey marks.—Whoever shall willfully destroy, deface, change, or remove to another place any section corner, quarter-section corner, or meander post, on any Government line of survey, or shall willfully cut down any witness tree or any tree blazed to mark the line of a Government survey, or shall willfully deface, change, or remove any monument or bench mark of any Government survey, shall be fined not more than $250, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (June 10, 1896, c. 398, § 1, 29 Stat. 343; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 57, 35 Stat. 1099.)

112. (Criminal Code, section 58.) Interrupting surveys.—Whoever in any manner, by threats or force, shall interrupt, hinder, or prevent the surveying of the public lands, or of any private land claim which has been or may be confirmed by the United States, by the persons authorized to survey the same, in conformity with the instructions of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, shall be fined not more than $3,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 2412; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 58, 35 Stat. 1099.)

113. (Criminal Code, section 59.) Agreement to prevent bids at land sales.—Whoever, before or at the time of the public sale of any of the lands of the United States, shall bargain, contract, or agree, or attempt to bargain, contract, or agree with any other person, that the last-named person shall not bid upon or purchase the land so offered for sale, or any parcel thereof; or whoever by intimidation, combination, or unfair management shall hinder or prevent, or attempt to hinder or prevent, any person from bidding upon or purchasing any tract of land so offered for sale, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 2373; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 59, 35 Stat. 1099.)

114. Willful and false representations to intending purchasers of public lands.—Any person who, for a reward paid or promised to him in that behalf, shall undertake to locate for an intending purchaser, settler, or entryman any public lands of the United States subject to disposition under the public-land laws, and who shall willfully and falsely represent to such intending purchaser, settler, or entryman that any tract of land shown to him is public land of the United States subject to sale, settlement, or entry, or that it is of a particular surveyed description, with intent to deceive the person to whom such representation is made, or who, in reckless disregard of the truth, shall falsely represent to any such person that any tract of land shown to him is public land of the United States subject to sale, settlement, or entry, or that it is of a particular surveyed description, thereby deceiving the person to whom such representation is made, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $300 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (Feb. 23, 1917, c. 115, 39 Stat. 936.)

115. Inducing conveyances by Indians of trust interests in lands.—It shall be unlawful for any person to induce any Indian to execute any contract, deed, mortgage, or other instrument purporting to convey any land or any interest therein held by the United States in trust for such Indian, or to offer any such contract, deed, mortgage, or other instrument for record in the office of any recorder of deeds. Any person violating this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 for the first offense, and if convicted for a second offense may be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. This section shall not apply to any lease or other contract authorized by law to be made. (June 25, 1910, c. 431, § 5, 36 Stat. 857.)

116. (Criminal Code, section 60.) Injuries to telegraph lines.—Whoever shall willfully or maliciously injure or destroy any of the works, property, or material of any telegraph, telephone, or cable line, or system, operated or controlled by the United States, whether constructed or in process of construction, or shall willfully or maliciously interfere in any way with the working or use of any such line, or system, or shall willfully or maliciously obstruct, hinder, or delay the transmission of any communication over any such line, or system, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (June 23, 1874, c. 461, 18 Stat. 250; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 60, 35 Stat. 1099.)

117. (Criminal Code, section 61.) Counterfeiting weather forecasts.—Whoever shall knowingly issue or publish any counterfeit weather forecast or warning of weather conditions falsely representing such forecast or warning to have been issued or published by the Weather Bureau, United States Signal Service, or other branch of the Government service, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than ninety days, or both. (Mar. 3, 1905, c. 1405, 33 Stat. 864; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 61, 35 Stat. 1088.)

118. (Criminal Code, section 62.) Molesting Animal Industry employees; using deadly weapon.—Whoever shall forcibly assault, resist, oppose, prevent, impede, or interfere with any officer or employee of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture in the execution of his duties, or on account of the execution of his duties, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both; and whoever shall use any deadly or dangerous weapon in resisting any officer or employee of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture in the execution of his duties, with intent to commit a bodily injury upon him or to deter or prevent him from discharging his duties, or on account of the performance of his duties, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (Mar. 3, 1905, c. 1496, § 4, 33 Stat. 1265; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 62, 35 Stat. 1100.)

119. (Criminal Code, section 63.) Forging customs entry certificates.—Whoever shall forge, counterfeit, or falsely alter any certificate of entry made or required to be made in pursuance of law by any officer of the customs, or shall use any such forged, counterfeited or falsely altered certificate, knowing the same to be forged, counterfeited, or falsely altered, shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5417; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 63, 35 Stat. 1100.)

120. (Criminal Code, section 64.) Concealing or destroying invoices.—Whoever shall willfully conceal or destroy any invoice, book, or paper relating to any merchandise liable to duty, which has been or may be imported into the United States from any foreign port or country, after an inspection thereof has been demanded by the collector of any collection district, or shall at any time conceal or destroy any such invoice, book, or paper for the purpose of suppressing any evidence of fraud therein contained, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 5443; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 64, 35 Stat. 1100.)

121. (Criminal Code, section 65.) Resisting revenue officers, rescuing or destroying seized property; using deadly weapon.—Whoever shall forcibly assault, resist, oppose, prevent, impede, or interfere with any officer of the customs or of the internal revenue, or his deputy, or any person assisting him in the execution of his duties, or any person authorized to make searches and seizures, in the execution of his duty, or shall rescue, attempt to rescue, or cause to be rescued, any property which has been seized by any person so authorized; or whoever before, at, or after such seizure, in order to prevent the seizure or securing of any goods, wares, or merchandise by any person so authorized, shall stave, break, throw overboard, destroy, or remove the same, shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both; and whoever shall use any deadly or dangerous weapon in resisting any person authorized to make searches or seizures, in the execution of his duty, with intent to commit a bodily injury upon him or to deter or prevent him from discharging his duty, shall be imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5447; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 65, 35 Stat. 1100.)

122. Obstructing revenue officers by masters of vessels.—If any master of a vessel coming into or having arrived at any port within the United States shall obstruct or hinder, or shall intentionally cause any obstruction or hinderance to any officer in lawfully going on board such vessel, for the purpose of carrying into effect any of the revenue laws of the United States, he shall for every such offense be liable to a penalty of not more than $500 nor less than $50. (R. S. § 3068.)

123. (Criminal Code, section 66.) Falsely assuming to be revenue officer.—Whoever shall falsely represent himself to be a revenue officer, and, in such assumed character, demand or receive any money or other article of value from any person for any duty or tax due to the United States, or for any violation or pretended violation of any revenue law of the United States, shall be fined not more than $500 and imprisoned not more than two years. (R. S. § 5448; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 66, 35 Stat. 1100.)

124. (Criminal Code, section 67.) Offering presents to customs officer.—Whoever, being engaged in the importation into the United States of any goods, wares, or merchandise, or being interested as principal, clerk, or agent in the entry of any goods, wares, or merchandise, shall at any time make, or offer to make, to any officer of the revenue, any gratuity or present of money or other thing of value, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 5452; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 67, 35 Stat. 1100.)

125. (Criminal Code, section 68.) Admitting entries for less than legal duty.—Whoever, being an officer of the revenue, shall, by any means whatever, knowingly admit or aid in admitting to entry, any goods, wares, or merchandise, upon payment of less than the amount of duty legally due thereon, shall be removed from office and fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 5444; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 68, 35 Stat. 1101.)

126. (Criminal Code, section 69.) Securing false entry of goods.—Whoever, by any means whatever, shall knowingly effect, or aid in effecting, any entry of goods, wares, or merchandise, at less than the true weight or measure thereof, or upon a false classification thereof as to quality or value, or by the payment of less than the amount of duty legally due thereon, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 5445; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 69, 35 Stat. 1101.)

127. (Criminal Code, section 70.) False certification by consular officer.—Whoever, being a consul, or vice consul, or other person employed in the consular service of the United States, shall knowingly certify falsely to any invoice, or other paper, to which his certificate is by law authorized or required, shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5442; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 70, 35 Stat. 1101.)

128. (Criminal Code, section 71.) Taking seized property from revenue officer.—Whoever shall dispossess or rescue, or attempt to dispossess or rescue any property taken or detained by any officer or other person under the authority of any revenue law of the United States, or shall aid or assist therein, shall be fined not more than $300 and imprisoned not more than one year. (R. S. § 5446; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 71, 35 Stat. 1101.)

129. (Criminal Code, section 72.) Forging or altering ship's or customhouse papers.—Whoever shall falsely make, forge, counterfeit, or alter any instrument in imitation of, or purporting to be, an abstract or official copy or certificate of the recording, registry, or enrollment of any vessel, in the office of any collector of the customs, or a license to any vessel for carrying on the coasting trade or fisheries of the United States, or a certificate of ownership, pass, passport, sea letter, or clearance, granted for any vessel, under the authority of the United States, or a permit, debenture, or other official document granted by any collector or other officer of the customs by virtue of his office; or whoever shall utter, publish, or pass, or attempt to utter, publish, or pass, as true, any such false, forged, counterfeited, or falsely altered instrument, abstract, official copy, certificate, license, pass, passport, sea letter, clearance, permit, debenture, or other official document herein specified, knowing the same to be false, forged, counterfeited, or falsely altered, with an intent to defraud, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5423; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 72, 35 Stat. 1101.)

130. Counterfeiting Government seal; fraudulently or wrongfully affixing seal of executive departments to certificate or instrument or wrongfully using such certificate or instrument.—Whoever shall fraudulently or wrongfully affix or impress the seal of any executive department, or of any bureau, commission, or office of the United States, to or upon any certificate, instrument, commission, document, or paper of any description; or whoever, with knowledge of its fraudulent character, shall with wrongful or fraudulent intent use, buy, procure, sell, or transfer to another any such certificate, instrument, commission, document, or paper, to which or upon which said seal has been so fraudulently affixed or impressed, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title X, § 1, 40 Stat. 227.)

131. Falsely making or forging seal of executive department.—Whoever shall falsely make, forge, counterfeit, mutilate, or alter, or cause or procure to be made, forged, counterfeited, mutilated, or altered, or shall willingly assist in falsely making, forging, counterfeiting, mutilating, or altering, the seal of any executive department, or any bureau, commission, or office of the United States, or whoever shall knowingly use, affix, or impress any such fraudulently made, forged, counterfeited, mutilated, or altered seal to or upon any certificate, instrument, commission, document, or paper, of any description, or whoever with wrongful or fraudulent intent shall have possession of any such falsely made, forged, counterfeited, mutilated, or altered seal, knowing same to have been so falsely made, forged, counterfeited, mutilated, or altered, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title X, § 2, 40 Stat. 228.)

132. Falsely making or forging naval, military, or official pass.—Whoever shall falsely make, forge, counterfeit, alter, or tamper with any naval, military, or official pass or permit, issued by or under the authority of the United States, or with wrongful or fraudulent intent shall use or have in his possession any such pass or permit, or shall personate or falsely represent himself to be or not to be a person to whom such pass or permit has been duly issued, or shall willfully allow any other person to have or use any such pass or permit, issued for his use alone, shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title X, § 3, 40 Stat. 228.)

133. United States defined.—The term "United States," as used in sections 130 to 132 of this title, includes the Canal Zone, and all territory and waters, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, § 1, 40 Stat. 231.)

134. (Criminal Code, section 73.) Forging, etc., military bounty-land warrants.—Whoever shall falsely make, alter, forge, or counterfeit any military bounty-land warrant, or military bounty-land warrant certificate, issued or purporting to have been issued by the Commissioner of Pensions under any law of Congress, or any certificate or duplicate certificate of location of any military bounty-land warrant, or military bounty-land warrant certificate upon any of the lands of the United States, or any certificate or duplicate certificate of the purchase of any of the lands of the United States, or any receipt or duplicate receipt for the purchase money of any of the lands of the United States, issued or purporting to have been issued by the register and receiver at any land office of the United States or by either of them; or whoever shall utter, publish, or pass as true, any such false, forged, or counterfeited military bounty-land warrant, military bounty-land warrant certificate, certificate or duplicate certificate of location, certificate or duplicate certificate of purchase, receipt or duplicate receipt for the purchase money of any of the lands of the United States, knowing the same to be false, forged, or counterfeited, shall be imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5420; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 73, 35 Stat. 1101.)

135. (Criminal Code, section 74.) Forging certificates of citizenship.—Whoever shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, or shall knowingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting any certificate of citizenship, with intent to use the same, or with the intent that the same may be used by some other person, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (June 29, 1906, c. 3592, § 16, 34 Stat. 602; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 74, 35 Stat. 1102.)

136. Forging certificate of discharge from military or naval service or using such forged certificate.—Whoever shall forge, counterfeit, or falsely alter any certificate of discharge from the military or naval service of the United States, or shall in any manner aid or assist in forging, counterfeiting, or falsely altering any such certificate, or shall use, unlawfully have in his possession, exhibit, or cause to be used or exhibited, any such forged, counterfeited, or falsely altered certificate, knowing the same to be forged, counterfeited, or falsely altered, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Mar. 4, 1917, c. 180, 39 Stat. 1182.)

137. (Criminal Code, section 75.) Engraving counterfeit plates for citizenship certificates; printing; distinctive paper.—Whoever shall engrave, or cause or procure to be engraved, or assist in engraving, any plate in the likeness of any plate designed for the printing of a certificate of citizenship; or whoever shall sell any such plate, or shall bring into the United States from any foreign place any such plate, except under the direction of the Secretary of Labor or other proper officer; or whoever shall have in his control, custody, or possession any metallic plate engraved after the similitude of any plate from which any such certificate has been printed, with intent to use or to suffer such plate to be used in forging or counterfeiting any such certificate or any part thereof; or whoever shall print, photograph, or in any manner cause to be printed, photographed, made, or executed, any print or impression in the likeness of any such certificate, or any part thereof; or whoever shall sell any such certificate, or shall bring the same into the United States from any foreign place, except by direction of some proper officer of the United States; or whoever shall have in his possession a distinctive paper which has been adopted by the proper officer of the United States for the printing of such certificate, with intent unlawfully to use the same, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (June 29, 1906, c. 3592, § 17, 34 Stat. 602; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 75, 35 Stat. 1102; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 3, 37 Stat. 737.)

138. (Criminal Code, section 76.) False personation in procuring naturalization.—Whoever, when applying to be admitted a citizen, or when appearing as a witness for any such person, shall knowingly personate any person other than himself, or shall falsely appear in the name of a deceased person, or in an assumed or fictitious name; or whoever shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit any oath, notice, affidavit, certificate, order, record, signature, or other instrument, paper, or proceeding required or authorized by any law relating to or providing for the naturalization of aliens; or whoever shall utter, sell, dispose of, or shall use as true or genuine, for any unlawful purpose, any false, forged, antedated, or counterfeit oath, notice, certificate, order, record, signature, instrument, paper, or proceeding above specified; or whoever shall sell or dispose of to any person other than the person for whom it was originally issued any certificate of citizenship or certificate showing any person to be admitted a citizen, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5424; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 76, 35 Stat. 1102.)

139. (Criminal Code, section 77.) Using false certificate of citizenship; citizenship blanks; denying citizenship.—Whoever shall use or attempt to use, or shall aid, assist, or participate in the use of any certificate of citizenship, knowing the same to be forged, counterfeit, or antedated, or knowing the same to have been procured by fraud or otherwise unlawfully obtained; or whoever, without lawful excuse, shall knowingly possess any false, forged, antedated, or counterfeit certificate of citizenship purporting to have been issued under any law of the United States relating to naturalization, knowing such certificate to be false, forged, antedated, or counterfeit, with the intent unlawfully to use the same; or whoever shall obtain, accept, or receive any certificate of citizenship, knowing the same to have been procured by fraud or by the use or means of any false name or statement given or made with the intent to procure, or to aid in procuring, the issuance of such certificate, or knowing the same to have been fraudulently altered or antedated; or whoever, without lawful excuse, shall have in his possession any blank certificate of citizenship provided by the Bureau of Naturalization with the intent unlawfully to use the same; or whoever, after having been admitted to be a citizen, shall, on oath or by affidavit, knowingly deny that he has been so admitted, with the intent to evade or avoid any duty or liability imposed or required by law, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5425; June 29, 1906, c. 3592, § 19, 34 Stat. 602; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 77, 35 Stat. 1102; Mar. 4, 1913, c. 141, § 3, 37 Stat. 737.)

140. (Criminal Code, section 78.) Attempting to vote on false certificate.—Whoever shall in any manner use, for the purpose of registering as a voter, or as evidence of a right to vote, or otherwise unlawfully, any order, certificate of citizenship, or certificate, judgment, or exemplification, showing any person to be admitted to be a citizen, whether heretofore or hereafter issued or made, knowing that such order, certificate, judgment, or exemplification has been unlawfully issued or made; or whoever shall unlawfully use, or attempt to use, any such order or certificate, issued to or in the name of any other person, or in a fictitious name, or the name of a deceased person, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5426; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 78, 35 Stat. 1103.)

141. (Criminal Code, section 79.) Falsely claiming citizenship.—Whoever shall knowingly use any certificate of naturalization heretofore or which hereafter may be granted by any court, which has been or may be procured through fraud or by false evidence, or which has been or may hereafter be issued by the clerk or any other officer of the court without any appearance and hearing of the applicant in court and without lawful authority; or whoever, for any fraudulent purpose whatever, shall falsely represent himself to be a citizen of the United States without having been duly admitted to citizenship, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 5428; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 79, 35 Stat. 1103.)

142. (Criminal Code, section 80.) Falsely swearing in naturalization cases.—Whoever, in any proceeding under or by virtue of any law relating to the naturalization of aliens, shall knowingly swear falsely in any case where an oath is made or affidavit taken, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5395; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 80, 35 Stat. 1103.)

143. (Criminal Code, section 81.) Provisions applicable to all courts of naturalization.—The provisions of sections 138 to 142 of this title shall apply to all proceedings had or taken, or attempted to be had or taken, before any court in which any proceeding for naturalization may be commenced or attempted to be commenced, and whether such court was vested by law with jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings or not. (R. S. § 5429; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 81, 35 Stat. 1103.)

144. (Criminal Code, section 82.) Shanghaiing sailors.—Whoever, with intent that any person shall perform service or labor of any kind on board of any vessel engaged in trade and commerce among the several States or with foreign nations, or on board of any vessel of the United States engaged in navigating the high seas or any navigable water of the United States, shall procure or induce, or attempt to procure or induce, another, by force or threats or by representations which he knows or believes to be untrue, or while the person so procured or induced is intoxicated or under the influence of any drug, to go on board of any such vessel, or to sign or in anywise enter into any agreement to go on board of any such vessel to perform service or labor thereon; or whoever shall knowingly detain on board of any such vessel any person so procured or induced to go on board thereof, or to enter into any agreement to go on board thereof, by any means herein defined; or whoever shall knowingly aid or abet in the doing of any of the things herein made unlawful, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (June 28, 1906, c. 3583, §§ 1–3, 34 Stat. 551; Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2539, 34 Stat. 1233; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 82, 35 Stat. 1103.)

145. (Criminal Code, section 84, as amended.) Hunting or taking eggs on bird breeding grounds.—Whoever shall hunt, trap, capture, willfully disturb, or kill any bird or wild animal of any kind whatever, or take or destroy the eggs of any such bird on any lands of the United States which have been set apart or reserved as refuges or breeding grounds for such birds or animals by any law, proclamation, or Executive order, except under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture may, from time to time, prescribe, or who shall willfully injure, molest, or destroy any property of the United States on any such lands shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (June 28, 1906, c. 3565, 34 Stat. 536; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 84, 35 Stat. 1104; Apr. 15, 1924, c. 108, 43 Stat. 98.)

Section 171. (Criminal Code, section 85.) Extortion.—Every officer, clerk, agent, or employee of the United States, and every person representing himself to be or assuming to act as such officer, clerk, agent, or employee, who, under color of his office, clerkship, agency, or employment, or under color of his pretended or assumed office, clerkship, agency, or employment, is guilty of extortion, and every person who shall attempt any act which if performed would make him guilty of extortion, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 5481; June 28, 1906, c. 3574, 34 Stat. 546; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 85, 35 Stat. 1104.)

172. (Criminal Code, section 86.) Requiring receipts for larger sums than are paid.—Whoever, being an officer, clerk, agent, employee, or other person charged with the payment of any appropriation made by Congress, shall pay to any clerk or other employee of the United States a sum less than that provided by law, and require such employee to receipt or give a voucher for an amount greater than that actually paid to and received by him, is guilty of embezzlement, and shall be fined in double the amount so withheld from any employee of the Government and imprisoned not more than two years. (R. S. § 5488; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 86, 35 Stat. 1105.)

173. (Criminal Code, section 87.) Disbursing officers unlawfully using public money.—Whoever, being a disbursing officer of the United States, or a person acting as such, shall in any manner convert to his own use, or loan with or without interest, or deposit in any place or in any manner, except as authorized by law, any public money intrusted to him; or shall, for any purpose not prescribed by law, withdraw from the Treasurer or any assistant treasurer, or any authorized depositary, or transfer, or apply, any portion of the public money intrusted to him, shall be deemed guilty of an embezzlement of the money so converted, loaned, deposited, withdrawn, transferred, or applied, and shall be fined not more than the amount embezzled, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5488; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 87, 35 Stat. 1105.)

174. (Criminal Code, section 88.) Failure of depositaries to safely keep public deposits.—If the Treasurer of the United States or any assistant treasurer, or any public depositary, fails safely to keep all moneys deposited by any disbursing officer or disbursing agent, as well as all moneys deposited by any receiver, collector, or other person having money of the United States, he shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement of the moneys not so safely kept, and shall be fined in a sum equal to the amount of money so embezzled and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5489; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 88, 35 Stat. 1105.)

175. (Criminal Code, section 89.) Unlawful use of public moneys by custodians.—Every officer or other person charged by any Act of Congress with the safe-keeping of the public moneys, who shall loan, use, or convert to his own use, or shall deposit in any bank or exchange for other funds, except as specially allowed by law, any portion of the public moneys intrusted to him for safe-keeping, shall be guilty of embezzlement of the money so loaned, used, converted, deposited, or exchanged, and shall be fined in a sum equal to the amount of money so embezzled and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5490; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 89, 35 Stat. 1105.)

176. (Criminal Code, section 90.) Failure to render accounts.—Every officer or agent of the United States who, having received public money which he is not authorized to retain as salary, pay, or emolument, fails to render his accounts for the same as provided by law shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement, and shall be fined in a sum equal to the amount of the money embezzled and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5491; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 90, 35 Stat. 1105.)

177. (Criminal Code, section 91.) Failure to deposit as required.—Whoever, having money of the United States in his possession or under his control, shall fail to deposit it with the Treasurer, or some assistant treasurer, or some public depositary of the United States, when required so to do by the Secretary of the Treasury, or the head of any other proper department, or by the accounting officers of the Treasury, shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement thereof, and shall be fined in a sum equal to the amount of money embezzled and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5492; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 91, 35 Stat. 1105.)

178. (Criminal Code, section 92.) Persons affected.—The provisions of sections 173 to 177 of this title shall be construed to apply to all persons charged with the safe-keeping, transfer, or disbursement of the public money, whether such persons be indicted as receivers or depositaries of the same. (R. S. § 5493; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 92, 35 Stat. 1105.)

179. (Criminal Code, section 93.) Record evidence of embezzlement.—Upon the trial of any indictment against any person for embezzling public money under any provision of sections 173 to 178 of this title, it shall be sufficient evidence, prima facie, for the purpose of showing a balance against such person, to produce a transcript from the books and proceedings of the Treasury, as required in civil cases, under the provisions for the settlement of accounts between the United States and receivers of public money. (R. S. § 5494; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 93, 35 Stat. 1105.)

180. (Criminal Code, section 94.) Prima facie evidence of embezzlement.—The refusal of any person, whether in or out of office, charged with the safe-keeping, transfer, or disbursement of the public money to pay any draft, order, or warrant, drawn upon him by the proper accounting officer of the Treasury, for any public money in his hands belonging to the United States, no matter in what capacity the same may have been received, or may be held, or to transfer or disburse any such money, promptly, upon the legal requirement of any authorized officer, shall be deemed, upon the trial of any indictment against such person for embezzlement, prima facie evidence of such embezzlement. (R. S. § 5495; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 94, 35 Stat. 1106.)

181. (Criminal Code, section 95.) Evidence of conversion.—If any officer charged with the disbursement of the public moneys accepts, receives, or transmits to the Treasury Department to be allowed in his favor any receipt or voucher from a creditor of the United States without having paid to such creditor in such funds as the officer received for disbursement, or in such funds as he may be authorized by law to take in exchange, the full amount specified in such receipt or voucher, every such act is an act of conversion by such officer to his own use of the amount specified in such receipt or voucher. (R. S. § 5496; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 95, 35 Stat. 1106.)

182. (Criminal Code, section 96.) Banker receiving unauthorized deposit of public money.—Every banker, broker, or other person not an authorized depositary of public moneys, who shall knowingly receive from any disbursing officer, or collector of internal revenue, or other agent of the United States, any public money on deposit, or by way of loan or accommodation, with or without interest, or otherwise than in payment of a debt against the United States, or shall use, transfer, convert, appropriate, or apply any portion of the public money for any purpose not prescribed by law; and every president, cashier, teller, director, or other officer of any bank or banking association who shall violate any provision of this section is guilty of embezzlement of the public money so deposited, loaned, transferred, used, converted, appropriated, or applied, and shall be fined not more than the amount embezzled, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5497; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 96, 35 Stat. 1106.)

183. (Criminal Code, section 97.) Embezzlement by internal revenue officer.—Any officer connected with, or employed in, the Internal Revenue Service of the United States, and any assistant of such officer, who shall embezzle or wrongfully convert to his own use any money or other property of the United States, and any officer of the United States, or any assistant of such officer, who shall embezzle or wrongfully convert to his own use any money or property which may have come into his possession or under his control in the execution of such office or employment, or under color or claim of authority as such officer or assistant, whether the same shall be the money or property of the United States or of some other person or party, shall, where the offense is not otherwise punishable by some statute of the United States, be fined not more than the value of the money and property thus embezzled or converted, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5497; Feb. 3, 1879, c. 42, 20 Stat. 280; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 97, 35 Stat. 1106.)

184. (Criminal Code, section 98.) Officer contracting beyond specific appropriation.—Whoever, being an officer of the United States, shall knowingly contract for the erection, repair, or furnishing of any public building, or for any public improvement, to pay a larger amount than the specific sum appropriated for such purpose, shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than two years. (R. S. § 5503; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 98, 35 Stat. 1106.)

185. (Criminal Code, section 99.) Court officers failing to deposit money; delivery on security.—Whoever, being a clerk or other officer of a court of the United States, shall fail forthwith to deposit any money belonging in the registry of the court, or hereafter paid into court or received by the officers thereof, with the Treasurer or a designated depositary of the United States, in the name and to the credit of such court, or shall retain or convert to his own use or to the use of another any such money, is guilty of embezzlement, and shall be fined not more than the amount embezzled, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both; but nothing herein shall be held to prevent the delivery of any such money upon security, according to agreement of parties, under the direction of the court. (R. S. § 5504; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 99, 35 Stat. 1106; May 29, 1920, c. 214, § 1, 41 Stat. 654.)

186. Court officers appropriating money.—Any United States marshal, clerk, receiver, referee, trustee, or other officer of a United States court, or any deputy, assistant, or employee of any such marshal, clerk, receiver, referee, trustee, or other officer who shall, after demand by the party entitled thereto, unlawfully retain or who shall convert to his own use or to the use of another any moneys received for or on account of costs or advance deposits to cover fees, expenses, or costs, deposits for fees or expenses in bankruptcy cases, composition funds or money of bankrupt estates, fees in naturalization matters, or any other money whatever which has come into his hands by virtue of his official relation or by the fact of his official position or employment shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement and shall, where the offense is not otherwise punishable by some statute of the United States, be fined not more than double the value of the money thus retained or converted or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both; and it shall not be a defense in such a case that the accused person had an interest, contingent or otherwise, in some part of such moneys or of the fund from which they were retained or converted. (May 29, 1920, c. 212, 41 Stat. 630.)

187. (Criminal Code, section 100.) Receiving loan from court officer.—Whoever shall knowingly receive, from a clerk or other officer of a court of the United States, as a deposit, loan, or otherwise, any money belonging in the registry of such court, is guilty of embezzlement, and shall be punished as prescribed in section 185 of this title. (R. S. § 5505; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 100, 35 Stat. 1107.)

188. (Criminal Code, section 101.) Failure to make returns or reports.—Every officer who neglects or refuses to make any return or report which he is required to make at stated times by any Act of Congress or regulation of the Department of the Treasury, other than his accounts, within the time prescribed by such Act or regulation, shall be fined not more than $1,000. (R. S. § 1780; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 101, 35 Stat. 1107.)

189. False entries in accounts or records, or false reports of public or trust moneys or securities.—Whoever, being an officer, clerk, agent, or other person holding any office or employment under the Government of the United States and, being charged with the duty of keeping accounts or records of any kind, shall, with intent to deceive, mislead, injure, or defraud the United States or any person, make in any such account or record any false or fictitious entry or record of any matter relating to or connected with his duties, or whoever with like intent shall aid or abet any such officer, clerk, agent, or other person in so doing; or whoever, being an officer, clerk, agent, or other person holding any office or employment under the Government of the United States and, being charged with the duty of receiving, holding, or paying over moneys or securities to, for, or on behalf of the United States, or of receiving or holding in trust for any person any moneys or securities, shall, with like intent, make a false report of such moneys or securities, or whoever with like intent shall aid or abet any such officer, clerk, agent, or other person in so doing, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1911, c. 270, 36 Stat. 1355.)

190. Aiding or abetting violations of law concerning obscene books, etc.; punishment.—Any officer, agent, or employee of the Government of the United States who shall knowingly aid or abet any person engaged in any violation of any of the provisions of law prohibiting importing, advertising, dealing in, exhibiting, or sending or receiving by mail obscene or indecent publications of representations, or means for preventing conception or procuring abortion, or other articles of indecent or immoral use or tendency, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall for every offense be punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment at hard labor for not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 1875; July 24, 1897, c. 11, § 17, 30 Stat. 209; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 102, 35 Stat. 1107; Oct. 3, 1913, c. 16, § IV, G, subsec. 2, 38 Stat. 195; Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title III, § 305(b), 42 Stat. 937.)

191. Warrants for search for and seizure of articles mentioned in preceding section.—Any district judge of the United States, within the proper district, before whom complaint in writing of any violation of section 190 of this title is made, founded upon probable cause and supported by oath or affirmation of the complainant, may issue, conformably to the Constitution, a warrant directed to the United States marshal or deputy marshal in the proper district or to a duly accredited customs officer, directing him to search for, seize, and take possession of any article or thing mentioned in such section, and to make due and immediate return thereof, to the end that the same may be condemned and destroyed by proceedings, which shall be conducted in the same manner as other proceedings in the case of municipal seizure, and with the same right of appeal or writ of error. (Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title III, § 305(c), 42 Stat. 937.)

192. (Criminal Code, section 103.) Trading in public property by collecting or disbursing officer.—Whoever, being an officer of the United States concerned in the collection or the disbursement of the revenues thereof, shall carry on any trade or business in the funds or debts of the United States, or of any State, or in any public property of either, shall be fined not more than $3,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, and be removed from office, and thereafter be incapable of holding any office under the United States. (R. S. §§ 1788, 1789; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 103, 35 Stat. 1107.)

193. (Criminal Code, section 104.) Court officials purchasing fees at less than face value.—Whoever, being a judge, clerk, or deputy clerk of any court of the United States, or of any Territory thereof, or a United States district attorney, assistant attorney, marshal, deputy marshal, commissioner, or other person holding any office or employment, or position of trust or profit under the Government of the United States shall, either directly or indirectly, purchase at less than the full face value thereof, any claim against the United States for the fee, mileage, or expenses of any witness, juror, deputy marshal, or any other officer of the court whatsoever, shall be fined not more than $1,000. (Feb. 25, 1897, c. 316, 29 Stat. 595; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 104, 35 Stat. 1107.)

194. (Criminal Code, section 105.) Falsely certifying as to record of deeds.—Whoever, being an officer or other person authorized by any law of the United States to record a conveyance of real property or any other instrument which by such law may be recorded, shall knowingly certify falsely that such conveyance or instrument has or has not been recorded, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than seven years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 105, 35 Stat. 1107.)

195. (Criminal Code, section 106.) Other false certificates.—Whoever, being a public officer or other person authorized by any law of the United States to make or give a certificate or other writing, shall knowingly make and deliver as true such a certificate or writing, containing any statement which he knows to be false, in a case where the punishment thereof is not elsewhere expressly provided by law, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 106, 35 Stat. 1107.)

196. (Criminal Code, section 107.) Steamboat inspectors taking illegal fees.—Every inspector of steamboats who, upon any pretense, receives any fee or reward for his services, except what is allowed to him by law, shall forfeit his office, and be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 5482; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 107, 35 Stat. 1107.)

198. (Criminal Code, section 109.) Officers interested in claims against United States.—Whoever, being an officer of the United States, or a person holding any place of trust or profit, or discharging any official function under, or in connection with, any executive department of the Government of the United States, or under the Senate or House of Representatives of the United States, shall act as an agent or attorney for prosecuting any claim against the United States, or in any manner, or by any means, otherwise than in discharge of his proper official duties, shall aid or assist in the prosecution or support of any such claim, or receive any gratuity, or any share of or interest in any claim from any claimant against the United States, with intent to aid or assist, or in consideration of having aided or assisted, in the prosecution of such claim, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. Members of the National Guard of the District of Columbia who receive compensation for their services as such shall not be held or construed to be officers of the United States, or persons holding any place of trust or profit, or discharging any official function under or in connection with any executive department of the Government of the United States within the provision of this section. (R. S. § 5498; Mar. 1, 1901, c. 670, § 1, 31 Stat. 844; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 109, 35 Stat. 1107.)

199. (Criminal Code, section 110.) Accepting bribe by Member of Congress.—Whoever, being elected or appointed a Member of or Delegate to Congress, or a Resident Commissioner, shall, after his election or appointment and either before or after he has qualified, and during his continuance in office, directly or indirectly, ask, accept, receive, or agree to receive, any money, property, or other valuable consideration, or any promise, contract, undertaking, obligation, gratuity, or security for the payment of money or for the delivery or conveyance of anything of value to him or to any person with his consent, connivance, or concurrence, for his attention to, or services, or with the intent to have his action, vote, or decision influenced, on any question, matter, cause, or proceeding, which may at any time be pending in either House of Congress or before any committee thereof, or which by law or under the Constitution may be brought before him in his official capacity, or in his place as such Member, Delegate, or Resident Commissioner, shall be fined not more than three times the amount asked, accepted, or received, and imprisoned not more than three years; and shall, moreover, forfeit his office or place, and thereafter be forever disqualified from holding any office of honor, trust, or profit under the Government of the United States. (R. S. §§ 1781, 5500, 5502; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 110, 35 Stat. 1108.)

200. (Criminal Code, section 111.) Offering bribe to Member of Congress.—Whoever shall promise, offer, or give, or cause to be promised, offered, or given, any money or other thing of value, or shall make or tender any contract, undertaking, obligation, gratuity, or security for the payment of money or for the delivery or conveyance of anything of value, to any Member of either House of Congress, or Delegate to Congress, or Resident Commissioner, after his election or appointment and either before or after he has qualified, and during his continuance in office, or to any person with his consent, connivance, or concurrence, with intent to influence his action, vote, or decision, on any question, matter, cause, or proceeding which may at any time be pending in either House of Congress, or before any committee thereof, or which by law or under the Constitution may be brought before him in his official capacity or in his place as such Member, Delegate, or Resident Commissioner, shall be fined not more than three times the amount of money or value of the thing so promised, offered, given, made, or tendered, and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5450; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 111, 35 Stat. 1108.)

201. Use of appropriations to pay for personal service to influence Member of Congress to favor or oppose legislation.—No part of the money appropriated by any Act shall, in the absence of express authorization by Congress, be used directly or indirectly to pay for any personal service, advertisement, telegram, telephone, letter, printed or written matter, or other device, intended or designed to influence in any manner a Member of Congress, to favor or oppose, by vote or otherwise, any legislation or appropriation by Congress, whether before or after the introduction of any bill or resolution proposing such legislation or appropriation; but this shall not prevent officers and employees of the United States from communicating to Members of Congress on the request of any Member or to Congress, through the proper official channels, requests for legislation or appropriations which they deem necessary for the efficient conduct of the public business.

Any officer or employee of the United States who, after notice and hearing by the superior officer vested with the power of removing him, is found to have violated or attempted to violate this section, shall be removed by such superior officer from office or employment. Any officer or employee of the United States who violates or attempts to violate this section shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. (July 11, 1919, c. 6, § 6, 41 Stat. 68.)

202. (Criminal Code, section 112.) Member of Congress taking consideration for procuring contract.—Whoever, being elected or appointed a Member of or Delegate to Congress, or a Resident Commissioner, shall, after his election or appointment and either before or after he has qualified, and during his continuance in office, or being an officer or agent of the United States, shall directly or indirectly take, receive, or agree to receive, from any person, any money, property, or other valuable consideration whatever, for procuring, or aiding to procure, any contract, appointive office, or place, from the United States or from any officer or department thereof, for any person whatever, or for giving any such contract, appointive office, or place to any person whomsoever; or whoever, directly or indirectly, shall offer, or agree to give, or shall give, or bestow, any money, property, or other valuable consideration whatever, for the procuring, or aiding to procure, any such contract, appointive office, or place, shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than two years; and shall, moreover, be disqualified from holding any office of honor, profit, or trust under the Government of the United States. Any such contract or agreement may, at the option of the President, be declared void. (R. S. § 1781; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 112, 35 Stat. 1108.)

203. (Criminal Code, section 113.) Receiving pay by Member of Congress in matters affecting United States.—Whoever, being elected or appointed a Senator, Member of or Delegate to Congress, or a Resident Commissioner, shall, after his election or appointment and either before or after he has qualified, and during his continuance in office, or being the head of a department, or other officer or clerk in the employ of the United States, shall, directly or indirectly, receive, or agree to receive, any compensation whatever for any services rendered or to be rendered to any person, either by himself or another, in relation to any proceeding, contract, claim, controversy, charge, accusation, arrest, or other matter or thing in which the United States is a party or directly or indirectly interested, before any department, court-martial, bureau, officer, or any civil, military, or naval commission whatever, shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than two years; and shall moreover, thereafter be incapable of holding any office of honor, trust, or profit under the Government of the United States. (R. S. § 1782; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 113, 35 Stat. 1109.)

204. (Criminal Code, section 114.) Member of Congress interested in public contracts; contracts void.—Whoever, being elected or appointed a Member of or Delegate to Congress, or a Resident Commissioner, shall, after his election or appointment and either before or after he has qualified, and during his continuance in office, directly or indirectly, himself, or by any other person in trust for him, or for his use or benefit, or on his account, undertake, execute, hold, or enjoy, in whole or in part, any contract or agreement, made or entered into in behalf of the United States by any officer or person authorized to make contracts on its behalf, shall be fined not more than $3,000. All contracts or agreements made in violation of this section shall be void; and whenever any sum of money is advanced by the United States, in consideration of any such contract or agreement, it shall forthwith be repaid; and in case of failure or refusal to repay the same when demanded by the proper officer of the department under whose authority such contract or agreement shall have been made or entered into, suit shall at once be brought against the persons so failing or refusing and his sureties, for the recovery of the money so advanced. (R. S. § 3739; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 114, 35 Stat. 1109.)

205. (Criminal Code, section 115.) Making official contract with Member of Congress.—Whoever, being an officer of the United States, shall on behalf of the United States, directly or indirectly, make or enter into any contract, bargain, or agreement, in writing or otherwise, with any Member of or Delegate to Congress, or any Resident Commissioner, after his election or appointment as such Member, Delegate, or Resident Commissioner, and either before or after he has qualified, and during his continuance in office, shall be fined not more than $3,000. (R. S. § 3742; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 115, 35 Stat. 1109.)

206. (Criminal Code, section 116.) Contracts not affected.—Nothing contained in sections 204 and 205 of this title shall extend, or be construed to extend, to any contract or agreement made or entered into, or accepted, by any incorporated company, where such contract or agreement is made for the general benefit of such incorporation or company; nor to the purchase or sale of bills of exchange or other property by any Member of or Delegate to Congress, or Resident Commissioner, where the same are ready for delivery, and payment therefor is made, at the time of making or entering into the contract or agreement. (R. S. § 3740; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 116, 35 Stat. 1109.)

207. (Criminal Code, section 117.) Official accepting bribe.—Whoever, being an officer of the United States, or a person acting for or on behalf of the United States, in any official capacity, under or by virtue of the authority of any department or office of the Government thereof; or whoever, being an officer or person acting for or on behalf of either House of Congress, or of any committee of either House, or of both Houses thereof, shall ask, accept, or receive any money, or any contract, promise, undertaking, obligation, gratuity, or security for the payment of money, or for the delivery or conveyance of anything of value, with intent to have his decision or action on any question, matter, cause, or proceeding which may at any time be pending, or which may by law be brought before him in his official capacity, or in his place of trust or profit, influenced thereby, shall be fined not more than three times the amount of money or value of the thing so asked, accepted, or received, and imprisoned not more than three years; and shall, moreover, forfeit his office or place and thereafter be forever disqualified from holding any office of honor, trust, or profit under the Government of the United States. (R. S. §§ 5501, 5502; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 117, 35 Stat. 1109.)

208. (Criminal Code, section 118, as amended.) Political contributions; solicitation.—It is unlawful for any Senator or Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, Congress, or any candidate for, or individual elected as, Senator, Representative, Delegate, or Resident Commissioner, or any officer or employee of the United States, or any person receiving any salary or compensation for services from money derived from the Treasury of the United States, to directly or indirectly solicit, receive, or be in any manner concerned in soliciting or receiving, any assessment, subscription, or contribution for any political purpose whatever, from any other such officer, employee, or person. (Jan. 16, 1883, c. 27, § 11, 22 Stat. 406; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 118, 35 Stat. 1110; Feb. 28, 1925, c. 368, § 312, 43 Stat. 1073.)

209. (Criminal Code, section 119.) Same; not to be received in public offices.—No person shall, in any room or building occupied in the discharge of official duties by any officer or employee of the United States mentioned in section 208 of this title, or in any navy yard, fort, or arsenal, solicit in any manner whatever or receive any contribution of money or other thing of value for any political purpose whatever. (Jan. 16, 1883,

c. 27, § 12, 22 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 119, 35 Stat. 1110.)

210. (Criminal Code, section 120.) Same; immunity from official proscription.—No officer or employee of the United States mentioned in section 208 of this title shall discharge, or promote, or degrade, or in any manner change the official rank or compensation of any other officer or employee, or promise or threaten so to do, for giving or withholding or neglecting to make any contribution of money or other valuable thing for any political purpose. (Jan. 16, 1883, c. 27, § 13, 22 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 120, 35 Stat. 1110.)

211. (Criminal Code, section 121.) Same; making to officials.—No officer, clerk, or other person in the service of the United States shall, directly or indirectly, give or hand over to any other officer, clerk, or person in the service of the United States, or to any Senator or Member of or Delegate to Congress, or Resident Commissioner, any money or other valuable thing on account of or to be applied to the promotion of any political object whatever. (Jan. 16, 1883, c. 27, § 14, 22 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 121, 35 Stat. 1110.)

212. (Criminal Code, section 122.) Same; punishment.—Whoever shall violate any provision of sections 208 to 211 of this title shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (Jan. 16, 1883, c. 27, § 15, 22 Stat. 407; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 122, 35 Stat. 1110.)

213. Same; removal from office.—Any executive officer or employee of the United States not appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, who shall request, give to, or receive from, any other officer or employee of the Government any money or property or other thing of value for political purposes shall be at once discharged from the service of the United States. (Aug. 15, 1876, c. 287, § 6, 19 Stat. 169.)

214. (Criminal Code, section 123.) Officials giving advance information of crop reports.—Whoever, being an officer or employee of the United States or a person acting for or on behalf of the United States in any capacity under or by virtue of the authority of any department or office thereof, and while holding such office, employment, or position shall, by virtue of the office, employment, or position held by him, become possessed of any information which might exert an influence upon or affect the market value of any product of the soil grown within the United States, which information is by law or by the rules of the department or office required to be withheld from publication until a fixed time, and shall willfully impart, directly or indirectly, such information, or any part thereof, to any person not entitled under the law or the rules of the department or office to receive the same; or shall, before such information is made public through regular official channels, directly or indirectly speculate in any such product respecting which he has thus become possessed of such information, by buying or selling the same in any quantity, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. No person shall be deemed guilty of a violation of any such rule, unless prior to such alleged violation he shall have had actual knowledge thereof. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 123, 35 Stat. 1110.)

215. (Criminal Code, section 124.) Official knowingly issuing false crop reports.—Whoever, being an officer or employee of the United States and whose duties require the compilation or report of statistics or information relative to the products of the soil, shall knowingly compile for issuance, or issue, any false statistics or information as a report of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 124, 35 Stat. 1111.)

216. Disclosing operations of manufacturers, and income tax returns.—It shall be unlawful for any clerk, or other officer or employee of the United States to divulge or to make known in any manner whatever not provided by law to any person the operations, style of work, or apparatus of any manufacturer or producer visited by him in the discharge of his official duties, or the amount or source of income, profits, losses, expenditures, or any particular thereof, set forth or disclosed in any income return, or to permit any income return or copy thereof or any book containing any abstract or particulars thereof to be seen or examined by any person except as provided by law; and it shall be unlawful for any person to print or publish in any manner whatever not provided by law any income return, or any part thereof or source of income, profits, losses, or expenditures appearing in any income return; and any offense against the foregoing provision shall be a misdemeanor, and be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court; and if the offender be an officer or employee of the United States he shall be dismissed from office or discharged from employment. (R. S. § 3167; Aug. 27, 1894, c. 349, § 34, 28 Stat. 559; Oct. 3, 1913, c. 16, § II, I, 38 Stat. 177; Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 16, 39 Stat. 773; Feb. 24, 1919, c. 18, § 1317, 40 Stat. 1146; Nov. 23, 1921, c. 136, § 1311, 42 Stat. 311; June 2, 1924, 4.01 p. m., c. 234, § 1018, 43 Stat. 345.)

Section 231. (Criminal Code, section 125.) Perjury.—Whoever, having taken an oath before a competent tribunal, officer, or person, in any case in which a law of the United States authorizes an oath to be administered, that he will testify, declare, depose, or certify truly, or that any written testimony, declaration, deposition, or certificate by him subscribed, is true, shall willfully and contrary to such oath state or subscribe any material matter which he does not believe to be true, is guilty of perjury, and shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5392; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 125, 35 Stat. 1111.)

232. (Criminal Code, section 126.) Subornation of perjury.—Whoever shall procure another to commit any perjury is guilty of subornation of perjury, and punishable as in section 231 of this title prescribed. (R. S. § 5393; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 126, 35 Stat. 1111.)

233. (Criminal Code, section 127.) Stealing or altering process; procuring false bail.—Whoever shall feloniously steal, take away, alter, falsify, or otherwise avoid any record, writ, process, or other proceeding, in any court of the United States, by means whereof any judgment is reversed, made void, or does not take effect; or whoever shall acknowledge, or procure to be acknowledged, in any such court, any recognizance, bail, or judgment, in the name of any other person not privy or consenting to the same, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than seven years, or both; but this provision shall not extend to the acknowledgment of any judgment by an attorney, duly admitted, for any person against whom such judgment is had or given. (R. S. § 5394; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 127, 35 Stat. 1111.)

234. (Criminal Code, section 128.) Destroying public records.—Whoever shall willfully and unlawfully conceal, remove, mutilate, obliterate, or destroy, or attempt to conceal, remove, mutilate, obliterate, or destroy, or, with intent to conceal, remove, mutilate, obliterate, destroy, or steal, shall take and carry away any record, proceeding, map, book, paper, document, or other thing, filed or deposited with any clerk or officer of any court of the United States, or in any public office, or with any judicial or public officer of the United States, shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (R. S. § 5403; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 128, 35 Stat. 1111.)

235. (Criminal Code, section 129.) Destroying records by officer in charge.—Whoever, having the custody of any record, proceeding, map, book, document, paper, or other thing specified in section 234 of this title, shall willfully and unlawfully conceal, remove, mutilate, obliterate, falsify, or destroy any such record, proceeding, map, book, document, paper, or thing, shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both; and shall moreover forfeit his office and be forever afterward disqualified from holding any office under the Government of the United States. (R. S. § 5408; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 129, 35 Stat. 1112.)

236. (Criminal Code, section 130.) Forging or counterfeiting signature of judge or seal of court.—Whoever shall forge the signature of any judge, register, or other officer of any court of the United States, or of any Territory thereof, or shall forge or counterfeit the seal of any such court, or shall knowingly concur in using any such forged or counterfeit signature or seal, for the purpose of authenticating any proceeding or document, or shall tender in evidence any such proceeding or document with a false or counterfeit signature of any such judge, register, or other officer, or a false or counterfeit seal of the court, subscribed or attached thereto, knowing such signature or seal to be false or counterfeit, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5419; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 130, 35 Stat. 1112.)

237. (Criminal Code, section 131.) Bribery of judicial officer.—Whoever, directly or indirectly, shall give or offer, or cause to be given or offered any money, property, or value of any kind, or any promise or agreement therefor, or any other bribe, to any judge, judicial officer, or other person authorized by any law of the United States to hear or determine any question, matter, cause, proceeding, or controversy, with intent to influence his action, vote, opinion, or decision thereon, or because of any such action, vote, opinion, or decision, shall be fined not more than $20,000, or imprisoned not more than fifteen years, or both; and shall forever be disqualified to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States. (R. S. § 5449; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 131, 35 Stat. 1112.)

238. (Criminal Code, section 132.) Accepting bribe; judicial office.—Whoever, being a judge of the United States, shall in anywise accept or receive any sum of money, or other bribe, present, or reward, or any promise, contract, obligation, gift, or security for the payment of money, or for the delivery or conveyance of anything of value, with the intent to be influenced thereby in any opinion, judgment, or decree in any suit, controversy, matter, or cause depending before him, or because of any such opinion, ruling, decision, judgment, or decree, shall be fined not more than $20,000, or imprisoned not more than fifteen years, or both; and shall be forever disqualified to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States. (R. S. § 5499; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 132, 35 Stat. 1112.)

239. (Criminal Code, section 133.) Same; juror or referee.—Whoever, being a juror, referee, arbitrator, appraiser, assessor, auditor, master, receiver, United States commissioner, or other person authorized by any law of the United States to hear or determine any question, matter, cause, controversy, or proceeding, shall ask, receive, or agree to receive, any money, property, or value of any kind, or any promise or agreement therefor, upon any agreement or understanding that his vote, opinion, action, judgment, or decision shall be influenced thereby, or because of any such vote, opinion, action, judgment, or decision, shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 133, 35 Stat. 1112.)

240. (Criminal Code, section 134.) Same; witness.—Whoever, being, or about to be, a witness upon a trial, hearing, or other proceeding, before any court or any officer authorized by the laws of the United States to hear evidence or take testimony, shall receive, or agree or offer to receive, a bribe, upon any agreement or understanding that his testimony shall be influenced thereby, or that he will absent himself from the trial, hearing, or other proceeding, or because of such testimony, or such absence, shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 134, 35 Stat. 1113.)

241. (Criminal Code, section 135.) Attempting to influence witness, juror, or officer.—Whoever corruptly, or by threats or force, or by any threatening letter or communication, shall endeavor to influence, intimidate, or impede any witness, in any court of the United States or before any United States commissioner or officer acting as such commissioner, or any grand or petit juror, or officer in or of any court of the United States, or officer who may be serving at any examination or other proceeding before any United States commissioner or officer acting as such commissioner, in the discharge of his duty, or who corruptly or by threats or force, or by any threatening letter or communication, shall influence, obstruct, or impede, or endeavor to influence, obstruct, or impede, the due administration of justice therein, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. §§ 5399, 5404; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 135, 35 Stat. 1113.)

242. (Criminal Code, section 136.) Conspiring to intimidate party, witness, or juror.—If two or more persons conspire to deter by force, intimidation, or threat, any party or witness in any court of the United States, or in any examination before a United States commissioner or officer acting as such commissioner, from attending such court or examination, or from testifying to any matter pending therein, freely, fully, and truthfully, or to injure such party or witness in his person or property on account of his having so attended or testified, or to influence the verdict, presentment, or indictment of any grand or petit juror in any such court, or to injure such juror in his person or property on account of any verdict, presentment, or indictment lawfully assented to by him, or on account of his being or having been such juror, each of such persons shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than six years, or both. (R. S. § 5406; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 136, 35 Stat. 1113.)

243. (Criminal Code, section 137.) Attempt to influence juror by writing.—Whoever shall attempt to influence the action or decision of any grand or petit juror of any court of the United States upon any issue or matter pending before such juror, or before the jury of which he is a member, or pertaining to his duties, by writing or sending to him any letter or any communication, in print or writing, in relation to such issue or matter, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 5405; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 137, 35 Stat. 1113.)

244. (Criminal Code, sections 138, 139.) Allowing prisoner to escape.—Whenever any marshal, deputy marshal, ministerial officer, or other person has in his custody any prisoner by virtue of process issued under the laws of the United States by any court, judge, or commissioner, and such marshal, deputy marshal, ministerial officer, or other person voluntarily suffers such prisoner to escape, he shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. This section shall apply not only to cases in which the prisoner who escaped was charged or found guilty of an offense against the laws of the United States and to cases in which the prisoner may be in custody charged with offenses against any foreign government with which the United States have treaties of extradition, but also to cases in which the prisoner may be held in custody for removal to or from the Philippine Islands as provided by law. (R. S. §§ 5409, 5410; Feb. 6, 1905, c. 454, § 2, 33 Stat. 698; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, §§ 138, 139, 35 Stat. 1113.)

245. (Criminal Code, section 140.) Obstructing process or assaulting officer.—Whoever shall knowingly and willfully obstruct, resist, or oppose any officer of the United States, or other person duly authorized, in serving, or attempting to serve or execute, any mesne process or warrant, or any rule or order, or any other legal or judicial writ or process of any court of the United States, or United States commissioner, or shall assault, beat, or wound any officer or other person duly authorized, knowing him to be such officer, or other person so duly authorized, in serving or executing any such writ, rule, order, process, warrant, or other legal or judicial writ or process, shall be fined not more than $300 and imprisoned not more than one year. (R. S. § 5398; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 140, 35 Stat. 1114.)

246. (Criminal Code, section 141.) Rescuing prisoner; concealing person from arrest.—Whoever shall rescue or attempt to rescue, from the custody of any officer or person lawfully assisting him, any person arrested upon a warrant or other process issued under the provisions of any law of the United States, or shall, directly or indirectly, aid, abet, or assist any person so arrested to escape from the custody of such officer or other person, or shall harbor or conceal any person for whose arrest a warrant or process has been so issued, so as to prevent his discovery and arrest, after notice or knowledge of the fact that a warrant or process has been issued for the apprehension of such person, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. §§ 5401, 5516; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 141, 35 Stat. 1114.)

247. (Criminal Code, section 143.) Rescue of prisoner.—Whoever, by force, shall set at liberty or rescue any person who, before conviction, stands committed for any capital crime; or whoever, by force, shall set at liberty or rescue any person committed for or convicted of any offense other than capital, shall be fined not more than $500 and imprisoned not more than one year. (R. S. § 5401; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 143, 35 Stat. 1114.)

248. (Criminal Code, section 142.) Rescue at execution.—Whoever, by force, shall set at liberty or rescue any person found guilty in any court of the United States of any capital crime, while going to execution or during execution, shall be fined not more than $25,000 and imprisoned not more than twenty-five years. (R. S. § 5400; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 142, 35 Stat. 1114.)

249. (Criminal Code, section 144.) Rescue of dead body of executed offender.—Whoever, by force, shall rescue or attempt to rescue, from the custody of any marshal or his officers, the dead body of an executed offender, while it is being conveyed to a place of dissection, as provided by section 543 of this title, or by force shall rescue or attempt to rescue such body from the place where it has been deposited for dissection in pursuance of that section, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 5402; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 144, 35 Stat. 1114.)

250. (Criminal Code, section 145.) Extortion by informer.—Whoever shall, under a threat of informing, or as a consideration for not informing, against any violation of any law of the United States, demand or receive any money or other valuable thing, shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 5484; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 145, 35 Stat. 1114.)

251. (Criminal Code, section 146.) Misprision of felony.—Whoever, having knowledge of the actual commission of the crime of murder or other felony cognizable by the courts of the United States, conceals and does not as soon as may be disclose and make known the same to some one of the judges or other persons in civil or military authority under the United States, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (R. S. § 5390; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 146, 35 Stat. 1114.)

263. (Criminal Code, section 149.) Counterfeiting national bank notes.—Whoever shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be made, forged, or counterfeited, or shall willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting, any note in imitation of, or purporting to be in imitation of, the circulating notes issued by any banking association now or hereafter authorized and acting under the laws of the United States; or whoever shall pass, utter, or publish, or attempt to pass, utter, or publish, any false, forged, or counterfeited note, purporting to be issued by any such association doing a banking business, knowing the same to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited; or whoever shall falsely alter, or cause or procure to be falsely altered, or shall willingly aid or assist in falsely altering, any such circulating notes, or shall pass, utter, or publish, or attempt to pass, utter, or publish as true, any falsely altered or spurious circulating note issued, or purporting to have been issued, by any such banking association, knowing the same to be falsely altered or spurious, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than fifteen years. (R. S. § 5415; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 149, 35 Stat. 1115.)

264. (Criminal Code, section 150.) Using plates to print notes without authority; distinctive paper.—Whoever, having control, custody, or possession of any plate, stone, or other thing, or any part thereof, from which has been printed, or which may be prepared by direction of the Secretary of the Treasury for the purpose of printing; any obligation or other security of the United States, shall use such plate, stone, or other thing, or any part thereof, or knowingly suffer the same to be used for the purpose of printing any such or similar obligation or other security, or any part thereof, except as may be printed for the use of the United States by order of the proper officer thereof; or whoever by any way, art, or means shall make or execute, or cause or procure to be made or executed, or shall assist in making or executing any plate, stone, or other thing in the likeness of any plate designated for the printing of such obligation or other security; or whoever shall sell any such plate, stone, or other thing, or bring into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, from any foreign place, any such plate, stone, or other thing, except under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury or other proper officer, or with any other intent, in either case, than that such plate, stone, or other thing be used for the printing of the obligations or other securities of the United States; or whoever shall have in his control, custody, or possession any plate, stone, or other thing in any manner made after or in the similitude of any plate, stone, or other thing, from which any such obligation or other security has been printed, with intent to use such plate, stone, or other thing, or to suffer the same to be used in forging or counterfeiting any such obligation or other security, or any part thereof; or whoever shall have in his possession or custody, except under authority from the Secretary of the Treasury or other proper officer, any obligation or other security made or executed, in whole or in part, after the similitude of any obligation or other security issued under the authority of the United States, with intent to sell or otherwise use the same; or whoever shall print, photograph, or in any other manner make or execute, or cause to be printed, photographed, made, or executed, or shall aid in printing, photographing, making, or executing any engraving, photograph, print, or impression in the likeness of any such obligation or other security, or any part thereof, or shall sell any such engraving, photograph, print, or impression, except to the United States, or shall bring into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, from any foreign place, any such engraving, photograph, print, or impression, except by direction of some proper officer of the United States; or whoever shall have or retain in his control or possession, after a distinctive paper has been adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury for the obligations and other securities of the United States, any similar paper adapted to the making of any such obligation or other security, except under the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury or some other proper officer of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than fifteen years, or both. (R. S. § 5430; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 150, 35 Stat. 1116.)

265. (Criminal Code, section 151.) Uttering forged obligations.—Whoever, with intent to defraud, shall pass, utter, publish, or sell, or attempt to pass, utter, publish, or sell, or shall bring into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, with intent to pass, publish, utter, or sell, or shall keep in possession or conceal with like intent, any falsely made, forged, counterfeited, or altered obligation or other security of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than fifteen years. (R. S. § 5431; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 151, 35 Stat. 1116.)

266. (Criminal Code, section 152.) Taking impressions of tools or implements.—Whoever, without authority from the United States, shall take, procure, or make, upon lead, foil, wax, plaster, paper, or any other substance or material, an impression, stamp, or imprint of, from, or by the use of any bedplate, bed piece, die, roll, plate, seal, type, or other tool, implement, instrument, or thing used or fitted or intended to be used in printing, stamping, or impressing, or in making other tools, implements, instruments, or things to be used or fitted or intended to be used in printing, stamping, or impressing any kind or description of obligation or other security of the United States now authorized or hereafter to be authorized by the United States, or circulating note or evidence of debt of any banking association under the laws thereof, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5432; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 152, 35 Stat. 1117.)

267. (Criminal Code, section 153.) Unlawful possession of impressions.—Whoever, with intent to defraud, shall have in his possession, keeping, custody, or control, without authority from the United States, any imprint, stamp, or impression, taken or made upon any substance or material whatsoever, of any tool, implement, instrument, or thing, used, or fitted or intended to be used, for any of the purposes mentioned in the preceding section; or whoever, with intent to defraud, shall sell, give, or deliver any such imprint, stamp, or impression to any other person, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5433; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 153, 35 Stat. 1117.)

268. (Criminal Code, section 154.) Dealing in counterfeit securities.—Whoever shall buy, sell, exchange, transfer, receive, or deliver any false, forged, counterfeited, or altered obligation or other security of the United States, or circulating note of any banking association organized or acting under the laws thereof, which has been or may hereafter be issued by virtue of any Act of Congress, with the intent that the same be passed, published, or used as true and genuine, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5434; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 154, 35 Stat. 1117.)

269. (Criminal Code, section 155.) Secreting or embezzling tools and materials for printing securities.—Whoever, without authority from the United States, shall secrete within, embezzle, or take and carry away from any building, room, office, apartment, vault, safe, or other place where the same is kept, used, employed, placed, lodged, or deposited by authority of the United States, any bed piece, bedplate, roll, plate, die, seal, type, or other tool, implement, or thing used or fitted to be used in stamping or printing, or in making some other tool or implement used or fitted to be used in stamping or printing, any kind or description of bond, bill, note, certificate, coupon, postage stamp, revenue stamp, fractional currency note, or other paper, instrument, obligation, device, or document, now or hereafter authorized by law to be printed, stamped, sealed, prepared, issued, uttered, or put in circulation on behalf of the United States; or whoever, without such authority, shall so secrete, embezzle, or take and carry away any paper, parchment, or other material prepared and intended to be used in the making of any such papers, instruments, obligations, devices, or documents; or whoever, without such authority, shall so secrete, embezzle, or take and carry away any paper, parchment, or other material printed or stamped, in whole or part, and intended to be prepared, issued, or put in circulation on behalf of the United States as one of the papers, instruments, or obligations hereinbefore named, or printed or stamped, in whole or part, in the similitude of any such paper, instrument, or obligation, whether intended to issue or put the same in circulation or not, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5453; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 155, 35 Stat. 1117.)

270. (Criminal Code, section 156.) Counterfeiting foreign securities.—Whoever, within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, with intent to defraud, shall falsely make, alter, forge, or counterfeit any bond, certificate, obligation, or other security in imitation of, or purporting to be an imitation of, any bond, certificate, obligation, or other security of any foreign government, issued or put forth under the authority of such foreign government, or any treasury note, bill, or promise to pay issued by such foreign government, and intended to circulate as money, either by law, order, or decree of such foreign government; or whoever shall cause or procure to be so falsely made, altered, forged, or counterfeited, or shall knowingly aid or assist in making, altering, forging, or counterfeiting, any such bond, certificate, obligation, or other security, or any such treasury note, bill, or promise to pay, intended as aforesaid to circulate as money, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (May 16, 1884, c. 52, § 1, 23 Stat. 22; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 156, 35 Stat. 1117.)

271. (Criminal Code, section 157.) Uttering counterfeit foreign securities.—Whoever, within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, knowingly and with intent to defraud, shall utter, pass, or put off, in payment or negotiation, any false, forged, or counterfeited bond, certificate, obligation, security, treasury note, bill, or promise to pay, mentioned in section 270 of this title, whether the same was made, altered, forged, or counterfeited within the United States or not, shall be fined not more than $3,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (May 16, 1884, c. 52, § 2, 23 Stat. 23; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 157, 35 Stat. 1118.)

272. (Criminal Code, section 158.) Counterfeiting notes of foreign banks.—Whoever, within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, with intent to defraud, shall falsely make, alter, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be so falsely made, altered, forged, or counterfeited, or shall knowingly aid and assist in the false making, altering, forging, or counterfeiting of any bank note or bill issued by a bank or corporation of any foreign country, and intended by the law or usage of such foreign country to circulate as money, such bank or corporation being authorized by the laws of such country, shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than two years. (May 16, 1884, c. 52, § 3, 23 Stat. 23; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 158, 35 Stat. 1118.)

273. (Criminal Code, section 159.) Uttering counterfeit notes of foreign banks.—Whoever, within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, shall utter, pass, put off, or tender in payment, with intent to defraud, any such false, forged, altered, or counterfeited bank note or bill, mentioned in section 272 of this title, knowing the same to be so false, forged, altered, and counterfeited, whether the same was made, forged, altered, or counterfeited within the United States or not, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than one year. (May 16, 1884, c. 52, § 4, 23 Stat. 23; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 159, 35 Stat. 1118.)

274. (Criminal Code, section 160.) Possession of counterfeit foreign securities.—Whoever, within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, shall have in his possession any false, forged, or counterfeit bond, certificate, obligation, security, treasury note, bill, promise to pay, bank note, or bill issued by a bank or corporation of any foreign country, with intent to utter, pass, or put off the same, or to deliver the same to any other person with intent that the same may thereafter be uttered, passed, or put off as true, or shall knowingly deliver the same to any other person with such intent, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than one year. (May 16, 1884, c. 52, § 5, 23 Stat. 23; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 160, 35 Stat. 1118.)

275. (Criminal Code, section 161.) Possession of counterfeit plates of foreign securities.—Whoever, within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, except by lawful authority, shall have control, custody, or possession of any plate, stone, or other thing, or any part thereof, from which has been printed or may be printed any counterfeit note, bond, obligation, or other security, in whole or in part, of any foreign government, bank, or corporation, or shall use such plate, stone, or other thing, or knowingly permit or suffer the same to be used in counterfeiting such foreign obligations, or any part thereof; or whoever shall make or engrave, or cause or procure to be made or engraved, or shall assist in making or engraving, any plate, stone, or other thing in the likeness or similitude of any plate, stone, or other thing designated for the printing of the genuine issues of the obligations of any foreign government, bank, or corporation; or whoever shall print, photograph, or in any other manner make, execute, or sell, or cause to be printed, photographed, made, executed, or sold, or shall aid in printing, photographing, making, executing, or selling, any engraving, photograph, print, or impression in the likeness of any genuine note, bond, obligation, or other security, or any part thereof, of any foreign government, bank, or corporation; or whoever shall bring into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof any counterfeit plate, stone, or other thing, or engraving, photograph, print, or other impressions of the notes, bonds, obligations, or other securities of any foreign government, bank, or corporation, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (May 16, 1884, c. 52, § 6, 23 Stat. 23; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 161, 35 Stat. 1118.)

276. (Criminal Code, section 162.) Connecting parts of different bills.—Whoever shall so place or connect together different parts of two or more notes, bills, or other genuine instruments issued under the authority of the United States, or by any foreign government, or corporation, as to produce one instrument, with intent to defraud, shall be deemed guilty of forgery in the same manner as if the parts so put together were falsely made or forged, and shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 162, 35 Stat. 1119.)

277. (Criminal Code, section 163.) Counterfeiting gold or silver coins or bars.—Whoever shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, or shall willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting any coin or bars in resemblance or similitude of the gold or silver coins or bars which have been, or hereafter may be, coined or stamped at the mints and assay offices of the United States, or in resemblance or similitude of any foreign gold or silver coin which by law is, or hereafter may be, current in the United States, or are in actual use and circulation as money within the United States; or whoever shall pass, utter, publish, or sell, or attempt to pass, utter, publish, or sell, or bring into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, from any foreign place, knowing the same to be false, forged, or counterfeit, with intent to defraud any body politic or corporate, or any person or persons whomsoever, or shall have in his possession any such false, forged, or counterfeited coin or bars, knowing the same to be false, forged, or counterfeited, with intent to defraud any body politic or corporate, or any person or persons whomsoever, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5457; Jan. 16, 1877, c. 24, 19 Stat. 223; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 163, 35 Stat. 1119.)

278. (Criminal Code, section 164.) Counterfeiting minor coins.—Whoever shall falsely make, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, or shall willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting any coin in the resemblance or similitude of any of the minor coins which have been, or hereafter may be, coined at the mints of the United States; or whoever shall pass, utter, publish, or sell, or bring into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, from any foreign place, or have in his possession any such false, forged, or counterfeited coin, with intent to defraud any person whomsoever, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5458; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 164, 35 Stat. 1119.)

279. (Criminal Code, section 165.) Falsifying, mutilating, or lightening coins.—Whoever, fraudulently, by any art, way, or means, shall deface, mutilate, impair, diminish, falsify, scale, or lighten, or cause or procure to be fraudulently defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened, or willingly aid or assist in fraudulently defacing, mutilating, impairing, diminishing, falsifying, scaling, or lightening, the gold or silver coins which have been, or which may hereafter be, coined at the mints of the United States, or any foreign gold or silver coins which are by law made current or are in actual use or circulation as money within the United States or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof; or whoever shall pass, utter, publish, or sell, or attempt to pass, utter, publish, or sell, or bring into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, from any foreign place, knowing the same to be defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened, with intent to defraud any person whomsoever, or shall have in his possession any such defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened coin, knowing the same to be defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened, with intent to defraud any person whomsoever, shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5459; Mar. 3, 1897, c. 377, 29 Stat. 625; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 165, 35 Stat. 1119.)

280. (Criminal Code, section 166.) Debasing coins by officers or employees of the Mint.—If any of the gold or silver coins struck or coined at any of the mints of the United States shall be debased, or made worse as to the proportion of fine gold or fine silver therein contained, or shall be of less weight or value than the same ought to be, pursuant to law, or if any of the scales or weights used at any of the mints or assay offices of the United States shall be defaced, altered, increased, or diminished through the fault or connivance of any officer or person employed at the said mints or assay offices, with a fraudulent intent; or if any such officer or person shall embezzle any of the metals at any time committed to his charge for the purpose of being coined, or any of the coins struck or coined at the said mints, or any medals, coins, or other moneys of said mints or assay offices at any time committed to his charge, or of which he may have assumed the charge, every such officer or person who commits any of the said offenses shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5460; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 166, 35 Stat. 1120.)

281. (Criminal Code, section 167.) Making or uttering coins resembling money.—Whoever, except as authorized by law, shall make or cause to be made, or shall utter or pass, or attempt to utter or pass, any coins of gold or silver or other metal, or alloys of metals, intended for the use and purpose of current money, whether in the resemblance of coins of the United States or of foreign countries, or of original design, shall be fined not more than $3,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5461; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 167, 35 Stat. 1120.)

283. (Criminal Code, section 169.) Counterfeiting dies for United States coins.—Whoever, without lawful authority, shall make, or cause or procure to be made, or shall willingly aid or assist in making, any die, hub, or mold, or any part thereof, either of steel or plaster, or any other substance whatsoever, in likeness or similitude, as to the design or the inscription thereon, of any die, hub, or mold designated for the coining or making of any of the genuine gold, silver, nickel, bronze, copper, or other coins of the United States, that have been or hereafter may be coined at the mints of the United States; or whoever, without lawful authority, shall have in his possession any such die, hub, or mold, or any part thereof, or shall permit the same to be used for or in aid of the counterfeiting of any of the coins of the United States hereinbefore mentioned, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (Feb. 10, 1891, c. 127, § 1, 26 Stat. 742; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 169, 35 Stat. 1120.)

284. (Criminal Code, section 170.) Counterfeiting dies for foreign coins.—Whoever, within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, without lowful authority, shall make, or cause or procure to be made, or shall willingly aid or assist in making, any die, hub, or mold, or any part thereof, either of steel or of plaster, or of any other substance whatsoever, in the likeness or similitude, as to the design or the inscription thereon, of any die, hub, or mold designated for the coining of the genuine coin of any foreign government; or whoever, without lawful authority, shall have in his possession any such die, hub, or mold, or any part thereof, or shall conceal, or knowingly suffer the same to be used for the counterfeiting of any foreign coin, shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (Feb. 10, 1891, c. 127, § 2, 26 Stat. 742; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 170, 35 Stat. 1120.)

285. (Criminal Code, section 171, amended.) Making, importing, or possessing tokens similar to United States or foreign coins.—Whoever within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof shall make, or cause or procure to be made, or shall bring therein from any foreign country, or shall have in possession with intent to sell, give away, or in any other manner use the same, any business or professional card, notice, placard, token, device, print, or impression, or any other thing whatsoever, in the likeness or similitude as to design, color, or the inscription thereon of any of the coins of the United States or of any foreign country that have been or may be issued as money, either under the authority of the United States or under the authority of any foreign government, shall be fined not more than $100. But nothing in this section shall be construed to forbid or prevent the printing and publishing of illustrations of coins and medals or the making of the necessary plates for the same to be used in illustrating numismatic and historical books and journals and school arithmetics and the circulars of legitimate publishers and dealers in the same. (Feb. 10, 1891, c. 127, § 3, 26 Stat. 742; Mar. 3, 1903, c. 1015, 32 Stat. 1223; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 171, 35 Stat. 1121; Feb. 15, 1912, c. 38, 37 Stat. 64.)

286. (Criminal Code, section 172.) Forfeiture of counterfeit obligations, etc.; failing to deliver.—All counterfeits of any obligation or other security of the United States or of any foreign government, or counterfeits of any of the coins of the United States or of any foreign government, and all material or apparatus fitted or intended to be used, or that shall have been used, in the making of any such counterfeit obligation or other security or coins hereinbefore mentioned, that shall be found in the possession of any person without authority from the Secretary of the Treasury or other proper officer to have the same, shall be taken possession of by any authorized agent of the Treasury Department and forfeited to the United States, and disposed of in any manner the Secretary of the Treasury may direct. Whoever having the custody or control of any such counterfeits, material, or apparatus shall fail or refuse to surrender possession thereof upon request by any such authorized agent of the Treasury Department, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (Feb. 10, 1891, c. 127, § 4, 26 Stat. 742; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 172, 35 Stat. 1121.)

287. (Criminal Code, section 173.) Search warrant for suspected counterfeits; forfeiture.—The several judges of courts established under the laws of the United States and United States commissioners may, upon proper oath or affirmation, within their respective jurisdictions, issue a search warrant authorizing any marshal of the United States, or any other person specially mentioned in such warrant, to enter any house, store, building, boat, or other place named in such warrant, in which there shall appear probable cause for believing that the manufacture of counterfeit money, or the concealment of counterfeit money, or the manufacture or concealment of counterfeit obligations or coins of the United States or of any foreign government, or the manufacture or concealment of dies, hubs, molds, plates, or other things fitted or intended to be used for the manufacture of counterfeit money, coins, or obligations of the United States or of any foreign government, or of any bank doing business under the authority of the United States or of any State or Territory thereof, or of any bank doing business under the authority of any foreign government, or of any political division of any foreign government, is being carried on or practiced, and there search for any such counterfeit money, coins, dies, hubs, molds, plates, and other things, and for any such obligations, and if any such be found, to seize and secure the same and to make return thereof to the proper authority; and all such counterfeit money, coins, dies, hubs, molds, plates, and other things, and all such counterfeit obligations so seized shall be forfeited to the United States. (Feb. 10, 1891, c. 127, § 5, 26 Stat. 743; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 173, 35 Stat. 1121.)

288. "Foreign government" defined.—The words "foreign government," as used in sections 270, 271, 275, and 284 to 287 of this title, shall be deemed to include any government, faction, or body of insurgents within a country with which the United States is at peace, which government, faction, or body of insurgents may or may not have been recognized by the United States as a government. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title VIII, § 4, 40 Stat. 226.)

289. (Criminal Code, section 174.) Circulating bills of expired banks; circulation permitted.—In all cases where the charter of any corporation which has been or may be created by Act of Congress has expired or may expire, if any director, officer, or agent of the corporation, or any trustee thereof, or any agent of such trustee, or any person having in his possession or under his control the property of the corporation for the purpose of paying or redeeming its notes and obligations, shall knowingly issue, reissue, or utter as money, or in any other way knowingly put in circulation any bill, note, check, draft, or other security purporting to have been made by any such corporation whose charter has expired, or by any officer thereof, or purporting to have been made under authority derived therefrom, or if any person shall knowingly aid in any such act, he shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. But nothing herein shall be construed to make it unlawful for any person, not being such director, officer, or agent of the corporation, or any trustee thereof, or any agent of such trustee, or any person having in his possession or under his control the property of the corporation for the purpose hereinbefore set forth, who has received or may hereafter receive such bill, note, check, draft, or other security, bona fide and in the ordinary transactions of business, to utter as money or otherwise circulate the same. (R. S. § 5437; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 174, 35 Stat. 1122.)

290. (Criminal Code, section 175.) Imitating national bank notes with advertisements thereon.—It shall not be lawful to design, engrave, print, or in any manner make or execute, or to utter, issue, distribute, circulate, or use any business or professional card, notice, placard, circular, handbill, or advertisement in the likeness or similitude of any circulating note or other obligation or security of any banking association organized or acting under the laws of the United States which has been or may be issued under any Act of Congress, or to write, print, or otherwise impress upon any such note, obligation, or security, any business or professional card, notice or advertisement, or any notice or advertisement of any matter or thing whatever. Whoever shall violate any provision of this section shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 5188; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 175, 35 Stat. 1122.)

291. (Criminal Code, section 176.) Mutilating national bank notes.—Whoever shall mutilate, cut, deface, disfigure, or perforate with holes, or unite or cement together, or do any other thing to any bank bill, draft, note, or other evidence of debt, issued by any national banking association, or shall cause or procure the same to be done, with intent to render such bank bill, draft, note, or other evidence of debt unfit to be reissued by said association, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 5189; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 176, 35 Stat. 1122.)

292. (Criminal Code, section 177.) Imitating securities or printing advertisements thereon.—It shall not be lawful to design, engrave, print, or in any manner make or execute, or to utter, issue, distribute, circulate, or use, any business or professional card, notice, placard, circular, handbill, or advertisement, in the likeness or similitude of any bond, certificate of indebtedness, certificate of deposit, coupon, United States note, Treasury note, gold certificate, silver certificate, fractional note, or other obligation or security of the United States which has been or may be issued under or authorized by any Act of Congress heretofore passed or which may hereafter be passed; or to write, print, or otherwise impress upon any such instrument, obligation, or security, any business or professional card, notice, or advertisement, or any notice or advertisement of any matter or thing whatever. Whoever shall violate any provision of this section shall be fined not more than $500. (R. S. § 3708; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 177, 35 Stat. 1122.)

293. (Criminal Code, section 178.) Issuing notes less than $1.—No person shall make, issue, circulate, or pay out any note, check, memorandum, token, or other obligation for a less sum than $1, intended to circulate as money or to be received or used in lieu of lawful money of the United States; and every person so offending shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 3583; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 178, 35 Stat. 1122.)

Section 301. (Criminal Code, section 231.) Definition.—The words "postal service," wherever used in this chapter, shall be held and deemed to include the "Post Office Department." (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 231, 35 Stat. 1134.)

302. (Criminal Code, section 179.) Conducting post office without authority.—Whoever, without authority from the Postmaster General, shall set up or profess to keep any office or place of business bearing the sign, name, or title of post office, shall be fined not more than $500. (R. S. § 3829; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 179, 35 Stat. 1123.)

303. (Criminal Code, section 180.) Illegal carrying of mail by officials.—Whoever, being concerned in carrying the mail, shall collect, receive, or carry any letter or packet, or cause or procure the same to be done, contrary to law, shall be fined not more than $50, or imprisoned not more than thirty days, or both. (R. S. § 3981; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 180, 35 Stat. 1123.)

304. (Criminal Code, section 181.) Conveying mail by private express; delivery to post office allowed.—Whoever shall establish any private express for the conveyance of letters or packets, or in any manner cause or provide for the conveyance of the same by regular trips or at stated periods over any post route which is or may be established by law, or from any city, town, or place, to any other city, town, or place, between which the mail is regularly carried, or whoever shall aid or assist therein shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as prohibiting any person from receiving and delivering to the nearest post office, postal car, or other authorized depository for mail matter, any mail matter properly stamped. (R. S. § 3982; Mar. 3, 1879, c. 180, § 1, 20 Stat. 356; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 181, 35 Stat. 1123.)

305. (Criminal Code, section 182.) Transporting persons unlawfully conveying mail.—Whoever, being the owner, driver, conductor, master or other person having charge of any stagecoach, railway car, steamboat, or other vehicle or vessel, shall knowingly convey or knowingly permit the conveyance of any person acting or employed as a private express for the conveyance of letters or packets, and actually in possession of the same for the purpose of conveying them, contrary to law, shall be fined not more than $150. (R. S. § 3983; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 182, 35 Stat. 1124.)

306. (Criminal Code, section 183.) Sending letters by private express.—Whoever shall transmit by private express or other unlawful means, or deliver to any agent thereof, or deposit or cause to be deposited at any appointed place, for the purpose of being so transmitted, any letter or packet, shall be fined not more than $50. (R. S. § 3984; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 183, 35 Stat. 1124.)

307. (Criminal Code, section 184.) Carrying letters out of the mail over post routes.—Whoever, being the owner, driver, conductor, master, or other person having charge of any stagecoach, railway car, steamboat, or conveyance of any kind which regularly performs trips at stated periods on any post route, or from any city, town, or place to any other city, town, or place between which the mail is regularly carried, and which shall carry, otherwise than in the mail, any letters or packets, except such as relate to some part of the cargo of such steamboat or other vessel, to the current business of the carrier, or to some article carried at the same time by the same stagecoach, railway car, or other vehicle, except as otherwise provided by law, shall be fined not more than $50. (R. S. § 3985; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 184, 35 Stat. 1124.)

308. (Criminal Code, section 185.) Carrying letters out of the mail on vessels.—Whoever shall carry any letter or packet on board any vessel which carries the mail, otherwise than in such mail, except as otherwise provided by law, shall be fined not more than $50, or imprisoned not more than one month, or both. (R. S. § 3986; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 185, 35 Stat. 1124.)

309. (Criminal Code, section 186.) When conveyance by private persons is lawful.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit the conveyance or transmission of letters or pockets by private hands without compensation, or by special messenger employed for the particular occasion only. (R. S. § 3992; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321. § 186, 35 Stat. 1124.)

310. (Criminal Code, section 187.) Wearing carrier's uniform without authority.—Whoever, not being connected with the letter-carrier branch of the Postal Service, shall wear the uniform or badge which may be prescribed by the Postmaster General, to be worn by letter carriers, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 3867; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 187, 35 Stat. 1124.)

311. (Criminal Code, section 188.) Vehicles claiming to be mail carriers.—It shall be unlawful to paint, print, or in any manner to place upon or attach to any steamboat or other vessel, or any car, stagecoach, vehicle, or other conveyance, not actually used in carrying the mail, the words "United States Mail," or any words, letters, or characters of like import; or to give notice, by publishing in any newspaper or otherwise, that any steamboat or other vessel, or any car, stagecoach, vehicle, or other conveyance, is used in carrying the mail, when the same is not actually so used; and every person who shall violate, and every owner, receiver, lessee, or managing operator thereof, who shall cause, suffer, or permit the violation of any provision of this section, shall be liable, and shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (R. S. § 3979; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 188, 35 Stat. 1124.)

312. (Criminal Code, section 189.) Injuring mail bags.—Whoever shall tear, cut, or otherwise injure any mail bag, pouch, or other thing used or designed for use in the conveyance of the mail, or shall draw or break any staple or loosen any part of any lock, chain, or strap attached thereto, with intent to rob or steal any such mail, or to render the same insecure, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (R. S. § 5476; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 189, 35 Stat. 1124.)

313. (Criminal Code, section 190.) Stealing post-office property.—Whoever shall steal, purloin, or embezzle any mail bag or other property in use by or belonging to the Post Office Department, or shall appropriate any such property to his own or any other than its proper use, or shall convey away any such property to the hindrance or detriment of the public service, shall be fined not more than $200, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (R. S. § 5475; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 190, 35 Stat. 1124.)

314. (Criminal Code, section 191.) Stealing or forging mail locks or keys.—Whoever shall steal, purloin, embezzle, or obtain by any false pretense, or shall aid or assist in stealing, purloining, embezzling, or obtaining by any false pretense, any key suited to any lock adopted by the Post Office Department and in use on any of the mails or bags thereof, or any key to any lock box, lock drawer, or other authorized receptacle for the deposit or delivery of mail matter; or whoever shall knowingly and unlawfully make, forge, or counterfeit, or cause to be unlawfully made, forged, or counterfeited, any such key, or shall have in his possession any such mail lock or key with the intent unlawfully or improperly to use, sell, or otherwise dispose of the same, or to cause the same to be unlawfully or improperly used, sold, or otherwise disposed of; or whoever, being engaged as a contractor or otherwise in the manufacture of any such mail lock or key, shall deliver or cause to be delivered, any finished or unfinished lock or key used or designed for use by the department, or the interior part of any such lock, to any person not duly authorized under the hand of the Postmaster General and the seal of the Post Office Department, to receive the same, unless the person receiving it is the contractor for furnishing the same or engaged in the manufacture thereof in the manner authorized by the contract, or the agent of such manufacturer, shall be fined not more than $500 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5477; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 191, 35 Stat. 1125.)

315. (Criminal Code, section 192.) Breaking into and entering post office.—Whoever shall forcibly break into or attempt to break into any post office, or any building used in whole or in part as a post office, with intent to commit in such post office, or building, or part thereof, so used, any larceny or other depredation, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5478; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 192, 35 Stat. 1125.)

316. (Criminal Code, section 193.) Unlawfully entering post-office car.—Whoever, by violence, shall enter a post-office car, or any apartment in any car, steamboat, or vessel, assigned to the use of the mail service, or shall willfully or maliciously assault or interfere with any postal clerk in the discharge of his duties in connection with such car, steamboat, vessel, or apartment thereof, or shall willfully aid or assist therein, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both. (Mar. 3, 1903, c. 1009, § 5, 32 Stat. 1176; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 193, 35 Stat. 1125.)

317. (Criminal Code, section 194, amended.) Stealing, secreting, or embezzling mail matter.—Whoever shall steal, take, or abstract, or by fraud or deception obtain, from or out of any mail, post office or station thereof, or other authorized depository for mail matter, or from a letter or mail carrier, any letter, postal card, package, bag, or mail, or shall abstract or remove from any such letter, package, bag, or mail, any article or thing contained therein, or shall secrete, embezzle, or destroy any such letter, postal card, package, bag, or mail, or any article or thing contained therein; or whoever shall steal, take, or abstract, or by fraud or deception obtain any letter, postal card, package, bag, or mail, which has been left for collection upon or adjacent to a collection box or other authorized depository of mail matter; or whoever shall buy, receive, or conceal, or aid in buying, receiving, or concealing, or shall unlawfully have in his possession, any letter, postal card, package, bag, or mail, or any article or thing contained therein, which has been so stolen, taken, embezzled, or abstracted, as herein described, knowing the same to have been so stolen, taken, embezzled, or abstracted; or whoever shall take any letter, postal card, or package out of any post office or station thereof, or out of any authorized depository for mail matter, or from any letter or mail carrier, or which has been in any post office or station thereof, or other authorized depository, or in the custody of any letter or mail carrier, before it has been delivered to the person to whom it was directed, with a design to obstruct the correspondence, or to pry into the business or secrets of another, or shall open, secrete, embezzle, or destroy the same, shall be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. §§ 3892, 5469, 5470; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 194, 35 Stat. 1125; Feb. 25, 1925, c. 318, 43 Stat. 977.)

318. (Criminal Code, section 195.) Postmaster or employee detaining, destroying, or embezzling mail matter.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person employed in any department of the Postal Service, shall unlawfully detain, delay, or open any letter, postal card, package, bag or mail intrusted to him or which shall come into his possession, and which was intended to be conveyed by mail, or carried or delivered by any carrier, messenger, agent, or other person employed in any department of the Postal Service, or forwarded through or delivered from any post office or station thereof established by authority of the Postmaster General; or shall secrete, embezzle, or destroy any such letter, postal card, package, bag, or mail; or shall steal, abstract, or remove from any such letter, package, bag, or mail, any article or thing contained therein, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. §§ 3890, 3891, 5467; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 195, 35 Stat. 1125.)

319. (Criminal Code, section 196.) Detaining or destroying newspapers.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person employed in any department of the Postal Service, shall improperly detain, delay, embezzle, or destroy any newspaper, or permit any other person to detain, delay, embezzle, or destroy the same, or open, or permit any other person to open, any mail or package of newspapers not directed to the office where he is employed; or whoever shall open, embezzle, or destroy any mail or package of newspapers not being directed to him, and he not being authorized to open or receive the same; or whoever shall take or steal any mail or package of newspapers from any post office or from any person having custody thereof, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 5471; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 196, 35 Stat. 1126.)

320. (Criminal Code, section 197.) Assaulting mail custodian and robbing mail; wounding custodian.—Whoever shall assault any person having lawful charge, control, or custody of any mail matter, with intent to rob, steal, or purloin such mail matter or any part thereof, or shall rob any such person of such mail or any part thereof, shall, for a first offense, be imprisoned not more than ten years; and if in effecting or attempting to effect such robbery, he shall wound the person having custody of the mail, or put his life in jeopardy by the use of a dangerous weapon, or for a subsequent offense, shall be imprisoned twenty-five years. (R. S. §§ 5472, 5473; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 197, 35 Stat. 1126.)

321. (Criminal Code, section 198, amended.) Injury to letter boxes.—Whoever shall willfully or maliciously injure, tear down, or destroy any letter box or other receptacle intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on any mail route, or shall break open the same, or shall willfully or maliciously injure, deface, or destroy any mail deposited therein, or shall willfully take or steal such mail from or out of such letter box or other receptacle, or shall willfully aid or assist in any of the aforementioned offenses, shall for every such offense be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than three years. (R. S. §§ 3869, 5466; Apr. 21, 1902, c. 563, § 1, 32 Stat. 113; Mar. 3, 1903, c. 1009, § 3, 32 Stat. 1175; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 198, 35 Stat. 1126; May 18, 1916, c. 126, § 10, 39 Stat. 162; July 28, 1916, c. 261, § 1, 39 Stat. 418.)

322. (Criminal Code, section 199.) Deserting the mail.—Whoever, having taken charge of any mail, shall voluntarily quit or desert the same before he has delivered it into the post office at the termination of the route, or to some known mail carrier, messenger, agent, or other employee in the Postal Service authorized to receive the same, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 5474; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 199, 35 Stat. 1126.)

323. (Criminal Code, section 200.) Delivery of letters by master of vessel.—The master or other person having charge or control of any steamboat or other vessel passing between ports or places in the United States, arriving at any such port or place where there is a post office, shall deliver to the postmaster or at the post office, within three hours after his arrival, if in the daytime, and if at night, within two hours after the next sunrise, all letters and packages brought by him or within his power or control and not relating to the cargo, addressed to or destined for such port or place, for which he shall receive from the postmaster two cents for each letter or package so delivered, unless the same is carried under a contract for carrying the mail; and for every failure so to deliver such letters or packages, the master or other person having charge or control of such steamboat or other vessel, shall be fined not more than $150. (R. S. § 3977; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 200, 35 Stat. 1126.)

324. (Criminal Code, section 201.) Obstructing the mail.—Whoever shall knowingly and willfully obstruct or retard the passage of the mail, or any carriage, horse, driver, or carrier, or car, steamboat, or other conveyance or vessel carrying the same, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 3995; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 201, 35 Stat. 1127.)

325. (Criminal Code, section 202.) Ferryman delaying mail.—Whoever, being a ferryman, shall delay the passage of the mail by willful neglect or refusal to transport the same across any ferry, shall be fined not more than $100. (R. S. § 3996; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 202, 35 Stat. 1127.)

326. (Criminal Code, section 203.) Letters carried in foreign vessel to be deposited in post office; failure.—All letters or other mailable matter conveyed to or from any part of the United States by any foreign vessel, except such sealed letters relating to such vessel or any part of the cargo thereof as may be directed to the owners or consignees of the vessel, shall be subject to postage charge, whether addressed to any person in the United States or elsewhere, provided they are conveyed by the packet or other ship of a foreign country imposing postage on letters or other mailable matter conveyed to or from such country by any vessel of the United States; and such letters or other mailable matter carried in foreign vessels, except such sealed letters relating to the vessel or any part of the cargo thereof as may be directed to the owners or consignees, shall be delivered into the United States post office by the master or other person having charge or control of such vessel when arriving, and be taken from the United States post office when departing, and the postage justly chargeable by law paid thereon; and for refusing or failing to do so, or for conveying such letters or other mailable matter, or any letters or other mailable matter, intended to be conveyed in any vessel of such foreign country, over or across the United States, or any portion thereof, the party offending shall be fined not more than $1,000. (R. S. § 4016; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 203, 35 Stat. 1127.)

327. (Criminal Code, section 204.) Vessels to deliver letters at post office before entry; oath; failure.—No vessel arriving within a port or collection district of the United States shall be allowed to make entry or break bulk until all letters on board are delivered to the nearest post office, and the master or other person having charge or control thereof has signed and sworn to the following declaration before the collector or other proper customs officer:

I, A. B., master ———, of the ———, arriving from ———, and now lying in the port of ———, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have to the best of my knowledge and belief delivered to the post office at ——— every letter and every bag, packet, or parcel of letters which was on board the said vessel during her last voyage, or which were in my possession or under my power or control.

And any master or other person having charge or control of such vessel who shall break bulk before he has delivered such letters shall be fined not more than $100. (R. S. § 3988; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 204, 35 Stat. 1127.)

328. (Criminal Code, section 205.) Using canceled stamps.—Whoever shall use or attempt to use in payment of postage, any canceled postage stamp, whether the same has been used or not; or shall remove, attempt to remove, or assist in removing, the canceling or defacing marks from any postage stamp, or the superscription from any stamped envelope, or postal card, that has once been used in payment of postage, with the intent to use the same for a like purpose, or to sell or offer to sell the same, or shall knowingly have in possession any such postage stamp, stamped envelope, or postal card, with intent to use the same, or shall knowingly sell or offer to sell any such postage stamp, stamped envelope, or postal card, or use or attempt to use the same in payment of postage; or whoever unlawfully and willfully shall remove from any mail matter any stamp attached thereto in payment of postage; or shall knowingly use or cause to be used in payment of postage, any postage stamp, postal card, or stamped envelope, issued in pursuance of law, which has already been used for a like purpose; shall, if he be a person employed in the Postal Service, be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than three years, or both; and if he be a person not employed in the Postal Service, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. §§ 3922–3925; Mar. 3, 1879, c. 180, § 28, 20 Stat. 362; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 205, 35 Stat. 1127.)

329. (Criminal Code, section 206.) False returns to increase compensation.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person employed in any branch of the Postal Service, shall make, or assist in making, or cause to be made, a false return, statement, or account to any officer of the United States, or shall make, assist in making, or cause to be made, a false entry in any record, book, or account, required by law or the rules or regulations of the Post Office Department to be kept in respect of the business or operations of any post office or other branch of the Postal Service, for the purpose of fraudulently increasing his compensation or the compensation of the postmaster or any employee in a post office; or whoever, being a postmaster or other person employed in any post office or station thereof, shall induce, or attempt to induce, for the purpose of increasing the emoluments or compensation of his office, any person to deposit mail matter in, or forward in any manner for mailing at, the office where such postmaster or other person is employed, knowing such matter to be properly mailable at another post office, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (June 17, 1878, c. 259, § 1, 20 Stat. 141; Aug. 4, 1886, c. 901, § 3, 24 Stat. 221; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 206, 35 Stat. 1128.)

330. (Criminal Code, section 207.) Collecting unlawful postage.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person authorized to receive the postage of mail matter, shall fraudulently demand or receive any rate of postage or gratuity or reward other than is provided by law for the postage of such mail matter, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 3899; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 207, 35 Stat. 1128.)

331. (Criminal Code, section 208.) Unlawful pledging or sale of stamps; inducing purchases to increase pay.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person employed in any branch of the Postal Service, and being intrusted with the sale or custody of postage stamps, stamped envelopes, or postal cards, shall use or dispose of them in the payment of debts, or in the purchase of merchandise or other salable articles, or pledge or hypothecate the same, or sell or dispose of them except for cash; or sell or dispose of postage stamps or postal cards for any larger or less sum than the values indicated on their faces; or sell or dispose of stamped envelopes for a larger or less sum than is charged therefor by the Post Office Department for like quantities; or sell or dispose of, or cause to be sold or disposed of, postage stamps, stamped envelopes, or postal cards at any point or place outside of the delivery of the office where such postmaster or other person is employed; or induce or attempt to induce, for the purpose of increasing the emoluments or compensation of such postmaster, or the emoluments or compensation of any other person employed in such post office or any station thereof, or the allowances or facilities provided therefor, any person to purchase at such post office or any station thereof, or from any employee of such post office, postage stamps, stamped envelopes, or postal cards; or sell or dispose of postage stamps, stamped envelopes, or postal cards, otherwise than as provided by law or the regulations of the Post Office Department, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 3920; June 17, 1878, c. 259, § 1, 20 Stat. 141; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 208, 35 Stat. 1128.)

332. (Criminal Code, section 209.) Failing to account for postage due.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person engaged in the Postal Service, shall collect and fail to account for the postage due upon any article of mail matter which he may deliver, without having previously affixed and canceled the special stamp provided by law, or shall fail to affix such stamp, shall be fined not more than $50. (Mar. 3, 1879, c. 180, § 27, 20 Stat. 362; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 209, 35 Stat. 1128.)

333. (Criminal Code, section 210.) Issuing unpaid-for money orders.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person employed in any branch of the Postal Service, shall issue a money order without having previously received the money therefor, shall be fined not more than $500. (R. S. § 4030; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 210, 35 Stat. 1129.)

334. (Criminal Code, section 211, amended.) Mailing obscene matter.—Every obscene, lewd, or lascivious, and every filthy, book, pamphlet, picture, paper, letter, writing, print, or other publication of an indecent character, and every article or thing designed, adapted, or intended for preventing conception or producing abortion, or for any indecent or immoral use; and every article, instrument, substance, drug, medicine, or thing which is advertised or described in a manner calculated to lead another to use or apply it for preventing conception or producing abortion, or for any indecent or immoral purpose; and every written or printed card, letter, circular, book, pamphlet, advertisement, or notice of any kind giving information, directly or indirectly, where, or how, or from whom, or by what means any of the hereinbefore-mentioned matters, articles, or things may be obtained or made, or where or by whom any act or operation of any kind for the procuring or producing of abortion will be done or performed, or how or by what means conception may be prevented or abortion produced, whether sealed or unsealed; and every letter, packet, or package, or other mail matter containing any filthy, vile, or indecent thing, device, or substance; and every paper, writing, advertisement, or representation that any article, instrument, substance, drug, medicine, or thing may, or can, be used or applied for preventing conception or producing abortion, or for any indecent or immoral purpose; and every description calculated to induce or incite a person to so use or apply any such article, instrument, substance, drug, medicine, or thing, is hereby declared to be nonmailable matter and shall not be conveyed in the mails or delivered from any post office or by any letter carrier. Whoever shall knowingly deposit, or cause to be deposited, for mailing or delivery, anything declared by this section to be nonmailable, or shall knowingly take, or cause the same to be taken, from the mails for the purpose of circulating or disposing thereof, or of aiding in the circulation or disposition thereof, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. The term "indecent" within the intendment of this section shall include matter of a character tending to incite arson, murder, or assassination. (R. S. § 3893; July 12, 1876, c. 186,

§ 1, 19 Stat. 90; Sept. 26, 1888, c. 1039, § 2, 25 Stat. 496; May 27, 1908, c. 206, 35 Stat. 416; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 211, 35 Stat. 1129; Mar. 4, 1911, c. 241, § 2, 36 Stat. 1339.)

335. (Criminal Code, section 212.) Mailing libelous and indecent matter on wrappers or envelopes.—All matter otherwise mailable by law, upon the envelope or outside cover or wrapper of which, or any postal card upon which, any delineations, epithets, terms, or language of an indecent, lewd, lascivious, obscene, libelous, scurrilous, defamatory, or threatening character, or calculated by the terms or manner or style of display and obviously intended to reflect injuriously upon the character or conduct of another, may be written or printed or otherwise impressed or apparent, are hereby declared nonmailable matter, and shall not be conveyed in the mails nor delivered from any post office nor by any letter carrier, and shall be withdrawn from the mails under such regulations as the Postmaster General shall prescribe. Whoever shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited, for mailing or delivery, anything declared by this section to be nonmailable matter, or shall knowingly take the same or cause the same to be taken from the mails for the purpose of circulating or disposing of or aiding in the circulation or disposition of the same, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (June 18, 1888, c. 394, § 2, 25 Stat. 187; Sept. 26, 1888, c. 1039, § 1, 25 Stat. 496; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 212, 35 Stat. 1129.)

336. (Criminal Code, section 213.) Lottery, or gift enterprise circulars not mailable; place of trial.—No letter, package, postal card, or circular concerning any lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance; and no lottery ticket or part thereof, or paper, certificate, or instrument purporting to be or to represent a ticket, chance, share, or interest in or dependent upon the event of a lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance; and no check, draft, bill, money, postal note, or money order, for the purchase of any ticket or part thereof, or of any share or chance in any such lottery, gift enterprise, or scheme; and no newspaper, circular, pamphlet, or publication of any kind containing any advertisement of any lottery, gift enterprise, or scheme of any kind offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or containing any list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of any such lottery, gift enterprise, or scheme, whether said list contains any part or all of such prizes, shall be deposited in or carried by the mails of the United States, or be delivered by any postmaster or letter carrier. Whoever shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited, or shall knowingly send or cause to be sent, anything to be conveyed or delivered by mail in violation of the provisions of this section, or shall knowingly deliver or cause to be delivered by mail anything herein forbidden to be carried by mail, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both; and for any subsequent offense shall be imprisoned not more than five years. Any person violating any provision of this section may be tried and punished either in the district in which the unlawful matter or publication was mailed, or to which it was carried by mail for delivery according to the direction thereon, or in which it was caused to be delivered by mail to the person to whom it was addressed. (R. S. § 3894; July 12, 1876, c. 186, § 2, 19 Stat. 90; Sept. 19, 1890, c. 908, § 1, 26 Stat. 465; Mar. 2, 1895, c. 191, 28 Stat. 963; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 213, 35 Stat. 1129.)

337. (Criminal Code, section 214.) Official acting as lottery agent.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person employed in the Postal Service, shall act as agent for any lottery office, or under color of purchase or otherwise, vend lottery tickets, or shall knowingly send by mail or deliver any letter, package, postal card, circular, or pamphlet advertising any lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme, offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or any ticket, certificate, or instrument representing any chance, share, or interest in or dependent upon the event of any lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or any list of the prizes awarded by means of any such scheme, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 3851; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 214, 35 Stat. 1130.)

338. (Criminal Code, section 215.) Using mails to promote frauds; counterfeit money.—Whoever, having devised or intending to devise any scheme or artifice to defraud, or for obtaining money or property by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises, or to sell, dispose of, loan, exchange, alter, give away, distribute, supply, or furnish or procure for unlawful use any counterfeit or spurious coin, bank note, paper money, or any obligation or security of the United States, or of any State, Territory, municipality, company, corporation, or person, or anything represented to be or intimated or held out to be such counterfeit or spurious article, or any scheme or artifice to obtain money by or through correspondence, by what is commonly called the "sawdust swindle," or "counterfeit-money fraud," or by dealing or pretending to deal in what is commonly called "green articles," "green coin," "green goods," "bills," "paper goods," "spurious Treasury notes," "United States goods," "green cigars," or any other names or terms intended to be understood as relating to such counterfeit or spurious articles, shall, for the purpose of executing such scheme or artifice or attempting so to do, place, or cause to be placed, any letter, postal card, package, writing, circular, pamphlet, or advertisement, whether addressed to any person residing within or outside the United States, in any post office, or station thereof, or street or other letter box of the United States, or authorized depository for mail matter, to be sent or delivered by the post office establishment of the United States, or shall take or receive any such therefrom, whether mailed within or without the United States, or shall knowingly cause to be delivered by mail according to the direction thereon, or at the place at which it is directed to be delivered by the person to whom it is addressed, any such letter, postal card, package, writing, circular, pamphlet, or advertisement, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5480; Mar. 2, 1889, c. 393, § 1, 25 Stat. 873; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 215, 35 Stat. 1130.)

339. (Criminal Code, section 216.) Using fraudulent fictitious address.—Whoever, for the purpose of conducting, promoting, or carrying on, in any manner, by means of the post office establishment of the United States, any scheme or device mentioned in the section last preceding or any other unlawful business whatsoever, shall use or assume, or request to be addressed by, any fictitious, false, or assumed title, name, or address, or name other than his own proper name, or shall take or receive from any post office of the United States, or station thereof, or any other authorized depository of mail matter, any letter, postal card, package, or other mail matter addressed to any such fictitious, false, or assumed title, name, or address, or name other than his own proper name, shall be punished as provided in section 338 of this title. (Mar. 2, 1889, c. 393, § 2, 25 Stat. 873; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 216, 35 Stat. 1131.)

340. (Criminal Code, section 217, amended.) Poisons or explosives not mailable; packing permitted; intoxicating liquors; mailing; injurious intent.—All kinds of poison, and all articles and compositions containing poison, and all poisonous animals, insects, and reptiles, and explosives of all kinds, and inflammable materials, and infernal machines, and mechanical, chemical, or other devices or compositions which may ignite or explode, and all disease germs or scabs, and all other natural or artificial articles, compositions, or materials of whatever kind which may kill, or in anywise hurt, harm, or injure another, or damage, deface, or otherwise injure the mails or other property, whether sealed as first-class matter or not, are hereby declared to be nonmailable matter, and shall not be conveyed in the mails or delivered from any post office or station thereof, nor by any letter carrier; but the Postmaster General may permit the transmission in the mails, from the manufacturer thereof or dealer therein to licensed physicians, surgeons, dentists, pharmacists, druggists, and veterinarians, under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe, of any articles hereinbefore described which are not outwardly or of their own force dangerous or injurious to life, health, or property: Provided, That all spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquors of any kind, are hereby declared to be nonmailable and shall not be deposited in or carried through the mails. Whoever shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited for mailing or delivery, or shall knowingly cause to be delivered by mail according to the direction thereon, or at any place at which it is directed to be delivered by the person to whom it is addressed, anything declared by this section to be nonmailable, unless in accordance with the rules and regulations hereby authorized to be prescribed by the Postmaster General, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both; and whoever shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited for mailing or delivery, or shall knowingly cause to be delivered by mail, according to the direction thereon or at any place to which it is directed to be delivered by the person to whom it is addressed, anything declared by this section to be nonmailable, whether transmitted in accordance with the rules and regulations authorized to be prescribed by the Postmaster General or not, with the design, intent, or purpose to kill or in anywise hurt, harm, or injure another, or damage, deface, or otherwise injure the mails or other property, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than twenty years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 217, 35 Stat. 1131; May 25, 1920, c. 196, 41 Stat. 620.)

341. Use of mails for advertisements of intoxicating liquors in prohibition States.—No letter, postal card, circular, newspaper, pamphlet, or publication of any kind containing any advertisement of spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquors of any kind, or containing a solicitation of an order or orders for said liquors, or any of them, shall be deposited in or carried by the mails of the United States, or be delivered by any postmaster or letter carrier, when addressed or directed to any person, firm, corporation, or association, or other addressee, at any place or point in any State or Territory of the United States, or the District of Columbia, at which it is by the law in force in the State or Territory or the District of Columbia at that time unlawful to advertise or solicit orders for such liquors, or any of them, respectively. If the publisher of any newspaper or other publication or the agent of such publisher, or if any dealer in such liquors or his agent, shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited, or shall knowingly send or cause to be sent, anything to be conveyed or delivered by mail in violation of the provisions of this section, or shall knowingly deliver or cause to be delivered by mail anything herein forbidden to be carried by mail, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than six months, or both; and for any subsequent offense shall be imprisoned not more than one year. Any person violating any provision of this section may be tried and punished, either in the district in which the unlawful matter or publication was mailed or to which it was carried by mail for delivery, according to direction thereon, or in which it was caused to be delivered by mail to the person to whom it was addressed. The Postmaster General is hereby authorized and directed to make public from time to time in suitable bulletins or public notices the names of States in which it is unlawful to advertise or solicit orders for such liquors. (Mar. 3, 1917, c. 162, § 5, 39 Stat. 1069; Mar. 4, 1917, c. 192, 39 Stat. 1202; Feb. 24, 1919, c. 18, § 1407, 40 Stat. 1151.)

342. Same; ethyl alcohol for governmental purposes; wine for sacramental purposes.—Section 341 of this title shall not be construed to apply to ethyl alcohol for governmental, scientific, medicinal, mechanical, manufacturing, and industrial purposes, and the Postmaster General shall prescribe suitable rules and regulations to carry into effect this section and section 341, nor shall said sections be held to prohibit the use of the mails by regularly ordained ministers of religion, or by officers of regularly established churches, for ordering wines for sacramental uses, or by manufacturers and dealers for quoting and billing such wines for such purposes only. (Oct. 3, 1917, c. 63, § 1110, 40 Stat. 329.)

343. Certain letters or writings nonmailable; opening letters.—Every letter, writing, circular, postal card, picture, print, engraving, photograph, newspaper, pamphlet, book, or other publication, matter or thing, of any kind, in violation of any of the provisions of sections 25, 27, 31 to 38, inclusive, 288, 381, 502, 611 to 633, inclusive, of this title, sections 213, 221 to 223, inclusive, 231 to 235, inclusive, and 238 to 245, inclusive, of Title 22, and sections 31 to 42 and 191 to 194 of Title 50 is hereby declared to be nonmailable matter and shall not be conveyed in the mails or delivered from any post office or by any letter carrier; but no person other than an employee of the Dead Letter Office, duly authorized thereto, or other person upon a search warrant authorized by law, shall be authorized to open any letter not addressed to himself. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XII, § 1, 40 Stat. 230.)

344. Letters or writings advocating treason declared nonmailable.—Every letter, writing, circular, postal card, picture, print, engraving, photograph, newspaper, pamphlet, book, or other publication, matter or thing, of any kind, containing any matter advocating or urging treason, insurrection, or forcible resistance to any law of the United States, is hereby declared to be nonmailable. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XII, § 2, 40 Stat. 230.)

345. Using or attempting to use mails for transmission of matter declared nonmailable by title; jurisdiction of offense.—Whoever shall use or attempt to use the mails or Postal Service of the United States for the transmission of any matter declared by sections 343 and 344 of this title to be nonmailable, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. Any person violating any provision of said sections may be tried and punished either in the district in which the unlawful matter or publication was mailed, or to which it was carried by mail for delivery according to the direction thereon, or in which it was caused to be delivered by mail to the person to whom it was addressed. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XII, § 3, 40 Stat. 230.)

Cross reference: Jurisdiction of offenses under this section, see section 574 of this title.

346. United States defined.—The term "United States," as used in sections 343 to 345 of this title, includes the Canal Zone, and all territory and waters, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, § 1, 40 Stat. 231.)

347. (Criminal Code, section 218.) Counterfeiting money orders.—Whoever, with intent to defraud, shall falsely make, forge, counterfeit, engrave, or print, or cause or procure to be falsely made, forged, counterfeited, engraved, or printed, or shall willingly aid or assist in falsely making, forging, counterfeiting, engraving, or printing, any order in imitation of or purporting to be a money order issued by the Post Office Department, or by any postmaster or agent thereof; or whoever shall forge or counterfeit the signature of any postmaster, assistant postmaster, chief clerk, or clerk, upon or to any money order, or postal note, or blank therefor provided or issued by or under the direction of the Post Office Department of the United States, or of any foreign country, and payable in the United States, or any material signature or indorsement thereon, or any material signature to any receipt or certificate of identification thereon; or shall falsely alter, or cause or procure to be falsely altered in any material respect, or knowingly aid or assist in falsely so altering any such money order or postal note; or shall, with intent to defraud, pass, utter, or publish any such forged or altered money order or postal note, knowing any material signature or indorsement thereon to be false, forged, or counterfeited, or any material alteration therein to have been falsely made; or shall issue any money order or postal note without having previously received or paid the full amount of money payable therefor, with the purpose of fraudulently obtaining or receiving, or fraudulently enabling any other person, either directly or indirectly, to obtain or receive from the United States, or any officer, employee, or agent thereof, any sum of money whatever; or shall, with intent to defraud the United States, or any person, transmit or present to, or cause or procure to be transmitted or presented to, any officer or employee, or at any office of the Government of the United States, any money order or postal note, knowing the same to contain any forged or counterfeited signature to the same, or to any material indorsement, receipt, or certificate thereon, or material alteration therein unlawfully made, or to have been unlawfully issued without previous payment of the amount required to be paid upon such issue, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5463; Jan. 3, 1887, c. 13, § 3, 24 Stat. 355; June 18, 1888, c. 394, § 2, 25 Stat. 187; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 218, 35 Stat. 1131.)

348. (Criminal Code, section 219.) Counterfeiting postage stamps.—Whoever shall forge or counterfeit any postage stamp, or any stamp printed upon any stamped envelope, or postal card, or any die, plate, or engraving therefor; or shall make or print, or knowingly use or sell, or have in possession with intent to use or sell, any such forged or counterfeited postage stamp, stamped envelope, postal card, die, plate, or engraving; or shall make, or knowingly use or sell, or have in possession with intent to use or sell, any paper bearing the watermark of any stamped envelope, or postal card, or any fraudulent imitation thereof; or shall make or print, or authorize or procure to be made or printed, any postage stamp, stamped envelope, or postal card, of the kind authorized and provided by the Post Office Department, without the special authority and direction of said department; or shall, after such postage stamp, stamped envelope, or postal card has been printed, with intent to defraud, deliver the same to any person not authorized by an instrument in writing, duly executed under the hand of the Postmaster General and the seal of the Post Office Department, to receive it, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5464; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 219, 35 Stat. 1132.)

349. (Criminal Code, section 220.) Counterfeiting foreign stamps.—Whoever shall forge, or counterfeit, or knowingly utter or use any forged or counterfeited postage stamp of any foreign government, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

The words "foreign government," as used in this section shall be deemed to include any government, faction, or body of insurgents within a country with which the United States is at peace, which government, faction, or body of insurgents may or may not have been recognized by the United States as a government. (R. S. § 5465; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 220, 35 Stat. 1132; June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title VIII, § 4, 40 Stat. 226.)

350. Printing and publishing of illustrations in black and white of foreign postage or revenue stamps from defaced plates and illustrations in black and white of portions of United States stamps allowed.—Nothing in sections 275, 286, and 349 of this title, shall be construed to forbid or prevent the printing or publishing of illustrations in black and white of foreign postage or revenue stamps from plates so defaced as to indicate that the illustrations are not adapted or intended for use as stamps, or to prevent or forbid the making of necessary plates therefor for use in philatelic or historical articles, books, journals, or albums, or the circulars of legitimate publishers or dealers in such stamps, books, journals, or albums. Nothing in said sections shall be construed to forbid or prevent similar illustrations, in black and white only, in philatelic or historical articles, books, journals, albums, or the circulars of legitimate publishers or dealers in such stamps, books, journals, albums, or circulars, of such portion of the border of a stamp of the United States as may be necessary to show minor differences in the stamp so illustrated, but all such illustrations shall be at least four times as large as the portion of the original United States stamp so illustrated. (Mar. 3, 1923, c. 218, 42 Stat. 1437.)

351. (Criminal Code, section 221.) Inclosing higher in lower class matter.—Matter of the second, third, or fourth class containing any writing or printing in addition to the original matter, other than as authorized by law, shall not be admitted to the mails, nor delivered, except upon payment of postage for matter of the first class, deducting therefrom any amount which may have been prepaid by stamps affixed, unless by direction of the Postmaster General such postage shall be remitted. Whoever shall knowingly conceal or inclose any matter of a higher class in that of a lower class, and deposit or cause the same to be deposited for conveyance by mail, at a less rate than would be charged for such higher class matter, shall be fined not more than $100. (R. S. § 3887; Jan. 20, 1888, c. 2, § 2, 25 Stat. 2; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 221, 35 Stat. 1132.)

352. (Criminal Code, section 222.) Illegally approving bond.—Whoever, being a postmaster, shall affix his signature to the approval of any bond of a bidder, or to the certificate of sufficiency of sureties in any contract, before the said bond or contract is signed by the bidder or contractor and his sureties, or shall knowingly, or without the exercise of due diligence, approve any bond of a bidder with insufficient sureties, or shall knowingly make any false or fraudulent certificate, shall be forthwith dismissed from office and be thereafter disqualified from holding the office of postmaster; and shall also be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 3947; June 23, 1874, c. 456, § 12, 18 Stat. 235; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 222, 35 Stat. 1133.)

353. (Criminal Code, section 223.) Submitting false evidence as to second-class matter.—Whoever shall knowingly submit or cause to be submitted to any postmaster or to the Post Office Department or any officer of the Postal Service, any false evidence relative to any publication for the purpose of securing the admission thereof at the second-class rate, for transportation in the mails, shall be fined not more than $500. (Mar. 3, 1879, c. 180, § 13, 20 Stat. 359; June 18, 1888, c. 394, § 1, 25 Stat. 187; Mar. 2, 1905, c. 1304, 33 Stat. 823; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 223, 35 Stat. 1133.)

354. (Criminal Code, section 224.) Inducing or prosecuting false claims for losses.—Whoever shall make, allege, or present, or cause to be made, alleged, or presented, or assist, aid, or abet in making, alleging, or presenting, any claim or application for indemnity for the loss of any registered letter, parcel, package, or other article or matter, or the contents thereof, knowing such claim or application to be false, fictitious, or fraudulent; or whoever for the purpose of obtaining or aiding to obtain the payment or approval of any such claim or application, shall make or use, or cause to be made or used, any false statement, certificate, affidavit, or deposition; or whoever shall knowingly and willfully misrepresent, or misstate, or, for the purpose aforesaid shall knowingly and willfully conceal any material fact or circumstance in respect of any such claim or application for indemnity, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 224, 35 Stat. 1133.)

355. (Criminal Code, section 225.) Misappropriating postal funds; prima facie evidence; deposits permitted.—Whoever, being a postmaster or other person employed in or connected with any branch of the Postal Service, shall loan, use, pledge, hypothecate, or convert to his own use, or shall deposit in any bank, or exchange for other funds or property, except as authorized by law, any money or property coming into his hands or under his control in any manner whatever, in the execution or under control of his office, employment, or service, whether the same shall be the money or property of the United States or not; or shall fail or refuse to remit to or deposit in the Treasury of the United States or in a designated depository, or to account for or turn over to the proper officer or agent, any such money or property, when required so to do by law or the regulations of the Post Office Department, or upon demand or order of the Postmaster General, either directly or through a duly authorized officer or agent, shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement; and every such person, as well as every other person advising or knowingly participating therein, shall be fined in a sum equal to the amount or value of the money or property embezzled, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. Any failure to produce or to pay over any such money or property, when required so to do as above provided, shall be taken to be prima facie evidence of such embezzlement; and upon the trial of any indictment against any person for such embezzlement, it shall be prima facie evidence of a balance against him to produce a transcript from the account books of the General Accounting Office. But nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit any postmaster depositing, under the direction of the Postmaster General, in a national bank designated by the Secretary of the Treasury for that purpose, to his own credit as postmaster, any funds in his charge, nor prevent his negotiating drafts or other evidences of debt through such bank, or through United States disbursing officers, or otherwise, when instructed or required so to do by the Postmaster General, for the purpose of remitting surplus funds from one post office to another. (R. S. §§ 4046, 4053; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 225, 35 Stat. 1133; June 10, 1921, c. 18, § 304, 42 Stat. 24.)

356. (Criminal Code, section 226.) Employees interested in mail contracts.—Whoever, being a person employed in the Postal Service, shall become interested in any contract for carrying the mail, or act as agent, with or without compensation, for any contractor or person offering to become a contractor in any business before the department, shall be immediately dismissed from office, and shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (R. S. § 412; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 226, 35 Stat. 1134.)

357. (Criminal Code, section 227.) Fraudulent use of official envelopes.—Whoever shall make use of any official envelope, label, or indorsement authorized by law, to avoid the payment of postage or registry fee on his private letter, packet, package, or other matter in the mail, shall be fined not more than $300. (Mar. 3, 1877, c. 103, § 5, 19 Stat. 335; Mar. 3, 1879, c. 180, § 29, 20 Stat. 362; July 5, 1884, c. 234, § 3, 23 Stat. 158; July 2, 1886, c. 611, 24 Stat. 122; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 227, 35 Stat. 1134.)

358. (Criminal Code, section 228.) Fraudulently increasing weight of mail.—Whoever shall place or cause to be placed any matter in the mails during the regular weighing period, for the purpose of increasing the weight of the mail, with intent to cause an increase in the compensation of the railroad mail carrier over whose route such mail may pass, shall be fined not more than $20,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (June 13, 1898, c. 446, § 1, 30 Stat. 442; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 228, 35 Stat. 1134.)

359. (Criminal Code, section 229.) Offenses against foreign mail in transit; indictments.—Every foreign mail, shall, while being transported across the territory of the United States under authority of law, be taken and deemed to be a mail of the United States so far as to make any violation thereof, or depredation thereon, or offense in respect thereto, or any part thereof, an offense of the same grade, and punishable in the same manner and to the same extent as though the mail was a mail of the United States; and in any indictment or information for any such offense, the mail, or any part thereof, may be alleged to be, and on the trial of any such indictment or information it shall be deemed and held to be, a mail or part of a mail of the United States. (R. S. § 4013; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 229, 35 Stat. 1134.)

360. (Criminal Code, section 230.) Omission to take oath.—Every person employed in the Postal Service shall be subject to all penalties and forfeitures for the violation of the laws relating to such service, whether he has taken the oath of office or not. (R. S. § 3832; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 230, 35 Stat. 1134.)

Section 381. Violent interference with foreign commerce.—Whoever, with intent to prevent, interfere with, or obstruct or attempt to prevent, interfere with, or obstruct the exportation to foreign countries of articles from the United States, shall injure or destroy, by fire or explosives, such articles or the places where they may be while in such foreign commerce, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. The term "United States," as used in this section, includes the Canal Zone, and all territory and waters, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title IV, § 1, 40 Stat. 221; June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, § 1, 40 Stat. 231.)

Cross reference: Jurisdiction of offenses under this section, see section 574 of this title.

382. (Criminal Code, section 232, amended.) Carrying explosives; on vessels or vehicles with passengers for hire; explosives permitted; restrictions; military transportation.—It shall be unlawful to transport, carry, or convey, within the limits of the jurisdiction of the United States any high explosive, such as, and including, dynamite, blasting caps, detonating fuzes, black powder, gunpowder, or other like explosive, on any vessel, car, or vehicle of any description operated in the transportation of passengers by a common carrier engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, which vessel, car, or vehicle is carrying passengers for hire. It shall be lawful to transport on any such vessel, car, or vehicle smokeless powder, primers, fuses, not including detonating fuzes, fireworks, or other similar explosives, and properly packed and marked samples of explosives for laboratory examination, not exceeding a net weight of one-half pound each, and not exceeding twenty samples at one time in a single vessel, car, or vehicle; but such explosives shall not be carried in that part of a vessel, car, or vehicle which is being used for the transportation of passengers for hire. It shall be lawful to transport on any such vessel, car, or vehicle small-arms ammunition in any quantity, and such fusees, torpedoes, rockets, or other signal devices as may be essential to promote safety in operation. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transportation of military or naval forces with their accompanying munitions of war on passenger-equipment vessels, cars, or vehicles.

The words "detonating fuzes," as used in this section shall be interpreted to mean fuzes used in naval or military service to detonate the high-explosive bursting charges of projectiles, mines, bombs, or torpedoes. The word "fuzes" as used herein shall be interpreted to mean devices used in igniting the bursting charges of projectiles. The word "primers" as used herein shall be interpreted to mean devices used in igniting the propelling powder charges of ammunition. The word "fuses" as used herein shall be interpreted to mean the slow-burning fuses used commercially and intended to convey fire to an explosive combustible mass slowly or without danger to the person lighting. The word "fusees" as used herein shall be interpreted to mean the fusees ordinarily used on steamboats and railroads as night signals. (R. S. § 5353; May 30, 1908, c. 234, § 1, 35 Stat. 554; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 232, 35 Stat. 1134; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 172, 41 Stat. 1444.)

383. (Criminal Code, section 233, amended.) Same; regulations for transporting made by Interstate Commerce Commission; effect.—The Interstate Commerce Commission shall formulate regulations for the same transportation within the limits of the jurisdiction of the United States of explosives and other dangerous articles, including inflammable liquids, inflammable solids, oxidizing materials, corrosive liquids, compressed gases, and poisonous substances, which shall be binding upon all common carriers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce which transport explosives or other dangerous articles by land or water, and upon all shippers making shipments of explosives or other dangerous articles via any common carrier engaged in interstate or foreign commerce by land or water. Said commission, of its own motion, or upon application made by any interested party, may make changes or modifications in such regulations, made desirable by new information or altered conditions. Such regulations shall be in accord with the best-known practicable means for securing safety in transit, covering the packing, marking, loading, handling while in transit, and the precautions necessary to determine whether the material when offered is in proper condition to transport. Such regulations, as well as all changes or modifications thereof, shall, unless a shorter time is authorized by the commission, take effect ninety days after their formulation and publication by said commission and shall be in effect until reversed, set aside, or modified. In the execution of the provisions of sections 382 to 386 of this title the Interstate Commerce Commission may utilize the services of the bureau for the safe transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles, and may avail itself of the advice and assistance of any department, commission, or board of the Government, but no official or employee of the United States shall receive any additional compensation for such service except as now permitted by law. (May 30, 1908, c. 234, § 2, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 233, 35 Stat. 1135; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 172, 41 Stat. 1445.)

384. (Criminal Code, section 234, amended.) Same; high explosives excluded.—It shall be unlawful to transport, carry, or convey within the limits of the jurisdiction of the United States, liquid nitroglycerin, fulminate in bulk in dry condition, or other like explosive, on any vessel, car, or vehicle of any description operated in the transportation of passengers or property by land or water by a common carrier engaged in interstate or foreign commerce. (May 30, 1908, c. 234, § 3, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 234, 35 Stat. 1135; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 172, 41 Stat. 1445.)

385. (Criminal Code, section 235, amended.) Same; marking packages.—Every package containing explosives or other dangerous articles when presented to a common carrier for shipment shall have plainly marked on the outside thereof the contents thereof; and it shall be unlawful for any person to deliver, or cause to be delivered, to any common carrier engaged in interstate or foreign commerce by land or water, or to carry upon any vessel, car, or vehicle operated by any common carrier engaged in interstate or foreign commerce by land or water any explosive, or other dangerous article, as specified in section 383 of this title, under any false or deceptive marking, description, invoice, shipping order, or other declaration, or without informing the agent of such carrier in writing of the true character thereof, at or before the time such delivery or carriage is made. Whoever shall knowingly violate, or cause to be violated, any provision of this section, or of sections 382 to 384 of this title, or any regulation made by the Interstate Commerce Commission in pursuance thereof, shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than eighteen months, or both. (R. S. § 5355; May 30, 1908, c. 234, §§ 4, 5, 35 Stat. 555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 235, 35 Stat. 1135; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 172, 41 Stat. 1445.)

386. (Criminal Code, section 236, amended.) Same; causing death or injury by illegal transportation.—When the death or bodily injury of any person results from the violation of sections 382 to 385 of this title, or any regulation made by the Interstate Commerce Commission in pursuance thereof, the person or persons who shall have so knowingly violated, or cause to be violated, such provision or regulation, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5354; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 236, 35 Stat. 1136; Mar. 4, 1921, c. 172, 41 Stat. 1445.)

387. (Criminal Code, section 237.) Importing lottery tickets; interstate carriage.—Whoever shall bring or cause to be brought into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, from any foreign country, for the purpose of disposing of the same, any paper, certificate, or instrument purporting to be or to represent a ticket, chance, share, or interest in or dependent upon the event of a lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme, offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or any advertisement of, or list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of, any such lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme; or shall therein knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited with any express company or other common carrier for carriage, or shall carry, from one State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, to any other State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any place in or subject to the jurisdiction of the United States through a foreign country to any place in or subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any place in or subject to the jurisdiction of the United States to a foreign country, any paper, certificate, or instrument purporting to be or to represent a ticket, chance, share, or interest in or dependent upon, the event of any such lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme, or any advertisement of, or list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of, any such lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme, or shall knowingly take or receive, or cause to be taken or received, any such paper, certificate, instrument, advertisement, or list so brought, deposited, or transported, shall, for the first offense, be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both; and for any subsequent offense shall be imprisoned not more than two years. (Mar. 2, 1895, c. 191, 28 Stat. 963; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 237, 35 Stat. 1136.)

388. (Criminal Code, section 238.) Intoxicating liquors; by interstate shipment; delivery to other than bona fide consignee.—Any officer, agent, or employee of any railroad company, express company, or other common carrier, who shall knowingly deliver or cause to be delivered to any person other than the person to whom it has been consigned, unless upon the written order in each instance of the bona fide consignee, or to any fictitious person, or to any person under a fictitious name, any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind which has been shipped from one State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, into any other State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any foreign country into any State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 238, 35 Stat. 1136.)

389. (Criminal Code, section 239.) Same; carrier collecting purchase price of interstate shipment.—Any railroad company, express company, or other common carrier, or any other person who, in connection with the transportation of any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind, from one State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, into any other State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any foreign country into any State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, shall collect the purchase price or any part thereof, before, on, or after delivery, from the consignee, or from any other person, or shall in any manner act as the agent of the buyer or seller of any such liquor, for the purpose of buying or selling or completing the sale thereof, saving only in the actual transportation and delivery of the same, shall be fined not more than $5,000. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 239, 35 Stat. 1136.)

390. (Criminal Code, section 240.) Same; shipping packages in interstate commerce not plainly marked.—Whoever shall knowingly ship or cause to be shipped, from one State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, into any other State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any foreign country into any State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, any package of or package containing any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind, unless such package be so labeled on the outside cover as to plainly show the name of the consignee, the nature of its contents, and the quantity contained therein, shall be fined not more than $5,000; and such liquor shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized and condemned by like proceedings as those provided by law for the seizure and forfeiture of property imported into the United States contrary to law. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 240, 35 Stat. 1137.)

391. (Criminal Code, section 241.) Importing injurious birds and animals; permits for foreign wild animals; specimens for museums.—The importation into the United States, or any Territory or District thereof, of the mongoose, the so-called "flying foxes" or fruit bats, the English sparrow, the starling, and such other birds and animals as the Secretary of Agriculture may from time to time declare to be injurious to the interests of agriculture or horticulture, is hereby prohibited; and all such birds and animals shall, upon arrival at any port of the United States, be destroyed or returned at the expense of the owner. No person shall import into the United States or into any Territory or District thereof, any foreign wild animal or bird, except under special permit from the Secretary of Agriculture. Nothing in this section shall restrict the importation of natural-history specimens for museums or scientific collections, or of certain cage birds, such as domesticated canaries, parrots, or such other birds as the Secretary of Agriculture may designate. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to make regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this section. (May 25, 1900, c. 553, § 2, 31 Stat. 188; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 241, 35 Stat. 1137.)

392. (Criminal Code, section 242.) Transportation of illegally killed game; shipments in game season; feathers of barnyard fowls.—It shall be unlawful for any person to deliver to any common carrier for transportation, or for any common carrier to transport from any State, Territory, or District of the United States, to any other State, Territory, or District thereof, any foreign animals or birds, the importation of which is prohibited, or the dead bodies or parts thereof of any wild animals or birds, where such animals or birds have been killed or shipped in violation of the laws of the State, Territory, or District in which the same were killed, or from which they were shipped. Nothing herein shall prevent the transportation of any dead birds or animals killed during the season when the same may be lawfully captured, and the export of which is not prohibited by law in the State, Territory, or District in which the same are captured or killed. Nothing herein shall prevent the importation, transportation, or sale of birds or bird plumage manufactured from the feathers of barnyard fowls. (May 25, 1900, c. 553, §§ 3, 5, 31 Stat. 188; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 242, 35 Stat. 1137.)

393. (Criminal Code, section 243.) Marking of packages.—All packages containing the dead bodies, or the plumage, or parts thereof, of game animals, or game or other wild birds, when shipped in interstate or foreign commerce, shall be plainly and clearly marked, so that the name and address of the shipper, and the nature of the contents, may be readily ascertained on an inspection of the outside of such package. (May 25, 1900, c. 553, § 4, 31 Stat. 188; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 243, 35 Stat. 1137.)

394. (Criminal Code, section 244.) Same; penalty.—For each evasion or violation of any provision of sections 391 to 393 of this title, the shipper shall be fined not more than $200; the consignee knowingly receiving such articles so shipped and transported in violation of said sections shall be fined not more than $200; and the carrier knowingly carrying or transporting the same in violation of said sections shall be fined not more than $200. (May 25, 1900, c. 553, § 4, 31 Stat. 188; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 244, 35 Stat. 1138.)

395. Dead bodies of game animals or game or song birds, subject to laws of State.—All dead bodies, or parts thereof, of any foreign game animals, or game or song birds, the importation of which is prohibited, or the dead bodies, or parts thereof, of any wild game animals, or game or song birds transported into any State or Territory, or remaining therein for use, consumption, sale, or storage therein, shall upon arrival in such State or Territory be subject to the operation and effect of the laws of such State or Territory enacted in the exercise of its police powers, to the same extent and in the same manner as though such animals or birds had been produced in such State or Territory, and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced therein in original packages or otherwise. (May 25, 1900, c. 553, § 5, 31 Stat. 188.)

396. (Criminal Code, section 245, amended.) Importing and transporting obscene books.—Whoever shall bring or cause to be brought into the United States, or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, from any foreign country, or shall therein knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited with any express company or other common carrier, for carriage from one State, Territory, or District of the United States or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, to any other State, Territory, or District of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any place in or subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, through a foreign country, to any place in or subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or from any place in or subject to the jurisdiction of the United States to a foreign country, any obscene, lewd, or lascivious, or any filthy book, pamphlet, picture, motion-picture film, paper, letter, writing, print, or other matter of indecent character, or any drug, medicine, article, or thing designed, adapted, or intended for preventing conception, or producing abortion, or for any indecent or immoral use; or any written or printed card, letter, circular, book, pamphlet, advertisement, or notice of any kind giving information, directly or indirectly, where, how, or of whom, or by what means any of the hereinbefore mentioned articles, matters, or things may be obtained or made; or whoever shall knowingly take or cause to be taken from such express company or other common carrier any matter or thing the depositing of which for carriage is herein made unlawful, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (Feb. 8, 1897, c. 172, 29 Stat. 512; Feb. 8, 1905, c. 550, 33 Stat. 705; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 245, 35 Stat. 1138; June 5, 1920, c. 268, 41 Stat. 1060.)

397. White-slave traffic; terms defined.—The term "interstate commerce," as used in this section and sections 398 to 404 of this title, shall include transportation from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, and the term "foreign commerce" shall include transportation from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia to any foreign country and from any foreign country to any State or Territory or the District of Columbia. (June 25, 1910, c. 395, § 1, 36 Stat. 825.)

398. Same; transportation of woman or girl for immoral purposes, or procuring ticket.—Any person who shall knowingly transport or cause to be transported, or aid or assist in obtaining transportation for, or in transporting, in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or in the District of Columbia, any woman or girl for the purpose of prostitution or debauchery, or for any other immoral purpose, or with the intent and purpose to induce, entice, or compel such woman or girl to become a prostitute or to give herself up to debauchery, or to engage in any other immoral practice; or who shall knowingly procure or obtain, or cause to be procured or obtained, or aid or assist in procuring or obtaining, any ticket or tickets, or any form of transportation or evidence of the right thereto, to be used by any woman or girl in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or the District of Columbia, in going to any place for the purpose of prostitution or debauchery, or for any other immoral purpose, or with the intent or purpose on the part of such person to induce, entice, or compel her to give herself up to the practice of prostitution, or to give herself up to debauchery, or any other immoral practice, whereby any such woman or girl shall be transported in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or the District of Columbia, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment of not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (June 25, 1910, c. 395, § 2, 36 Stat. 825.)

399. Same; inducing transportation for immoral purposes.—Any person who shall knowingly persuade, induce, entice, or coerce, or cause to be persuaded, induced, enticed, or coerced, or aid or assist in persuading, inducing, enticing, or coercing any woman or girl to go from one place to another in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or the District of Columbia, for the purpose of prostitution or debauchery, or for any other immoral purpose, or with the intent and purpose on the part of such person that such woman or girl shall engage in the practice of prostitution or debauchery, or any other immoral practice, whether with or without her consent, and who shall thereby knowingly cause or aid or assist in causing such woman or girl to go and to be carried or transported as a passenger upon the line or route of any common carrier or carriers in interstate or foreign commerce, or any Territory or the District of Columbia, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (June 25, 1910, c. 395, § 3, 36 Stat. 825.)

400. Same; inducing interstate transportation of woman or girl under eighteen for immoral purposes.—Any person who shall knowingly persuade, induce, entice, or coerce any woman or girl under the age of eighteen years from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, with the purpose and intent to induce or coerce her, or that she shall be induced or coerced to engage in prostitution or debauchery, or any other immoral practice, and shall in furtherance of such purpose knowingly induce or cause her to go and to be carried or transported as a passenger in interstate commerce upon the line or route of any common carrier or carriers, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (June 25, 1910, c. 395, § 4, 36 Stat. 826.)

401. Same; jurisdiction of prosecutions.—Any violation of any of sections 398 to 400 of this title shall be prosecuted in any court having jurisdiction of crimes within the district in which said violation was committed, or from, through, or into which any such woman or girl may have been carried or transported as a passenger in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or the District of Columbia, contrary to the provisions of any of said sections. (June 25, 1910, c. 395, § 5, 36 Stat. 826.)

402. Same; (1) prevention of transportation in foreign commerce of alien women and girls under international agreement; Commissioner General of Immigration designated as authority to receive information; duty to receive and keep statements of and pertaining to them.—For the purpose of regulating and preventing the transportation in foreign commerce of alien women and girls for purposes of prostitution and debauchery, and in pursuance of and for the purpose of carrying out the terms of the agreement or project of arrangement for the suppression of the white-slave traffic, adopted July 25, 1902, for submission to their respective governments by the delegates of various powers represented at the Paris Conference and confirmed by a formal agreement signed at Paris on May 18, 1904, and adhered to by the United States on June 6, 1908, as shown by the proclamation of the President of the United States, dated June 15, 1908, the Commissioner General of Immigration is hereby designated as the authority of the United States to receive and centralize information concerning the procuration of alien women and girls with a view to their debauchery, and to exercise supervision over such alien women and girls, receive their declarations, establish their identity, and ascertain from them who induced them to leave their native countries, respectively; and it shall be the duty of said Commissioner General of Immigration to receive and keep on file in his office the statements and declarations which may be made by such alien women and girls, and those which are hereinafter required pertaining to such alien women and girls engaged in prostitution or debauchery in this country, and to furnish receipts for such statements and declarations provided for in sections 397 to 404 of this title to the persons, respectively, making and filing them.

(2) Statement by person keeping woman or girl for immoral purposes; failure to file, making false statement, or failure to disclose facts.—Every person who shall keep, maintain, control, support, or harbor in any house or place for the purpose of prostitution, or for any other immoral purpose, any alien woman or girl within three years after she shall have entered the United States from any country, party to the said arrangement for the suppression of the white-slave traffic, shall file with the Commissioner General of Immigration a statement in writing setting forth the name of such alien woman or girl, the place at which she is kept, and all facts as to the date of her entry into the United States, the port through which she entered, her age, nationality, and parentage, and concerning her procuration to come to this country within the knowledge of such person, and any person who shall fail within thirty days after such person shall commence to keep, maintain, control, support, or harbor in any house or place for the purpose of prostitution, or for any other immoral purpose, any alien woman or girl within three years after she shall have entered the United States from any of the countries, party to the said arrangement for the suppression of the white-slave traffic, to file such statement concerning such alien woman or girl with the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who shall knowingly and willfully state falsely or fail to disclose in such statement any fact within his knowledge or belief with reference to the age, nationality, or parentage of any such alien woman or girl, or concerning her procuration to come to this country, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(3) Presumption of failure to file statement not on file; failure to furnish not excused by self-criminating tendency; immunity from prosecution.—In any prosecution brought under sections 397 to 404 of this title, if it appear that any such statement required is not on file in the office of the Commissioner General of Immigration, the person whose duty it shall be to file such statement shall be presumed to have failed to file said statement, unless such person or persons shall prove otherwise. No person shall be excused from furnishing the statement, as required by this section, on the ground or for the reason that the statement so required by him, or the information therein contained, might tend to criminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture, but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture under any law of the United States for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing, concerning which he may truthfully report in such statement. (June 25, 1910, c. 395, § 6, 36 Stat. 826.)

403. Same; "Territory," "person" construed; liability of persons or corporations for acts and omissions of officers, agents, or employees.—The term "Territory," as used in sections 397 to 404 of this title, shall include the District of Alaska, the insular possessions of the United States, and the Canal Zone. The word "person" shall be construed to import both the plural and the singular, as the case demands, and shall include corporations, companies, societies, and associations. When construing and enforcing the provisions of sections 397 to 404, the act, omission, or failure of any officer, agent, or other person, acting for or employed by any other person or by any corporation, company, society, or association within the scope of his employment or office, shall in every case be also deemed to be the act, omission, or failure of such other person, or of such company, corporation, society, or association, as well as that of the person himself. (June 25, 1910, c. 395, § 7, 36 Stat. 827.)

404. Citation.—Sections 397 to 404 of this title shall be known and referred to as the "White Slave Traffic Act." (June 25, 1910, c. 395, § 8, 36 Stat. 827.)

405. Prize-fight films; transportation or importation.—It shall be unlawful for any person to deposit or cause to be deposited in the United States mails for mailing or delivery, or to deposit or cause to be deposited with any express company or other common carrier for carriage, or to send or carry from one State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia, or to bring or to cause to be brought into the United States from abroad, any film or other pictorial representation of any prize fight or encounter of pugilists, under whatever name, which is designed to be used or may be used for purposes of public exhibition. (July 31, 1912, c. 263, § 1, 37 Stat. 240.)

406. Same; receiving for sale or exhibition.—It shall be unlawful for any person to take or receive from the mails, or any express company or other common carrier, with intent to sell, distribute, circulate, or exhibit any matter or thing forbidden by section 405 of this title to be deposited for mailing, delivery, or carriage in interstate commerce. (July 31, 1912, c. 263, § 2, 37 Stat. 241.)

407. Same; punishment.—Any person violating any of the provisions of sections 405 and 406 of this title shall for each offense, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $1,000, or sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. (July 31, 1912, c. 263, § 3, 37 Stat. 241.)

408. Motor vehicles; transportation, etc., of stolen vehicles.—This section may be cited as the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act. The term "motor vehicle" when used in this section shall include an automobile, automobile truck, automobile wagon, motor cycle, or any other self-propelled vehicle not designed for running on rails; the term "interstate or foreign commerce" shall include transportation from one State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, to another State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or to a foreign country, or from a foreign country to any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia. Whoever shall transport or cause to be transported in interstate or foreign commerce a motor vehicle, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment of not more than five years, or both. Whoever shall receive, conceal, store, barter, sell, or dispose of any motor vehicle, moving as, or which is a part of, or which constitutes interstate or foreign commerce, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by imprisonment of not more than five years, or both. Any person violating this section may be punished in any district in or through which such motor vehicle has been transported or removed by such offender. (Oct. 29, 1919, c. 80, §§ 1 to 5, 41 Stat. 324.)

409. Larceny, etc., of goods in interstate or foreign commerce; penalty.—Whoever shall unlawfully break the seal of any railroad car containing interstate or foreign shipments of freight or express, or shall enter any such car with intent in either case to commit larceny therein; or whoever shall steal or unlawfully take, carry away, or conceal, or by fraud or deception obtain from any railroad car, station house, platform, depot, wagon, automobile, truck, or other vehicle, or from any steamboat, vessel, or wharf, with intent to convert to his own use any goods or chattels moving as or which are a part of or which constitute an interstate or foreign shipment of freight or express, or shall buy or receive or have in his possession any such goods or chattels, knowing the same to have been stolen; or whoever shall steal or shall unlawfully take, carry away, or by fraud or deception obtain with intent to convert to his own use any baggage which shall have come into the possession of any common carrier for transportation from one State or Territory or the District of Columbia to another State or Territory or the District of Columbia or to a foreign country, or from a foreign country to any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or shall break into, steal, take, carry away, or conceal any of the contents of such baggage, or shall buy, receive, or have in his possession any such baggage or any article therefrom of whatever nature, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall in each case be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both, and prosecutions therefor may be instituted in any district wherein the crime shall have been committed. The carrying or transporting of any such freight, express, baggage, goods, or chattels from one State or Territory or the District of Columbia into another State or Territory or the District of Columbia, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall constitute a separate offense and subject the offender to the penalties above described for unlawful taking, and prosecutions therefor may be instituted in any district into which such freight, express, baggage, goods, or chattels shall have been removed or into which they shall have been brought by such offender. The words "station house," "platform," "depot," "wagon," "automobile," "truck," "or other vehicle," as used in this section shall include any station house, platform, depot, wagon, automobile, truck, or other vehicle of any person, firm, association, or corporation having in his or its custody therein or thereon any freight, express, goods, chattels, shipments, or baggage moving as or which are a part of or which constitute an interstate or foreign shipment. (Feb. 13, 1913, c. 50, § 1, 37 Stat. 670; Jan. 28, 1925, c. 102, 43 Stat. 793.)

410. Jurisdiction of State courts unimpaired; double jeopardy.—Nothing in section 409 of this title shall be held to take away or impair the jurisdiction of the courts of the several States under the laws thereof; and a judgment of conviction or acquittal on the merits under the laws of any State shall be a bar to any prosecution hereunder for the same act or acts. (Feb. 13, 1913, c. 50, § 2, 37 Stat. 670; Jan. 28, 1925, c. 102, 43 Stat. 794.)

411. Proof of character of shipments.—To establish the interstate or foreign commerce character of any shipment in any prosecution under section 409 of this title the waybill of such shipment shall be prima facie evidence of the place from which and to which such shipment was made. (Jan. 28, 1925, c. 102, 43 Stat. 794.)

412. Embezzlement, etc., by officers of carrier; jurisdiction; double jeopardy.—Every president, director, officer or manager of any firm, association or corporation engaged in commerce as a common carrier, who embezzles, steals, abstracts or willfully misapplies, or willfully permits to be misapplied, any of the moneys, funds, credits, securities, property or assets of such firm, association or corporation, arising or accruing from, or used in, such commerce, in whole or in part, or willfully or knowingly converts the same to his own use or to the use of another, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $500, or confined in the penitentiary not less than one year nor more than ten years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Prosecutions hereunder may be in the district court of the United States for the district wherein the offense may have been committed.

Nothing in this section shall be held to take away or impair the jurisdiction of the courts of the several States under the laws thereof; and a judgment of conviction or acquittal on the merits under the laws of any State shall be a bar to any prosecution hereunder for the same act or acts. (Oct. 15, 1914, c. 323, § 9, 38 Stat. 733.)

Section 421. (Criminal Code, section 246.) Confining, detaining, or selling slaves on vessel.—Whoever, being of the crew or ship's company of any foreign vessel engaged in the slave trade, or being of the crew or ship's company of any vessel owned wholly or in part, or navigated for or in behalf of any citizen of the United States, forcibly confines or detains on board such vessel any person as a slave, or, on board such vessel, offers or attempts to sell as a slave any such person, or on the high seas, or anywhere on tide water, transfers or delivers to any other vessel any such person with intent to make such person a slave, or lands or delivers on shore from on board such vessel any person with intent to make sale of, or having previously sold such person as a slave, is a pirate, and shall be imprisoned for life. (R. S. § 5375; Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 2, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 246, 35 Stat. 1138.)

422. (Criminal Code, section 247.) Seizing slaves on foreign shores.—Whoever, being of the crew or ship's company of any foreign vessel engaged in the slave trade, or being of the crew or ship's company of any vessel owned in whole or in part, or navigated for, or in behalf of, any citizen of the United States, lands from such vessel, and, on any foreign shore, seizes any person with intent to make such person a slave, or decoys, or forcibly brings, or carries or receives such person on board such vessel, with like intent, is a pirate, and shall be imprisoned for life. (R. S. § 5376; Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 2, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 247, 35 Stat. 1139.)

423. (Criminal Code, section 248.) Bringing slaves into United States.—Whoever brings within the jurisdiction of the United States, in any manner whatsoever, any person from any foreign kingdom or country, or from sea, or holds, sells, or otherwise disposes of, any person so brought in, as a slave, or to be held to service or labor, shall be fined not more than $10,000, one half to the use of the United States and the other half to the use of the party who prosecutes the indictment to effect; and, moreover, shall be imprisoned not more than seven years. (R. S. § 5377; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 248, 35 Stat. 1139.)

424. (Criminal Code, section 249.) Equipping vessels for slave trade.—Whoever builds, fits out, equips, loads, or otherwise prepares, or sends away, either as master, factor, or owner, any vessel, in any port or place within the jurisdiction of the United States, or causes such vessel to sail from any port or place whatsoever, within such jurisdiction, for the purpose of procuring any person from any foreign kingdom or country to be transported to any port or place whatsoever, to be held, sold, or otherwise disposed of as a slave, or held to service or labor, shall be fined not more than $5,000, one half to the use of the United States and the other half to the use of the person prosecuting the indictment to effect; and shall, moreover, be imprisoned not more than seven years. (R. S. § 5378; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 249, 35 Stat. 1139.)

425. (Criminal Code, section 250.) Transporting persons to be held as slaves.—Whoever, within the jurisdiction of the United States, takes on board, receives, or transports from any foreign kingdom or country, or from sea, any person in any vessel, for the purpose of holding, selling, or otherwise disposing of such person as a slave, or to be held to service or labor, shall be punished as prescribed in section 424 of this title. (R. S. § 5379; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 250, 35 Stat. 1139.)

426. (Criminal Code, section 251.) Hovering on coast with slaves on board.—Whoever, being the captain, master, or commander of any vessel found in any river, port, bay, harbor, or on the high seas, within the jurisdiction of the United States, or hovering on the coast thereof, having on board any person, for the purpose of selling such person as a slave, or with intent to land such person for any such purpose, shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than four years. (R. S. § 5380; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 251, 35 Stat. 1139.)

427. (Criminal Code, section 252.) Serving on vessels in slave trade.—Whoever, being a citizen of the United States, or other person residing therein, voluntarily serves on board of any vessel employed or made use of in the transportation of slaves from any foreign country or place to another, shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than two years. (R. S. §§ 5381, 5382; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 252, 35 Stat. 1139.)

428. (Criminal Code, section 253.) Receiving or carrying away person to be sold or held as slave.—Whoever, being the master or owner or person having charge of any vessel, receives on board any other person, with the knowledge or intent that such person is to be carried from any place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States to any other place, to be held or sold as a slave, or carries away from any place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States any such person, with the intent that he may be so held or sold as a slave, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5524; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 253, 35 Stat. 1139.)

429. (Criminal Code, section 254.) Equipping vessel for slave trade; forfeiture; moiety to informer.—No person shall, for himself or for another, as master, factor, or owner, build, fit, equip, load, or otherwise prepare any vessel in any port or place within the jurisdiction of the United States, or cause any vessel to sail from any port or place within the jurisdiction of the United States for the purpose of procuring any person from any foreign kingdom, place, or country to be transported to any port or place whatsoever, to be held, sold, or otherwise disposed of, as a slave, or to be held to service or labor; and every vessel so built, fitted out, equipped, laden, or otherwise prepared, with her tackle, apparel, furniture, and lading, shall be forfeited; one moiety to the use of the United States and the other to the use of the person who sues for the forfeiture and prosecutes the same to effect. (R. S. § 5551; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 254, 35 Stat. 1140.)

430. (Criminal Code, section 255.) Same; penalty; moiety to informer.—Whoever so builds, fits out, equips, loads, or otherwise prepares or sends away any vessel, knowing or intending that the same shall be employed in such trade or business, contrary to the provisions of the section last preceding, or in any way aids or abets therein, shall, besides the forfeiture of the vessel, pay the sum of $2,000; one moiety thereof to the use of the United States and the other moiety thereof to the use of the person who sues for and prosecutes the same to effect. (R. S. § 5552; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 255, 35 Stat. 1140.)

431. (Criminal Code, section 256.) Forfeiture of vessels transporting slaves; moiety to informer.—Every vessel employed in carying on the slave trade or on which is received or transported any person from any foreign kingdom or country, or from sea, for the purpose of holding, selling, or otherwise disposing of such person as a slave, or of holding such person to service or labor, shall, together with her tackle, apparel, furniture, and the goods and effects which may be found on board, or which may have been imported thereon in the same voyage, be forfeited; one moiety to the use of the United States and the other to the use of the person who sues for and prosecutes the forfeiture to effect. (R. S. § 5553; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 256, 35 Stat. 1140.)

432. (Criminal Code, section 257.) Receiving persons on board to be sold as slaves; penalty; moiety to informer.—Whoever, being a citizen of the United States, takes on board, receives, or transports any person for the purpose of selling such person as a slave shall, in addition to the forfeiture of the vessel, pay for each person so received on board or transported the sum of $200, to be recovered in any court of the United States; the one moiety thereof to the use of the United States and the other moiety to the use of the person who sues for and prosecutes the same to effect. (R. S. § 5554; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 257, 35 Stat. 1140.)

433. (Criminal Code, section 258.) Vessels found hovering on coasts forfeited.—Every vessel which is found in any river, port, bay, or harbor, or on the high seas, within the jurisdiction of the United States, or hovering on the coasts thereof, and having on board any person, with intent to sell such person as a slave, or with intent to land the same for that purpose, either in the United States or elsewhere, shall, together with her tackle, apparel, furniture, and the goods or effects on board of her, be forfeited to the United States. (R. S. § 5555; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 258, 35 Stat. 1140.)

434. (Criminal Code, section 259.) Forfeiture of interest in slave vessels; additional penalty.—It shall be unlawful for any citizen of the United States, or other person residing therein, or under the jurisdiction thereof, directly or indirectly to hold or have any right or property in any vessel employed or made use of in the transportation or carrying of slaves from one foreign country or place to another, and any such right or property shall be forfeited, and may be libeled and condemned for the use of the person suing for the same. Whoever shall violate the prohibition of this section shall also forfeit and pay a sum of money equal to double the value of his right or property in such vessel; and shall also forfeit a sum of money equal to double the value of the interest he had in the slaves which at any time may be transported or carried in such vessels. (R. S. § 5556; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 259, 35 Stat. 1140.)

435. (Criminal Code, section 260.) Seizure of vessels in slave trade.—The President is authorized, when he deems it expedient, to man and employ any of the armed vessels of the United States to cruise wherever he may judge attempts are making to carry on the slave trade, by citizens or residents of the United States, in contravention of laws prohibitory of the same; and, in such case, he shall instruct the commanders of such armed vessels to seize, take, and bring into any port of the United States, to be proceeded against according to law, all American vessels, wheresoever found, which may have on board, or which may be intended for the purpose of taking on board, or of transporting, or may have transported any person, in violation of the provisions of any Act of Congress prohibiting the traffic in slaves. (R. S. § 5557; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 260, 35 Stat. 1140.)

436. Criminal Code, section 261.) Proceeds of condemned vessels paid into Treasury.—The proceeds of all vessels, their tackle, apparel, and furniture, and the goods and effects on board of them, which are so seized, prosecuted, and condemned, shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States. (R. S. § 5558; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 261, 35 Stat. 1141.)

437. (Criminal Code, section 262.) Disposal of persons found on seized vessel.—The officers of the vessel making such seizure shall safely keep every person found on board of any vessel so seized, taken, or brought into port for condemnation, and shall deliver every such person to the marshal of the district into which he may be brought, if into a port of the United States, or if elsewhere, to such person as may be lawfully appointed by the President, in the manner directed by law, transmitting to the President, as soon as may be after such delivery, a descriptive list of such persons, in order that he may give directions for the disposal of them. (R. S. § 5559; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 262, 35 Stat. 1141.)

438. (Criminal Code, section 263.) Apprehension of officers and crew.—The commanders of such commissioned vessels shall cause to be apprehended and taken into custody every person found on board of such offending vessel so seized and taken, being of the officers or crew thereof, and him convey, as soon as conveniently may be, to the civil authority of the United States, to be proceeded against in due course of law. (R. S. § 5560; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 263, 35 Stat. 1141.)

439. (Criminal Code, section 264.) Removal of persons delivered from seized vessel.—The President is authorized to make such regulations and arrangements as he may deem expedient for the safe-keeping, support, and removal beyond the limits of the United States of all such persons as may be so delivered and brought within its jurisdiction. (R. S. § 5561; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 264, 35 Stat. 1141.)

440. (Criminal Code, section 265.) To what port captured vessel sent.—It shall be the duty of the commander of any armed vessel of the United States, whenever he makes any capture under the preceding provisions, to bring the vessel and her cargo, for adjudication, into some port of the State, Territory, or District to which such vessel so captured may belong, if he can ascertain the same; if not, then into any convenient port of the United States. (R. S. § 5563; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 265, 35 Stat. 1141.)

441. (Criminal Code, section 266.) When owners of foreign vessels shall give bond.—Every owner, master, or factor of any foreign vessel clearing from any port within the jurisdiction of the United States, and suspected to be intended for the slave trade, and the suspicion being declared to the officer of the customs by any citizen, on oath, and such information being to the satisfaction of the officer, shall first give bond, with sufficient sureties, to the Treasurer of the United States that none of the natives of any foreign country or place shall be taken on board such vessel to be transported or sold as slaves in any other foreign port or place whatever, within nine months thereafter. (R. S. § 5564; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 266, 35 Stat. 1141.)

442. (Criminal Code, section 267.) Instructions to masters of armed vessels.—The President is authorized to issue instructions to the commanders of the armed vessels of the United States, directing them, whenever it is practicable, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, to proceed directly to the country from which they were taken, and there hand over to the agent of the United States all such persons, delivered from on board vessels seized in the prosecution of the slave trade; and they shall afterwards bring the captured vessels and persons engaged in prosecuting such trade to the United States for trial and adjudication. (R. S. § 5567; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 267, 35 Stat. 1141.)

443. (Criminal Code, section 268.) Kidnaping.—Whoever kidnaps or carries away any other person, with the intent that such other person be sold into involuntary servitude, or held as a slave; or who entices, persuades, or induces any other person to go on board any vessel or to any other place with the intent that he may be made or held as a slave, or sent out of the country to be so made or held; or who in any way knowingly aids in causing any other person to be held, sold, or carried away to be held or sold as a slave, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5525; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 268, 35 Stat. 1141.)

444. (Criminal Code, section 269.) Holding or returning persons to peonage.—Whoever holds, arrests, returns, or causes to be held, arrested, or returned, or in any manner aids in the arrest or return of any person to a condition of peonage, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5526; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 269, 35 Stat. 1142.)

445. (Criminal Code, section 270.) Same; obstructing enforcement of law.—Whoever obstructs, or attempts to obstruct, or in any way interferes with or prevents the enforcement of section 444 of this title, shall be liable to the penalties therein prescribed. (R. S. § 5527; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 270, 35 Stat. 1142.)

446. (Criminal Code, section 271.) Bringing kidnaped person into United States.—Whoever shall knowingly and willfully bring into the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, any person inveigled or forcibly kidnaped in any other country, with intent to hold such person so inveigled or kidnaped in confinement or to any involuntary servitude; or whoever shall knowingly and willfully sell or cause to be sold, into any condition of involuntary servitude, any other person for any term whatever; or whoever shall knowingly and willfully hold to involuntary servitude any person so brought or sold, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (June 23, 1874, c. 464, § 1, 18 Stat. 251; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 271, 35 Stat. 1142.)

Section 451. (Criminal Code, section 272.) Places and waters applicable; on board American vessel on high seas or Great Lakes; on land under exclusive control of United States; guano islands.—The crimes and offenses defined in this chapter shall be punished as herein prescribed:

First. When committed upon the high seas, or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and out of the jurisdiction of any particular State, or when committed within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and out of the jurisdiction of any particular State on board any vessel belonging in whole or in part to the United States or any citizen thereof, or to any corporation created by or under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, or District thereof.

Second. When committed upon any vessel registered, licensed, or enrolled under the laws of the United States, and being on a voyage upon the waters of any of the Great Lakes, namely: Lake Superior, Lake Michigan, Lake Huron, Lake Saint Clair, Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, or any of the waters connecting any of said lakes, or upon the River Saint Lawrence where the same constitutes the international boundary line.

Third. When committed within or on any lands reserved or acquired for the exclusive use of the United States, and under the exclusive jurisdiction thereof, or any place purchased or otherwise acquired by the United States by consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of a fort, magazine, arsenal, dockyard, or other needful building.

Fourth. On any island, rock, or key, containing deposits of guano, which may, at the discretion of the President, be considered as appertaining to the United States. (R. S. § 5339; Sept. 4, 1890, c. 874, 26 Stat. 424; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 272, 35 Stat. 1142.)

452. (Criminal Code, section 273.) Murder; first degree; second degree.—Murder is the unlawful killing of a human being with malice aforethought. Every murder perpetrated by poison, lying in wait, or any other kind of willful, deliberate, malicious, and premeditated killing; or committed in the perpetration of, or attempt to perpetrate, any arson, rape, burglary, or robbery; or perpetrated from a premeditated design unlawfully and maliciously to effect the death of any human being other than him who is killed, is murder in the first degree. Any other murder is murder in the second degree. (R. S. § 5339; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 273, 35 Stat. 1143.)

453. (Criminal Code, section 274.) Manslaughter; voluntary; involuntary.—Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of a human being without malice. It is of two kinds:

Voluntary—Upon a sudden quarrel or heat of passion.

Involuntary—In the commission of an unlawful act not amounting to a felony, or in the commission of a lawful act which might produce death, in an unlawful manner, or without due caution and circumspection. (R. S. § 5341; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 274, 35 Stat. 1143.)

454. (Criminal Code, section 275.) Punishment; murder; manslaughter.—Every person guilty of murder in the first degree shall suffer death. Every person guilty of murder in the second degree shall be imprisoned not less than ten years and may be imprisoned for life. Every person guilty of voluntary manslaughter shall be imprisoned not more than ten years. Every person guilty of involuntary manslaughter shall be imprisoned not more than three years, or fined not exceeding $1,000, or both. (R. S. §§ 5339, 5343; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 275, 35 Stat. 1143.)

455. (Criminal Code, section 276.) Felonious assaults; to murder or rape; other felony; with weapons; beating; simple assault.—Whoever shall assault another with intent to commit murder, or rape, shall be imprisoned not more than twenty years. Whoever shall assault another with intent to commit any felony, except murder, or rape, shall be fined not more than $3,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. Whoever, with intent to do bodily harm, and without just cause or excuse, shall assault another with a dangerous weapon, instrument, or other thing, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. Whoever shall unlawfully strike, beat, or wound another, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. Whoever shall unlawfully assault another, shall be fined not more than $300, or imprisoned not more than three months, or both. (R. S. § 5346; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 276, 35 Stat. 1143.)

456. (Criminal Code, section 277.) Other attempts at murder.—Whoever shall attempt to commit murder or manslaughter, except as provided in the preceding section, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5342; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 277, 35 Stat. 1143.)

457. (Criminal Code, section 278.) Rape.—Whoever shall commit the crime of rape shall suffer death. (R. S. § 5345; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 278, 35 Stat. 1143.)

458. (Criminal Code, section 279.) Carnal knowledge of female under sixteen.—Whoever shall carnally and unlawfully know any female under the age of sixteen years, or shall be accessory to such carnal and unlawful knowledge before the fact, shall, for a first offense, be imprisoned not more than fifteen years, and for a subsequent offense be imprisoned not more than thirty years. (Feb. 9, 1889, c. 120, 25 Stat. 658; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 279, 35 Stat. 1143.)

459. (Criminal Code, section 280.) Seduction of female passenger on vessel.—Every master, officer, seaman, or other person employed on board of any American vessel, who, during the voyage, under promise of marriage, or by threats, or the exercise of authority, or solicitation, or the making of gifts or presents, seduces and has illicit connection with any female passenger, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both; but subsequent intermarriage of the parties may be pleaded in bar of conviction. (R. S. § 5349; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 280, 35 Stat. 1143.)

460. (Criminal Code, section 281.) Disposal of fine; evidence required.—When a person is convicted of a violation of the section last preceding, the court may, in its discretion, direct that the amount of the fine, when paid, be paid for the use of the female seduced, or her child, if she have any; but no conviction shall be had on the testimony of the female seduced, without other evidence, nor unless the indictment is found within one year after the arrival of the vessel on which the offense was committed at the port of its destination. (R. S. §§ 5350, 5351; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 281, 35 Stat. 1144.)

461. (Criminal Code, section 282.) Loss of life by misconduct of officers of vessels; liability of corporation officer.—Every captain, engineer, pilot, or other person employed on any steamboat or vessel, by whose misconduct, negligence, or inattention to his duties on such vessel the life of any person is destroyed, and every owner, charterer, inspector, or other public officer, through whose fraud, neglect, connivance, misconduct, or violation of law the life of any person is destroyed, shall be fined not more than $10.000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. When the owner or charterer of any steamboat or vessel shall be a corporation, any executive officer of such corporation, for the time being actually charged with the control and management of the operation, equipment, or navigation of such steamboat or vessel, who has knowingly and willfully caused or allowed such fraud, neglect, connivance, misconduct, or violation of law, by which the life of any person is destroyed, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5344; Mar. 3, 1905, c. 1454, § 5, 33 Stat. 1025; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 282, 35 Stat. 1144.)

462. (Criminal Code, section 283.) Maiming.—Whoever, with intent to maim or disfigure, shall cut, bite, or slit, the nose, ear, or lip, or cut out or disable the tongue, or put out or destroy an eye, or cut off or disable a limb or any member of another person; or whoever, with like intent, shall throw or pour upon another person, any scalding hot water, vitriol, or other corrosive acid, or caustic substance whatever, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than seven years, or both. (R. S. § 5348; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 283, 35 Stat. 1144.)

463. (Criminal Code, section 284.) Robbery.—Whoever, by force and violence, or by putting in fear, shall feloniously take from the person or presence of another anything of value, shall be imprisoned not more than fifteen years. (R. S. § 5370; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 284, 35 Stat. 1144.)

464. (Criminal Code, section 285.) Arson of dwelling house.—Whoever shall willfully and maliciously set fire to, burn, or attempt to burn, or by means of a dangerous explosive destroy or attempt to destroy, any dwelling house, or any store, barn, stable, or other building, parcel of a dwelling house, shall be imprisoned not more than twenty years. (R. S. § 5385; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 285, 35 Stat. 1144.)

465. (Criminal Code, section 286.) Arson of other buildings.—Whoever shall maliciously set fire to, burn, or attempt to burn, or by any means destroy or injure, or attempt to destroy or injure, any arsenal, armory, magazine, ropewalk, ship house, warehouse, blockhouse, or barrack, or any storehouse, barn, or stable, not parcel of a dwelling house, or any other building not mentioned in the section last preceding, or any vessel built, building, or undergoing repair, or any lighthouse, or beacon, or any machinery, timber, cables, rigging, or other materials or appliances for building, repairing, or fitting out vessels, or any pile of wood, boards, or other lumber, or any military, naval, or victualing stores, arms, or other munitions of war, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than twenty years. (R. S. §§ 5386, 5387; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 286, 35 Stat. 1144.)

466. (Criminal Code, section 287.) Larceny; determining value of written instrument.—Whoever shall take and carry away, with intent to steal or purloin, any personal property of another, shall be punished as follows: If the property taken is of a value exceeding $50, or is taken from the person of another, by a fine of not more than $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than ten years, or both: in all other cases, by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by imprisonment not more than one year, or both. If the property stolen consists of any evidence of debt, or other written instrument, the amount of money due thereon, or secured to be paid thereby and remaining unsatisfied, or which in any contingency might be collected thereon, or the value of the property the title to which is shown thereby, or the sum which might be recovered in the absence thereof, shall be deemed to be the value of the property stolen. (R. S. § 5356; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 287, 35 Stat. 1144.)

467. (Criminal Code, section 288.) Receiving stolen goods; trials.—Whoever shall buy, receive, or conceal, any money, goods, bank notes, or other thing which may be the subject of larceny, which has been feloniously taken, stolen, or embezzled, from any other person, knowing the same to have been so taken, stolen, or embezzled, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than three years; and such person may be tried either before or after the conviction of the principal offender. (R. S. § 5357; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 288, 35 Stat. 1145.)

468. (Criminal Code, section 289.) Laws of States adopted for punishing wrongful acts; effect of repeal.—Whoever, within the territorial limits of any State, organized Territory, or District, but within or upon any of the places now existing or hereafter reserved or acquired, described in section 451 of this title, shall do or omit the doing of any act or thing which is not made penal by any law of Congress, but which if committed or omitted within the jurisdiction of the State, Territory, or District in which such place is situated, by the laws thereof now in force would be penal, shall be deemed guilty of a like offense and be subject to a like punishment; and every such State, Territorial, or District law shall, for the purposes of this section, continue in force, notwithstanding any subsequent repeal or amendment thereof by any such State, Territory, or District. (R. S. § 5391; July 7, 1898, c. 576, § 2, 30 Stat. 717; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 289, 35 Stat. 1145.)

Section 481. (Criminal Code, section 290.) Piracy; punishment.—Whoever, on the high seas, commits the crime of piracy as defined by the law of nations, and is afterwards brought into or found in the United States, shall be imprisoned for life. (R. S. § 5368; Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 2, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 290, 35 Stat. 1145.)

482. (Criminal Code, section 291.) Maltreatment of crew by officers of vessel; flogging.—Whoever, being the master or officer of a vessel of the United States, on the high seas, or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, beats, wounds, or without justifiable cause, imprisons any of the crew of such vessel, or withholds from them suitable food and nourishment, or inflicts upon them any cruel and unusual punishment, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. This section shall not be construed to repeal or modify section 712 of Title 46. (R. S. § 5347; Mar. 3, 1897, c. 389, § 18, 29 Stat. 691; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 291, 35 Stat. 1145.)

483. (Criminal Code, section 292.) Inciting revolt or mutiny on shipboard.—Whoever, being of the crew of a vessel of the United States, on the high seas, or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, endeavors to make a revolt or mutiny on board such vessel, or combines, conspires, or confederates with any other person on board to make such revolt or mutiny, or solicits, incites, or stirs up any other of the crew to disobey or resist the lawful orders of the master or other officer of such vessel, or to refuse or neglect their proper duty on board thereof, or to betray their proper trust, or assembles with others in a tumultuous and mutinous manner, or makes a riot on board thereof, or unlawfully confines the master or other commanding officer thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both. (R. S. § 5359; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 292, 35 Stat. 1146.)

484. (Criminal Code, section 293.) Revolt or mutiny on shipboard.—Whoever, being of the crew of a vessel of the United States, on the high seas, or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, unlawfully and with force, or by fraud, or intimidation, usurps the command of such vessel from the master or other lawful officer in command thereof, or deprives him of authority and command on board, or resists or prevents him in the free and lawful exercise thereof, or transfers such authority and command to another not lawfully entitled thereto, is guilty of a revolt and mutiny, and shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5360; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 293, 35 Stat. 1146.)

485. (Criminal Code, section 294.) Seaman laying violent hands on commander.—Whoever, being a seaman, lays violent hands upon his commander, thereby to hinder and prevent his fighting in defense of his vessel or the goods intrusted to him, is a pirate, and shall be imprisoned for life. (R. S. § 5369; Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 2, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 294, 35 Stat. 1146.)

486. (Criminal Code, section 295.) Abandonment of mariner in foreign port.—Whoever, being master or commander of a vessel of the United States, while abroad, maliciously and without justifiable cause forces any officer or mariner of such vessel on shore, in order to leave him behind in any foreign port or place, or refuses to bring home again all such officers and mariners of such vessel whom he carried out with him, as are in a condition to return and willing to return, when he is ready to proceed on his homeward voyage, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (R. S. § 5363; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 295, 35 Stat. 1146.)

487. (Criminal Code, section 296.) Conspiracy to cast away vessel.—Whoever, on the high seas, or within the United States, willfully and corruptly conspires, combines, and confederates with any other person, such other person being either within or without the United States, to cast away or otherwise destroy any vessel, with intent to injure any person that may have underwritten or may thereafter underwrite any policy of insurance thereon or on goods on board thereof, or with intent to injure any person that has lent or advanced, or may lend or advance, any money on such vessel on bottomry or respondentia; or whoever, within the United States, builds, or fits out, or aids in building or fitting out, any vessel with intent that the same be cast away or destroyed, with the intent hereinbefore mentioned, shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5364; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 296, 35 Stat. 1146.)

488. (Criminal Code, section 297.) Plundering vessel in distress; obstructing escape of wrecked person; holding false light.—Whoever plunders, steals, or destroys any money, goods, merchandise, or other effects, from or belonging to any vessel in distress, or wrecked, lost, stranded, or cast away, upon the sea, or upon any reef, shoal, bank, or rocks of the sea, or in any other place within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years; and whoever willfully obstructs the escape of any person endeavoring to save his life from such vessel, or the wreck thereof; or whoever holds out or shows any false light, or extinguishes any true light, with intent to bring any vessel sailing upon the sea into danger, or distress, or shipwreck, shall be imprisoned not less than ten years and may be imprisoned for life. (R. S. § 5358; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 297, 35 Stat. 1146.)

489. (Criminal Code, section 298.) Attacking vessel with intent to plunder.—Whoever, upon the high seas or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, by surprise or by open force, maliciously attacks or sets upon any vessel belonging to another, with an intent unlawfully to plunder the same, or to despoil any owner thereof of any moneys, goods, or merchandise laden on board thereof, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. § 5361; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 298, 35 Stat. 1147.)

490. (Criminal Code, section 299.) Breaking and entering vessel.—Whoever, upon the high seas or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, and out of the jurisdiction of any particular State, breaks or enters any vessel, with intent to commit any felony, or maliciously cuts, spoils, or destroys any cordage, cable, buoys, buoy rope, head fast, or other fast, fixed to the anchor or moorings belonging to any vessel, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than five years. (R. S. § 5362; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 299, 35 Stat. 1147.)

491. (Criminal Code, section 300.) Destroying vessel at sea; owner.—Whoever, upon the high seas or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, willfully and corruptly casts away or otherwise destroys any vessel, of which he is owner, in whole or in part, with intent to prejudice any person that may underwrite any policy of insurance thereon, or any merchant that may have goods thereon, or any other owner of such vessel, shall be imprisoned for life or for any term of years. (R. S. § 5365; Aug. 6, 1894, c. 227, § 1, 28 Stat. 233; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 300, 35 Stat. 1147.)

492. (Criminal Code, section 301.) Same; other person.—Whoever, not being an owner, upon the high seas or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, willfully and corruptly casts away or otherwise destroys any vessel of the United States to which he belongs, or, willfully, with intent to destroy the same, sets fire to any such vessel, or otherwise attempts the destruction thereof, shall be imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. §§ 5366, 5367; Aug. 6, 1894, c. 227, § 2, 28 Stat. 233; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 301, 35 Stat. 1147.)

493. (Criminal Code, section 302.) Robbery on shore by piratical crew.—Whoever, being engaged in any piratical cruise, or enterprise, or being of the crew of any piratical vessel, lands from such vessel, and on shore commits robbery, is a pirate, and shall be imprisoned for life. (R. S. § 5371; Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 2, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 302, 35 Stat. 1147.)

494. (Criminal Code, section 303.) Arming vessel to cruise against citizens; trials.—Whoever, being a citizen of the United States, without the limits thereof, fits out and arms, or attempts to fit out and arm, or procures to be fitted out and armed, or knowingly aids or is concerned in furnishing, fitting out, or arming, any private vessel of war or privateer, with intent that such vessel shall be employed to cruise or commit hostilities upon the citizens of the United States or their property, or whoever takes the command of or enters on board of any such vessel, for such intent, or who purchases any interest in any such vessel with a view to share in the profits thereof, shall be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than ten years. The trial for such offense, if committed without the limits of the United States, shall be in the district in which the offender shall be apprehended or first brought. (R. S. § 5324; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 303, 35 Stat. 1147.)

495. (Criminal Code, section 304.) Piracy under color of foreign commission.—Whoever, being a citizen of the United States, commits any murder or robbery, or any act of hostility against the United States, or against any citizen thereof, on the high seas, under color of any commission from any foreign prince, or State, or on pretense of authority from any person, is, notwithstanding the pretense of such authority, a pirate, and shall be imprisoned for life. (R. S. § 5373; Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 2, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 304, 35 Stat. 1147.)

496. (Criminal Code, section 305.) Piracy by aliens.—Whoever, being a citizen or subject of any foreign State, is found and taken on the sea making war upon the United States, or cruising against the vessels and property thereof, or of the citizens of the same, contrary to the provisions of any treaty existing between the United States and the State of which the offender is a citizen or subject, when by such treaty such acts are declared to be piracy, is guilty of piracy, and shall be imprisoned for life. (R. S. § 5374; Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 2, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 305, 35 Stat. 1147.)

497. (Criminal Code, section 306.) Running away with or yielding up vessel or cargo.—Whoever, being a captain or other officer or mariner of a vessel upon the high seas or on any other waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, piratically or feloniously runs away with such vessel, or with any goods or merchandise thereof, to the value of $50, or who yields up such vessel voluntarily to any pirate, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. (R. S. § 5383; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 306, 35 Stat. 1148.)

498. (Criminal Code, section 307.) Confederating with pirates; confining master.—Whoever attempts or endeavors to corrupt any commander, master, officer, or mariner to yield up or to run away with any vessel, or with any goods, wares, or merchandise, or to turn pirate or to go over to or confederate with pirates, or in any wise to trade with any pirate, knowing him to be such, or furnishes such pirate with any ammunition, stores, or provisions of any kind, or fits out any vessel knowingly and, with a design to trade with, supply, or correspond with any pirate or robber upon the seas; or whoever consults, combines, confederates, or corresponds with any pirate or robber upon the seas, knowing him to be guilty of any piracy or robbery; or whoever, being a seaman, confines the master of any vessel, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than three years. (R. S. § 5384; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 307, 35 Stat. 1148.)

499. (Criminal Code, section 308.) Selling arms or intoxicants in Pacific islands; medicinal use of spirits.—Whoever, being subject to the authority of the United States, shall give, sell, or otherwise supply any arms, ammunition, explosive substance, intoxicating liquor, or opium to any aboriginal native of any of the Pacific islands lying within the twentieth parallel of north latitude and the fortieth parallel of south latitude, and the one hundred and twentieth meridian of longitude west and one hundred and twentieth meridian of longitude east of Greenwich, not being in the possession or under the protection of any civilized power, shall be fined not more than $50, or imprisoned not more than three months, or both. In addition to such punishment, all articles of a similar nature to those in respect to which an offense has been committed, found in the possession of the offender, may be declared forfeited. If it shall appear to the court that such opium, wine, or spirits have been given bona fide for medical purposes, it shall be lawful for the court to dismiss the charge. (Feb. 14, 1902, c. 18, §§ 1, 2, 32 Stat. 33; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 308, 35 Stat. 1148.)

500. (Criminal Code, section 309.) Offenses deemed on high seas.—All offenses against the provisions of the section last preceding, committed on any of said islands or on the waters, rocks, or keys adjacent thereto, shall be deemed committed on the high seas on board a merchant ship or vessel belonging to the United States, and the courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction accordingly. (Feb. 14, 1902, c. 18, § 3, 32 Stat. 33; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 309, 35 Stat. 1148.)

501. (Criminal Code, section 310.) "Vessel of the United States" defined.—The words "vessel of the United States," wherever they occur in this chapter, shall be construed to mean a vessel belonging in whole or in part to the United States, or any citizen thereof, or any corporation created by or under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, or District thereof. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 310, 35 Stat. 1148.)

502. Injuring vessels engaged in foreign commerce.—Whoever shall set fire to any vessel of foreign registry, or any vessel of American registry entitled to engage in commerce with foreign nations, or to any vessel of the United States as defined in section 501 of this title, or to the cargo of the same, or shall tamper with the motive power or instrumentalities of navigation of such vessel, or shall place bombs or explosives in or upon such vessel, or shall do any other act to or upon such vessel while within the jurisdiction of the United States, or, if such vessel is of American registry, while she is on the high sea, with intent to injure or endanger the safety of the vessel or of her cargo, or of persons on board, whether the injury or danger is so intended to take place within the jurisdiction of the United States, or after the vessel shall have departed therefrom; or whoever shall attempt or conspire to do any such acts with such intent, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than twenty years, or both. The term "United States," as used in this section, includes the Canal Zone and all territory and waters, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title III, § 1, 40 Stat. 221; June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, § 1, 40 Stat. 231.)

519. (Criminal Code, section 319.) Recording certificates of marriage; evidence of marriage; punishment for violations.—Every ceremony of marriage, or in the nature of a marriage ceremony of any kind, whether either or both or more of the parties to such ceremony be lawfully competent to be the subjects of such marriage or ceremony or not, shall be certified by a certificate stating the fact and nature of such ceremony, the full name of each of the parties concerned, and the full name of every officer, priest, and person, by whatever style or designation called or known, in any way taking part in the performance of such ceremony, which certificate shall be drawn up and signed by the parties to such ceremony and by every officer, priest, and person taking part in the performance of such ceremony, and shall be by the officer, priest, or other person solemnizing such marriage or ceremony filed in the office of the probate court, or, if there be none, in the office of the court having probate powers in the county or district in which such ceremony shall take place, for record, and shall be immediately recorded, and be at all times subject to inspection as other public records. Such certificate, or the record thereof, or a duly certified copy of such record, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts required by this section to be stated therein in any proceeding, civil or criminal, in which the matter shall be drawn in question. Nothing in this section shall be held to prevent the proof of marriages, whether lawful or unlawful, by any evidence otherwise legally admissible for that purpose. Whoever shall willfully violate any provision of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both. The provisions of this section shall apply only within the Territories of the United States. (Mar. 3, 1887, c. 397, §§ 9, 10, 24 Stat. 636; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 319, 35 Stat. 1149.)

520. (Criminal Code, section 320.) Prize fights and bull fights.—Whoever shall voluntarily engage in a pugilistic encounter between man and man or a fight between a man and a bull or any other animal, for money or for other thing of value, or for any championship, or upon the result of which any money or anything of value is bet or wagered, or to see which any admission fee is directly or indirectly charged, shall be imprisoned not more than five years. The provisions of this section shall apply only within the Territories of the United States and the District of Columbia. (Feb. 7, 1896, c. 12, § 1, 29 Stat. 5; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 320, 35 Stat. 1150.)

521. (Criminal Code, section 321.) Same; "pugilistic encounter" defined.—By the terms "pugilistic encounter," as used in section 520 of this title, is meant any voluntary fight by blows by means of fists or otherwise, whether with or without gloves, between two or more men, for money or for a prize of any character, or for any other thing of value, or for any championship, or upon the result of which any money or anything of value is bet or wagered, or to see which any admission fee is directly or indirectly charged. (Feb. 7, 1896, c. 12, § 2, 29 Stat. 5; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321 § 321, 35 Stat. 1150.)

522. (Criminal Code, section 322.) Train robberies.—Whoever shall willfully and maliciously trespass upon or enter upon any railroad train, railroad car, or railroad locomotive, with the intent to commit murder, or robbery, shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than twenty years, or both. Whoever shall willfully and maliciously trespass upon or enter upon any railroad train, railroad car, or railroad locomotive, with intent to commit any unlawful violence upon or against any passenger on said train, or car, or upon or against any engineer, conductor, fireman, brakeman, or any officer or employee connected with said locomotive, train, or car, or upon or against any express messenger or mail agent on said train or in any car thereof, or to commit any crime or offense against any person or property thereon, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. Whoever shall counsel, aid, abet, or assist in the perpetration of any of the offenses set forth in this section shall be deemed to be a principal therein. Upon the trial of any person charged with any offense set forth in this section, it shall not be necessary to set forth or prove the particular person against whom it was intended to commit the offense, or that it was intended to commit such offense against any particular person. (July 1, 1902, c. 1376, 32 Stat. 727; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 322, 35 Stat. 1150.)

523. Discrimination by proprietors of theaters against persons wearing uniform of Army, Navy, etc.—No proprietor, manager, or employee of a theater or other public place of entertainment or amusement in the District of Columbia, or in any Territory, the District of Alaska or insular possession of the United States, shall make, or cause to be made, any discrimination against any person lawfully wearing the uniform of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps of the United States because of that uniform, and any person making, or causing to be made, such discrimination shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding $500. (Mar. 1, 1911, c. 187, 36 Stat. 963; Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, §, 38 Stat. 800.)

533. Prosecutions prior to taking effect of law.
534. Limitations.
535. Offenses prior to date of certain sections.
536. Partial invalidity of certain sections.

532. (Criminal Code, section 342.) Pending actions not affected.—The repeal of existing laws or modifications thereof embraced in sections 1 to 553, 567, 568, and 571 to 573 of this title, shall not affect any act done, or any right accruing or accrued, or any suit or proceeding had or commenced in any civil cause prior to said repeal or modifications, but all liabilities under said laws shall continue and may be enforced in the same manner as if said repeal or modifications had not been made. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 342, 35 Stat. 1159.)

533. (Criminal Code, section 343.) Prosecutions prior to taking effect of law.—All offenses committed, and all penalties, forfeitures, or liabilities incurred prior to January 1, 1910, under any law embraced in, or changed, modified, or repealed by sections 1 to 553, 567, 568 and 571 to 573 of this title, may be prosecuted and punished in the same manner and with the same effect as if the said sections had not been passed. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 343, 35 Stat. 1159.)

534. (Criminal Code, section 344.) Limitations.—All acts of limitation, whether applicable to civil causes and proceedings, or for the recovery of penalties or forfeitures, embraced in, modified, changed, or repealed by sections 1 to 553, 567, 568, and 571 to 573 of this title, shall not be affected thereby; and all suits or proceedings for causes arising or acts done or committed prior to January 1, 1910, may be commenced and prosecuted within the same time and with the same effect as if said repeal had not been made. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 344, 35 Stat. 1159.)

535. Offenses prior to date of certain sections.—Offenses committed and penalties, forfeitures, or liabilities incurred prior to June 15, 1917, under any law embraced in, or changed, modified, or repealed by, sections 25, 27, 31 to 38, 98, 130 to 132, 343 to 345, and 611 to 633 of this title, and sections 213, 220 to 222, 231 to 234, and 238 to 245 of Title 22, may be prosecuted and punished, and suits and proceedings for causes arising or acts done or committed prior to said date may be commenced and prosecuted, in the same manner and with the same effect as if said sections had not been passed. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII. § 3, 40 Stat. 231.)

536. Partial invalidity of certain sections.—If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of the sections enumerated in section 535 of this title shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, or paragraph thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, § 4, 40 Stat. 231.)

Section 541. (Criminal Code, section 335.) Felonies and misdemeanors.—All offenses which may be punished by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year, shall be deemed felonies. All other offenses shall be deemed misdemeanors. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 335, 35 Stat. 1152.)

542. (Criminal Code, section 323.) Death penalty by hanging.—The manner of inflicting the punishment of death shall be by hanging. (R. S. § 5325; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 323, 35 Stat. 1151.)

543. (Criminal Code, section 331.) Body of executed offender for dissection.—The court before which any person is convicted of murder in the first degree, or rape, may, in its discretion, add to the judgment of death, that the body of the offender be delivered to a surgeon for dissection; and the marshal who executes such judgment shall deliver the body, after execution, to such surgeon as the court may direct; and such surgeon, or some person appointed by him, shall receive and take away the body at the time of execution. (R. S. § 5340; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 331, 35 Stat. 1152.)

544. (Criminal Code, section 324.) Corruption of blood and forfeiture of estate excluded.—No conviction or judgment shall work corruption of blood or any forfeiture of estate. (R. S. § 5326; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 324, 35 Stat. 1151.)

545. (Criminal Code, section 325.) Whipping and pillory abolished.—The punishment of whipping and of standing in the pillory shall not be inflicted. (R. S. § 5327; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 325, 35 Stat. 1151.)

546. (Criminal Code, section 340.) Jurisdiction of district courts.—The crimes and offenses defined in this title shall be cognizable in the district courts of the United States, as prescribed in section 41 of Title 28. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 340, 35 Stat. 1153.)

547. (Criminal Code, section 326.) Jurisdiction of State courts.—Nothing in sections 1 to 553, 567, 568 and 571 of this title shall be held to take away or impair the jurisdiction of the courts of the several States under the laws thereof. (R. S. § 5328; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 326, 35 Stat. 1151.)

548. (Criminal Code, section 328.) Indians committing certain crime; acts on reservations; rape on Indian woman.—All Indians committing against the person or property of another Indian or other person any of the following crimes, namely—murder, manslaughter, rape, assault with intent to kill, assault with a dangerous weapon, arson, burglary, and larceny, within any Territory of the United States, and either within or without an Indian reservation, shall be subject therefor to the laws of such Territory relating to said crimes, and shall be tried therefor in the same courts and in the same manner and shall be subject to the same penalties as are all other persons charged with the commission of said crimes, respectively; and the said courts are hereby given jurisdiction in all such cases. And all such Indians committing any of the above-named crimes against the person or property of another Indian or other person within the boundaries of any State of the United States, and within the limits of any Indian reservation, shall be subject to the same laws, tried in the same courts and in the same manner, and be subject to the same penalties as are all other persons committing any of the above crimes within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States. Any Indian who shall commit the offense of rape upon any female Indian within the limits of any Indian reservation shall be imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (Mar. 3, 1885, c. 341, § 9, 23 Stat. 385; Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 5, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 328, 35 Stat. 1151.)

549. (Criminal Code, section 329.) Crimes committed on Indian reservations in South Dakota; rape of female Indian.—The district courts of the United States for the district of South Dakota shall have jurisdiction to hear, try, and determine all actions and proceedings in which any person shall be charged with the crime of murder, manslaughter, rape, assault with intent to kill, assault with a dangerous weapon, arson, burglary, or larceny, committed within the limits of any Indian reservation in the State of South Dakota. Any person convicted of murder, manslaughter, rape, arson, or burglary, committed within the limits of any such reservation, shall be subject to the same punishment as is imposed upon persons committing said crimes within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States. Any Indian who shall commit the crime of rape upon any female Indian within any such reservation shall be imprisoned at the discretion of the court. Any person convicted of the crime of assault with intent to kill, assault with a dangerous weapon, or larceny, committed within the limits of any such reservation, shall be subject to the same punishment as is provided in cases of other persons convicted of any of said crimes under the laws of the State of South Dakota. (Feb. 2, 1903, c. 351, 32 Stat. 793; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 329, 35 Stat. 1151.)

550. (Criminal Code, section 332.) "Principals" defined.—Whoever directly commits any act constituting an offense defined in any law of the United States, or aids, abets, counsels, commands, induces, or procures its commission, is a principal. (R. S. §§ 5323, 5427; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 332, 35 Stat. 1152.)

551. (Criminal Code, section 333.) Punishment of accessories.—Whoever, except as otherwise expressly provided by law, being an accessory after the fact to the commission of any offense defined in any law of the United States, shall be imprisoned not exceeding one-half the longest term of imprisonment, or fined not exceeding one-half the largest fine prescribed for the punishment of the principal, or both, if the principal is punishable by both fine and imprisonment; or if the principal is punishable by death, then an accessory shall be imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. §§ 5538–5535; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 333, 35 Stat. 1152.)

552. (Criminal Code, section 334.) Same; robbery or piracy.—Whoever, without lawful authority, receives or takes into custody any vessel, goods, or other property, feloniously taken by any robber or pirate against the laws of the United States, knowing the same to have been feloniously taken, and whoever, knowing that such pirate or robber has done or committed any such piracy or robbery, on the land or at sea, receives, entertains, or conceals any such pirate or robber, is an accessory after the fact to such robbery or piracy, and shall be imprisoned not more than ten years. (R. S. §§ 5324, 5533; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 334, 35 Stat. 1152.)

553. (Criminal Code, section 336.) Place of committal of murder or manslaughter determined.—In all cases of murder or manslaughter, the crime shall be deemed to have been committed at the place where the injury was inflicted, or the poison administered or other means employed which caused the death, without regard to the place where the death occurs. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 336, 35 Stat. 1152.)

554. Indictments and presentments; by twelve grand jurors.—No indictment shall be found, nor shall any presentment be made, without the concurrence of at least twelve grand jurors. (R. S. § 1021.)

555. Same; offenses against elective franchise.—All crimes and offenses committed against the provisions of sections 54 to 59, 428, and 443 to 445 of this title, which are not infamous, may be prosecuted either by indictment or by information filed by a district attorney. (R. S. § 1022.)

556. Same; defects of form.—No indictment found and presented by a grand jury in any district or other court of the United States shall be deemed insufficient, nor shall the trial, judgment, or other proceeding thereon be affected by reason of any defect or imperfection in matter of form only, which shall not tend to the prejudice of the defendant. (R. S. § 1025.)

557. Same; joinder of charges.—When there are several charges against any person for the same act or transaction, or for two or more acts or transactions connected together, or for two or more acts or transactions of the same class of crimes or offenses, which may be properly joined, instead of having several indictments the whole may be joined in one indictment in separate counts; and if two or more indictments are found in such cases, the court may order them to be consolidated. (R. S. § 1024.)

558. Same; perjury.—In every presentment or indictment prosecuted against any person for perjury, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offense charged upon the defendant, and by what court, and before whom the oath was taken, averring such court or person to have competent authority to administer the same, together with the proper averment to falsify the matter wherein the perjury is assigned, without setting forth the bill, answer, information, indictment, declaration, or any part of any record or proceeding, either in law or equity, or any affidavit, deposition, or certificate, other than as hereinbefore stated, and without setting forth the commission or authority of the court or person before whom the perjury was committed. (R. S. § 5396.)

559. Same; subornation of perjury.—In every presentment or indictment for subornation of perjury, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offense charged upon the defendant, without setting forth the bill, answer, information, indictment, declaration, or any part of any record or proceeding either in law or equity, or any affidavit, deposition, or certificate, and without setting forth the commission or authority of the court or person before whom the perjury was committed, or was agreed or promised to be committed. (R. S. § 5397.)

560. Same; perjury before naval court-martial.—In prosecutions for perjury committed on examination before a naval general court-martial, or for the subornation thereof, it shall be sufficient to set forth the offense charged on the defendant, without setting forth the authority by which the court was held, or the particular matters brought before, or intended to be brought before, said court. (R. S. § 1023.)

561. Same; judgment on demurrer.—In every case in any court of the United States, where a demurrer is interposed to an indictment, or to any count or counts thereof, or to any information, and the demurrer is overruled, the judgment shall be respondeat ouster; and thereupon a trial may be ordered at the same term, or a continuance may be ordered, as justice may require. (R. S. § 1026.)

562. Copy of indictment and list of jurors and witnesses for prisoner.—When any person is indicted of treason, a copy of the indictment and a list of the jury, and of the witnesses to be produced on the trial for proving the indictment, stating the place of abode of each juror and witness, shall be delivered to him at least three entire days before he is tried for the same. When any person is indicted of any other capital offense, such copy of the indictment and list of the jurors and witnesses shall be delivered to him at least two entire days before the trial. (R. S. § 1033.)

563. Counsel and witnesses for persons indicted for capital crimes.—Every person who is indicted of treason or other capital crime, shall be allowed to make his full defense by counsel learned in the law; and the court before which he is tried, or some judge thereof, shall immediately, upon his request, assign to him such counsel, not exceeding two, as he may desire, and they shall have free access to him at all seasonable hours. He shall be allowed, in his defense, to make any proof that he can produce by lawful witnesses, and shall have the like process of the court to compel his witnesses to appear at his trial, as is usually granted to compel witnesses to appear on behalf of the prosecution. (R. S. § 1034.)

564. Standing mute.—When any person indicted for any offense against the United States, whether capital or otherwise, upon his arraignment stands mute, or refuses to plead or answer thereto, it shall be the duty of the court to enter the plea of not guilty on his behalf, in the same manner as if he had pleaded not guilty thereto. And when the party pleads not guilty, or such plea is entered as aforesaid, the cause shall be deemed at issue, and shall, without further form or ceremony, be tried by a jury. (R. S. § 1032.)

565. Verdicts; less offense than charged.—In all criminal causes the defendant may be found guilty of any offense the commission of which is necessarily included in that with which he is charged in the indictment, or may be found guilty of an attempt to commit the offense so charged, if such attempt be itself a separate offense. (R. S. § 1035.)

566. Same; several joint defendants.—On an indictment against several, if the jury can not agree upon a verdict as to all, they may render a verdict as to those in regard to whom they do agree, on which a judgment shall be entered accordingly; and the cause as to the other defendants may be tried by another jury. (R. S. § 1036.)

567. (Criminal Code, section 330.) Same; qualified verdicts.—In all cases where the accused is found guilty of the crime of murder in the first degree, or rape, the jury may qualify their verdict by adding thereto "without capital punishment"; and whenever the jury shall return a verdict qualified as aforesaid, the person convicted shall be sentenced to imprisonment for life. (Jan. 15, 1897, c. 29, § 1, 29 Stat. 487; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 330, 35 Stat. 1152.)

568. (Criminal Code, section 327.) Pardoning power.—Whenever, by the judgment of any court or judicial officer of the United States, in any criminal proceeding, any person is sentenced to two kinds of punishment, the one pecuniary and the other corporal, the President shall have full discretionary power to pardon or remit, in whole, or in part, either one of the two kinds, without, in any manner, impairing the legal validity of the other kind, or of any portion of either kind, not pardoned or remitted. (R. S. § 5330; Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 327, 35 Stat. 1151.)

569. Judgments for fines; collection.—In all criminal or penal causes in which judgment or sentence has been or shall be rendered, imposing the payment of a fine or penalty, whether alone or with any other kind of punishment, the said judgment, so far as the fine or penalty is concerned, may be enforced by execution against the property of the defendant in like manner as judgments in civil cases are enforced. Where the judgment directs that the defendant shall be imprisoned until the fine or penalty imposed is paid, the issue of execution on the judgment shall not operate to discharge the defendant from imprisonment until the amount of the judgment is collected or otherwise paid. (R. S. § 1041.)

570. Disposition of bribe moneys.—All moneys received or tendered in evidence in any case, proceeding, or investigation in any United States court, or before any officer thereof, which have been paid to or received by any official as a bribe, shall after the conclusion and final disposition of the particular case, proceeding, or investigation in which it was received as evidence, be deposited in the registry of the court to be disposed of under and in accordance with the order, judgment or decree of the said court, to be subject, however, to the provisions of section 852 of Title 28. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 83, 43 Stat. 726.)

571. (Criminal Code, section 337.) Construction of words.—Words used in sections 1 to 553, 567, 568, and 571 to 573 of this title in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter; the singular number includes the plural, and the plural the singular; the word "person" and the word "whoever" include a corporation as well as a natural person; writing includes printing and typewriting, and signature or subscription includes a mark when the person making the same intended it as such. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 337, 35 Stat. 1152.)

572. (Criminal Code, section 338.) Effect of omitting "hard labor."—The omission of the words "hard labor" from the provisions prescribing the punishment in the various sections of this title, shall not be construed as depriving the court of the power to impose hard labor as a part of the punishment, in any case where such power now exists. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 338, 35 Stat. 1153.)

573. (Criminal Code, section 339.) Arrangement and classification of sections.—No inference or presumption of a legislative construction of sections 1 to 553, 567, 568, and 571 to 573 of this title is to be drawn by reason of the chapters under which any particular section thereof is placed. (Mar. 4, 1909, c. 321, § 339, 35 Stat. 1153.)

574. Jurisdiction of offenses under certain sections.—The several courts of first instance in the Philippine Islands and the district court of the Canal Zone shall have jurisdiction of offenses under sections 25, 27, 81 to 88, 98, 130 to 132, 343 to 345, and 611 to 633 of this title, and sections 218, 220 to 222, 231 to 234, and 238 to 245 of Title 22, committed within their respective districts, and concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts of the United States of offenses under said sections committed upon the high seas, and of conspiracies to commit such offenses, as defined by section 88 of this title, and the provisions of section 88 of this title, for the purpose of the sections hereinbefore enumerated, are hereby extended to the Philippine Islands and to the Canal Zone. In such cases, the district attorneys of the Philippine Islands and of the Canal Zone shall have the powers and perform the duties provided in the sections hereinbefore enumerated for United States attorneys. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, § 2, 40 Stat. 231.)

Chapter 16.—LIMITATIONS.

Sec.
581. Capital offenses.
582. Offenses not capital.
583. Fleeing from justice.
584. Crimes under slave trade laws.
585. Crimes under internal revenue laws.
586. Same; prosecutions instituted prior to amendment of preceding section.

Section 581. Capital offenses.—No person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for treason or other capital offense, willful murder excepted, unless the indictment found within three years next after such treason or capital offense is done or committed. (R. S. § 1043.)

582. Offenses not capital.—No person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any offense, not capital, except as provided in section 584 of this title, unless the indictment is found, or the information is instituted, within three years next after such offense shall have been committed: Provided, however, That in offenses involving the defrauding or attempts to defraud the United States or any agency thereof, whether by conspiracy or not, and in any manner, and now indictable under any existing statutes, the period of limitation shall be six years. This section shall apply to acts, offenses, or transactions where the existing statute of limitations had not yet fully run on November 17, 1921; but the proviso shall not apply to acts, offenses, or transactions which on that date were already barred by the provisions of existing laws. (R. S. § 1044; Apr. 13, 1876, c. 56, 19 Stat. 32; Nov. 17, 1921, c. 124, § 1, 42 Stat. 220.)

583. Fleeing from justice.—Nothing in sections 581 and 582 of this title shall extend to any person fleeing from justice. (R. S. § 1045.)

584. Crimes under slave trade laws.—No person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any crime arising under the slave trade laws of the United States, unless the indictment is found or the information is instituted within five years next after the committing of such crime. (R. S. § 1046.)

585. Crimes under internal revenue laws.—No person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any of the various offenses arising under the internal revenue laws of the United States unless the indictment is found or the information instituted within three years next after the commission of the offense. For offenses involving the defrauding or attempting to defraud the United States or any agency thereof, whether by conspiracy or not, and in any manner, the period of limitation shall be six years, which period of limitation shall not apply to acts, offenses, or transactions which were barred by law on June 2, 1924. The time during which the person committing the offense is absent from the district wherein the same is committed shall not be taken as any part of the time limited by law for the commencement of such proceedings. The provisions of this section shall not apply to offenses committed prior to June 2, 1924. Where a complaint shall be instituted before a commissioner of the United States within the period above limited, the time shall be extended until the discharge of the grand jury at its next session within the district. This section shall not apply to offenses committed by officers of the United States. (July 5, 1884, c. 225, § 1, 23 Stat. 122; Nov. 23, 1921, c. 136, § 1321(a), 42 Stat. 315; June 2, 1924, 4.01 p. m., c. 234, § 1010(a), 43 Stat. 341.)

586. Same; prosecutions instituted prior to amendment of preceding section.—Any prosecution or proceeding under an indictment found or information instituted prior to November 23, 1921, shall not be affected in any manner by section 585 of this title, nor by the amendment on that date of the law now embraced in that section, but such prosecution or proceeding shall be subject to the limitations imposed by law prior to that date. (June 2, 1924, 4.01 p. m., c. 234, § 1010(b), 43 Stat. 342.)

Chapter 17.—ARREST, BAIL, AND COMMITMENT.

Sec.
591. Arrest and removal for trial.
592. Arrest and removal to or from the Philippine Islands.
593. Operating illicit distillery; arrest; bail.
594. Violations of internal revenue laws; warrant for arrest.
595. Persons arrested taken before nearest officer for hearing.
596. Bail; cases not capital.
597. Same; capital cases.
598. Same; cases removed from State courts.
599. Surrender by bail.
600. New bail.
601. Remission of penalty of recognizance.
602. Writs; several indictments against same person.
603. Same; copy as jailer's authority.
604. Same; for removal of prisoner.
605. Same; to bring prisoner into court.

Section 591. Arrest and removal for trial.—For any crime or offense against the United States, the offender may, by any justice or judge of the United States, or by any United States commissioner, or by any chancellor, judge of a supreme or superior court, chief or first judge of common pleas, mayor of a city, justice of the peace, or other magistrate, of any State where he may be found, and agreeably to the usual mode of process against offenders in such State, and at the expense of the United States, be arrested and imprisoned, or bailed, as the case may be, for trial before such court of the United States as by law has cognizance of the offense. Copies of the process shall be returned as speedily as may be into the clerk's office of such court, together with the recognizances of the witnesses for their appearance to testify in the case. Where any offender or witness is committed in any district other than that where the offense is to be tried, it shall be the duty of the judge of the district where such offender or witness is imprisoned, seasonably to issue, and of the marshal to execute, a warrant for his removal to the district where the trial is to be had. (R. S. § 1014; May 28, 1896, c. 252, § 19, 29 Stat. 184; Mar. 2, 1901, c. 814, 31 Stat. 956.)

592. Arrest and removal to or from the Philippine Islands.—The provisions of section 591 of this title, so far as applicable, shall apply throughout the United States for the arrest and removal therefrom to the Philippine Islands of any fugitive from justice charged with the commission of any crime or offense against the United States within the Philippine Islands, and shall apply within the Philippine Islands for the arrest and removal therefrom to the United States of any fugitive from justice charged with the commission of any crime or offense against the United States. Such fugitive may, by any judge or magistrate of the Philippine Islands, and agreeably to the usual mode of process against offenders therein, be arrested and imprisoned, or bailed, as the case may be, pending the issuance of a warrant for his removal to the United States, which warrant it shall be the duty of a judge of the court of first instance seasonably to issue, and of the officer or agent of the United States designated for the purpose to execute. Such officer or agent, when engaged in executing such warrant without the Philippine Islands, shall have all the powers of a marshal of the United States so far as such powers are requisite for the prisoner's safe-keeping and the execution of the warrant. (Feb. 9, 1903, c. 529, § 1, 32 Stat. 806.)

593. Operating illicit distillery; arrest; bail.—Where any marshal or deputy marshal of the United States within the district for which he shall be appointed shall find any person or persons in the act of operating an illicit distillery, it shall be lawful for such marshal or deputy marshal to arrest such person or persons, and take him or them forthwith before some judicial officer named in section 591 of this title, who may reside in the county of arrest or if none, in that nearest to the place of arrest, to be dealt with according to the provisions of sections 591, 596, and 597 of this title. (Mar. 1, 1879, c. 125, § 9, 20 Stat. 341.)

594. Violations of internal revenue laws; warrant for arrest.—Except as provided in section 591 of title 28, warrants of arrest for violations of internal revenue laws may be issued by United States commissioners upon the sworn complaint of a United States district attorney, assistant United States district attorney, collector, or deputy collector of internal revenue or revenue agent or private citizen; but no such warrant of arrest shall be issued upon the sworn complaint of a private citizen unless first approved in writing by a United States district attorney. (May 28, 1896, c. 252, § 19, 29 Stat. 184; Mar. 2, 1901, c. 814, 31 Stat. 956.)

595. Persons arrested taken before nearest officer for hearing.—It shall be the duty of the marshal, his deputy, or other officer, who may arrest a person charged with any crime or offense, to take the defendant before the nearest United States commissioner or the nearest judicial officer having jurisdiction under existing laws for a hearing, commitment, or taking bail for trial, and the officer or magistrate issuing the warrant shall attach thereto a certified copy of the complaint, and upon the arrest of the accused, the return of the warrant, with a copy of the complaint attached, shall confer jurisdiction upon such officer as fully as if the complaint had originally been made before him, and no mileage shall be allowed any officer violating the provisions hereof. (Aug. 18, 1894, c. 301, § 1, 28 Stat. 416; May 28, 1896, c. 352, § 19, 29 Stat. 184; Mar. 2, 1901, c. 814, 31 Stat. 956.)

596. Bail; cases not capital.—Bail shall be admitted upon all arrests in criminal cases where the offense is not punishable by death; and in such cases it may be taken by any of the persons authorized by section 591 of this title to arrest and imprison offenders. (R. S. § 1015.)

597. Same; capital cases.—Bail may be admitted upon all arrests in criminal cases where the punishment may be death; but in such cases it shall be taken only by the Supreme Court or a circuit court, or by a justice of the Supreme Court, a circuit judge, or a judge of a district court, who shall exercise their discretion therein, having regard to the nature and circumstance of the offense, and of the evidence, and to the usages of law. (R. S. § 1016.)

598. Same; cases removed from State courts.—When a writ of error is issued for the revision of the judgment of a State court, in any criminal proceeding where is drawn in question the validity of a statute of, or an authority exercised under, the United States, or where any title, right, privilege, or immunity is claimed under the Constitution, or any statute of, or commission held or authority exercised under, the United States, the defendant, if charged with an offense that is bailable by the laws of such State, shall not be released from custody until a final judgment upon such writ, or until a bond, with sufficient sureties, in a reasonable sum, as ordered and approved by the State court, is given; and if the offense is not so bailable, until a final judgment upon the writ of error. (R. S. § 1017.)

599. Surrender by bail.—Any party charged with a criminal offense and admitted to bail, may, in vacation, be arrested by his bail, and delivered to the marshal or his deputy, before any judge or other officer having power to commit for such offense; and at the request of such bail, the judge or other officer shall recommit the party so arrested to the custody of the marshal, and indorse on the recognizance, or certified copy thereof, the discharge and exoneratur of such bail; and the party so committed shall therefrom be held in custody until discharged by due course of law. (R. S. § 1018.)

600. New bail.—When proof is made to any judge of the United States, or other magistrate having authority to commit on criminal charges as aforesaid, that a person previously admitted to bail on any such charge is about to abscond, and that his bail is insufficient, the judge or magistrate shall require such person to give better security, or, for default thereof, cause him to be committed to prison; and an order for his arrest may be indorsed on the former commitment, or a new warrant therefor may be issued, by such judge or magistrate, setting forth the cause thereof. (R. S. § 1019.)

601. Remission of penalty of recognizance.—When any recognizance in a criminal cause, taken for, or in, or returnable to, any court of the United States, is forfeited by a breach of the condition thereof, such court may, in its discretion, remit the whole or a part of the penalty, whenever it appears to the court that there has been no willful default of the party, and that a trial can, notwithstanding, be had in the cause, and that public justice does not otherwise require the same penalty to be enforced. (R. S. § 1020.)

602. Writs; several indictments against same person.—When two or more charges are made, or two or more indictments are found against any person, only one writ or warrant shall be necessary to commit him for trial; and it shall be sufficient to state in the writ the name or general character of the offenses, or to refer to them only in very general terms. (R. S. § 1027.)

603. Same; copy as jailer's authority.—Whenever a prisoner is committed to a sheriff or jailer by virtue of a writ, warrant, or mittimus, a copy thereof shall be delivered to such sheriff or jailer, as his authority to hold the prisoner, and the original writ, warrant, or mittimus shall be returned to the proper court or officer, with the officer's return thereon. (R. S. § 1028.)

604. Same; for removal of prisoner.—Only one writ or warrant is necessary to remove a prisoner from one district to another. One copy thereof may be delivered to the sheriff or jailer from whose custody the prisoner is taken, and another to the sheriff or jailer to whose custody he is committed, and the original writ, with the marshal's return thereon, shall be returned to the clerk of the district to which he is removed. (R. S. § 1029.)

605. Same; to bring prisoner into court.—No writ is necessary to bring into court any prisoner or person in custody, or for remanding him from the court into custody; but the same shall be done on the order of the court or district attorney, for which no fees shall be charged by the clerk or marshal. (R. S. § 1030.)

Cross reference: Jurisdiction of offenses under this chapter, see section 574 of this title.

Section 611. Authority to issue.—A search warrant authorized by this chapter may be issued by a judge of a United States district court, or by a judge of a State or Territorial court of record, or by a United States commissioner for the district wherein the property sought is located. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 1, 40 Stat. 228.)

612. Grounds for issue.—A search warrant may be issued under this chapter upon either of the following grounds:

1. When the property was stolen or embezzled in violation of a law of the United States; in which case it may be taken on the warrant from any house or other place in which it is concealed, or from the possession of the person by whom it was stolen or embezzled, or from any person in whose possession it may be.

2. When the property was used as the means of committing a felony; in which case it may be taken on the warrant from any house or other place in which it is concealed, or from the possession of the person by whom it was used in the commission of the offense, or from any person in whose possession it may be.

3. When the property, or any paper, is possessed, controlled, or used in violation of section 98 of this title; in which case it may be taken on the warrant from the person violating said section, or from any person in whose possession it may be, or from any house or other place in which it is concealed. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 2, 40 Stat. 228.)

613. Probable cause and affidavit.—A search warrant can not be issued but upon probable cause, supported by affidavit, naming or describing the person and particularly describing the property and the place to be searched. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 3, 40 Stat. 228.)

614. Examination of applicant and witnesses.—The judge or commissioner must, before issuing the warrant, examine on oath the complainant and any witness he may produce, and require their affidavits or take their depositions in writing and cause them to be subscribed by the parties making them. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 4, 40 Stat. 228.)

615. Affidavits and depositions.—The affidavits or depositions must set forth the facts tending to establish the grounds of the application or probable cause for believing that they exist. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 5, 40 Stat. 228.)

616. Issue and contents of warrant.—If the judge or commissioner is thereupon satisfied of the existence of the grounds of the application or that there is probable cause to believe their existence, he must issue a search warrant, signed by him with his name of office, to a civil officer of the United States duly authorized to enforce or assist in enforcing any law thereof, or to a person so duly authorized by the President of the United States, stating the particular grounds or probable cause for its issue and the names of the persons whose affidavits have been taken in support thereof, and commanding him forthwith to search the person or place named, for the property specified, and to bring it before the judge or commissioner. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 6, 40 Stat. 229.)

617. Service.—A search warrant may in all cases be served by any of the officers mentioned in its direction, but by no other person, except in aid of the officer on his requiring it, he being present and acting in its execution. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 7, 40 Stat. 229.)

618. Same; breaking and entering.—The officer may break open any outer or inner door or window of a house, or any part of a house, or anything therein, to execute the warrant, if, after notice of his authority and purpose, he is refused admittance. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 8, 40 Stat. 229.)

619. Same; breaking and entering to liberate detained person aiding in execution of warrant.—He may break open any outer or inner door or window of a house for the purpose of liberating a person who, having entered to aid him in the execution of the warrant, is detained therein, or when necessary for his own liberation. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 9, 40 Stat. 229.)

620. Same; daytime.—The judge or commissioner must insert a direction in the warrant that it be served in the daytime, unless the affidavits are positive that the property is on the person or in the place to be searched, in which case he may insert a direction that it be served at any time of the day or night. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 10, 40 Stat. 229.)

621. Time for execution and return of warrant.—A search warrant must be executed and returned to the judge or commissioner who issued it within ten days after its date; after the expiration of this time the warrant, unless executed, is void. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 11, 40 Stat. 229.)

622. Copy of warrant and receipt for property taken to person from whom taken.—When the officer takes property under the warrant, he must give a copy of the warrant together with a receipt for the property taken (specifying it in detail) to the person from whom it was taken by him, or in whose possession it was found; or, in the absence of any person, he must leave it in the place where he found the property. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 12, 40 Stat. 229.)

623. Return; contents.—The officer must forthwith return the warrant to the judge or commissioner and deliver to him a written inventory of the property taken, made publicly or in the presence of the person from whose possession it was taken, and of the applicant for the warrant, if they are present, verified by the affidavit of the officer at the foot of the inventory and taken before the judge or commissioner at the time, to the following effect: "I, R. S., the officer by whom this warrant was executed, do swear that the above inventory contains a true and detailed account of all the property taken by me on the warrant." (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 13, 40 Stat. 229.)

624. Copy of inventory for person from whom property taken.—The judge or commissioner must thereupon, if required, deliver a copy of the inventory to the person from whose possession the property was taken and to the applicant for the warrant. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 14, 40 Stat. 229.)

625. Taking testimony.—If the grounds on which the warrant was issued be controverted, the judge or commissioner must proceed to take testimony in relation thereto, and the testimony of each witness must be reduced to writing and subscribed by each witness. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 15, 40 Stat. 229.)

626. Restoration of property taken; retention of custody of property by officer or other disposition.—If it appears that the property or paper taken is not the same as that described in the warrant or that there is no probable cause for believing the existence of the grounds on which the warrant was issued, the judge or commissioner must cause it to be restored to the person from whom it was taken; but if it appears that the property or paper taken is the same as that described in the warrant and that there is probable cause for believing the existence of the grounds on which the warrant was issued, then the judge or commissioner shall order the same retained in the custody of the person seizing it or to be otherwise disposed of according to law. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 16, 40 Stat. 229.)

627. Filing papers with clerk of court having jurisdiction.—The judge or commissioner must annex the affidavits, search warrant, return, inventory, and evidence, and if he has not power to inquire into the offense in respect to which the warrant was issued he must at once file the same, together with a copy of the record of his proceedings, with the clerk of the court having power to so inquire. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 17, 40 Stat. 230.)

628. Obstructing service or execution.—Whoever shall knowingly and willfully obstruct, resist, or oppose any such officer or person in serving or attempting to serve or execute any such search warrant, or shall assault, beat, or wound any such officer or person, knowing him to be an officer or person so authorized, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than two years. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 18, 40 Stat. 230.)

629. Perjury and subornation of perjury.—Sections 231 and 232 of this title shall apply to and embrace all persons making oath or affirmation or procuring the same under the provisions of this chapter, and such persons shall be subject to all the pains and penalties of said sections. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 19, 40 Stat. 230.)

630. Maliciously procuring issue.—A person who maliciously and without probable cause procures a search warrant to be issued and executed shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 20, 40 Stat. 230.)

631. Officer exceeding authority.—An officer who in executing a search warrant willfully exceeds his authority, or exercises it with unnecessary severity, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 21, 40 Stat. 230.)

632. "United States" defined.—The term "United States," as used in sections 611 to 631 of this title, includes the Canal Zone and all territory and waters, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XIII, § 1, 40 Stat. 231.)

633. Existing laws not repealed.—Nothing contained in this chapter shall be held to repeal or impair any existing provisions of law regulating search and the issue of search warrants. (June 15, 1917, c. 30, Title XI, § 23, 40 Stat. 230.)

Chapter 19.—FINES, PENALTIES, AND FORFEITURES.

Sec.
641. Discharge of indigent convicts.
642. Penalties under laws relating to vessels; informers' rights; manner of ascertaining facts.
643. Refunding of penalties under laws relating to vessels or seamen.
644. Officers and informers as witnesses.

Section 641. Discharge of indigent convicts.—When a poor convict, sentenced by any court of the United States to be imprisoned and pay a fine, or fine and cost, or to pay a fine, or fine and costs, has been confined in prison thirty days, solely for the nonpayment of such fine, or fine and costs, such convict may make application in writing to any commissioner of the United States court in the district where he is imprisoned setting forth his inability to pay such fine, or fine and costs, and after notice to the district attorney of the United States, who may appear, offer evidence, and be heard, the commissioner shall proceed to hear and determine the matter. If on examination it shall appear to him that such convict is unable to pay such fine, or fine and costs, and that he has not any property exceeding $20 in value, except such as is by law exempt from being taken on execution for debt, the commissioner shall administer to him the following oath: "I do solemnly swear that I have not any property, real or personal, to the amount of $20, except such as is by law exempt from being taken on civil process for debt by the laws of (naming the State where oath is administered); and that I have no property in any way conveyed or concealed, or in any way disposed of, for my future use or benefit. So help me God." Upon taking such oath such convict shall be discharged; and the commissioner shall give to the keeper of the jail a certificate setting forth the facts. (R. S. §§ 1042, 5296.)

642. Penalties under laws relating to vessels; informers' rights; manner of ascertaining facts.—The Secretary of the Treasury may, upon application therefor, remit or mitigate any fine, penalty, or forfeiture provided for in laws relating to vessels or discontinue any prosecution to recover penalties or relating to forfeitures denounced in such laws, excepting the penalty of imprisonment or of removal from office, upon such terms as he, in his discretion, shall think proper; and all rights granted to informers by such laws shall be held subject to the Secretary's powers of remission, except in cases where the claims of any informer to the share of any penalty shall have been determined by a court of competent jurisdiction prior to the application for the remission of the penalty or forfeiture; and the Secretary shall have authority to ascertain the facts upon all such applications in such manner and under such regulations as he may deem proper. (R. S. § 5294; Dec. 15, 1894, c. 7, 28 Stat. 595; Mar. 2, 1896, c. 37, 29 Stat. 39.)

643. Refunding of penalties under laws relating to vessels or seamen.—Whenever any fine, penalty, forfeiture, exaction, or charge arising under the laws relating to vessels or seamen has been paid to any collector of customs or consular officer, and application has been made within one year from such payment for the refunding or remission of the same, the Secretary of the Treasury, if on investigation he finds that such fine, penalty, forfeiture, exaction, or charge was illegally, improperly, or excessively imposed, shall have the power, either before or after the same has been covered into the Treasury, to refund so much of such fine, penalty, forfeiture, exaction, or charge as he may think proper, from any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. (June 26, 1884, c. 121, § 26, 23 Stat. 59.)

644. Officers and informers as witnesses.—Any officer or other person entitled to or interested in a part or share of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred under any law of the United States, may be examined as a witness in any of the proceedings for the recovery of such fine, penalty, or forfeiture by either of the parties thereto, and such examination shall not deprive such witness of his share or interest in such fine, penalty, or forfeiture. (R. S. § 5295.)

Chapter 20.—EXTRADITION.

651. Fugitives from foreign country.
652. Fugitives from country under control of United States.
653. Surrender of fugitive.
654. Time allowed for extradition.
655. Evidence on hearing.
656. Witnesses for indigent defendants.
657. Place and character of hearing.
658. Continuance of provisions limited.
659. Protection of accused.
660. Agent receiving offenders; powers.
661. Same; penalty for opposing.
662. Fugitives from State or Territory.
663. Penalty for resisting agent.
664. Delivery of fugitives as between foreign country and Philippines.
665. Allowing escape.
666. Fugitives from Philippines.
667. Fees of commissioners.
668. Payment of fees and costs.

Section 651. Fugitives from foreign country.—Whenever there is a treaty or convention for extradition between the Government of the United States and any foreign government, any justice of the Supreme Court, circuit judge, district judge, or commissioner, authorized so to do by any of the courts of the United States, or judge of a court of record of general jurisdiction of any State, may, upon complaint made under oath, charging any person found within the limits of any State, District, or Territory, with having committed within the jurisdiction of any such foreign government any of the crimes provided for by such treaty or convention, issue his warrant for the apprehension of the person so charged, that he may be brought before such justice, judge, or commissioner, to the end that the evidence of criminality may be heard and considered. If, on such hearing, he deems the evidence sufficient to sustain the charge under the provisions of the proper treaty or convention, he shall certify the same, together with a copy of all the testimony taken before him, to the Secretary of State, that a warrant may issue upon the requisition of the proper authorities of such foreign government, for the surrender of such person, according to the stipulations of the treaty or convention; and he shall issue his warrant for the commitment of the person so charged to the proper jail, there to remain until such surrender shall be made. (R. S. § 5270; June 6, 1900, c. 793, 31 Stat. 656.)

652. Fugitives from country under control of United States.—Whenever any foreign country or territory, or any part thereof, is occupied by or under the control of the United States, any person who shall violate, or who has violated, the criminal laws in force therein, by the commission of any of the following offenses: Murder and assault with intent to commit murder; counterfeiting or altering money, or uttering or bringing into circulation counterfeit or altered money; counterfeiting certificates or coupons of public indebtedness, bank notes, or other instruments of public credit, and the utterance or circulation of the same; forgery or altering, and uttering what is forged or altered; embezzlement or criminal malversation of the public funds, committed by public officers, employees, or depositaries; larceny or embezzlement of an amount not less than $100 in value; robbery; burglary, defined to be the breaking and entering by nighttime into the house of another person with intent to commit a felony therein; and the act of breaking and entering the house or building of another, whether in the day or night time, with the intent to commit a felony therein; the act of entering, or of breaking and entering the offices of the Government and public authorities, or the offices of banks, banking houses, savings banks, trust companies, insurance or other companies, with the intent to commit a felony therein; perjury or the subornation of perjury; rape; arson; piracy by the law of nations; murder, assault with intent to kill, and manslaughter, committed on the high seas, on board a ship owned by or in control of citizens or residents of such foreign country or territory and not under the flag of the United States, or of some other government; malicious destruction of or attempt to destroy railways, trams, vessels, bridges, dwellings, public edifices, or other buildings, when the act endangers human life, and who shall depart or flee, or who has departed or fled, from justice therein to the United States, any Territory thereof, or to the District of Columbia, shall, when found therein, be liable to arrest and detention by the authorities of the United States, and on the written request or requisition of the military governor or other chief executive officer in control of such foreign country or territory shall be returned and surrendered as hereinafter provided to such authorities for trial under the laws in force in the place where such offense was committed. All the provisions of sections 653 to 655 and 658 to 661 of this title, so far as applicable, shall govern proceedings authorized by this section. Such proceedings shall be had before a judge of the courts of the United States only, who shall hold such person on evidence establishing probable cause that he is guilty of the offense charged. No return or surrender shall be made of any person charged with the commission of any offense of a political nature. If so held such person shall be returned and surrendered to the authorities in control of such foreign country or territory on the order of the Secretary of State of the United States, and such authorities shall secure to such a person a fair and impartial trial. (R. S. § 5270; June 6, 1900, c. 793, 31 Stat. 656.)

653. Surrender of fugitive.—It shall be lawful for the Secretary of State, under his hand and seal of office, to order the person so committed to be delivered to such person as shall be authorized, in the name and on behalf of such foreign government, to be tried for the crime of which such person shall be so accused, and such person shall be delivered up accordingly; and it shall be lawful for the person so authorized to hold such person in custody, and to take him to the territory of such foreign government, pursuant to such treaty. If the person so accused shall escape out of any custody to which he shall be committed, or to which he shall be delivered, it shall be lawful to retake such person in the same manner as any person accused of any crime against the laws in force in that part of the United States to which he shall so escape, may be retaken on an escape. (R. S. § 5272.)

654. Time allowed for extradition.—Whenever any person who is committed under this chapter or any treaty, to remain until delivered up in pursuance of a requisition, is not so delivered up and conveyed out of the United States within two calendar months after such commitment, over and above the time actually required to convey the prisoner from the jail to which he was committed, by the readiest way, out of the United States, it shall be lawful for any judge of the United States, or of any State, upon application made to him by or on behalf of the person so committed, and upon proof made to him that reasonable notice of the intention to make such application has been given to the Secretary of State, to order the person so committed to be discharged out of custody, unless sufficient cause is shown to such judge why such discharge ought not to be ordered. (R. S. § 5273.)

655. Evidence on hearing.—In all cases where any depositions, warrants, or other papers or copies thereof shall be offered in evidence upon the hearing of any extradition case under this chapter, such depositions, warrants, and other papers, or the copies thereof, shall be received and admitted as evidence on such hearing for all the purposes of such hearing if they shall be properly and legally authenticated so as to entitle them to be received for similar purposes by the tribunals of the foreign country from which the accused party shall have escaped, and the certificate of the principal diplomatic or consular officer of the United States resident in such foreign country shall be proof that any deposition, warrant or other paper or copies thereof, so offered, are authenticated in the manner required. (R. S. § 5271; Aug. 3, 1882, c. 378, § 5, 22 Stat. 216.)

656. Witnesses for indigent defendants.—On the hearing of any case under a claim of extradition by any foreign government, upon affidavit being filed by the person charged setting forth that there are witnesses whose evidence is material to his defense, that he can not safely go to trial without them, what he expects to prove by each of them, and that he is not possessed of sufficient means, and is actually unable to pay the fees of such witnesses, the judge or commissioner before whom such claim for extradition is heard may order that such witnesses be subpœnaed; and in such cases the costs incurred by the process, and the fees of witnesses, shall be paid in the same manner that similar fees are paid in the case of witnesses subpœnaed in behalf of the United States. (Aug. 3, 1882, c. 378, § 3, 22 Stat. 215.)

657. Place and character of hearing.—All hearings in cases of extradition under treaty stipulation or convention shall be held on land, publicly, and in a room or office easily accessible to the public. (Aug. 3, 1882, c. 378, § 1, 22 Stat. 215.)

658. Continuance of provisions limited.—The provisions of this chapter relating to the surrender of persons who have committed crimes in foreign countries shall continue in force during the existence of any treaty of extradition with any foreign government, and no longer. (R. S. § 5274.)

659. Protection of accused.—Whenever any person is delivered by any foreign government to an agent of the United States, for the purpose of being brought within the United States and tried for any crime of which he is duly accused, the President shall have power to take all necessary measures for the transportation and safe-keeping of such accused person, and for his security against lawless violence, until the final conclusion of his trial for the crimes or offenses specified in the warrant of extradition, and until his final discharge from custody or imprisonment for or on account of such crimes or offenses, and for a reasonable time thereafter, and may employ such portion of the land or naval forces of the United States, or of the militia thereof, as may be necessary for the safe-keeping and protection of the accused. (R. S. § 5275.)

660. Agent receiving offenders; powers.—Any person duly appointed as agent to receive, in behalf of the United States, the delivery, by a foreign government, of any person accused of crime committed within the jurisdiction of the United States, and to convey him to the place of his trial, shall have all the powers of a marshal of the United States, in the several districts through which it may be necessary for him to pass with such prisoner, so far as such power is requisite for the prisoner's safe-keeping. (R. S. § 5276.)

661. Same; penalty for opposing.—Every person who knowingly and willfully obstructs, resists, or opposes such agent in the execution of his duties, or who rescues or attempts to rescue such prisoner, whether in the custody of the agent or of any officer or person to whom his custody has lawfully been committed, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000, and by imprisonment for not more than one year. (R. S. § 5277.)

662. Fugitives from State or Territory.—Whenever the executive authority of any State or Territory demands any person as a fugitive from justice, of the executive authority of any State or Territory to which such person has fled, and produces a copy of an indictment found or an affidavit made before a magistrate of any State or Territory, charging the person demanded with having committed treason, felony, or other crime, certified as authentic by the governor or chief magistrate of the State or Territory from whence the person so charged has fled, it shall be the duty of the executive authority of the State or Territory to which such person has fled to cause him to be arrested and secured, and to cause notice of the arrest to be given to the executive authority making such demand, or to the agent of such authority appointed to receive the fugitive, and to cause the fugitive to be delivered to such agent when he shall appear. If no such agent appears within six months from the time of the arrest, the prisoner may be discharged. All costs or expenses incurred in the apprehending, securing, and transmitting such fugitive to the State or Territory making such demand, shall be paid by such State or Territory. (R. S. § 5278.)

663. Penalty for resisting agent.—Any agent so appointed who receives the fugitive into his custody shall be empowered to transport him to the State or Territory from which he has fled. And every person who, by force, sets at liberty or rescues the fugitive from such agent while so transporting him, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than one year. (R. S. § 5279.)

664. Delivery of fugitives as between foreign country and Philippines.—The provisions of sections 651, 653 to 655, and 658 to 661 of this title, so far as applicable, shall apply to the Philippine Islands for the arrest and removal therefrom of any fugitives from justice charged with the commission within the jurisdiction of any foreign government of any of the crimes provided for by treaty between the United States and such foreign nation, and for the delivery by a foreign government of any person accused of crime committed within the jurisdiction of the Philippine Islands. Such fugitive from justice of a foreign country may, upon warrant duly issued by any judge or magistrate of the Philippine Islands, and agreeably to the usual mode of process against offenders therein, be arrested and brought before such judge or magistrate, who shall proceed in the matter in accordance with the provisions hereby made applicable to the Philippine Islands. For the purposes of this section the order or warrant for delivery of a person committed for extradition prescribed by section 653 of this title shall be issued by the Governor of the Philippine Islands under his hand and seal of office, and not by the Secretary of State. (Feb. 6, 1905, c. 454, § 1, 33 Stat. 698.)

665. Allowing escape.—The provisions of section 244 of this title are hereby made applicable to proceedings in extradition from the Philippine Islands, either to the United States under sections 592 and 666 of this title, or to foreign countries under the provisions of section 664 of this title. (Feb. 6, 1905, c. 454, § 2, 33 Stat. 698.)

666. Fugitives from Philippines.—The provisions of sections 662 and 663 of this title, so far as applicable, shall apply to the Philippine Islands, which, for the purposes of said sections, shall be deemed a Territory within the meaning thereof. (Feb. 9, 1903, c. 529, § 2, 32 Stat. 807.)

667. Fees of commissioners.—The following shall be the fees paid to commissioners in cases of extradition under treaty stipulation or convention between the Government of the United States and any foreign government, and no other fees or compensation shall be allowed to or received by them:

For administering an oath, 10 cents.

For taking an acknowledgment, 25 cents.

For taking and certifying depositions to file, 20 cents for each folio.

For each copy of the same furnished to a party on request, 10 cents for each folio.

For issuing any warrant or writ, and for any other service, the same compensation as is allowed clerks for like services.

For issuing any warrant under the tenth article of the treaty of August 9, 1842, between the United States and the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, against any person charged with any crime or offense as set forth in said article, $2.

For issuing any warrant under the provision of the convention for the surrender of criminals between the United States and the King of the French concluded at Washington November 9, 1843, $2.

For hearing and deciding upon the case of any person charged with any crime or offense, and arrested under the provisions of said treaty or convention or of any treaty or convention, $5 a day for the time necessarily employed. (Aug. 3, 1882, c. 378, § 2, 22 Stat. 215; May 28, 1896, c. 252, § 21, 29 Stat. 184.)

668. Payment of fees and costs.—All witness fees and costs of every nature in cases of extradition, including the fees of the commissioner, shall be certified by the judge or commissioner before whom the hearing shall take place to the Secretary of State of the United States, and the same shall be paid out of the appropriations to defray the expenses of the judiciary. The Attorney General shall certify to the Secretary of State the amounts to be paid to the United States on account of said fees and costs in extradition cases by the foreign government requesting the extradition, and the Secretary of State shall cause said amounts to be collected and transmitted to the Attorney General for deposit in the Treasury of the United States. (Aug. 3, 1882, c. 378, § 4, 22 Stat. 216; June 28, 1902, c. 1301, § 1, 32 Stat. 475.)

Chapter 21.—WRITS OF ERROR.

Sec.
681. Writs of error; conviction of crime punishable by death.
682. Same; on behalf of the United States.

Section 681. Writs of error; conviction of crime punishable by death.—In all cases of conviction of crime the punishment of which provided by law is death, tried before any court of the United States, the final judgment of such court against the respondent shall, upon the application of the respondent, be reexamined, reversed, or affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States upon a writ of error, under such rules and regulations as said court may prescribe. Every such writ of error shall be allowed as of right and without the requirement of any security for the prosecution of the same or for costs. Upon the allowance of every such writ of error, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court to which the writ of error shall be directed to forthwith transmit to the clerk of the Supreme Court of the United States a certified transcript of the record in such case, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the Supreme Court of the United States to receive, file, and docket the same. Every such writ of error shall during its pendency operate as a stay of proceedings upon the judgment in respect of which it is sued out. Any such writ of error may be filed and docketed in said Supreme Court at any time in a term held prior to the term named in the citation as well as at the term so named; and all such writs of error shall be advanced to a speedy hearing on motion of either party. When any such judgment shall be either reversed or affirmed the cause shall be remanded to the court from whence it came for further proceedings in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court, and the court to which such cause is so remanded shall have power to cause such judgment of the Supreme Court to be carried into execution. No such writ of error shall be sued out or granted unless a petition therefor shall be filed with the clerk of the court in which the trial shall have been had during the same term or within such time, not exceeding sixty days next after the expiration of the term of the court at which the trial shall have been had, as the court may for cause allow by order entered of record. (Feb. 6, 1889, c. 113, § 6, 25 Stat. 656.)

682. Same; on behalf of the United States.—A writ of error may be taken by and on behalf of the United States from the district courts direct to the Supreme Court of the United States in all criminal cases, in the following instances, to wit:

From a decision or judgment quashing, setting aside, or sustaining a demurrer to, any indictment, or any count thereof, where such decision or judgment is based upon the invalidity, or construction of the statute upon which the indictment is founded.

From a decision arresting a judgment of conviction for insufficiency of the indictment, where such decision is based upon the invalidity or construction of the statute upon which the indictment is founded.

From the decision or judgment sustaining a special plea in bar, when the defendant has not been put in jeopardy.

The writ of error in all such cases shall be taken within thirty days after the decision or judgment has been rendered and shall be diligently prosecuted and shall have precedence over all other cases.

Pending the prosecution and determination of the writ of error in the foregoing instances, the defendant shall be admitted to bail on his own recognizance: Provided, That no writ of error shall be taken by or allowed the United States in any case where there has been a verdict in favor of the defendant. (Mar. 2, 1907, c. 2564, 34 Stat. 1246.)

727. Same; duties of probation officers.

Section 691. Temporary jails for confinement of United States prisoners.—In a State where the use of jails, penitentiaries, or other houses is not allowed for the imprisonment of persons arrested or committed under the authority of the United States, any marshal in such State, under the direction of the judge of the district, may hire, or otherwise procure, within the limits of such State, a convenient place to serve as a temporary jail. (R. S. § 5537.)

692. Safe-keeping of United States prisoners; marshals to make provisions for.—The marshal shall make such other provision as he may deem expedient and necessary for the safe-keeping of the prisoners arrested or committed under the authority of the United States, until permanent provision for that purpose is made by law. (R. S. § 5538.)

693. Control, discipline, and treatment of United States convicts in State or Territorial jails or prisons.—Whenever any criminal, convicted of any offense against the United States, is imprisoned in the jail or penitentiary of any State or Territory, such criminal shall in all respects be subject to the same discipline and treatment as convicts sentenced by the courts of the State or Territory in which such jail or penitentiary is situated; and while so confined therein shall be exclusively under the control of the officers having charge of the same, under the laws of such State or Territory. (R. S. § 5539.)

694. Sentence of United States prisoners to State penitentiary not in judicial district where sentence was imposed.—Where a judicial district has been or may hereafter be divided, the district courts of the United States shall have power to sentence any one convicted of an offense punishable by imprisonment at hard labor to the penitentiary within the State, though it be out of the judicial district in which the conviction is had. (R. S. § 5540.)

695. Execution of sentences in State jail or penitentiary.—Where any person convicted of any offense against the United States is sentenced to imprisonment for a period longer than one year, or to imprisonment and confinement at hard labor, the court by which the sentence is passed may order the same to be executed in any State jail or penitentiary within the district or State where such court is held, the use of which jail or penitentiary is allowed by the legislature of the State for that purpose. (R. S. §§ 5541, 5542.)

696. Confinement of United States convicts in State or Territorial jails or penitentiaries; designation by Attorney General.—All persons convicted of crime by any courts of the United States, including consular courts, whose punishment is imprisonment in a district or Territory or country where, at the time of conviction or at any time during the term of imprisonment, there may be no penitentiary or jail suitable for the confinement of convicts, or available therefor, shall be confined during the term for which they have been or may be sentenced, or during the residue of said term, in some suitable jail or penitentiary in a convenient State or Territory to be designated by the Attorney General. (R. S. § 5546; July 12, 1876, c. 183, 19 Stat. 88; Mar. 3, 1901, c. 873, 31 Stat. 1450.)

697. Same; transportation of convicts to designated places; costs.—The persons designated in section 696 of this title shall be transported and delivered to the warden or keeper of such jail or penitentiary by the marshal of the district or Territory where the conviction has occurred. In case of convictions by a consular court the transportation shall be by some properly qualified agent or agents designated by the Department of State, the reasonable actual expense of transportation, necessary subsistence, and hire and transportation of guards and agent or agents to be defrayed from the appropriation for bringing home criminals. If the conviction be had in the District of Columbia, the transportation and delivery shall be by the warden of the jail of that District, the reasonable actual expense of transportation, necessary subsistence, and hire and transportation of guards and the marshal, or the warden of the jail in the District of Columbia only, to be paid by the Attorney General out of the judiciary fund. If, in the opinion of the Attorney General, the expense of transportation from any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia in which there is no penitentiary will exceed the cost of maintaining them in jail in the State, Territory, or the District of Columbia during the period of their sentence, then it shall be lawful so to confine them therein for the period designated in their respective sentences. (R. S. § 5546; July 12, 1876, c. 183, 19 Stat. 88; Mar. 3, 1901, c. 873, 31 Stat. 1450.)

698. Same; change of place of confinement.—The place of imprisonment designated as prescribed by section 696 of this title may be changed in any case when, in the opinion of the Attorney General, it is necessary for the preservation of the health of the prisoner, or when, in his opinion, the place of confinement is not sufficient to secure the custody of the prisoner, or because of cruel and improper treatment. No change shall be made in the case of any prisoner on the ground of the unhealthiness of the prisoner or because of his treatment, after his conviction and during his term of imprisonment, unless such change shall be applied for by such prisoner, or some one on his behalf. (R. S. § 5546; July 12, 1876, c. 183, 19 Stat. 88; Mar. 3, 1901, c. 873, 31 Stat. 1450.)

699. Same; subsistence and employment of convicts.—The Attorney General shall contract with the managers or proper authorities having control of prisoners confined in State or Territorial jails or penitentiaries under section 696 of this title, for the imprisonment, subsistence, and proper employment of them, and shall give the court having jurisdiction of such offenses notice of the jail or penitentiary where such prisoners will be confined. (R. S. § 5547.)

700. Same; clothing and money on discharge.—On the discharge from any prison of any person convicted under the laws of the United States on indictment, he or she shall be provided by the warden or keeper of said prison with one plain suit of clothes and $5 in money, for which charge shall be made and allowed in the accounts of said prison with the United States. This section shall not apply to persons sentenced for a term of imprisonment of less than six months. (Mar. 3, 1875, c. 145, § 2, 18 Stat. 480.)

701. Expenses for transportation and confinement of prisoners paid by United States.—All the expenses attendant upon the transportation from place to place, and upon the temporary or permanent confinement of persons arrested or committed under the laws of the United States, as well as upon the execution of any sentence of a court thereof respecting them, shall be paid out of the Treasury of the United States in the manner provided by law. (R. S. § 5536.)

702. Report of warden of penitentiary.—The warden of the penitentiary of the United States for the District of Columbia shall make to the Secretary of the Interior, annually, in time to accompany the annual message of the President to Congress, a report of his operations during the preceding year, and of the manner in which all appropriations have been applied. (R. S. § 1828.)

703. Actual reasonable cost of subsistence paid.—There shall be allowed and paid by the Attorney General, for the subsistence of prisoners in the custody of any marshal of the United States and the warden of the jail in the District of Columbia, such sum only as it reasonably and actually cost to subsist them. And it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to prescribe such regulations for the government of the marshals and the warden of the jail in the District of Columbia, in relation to their duties under this chapter, as will enable him to determine the actual and reasonable expenses incurred. (R. S. § 5545.)

704. Cost of care of District of Columbia convicts charged against District; accounts.—The cost of the care and custody of District of Columbia convicts in any Federal penitentiary shall be charged against the District of Columbia in quarterly accounts to be rendered by the disbursing officer of said penitentiary; and the amount to be charged against the District of Columbia shall be ascertained by multiplying the average daily number of District of Columbia convicts confined in the penitentiary during the quarter by the per capita cost for all prisoners in such penitentiary for the same quarter but excluding expenses of construction or extraordinary repair of buildings. (Mar. 3, 1915, c. 75, § 1, 38 Stat. 869.)

705. Ordering sentences executed in house of correction.—Whenever any person is convicted of any offense against the United States which is punishable by fine and imprisonment, or by either, the court by which the sentence is passed may order the sentence to be executed in any house of correction or house of reformation for juvenile delinquents within the State or district where such court is held, the use of which is authorized by the legislature of the State for such purpose. (R. S. § 5548.)

706. Juvenile offenders; confinement.—Juvenile offenders against the laws of the United States, being under the age of sixteen years, and who may hereafter be convicted of crime, the punishment whereof is imprisonment, shall be confined during the term of sentence in some house of refuge to be designated by the Attorney General, and shall be transported and delivered to the warden or keeper of such house of refuge by the marshal of the district where such conviction has occurred; or if such conviction be had in the District of Columbia, then the transportation and delivery shall be by the warden of the jail of that district, and the reasonable actual expense of the transportation, necessary subsistence, and hire, and transportation of assistants and the marshal or warden, only, shall be paid by the Attorney General, out of the judiciary fund. (R. S. § 5549.)

707. Same; contracts for subsistence.—The Attorney General shall contract with the managers or persons having control of such houses of refuge for the imprisonment, subsistence, and proper employment of all such juvenile offenders, and shall give the several courts of the United States and of the District of Columbia notice of the places so provided for the confinement of such offenders; and they shall be sentenced to confinement in the house of refuge nearest the place of conviction so designated by the Attorney General. (R. S. § 5550.)

708. Hiring out United States convicts.—It shall not be lawful for any officer, agent, or servant of the Government of the United States to contract with any person or corporation, or permit any warden, agent, or official of any State prison, penitentiary, jail, or house of correction where criminals of the United States may be incarcerated to hire or contract out the labor of said criminals, or any part of them, who may be confined in any prison, jail, or other place of incarceration for violation of any laws of the Government of the United States of America. (Feb. 23, 1887, c. 213, § 1, 24 Stat. 411.)

709. Same; penalty.—Any person who shall offend against the provisions of section 708 of this title shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned for a term not less than one year nor more than three years, at the discretion of the court, or shall be fined not less than $500 nor more than $1,000 for each offense. (Feb. 23, 1887, c. 213, § 2, 24 Stat. 411.)

710. Deductions from sentences for good conduct; computation.—Each prisoner who has been or shall hereafter be convicted of any offense against the laws of the United States, and is confined, in execution of the judgment or sentence upon any such conviction, in any United States penitentiary or jail, or in any penitentiary, prison, or jail of any State or Territory, for a definite term, other than for life, whose record of conduct shows that he has faithfully observed all the rules and has not been subjected to punishment, shall be entitled to a deduction from the term of his sentence to be estimated as follows, commencing on the first day of his arrival at the penitentiary, prison, or jail: Upon a sentence of not less than six months nor more than one year, five days for each month; upon a sentence of more than one year and less than three years, six days for each month; upon a sentence of not less than three years and less than five years, seven days for each month; upon a sentence of not less than five years and less than ten years, eight days for each month; upon a sentence of ten years or more, ten days for each month. When a prisoner has two or more sentences, the aggregate of his several sentences shall be the basis upon which his deduction shall be estimated. (R. S. §§ 5543, 5544; Mar. 3, 1875, c. 145, § 1, 18 Stat. 479; Mar. 3, 1891, c. 529, § 8, 26 Stat. 840; June 21, 1902, c. 1140, § 1, 32 Stat. 397.)

711. Same; restoration of forfeited commutation.—In the case of convicts in any United States penitentiary, the Attorney General shall have the power to restore to any such convict who has heretofore or may hereafter forfeit any good time by violating any existing law or prison regulation such portion of lost good time as may be proper, in his judgment, upon recommendations and evidence submitted to him by the warden in charge. Restoration, in the case of United States convicts confined in State and Territorial institutions, shall be regulated in accordance with the rules governing such institutions, respectively. (June 21, 1902, c. 1140, § 2, 32 Stat. 397.)

712. Same; sentences affected.—Sections 710 and 711 of this title shall apply to all sentences imposed subsequent to July 21, 1902, and to the sentences imposed prior thereto the commutation upon which is less than that provided in said sections 710 and 711. (June 21, 1902, c. 1140, § 3, 32 Stat. 398; Apr. 27, 1906, c. 1997, 34 Stat. 149.)

712a. Same; prisoners convicted prior to June 21, 1902.—Prisoners confined in jails or penitentiaries of any State for offenses against the United States under sentences imposed prior to June 21, 1902, shall, except as otherwise provided in sections 710 to 712 of this title, be entitled to the same rule or credits for good behavior applicable to other prisoners in the same jail or penitentiary. (R. S. § 5544; June 21, 1902, c. 1140, § 3, 32 Stat. 398; Apr. 27, 1906, c. 1997, 34 Stat. 149.)

713. Same; entry on commitment warrant; forfeiture.—Each prisoner entitled to the deduction provided for in section 710 of this title shall be discharged at the expiration of his term of sentence less the time so deducted, and a certificate of the warden or keeper of the prison or penitentiary of such deduction shall be entered on the warrant of commitment. If during the term of imprisonment the prisoner shall commit any offense for which he shall be convicted by a jury, all remissions theretofore made shall be thereby annulled. (Mar. 3, 1875, c. 145, § 1, 18 Stat. 479.)

714. Parole of prisoners; conditions.—Every prisoner who has been or may hereafter be convicted of any offense against the United States and is confined in execution of the judgment of such conviction in any United States penitentiary or prison, for a definite term or terms of over one year, or for the term of his natural life, whose record of conduct shows that he has observed the rules of such institution, and who, if sentenced for a definite term, has served one-third of the total of such term or terms for which he was sentenced, or, if sentenced for the term of his natural life, has served not less than fifteen years, may be released on parole as hereinafter provided. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 1, 36 Stat. 819; Jan. 23, 1913, c. 9, 37 Stat. 650.)

715. Same; boards of parole; meetings.—The superintendent of prisons of the Department of Justice, and the warden and physician of each United States penitentiary shall constitute a board of parole for such prison, which shall establish rules and regulations for its procedure subject to the approval of the Attorney General. The chief clerk of such prison shall be clerk of said board of parole, and meetings shall be held at each prison as often as the regulations of such board shall provide. In every case where a prison other than a United States penitentiary is used for the confinement of such prisoners it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to designate the officers of said prison who, together with the superintendent of prisons shall constitute such board for said prison. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 2, 36 Stat. 819.)

716. Same; application for parole.—If it shall appear to said board of parole from a report by the proper officers of such prison or upon application by a prisoner for release on parole, that there is a reasonable probability that such applicant will live and remain at liberty without violating the laws, and if in the opinion of the board such release is not incompatible with the welfare of society, then said board of parole may in its discretion authorize the release of such applicant on parole, and he shall be allowed to go on parole outside of said prison, and, in the discretion of the board, to return to his home, upon such terms and conditions, including personal reports from such paroled person, as said board of parole shall prescribe, and to remain, while on parole, in the legal custody and under the control of the warden of such prison from which paroled, and until the expiration of the term or terms specified in his sentence, less such good time allowance as is or may hereafter be provided for by law; and the said board shall, in every parole, fix the limits of the residence of the person paroled, which limits may thereafter be changed in the discretion of the board. No release on parole shall become operative until the findings of the board of parole under the terms hereof shall have been approved by the Attorney General of the United States. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 3, 36 Stat. 819.)

717. Same; violation of parole; warrant for retaking prisoner.—If the warden of the prison or penitentiary from which said prisoner was paroled or said board of parole or any member thereof shall have reliable information that the prisoner has violated his parole, then said warden, at any time within the term or terms of the prisoner's sentence, may issue his warrant to any officer hereinafter authorized to execute the same, for the retaking of such prisoner. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 4, 36 Stat. 820.)

718. Same; officers authorized to execute warrant; expenses.—Any officer of said prison or any Federal officer authorized to serve criminal process within the United States, to whom such warrant shall be delivered, is authorized and required to execute such warrant by taking such prisoner and returning him to said prison within the time specified in said warrant therefor. All necessary expenses incurred in the administration of this chapter shall be paid out of the appropriation for the prison in connection with which such expense was incurred, and such appropriation is hereby made available therefor. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 5, 36 Stat. 820.)

719. Same; action by board on issue of warrant; revocation of parole.—At the next meeting of the board of parole held at such prison after the issuing of a warrant for the retaking of any paroled prisoner, said board of parole shall be notified thereof, and if said prisoner shall have been returned to said prison, he shall be given an opportunity to appear before said board of parole, and the said board may then or at any time in its discretion revoke the order and terminate such parole or modify the terms and conditions thereof. If such order of parole shall be revoked and the parole so terminated, the said prisoner shall serve the remainder of the sentence originally imposed; and the time the prisoner was out on parole shall not be taken into account to diminish the time for which he was sentenced. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 6, 36 Stat. 820.)

720. Same; parole officer for each penitentiary; supervision of paroled prisoners by marshals.—Each board of parole shall appoint a parole officer for the penitentiary over which it has jurisdiction. Subject to the direction and control of such board, it shall be the duty of such officer to aid paroled prisoners in securing employment and to visit and exercise supervision over them while on parole, and such officer shall have such authority and perform such other duties as the board of parole may direct. The salary of each parole officer shall be fixed by the board of parole, but shall not exceed $1,500 per annum, which, together with his actual and necessary traveling expenses, when approved by such board, shall be paid out of the appropriation for the maintenance of the penitentiary to which he is assigned, which appropriation is hereby made available for the purpose. In addition to such parole officers the supervision of paroled prisoners may also be devolved upon the United States marshals when the board of parole may deem it necessary. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 7, 36 Stat. 820.)

721. Same; gratuities or transportation to paroled prisoners.—It shall be the duty of the warden of the prison to furnish to any and all paroled prisoners the usual gratuities, consisting of clothing, transportation, and $5 in money; the transportation furnished shall be to the place to which the paroled prisoner has elected to go, with the approval of the board of parole. The warden of the prison who furnishes these gratuities is hereby authorized to charge the actual cost of the same in his accounts against the United States. When any such paroled prisoner shall have received his final discharge, while he is away from such prison, he shall be entitled to no further gratuities provided for discharged prisoners under existing law. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 8, 36 Stat. 820.)

722. Same; United States prisoners in State reformatories; parole under State laws.—Whenever any person has been convicted of any offense against the United States which is punishable by imprisonment, and has been sentenced to imprisonment and is confined therefor, in any reformatory institution of any State in accordance with section 705 of this title, or other laws of the United States, then if such State has laws for the parole of prisoners committed to such institutions by the courts of that State, such person convicted of any offense against the United States shall be eligible to parole on the same terms and conditions and by the same authority and subject to recommittal for violation of such parole in the same manner, as persons committed to such institutions by the courts of said State, and the laws of said State relating to the parole of prisoners and the supervision thereof in such institutions are hereby adopted and made to apply to persons committed to such institutions for offenses against the United States. The necessary cost of parole and supervision of such prisoners, to the State where such institution is located shall be paid by the United States out of the appropriation for the support of prisoners confined in State institutions, which appropriation is hereby made available for the purpose. No such prisoner shall be entitled to go on parole until the Attorney General shall have approved the order therefor. When a prisoner is committed to such institution outside of the State where he lives he may be permitted by his parole to return to his home, and in such case the supervision of such prisoner on parole shall devolve upon the marshal of the district where said prisoner lives, and in case such prisoner should violate his parole a warrant for his recommitment shall be delivered to and executed by said marshal. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 9, 36 Stat. 821.)

723. Same; power of President to grant pardon or commutation, or good time allowance not impaired.—Nothing in sections 714 to 722 of this title shall be construed to impair the power of the President of the United States to grant a pardon or commutation in any case, or in any way impair or revoke such good time allowance as is or may hereafter be provided by law. (June 25, 1910, c. 387, § 10, 36 Stat. 821.)

724. Suspension of imposition or execution of sentences and placing of defendant upon probation; power of courts; revocation or modification of probation; duties of probationer.—The courts of the United States having original jurisdiction of criminal actions, except in the District of Columbia, when it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court that the ends of justice and the best interests of the public, as well as the defendant, will be subserved thereby, shall have power, after conviction or after a plea of guilty or nolo contendere for any crime or offense not punishable by death or life imprisonment, to suspend the imposition or execution of sentence and to place the defendant upon probation for such period and upon such terms and conditions as they may deem best; or the court may impose a fine and may also place the defendant upon probation in the manner aforesaid. The court may revoke or modify any condition of probation, or may change the period of probation. The period of probation, together with any extension thereof, shall not exceed five years.

While on probation the defendant may be required to pay in one or several sums a fine imposed at the time of being placed on probation and may also be required to make restitution or reparation to the aggrieved party or parties for actual damages or loss caused by the offense for which conviction was had, and may also be required to provide for the support of any person or persons for whose support he is legally responsible. (Mar. 4, 1925, c. 521, § 1, 43 Stat. 1259.)

725. Same; powers of probation officers; arrest of probationer.—When directed by the court, the probation officer shall report to the court, with a statement of the conduct of the probationer while on probation. The court may thereupon discharge the probationer from further supervision and may terminate the proceedings against him, or may extend the probation, as shall seem advisable.

At any time within the probation period the probation officer may arrest the probationer without a warrant, or the court may issue a warrant for his arrest. Thereupon such probationer shall forthwith be taken before the court. At any time after the probation period, but within the maximum period for which the defendant might originally have been sentenced, the court may issue a warrant and cause the defendant to be arrested and brought before the court. Thereupon the court may revoke the probation or the suspension of sentence, and may impose any sentence which might originally have been imposed. (Mar. 4, 1925, c. 521, § 2, 43 Stat. 1260.)

726. Same; probation officers; appointment, etc.—The judge of any United States court having original jurisdiction of criminal actions, except in the District of Columbia, may appoint one or more suitable persons to serve as probation officers within the jurisdiction and under the discretion of the judge making such appointment or of his successor. All such probation officers shall serve without compensation except that in case it shall appear to any such judge that the needs of the service require that there should be a salaried probation officer, such judge may appoint one such officer and shall fix the salary of such officer subject to the approval of the Attorney General in each case. Probation officers who are to receive salaries shall be appointed after competitive examination held in accordance with the laws and regulations of the civil service of the United States. Such judge may in his discretion remove any probation officer serving in his court. The appointment of probation officers shall be in writing and shall be entered on the records of the court of the judge making such appointment, and a copy of the order of appointment shall be delivered to the officer so appointed. Such court may allow any probation officer his actual expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties. Such salary and expenses when duly approved shall be paid from the appropriations for courts in which such officer serves. (Mar. 4, 1925, c. 521, § 3, 43 Stat. 1260.)

727. Same; duties of probation officers.—It shall be the duty of a probation officer to investigate any case referred to him for investigation by the court in which he is serving and to report thereon to the court. The probation officer shall furnish to each person released on probation under his supervision a written statement of the conditions of probation and shall instruct him regarding the same. Such officer shall keep informed concerning the conduct and condition of each person on probation under his supervision and shall report thereon to the court placing such person on probation. Such officer shall use all suitable methods, not inconsistent with the conditions imposed by the court, to aid persons on probation and to bring about improvements in their conduct and condition. Each officer shall keep records of his work; shall keep accurate and complete accounts of all moneys collected from persons under his supervision; shall give receipts therefor, and shall make at least monthly returns thereof; shall make such reports to the Attorney General as he may at any time require; and shall perform such other duties as the court may direct. A probation officer shall have the power of arrest that is now exercised by a deputy marshal. (Mar. 4, 1925, c. 521, § 4, 43 Stat. 1260.)

Chapter 23.—UNITED STATES PRISONS IN GENERAL.

Sec.
741. Control and management of prisons by Attorney General; officers; rules for government of.
742. Designation of penitentiary in which prisoners shall be confined.
743. Transportation of prisoners; expenses.
744. Employment of convicts.
745. Separation of youthful prisoners.
746. Transportation home of discharged prisoners; clothing and money.
747. Inapplicable to juvenile offenders.
748. Confinement of prisoners in the United States Disciplinary Barracks.
749. Federal jail at Fort Smith, Arkansas, made national prison; prisoners admitted.
750. Salaries of captains of the watch and guards.

Section 741. Control and management of prisons by Attorney General; officers; rules for government of.—The control and management of the prisons authorized by Act March 3, 1891 (chapter 529, sections 1 and 3, 26 Statutes 839), for the confinement of persons convicted of any crime whose term of imprisonment is one year or more at hard labor by any court of the United States in any State, Territory, or District under the Department of Justice of the United States, shall be vested in the Attorney General, who shall have power to appoint a superintendent, assistant superintendent, warden, keeper, and all other officers necessary for the safe-keeping, care, protection, and discipline of such United States prisoners. He shall also have authority to promulgate such rules for the government of the officials of said prisons and prisoners as he may deem proper and necessary. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 529, §§ 1, 4, 26 Stat. 839.)

742. Designation of penitentiary in which prisoners shall be confined.—The Attorney General is authorized to designate to which of the prisons referred to in section 741 of this title persons convicted in a State or Territory shall be carried for confinement. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 529, § 9, 26 Stat. 840.)

743. Transportation of prisoners; expenses.—The transportation of all United States prisoners convicted of crimes against the laws of the United States in any State, District, or Territory, and sentenced to terms of imprisonment in a penitentiary, and their delivery to the superintendent, warden, or keeper of such United States prisons, shall be by the marshal of the District or Territory where such conviction may occur. The actual expenses of such marshal, including transportation and subsistence, hire, transportation and subsistence of guards, and the transportation and subsistence of the convict or convicts, shall be paid, on the approval of the Attorney General out of the judiciary fund. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 529, § 5, 26 Stat. 839.)

744. Employment of convicts.—The convicts in the United States prisons shall be employed exclusively in the manufacture of such supplies for the Government as can be manufactured without the use of machinery, and the prisoners shall not be worked outside the prison inclosure. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 529, § 2, 26 Stat. 839.)

745. Separation of youthful prisoners.—In the prison buildings provided for in section 741 of this title there shall be such arrangement of cells and yard space as that prisoners under twenty years of age shall not be in any way associated with prisoners above that age, and the management of the class under twenty years of age shall be as far as possible reformatory. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 529, § 9, 26 Stat. 840.)

746. Transportation home of discharged prisoners; clothing and money.—Every prisoner when discharged from a jail or prison shall be furnished with transportation to the place of his residence within the United States at the time of his commitment under sentence of the court, and if the term of his imprisonment shall have been for one year or more, he shall also be furnished with suitable clothing, the cost not to exceed $12, and $5 in money. (Mar. 3, 1875, c. 145, § 2, 18 Stat. 480; March 3, 1891, c. 529, § 6, 26 Stat. 840.)

747. Inapplicable to juvenile offenders.—Sections 741 to 746 of this title shall not apply to minors, who, in the judgment of the judges presiding over United States courts, should be committed to reformatory institutions. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 529, § 8, 26 Stat. 840.)

748. Confinement of prisoners in the United States Disciplinary Barracks.—Nothing in sections 741 to 746 of this title shall be construed as prohibiting the courts of the United States from sentencing to or confining prisoners, either civil or military, in the United States Disciplinary Barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. (Mar. 3, 1891, c. 529, § 7, 26 Stat. 840; Mar. 4, 1915, c. 431, § 2, 38 Stat. 1084.)

749. Federal jail at Fort Smith, Arkansas, made national prison; prisoners admitted.—The Federal jail at the city of Fort Smith, Arkansas, in addition to the purposes for which it was used on May 17, 1898, is hereby declared to be a national prison. And said jail may also be used for the care and confinement of United States prisoners in the Texarkana division of the western district of Arkansas. (May 17, 1898, c. 340, 30 Stat. 417.)

750. Salaries of captains of the watch and guards.—The salaries of the captains of the watch and the guards in the United States penitentiaries shall be as provided in section 676 of title 5. (Nov. 4, 1919, c. 93, § 1, 41 Stat. 338.)

Convicts shall not be worked outside the military reservation. (Mar. 2, 1895, c. 189, § 1, 28 Stat. 957.)

765. Annual estimates by Attorney General.—The Attorney General shall annually submit estimates for all expenses of maintaining the penitentiary, including salaries of necessary officers and employees. (Mar. 2, 1895, c. 189, § 1, 28 Stat. 957; June 10, 1921, c. 18, § 216, 42 Stat. 23.)

766. Use of penitentiary reservation for military purposes.—The penitentiary reservation shall be open for military tactical purposes, when such purposes do not interfere with the discipline of the penitentiary. (June 10, 1896, c. 400, § 1, 29 Stat. 380.)

767. Transfer of portion of Fort Leavenworth Military Reservation to Department of Justice for farm purposes.—The Secretary of War shall transfer to the jurisdiction of the Department of Justice for use as a farm in connection with the United States penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, all of that portion of the Fort Leavenworth Military Reservation which lies in the State of Missouri, and including the bridge across the Missouri River, which bridge shall be open to use by the public under such rules and regulations as prescribed by the Attorney General. (May 31, 1924, c. 221, 43 Stat. 248; Dec. 5, 1924, c. 4, § 1, 43 Stat. 687.)

768. Exchange of livestock.—Livestock belonging to or used in the penitentiary may be exchanged or traded when authorized by the Attorney General. (Mar. 4, 1921, c. 161, § 1, 41 Stat. 1414; Jan. 3, 1923, c. 21, Title II, 42 Stat. 1085; May 28, 1924, c. 204, Title II, 43 Stat. 222; Feb. 27, 1925, c. 364, Title II, 43 Stat. 1031.)

769. Factories at penitentiary; establishment and operation; employment of inmates.—The Attorney General of the United States is authorized and directed to establish, equip, maintain, and operate at the United States penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, a factory or factories for the manufacture of shoes, brooms, and brushes to supply the requirements of the various departments of the United States Government. The factory or factories shall not be so operated as to abolish any existing Government workshop, and the articles so manufactured shall be sold only to the Government of the United States.

The Attorney General is authorized to employ the inmates of the penitentiary under such regulations as he may prescribe, in the work or business of manufacturing shoes, brooms, and brushes, and in erecting all buildings necessary to conduct said businesses, and the products of such businesses shall be utilized in said penitentiary or sold to the Government of the United States for the use of the military and naval forces and other Government departments. (Feb. 11, 1924, c. 17, § 1, 43 Stat. 6.)

770. Same; sale of manufactured articles; disposition of proceeds.—Articles so manufactured shall be sold at the current market prices as determined by the Attorney General or his authorized agent, and all moneys or reimbursements received from such sales shall be deposited to the credit of the working capital fund created by section 772 of this title. (Feb. 11, 1924, c. 17, § 2, 43 Stat. 7.)

771. Same; payment of inmates for labor.—The Attorney General is authorized to provide for the payment of the inmates or dependents upon inmates of said penitentiary such pecuniary earnings as he may deem proper, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe. Such earnings shall be paid out of the working capital fund. (Feb. 11, 1924, c. 17, § 3, 43 Stat. 7.)

772. Same; working capital fund.—There is to be created a fund, to be known as the working capital, which shall be available for the carrying on the industrial enterprises authorized herein or which may be authorized hereafter by law to be carried on in said penitentiary. The working capital shall consist of the sum of $250,000, which sum is authorized to be appropriated. The receipts from the sale of the products or by-products of the said industries and the sale of condemned machinery or equipment shall be credited to the working capital fund and be available for appropriation by Congress annually. (Feb. 11, 1924, c. 17, § 5, 43 Stat. 7.)

773. Same; disbursements from working capital fund.—The working capital shall be disbursed under the direction of the Attorney General and shall be available for the purchase, repair, or replacement of machinery or equipment, for the purchase of raw materials or parts, for the employment of necessary civilian officers and employees at the penitentiary and in Washington, for the repair and maintenance of buildings and equipment, and for all other necessary expenses in carrying out the provisions of sections 769 to 776 of this title. (Feb. 11, 1924, c. 17, § 7, 43 Stat. 7.)

774. Same; disposition of products of industries.—The products of said industries shall not be disposed of except as provided in sections 769 to 776 of this title. (Feb. 11, 1924, c. 17, § 8, 43 Stat. 7.)

775. Same; Government departments to purchase products.—It is hereby made obligatory upon the various departments of the Government to purchase the products of the business herein authorized to be carried on in the penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, until the supply therein produced is exhausted before purchasing elsewhere. (Feb. 11, 1924, c. 17, § 9, 43 Stat. 7.)

776. Same; report to Congress of receipts, expenditures, etc.—At the opening of each regular session of Congress the Attorney General shall make a detailed report to Congress of the receipts and expenditures made under sections 769 to 776 of this title, the quantity of material of different kinds bought or otherwise acquired and used, the number of persons employed, the hours of labor and the wages paid, the amount and kind of goods manufactured and the prices paid therefor, the amount used in said penitentiary, the amount sold, the prices, and total amount received therefor. (Feb. 11, 1924, c. 17, § 6, 43 Stat. 7.)

798. Same; working capital fund.
799. Same; disbursement of working capital fund.
800. Same; disposition of products.
801. Same; reports of receipts and expenditures.

Section 791. Management of penitentiary.—The United States penitentiary at Atlanta, Georgia, shall be carried on in accordance with sections 741 to 743, 745, and 747 of this title. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 853, § 1, 31 Stat. 1185.

792. Transfer of prisoners.—The Attorney General is authorized to transfer, in his discretion, to the Atlanta Penitentiary such persons who, on March 3, 1901, were undergoing sentences of confinement, imposed by the United States courts, in other institutions, as can conveniently be accommodated therein. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 853, § 1, 31 Stat. 1185.)

793. Employment of convicts.—Convicts in said penitentiary at Atlanta may be employed in the manufacture of articles and the production of supplies for said penitentiary; in the manufacture of supplies for the Government that can be manufactured without the use of machinery; in the construction, extension, and repairs of buildings and inclosures of the prison, and in making necessary materials therefor; and in the cultivation and care of the prison grounds and farm. (Mar. 3, 1901, c. 853, § 1, 31 Stat. 1185.)

794. Cotton factories; establishment.—The Attorney General of the United States is authorized and directed to establish, equip, maintain, and operate at the United States penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, a factory or factories for the manufacture of cotton fabrics to supply the requirements of the War and Navy Departments, the Shipping Corporation, cotton duck suitable for tents and other Army purposes and canvas for mail sacks and for the manufacture of mail sacks and other similar mail-carrying equipment for the use of the United States Government. The factory or factories shall not be so operated as to abolish any existing Government workshop or curtail the production within its present limits of any such Government workshop, and the articles so manufactured shall be sold only to the Government of the United States. (July 10, 1918, c. 144, § 1, 40 Stat. 896.)

795. Same; purchase or condemnation of sites; employment of inmates.—The Attorney General is authorized and directed to acquire by purchase or condemnation proceedings such tracts of land at such points as he may determine, at a total cost of not to exceed $200,000, which may be cleared, graded, and cultivated. The Attorney General is authorized to employ the inmates of the penitentiary under such regulations as he may prescribe in the work of clearing, grading, and cultivation of tracts of land authorized to be acquired. The products of any such agricultural development, including livestock, shall be utilized in said penitentiary or be sold to the Government of the United States for the use of the military and naval forces of the United States. (July 10, 1918, c. 144, § 1, 40 Stat. 896.)

796. Same; sale of articles manufactured.—Articles so manufactured shall be sold at the current market prices as determined by the Attorney General or his authorized agent, and all moneys or reimbursements received from such sales shall be deposited to the credit of the working capital fund created by section 798 of this title. (July 10, 1918, c. 144, § 2, 40 Stat. 896.)

797. Same; payment of inmates for work.—The Attorney General is authorized and empowered to provide for the payment to the inmates or dependents upon inmates of said penitentiary such pecuniary earnings as he may deem proper, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe. Such earnings shall be paid out of the working-capital fund. (July 10, 1918, c. 144, § 3, 40 Stat. 897.)

798. Same; working capital fund.—There is created a fund, to be known as the working capital, which shall be available for the carrying on the industrial enterprise authorized herein or which may be authorized hereafter by law to be carried on in said penitentiary. The working capital shall consist of the sum of $150,000, which sum is authorized to be appropriated. The receipts from the sale of the products or by-products of the said industries and the sale of condemned machinery or equipment shall be credited to the working-capital fund and be available for appropriation by Congress, annually, for the purposes set forth in sections 793 to 801 of this title. (July 10, 1918, c. 144, § 5, 40 Stat. 897.)

799. Same; disbursement of working capital fund.—The working capital shall be disbursed under the direction of the Attorney General and shall be available for the purchase, repair, or replacement of machinery or equipment, for the purchase of raw materials or parts, for the employment of necessary civilian officers and employees at the penitentiary and in Washington, for the repair and maintenance of buildings and equipment, and for all other necessary expenses in carrying out the provisions of sections 793 to 801 of this title. (July 10, 1918, c. 144, § 7, 40 Stat. 897.)

800. Same; disposition of products.—The products of said industries shall not be disposed of except as provided in sections 793 to 801 of this title. (July 10, 1918, c. 144, § 8, 40 Stat. 897.)

801. Same; reports of receipts and expenditures.—At the opening of each regular session of Congress the Attorney General shall make a detailed report to Congress of the receipts and expenditures made hereunder, the quantity of material of different kinds bought or otherwise acquired and used, the number of persons employed, the hours of labor and the wages paid, the amount and kind of goods manufactured, and the prices paid therefor; also the agricultural products grown or produced on land owned or cultivated by or under the direction of the Attorney General or by the authorities of said penitentiary, the amount used therein, the amount sold, the prices, and total amount received therefor. (July 10, 1918, c. 144, § 6, 40 Stat. 897.)

Chapter 26. — FEDERAL INDUSTRIAL INSTITUTION FOR WOMEN.

Sec.
811. Selection of site; women to be confined in.
812. Estimate of cost; annual estimates of expense of maintenance.
813. Plans, specifications, etc., for buildings.
814. Control, management, officers, and employees of institution.
815. Transfer of women to institution.
816. Board of Advisers; how constituted; duties.
817. Instruction and training of inmates.
818. Parole of inmates.
819. Transportation, etc., for inmates upon discharge.

Section 811. Selection of site; women to be confined in.—The Attorney General, the Secretary of the Interior, and the Secretary of Labor, are authorized and directed to select a site either in connection with some existing institution or elsewhere, for an industrial institution for the confinement of female persons above the age of eighteen years, convicted of an offense against the United States, including women convicted by consular courts, sentenced to imprisonment for more than one year. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 1, 43 Stat. 473.)

812. Estimate of cost; annual estimates of expense of maintenance.—Upon the selection of an appropriate site the Attorney General shall submit to Congress an estimate of the cost of purchasing same, together with estimates of the expense necessary to construct the proper buildings thereon. The Attorney General at the same time, and annually thereafter, shall submit estimates in detail for all expenses of maintaining the industrial institution for women, including salaries of all officers and employees. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 2, 43 Stat. 473.)

813. Plans, specifications, etc., for buildings.—The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized, on request of the Attorney General, to cause plans, drawings, designs, specifications, and estimates for the remodeling of the buildings existing on June 7, 1924, and the construction of additional buildings, and such appurtenances as may be necessary on said reservation, to be prepared in the Office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, and the work of remodeling and construction of such buildings and appurtenances to be supervised by the field force of that office. The proper appropriations for the support and maintenance of the Office of the Supervising Architect shall be reimbursed for the cost of preparing such plans, drawings, designs, specifications, and estimates for the aforesaid work, and the supervision of the remodeling and construction of said buildings and appurtenances. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 3, 43 Stat. 474.)

814. Control, management, officers, and employees of institution.—The control and management of such industrial institution shall be vested in the Attorney General of the United States, who also shall have power to appoint a superintendent, assistant superintendent, and all other officers and employees necessary for the safe-keeping, care, protection, instruction, and discipline of said inmates. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 4, 43 Stat. 474.)

815. Transfer of women to institution.—The Attorney General is authorized, in his discretion, to transfer to such institution, as accommodations thereat become available, all persons eligible under the terms of sections 811 to 819 of this title for incarceration in said industrial institution, who are now, or shall hereafter be, incarcerated in other prisons, penitentiaries, reformatories, or houses of correction, and who are proper subjects for incarceration in said institution, and to transfer from such industrial institution to a suitable State or Territorial prison, penitentiary, or reformatory, any inmate who is found by him to be incorrigible, or whose presence in said industrial institution is found detrimental to its well-being. Such transfer shall be made by the United States marshal of the judicial district in which the institution from which the transfer is to be made is located. The actual and necessary expense incurred in such transfer shall be paid from the judicial funds. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 6, 43 Stat. 474.)

816. Board of Advisers; how constituted; duties.—Four citizens of the United States of prominence and distinction, who shall be appointed by the President for terms of three, four, five, and six years, respectively, from June 7, 1924, the term of each to be designated by the President, but their successors shall be appointed for terms of four years, except that any person chosen to fill a vacancy shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of the citizen whom he shall succeed, and who shall serve without compensation, shall constitute, together with the Attorney General of the United States, the Superintendent of Prisons of the Department of Justice, and the Superintendent of the United States Industrial Institution for Women, a Board of Advisers of said industrial institution. It shall be the duty of said board to recommend ways and means for the discipline and training of such inmates, that on their discharge from such institution they may secure suitable employment. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 7, 43 Stat. 474.)

817. Instruction and training of inmates.—It shall be the duty of the Attorney General to provide for the instruction of the inmates in such institution in the common branches of an English education, and for their training in such trade, industry, or occupational pursuit as will best enable said inmates on release to obtain self-supporting employment. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 5, 43 Stat. 474.)

818. Parole of inmates.—The inmates of such industrial institution shall be eligible to parole under sections 714 to 721 of this title. Such inmates shall be entitled to commutation allowance for good conduct in accordance with sections 710 to 712 of this title. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 8, 43 Stat. 475.)

819. Transportation, etc., for inmates upon discharge.—Every inmate, when discharged from such industrial institution, shall be furnished with transportation to the place of conviction or place of bona fide residence, or to such other place in the United States as may be authorized by the Attorney General, and shall be furnished with suitable clothing and $20 in money. (June 7, 1924, c. 287, § 9, 43 Stat. 475.)

Chapter 27.—UNITED STATES INDUSTRIAL REFORMATORY.

Sec.

831. Selection of site; persons to be confined in; sentence need not specify place of confinement.
832. Estimate of cost; prison labor employed in construction; annual estimates of expenses of maintenance.
833. Plans, specifications, etc., for buildings.
834. Control, management, officers, and employees of institution.
835. Transfer of persons to or from institution.
836. Board of Advisers.
837. Discipline; instruction and training of inmates.
838. Employment of inmates.
839. Parole of inmates; commutation allowances.
840. Transportation, etc., for discharged inmates.

Section 831. Selection of site; persons to be confined in; sentence need not specify place of confinement.—The Attorney General, the Secretary of War, and the Secretary of the Interior are authorized and directed to select a site for an industrial reformatory which shall be used for the confinement of male persons between the ages of seventeen and thirty years, who have been or shall be convicted of offenses against the United States, including persons convicted by general courts-martial and consular courts, and sentenced for terms of imprisonment for more than one year, with or without hard labor, except those who have been convicted previously of an offense punishable by imprisonment for more than one year, and except also those convicted of treason, murder in the first or second degree, rape, or arson, and those sentenced to life imprisonment. It shall be sufficient for the courts to sentence said class of offenders to imprisonment in the penitentiary without specifying the particular penitentiary or the United States Industrial Reformatory and the imprisonment shall be in such penitentiary or the United States Industrial Reformatory as the Attorney General shall from time to time designate. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 1, 43 Stat. 724.)

832. Estimate of cost; prison labor employed in construction; annual estimates of expense of maintenance.—Upon the selection of an appropriate site the Attorney General shall submit to Congress estimate of the cost of purchasing the same, together with estimates of the expense necessary to construct the proper buildings thereon. For the purpose of construction of such buildings the Attorney General shall employ the labor of such United States prisoners confined in the United States penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, the United States penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, the United States penitentiary, McNeil Island, Washington, and State or Territorial prisons, penitentiaries, or reformatories, who are eligible for confinement in said United States Industrial Reformatory under the provisions of sections 831 to 840 of this title, and who can be used, under proper guard, in the work necessary to construct the buildings. The Attorney General at the same time, and annually thereafter, shall submit estimates in detail for all expenses of maintaining the said industrial reformatory, including salaries of all necessary officers and employees. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 2, 43 Stat. 724.)

833. Plans, specifications, etc., for buildings.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized, upon the request of the Attorney General, to cause the plans, drawings, designs, specifications, and estimates for the remodeling and construction of the necessary buildings to be prepared in the Office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, and the work of remodeling and constructing the said buildings to be supervised by the field force of said office. The proper appropriations for the support and maintenance of the Office of the Supervising Architect shall be reimbursed for the cost of preparing such plans, drawings, designs, specifications, and estimates for the aforesaid work, and the supervision of the remodeling and construction of said buildings. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 3, 43 Stat. 724.)

834. Control, management, officers, and employees of institution.—The control and management of the United States Industrial Reformatory shall be vested in the Attorney General, who shall have power to appoint a superintendent, assistant superintendent, and all other officers necessary for the safe-keeping, care, protection, instruction, and discipline of the inmates. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 4, 43 Stat. 724.)

835. Transfer of persons to or from institution.—The Attorney General is authorized, in his discretion, to transfer to the United States Industrial Reformatory, as accommodations become available, all persons eligible under the terms of this section and sections 831 to 840 of this title for confinement in said industrial reformatory who were on January 7, 1925, or shall thereafter be, confined in the United States penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia; the United States penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas; the United States penitentiary, McNeil Island, Washington; and State and Territorial prisons, penitentiaries, or reformatories, and who are proper subjects for confinement in said United States Industrial Reformatory. The Attorney General shall not transfer any prisoner who has less than nine months to serve of the term for which he was sentenced. The Attorney General is hereby authorized, in his discretion, at any time to transfer from the United States Industrial Reformatory to any of the aforesaid United States penitentiaries, or a suitable State or Territorial penitentiary or reformatory, any person who is ineligible for confinement therein under the terms of this section and sections 831 to 840 of this title, or any person who is apparently incorrigible, and whose presence in the said United States Industrial Reformatory is detrimental to the well-being of the institution. Such transfer shall, in the case of the United States penitentiaries and industrial reformatory, be made by the warden or superintendent of the institution from which the transfer is to be made, and in the case of State and Territorial penitentiaries, or reformatories, such transfer shall be made by the United States marshal of the judicial district in which the institution from which the transfer is to be made is located. The actual and necessary expenses of such warden, superintendent, or marshal in making such transfer shall be paid, in the case of transfer from the United States penitentiaries and industrial reformatory, from the appropriation for the maintenance of the particular institution, and, in the case of transfer from State and Territorial penitentiaries, or reformatories, out of the judicial funds. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 7, 43 Stat. 725.)

836. Board of Advisers.—Two citizens of the United States of prominence and distinction, who shall be appointed by the President for terms of two and four years, respectively, from January 7, 1925, the term of each to be designated by the President, but their successors shall be appointed for terms of four years, except that any person chosen to fill a vacancy shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of the citizen whom he shall succeed, and who shall serve without compensation, shall constitute, together with the Attorney General of the United States, the Superintendent of Prisons of the Department of Justice, and the Superintendent of the United States Industrial Reformatory, who shall serve without additional compensation, a Board of Advisers of said reformatory. It shall be the duty of said board to devise ways and means looking to the reestablishment in society of the inmates discharged therefrom, whether by pardon, commutation, parole, or expiration of sentence, particularly with a view of securing suitable and remunerative employment for said discharged inmates. The expenses of said board shall be paid out of the appropriation for the maintenance of the reformatory. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 8, 43 Stat. 725.)

837. Discipline; instruction and training of inmates.—The discipline to be observed in said United States Industrial Reformatory shall be correctional and designed to prevent young offenders from becoming habitual criminals. It shall be the duty of the Attorney General to provide for the instruction of the inmates in the common branches of an English education, and for their training in such trade, industry, or skilled vocation as will enable said inmates, upon release, to obtain self-supporting employment and to become self-reliant members of society. For this purpose the Attorney General shall establish and maintain a common school and trade schools in said industrial reformatory, and shall have authority to promulgate all such rules and regulations for the government of the officers of said industrial reformatory and the inmates thereof as he may deem proper and necessary. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 5, 43 Stat. 724.)

838. Employment of inmates.—The inmates of the United States Industrial Reformatory shall be employed only in the production and manufacture of supplies for the United States Government, for consumption in United States institutions, and in duties necessary for the construction and maintenance of the institution. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 6, 43 Stat. 725.)

839. Parole of inmates; commutation allowances.—The inmates of the United States Industrial Reformatory shall be eligible for parole under sections 714 to 721 of this title, which sections are hereby made to apply to all inmates of said reformatory. Such inmates shall be entitled to commutation allowance for good conduct in accordance with sections 710 to 712 of this title. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 9, 43 Stat. 726.)

840. Transportation, etc., for discharged inmates.—Every prisoner, when discharged from the United States Industrial Reformatory, shall be furnished with transportation to place of conviction, or place of bona fide residence, or to such other place within the United States as may be authorized by the Attorney General, and he shall also be furnished with suitable clothing and $10 in money. (Jan. 7, 1925, c. 32, § 10, 43 Stat. 726.)

Section 1. Organization of customs service.—Except as hereinafter provided the reorganization of the customs service made by the President and communicated to Congress under date of March 3, 1913, shall, until otherwise provided by Congress, constitute the permanent organization of the customs service. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 355, § 1, 37 Stat. 434.)

2. Rearrangement and limitation of districts; changing locations.—The President is authorized from time to time, as the exigencies of the service may require, to rearrange, by consolidation or otherwise, the several customs-collection districts and to discontinue ports of entry by abolishing the same or establishing others in their stead: Provided, That the whole number of customs-collection districts, ports of entry, or either of them, shall at no time be made to exceed those established and authorized as on August 1, 1914, except as the same may thereafter be provided by law. The collector of customs of each customs-collection district shall be officially designated by the number of the district for which he is appointed and not by the name of the port where the headquarters are situated and the President is authorized from time to time to change the location of the headquarters in any customs-collection district as the needs of the service may require: Provided further, That the President shall, at the beginning of each regular session, submit to Congress a statement of all acts, if any, done under the provisions of this section and the reasons therefor. (Aug. 1, 1914, c. 223, § 1, 38 Stat. 623.)

3. Superintendence of collection of import duties.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall direct the superintendence of the collection of the duties on imports as he shall judge best. (R. S. § 249.)

4. Director of customs, assistant directors, director and assistant director, special agency service; appointment, compensation, and qualifications.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to appoint, pursuant to the civil service laws and regulations, fix the compensation, and prescribe the duties, when not otherwise defined by law, of one director of customs (in lieu of chief, division of customs), two assistant directors of customs (in lieu of two assistant chiefs, division of customs), one director, special agency service of the customs, and one assistant director, all with headquarters in the District of Columbia. The director of the special agency service and assistant director shall be officers of the special agency service familiar with the statutory and prescribed duties of that service. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 1, 42 Stat. 1453.)

5. Collectors, etc.; term of office.—Collectors of the customs, comptrollers of customs, and surveyors of the customs shall be appointed for the term of four years. (R. S. § 2613; Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title IV, 42 Stat. 974.)

6. Deputies and other customs officers, laborers, and employees; appointment, compensation, and duties.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to appoint deputy collectors, deputy comptrollers, deputy surveyors, deputy and assistant appraisers, examiners of merchandise, inspectors and such other customs officers, laborers, and other employees as he shall deem necessary, prescribe their designations and duties when not otherwise defined by law, and fix their compensation. He is authorized to appoint special agents of the customs service in number, as otherwise provided by law, and fix their compensation, and to appoint and fix the compensation of such number of customs attachés for duty in foreign countries and of customs agents as he may deem necessary, all of whom shall perform their duties as defined by existing law or prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, under the immediate supervision of the director, special agency service of the customs: Provided, That any officer of the customs service designated by the Secretary of the Treasury for foreign service, shall, through the Department of State, be regularly and officially attached to the diplomatic missions of the United States in the countries in which they are to be stationed, and when such officers are assigned to countries in which there is no diplomatic missions of the United States appropriate recognition and standing with full facilities for discharging their official duties shall be arranged by the Department of State. The Secretary of State may reject the name of any such officer whose assignment to the foreign post for which he has been designated would, in his judgment, be prejudicial to the public policy of the United States. The Secretary of the Treasury shall likewise appoint and fix the compensation of the clerks and other employees of the Board of United States General Appraisers. The appointment of such customs officers and employees shall be made pursuant to the civil service laws and regulations upon the nomination of the principal officer in charge of the office to which such appointments are to be made. (R. S. §§ 2530, 2538, 2539, 2545, 2576; Feb. 27, 1877, c. 69, § 1, 19 Stat. 245; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 2, 42 Stat. 1453; Jan. 13, 1925, c. 76, 43 Stat. 748.)

7. Assistants; solicitor to collector of port of New York; appointment and compensation.—The collectors of customs, comptrollers of customs, surveyors of customs, and appraisers of merchandise shall each, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, appoint a customs officer familiar with the customs laws and procedure, to act and be known as the assistant collector, the assistant comptroller, the assistant surveyor, and the chief assistant appraiser (in lieu of the special deputies), and the Secretary of the Treasury shall fix their compensation. The collector of customs at the port of New York, shall also, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, appoint a customs officer qualified in the law and familiar with customs procedure, to act and be known as solicitor to the collector, whose compensation shall likewise be fixed by the Secretary of the Treasury. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 3, 42 Stat. 1453.)

8. Vacancies; how filled.—In case of a vacancy in the office of a collector of customs, comptroller of customs, surveyor of customs, or appraiser of merchandise, such assistant collector, assistant comptroller, assistant surveyor, or chief assistant appraiser shall give bond when required, act as such officer, and receive the compensation of such office until an appointment thereto has been made and the person so appointed has duly qualified. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the position of such assistants, chief assistant, and solicitor to the collector, herein provided for, it shall be filled, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, by the promotion or transfer of a trained and qualified customs officer, and the assistant, chief assistant, and solicitor to the collector so appointed shall continue in office and shall not be reduced or removed except for cause and in accordance with the civil service laws and regulations. (R. S. § 2629; Mar. 3, 1905, c. 1413, § 1, 33 Stat. 983; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 4, 42 Stat. 1453.)

9. Performance of duties in case of disability.—In case of the disability of a collector, the duties and authorities vested in him shall devolve on his assistant, if any there be at the time of such disability, for whose conduct the estate of such disabled collector shall be liable; and, if there be no assistant, they shall devolve upon the comptroller of the same district, if any there be; and if there be no comptroller, they shall devolve upon the surveyor at the port designated as the district headquarters, if any there be. (R. S. § 2625; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 3, 42 Stat. 1453.)

10. Sickness or occasional or necessary absence of collector.—In cases of occasional and necessary absence or of sickness any collector may exercise his powers and perform his duties by deputy, and he shall be answerable for the acts of such deputy in the execution of such trust. (R. S. § 2630; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, §§ 2, 3, 42 Stat. 1453; Jan. 13, 1925, c. 76, 43 Stat. 748.)

11. Sickness or occasional or necessary absence of comptroller or surveyor.—Every comptroller and surveyor, in cases of occasional and necessary absence, or of sickness, and not otherwise, may respectively exercise and perform his functions, powers, and duties by deputy, duly constituted under their hands and seals respectively, for whom, in the execution of their trust, they shall respectively be answerable. (R. S. §§ 2631, 2632.)

12. Special agents.—The Secretary of the Treasury may appoint special agents, for the purpose of making the examinations of the books, papers, and accounts of collectors and other officers of the customs, and to be employed generally, under the direction of the Secretary, in the prevention and detection of frauds on the customs revenue; and the expense thereof shall be charged to the "appropriation to defray the expense of collecting the revenue from customs." (R. S. § 2649.)

13. Same; number.—The number of special agents referred to in section 12 of this title shall be as follows:

One director, special agency service, who shall supervise and direct the special agents of the Treasury Department, one assistant director, and thirty special agents. (Mar. 4, 1911, c. 285, § 1, 36 Stat. 1393; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, §§ 1, 2, 5, 7, 42 Stat. 1453, 1454.)

14. Same; regulations for and limitations on number and compensation.—The Secretary of the Treasury may, from time to time, make such regulations not inconsistent with law, for the government of the special agents, as he deems expedient, and may rescind or alter regulations so made. But no special agent, in addition to those authorized by the preceding section, shall be appointed or employed upon any business relating to the customs revenue; nor shall any sum be paid to any agent authorized to be employed for mileage or any other expenses except such as are actually incurred in the discharge of his official duty. (R. S. § 2651.)

15. Special agents in foreign territory.—For the purpose of better guarding against frauds upon the revenue on foreign merchandise transported between the ports of the Atlantic and those of the Pacific overland through any foreign territory, the Secretary of the Treasury may appoint special sworn agents as inspectors of the customs, to reside in such foreign territory where such merchandise may be landed or embarked, with power to superintend the landing or shipping of all merchandise, passing coastwise between the ports of the United States on the Pacific and the Atlantic. It shall be their duty, under such regulations and instructions as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, to guard against the perpetration of frauds upon the revenue. (R. S. § 2999.)

16. Examiners at New York.—No person shall be appointed examiner of merchandise at the port of New York who is not, at the time of his appointment, practically and thoroughly acquainted with the character, quality, and value of the article in the examination and appraisement of which he is to be employed; nor shall any such examiner enter upon the discharge of his duties, as such, until he shall have taken and subscribed an oath faithfully and diligently to discharge such duties. (R. S. § 2940.)

17. Employees in departments of appraisal at New York; not to engage in business.—No appraiser, assistant appraiser, examiner, clerk, verifier, sampler, messenger, or other person employed in the departments of appraisal at the port of New York, or any of them, shall engage or be employed in any commercial or mercantile business, or act as agent for any person engaged in such business, during the term of his appointment. (R. S. § 2941.)

18. Same; duties.—All provisions relating to the duties of appraisers, or to any proceedings consequent or dependent upon the action of such appraisers and not inconsistent with the provisions relating to the appraiser and assistant appraisers at the port of New York, shall be construed to apply to them. (R. S. § 2942.)

19. Appraiser of merchandise at port of Baltimore.—There shall be at the port of Baltimore one appraiser of merchandise instead of two, and the said appraiser at Baltimore shall receive a salary of $4.500 per annum, payable out of the appropriation for expenses of collecting the revenue from customs. (Feb. 9, 1925, c. 167, 43 Stat. 819.)

20. Appraiser of merchandise at Portland, Oregon.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to appoint, pursuant to the civil service laws and regulations, an appraiser of merchandise at Portland, Oregon, prescribe his duties when not otherwise defined by law, and fix his compensation. (Feb. 21, 1925, c. 278, § 1, 43 Stat. 957.)

21. Additional oath of office of customs officers and employees.—Every officer, clerk, or employee appointed under this title shall, before entering upon his duties, take and subscribe an oath, in addition to the oath of office prescribed by section 16 of Title 5, that he will use his best endeavors to prevent and detect frauds against the laws of the United States imposing duties upon imports. (R. S. § 2616.)

22. Same; appraiser.—The appraiser at New York, before he enters upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe an oath faithfully to direct and supervise the examination, inspection, and appraisement according to law, of such merchandise as the collector may direct pursuant to law, and to cause to be duly reported to the collector the true value thereof, as required by law. All other appraisers shall severally take and subscribe an oath diligently and faithfully to examine and inspect such merchandise as the collector may direct, and truly to report, to the best of their knowledge and belief, the true value thereof. (R. S. § 2614.)

23. Same; assistant appraisers.—Each of the assistant appraisers at the port of New York, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe an oath diligently and faithfully to examine and inspect such goods, wares, and merchandise as the appraiser may direct, and truly to report to him the true value thereof, according to law. The assistant appraisers at Boston, Philadelphia, and San Francisco shall take and subscribe an oath diligently and faithfully to examine and inspect such merchandise as the principal appraisers may direct, and truly to report to them the true value thereof, according to law. (R. S. § 2615.)

24. Same; who may administer.—The oath of office required by law to be taken by a collector may be taken before any magistrate authorized to administer oaths within the district to which such collector belongs. The oath required to be taken by subordinate officers of the customs may be taken before the collector of the customs in the district in which they are appointed, or before any officer authorized to administer oaths generally. (R. S. § 2617; Feb. 8, 1875, c. 36, § 11, 18 Stat. 309.)

26. Same; special examiners of drugs.—Special examiners of drugs, medicines, chemicals, and so forth, shall, before entering upon their duties, take and subscribe an oath faithfully and diligently to perform such duties, and to use their best endeavors to prevent and detect frauds upon the revenue of the United States. (R. S. § 2611; Feb. 8, 1875, c. 36, § 11, 18 Stat. 309.)

27. Same; subordinate customs officers; certification; default.—The oaths required to be taken by subordinate officers of the customs shall be taken in duplicate, one copy to be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, and the other to be filed with the collector of customs for the district in which the officer appointed acts. And in default of taking such oath, or transmitting a certificate thereof, or filing the same with the collector, the party failing shall forfeit and pay the sum of $200, to be recovered, with cost of suit, in any court of competent jurisdiction, to the use of the United States. (Feb. 8, 1875, c. 36, § 11, 18 Stat. 309; Mar. 2, 1895, c. 177, § 5, 28 Stat. 807.)

28. District of Florida; headquarters.—The headquarters of the customs district of Florida shall be at Tampa, in said State. (Sept. 24, 1914, c. 300, 38 Stat. 716.)

29. Administration of oaths by collectors and assistants.—Collectors of customs and their assistants shall be competent to administer oaths to officers of the Coast Guard and employees in the customs service required by section 49 of this title. (Mar. 15, 1898, c. 68, § 1, 30 Stat. 286; Jan. 28, 1915, c. 20, § 1, 38 Stat. 800; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 3, 42 Stat. 1453.)

30. Administration of oaths by clerks and inspectors of customs.—Such clerks and inspectors of customs as the Secretary of the Treasury may designate for the purpose shall be authorized to administer oaths, such as deputy collectors of customs are authorized to administer, and no compensation shall be paid or charge made therefor. (Sept. 30, 1890, c. 1126, 26 Stat. 511.)

31. Bonds of collectors, comptrollers, and surveyors.—Every collector, comptroller of customs, and surveyor, shall, before entering on the duties of his office, give a bond to the United States, for the true and faithful discharge of the duties thereof according to law, in such amounts as the Secretary of the Treasury may direct, and with sureties approved by the Secretary of the Treasury. (R. S. § 2619; Feb. 27, 1877, c. 69, § 1, 19 Stat. 245.)

32. Same; how approved and filed.—All bonds required by law to be given by collectors, comptrollers, surveyors, or other officers of the customs shall be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall be filed as he may direct. (R. S. § 2620; Mar. 2, 1895, c. 177, § 5, 28 Stat. 807.

33. Duties of collector where comptrollers and surveyors are appointed.—At each of the ports for which there are a collector, comptroller, and surveyor, it shall be the duty of the collector:

First. To receive all reports, manifests, and documents to be made or exhibited on the entry of any ship or vessel, according to the regulations of this title.

Second. To record, in books to be kept for that purpose, all manifests.

Third. To receive the entries of all ships or vessels, and of the goods, wares, and merchandise imported in them.

Fourth. To estimate, together with the comptroller where there is one, or alone where there is none, the amount of the dues payable thereupon, indorsing such amount upon the respective entries.

Fifth. To receive all moneys paid for duties, and take all bonds for securing the payment thereof.

Sixth. To grant all permits for the unlading and delivery of goods.

Seventh. To provide, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, at the public expense, storehouses for the safekeeping of goods, and such scales, weights, and measures as may be necessary. (R. S. § 2621; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 2, 42 Stat. 1453; Jan. 13, 1925, c. 76, 43 Stat. 748.)

34. Duties of collector; no comptroller appointed.—At ports at which there are a collector and surveyor only, the collector shall solely execute all the duties in which the cooperation of the comptroller is requisite at the ports where there is a comptroller. And he shall act in like manner in case of the disability or death of the comptroller, until a successor is appointed, unless there is a deputy duly authorized, who in that case shall continue to act until an appointment is made. (R. S. § 2622.)

35. Same; collector only appointed.—At ports at which there is a collector only, the collector shall solely execute all the duties in which the cooperation of the comptroller is requisite, at ports where a comptroller is appointed, and he shall also, as far as may be, perform all the duties prescribed for surveyors at ports where surveyors are authorized. (R. S. § 2623.)

36. Additional deputy collectors and other officers; duties; bonds.—Deputy collectors appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury shall have authority to receive entries, collect duties, and to perform any and all functions prescribed by law for collectors of customs, subject to such regulations and restrictions as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe. (Feb. 6, 1907, c. 471, 34 Stat. 880; Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 2, 42 Stat. 1453; Jan. 13, 1925, c. 76, 43 Stat. 748.)

37. Deputy collectors; additional powers.—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized, whenever in his opinion the public interest demands it, to clothe any deputy collector at a port other than the district headquarters, with all the powers of his principal appertaining to official acts; and he may require such deputy to give bond to the United States, in such amount as the Secretary may prescribe, for the faithful discharge of his official duties. (R. S. § 2633.)

38. Comptrollers of customs; powers and duties.—Naval officers of customs in office on September 21, 1922, and their successors shall be known as Comptrollers of Customs.

Comptrollers of Customs shall examine the collector's accounts of receipts and disbursements of money and receipts and disposition of merchandise and certify the same to the Secretary of the Treasury for transmission to the General Accounting Office. They shall perform such other duties as the Secretary of the Treasury may from time to time prescribe, and their administrative examination shall extend to all customs districts assigned to them by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Comptrollers of Customs shall verify all assessments of duties and allowances of drawbacks made by collectors in connection with the liquidation thereof. In cases of disagreement between a collector and a comptroller of customs, the latter shall report the facts to the Secretary of the Treasury for instructions.

This section shall not be construed to affect the manner of appointment, the terms of office, or the compensation of any such officer as provided by law on September 21, 1922, nor to affect the provisions of sections 1 to 58 of Title 31 (Budget and Accounting Act, 1921). (Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title IV, § 523, 42 Stat. 974.)

39. Same; where collector and surveyor appointed.—At ports at which there are a collector, comptroller, and surveyor, it shall be the duty of the comptroller—

First. To receive copies of all manifests and entries.

Second. To estimate, together with the collector, the duties on all merchandise subject to duty, and no duties shall be received without such estimates.

Third. To keep a separate record of such estimates.

Fourth. To countersign all permits, clearances, certificates, debentures, and other documents, to be granted by the collector.

Fifth. To examine the collector's abstracts of duties and other accounts of receipts, bonds, and expenditures, and certify the same if found right. (R. S. § 2626.)

40. Duties of surveyors; collectors and comptrollers appointed.—At ports at which there are a collector, comptroller, and surveyor, it shall be the duty of the surveyor, who shall be in all cases subject to the direction of the collector—

First. To superintend and direct all inspectors, weighers, measurers, and gaugers within his port.

Second. To report once in every week to the collector the name or names of all inspectors, weighers, gaugers, or measurers who are absent from or neglect to do their duty.

Third. To visit or inspect the vessels which arrive in his port, and make a return in writing every morning to the collector of all vessels which have arrived from foreign ports during the preceding day; specifying the names and denominations of the vessels, the masters' names, from whence arrived, whether laden or in ballast, to what nation belonging, and, if American vessels, whether the masters thereof have or have not complied with the law, in having the required number of manifests of the cargo on board, agreeing in substance with the provisions of law.

Fourth. To put on board each of such vessels one or more inspectors immediately after their arrival in his port.

Fifth. To ascertain the proof, quantities, and kinds of distilled spirits imported, rating such spirits according to their respective degrees of proof, as defined by the laws imposing duties on spirits.

Sixth. To examine whether the goods imported in any vessel, and the deliveries thereof, agreeably to the inspector's returns, correspond with the permits for landing the same; and if any error or disagreement appears, to report the same to the collector, and to the comptroller, if any.

Seventh. To superintend the lading for exportation of all goods entered for the benefit of any drawback, bounty, or allowance, and examine and report whether the kind, quantity, and quality of the goods, so laden on board any vessel for exportation, correspond with the entries and permits granted therefor.

Eighth. To examine, and, from time to time, and particularly on the first Mondays of January and July in each year, try the weights, measures, and other instruments used in ascertaining the duties on imports, with standards to be provided by each collector at the public expense for that purpose; and where disagreements or errors are discovered, to report the same to the collector; and to obey and execute such directions as he may receive for correcting the same, agreeably to the standards. (R. S. § 2627.)

41. Same; surveyor only appointed.—At ports at which there are surveyors only, the surveyor shall perform all the duties enjoined upon surveyors by section 40 of this title; and shall also receive and record the copies of all manifests transmitted to him by the collector; shall record all permits granted by the collector, distinguishing the gauge, weight, measure, and quality of goods specified therein; and shall take care that no goods be unladen or delivered from any ship or vessel without a proper permit for that purpose. (R. S. § 2628.)

42. Keeping and rendering accounts by collector, comptroller, and surveyor.—Every collector, comptroller, and surveyor shall keep accurate accounts of all moneys received by him, and of all expenditures, specifying expenditures for rent, fuel, stationery, and clerk hire, and shall annually, within ten days after the 30th day of June, transmit the same, verified by oath, to the General Accounting Office, which shall annually lay an abstract of the same before Congress. Every collector, comptroller, or surveyor who omits or neglects to keep such account, or to transmit the same so verified, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $500. The Secretary of the Treasury shall make appropriate rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this section. (R. S. § 2639; July 31, 1894, c. 174, §§ 19, 22, 28 Stat. 210; June 10, 1921, c. 18, § 304, 42 Stat. 24.)

43. Same; duty in respect to accounts, and the penalty for omission.—Collectors, comptrollers, and surveyors shall attend in person at the ports at which their duties are to be performed; and shall keep fair and true accounts and records of all their transactions, as officers of the customs, in such manner and form as may from time to time be directed by the Secretary of the Treasury; and shall at all times submit their books, papers, and accounts to the inspection of such persons as may be appointed for that purpose; and shall once in every month, or oftener if they shall be required, transmit their accounts for settlement to the officer or officers whose duty it shall be to make such settlement. And if any collector, comptroller, or surveyor shall omit to keep fair and true accounts, or shall refuse to submit forthwith his books, papers, and accounts to inspection as required by law, or if any collector shall omit or refuse to render his accounts for settlement, for a term exceeding three months after the same shall have been required by the proper officer, the delinquent officer shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 to be recovered with costs of suit. (R. S. § 2640.)

44. Same; accounts to include all emoluments as well as expenses.—Every collector, comptroller, and surveyor shall account to the Treasury for all the expenses incident to his office. Such accounts shall be rendered on oath, at such times and in such forms, and shall be supported by such proofs, as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. (R. S. § 2641.)

45. Same; list of clerks and account of expenditures.—Every collector, comptroller, and surveyor shall, together with his accounts of the expenses incident to his office, render a list of the clerks employed by him, stating the rate of compensation allowed to each, and the duties which they severally perform; and also an account of the sums paid for stationery, official or contingent expenses, fuel, and office rent, stating the purposes for which the premises rented are applied. (R. S. § 2643.)

46. Same; collectors on certain frontiers; list of clerks and account of expenditures; monthly estimate.—The collector of customs of each of the districts on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers shall render, with his accounts of the expenses incident to his office, a list of the clerks and other officers of the customs employed by him, stating the rate of compensation allowed to each, the duties they severally perform, and also an account of the sums paid for stationery, fuel, and all other office expenses, including office rent; for all of which expenses he shall submit an estimate each month in advance, and shall state the purposes for which any premises are used; and shall also render an accurate account of all fees and commissions collected by him. (R. S. § 2644.)

47. Same; accounts rendered quarterly.—All accounts for salary, compensation, and emoluments shall be rendered quarterly, at the end of each quarter of the fiscal year. (R. S. § 2645.)

48. Expenses; expenses in foreign countries.—All customs officers and employees, including customs officers and employees in foreign countries, in addition to their compensation shall receive their necessary traveling expenses and actual expenses incurred for subsistence while traveling on duty and away from their designated station, and when transferred from one official station to another for duty may be allowed, within the discretion and under written orders of the Secretary of the Treasury, the expenses incurred for packing, crating, freight, and drayage in the transfer of their household effects and other personal property, not exceeding in all five thousand pounds. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 5, 42 Stat. 1454.)

49. Restriction on payment for services.—No officer or clerk whose duty it is to make payments on account of the salary or wages of any officer or person employed in connection with the customs service, shall make any payment to any officer or person so employed on account of services rendered, or of salary, unless such officer or person so to be paid has made and subscribed an oath that, during the period for which he is to receive pay, neither he, nor any member of his family, has received, either personally or by the intervention of another party, any money or compensation of any description whatever, nor any promises for the same, either directly or indirectly, for services rendered or to be rendered, or acts performed or to be performed, in connection with the customs; or has purchased, for like services or acts, from any importer, consignee, agent, or customhouse broker, or other person whomsoever, any merchandise, at less than regular retail market prices therefor. (R. S. § 1790.)

50. Oath to expense accounts.—Collectors of customs are required, empowered, and authorized, when requested, to administer oaths, required by law or otherwise, to accounts for travel or other expenses against the United States, with like force and effect as officers having a seal; for such services when so rendered, or when rendered on demand by notaries public, who at the time are also salaried officers or employees of the United States, no charge shall be made; and no fee or money paid for the services herein described shall be paid or reimbursed by the United States. (Aug. 24, 1912, c. 355, § 8, 37 Stat. 487.)

51. Limitation on compensation.—Except in the case of laborers, no compensation fixed under sections 4, 6, and 7 of this title shall be greater than 30 per centum in excess of the limitations of existing law. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 7, 42 Stat. 1454.)

52. Payment of compensation and expenses.—The compensation of all customs officers and employees, including the Director and Assistant Directors of Customs, herein provided for, and the expenses authorized by section 48 of this title, shall be paid from the appropriation for the collection of the revenue from customs. (Mar. 4, 1923, c. 251, § 6, 42 Stat. 1454.)

53. Apportionment of compensation.—Collectors and all other officers of the customs, serving for a less period than a year, shall not be paid for the entire year, but shall be allowed in no case a greater than a pro rata of the maximum compensation of such officers respectively for the time only which they actually serve as such collectors or officers, whether the same be under one or more appointments, or before or after confirmation. And no collector or other officer shall, in any case, receive for his services, either as fees, salary, fines, penalties, forfeitures, or otherwise, for the time he may be in service, beyond the maximum pro rata rate provided by law. And this section shall be applied and enforced in regard to all officers, agents, and employees of the United States whomsoever, as well those whose compensation is determined by a commission on disbursements, not to exceed an annual maximum, as those paid by salary or otherwise. (R. S. § 2687.)

54. Books to be furnished.—All blank books, blanks, and stationery of every kind required by collectors and other officers of the customs shall, so soon as they can be prepared for delivery, by or under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, be furnished to them for the use of their respective offices, upon requisition made by them. (R. S. § 2646.)

55. Quarterly account of money received or collected.—Every collector of customs, every comptroller, and every surveyor performing or having performed the duties of a collector, shall render a quarter-yearly account, under oath, to the Secretary of the Treasury, in such form as the Secretary shall prescribe, of all sums of money by each of them respectively received or collected for fines, penalties, or forfeitures, or for seizure of merchandise, or upon compromises made upon any seizure; or on account of suits instituted for frauds against the revenue laws; or for rent and storage of merchandise, which may be stored in the public storehouses, and for which a rent is paid beyond the rents paid by the collector or other such officer; or for custody of goods in bonded warehouses; and all such moneys received shall be paid into the Treasury as public money. (R. S. § 2647.)

56. Labor beyond usual hours at port of New York.—If at any time, from an increase of importation, or from any other cause, there shall be found upon the floors of the public stores in the city of New York an accumulation of merchandise awaiting appraisement, the appraiser shall, under regulations established by the Secretary of the Treasury, direct the assistant appraisers, and others associated with them in this branch of the public business, to devote time beyond the usual business hours, in each day, during daylight, to their respective duties, so that the business of appraisement may be faithfully and more promptly dispatched. (R. S. § 2944.)

57. Blanks.—Collectors and surveyors of the collection districts on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers are authorized to keep on sale, at their several offices, blank manifests and clearances required for the business of their districts, and to charge the sum of 10 cents, and no more, for each blank which shall be prepared and executed by them, all of which money shall be accounted for and paid into the Treasury in accordance with the provisions of section 55 of this title. (R. S. § 2648.)

58. Fees of collectors.—Collectors shall charge and collect the following fees:

First. To each collector for every entrance of any vessel of one hundred tons burden and upward, $2.50.

Second. For every clearance of any vessel of one hundred tons burden and upward, $2.50.

Third. For every entrance of any vessel under the burden of one hundred tons, $1.50.

Fourth. For every clearance of any vessel under one hundred tons burden, $1.50.

Fifth. For every post entry, $2.

Sixth. For every permit to land goods, 20 cents.

Seventh. For every bond taken officially, 40 cents.

Eighth. For every permit to load goods for exportation, which are entitled to drawback, 30 cents.

Ninth. For every debenture or other official certificate, 20 cents.

Tenth. For every bill of health other than a bill of health furnished a vessel of the United States, 20 cents.

Eleventh. For every official document, registers excepted, required by any merchant, owner, or master of any vessel not elsewhere enumerated, and for which fees are not prohibited by section 331 of Title 46, Shipping, 20 cents. (R. S. § 2654.)

59. Posting table of fees.—Every collector, comptroller, and surveyor shall cause to be affixed, and constantly kept in some public and conspicuous place of his office, a fair table of the rates of fees and duties demandable by law, and shall give a receipt for the fees received by him, specifying the particulars whenever required so to do; and for every failure so to do, he shall be liable to a penalty of $100, recoverable to the use of the informer. (R. S. § 2635.)

60. Penalty for extortion.—Every officer of the customs who demands or receives any other or greater fee, compensation, or reward than is allowed by law, for performing any duty or service required from him by law, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each offense, recoverable to the use of the party aggrieved. (R. S. § 2636.)

61. Inspectors on routes by which goods withdrawn from bonded warehouse may be exported to Mexico; reports.—Inspectors of the customs residing at San Antonio, Eagle Pass, the Presidio del Norte, and San Elizario, or at such other points as the Secretary of the Treasury may designate, upon the routes by which goods entered and bonded and withdrawn from warehouse may, in pursuance of law, be exported to Mexico, shall make a report semiannually to the Secretary of the Treasury of all the trade that passes under inspection, stating the number of packages, description of goods, their value, and the names of the exporters. (R. S. § 2580.)

62. Suspension for neglect or delinquency of officers or employees.—The several collectors, comptrollers, surveyors, and appraisers shall have power, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, as punishment for any neglect or minor delinquency the punishment whereof is not prescribed by law, to suspend from duty with loss of pay for a period not to exceed thirty days for any one cause, any customs officer or employee nominated or appointed and subordinate to such collector, comptroller, surveyor, or appraiser: Provided, however, That the Secretary of the Treasury may, on application by the suspended person within one year from the expiration of the suspension, in his discretion pay the whole or any part of the pay forfeited by reason of said suspension. (Dec. 18, 1890, c. 22, 26 Stat. 690.)

63. Leave of absence; regulations.—All officers and employees of the customs service of the Government who receive a per diem compensation shall be entitled to receive the same leave of absence as is provided for clerks and employees in the several executive departments at Washington, District of Columbia, by section 30 of Title 5. The Secretary of the Treasury shall make all rules and regulations necessary to carry the provisions of this section into effect. (Aug. 28, 1890, c. 812, §§ 1, 2, 26 Stat. 362.)

64. Laws imposing fines applicable to persons acting under customs laws.—All Acts and parts of Acts imposing fines, penalties, or other punishment for offenses committed by an internal revenue officer or other officer of the Department of the Treasury of the United States, or under any bureau thereof, shall apply to all persons whomsoever, employed, appointed, or acting under the authority of any customs law, or any revenue provision of any law of the United States, when such persons are designated or acting as officers or deputies, or persons having the custody or disposition of any public money. (Feb. 8, 1875, c. 36, § 23, 18 Stat. 312.)

66. Rules and forms prescribed by Secretary.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe forms of entries, oaths, bonds, and other papers, and rules and regulations not inconsistent with law, to be used in carrying out the provisions of law relating to raising revenue from imports, or to duties on imports, or to warehousing, and shall give such directions to collectors and prescribe such rules and forms to be observed by them as may be necessary for the proper execution of the law. (R. S. § 251.)

103. Powers and privileges of commission.
104. Same; definitions.
105. Information not to be divulged; investigation of Paris economy pact and other organizations.
106. Continuing appropriation.

Section 91. Creation and establishment; organization.—The United States Tariff Commission (hereinafter in this chapter referred to as the commission) shall be composed of six members, who shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, not more than three of whom shall be members of the same political party. In making said appointments members of different political parties shall alternate as nearly as may be practicable. The first members appointed shall continue in office for terms of two, four, six, eight, ten, and twelve years, respectively, the term of each to be designated by the President, but their successors shall be appointed for terms of twelve years, except that any person chosen to fill a vacancy shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of the member whom he shall succeed. The President shall designate annually the chairman and vice chairman of the commission. No member shall engage actively in any other business, function, or employment. Any member may be removed by the President for inefficiency, neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office. A vacancy shall not impair the right of the remaining members to exercise all the powers of the commission, but no vacancy shall extend beyond any session of Congress. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 700, 39 Stat. 795.)

92. Compensation of commissioners and employees; civil-service rules; expenditures; principal office.—Each commissioner shall receive a salary of $7,500 per year, payable monthly. The commission shall appoint a secretary, and shall have authority to employ and fix the compensations of such special experts, examiners, clerks, and other employees as the commission may from time to time find necessary for the proper performance of its duties.

With the exception of the secretary, a clerk to each commissioner, and such special experts as the commission may from time to time find necessary for the conduct of its work, all employees of the commission shall be appointed from lists of eligibles to be supplied by the Civil Service Commission and in accordance with the civil service law.

All of the expenses of the commission, including all necessary expenses for transportation incurred by the commissioners or by their employees under their orders in making any investigation or upon official business in any other places than at their respective headquarters shall be allowed and paid on the presentation of itemized vouchers therefor approved by the commission.

Unless otherwise provided by law, the commission may rent suitable offices for its use, and purchase such furniture, equipment, and supplies as may be necessary.

The principal office of the commission shall be in the city of Washington, but it may meet and exercise all its powers at any other place. The commission may, by one or more of its members, or by such agents as it may designate, prosecute any inquiry necessary to its duties in any part of the United States or in any foreign country. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 701, 39 Stat. 795.)

93. Office of commission at port of New York.—The commission is authorized to establish and maintain an office at the port of New York for the purpose of directing or carrying on any investigation, receiving and compiling statistics, selecting, describing, and filing samples of articles, and performing any of the duties or exercising any of the powers imposed upon it by law. (Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title III, § 318(d), 42 Stat. 947.)

94. Disbursing clerk.—The disbursing clerk of the Treasury Department shall act in a similar capacity for the commission. (July 19, 1919, c. 24, § 1, 41 Stat. 182.)

95. Seal of commission.—The commission is authorized to adopt an official seal, which shall be judicially noticed. (Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title III, § 318(e), 42 Stat. 947.)

96. Investigations as to customs.—It shall be the duty of the United States Tariff Commission to investigate the administration and fiscal and industrial effects of the customs laws of this country, the relations between the rates of duty on raw materials and finished or partly finished products, the effects of ad valorem and specific duties and of compound specific and ad valorem duties, all questions relative to the arrangement of schedules and classification of articles in the several schedules of the customs law, and, in general, to investigate the operation of customs laws, including their relation to the Federal revenues, their effect upon the industries and labor of the country, and to submit reports of its investigations as hereafter provided. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 702, 39 Stat. 796.)

97. Information to President and Congress.—The commission shall put at the disposal of the President of the United States, the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives, and the Committee on Finance of the Senate, whenever requested, all information at its command, and shall make such investigations and reports as may be requested by the President or by either of said committees or by either branch of the Congress, and shall report to Congress on the first Monday of December of each year a statement of the methods adopted and all expenses incurred, and a summary of all reports made during the year. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 703, 39 Stat. 796.)

98. Investigating tariff relations with foreign countries.—The commission shall have power to investigate the tariff relations between the United States and foreign countries, commercial treaties, preferential provisions, economic alliances, the effect of export bounties and preferential transportation rates, the volume of importations compared with domestic production and consumption, and conditions, causes, and effects relating to competition of foreign industries with those of the United States, including dumping and cost of production. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 704, 39 Stat. 796.)

99. Cost of production division of Commerce Department transferred to.—The clerks and employees of the cost of production division in the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the Department of Commerce heretofore transferred to said commission shall be clerks and employees of the commission, and all records, papers, and property of the said division and of the former tariff board shall be records, papers, and property of the commission. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 705, 39 Stat. 796.)

100. Documents and copies for investigations; testimony; compelling production of books or papers; freedom of witnesses from prosecution.—For the purposes of carrying this chapter into effect the commission or its duly authorized agent or agents shall have access to and the right to copy any document, paper, or record, pertinent to the subject matter under investigation, in the possession of any person, firm, copartnership, corporation, or association engaged in the production, importation, or distribution of any article under investigation, and shall have power to summon witnesses, take testimony, administer oaths, and to require any person, firm, copartnership, corporation, or association to produce books or papers relating to any matter pertaining to such investigation. Any member of the commission may sign subpœnas, and members and agents of the commission, when authorized by the commission, may administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take testimony, and receive evidence.

Such attendance of witnesses and the production of such documentary evidence may be required from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing. And in case of disobedience to a subpœna the commission may invoke the aid of any district or Territorial court of the United States or the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence, and such court within the jurisdiction of which such inquiry is carried on may, in case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpœna issued to any corporation or other person, issue an order requiring such corporation or other person to appear before the commission, or to produce documentary evidence if so ordered or to give evidence touching the matter in question; and any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by such court as a contempt thereof.

Upon the application of the Attorney General of the United States, at the request of the commission, any such court shall have jurisdiction to issue writs of mandamus commanding compliance with the provisions of this chapter or any order of the commission made in pursuance thereof.

The commission may order testimony to be taken by deposition in any proceeding or investigation pending under this chapter at any stage of such proceeding or investigation. Such depositions may be taken before any person designated by the commission and having power to administer oaths. Such testimony shall be reduced to writing by the person taking the deposition, or under his direction, and shall then be subscribed by the deponent. Any person, firm, copartnership, corporation, or association, may be compelled to appear and depose and to produce documentary evidence in the same manner as witnesses may be compelled to appear and testify and produce documentary evidence before the commission, as hereinbefore provided.

Witnesses summoned before the commission shall be paid the same fees and mileage that are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States, and witnesses whose depositions are taken and the persons taking the same, except employees of the commission, shall severally be entitled to the same fees and mileage as are paid for like services in the courts of the United States: Provided, That no person shall be excused, on the ground that it may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture, from attending and testifying, or producing books, papers, documents, and other evidence, in obedience to the subpœna of the commission; but no natural person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing as to which, in obedience to a subpœna and under oath, he may so testify or produce evidence, except that no person shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 706, 39 Stat. 797; Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title III, § 318(f), 42 Stat. 947.)

101. Cooperation with other departments.—The United States Tariff Commission shall in appropriate matters act in conjunction and cooperation with the Treasury Department, the Department of Commerce, the Federal Trade Commission, or any other departments, or independent establishments of the Government, and such departments and independent establishments of the Government shall cooperate fully with the commission for the purposes of aiding and assisting in its work, and, when directed by the President, shall furnish to the commission, on its request, all records, papers, and information in their possession relating to any of the subjects of investigation by said commission and shall detail, from time to time, such officials and employees to said commission as he may direct. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 707, 39 Stat. 797.)

102. Ascertaining conversion costs and costs of production; selection and description of representative articles; ascertaining import costs and selling prices of selected articles; ascertaining facts showing differences affecting competition.—In order that the President and the Congress may secure information and assistance, it shall be the duty of the United States Tariff Commission, in addition to the duties otherwise imposed upon it by law, to—

(1) Ascertain conversion costs and costs of production in the principal growing, producing, or manufacturing centers of the United States of articles of the United States, whenever in the opinion of the commission it is practicable;

(2) Ascertain conversion costs and costs of production in the principal growing, producing, or manufacturing centers of foreign countries of articles imported into the United States, whenever in the opinion of the commission such conversion costs or costs of production are necessary for comparison with conversion costs or costs of production in the United States and can be reasonably ascertained;

(3) Select and describe articles which are representative of the classes or kinds of articles imported into the United States and which are similar to or comparable with articles of the United States; select and describe articles of the United States similar to or comparable with such imported article; and obtain and file samples of articles so selected, whenever the commission deems it advisable;

(4) Ascertain import costs of such representative articles so selected;

(5) Ascertain the grower's, producer's, or manufacturer's selling prices in the principal growing, producing, or manufacturing centers of the United States of the articles of the United States so selected; and

(6) Ascertain all other facts which will show the differences in or which affect competition between articles of the United States and imported articles in the principal markets of the United States. (Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title III, § 318(a), 42 Stat. 946.)

103. Powers and privileges of commission.—In carrying out the provisions of section 102 of this title, the commission shall possess all the powers and privileges conferred upon it by other provisions of this chapter, and in addition it is authorized, in order to ascertain any facts required by this section, to require any importer and any American grower, producer, manufacturer, or seller to file with the commission a statement, under oath, giving his selling prices in the United States of any article imported, grown, produced, fabricated, manipulated, or manufactured by him. (Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title III, § 318(c), 42 Stat. 947.)

104. Same; definitions.—When used in sections 93, 102, and 103 of this title—

The term "article" includes any commodity, whether grown, produced, fabricated, manipulated, or manufactured;

The term "import cost" means the price at which an article is freely offered for sale in the ordinary course of trade in the usual wholesale quantities for exportation to the United States plus, when not included in such price, all necessary expenses, exclusive of customs duties, of bringing such imported article to the United States. (Sept. 21, 1922, c. 356, Title III, § 318(b), 42 Stat. 947.)

105. Information not to be divulged; investigation of Paris economy pact and other organizations.—It shall be unlawful for any member of the United States Tariff Commission, or for any employee, agent, or clerk of said commission, or any other officer or employee of the United States, to divulge, or to make known in any manner whatever not provided for by law, to any person, the trade secrets or processes of any person, firm, copartnership, corporation, or association embraced in any examination or investigation conducted by said commission, or by order of said commission, or by order of any member thereof. Any offense against the provisions of this section shall be a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court, and such offender shall also be dismissed from office or discharged from employment. The commission shall have power to investigate the Paris economy pact and similar organizations and arrangements in Europe. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 708, 39 Stat. 798.)

106. Continuing appropriation.—For the purpose of defraying the expense of the establishment and maintenance of the commission, including the payment of salaries herein authorized, out of any money in the Treasury of the United States not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $300,000 for each fiscal year is authorized to be appropriated. (Sept. 8, 1916, c. 463, § 709, 39 Stat. 798.)
